

Generic Norithics Jump Version 0.6

Hello there Jumper! This time you find yourself in a cartoony realm created by the artist known as Norithics Kusemurai. Of course, they don't really have much of a consistent setting outside of one ongoing storyline, but they do have plenty of recurring characters, plot-points, tropes and shenanigans going on that don't really conflict with one another, that might as well be considered a semi-coherent setting if you tilt your head and squint. This is but one of the places you might find yourself in this Jump! So whether it's the far-flung future of Partners volumes 1 and 2, or the "setting" implied by his various gags and recurring characters, your "adventures" for the next decade will be drawn from the art of Norithics.

You may freely choose your age.

Free choice of sex change, be it to male, female, or fully functional hermaphrodite.

You may also choose to become any of the races depicted in the works of Norithics except for demons, rubber people and vampires for free. Keep in mind that all such races are at roughly Human levels of power unless something like the 'Superpowered Porn Star' Perk is taken. You may choose to have memories and an actual past of living in this world if you desire, or simply remain a 'Drop-In'. You have +1000 CP to spend on various purchases.

Perks

You may discount two Perks of each price tier by half. Items and Companions cannot be discounted. Discounted 100 CP perks are free.

Lolidonk - Free/100 CP

In this and every future world you encounter, you will find that, regardless of age, people of any sex can wind up developing some truly exaggerated asses, ranging anywhere from what one might find on an urban model, to a mildly hyper heiney that has trouble squeezing through regular doorways. Anyone with a penis may find themselves similarly blessed with a big beautiful bulge, with sizes ranging from over a foot in length and the relative thickness of a soda can, to ridiculous rods that could easily be mistaken for a bloated third leg with watermelon-sized nuts. Of course, since this is a porn setting, no one ever has any serious trouble penetrating or being penetrated by anyone else, and neither will anyone affected by this Perk. Hermaphrodites and females can likewise be similarly endowed with gravity defying breasts the size of their torsos, if not even larger, without having to worry one whit about issues such as 'mobility', 'practicality', or back pain. Do note that this operates off of a sort of pornographic physics/logic that helps to make everything possible, as well as a heck of a lot more convenient. So there shouldn't be any trouble with chafing, or permanently damaging your partners, or issues arising from pumping them full to bursting with cum, or suffocating them with your massive endowments, etc. Free for this Jump, but 100 CP to keep. And yes, this Perk affects you as well. Feel free to pick your own size(s).

I'm Somebody's Fetish - Free/100 CP

This particular artist is known for their love of things like extremely geeky dorks with braces, thick glasses, argyle sweater vests, suspenders, etc. As well as stuff like boys with big bellies, which isn't really what most people find attractive, but in their works such folk seem to have no trouble whatsoever finding partners. With this Perk you'll find that whatever your appearance may be, that it's actually a rather prominent fetish with a surprisingly large and extensive following, ensuring you'll never be short of people who want to jump your bones. Free for this Jump, but 100 CP to take with you into future Jumps.

Author Appeal - Free/100 CP

Bisexual, Biromantic and versatile is the default standard for pretty much everyone in this setting. Sure, some people might be monosexual, but that doesn't mean other genders are something they can't be tempted by, or pressured into exploring. And if you choose to take this Perk, you'll find that in future Jumps that same fact of life holds true for everyone else. Orientation will never be a serious obstacle to charming your way into someone else's underwear again. Just be aware that more people might be trying to charm their way into yours.

"Fun for all ages!" - 100 CP

Now, there are some very good reasons why having sex before you're both physically and mentally ready for it is a terrible idea... luckily, it just so happens that none of that really matters anymore. If you're old enough to want sex, you're old enough to have sex without causing any problems. Which is probably a considerable relief for any Jumpers that might be stuck in the body of a perpetually horny tween. The flip-side to this though, is that this affects everyone, not just you and your Companions, making constantly horny adolescents even more of a pain to deal with than they would be normally. Thankfully, this protection also extends to matters of legality. So long as everything was consensual, or at least, enjoyable enough that nobody really minds anyway, you won't ever get into trouble for your various shenanigans and acts of sexual misconduct. Though this effect alone won't stop a jealous boyfriend from punching you in the face, or an angry dad from giving you the infamous 'shovel speech'.

