

Haramase Simulator

March 07, 2018.

After a massive terrorist attack on US soil, the president led America into yet another war. Other nations followed suit, each to protect their own interests, and soon, World War 3.1 was beginning. Mankind stood at the brink of nuclear annihilation as the world's most powerful countries pointed their weapons at each other.

January 22, 2021

In an attempt to bring the war to an end, the Pentagon developed a powerful new biological weapon. BGe-C 56 was a man-made virus that could be made to infect and incapacitate individuals solely based on their biological characteristics. This meant it could be tailored to affect only specific age groups or ethnicities, keeping friendly soldiers and civilians safe.

The first field tests showed it was a striking success. At that rate, the war would be over in a matter of months. However, only a few weeks after being unleashed, the virus mutated.

Race or age was no longer a hindrance, and soon nearly every man on Earth was on their last breaths. Thankfully, the virus never learned how to infect women, so humanity wasn't entirely wiped out yet. But with so few men left alive to reproduce, mankind's survival was still at stake.

The year is now 20XX.

Although most of the damages of the war have been repaired, the ratio of men to women on earth is still an astonishingly low 1 to 20,000. For our species to survive, the birth rates will have to increase dramatically. And on that endeavor, each country adopted its own strategy.

Thankfully, Japan resorted to a relatively pleasant approach. Every fertile man can apply for a 'H.F.F. Card' to do their part in saving mankind. The 'H.F.F.' stands for 'Humanity Freedom Foundation', the name of the organization in charge of this recovery effort.

But before you meet the H.F.F. representative who is about to deliver it to you, take this:

+1000 CP

BACKGROUND:

Your background doesn't matter too much, and you may freely choose whether you have a history and memories of living in this world or not. By default you start in Tokyo, but you may choose anywhere else in Japan to start. Similarly, you may freely pick your age, as long as it's within your reproductive years. There is just one important choice for you to make here:

You may be male for free, being one of the 1 in 20,000 left. One of the last men on earth, and a prime candidate for H.F.F. membership. Or you may choose to be female, joining the massive majority of women on the planet in return for an extra bonus of +200 CP.

THE CARD:

H.F.F. Card [Free for males only/200/400]

Any woman who is presented this card, MUST let you fuck and impregnate her. No questions asked, no responsibility. And since they're legally required to be bred, they absolutely can't refuse. Well, at least that's how it used to work.

Apparently things started to get out of hand, so a new rule was instituted. You can still fuck any woman who's presented the card*. But now you have to pay a fee. Most of it goes to fund H.F.F.'s operations while the girl gets a small bonus in return for their service. Each girl also has their own 'price' depending on her attractiveness, social status, and how sought after she is. Some can even go for hundreds of thousands of credits.

You've just recently been selected to receive one of these cards, with a H.F.F. representative delivering it to you. It's a great responsibility. By accepting one, mankind's very existence will rest on your hands. This isn't so you can indulge yourself in women's bodies. Your job as a H.F.F. Card holder is to impregnate as many girls as often as you can.

some terms and conditions apply, see the notes.*

Starting with a card of Alpha One rank (at which all HFF cardholders begin) is of course free for this jump, but for 200cp you can instead start with a Gold Super Deluxe card rank*.

for the benefits of higher card ranks, see the notes.*

In addition, you can pay a separate fee of 200cp to ensure your card will continue working, being recognized, and accepted as legal in other worlds (and outside of Japan here).

If you purchased this permanent version as a woman, the card will be given to you once the jump ends. You'd still need some way to impregnate people to actually use it though.

PERKS:

Perks are discounted by gender. Discounts are 50% off, discounted 100cp perks are free.

Fertility Standards [100, free for males]

While technically any fertile man can apply for a card, not just anyone actually gets one. Mostly because the H.F.F. does look into the health and fertility of the applicants, and set some pretty high standards for their male members. Luckily, you have exactly the traits they look for in their cardholders. To an exceptional degree even.

Your dick is rather large and quite above average once at full mast, but your real selling point in the amazing thickness and amount of your semen. To say you have a high sperm count would be a massive understatement, just the smell of your load being enough to make a woman's head spin. And even after a dozen shots, you could still cum enough that your partner might think you'd been backed up for a while as they get covered in it.

If you happen to be female, you instead have a choice. You could be similarly fertile, making it practically guaranteed for you to get pregnant at the height of your cycle and still highly likely even on your "safe" days. Or you could instead be very hard to impregnate, leaving the chance low even on your most fertile days and practically impossible on safe days.

Primal Drive [100, free for males]

The other thing the H.F.F. looks for in applicants is obviously a high sex-drive. Yours might be a little over the top though, being pretty much up for it at the drop of a hat. Or at the sight of a gorgeous, fertile woman to be more precise. While you can definitely still feel satisfied if you want to, your body is going to give out before your sex-drive otherwise.

This instinctual, primal, and pure drive to impregnate women also grants you an inhuman refractory rate. Staying hard after an orgasm and quickly bringing yourself to another one would be easy if you wanted to. Pity those that can't share such joys.

Weak Spots [100, free for males]

While you're going to be able to get a lot of practice in, you have actual talent at the art of lovemaking as well. Or at least the art of making a woman cum her brains out while you take her, allowing you to make sure your partners are always going to enjoy their time with you unless they truly don't want to give into the sexual pleasure you can provide.

More impressively perhaps, you have a knack for finding the weak points of your partners and remembering those of dozens of women at once. You're quickly able to figure out just how to tease their bodies, often coming to know their weak spots even better than they themselves do. After only a relatively short time, this would allow you to do things like bringing them to orgasm with a chest massage before you truly get started.

By The Way, Haven't We Met Before? [200, discounted for males]

If you want to use that HFF card, you're going to have to actually find some good-looking and fertile women to use it on first. Good thing you're pretty good at running into attractive people even when you're just wandering around instead of actively searching, to the point that it seems like everyone you meet is just a good deal more attractive in general.

But even stranger is that, if you want to, you can end up running into people who closely resemble your favorite past partners or characters from various different media. Familiar faces and perhaps even attitudes, but definitely still different people given that they don't remember meeting you before. Perhaps they're long-lost twins?

Health Checkup [200, discounted for males]

The H.F.F. requires its members to be healthy, with some health exams making sure of that before a card is even granted. One of the big things they look for is the possibility of genetic diseases and flaws. After all, with how many children H.F.F. members are expected to have, it would be very bad if they passed a hereditary disease or something onto all of them.

It's not a concern you ever have to worry about however, because you're not just given a clean bill of health by their doctors, but also a guarantee that your children will never suffer from anything like that. Which might be helpful if you decide to take advantage of the fact that the H.F.F. has no specific rules concerning impregnating family members.

Furthermore, if you have any other strange and hereditary quirks, you'll be able to control which of those you do want to pass onto your children and which you want to withhold.

After all, we wouldn't want them to be born with tentacles for limbs, to accidentally teleport out of the womb prematurely, or to suffer some other unusual consequence of your biology.

My Harem [200, discounted for males]

Keeping track of an entire harem of women and especially juggling their fertility cycles can be a daunting prospect to new cardholders. Less so for you however, as you can mentally bring up a 'screen' to quickly show you which ones are currently pregnant and which ones still need to be impregnated at the moment. Along with further details like how much longer they'll be pregnant for, their H.F.F. fees, how many times you've impregnated them (and how many times you came inside), as well as a rough percentage chance signifying how likely it would be for them to get pregnant if you went to creampie them at the moment.

Though that last one does require them to first let you know when they're most fertile, so some may require a certain level of intimacy before sharing that information. Most women here would provide that without comment though.