Pierre's Own Luck - 200 CP

It's one thing to charm yourself into somebody's pants, it's another thing to have the kind of charisma and sex appeal to smooth-talk your way into into a threesome, especially if the people you're asking aren't necessarily a couple, don't really swing that way, or maybe they just hate each other, or have some other kind of weird sexual taboo that would normally prevent them from sleeping with each other. In addition to being so massively charming and sexy you can literally do just that, whether working individually or two at a time, you're able to use threesomes as a method to convince nearly any two people to sleep with you.

Rubber Person - 200 CP

The politically correct way to refer to intelligent living blowup (sex) dolls, rubber people are quite literally made for sex. With incredibly elastic bodies that are not only biologically immortal, but also possess powerful regenerative abilities if given sufficient 'food'. Blessed with removable bits, they're still able to experience the sensations of their detached parts from anywhere within 1 AU. Rubber people seem to have an instinctive knack for pleasuring penises, able to bring just about anything with a dick to a positively massive orgasm in a jiffy. Something which is particularly handy when you consider that they feed almost exclusively on latex and the life energy found in sperm. Post-Jump this becomes an alternate form you can enter and exit at will.

"Vampires are alive." - 200 CP

You are a vampire, gifted with numerous magical abilities such as hypnotism, the ability to command and create fog, shape-changing to and from things such as various feral animals like bats, wolves, and even fog. You even possess eternal life, your age frozen at whatever age you were turned at. Of course, all this is fueled by your need to drain others of their life essence, be it through sperm or blood. Be careful, because you can kill someone by draining them either way, so if you love someone, maybe lay off the blowjobs. Thankfully you suffer from none of the 'traditional' vampire weaknesses save for that of a silver stake driven through your still-beating heart. Post-Jump you may suppress your hunger for life force, and may even treat this as an alternative form, though be aware that your vampire abilities are fueled by the life force you consume, and will wane and eventually disappear if you don't keep yourself fed.

Cartoon Casanova - 400 CP

Lots of people are good at sex, especially in a world like this one, but you? You're positively great at sex. A living legend, even if nobody's really heard of you yet. For starters, your various sexual characteristics are truly top notch, being spectacular examples at any size. Your tits might not be the biggest around, but you can definitely beat out other people just because of how amazing they are. And your dick might not be the biggest she's ever had, but you can definitely be the best she's ever had. This greatly improves general function as well, along with everything that entails. Furthermore, your bits aren't only amazing, they also feel great too! This affects everything from appearance, to things like scent, taste, and even the production of stuff like milk and cum, as well as it's quality. Just eating you out, or giving you a blowjob or tit-wank is better than full-on sex with a lesser lover! Something no doubt helped along by your abundant natural talent for pleasing others, potent lifeforce, and nigh inexhaustible sexual stamina. Moreover, the more pleasure you can make someone feel, the more they'll like you, and the more fond they'll be of you. Even as their interest in other lovers gradually wanes, until they're left utterly besotted with you and you alone, and they gladly submit themselves to you both body and soul.

Precocious Prodigy - 400 CP

You're one of the most intellectually gifted people in the world, learning at such an astounding rate of speed that you could easily test out of grade school within two years and finish college with an advanced degree, such as doctorates in psychiatry or mathematics within another three. It'll still be a fair amount of work, but it will be work you can definitely handle.

A Super-Powered Porn Star - 400 CP

You can fly faster than a speeding bullet, are more powerful than a steaming locomotive, and more durable than a tank! You also look damn good in swimwear! Long story made short; you're just all-around better and more capable than any singular person can possibly be (even in comics) using largely mundane, twentieth century equipment. This defaults to you being a classic 'flying brick' with all the necessary secondary powers to let you act like a dollar-store Superman without screwing it up, including the ability to dial back your strength and speed to appear more normal, as well as the ability to somehow use your powers without wrecking everything, and everyone around you, I.E. like catching people at jet-level speeds without shattering every bone in their bodies, or using your super-strength to put down a Villain without reducing them to chunky salsa from the sheer force of your blows. Oddly enough, this also translates to your powers having some rather fun applications in the bedroom as well, imagine that. Comes free with a healthy body and a truly 'heroic' physique like any proper Nineties-inspired Superhero (bulging muscles optional) that, in true Superhero fashion, you never have to put in any effort to maintain, as well as a downright inhuman level of stamina and rate of recovery for both in and out of the bedroom. Perfect for those long nights on patrol, and even longer nights spent at home.