Men are in high demand and short supply these days, a fact of life you get to take full advantage of. You're at the top of everyone's list when they're looking for someone to fill a position (or "fill" someone in a position). When a position opens up at your company, you're going to be the first one people think of to be promoted, even over women with six more years of experience working there. At least as long as you're qualified for it at all.

More interestingly, you're also much more likely to be chosen by women who have their choice of partners. VIPs contacting the HFF to provide them with a man, idol managers looking for a man to impregnate their clients... they seem to unfailingly pick you.

Creampie Diplomacy [400, discounted for males]

Now, not everyone's going to be equally happy about being required by law to fuck a total stranger. Depending on their first impressions, they might even think you're a creep, lowlife, or filthy commoner. Luckily, you have a way of changing someone's mind with repeated pregnancies. Regardless of how they feel about you before, they'll begin enjoying your presence even as bearing your children starts to feel normal to them. Over time, you can go from being considered a creep or lowlife to a trusted friend, lover, or even master.

This also helps change their mind about the pregnancies itself. Even if they start out disliking or hating it, they'll soon begin to feel a strange sense of disappointment if a creampie doesn't actually manage to impregnate them. Eventually they might start fantasizing about it, asking you to impregnate them, and thank you for getting them pregnant again.

Ruin Them [400, discounted for males]

While the chances of your harem members running into another HFF member are very slim, it is technically possible. Not that you need to worry about them getting stolen from you, because no one is going to be able to satisfy them like you. You can ruin your lovers for others, making them both more receptive to yourself and less so to anyone else.

After a while they'll only be able to be satisfied by you, other men barely (if at all) able to get them wet and certainly not bringing them to orgasm. Even masturbating wouldn't properly satisfy their lust. On the contrary, it would just make them even hornier, to the point that they could end up needing to cum so badly that they'll practically throw themselves at you.

Field of Red [600, discounted for males]

We are all born with an infinitely thin, elastic red string tied around our little finger. If you follow it, you will find the other end tied to the corresponding finger of your soul mate. Those sensitive to the spirit world can be trained to find them... But for you, it's more like a field of red, as if you are the nexus of a massive ball of string, radiating in all directions.

Such a thing is unheard of, at least before the war, but it means that you can find true love with pretty much anyone you meet. Depending on the specific woman, it may take work and patience to develop a relationship and commit them fully to your heart, but each and every one of them has the potential to be (one of) your soulmate(s). Each might see something different to love in you, but they will all feel the attraction and quickly come to enjoy your presence. In turn, you may grow to savor every moment with them.

Fate itself will work to make sure circumstances align for you and them to find happiness together, despite not being your sole lover. Even the random girls you pluck from the streets to fuck as a momentary diversion will feel like it was meant to be and carry the memory of you with them forever. Even if you don't return the sentiment.

Work Skill [600, discounted for males]

Sadly, the existence of the HFF's fees means that it's practically impossible to solely focus on impregnating everyone you meet. The tax rebates from successful impregnation aren't going to cover all the bills, so a cardholder's going to need another job to bring in money. You're good at that part though, never getting stuck in a dead-end job or being overlooked for a promotion. If you've got the skills, you can get the job even if you might not exactly be the most qualified person for it. And you do pick those skills up quickly, able to climb your way up the (corporate or otherwise) ladder with astonishing speed. While most of what skills you learn doesn't translate well if you end up switching careers, a good portion does. Like this, you could go from an unskilled cook in a small local restaurant to the head of a multinational corporation in just a couple of years... while you're also still mainly focused on your HFF-related duties over your day job.

Gorgeous Looks [100, free for females]

No matter where you go, you're pretty much always by far the most attractive person in the crowd. This could manifest in different ways, depending on whether you want to look cute, mature, sexy, or attractive in some other way. But regardless of the specifics, you're stunning enough that running into a cardholder will probably leave them drooling as they admire you. Moreover, pregnancy never diminishes your looks. Your breasts might get a bit bigger or you might start looking a bit more motherly, but it'll only further enhance your existing beauty. Even such things as stretch marks or getting loose are things of the past now. If you're a male, you can apply that second part to the women you impregnate instead, ensuring your harem will only get better with successive pregnancies.

Kiss [100, free for females]

While the law requires women to allow themselves to be impregnated by H.F.F. members, this doesn't necessarily have to involve anything more. Yet some simple foreplay or break in the action can enhance the entire experience, especially when you share a kiss with them. You are extremely good at both gentle, loving caresses and deep french-kissing, easily losing both of yourselves in emotion or a haze of anticipation and sensory overload. A kiss from you is actually invigorating enough that you and your partner can recover a fair amount of energy and stamina from it every so often. Not that much, no more than one of the crazy energy drinks sold on the shelves right now... but definitely enough to go another couple rounds of sex even if you or they were totally exhausted.

Plentiful Breasts [100, free for females]

Soft, pliable, springy, malleable, silky, smooth. Just some of the descriptions that would come to mind when you expose your plentiful bosom, their perfect shape and size beckoning onlookers. The incredible softness could make anyone feel like they could fondle them all day. Even the milk you produce is delicious with how soft and creamy it is. Moreover, they're lewd breasts as well, being almost too sensitive. Cumming from your breasts getting fondled and sucked on is effortless if you give it a try, and even just giving paizuri could be enough for you to climax. If you'd like, the rest of your body could become more sensitive as well, not quite to the same extent as your chest but still making every touch noticeably more pleasurable than it would've been before.

Maternity Leave [200, discounted for females]

Should you end up involved with a H.F.F. member, you're going to spend a lot of time being pregnant. Even with the faster pregnancies in this world, that is going to involve a lot of time in which you'll be unable to get much work done as well. On the bright side, taking a period of maternity leave off from work could be very nice if you've been overworked. Regardless of how often it happens though, you can be assured that you can take a leave of absence from your job without having to worry about anything but your actual pregnancy. Bosses won't mind your absence even if this is the fifth time this year, emergencies that require your personal attention won't come up, and at the end of your leave you can seamlessly pick up and continue right where you left off. If you happened to be male, you can apply this to the women you impregnate instead, making sure that they won't have to worry while your child is growing inside them.

Better Luck Next Time [200, discounted for females]

Pregnancy is hardly guaranteed to occur in all but the most excessively fertile. Sometimes it takes quite a few shots before succeeding, even for a particularly virile HFF cardholder. If they had to wait for the results of a pregnancy test whenever they tried to knock someone up, the spontaneous usage of their cards would be much more complicated.

Luckily, there's no need for any of that. You just have a sense for pregnancy now, able to feel it when you are impregnated. Immediately after taking a creampie you'd know whether or not it is enough to knock you up, the feeling allowing you to derive a deep-seated feeling of pleasure from successful conception. Perhaps it's less surprising now that some of the women in this world grow incredibly eager and almost addicted to being impregnated. Should you be male, you could either apply this to your partners to allow them to sense whether or not you've impregnated them or get a more detached sense for it yourself.

Pregnancy Durations [200, discounted for females]

In the last few decades, many advances in the science of genetics have been made, particularly in the fields of pregnancy and sex. Genetic engineering to ensure accelerated pregnancy speed has reached widespread use just out of the necessity to repopulate after the disaster of the gender-virus. With the duration of each pregnancy reduced to a mere seven weeks, some enthusiastic women have even had upwards of thirty pregnancies. You go a bit further than the norm however, with the ability to mentally adjust the duration of any of your pregnancies. Perhaps seven weeks is still too much, and you'd rather shorten it all the way down to only a minimum of three weeks? Or if you'd like to enjoy carrying a child for as long as possible, you could extend the time for your baby to develop to a staggering 128 weeks at the longest. Or equivalent time frames should you somehow not be human. If you happened to be male, you could apply this to your partners instead, to change how long they have to carry your children. Just pick a length of time before the actual conception, as these changes don't apply to existing pregnancies.

Top 10 Idol [200, discounted for females]

Regardless of the gender disparity and changes of the last few decades, idols are still widely popular in Japan. You have all the qualities to become a top idol yourself, able to project your unique image into everything you do. Whether you choose a bouncy and energetic, clumsily wholesome, or pure and pristine image to take on as your idol style, you can let your style shine through in everything from your dancing to simple conversations.

It's more than just skin-deep though. Because you also have the skills and talent that could make you a nationwide Top 10 idol with a melodious voice, great dancing ability, and a flair for performing. Between that skill and your effortless appeal, you could put on some truly breathtaking concerts (especially if you had a group). Pouring your heart into your song or seeming untouchably pure as you bounce around the stage in a rhythmic flow, alternating between singing, dancing, and goading on the crowd to even greater heights of hype.

On top of that, you only get more adorable close up. Regardless of whether your actual personality matches, you're able to easily keep up your flawless image in front of your fans. At least until you purposefully decide to show another side of yourself to them.

Oracle [400, discounted for females]

While most put their trust in science over the mystical in this age, you were born sensitive to otherworldly things. By calling upon great spirits for guidance and expending chi, you can look upon the tapestry of the cosmos itself to find the spiritual connections that bind all life together. Doing so allows you to assist people in finding what it is that they most desire. Which lifestyles are best suited to grant contentment, how to capture wealth by taming fickle fortune, and most importantly how to find true love. All of these and more can be found with your assistance. Even as versatile as you are however, you are particularly well-versed in following the winding paths of the whims of love, able to see and follow the red strings of fate connecting people to their soul mates. While these auguries can vary in how clear they are, they always provide at least some hint or advice for the seeker to follow.

Host of the Nightmare [400, discounted for females]

The divinations of oracles are far from the only magic found just under the surface of this world, as you can attest to with your newfound abilities. Whether it's succubus cosplay gone a little too far or something you were born with, you have the ability to curse people with vivid and horrible nightmares. They're not going to actually harm your victims, unless you leave them labouring under it long enough to affect their mental health, but they are definitely going to play merry hell on your victim's ability to get any rest until you forgive them. Additionally, like any proper succubus, you are adept at utterly draining your sexual partners of their stamina. Even normal sex with you is taxing, just from how good your body feels and how strongly your pussy can pull and suck on cock. Weaker men are likely to faint from exhaustion before they manage to impregnate you. And if you'd actually put serious effort into it, you could easily draw out an orgasm four or five times as exhausting as any normal one just from the sheer force and pleasure of their release.

Bioengineering Science [600, discounted for females]

Everyone knows the large advances in virology were made during the last war. That's how BGe-C 56 nearly led to mankind's extinction after all. What's not so well known is that tremendous breakthroughs were non-coincidentally made in human genetics at the same time. Super-soldiers and chimeras are but some of the still-classified projects from that time. Nowadays, accelerated human pregnancy has reached widespread public use out of necessity and research initiatives are focused on genetic splicing that could aid the recovery effort. Whether you already work for the H.F.F.'s top secret bioengineering division or not, you certainly have the skills and knowledge to be counted as one of the best bioengineers in the world. Reproducing achievements like the prototype W.A.B.B.I.T. and war-time chimeras would still require access to large amounts of state-of-the-art equipment and resources, but creating a virus like BGe-C 56 would be relatively simple. If extremely dangerous. Perhaps stick to more benevolent uses like accelerating pregnancies and curing genetic disorders?

Womb-Augmented Bioengineered Baby Induction Test [600, discounted for females]

Or a W.A.B.B.I.T. for short. While the HFF has done a good job repopulating the planet using its current methods, the use of bioengineered artificial life-forms promises faster recovery and insurance should another gender-disaster happen again. Being one of the first fully-functional prototypes yourself, you have been engineered to near-perfection. The best genetic traits of mammalian reproduction the animal world has to offer were taken and adapted for use in human embryogenesis, making you hyper-fertile when it comes to having multiples, always having twins or greater. Additionally, your body is incredibly warm, your skin unbelievably soft, your milk amazingly delicious, amongst other improvements. Of course with such extensively spliced DNA, it was inevitable that other traits would be transferred as well. Most obviously the cute fluffy bunny ears and tails. But aside from those you also have inhuman speed and strength sufficient to jump onto buildings, heightened pain tolerance and constitution, greatly enhanced eyesight, and increased retention speed. You also have the ability to, if you wish, synchronize with and imprint on a partner. This would allow you to surpass even the most optimistic projections for litter sizes... in return for an addiction to his semen and your body rejecting attempted conception by anyone else.

Easy Pregnancy [100]

With you either knocking up as many people as possible, or repeatedly getting pregnant yourself, having those pregnancies go smoothly is pretty important. With this purchase, you'll have a guarantee that there aren't going to be any medical issues with them.

And in addition to not having to deal with any medical problems or complications, this also minimizes the lesser negative aspects of pregnancy like morning sickness and mood swings. Even the recovery afterwards is much lighter and easier, allowing a new mother to be fully healed and ready for more within just a week after delivery.

L-I-lewd [50]

Being the only man within several miles can be hard. But it also comes with perks, even beyond the obvious benefits of your card. Attractive women (and/or men if you prefer, though you'll find few here) will just randomly send you rather lewd pictures of themselves as they see you going about your day. Sometimes with propositions for sex, something just to thank you for being there. You'll have to find them yourself if you want to follow up on any of them, but either way you'll have a steady stream of surprisingly hot pictures popping up on your phone (or any other device). Just don't question where they got your number.

ITEMS:

You receive two discounts of your choice for each price tier up to 600cp, with one discount of choice on either of the 600cp items. Discounts are 50% off, with 100cp items being free.

H.F.F. App [100, free with permanent H.F.F. Card]

The H.F.F. app is a handy way to keep track of everything related to your H.F.F. job.

Logging into your own profile provides general information like how long you've been a member, your class, job, current finances, current H.F.F. payout and when that'll be paid out. But more importantly, it lists sex statistics like your total number of impregnations, total cum, and times cum inside. If you've decided to donate sperm as well, it'll list that as a separate amount with the number of resulting indirect impregnations. The app also has a friends list. More importantly, you can scan women with your phone to bring up their information, showing such things as their name, pregnancy count, age, nationality, profession, hobbies, known mental conditions, non-compliance warnings, H.F.F. fee, fertility status (available or pregnant), and how many times you have 'discharged' thanks to her.

You've been set up with a H.F.F. member profile by default, but buying this means it'll keep working in future worlds automatically. It also comes with a free WTX-brand phone with all the high tech gadgetry needed to run the app like the biometric scanner and such.

Impregnation Tax Rebates [100]

Being a HFF is technically an actual job, even if the payment at common card ranks isn't great compared to the fees you have to pay. Should you successfully impregnate a woman, you'll get a tax rebate constituting a small reward of 200 credits (or 500 credits as a bonus if you manage to do so on the first creampie). In addition, H.F.F. members of Special One rank or higher are paid a bonus sum of credits per impregnation. Conversely, women approached by a member are given a sizable portion of the fee paid by the H.F.F. cardholder for them to keep afterwards (with the remainder of the fee being taken by the H.F.F. itself).

By purchasing this you will instead receive the payment appropriate for the rank above your actual one for this jump, and may continue to receive the normal payments in other worlds you may visit (regardless of whether you're actually using the card or not).

Bronze tier cardholders will receive 100 credits, as if they were S1 rank. Those of S1 rank will receive 300 credits per woman as if they were S2 rank, and so on all the way up to getting 15000 credits at Super Deluxe rank. Post-jump these payouts will be based on the rank you earned here and converted into the equivalent amount in local currency.