Pornographic Yonkoma - 400 CP

Don't want the fun to end do you? it's easy to get spoiled by just how accessible the most enjoyable of lewd activities are in a place like this, and now you don't have to give that up. You'll find that future worlds are just as erotically charged and filled with the same kind of playful humping and childish flirting that you can expect to find here. The line between outercourse and cuddling practically disappears, sex is no longer considered a taboo, but something for rowdy kids to engage in. Elementary schools might start forming "urban glee clubs" that are really just twerk teams, high school football teams might find the opposing side's cheerleaders waiting to be ravished in their locker room after a win, and hebephiles might find that their primary means of treatment is exposure therapy. Synergizes with a couple other Perks to generate new effects.

Fantastical Curiosities - 600 (Can be purchased multiple times, only one discount applies.)

Beyond the mundane there are some truly fantastical things that people can do in this world, and with this Perk you can be among their number. Perhaps you'll become a true genius on par with Norithics Kusemurai; able to whip up various kinds of lewd comic book Clarke-tech, such as clone tank inducing testicles, and spacesuits capable of letting someone have sex with the outer layer of a star. Perhaps you might be counted among the most brilliant minds of the far flung future, giving you a firm grounding in the wide variety of technology available in the year 2541. In either case, your miraculous inventions push the boundaries of what people think is possible; freeze rays, 'smart' clothing, and handheld scanners being par for the course. Though you truly excel in projects that align themselves with your more... personal interests; being well-recognized amongst your peers, and giving any so-called superheroes something to take seriously. However, should you be more of a mystical sort, the path of magic can be opened to you; with rituals, potions, and more being at your beck and call. Of course, your talents will truly shine within a narrow field of spellcraft; perhaps taking after Alexander Salome and her own talent with enchantments, or perhaps using transformation magic to fulfill your deepest desires.

Succubutt - 600 CP

You are a succubus and/or incubus, and as such your demonic nature gives you a number of abilities. Not only are you fireproof and much physically tougher than most Human-like beings, but killing you in the mortal world merely returns you to Hell waiting to be summoned again. Bear in mind that this effect can only save you from Chain-failure once per Jump. Furthermore, you can produce an aura that makes anyone around you horny for you, which grows in power relative to how long it's been since you last fed. Thankfully, you don't actually steal people's souls, instead just draining them of some of their energy. You can also use the people you've drained as an anchor-point to return to them from wherever you may be. And yes, you're also really, really good at sex. For half-cost you're not a full-fledged demon, but seem to have acquired the powers of one anyway, maybe you're a Cambion? Whatever the case, you get the benefits of their enhanced physiology, ageless immortality, and are supernaturally charming and good at sex, but aren't truly immortal like a real demon is. This also gives you your own 'aura', the ability (but not the need) to drain the lifeforce of others to bolster your own, and a natural affinity for sex magic.

Clone Tanking - 600 CP

Instead of having kids like normal, you instead give birth to a hive-mind of clones of yourself. These clones aren't entirely accurate, having a fair share of the other parent's DNA, but with your mind and personality. Conception is guaranteed every time, regardless of petty concerns such as sex, developmental stage, or even species, and the resulting pregnancies don't last longer than a week. Unlike the titular tanuki, this can be adjusted so that you don't necessarily overwrite your own kids unless you decide to. Unfortunately, if a continuous effect binds itself to your soul or something, it will still follow you into your next body, since your mind and soul supplant your child's whenever you take them over.

Consequences Aren't Sexy - 600 CP

So now you just won't have to deal with them. Whatever it is that you do, people just won't take it as seriously so long as it has a strong sexual component to it. Whether it's forced transformations, brainwashing, or even out and out rape. So long as you're doing it out of perversion or sheer horniness instead of malice, nobody, not even those directly affected by your actions will see them as anything worse than a tasteless, but ultimately harmless prank.