Apartment [100]

You're going to want a place to live in the city. A place to rest and recuperate, a place to work from home, and a place to invite people over. This suburban apartment offers you all of those things, along with a decent modern desktop computer with access to the internet (or any other public network). It even comes with a pack of high-quality hentai games. Not too many of those though, only about 32 terabytes' worth.

While the apartment itself may be generously described as a 'cozy' place to live, you won't have to pay any rent and it's located centrally enough to let you quickly go to any place in the city. Plus, the neighbours won't pay any mind to whatever loud noises might come from your house, and they seem to be quite friendly in general.

Basic Supplies [100/150]

A replenishing supply of useful products from local suppliers. First up, energy drinks! These new drinks have about 400% of your daily allotment of caffeine in them. It's recommended you only drink two per week due to the high sugar content too. If you drink three of them you might experience slight side effects, like bleeding out of your eyes.

Along with the drinks, you'll get packaged strips of fertility enhancer pills. They temporarily increase the chances of conception by about five percent for most people who take them. If the effects last longer than one week, consult a doctor.

Lastly, a brand of personal lubricant exclusive to a local store, being made by one of their employees. It has a familiar smell to it. Still, despite or perhaps because of its exclusivity, it's one of the most popular brands of lube in Japan. Highly recommended.

For an extra 50cp (undiscounted), you could upgrade this to add more variety and punch to your supplies. With even stronger energy drinks (including the new 'KiriGGP' brand with their authentic Kiritine ingredient), an Ultra+ variant of the fertility supplement that's a few percent more effective, and a tropical lube that may or may not smell like pussy. And of course most notably, a supply of cartons with fresh and delicious (breast) milk.

H.F.F. Nursery Division [100/150]

With cardholders going around impregnating anyone they like, many of those new mothers may not be able to or want to take care of the babies. This is where the H.F.F nurseries come into play, taking the children to raise if the mother doesn't want to keep them.

HFF children are divided into groups of about thirty each, with small groups of caregivers providing care. They live in these sections throughout their formative years, socializing with each other as well as select other sections. While these children might never know their real parents, the caregivers and fellow children provide them with a happy surrogate family.

By purchasing this, the nursery divisions will continue to accept any children you might have here or elsewhere. If you wish, you can still keep your children normally. But if you do not want to burden yourself or your partner, the H.F.F. will take care of everything.

For an extra 50cp (undiscounted), you could upgrade this to ensure that all your children will end up in a gold-class nursery. There they will be raised with a silver spoon in their mouth, prepared to join the elite of society and given every luxury the HFF can provide.

Official Soundtrack [100]

A CD containing original songs by Ryoji Gideoni currently featured in Haramase Simulator as well as bonus tracks not yet in the game! This will be a great addition to your music room. Oh right, you also get an entire music room with this, where you can listen to the Haramase Simulator soundtrack or any other music you might have acquired otherwise. This room can be connected to either your warehouse or some other property you own.

But in addition to being able to listen to your favorite tracks here, the room also allows you to set up background music to play while you're going about your business. You'll also be able to toggle who exactly can hear your background music, and the volume on it.

Sperm Donation Program [100]

Once the war had ended, the Japanese government first attempted to solve the population crisis by establishing a country-wide sperm donation program. Needless to say, the project was mostly a failure. Due to very few donations being received during its first few years. This later prompted the creation of the H.F.F. which aimed to provide greater 'incentive' to the remaining male population. Despite all that and the H.F.F.'s current successes, the program is still very much active. Should you feel like contributing, you need only visit the hospital for a doctor to happily process and submit your sample. After they personally 'help' you with the 'extraction process', of course. Helpfully, it seems every doctor assigned to the program is both smoking hot and very eager to 'take matters into their own hands'. While going out with a card may be more fun, there are a few extra benefits to doing this instead. Aside from artificial insemination allowing more women to benefit, there is a monetary compensation paid by the government. This reward is calculated based on the number of resulting impregnations, similar to normal H.F.F. payouts, which in turn is determined by the volume and potency of semen donated.

Kenyan Lungs [200]

Stamina Upgrade increases your maximum stamina by 25. Uh, I mean, this is protein powder? Yeah, that's definitely what this is. A set of two boxes full of the stuff in fact. Mixing the powder with some liquids, the resulting two protein shakes each permanently boost the stamina of the drinker by about a quarter of their base. While the exact amount might depend on the drinker and their biology, it's a good boost to their base at least. Moreover, you'll find the boxes quickly replaced with new ones after using them. While taking more than the two doesn't actually do much for someone who already got boosted by a previous shake, it does allow you to pass these around to anyone you like.

Thousand Suns [200]

While there's relatively cheap pills to temporarily increase fertility, the more permanent version you now hold is substantially more expensive. This set of two bottles contains powder with which you can easily make a set of two fertility drinks. Each permanently increases the fertility of the drinker by about five percent on average. After taking both doses of fertility drug, conception starts to get decently possible even when you're trying for it on safe days. More importantly though, both of these bottles will be quickly replaced by fresh ones after use, so you can offer them to anyone you please.

Hacked Implant [200, female only]

While most of the efforts to make pregnancy go smoother were accomplished through genetic engineering, a by-now incredibly common implant also moderates the women's ovulation, being part of what allows impregnation outside of their ovulation day. Normally, these work automatically with no input being necessary from the woman herself. Yours is a bit more of an advanced prototype though, or perhaps an aftermarket modification made by a very good street doc. It can switch between normal operation which leaves you as fertile as you would normally be, a redlined mode that makes it virtually impossible to get pregnant, or a "Chitose Mode" that favors dedicated lovers (by not ovulating until a certain amount of cum is inside you for some time and then going into overdrive).

Cosplay Costumes [200]

Maid costumes, school uniforms, bunny costumes, swimsuits, various types of cosplay like succubus, knight, and superhero costumes. Even a variety of more scandalous, form-fitting outfits and lingerie that might be found in red light districts. This purchase encompasses an extensive wardrobe of custom-fitted and comfortable costumes like these. All made with exacting precision from hand-crafted underwear to accessories like horns and wings so well-made that they look incredibly real and life-like.

On top of being able to wear these to various events yourself, and possibly allowing you to de-throne the cosplay queen herself, there's also extras for any of your partners to wear and regular new ones delivered to you. A nice way to keep things fresh in the bedroom, to put formerly proud women in maid outfits, or just to wear matching costumes to events.

Cardboard Cutout [200]

Sometimes you might still be needed at work, despite being rather busy with having a baby at the moment. This piece of cardboard therefore provides a solution that doesn't require you to leave the hospital. Outwardly it appears to be little more than a remarkably accurate cardboard cutout of yourself with some explanatory text of your choosing added, the default being a simple "Back soon! Having a baby ♥".

But in truth this immobile, two-dimensional copy of yourself somehow manages to do your job for you at a reasonably similar level of competence. If perhaps with less socializing and more self-service at check-out, on account of being made of cardboard. It also doesn't necessarily require you to actually be pregnant to take over for you, allowing you to get some vacation time in while your cardboard image minds the store.

Make Hentai Great Again [200/400]

Being a jumper isn't easy, H.F.F. fees cost money and you need money to make money. Thankfully, you just got a small loan of 1 million credits. Don't worry about paying it back either, you don't actually have to do that with this purchase. This pile of credits should leave you set for at least the time you will spend here, but afterwards you'll continue to receive a new 'loan' of the equivalent amount in local currency for each new jump.

If a million credits still does not seem like it is enough for you to get started, you could pay an extra 200cp to bump that up to a full 10 million credits instead.