Items

Fashion Backwards - Free

This is a vast collection of retro 90s and pride flag-themed apparel ranging from Day-Glo neon wedge sneakers, to movie theater carpet print tops, to Memphis inspired one piece swimsuits, to a wide variety of pride flag-themed underwear. Even things like 'EGL' dresses with petticoats, and argyle-pattern sweater-vests with button up shirts, and pants with suspenders, along with classic nerd-glasses. Even includes full-body latex suits with zippers in all the right places, and in a variety of sizes and colors, as well as 'Hello Kitty'-themed BDSM getups. If you have any special clothing you may import it here for free to get it re-stylized. Cleaver sleeves and specially cut inseams designed to comfortably cradle massive packages abound.

BDSM Farm - 100 CP

You own a small boy and/or girl milk farm out somewhere in the countryside. Now, what do I mean by boy and girl milk? Well, simply put, the animals being milked are in fact fully intelligent people, and this highly secure facility with many discrete and well-trained guards and 'ranch hands' is perfectly capable of imprisoning and milking dozens of people long-term. And supplying enough fresh breast milk to resale at rates you would expect for cow's milk, and that's not even counting the money you can make selling the semen of any livestock here.

Retro Videogame Arcade - 100 CP

No matter how endowed and horny they are, kids are still kids, and kids like to play video games. This is an arcade filled with a wide variety of both popular and rare video games from around the world, and is guaranteed to become a popular hangout spot for all the kids in town. Whether it's a working cabinet for 'Golly! Ghost!' or a two-player variant of 'Manx TT: SuperBike' upgraded with haptic feedback to make it extra romantic to play with each other, you're guaranteed to make a hefty chunk of change and meet plenty of cuties at this arcade.

Understicker Stuff - 200 CP

Understickers! The literal underwear of the future! These thin, 'smart' material garments painlessly and near seamlessly attach to practically any body, no matter how hairy or scaly! Although they cover little more than the genitals, the real fun part of them is not the wide variety of styles they come in, or how they are able to comfortably hide absurdly large erections, or be suitable for swimwear for just about any depth of water a body can typically survive at, nor is it their ability to contain massive ejaculations without so much as a wet spot. No, what people love them for is their ability to not only selectively transmit sensory data from their surface, allowing for sanitary rimming, but their ability to simulate and stimulate almost any kind of sensation that would happen with the areas they are in contact with to a variety of (programmable) degrees, with not only flexible and solid constructs made from the sticker material, but also with personal resonance fields capable of simulating almost any kind of sex organ or toy with themselves, with another sticker, or with a compatible computer program to a degree of accuracy that normal touch is unable to distinguish it! Go ahead and use the PRF strapon to bang your girlfriend on the train ride home, with both of you fully dressed and undetectable by anyone else on the train! Understickers were a godsend for boys, as well making anal painless, rimming became hygienically sound (not that that's a problem anymore anyway with the 'Lolidonk' Perk), and the whole affair got a whole lot less messy! Of course, there's plenty of augmented reality and holographic vanity effects if you just like the visual of the shot. Furthermore they are the ultimate in Teledildonics enabling lonely nerds to bang each other across great distances via humping pillows with stickers on them while playing games connected to the Internet. A new generation of porn stars have been born by having their sensitive parts heavily scanned and mapped to enable not just simulations of them in software and telepresence, but allow both solid and PFR sticker constructs to mimic them, allowing anyone to experience using their endowments. Purchasing this grants you not only a wide range of understickers in a variety of styles, but also a technical database to teach you everything you need to make and program them, as well as a development kit to help design compatible software.

Rubber Ray Gun - 200

A ray gun that transforms regular people into 'Rubber People'. This transformation automatically reverses itself in a couple of days if not reversed sooner, though only if the 'PERMANENT' setting isn't currently in use. Also includes blueprints and technical details to make more, if you wanted to for whatever reason. Be warned that many powers and abilities will also transfer with the swap.

The Shotafier/Lolifier - 400 CP

Another ray gun that regresses people's age while also leaving them fully sexually mature. Can also be used to make super-people more manageable, since age is often proportionate with strength. Includes blueprints and technical details on how to make more. Also good for therapy, work out issues stemming from childhood by redoing childhood all over again. Perfectly reversible by simply switching the setting on the gun.