Bank Account [400]

An account with Neo Tokyo Banking, along with one of their signature bank cards. Besides securely storing your money and payouts from the H.F.F., they offer a competitive interest rate of 1.5% per week and can convert any currency, like the local credits, into practically any other type you might run into should you decide to leave Japan. Or this world. Additionally, the bank is all too willing to offer both reasonable loans and lucrative investment opportunities to any of its members. Being a small bank, you'll also be immediately upgraded to platinum membership with this purchase regardless of the size of your account, allowing you to request financial counseling provided by the bank management.

Item Shop [400]

Congratulations on becoming the new owner of a small local business. This convenience store mainly stocks shelves full of onaholes and bread. While not the best business model with the general lack of male customers to market to, the store somehow manages to stay in business despite how few of those onaholes actually get sold. Perhaps the bread is just that good, or perhaps the other items for sale are what keep it afloat. Energy drinks, protein powder, fertility drinks, lubricant, and even the occasional music CD or video game is sold right over the counter here. Regardless of the specifics of their sales, the store now provides a steady income and supplies for you.

Mini-Game Arcade [400]

While you don't actually own this arcade yourself, it does seem to open up nearby whenever you decide to move, always continuing to provide a variety of ways to kill time and make credits within its neon-lit hall. The arcade's filled with a variety of games, some themed after pregnancy and hentai like Jutai Simulator and NTR Defender, others more are general like the quizzes and claw machines. There's even lotteries you can join. While a lot of the games here require you to pay some credits to play, some are free to get started on, and just about all of them can pay out in actual credits depending on how well you do at the actual game. Striking it rich just playing the games here is quite possible, but might take a while depending on how you decide to go about it and how good you are.

Hospital [400]

A fully staffed hospital similar to the Tokyo University Medical Hospital. Though "fully" staffed might be a bit misleading, as pretty much every room above the second floor is left vacant. With the decreased population, a hospital this big is pretty much unnecessary. Nevertheless, it is staffed with skilled doctors and nurses dedicated to their duty and ensuring the needs of their patients are met. Coincidentally, all of them are rather cute, sexy, or both. While you are now technically in charge of the entire hospital, it can run perfectly well without requiring your attention. Specialized in pregnancy care, due to the world's need, the medical personnel here are exceptionally good at making sure no issues come up during and after the pregnancy, while also smoothing the actual delivery. The hospital can also rapidly distribute and administer the genetic splice responsible for accelerated pregnancies.

Local Pub [400]

You're now the proprietor of a quaint and simple pub in the area. A perfect place to talk to friends, watch burly bitches kick balls on the telie, and get a drink. Or scout for quality women if you prefer. It's generally pretty quiet here, considering the general population make-up and feminine thought process, but it does get busier in the evening.

The bar stocks a variety of expensive but high quality drinks, from local beer to martinis and wines. Some of the drinks even have additional temporary effects beyond getting you drunk, increasing and decreasing your fertility or raising your chances of meeting interesting people to have sex with while wandering around the city. All of these are served by one of the best bartenders in the city. Even if she occasionally gets distracted on slow days, sneakily looking up impregnation porn when there doesn't seem to be anyone ordering at the bar.

In addition, the bar also sells a variety of non-alcoholic drinks safe for pregnant women, like several flavours of smoothie. The strawberry smoothies in particular are very good.

Love Hotel [400]

Ownership of a love hotel of your very own, located centrally in the closest redlight district. The previous owner made some odd business decisions, like setting up the reception area of the hotel to look like the rooms they offer. Perhaps to better advertise their services? The staff also seems to be hired mainly for how good they look in skimpy lingerie.

Regardless of how much sense that makes, it does seem to be working, as the love hotel is one of the more popular in the city. Though the clientele it attracts is mostly weird and unlikely couples, along with a variety of women in really lewd lingerie. Possibly because the staff are very willing to play around with the girls who visit, possibly because something about the love hotel itself makes people more open and eager for sex. Someone who would normally avoid any chance of getting pregnant would happily ask for it here.

In any case, aside from the well-furnished rooms, the hotel can also provide a small variety of accessories to its guests on request, like wrist restraints and blindfolds.

HaraFit Gym [400]

Welcome to the HaraFit lifestyle. Get ready to sweat! You've got a lifetime club membership at the HaraFit gym, and their excellent workout facilities. The gym has a dojo for martial arts training and sparring, a fitness center with a variety of machines and weight training, and an olympic-sized swimming pool amongst other things. It also boasts a mineral salt-infused bath to soak in after you work out, assuming you don't want to just take a quick shower.

But aside from the convenience of a local gym membership, working out here offers more benefits than doing so elsewhere. At its most basic, it's much easier to get fit here, allowing a fat slob to get buff in only a few weeks of dedicated visits. Once someone has attained that level of fitness, they only have to come back every few weeks to maintain it. But beyond that, this gym has the curious property of allowing you to get more virile as you get stronger.

Doing strength training here won't just make you physically strong, it will also 'strengthen' your seed (or ovulation somehow?) and raise your fertility to greater heights.

The gym is also frequented and staffed by a lot of fit girls, if that interests you.

Shrine to Inari [400]

A traditional shrine dedicated to Inari Okami, the goddess of fertility, prosperity, and foxes. The shrine is old but well-maintained and successful enough to stay financially stable, a rarity nowadays, owing mostly to the work of its shrine maiden. A cute woman blessed by Inari with fertility, she has been too busy with work at the shrine to put that into practise. If by some miracle the shrine would start getting enough visitors to require more shrine maidens, any maidens who take up that burden will be blessed in the same way. More importantly for you, you can pray at the shrine and be heard. Inari seems quite willing to grant week-long blessings of fertility, stamina, or luck if someone takes the time to pray to her here. Simply saying some words gives a tiny benefit, but offering a donation along with it can make the blessing far more noticeable. And if you sponsor the shrine enough to start an entire festival to celebrate Inari with yourself as the guest of honor, an effort like that would leave you exceptionally blessed in all three attributes while the festival lasts.

Mansion House [400]

Some hole in the wall apartment is hardly a place fit for you to live. This huge, stately mansion provides a much more fitting option. The interior is decorated entirely to your tastes, whether that means dignified antiques or more modern furniture, and located within walking distance of the city despite its peaceful location. The mansion itself would be worth a few million and provides more than enough space for anything you may need. The building also has the odd property of being very hard for people to find, even for those who have been there before, unless you personally lead them to it or get followed. Optionally, the house can come with a hired maid to keep it tidy. An attractive woman who is exceptionally skilled at her job, even if she does end up blushing whenever you order her to do something. Aside from that quirk and her insistence on the outfit though, she's very eager and skilled at doing housework, cooking, laundering, and upkeep on the house. Lastly, to ensure you'll always get to live in similar luxury, this purchase comes with a collection of vacation homes. One of which is set on the HFF Resort island (if you bought that as well) and at similar locations where you might want to take a vacation. All of these "vacation homes" are only slightly smaller mansions built in the same style.

Top Secret H.F.F. Laboratory [600]

A state-of-the-art facility dedicated to bioengineering research and development, located deep underground and only accessible with a nondescript elevator. With heavy security and strict access procedures, this provides a safe location for entire teams of bioengineers to be able to work on top secret research initiatives and experiments.

Within these futuristic, hermetic hallways you can find everything needed to create, house, and observe whatever cute breeding machines you want to make. From halls full of cloning and storage tanks, to normal-looking apartments with unobstructive cameras, and of course more conventional laboratories. Additional funding will continue to come in from a trust established from a portion of the estate of Hugh Hefner.

While not meant to be used for such purposes, it would also be easy to repurpose the facilities here to create biological weapons like super-soldiers, chimeras, and man-made viruses. Caution would be advised if you decide to work on such projects though.

H.F.F. Resort [600]

Do you need a break from your stressful job? Have you grown tired of your dreary urban surroundings? Would you like to meet new people... and knock them up?

Then welcome and enjoy a tropical getaway to the luxurious H.F.F. Resort! An all-inclusive vacation where you will be able to relax and unwind to your heart's content, while having your way with your fellow resort guests* and the resort staff. While on the island all H.F.F. fees are waived, and a variety of extra activities and entertainment are provided.

The resort offers something for everyone. Will you pass your time tanning on the beach?

Stargaze at the observatory? Visit the island's shopping center and karaoke bars?

No doubt you'll stop by the massage parlor and let the staff there take care of you.

Available at your request, the H.F.F. Resort is ready to fly you onto the island and provide luxury accommodations for you and anyone you invite whenever you'd like.

The island primarily functions as a way to bring (cardholder) men and willing women together.*

COMPANIONS:

Import [50/200]

You can import an existing companion here or create a new one for 50cp each, granting them appropriate discounts and free perks as well as a budget of 400 CP with which to purchase further perks and items for themselves. Alternatively, you could pay 200cp to import up to eight companions at reduced cost, with the same benefits.

Canon Companions [50]

If you'd like to take someone with you instead of bringing them in, you can use this option to pick someone specific and be guaranteed to meet them under favourable conditions. Should you convince them to come along with you, they can join you as a companion.

Your Harem [200]

Of course as a HFF member you can't actually limit yourself to just one lover. The future of mankind depends on as many women as possible getting pregnant, after all. So with this option you can take along your entire harem as a group of followers instead, as long as you manage to convince them to come along with you.

Personal Liaison [50, free for males]

Because you are important, and the H.F.F. knows this. They're not about to just let you roam around without any kind of supervision, so this woman has been assigned to serve as a liaison between you and the H.F.F. itself. If you encounter any problems, you can bring them up to her. Her job is to address any concerns you have, submit applications for new cards, and answer any questions you might have about the H.F.F. She will also accompany you to the H.F.F. resort as your liaison if you go there, making sure your vacation goes smoothly. As your personal liaison, she is here to take care of all your needs and concerns.

Cool Sister [50]

She just showed up on your doorstep one day. Claiming to be your half sister, given up at birth and raised in the HFF nurseries. Having worked her way up to CEO of a biotech corporation, she decided she wanted to see if she had any family and managed to get her hands on some HFF records. Now she's determined to reconnect with you, and is trying really hard to be a "cool" older sister. Even if she isn't entirely sure how siblings act around each other. Still, the occasional bit of too familiar skinship aside, she acts incredibly sweet and supportive towards you. Making time to visit and cheer you along whenever she can, only at times bemoaning the stress of her job and her high HFF fee scaring men off.

Cosplay Angel [50]

At first, you just got the feeling someone was watching as you wandered about. Then she appeared, an angel with fluffy white wings and gigantic boobs. After introducing herself as an angel of Inari Okami sent to watch over you, she tried to hint for you to use your HFF card. As it turns out, she's actually more of a cosplayer. After spending a lot of time watching you from a distance, she finally decided to approach you in her favorite costume. Mainly because dressing up does wonders for her confidence. She can talk to you normally when she's fully "in-character", but gets terribly flustered and quiet when she has to break character. And she's definitely not actually one of Inari's angels, what gave you that idea, haha.

Old Friend [50]

Your childhood friend, a tomboy who hung out with you and gave you an idea of what it might've been like to grow up with other boys around. You were inseparable then, and she's still your go-to woman when you need help or someone to talk to. Though she did end up getting rather curvy in puberty. Regardless, it'd feel kinda wrong to force her into anything using the card... but shortly after she hears about you being a H.F.F. cardholder, she'll barge into your home herself and demand to know why you haven't told or shown her. She's as much a woman as... oh, that's really big. H-hang on, we can talk about this, right?

Bratty Sister [50]

She may or may not be your actual sister, but regardless of blood relations this girl tends to freeload at your place. Closer to school, and you don't mind, right? Nevermind that she usually lazes around half-dressed, looking through your stuff (especially any hidden porn) and calling you a pervert if you look at her half-naked self. Pointing out her lack of actual studying mostly just gets you further teasing and light insults anyway. Her finding your H.F.F. application form only made it worse, with her repeatedly mentioning you'd better not be stupid enough to try it on her. Though you could swear she blushes as she says it...

Wingwoman [50]

You ran into this bombshell of a woman while out on the town one night, showing her your H.F.F. card led to her quickly offering to get her friends in on it as well. Whatever she told them must've been really convincing, because you ended up spending that night with three women and a substantially lighter wallet after all the H.F.F. fees. She called back a week later, asking if you liked redheads. It turns out she gets off more on seeing you impregnate other girls, or just providing them to you, than actually having sex herself. She's startlingly good at it too, finding just the types of girls you're into (and talking them into it as well).

Best Bunny [50]

With the first fully-functional W.A.B.B.I.T. prototypes currently being tested, you've been selected for a very particular experiment. To determine whether matching WABBITS to the tastes of their "users" would be helpful for impregnation, one has been fully customized according to your desires. Both the genetic engineering and the initial neural network burn tailored to whatever you want in terms of appearance and personality, aside from basic W.A.B.B.I.T. traits like bunny ears and a desire to be impregnated. Already assigned as your personal fuck toy, it probably won't take long for her to fully imprint on you.

Lonely Mother [50/100]

A single parent who always dreamed about having a large family, this voluptuous housewife still held onto the faint hope of giving her daughter a sibling. Or three. Sadly, the artificial insemination waiting list is quite long and she was always too busy to find a H.F.F. member. That is, until you ran into her. Her daughter just moved out to attend college, so she leapt at the chance to fill her home (and womb) with a new child. Even inviting you to stay at her own home. While she's somewhat older, she's aged like fine wine into a plush figure of incredible curves and pillowy softness. Her clothes positively strain to keep her bosom contained. For an extra 50cp, you can also take along her daughter. Fresh out of high school, she looks much like a teenage version of her mother, but isn't quite as happy about suddenly gaining a whole lot of siblings. Let alone the idea of getting pregnant herself. Not to worry though, you'll have help from her mother in winning her over. And ensuring grand-babies.

The Tweedles [100]

A two women HFF security detail assigned to you. These two suit-wearing women will discreetly follow you everywhere, and make sure not a hair on your head is harmed. Even if that means they'll start bitching at you if you look like you're trying to ditch them. Especially if you're doing so to have some private sex, for some reason. In any case, don't be fooled by their curvy looks. They actually are highly competent at their job, if not too bright. And don't even think about using your card on them. They're on duty... at least until their shift ends at night, when they're required to tell you they're going home now.

Idol Group [100]

It started innocently enough, with you being handed some VIP backstage passes to an idol concept. A "gift" for your fine work. That innocent impression lasted only up until you walked into a changing room and came face to face with a half-dressed top 10 idol.

In actuality, the group's idol manager asked the HFF to find someone who could help the girls blow off some steam. She'd be happy to hand you spare keys to their rooms or other incentives to do so. After all, besides allowing them to de-stress a bit with your "help", getting them pregnant would only help raise their popularity even higher. Idol pregnancies are a topic of much discussion and debate nowadays, market research shows.

The girls themselves seem to be pretty eager as well, at least once they get over the surprise of your sudden appearance. All three of these adorable girls have different needs and desires, but you tick all their boxes. Once you leave the trio with a positive impression (and possibly some babies), you can expect more backstage passes to come your way. And for the bolder members of the group to seek you out on their own.

DRAWBACKS:

In case you want to torture yourself. And also get some extra points to buy things.

Please Enter Your Name [+0, male only]

While normally you'd just be another cardholder in the same city, with this drawback toggle you'll instead be the main character himself. While this doesn't really get you anything special beyond your purchases, it does mean you have a history with people like your neighbour Hayasaki, your sisters Kurumi and Kazumi, and your mother Shiori.