Secret Base - 400 CP

A technologically and/or mystically advanced supervillain base perfect for housing lots of minions/harems, and packed with booby-traps both erotic and deadly. Fairly well-fortified against assaults by state agents, superheroes, and other villains, on top of being very well-hidden. Comes fully-stocked and fully-furnished with excellent amenities and entirely self-sufficient utilities. Should it ever become overly dirty, damaged, or start to run low on mundane supplies, your base can also resupply and restore itself whenever no one is paying any attention to it. Contains a wonderful workshop that is perfect for your purposes, whether your area of expertise be scientific or magical. Post-Jump this property is integrated into your Cosmic Warehouse, and can serve as a place for your inactive Companions and Followers to congregate and hang out.

Dweebinator - 400

A rather simplistic ray gun marked with an argyle pattern. This device has several different effects on those it zaps, and the effects are permanent until you reverse them using the appropriate setting, but why would you change them back?

Effect #1) A notable increase in intelligence correlating directly with sesquipedalian loquaciousness, I.E. use of excessively long words.

Effect #2) A proportionate decrease in height, musculature, strength and endurance.

Effect #3) Suppression of all physical 'powers'.

Effect #4) Slight misalignment of teeth combined with the addition of corrective braces.

Effect #5) Transforms all clothing into stereotypical 'nerd' outfits, I.E. belts and suspenders, high pants, argyle sweater-vests, very long socks, and giant, taped-up prescription glasses. Which ties into Effect #6) ...Myopia.

In short, it makes someone a nerd who's easy to bully and pick on. Do note that vastly powerful beings may still be immune to it, as it's only been tried on augmented mortals thus far.

Companions

Canon Companion - 50 CP

Choose an original character depicted by Norithics and you can take them along with you after your Jump.

The Harem Option - 300 CP

As above, but instead of choosing just one you can instead take as many as you can convince to come along with you.

Companion Import - 100

You may import up to eight Companions, each of whom gains the same number of discounts and free Perks as you do, as well as 600 CP to spend how they please, Imported Companions may not purchase other Companions.

Literal Companion - ???

A former member of the Guild until you bought out their contract, this Companion has agreed to join you on your journey throughout the Multiverse in order to offer you... well, companionship. Both that of the more carnal variety, as well as full-on emotional support. These Guild Companions are friendly, amiable, and incredibly skilled prostitutes who take their contracts very seriously, and are extremely loyal to their employer, which is now you. Which is not to say they're your perfectly obedient slaves or anything, they're still people, and they're likely going to want plenty of attention and affection, as well as creature comforts, and are unlikely to be very happy with you if you force serious hardship onto them unnecessarily. They won't sleep with other people if you don't want them to, but keep in mind that that means you're going to be the one who takes care of their libido full-time, and some of these people are extremely horny. Standard Guild members are 50 CP a piece, whereas families like the Turnbaums are a 'package deal', I.E. 150 CP for all three of them. Superhuman members of the Guild like Cherry Bomb are 200 CP a pop, and Alexandra Salome and her full family (including her wife and two daughters) is 600 CP.

Return of the Clone Saga - 50 CP

Instead of making a Companion of one of Nori's characters, this Companion is a clone of one of those same characters created specifically to be your loyal minion/Companion. These clones can be made of any version of any character that has ever been drawn by Nori (and/or a canon character if this Jump is being used as a Supplement). Though they lack any powers or special abilities the original might have, they're 'born' knowing well enough how to take care of themselves and assist you in a variety of tasks, be they sexual, mundane, or somehow related to super-villainy. By default they resemble the original in both looks and personality (well, aside from their loyalty and subservience to you anyway), but you can make minor tweaks over the original, such as 'Alexandra Salome, but a bunny instead of a cat', or 'Gwen, but older', 'Nori, but female', 'Rip Slyme, but not a Rubber Person', etc. If you want a clone to actually be a Rubber Person, Demon, Super-powered person, or Vampire, that costs an extra 150 CP.

Drawbacks

You may choose up to four separate Drawbacks that reward you with CP to grant you extra CP.

Crossover - 0 CP

Northics the artist is very generous, and known for accepting a wide variety of commissions, drawing a lot of his friends' characters, as well as letting other people use his OCs. With this Drawback any character that has crossed-over with a character he has drawn, be it an OC or one of his friend's, can be considered canon or not as you desire.

"It's a fake!" - 0 CP

Well, not really, but now a lot of people's more ridiculous 'assets' are the result of either magical enhancements, or nanotech cybernetic implants. Meaning people can do stuff like equip and unequip a giant pair of implants as if it were armor in an RPG, or manipulate the size of their bits via remote, but aside from changing up the aesthetic this doesn't really change things a whole lot, nor does it make sex any less fun. May freely be applied to you and your Companions as well, it's your choice. Can also be selectively applied, I.E. maybe this only affects women, or men, etc.

Supplement mode - 0 CP

Rather than using this as a Jump unto itself, you may instead take this Jump as a Supplement. However, by doing so you may not take Drawbacks or Companions native to this setting, and all CP gained from this document must be spent within this document.

Temptation - 200 CP

You're very open to what people you find to be attractive propose to you; such as a superhero being strongly tempted to job so they can get captured and milked by their fetching nemesis. Nothing that forces you to say yes, but in a porn-world like this you must face constant temptation, or else risk just going along with whatever others want to do to you, and as fun as it all sounds, the threat of over-indulgence or agreeing to the wrong thing is always present. Almost as if you were the focus character of a new set of pictures where you're one choice away from being pulled into a den of debauchery instead of whatever else your plans may have been.

Instant Horny - 200 CP

You get horny at the drop of a hat; making it rather difficult to focus on other things unless you get your rocks off enough to be satisfied every few hours at least.

Semi-Dweebified - 200 CP

You've been dweebified, but with precisely none of the benefits and all of the downsides. Expect to get a lot less action from anyone who isn't equally socially disadvantaged for the duration of this Jump, as people without dweeb fetishes will find you to be very unappealing.

Warehouseless - 300 CP

Your warehouse and all out of Jump Items are unavailable to you for the duration of this Jump.

“Are you new here?” - 300 CP

Because this seems to be your first jump, all out of Jump Perks aside from your Body Mod are locked for the duration of your stay. And yes, you can take this even if it really is your first Jump.

Damsel in Distress - 300 CP

You start this Jump having been captured by some Supervillain and must find a way to escape their secret lair and evil henchpeople, or else spend the rest of the Jump as their prisoner and sex toy. Though a small mercy, spies, heroes, and other villains sometimes attack the fortress; giving you an infrequent opportunity to escape with their help, though at the risk of being "punished" if you get recaptured. Keep in mind that your powers are suppressed within the villain's lair, so you won't be at your full strength until you finally make your escape.

Dick Sucking Monsters - 400 CP

Vampires and succubi find you extremely attractive, not just for your body, but for what your body produces, I.E. your life energy. Yours is just exquisite "tasting", with them often remarking that your vital fluids are the most delicious they've ever had. Naturally, since succubi and vampires tend to form cliques with their own, gossip and word of mouth is going to get around about how amazing you taste. Leading to more and more of them seeking you out; I do hope that you have the willpower to resist more than the occasional indulgence in amazing oral sex better than any mortal could possibly give from people who are able to teleport right to you, or you might wind up getting drained completely. Admittedly you could always just avoid such beings entirely, but where's the fun in that? And yes, this also makes you "taste" just as good to Rubber People, only they don't pose you any greater threat than physical exhaustion. Turns into a Perk post-Jump, granting you a quick-regenerating pool of life-energy that never fully empties.

Livestock - 400 CP

You've been sent to a BDSM farm as an 'animal' to 'pay back your debt'. Unfortunately the farm's handlers and security systems scale to you so that they can keep you locked up. Thankfully you won't be getting slaughtered unless you really manage to act up, but you'll be injected with drugs to keep you 'producing' constantly, and be getting 'milked' for the rest of your time here.

Nori Hates You - 400 CP

Well... this is bad. This rambunctious raccoon is going to do their Clarke-tech best to constantly prank you, send their minions to harass your businesses and financially ruin you, etc. It's pretty rough having a super villain out to get you, but at least his wrath is almost never fatal.