Flipped [+0]

Instead of 1 male to 20,000 females, the gender disparity by the virus ended up the other way around. Yet somehow, it got basically the same response. The H.F.F. is still established, providing their cards to the few women still alive and able to reproduce.

For the purposes of the jump document, this drawback toggle switches all the mentions of 'male' in the discounts and exclusive options for 'female' and vice-versa.

Overly High Sex-Drive [+100]

While having a high sex-drive is good for the recovery effort and prized in H.F.F. members, you might be taking it a bit far. Masturbating thrice daily is about the minimum for you to feel even somewhat sated, but really you want to fuck. While you can still have other interests and hobbies on top of that, everything else you do is going to be secondary to your desire to have sex, to find new sex partners, and to get them to fuck you in new and fun ways.

Suffice to say that if you're doing anything with your life aside from fucking like an animal, it's probably to facilitate doing that. If you're a man, that's going to involve making the absolute most out of your "Harem Fuck Fest" card. Meanwhile as a woman you will probably end up dressed in the most revealing thing you can get away with, to draw in and offer yourself up to whatever men you can find like a piece of ass begging to be fucked and impregnated.

Family Oriented [+100]

Traditional families don't really exist anymore in this world. Settling down with a single woman would be seen as incredibly selfish for a cardholder, while women will have to come to terms with just being one of many girls in a harem at best.

While you can still be very happy like this, at the same time... you'll feel frustrated. Despite the impossibility of it, some part of you will always continue to desire settling down with your lover and having them all to yourself. It'll only get worse if you end up falling in love with multiple people, torn between wanting an exclusive relationship with all of them.

Forgettable [+100]

Something about you is just very unmemorable. Maybe it's just that you have a very generic face? Even when you're wearing eye-catching cosplay outfits, you'd be hard-pressed to find someone who'd recognize you upon meeting you a second time. On the other hand, others being mistaken for you is pretty common. When people remember you at all, that is.

But it must be more than just your appearance, because even after proclaiming your eternal love to someone and asking them to always remember you... they've probably already forgotten your name mere seconds later. You can eventually work through this by spending a lot of time around someone, but that is going to involve a few reminders on who you are again before it sticks. And they might still confuse someone else for you.

Censoring [+100]

Unfortunately, the visuals for this jump were produced in Japan. This means you'll have to deal with some light censorship. It's nothing too disruptive to your daily life, but all genitals will look heavily pixelated to you. Yes, even your own. No one else seems to be bothered by this either, as everyone else is able to see things down there perfectly fine.

Luckily this only affects your vision, so you'll still be able to "navigate" by touch. But still, this will make the job of a HFF cardholder a little more difficult. And the "sights" along the way may be a little less fun to watch, not to mention how strange it looks on yourself.

Fertility: -99% [+100 for female/+300 for male. Incompatible with Alpha Zero]

You're infertile, gaining extra cp in return for losing your future. If you're female, this means you're barren and resultingly not rated by the H.F.F. While you won't have to worry about any H.F.F. members, for your time here you will be stuck with a persistent, nagging sense that you'll never know the joys of motherhood, of perpetuating the great wheel of life itself.

Should you be male, you'll be similarly infertile and, due to the high standards the H.F.F. sets for their members' fertility, you can forget about getting a H.F.F. card here. But at least if you paid for the permanent version of the card, you will still get that after this jump ends.

Alpha Zero [+200, men only. Incompatible with Fertility: -99]

We are sorry to inform you that your application for a H.F.F. card has been rejected. You do not have the requirements to advance to the next level. For the duration of this jump, you'll be stuck with an Alpha Zero card designation. This means no physical card.

But at least you'll still be able to have sex, as long as your partner consents. And they're not exempted. And you pay the H.F.F. fees anyway. That last one is technically optional, as the H.F.F. does not heavily enforce it. But they do usually direct women who have forgotten the fee with an A0 class to a proper H.F.F. cardholder as a corrective measure.

If you paid for the permanent version of the card, you will still get that after this jump ends.

Airhead [+200]

What's this card thing about again? You were daydreaming through most of that health ed class. And most other classes too, to be honest. You have some serious difficulties with your attention span and taking things seriously, so you can expect to sign a lot of agreements without reading them and to miss a lot of basic knowledge. Not that it would matter too much if you did pay attention, because you're not exactly the sharpest tool in the shed anyway.

Suffice to say that you won't be promoted for your brains anytime soon.

Placeholder Drawback [+200]

Random drawback text 1. You should put more text here. But to be serious, you'll often run into times where this world seems... unfinished. People who just stare at you blankly and spout lines like "Random dialogue 1" or "Placeholder text" when you try to talk to them.

Meetings with your friends where you walk into the bar, see them, and then just wake up back at your place hours later with a note that this event will be finished in a later update.

Dates with your lover you can plan but then never actually go on, or at least, you won't actually experience going on them. It won't be all the time, but there's also nothing you can do to prevent it. Worst of all, other people don't seem to notice these discrepancies, with everyone else just continuing as if they'd said or done things normally.

Can You Even Afford Her [+200]

Whenever you go out and try to use that, everyone you take an interest in seems to have their required HFF fees set much higher than you'd normally expect. Running into people with prices in the ten thousands is going to be the minimum you can expect. It's not that all the prices were hiked up, the main goal is still repopulation after all. But it's almost like someone at the H.F.F. offices has it out for you in particular, with anyone you're actually interested costing you ridiculous amounts of credits in fees every time.

Don't think you're safe from this as a woman either, because the rating officials still seem to hate you. While you won't have to deal with paying any fees, the problem instead moves to the price you're rated at yourself. If you happen to want a man to take you, the necessary fee will be set in the tens if not hundreds of thousand at the least. And if you were hoping to avoid them? Well, guess who now costs a mere 25 credits? Don't bother asking to change it either, every request you send for that just seems to get lost in the bureaucracy.

Wimp [+200/+300]

While being fertile and physically capable of sex is a requirement to qualify for a H.F.F. card or to be rated as a fertile woman... being any good at it is not necessarily. You're now the walking proof of that, being kind of a wimp in bed. Don't expect any of your partners to be eager to meet you again afterwards, because you're not going to be able to actually satisfy anyone with your fumbling. You can barely even get them wet or hard, anything more than that is practically a lost cause. And on top of that, you're so lacking in stamina that you're generally going to last no more than thirty seconds when you do get started.

Suffice to say that if any of your lovers end up orgasming, that is going to have more to do with them using your body for their own pleasure than anything you did. And even then, it won't properly satisfy their lust, just making them more desperate for a release.

For an extra +100cp, you're not just bad in bed. You're also just terrible to look at, being rather fat and disgusting. The only way you're ever getting in bed with a woman is by using your card-given rights, and don't expect anyone to like you for it.

Ghost of the Past [+300]

You are burdened by deep regrets, leaving you a shell of your former self. Things happened in your past that still haunt you years after the fact. Perhaps you were kept as a virtual slave and toy to a yakuza gang held over from the pre-war era, perhaps you were kept in some sort of breeding factory or a laboratory to be experimented upon, or perhaps you suffered terribly in some other way. Regardless of exactly what happened, you bear the (mental) scars of years of abuse, which continue to hurt you every day. Trying to find happiness again after going through all that is going to be a hard and long road to recovery.

Hobbies: Auto-Erotic Asphyxiation [+300]

You're a hardcore masochist. Getting excited without suffering some kind of pain or without being forced into something just doesn't do it for you. Even in public, it's hard to resist the urge to get yourself hurt whenever possible. If you went to visit a swimming pool, you'd likely end up purposefully chafing your skin on a slide or try to see how badly you could get your lungs to burn by holding your breath. It's even worse when you want to have sex, leaving you unable to really be satisfied if you're not either being raped or otherwise hurt. But on the bright side, when you do actually get choked or shove something painfully big inside... it does feel amazing. Just be careful you don't go too far and do permanent harm.