Earlenmacher State Penitentiary for Problematic Entities - 400 CP

(Incompatible with other situation Drawbacks)

You have been forcibly shotafied/lolified and your powers have been locked. You find yourself on the way to your new 'boarding school', the Earlenmacher State Penitentiary. When not in your dorm, expect to be led by well-trained and heavily augmented guards to classes on such topics as ethics, how to talk to people, and when it's not appropriate to cause a scene with your terrifying godlike powers or chaotic new transmogrification ray. Fortunately for you the student-body is a bunch of bizarre, foul-mouthed, horny little 'gremlins', and the staff long ago decided that simply letting them play their games, throw sleepovers inside the dorms, and have lots of loud, filthy underage sex with each other was preferable to what happens when this kind of tinder-box of freakshows gets bored.

"Nori is really horny for you." - 600 CP

And this is even worse, expect to be tricked into bondage at least once a week, made into a clone tank at least twice a month, spied on and surprised with sex if you ever so much as undress to take a bath or shower... you're in for a rough decade Jumper.

Ending

Notes

Thanks to backgroundnoise & Regalus for the help with fluffing/Crunching perks and suggestions, And basically the entirety of the companion section.

"With further edits and some cleanup provided by backgroundnoise with permission from theian, hope you enjoy the Jump guys."

Here is an example of 'understicker personal residence field constructs' in action.

{00} When it was discovered that understickers could simulate sex so accurately, the choice for control was obvious - the Personal Electronic Taskmaster (PET). But fumbling with it is clumsy during such a personal time, and having your flesh sensitive all day is torture. So, voice-activated passwords and preset settings were made. One of Carrie's, for instance, makes her breasts sensitive to rubbing and gives her an 8-inch clitoral extension field - you can guess what for.

Synergy Options

Please note all synergy options are, well... optional, and therefore not an automatic consequence of taking said Perks.

Lolidonk + Pornographic Yonkoma - Synergizes to make horny, well-endowed people of all ages a prominent feature in your future travels.

I'm Somebody's Fetish + Pornographic Yonkoma - The normal version of this Perk simply makes you other people's fetish, while the boosted version of this Perk ensures that you'll always encounter plenty of people that are "your type" (whatever "type" that may be) throughout your travels. You can pick what that "type" is right now, so long it's nonspecific, non-contradictory, at least technically possible, and is no more than a single, non-run on sentence long. Something like 'big tiddy goth gfs' is fine, something like 'gorgeous immortal slaves who worship me as their god-king' is not. You can specify that you like sluts, or that you like people who are 'classy in the streets, but a freak between the sheets', but not that the people be sluts for you, specifically. Stuff like that, essentially. This can even change the appearance and personality of named characters (and may freely be applied to any future Companions), and certain aspects of the setting itself. Such as a setting with strict rules about non-revealing clothing suddenly being okay with slut-wear, a barren land suddenly being fruitful in order to better accommodate your BBW fetish, or wizards coming up with the magical equivalent to plastic surgery if you happen to be a fan of silicone-stuffed bimbos and the like. You can choose to turn this combined Perk off or on again at the start of each new Jump.

"Fun for all ages!" + Pornographic Yonkoma - Combines the effects of both Perks so that they affect an even wider range of people. Thus you might witness the blending of hard-core humping with childhood games, see school bus rides quickly devolve into orgies, and experience a fair bit of mutual masturbation at sleepovers and slumber parties.

Under Sticker Stuff + Pornographic Yonkoma - Makes "understickers" the default underwear/swimwear in future worlds, and most adult-marketed games and VR experiences will have understicker integration. If you also took 'Lolidonk' and "Fun for all ages!" you can forget the adult part, as almost every VR chat-space and MMO will have understicker integration. You can expect to encounter plenty of people performing OC while in public spaces.

Cartoon Casanova + Pornographic Yonkoma - When it comes to sex, it's like you're playing with 'cheat codes'. When in a 'competitive environment', I.E. among your sexual peers or even superiors, you become able to do more with less. Able to work around a lack of skill, stamina, or even cock size, and still rock your partner's world. And when in a dominant position, your superiority is only further exacerbated, ruining your partner for lesser lovers, or even other lovers entirely. I.E. you can both punch significantly above your weight class, while also establishing and maintaining your dominance through sheer size and/or sexual prowess. You also possess a ridiculous amount of life-energy, more than even a group of hungry succubi could possibly drain.