Ring around the rosie... [+300]

Getting adequate rest and relaxation in is an important part of staying healthy and continuing with your important, population-restoring duties. Too bad you won't get that rest, because you've been cursed with horrible nightmares. Or maybe you just ate something bad.

Either way, you're stuck with recurring nightmares. In them you're reduced to the form of a piglet, one hunted through a forest by a succubus. Singing creepy nursery rhymes, she will chase you with sadistic glee. No matter how hard you try to run, try to evade, or try to fight back, it always ends the same way. With you skewered on an arrow, feeling every bit of pain from that wound and waking up when it either gets too much or the piglet dies.

While these nightmares don't really harm you physically, only serving to torment you while you're asleep, it's going to be really difficult to get a full night's rest. Whenever you wake from one of these nightmares, you're going to start your week already tired.

Russian Breeding Facility [+300]

Each country adopted their own strategy for repopulation after the BGe-C 56 disaster. While some decided to institute the H.F.F. just like Japan did, others chose different paths.

In Russia for example, men are subject to mandatory sperm donations three times per week. If they fail to report twice in a row, they're punished by being sent to an institution where they have their semen repeatedly extracted by a machine. Unfortunately, you ended up in one of these institutions for artificial insemination instead of the far more pleasant Japan.

Whether you're a Russian who failed to report for your required donation for whatever reason or just a foreigner who went on a vacation that went very wrong indeed, you're going to be stuck here at least until you find a way to escape both the facility and the country.

And if you're a woman taking this? Well, on the bright side you won't be mechanically milked for semen. On the not-so bright side, you're instead locked up in a different but equally harsh institution, where you'll be treated as nothing more than a government-owned breeding machine to be used to carry as many children as possible.

SCENARIOS:

Dreaming of a Fertile Goddess

If you're not merely content to bolster the human population you could set your eyes on divinity itself as well. This will not be an easy dream to achieve. Firstly, you must catch the attention of Inari, the goddess of fertility (and prosperity and foxes), and prove yourself her most devoted follower by personally impregnating a thousand women in her name.

Then, you must summon her from the heavens by offering ten million credits (and a load of cum of course) at her shrine. Once that is done, the summoned goddess will transport you with her to her apartment and offer you a small sexual reward for your service. Should you prove virile enough then, you may even be considered worthy of impregnating her.

This is where your true challenge begins. During this visit and subsequent summonings, you must continually impress her more than any mere follower could. Both by showing her sexual skill and stamina to match or exceed her godly own, and with your virility. Only when you have utterly marked her divine body as yours with enough pleasure and thick seed to breed an absurd amount of demigods into her, will Inari finally give in completely.

Once you have thus proven yourself, you earn a greater boon from Inari. A blessing from her, a promise that your descendants here and in each new world will outnumber the stars. Perhaps not entirely necessary for someone fertile enough to impress her this much, but the blessing of a fertility goddess onto your entire lineage is still not a small thing.

Additionally, she will offer to join you on your journey as a companion. Eagerly offering up her body and womb for your use, in a reversal of the summonings you had to perform to call her before. As well as attaching her apartment to your warehouse with your permission, and taking her three angels with her as followers sharing her companion slot.

If you happen to be a woman, you may still attempt this challenge... but you might have to get a little creative on how you'd actually manage to impress Inari deeply enough.

ENDING:

After ten years spent in this world of impregnation, you have one more choice to make:

Work: Stay here, ending your chain to take up permanent residence in this world.

Change Job: Continue, moving onto your next jump with everything you got here.

Go Back: Go back home, ending the chain by returning to the world of your origin.

NOTES:

If you get the permanent card, you keep whatever rank upgrades you earned here.

Some conditions on the H.F.F. card:

- Barren women are not rated by the H.F.F. and are not legally required to have sex with a card holder. Neither are women who are already pregnant at the time.
- Depending on card rank, some women are exempted. At the basic A1 levels these exemptions include married women, government officials, family members, women in vital jobs like police or doctors, and those that were granted a HFF dismissal slip.
- Virgins and the betrothed technically are not required to comply either (at A1 level). But as this is uncommon knowledge, there are few reported cases like that.

Non-compliance results first in warnings, then fines, and finally arrests. If given cause to believe a girl will reject any attempt, skipping straight to arrests is also possible.

While some HFF fees can be as low as 25 credits, this is pretty rare. Most fees are in the hundreds to thousands. Relatively important women like the head teacher of a school, owner of a single branch bank, or a city councilwoman might be rated at eight to ten thousand credits. An exceptionally fertile woman might end up costing twice that, while an idol might be rated at around fifty thousand credits, and the fee for a prototype W.A.B.I.T. would go up to a million credits.

HFF Card Ranks:

In addition to the total number of impregnations, advancement also takes into account how many years it takes in between card levels. This makes the higher tiers much rarer.

Black card - Zeroth tier. Not given actual cards, simply for categorization purposes.

- Sub-Zero (00): Revoked cards. Includes rapists and serious criminals.
- Unsuitables (0N): Undesirables. Serious mental disabilities and the like.
- Children (0C): Boys below sexual maturity.

Bronze card - First real tier.

- Alpha Zero (A0): Almost all men who reach sexual maturity are assigned this rank, but no physical card is given. Having sexual relations requires both consent and a fee. However the fees are not heavily enforced and regularly forgotten about.
- Alpha One (A1): The first rank for HFF cardholders. Required to pay the fee before any intercourse. Refusal to comply will be fined, but physical coercion is disallowed.
- Alpha Two (A2): Available after 15 impregnations. Virgins and family members are no longer exempted (the latter due to a legal oversight).

Silver card

- Special One (S1): Available after 75 impregnations. Women in vital jobs are now required to make themselves available at earliest convenience. Additionally, there is a 100 credit bonus payout for successful impregnation.
- Special Two (S2): Available after 200 impregnations. Women with dismissal slips are no longer exempt (unless there are other extreme circumstances). Married women may now be impregnated with consent. Credit payout is increased to 300 credits per woman. Additionally, the fine for refusing to comply is increased substantially.
- Super Special (SS): Available after 300 impregnations. Women in vital positions now have to comply immediately. Married women have to comply as well, with the exception of those married to former cardholders of Silver tier or higher. Credit payout is increased to 1000 credits per woman. Minor crimes are overlooked if the purpose was for repopulation.

Gold card - Last formal tier. There are only about 25 in the world.

- Deluxe (DX): Available after 400 impregnations. Women in government positions may now be impregnated with consent. Credit payout is increased to 4000 credits per woman. Additionally, you can use your card in any HFF country.
- Super Deluxe (SX): Available after 700 impregnations. Credit payout is increased to 8000 credits per woman.

Diamond card - Alternative tier for married men.

- Married Monogamously (MM): Men at or above Silver tier who decided to stay with a single woman for the rest of their lives. The HFF does not approve and heavily discourages the choice, but it is allowed. Wives of men at this level are untouchable, but the men are required to regularly donate sperm.
- Married Polygamously (MP): The alternate option, for men who want to keep their card rank. Wives of MP cardholders are exempt from cardholders below SS rank.

PLATINUM card - Secret tier. Currently does not exist.

- Premium (XX): "Available" after 1000 impregnations. Credit payout is increased to 15000 credits per woman. Basically a tier made up to reward unprecedented effort and virility, making the holder untouchable and a focus for HFF propaganda. Allows even wives of MM cardholders to be impregnated, as the HFF wants the holder to spread their genes as much as they possibly can.

Changelog (v2):

- Halved fee to keep the card post-jump to 200.
- Added option to start with a Gold Super Deluxe card for 200.
