

Fate Whore Order - Chaldea Bitch
Jumpchain by Cthulhu Fartagn

The Story Thus Far

Heroic Spirits are an existence above mortals, the men and women who shaped the oceans, built the mountains, who defined the concept of heroism with the mere fact of their existence. And as more than one legend will tell you, these men and women who are larger than life also have appetites that are larger than life. Case in point, Medb, who's lust for men was so large that she was said to need seven men a day to satisfy her desires.... Or Fergus. That really tells you something about their stamina, doesn't it?

Enter the Lancer class servant, the Witch of Dun Scaith, Scathach. After being locked inside her palace of shadows for 2000 years, plus or minus a decade or two, she's rather backed up and has dropped her standards rather dramatically. Specifically, she's gone rather insane with lust and has taken every opportunity to fuck just about every man she can get her hands on. Worse still, she seems intent on dragging every other female Heroic Spirit she can down with her as well. And unfortunately, Chaldea has plenty of those to go around. If only the saviors of humanity weren't quite so competent at their job...

As a goddess of victory (well, not really, but the universe has long since forgotten that she's capable of losing), she's having little trouble accomplishing her lewd goals. So, just go ahead and take these, and try to stay out of her way until she calms down. If she calms down.

Origins Pick One

Master

The Master of Chaldea, the last hope of humanity, the teenage kid surrounded by entirely too many hot women. Sadly, whatever assets you were born with aren't enough to interest Scathach, and your pool of women willing to fool around with you seems to have been shrinking rapidly as of late. Good luck fixing that.

Master's may swap their gender to Male for Free, and are 15 years old.

Minion

Less impressive than the Master - any Master, really - by far, but seemingly more successful at the things that really matter. That'd be getting bitches, for the record. You're probably a resident of singularity, such as Luluhawa or Shinjuku, which basically makes you the mookest of mooks. Just remember, there's strength in numbers, sharing is caring, and those whores probably don't care if you gangbang them.

Minions may swap their gender to Male for Free, and are around 20 to 30 years old.

Innocent

I congratulate you on your immense self contr - damn it, Scathach got you. I'm only mostly joking, you're either an honestly innocent person who's a virgin, or maybe someone the Witch hasn't gotten her claws into just yet. I'd suggest staying true to your love for Senpai, but that's barely a challenge for her. Enjoy the slow fall into her corruption?

Innocents may swap their gender to Female for Free, and have an irrelevant age.

Journeyman

Neither fully innocent nor utterly addicted, you're something of a bystander in Scathach's quest to corrupt all the women of Chaldea into sluts like herself. In all likelihood you probably had a few private moments with her during her fall, moments you probably enjoyed immensely, a once proud woman serving you any way you wanted. If you had your way she'd probably be stuck there, utterly yours instead of free to use for everyone.

Journeyman may swap their gender to Male for Free, and have an irrelevant age.

Expert

I'll be honest, I wasn't expecting you to have this much in common with Scathach. But apparently you're just as repressed and pent up as she is, because you've basically jumped into lewdness headfirst. Or, the possibility exists that you're just one of the first people who fell and maybe actually enjoyed it. Either way, you're one hell of a whore.

Experts may swap their gender to Female for Free, and have an irrelevant age.

Location

Masters, Innocents, and Journeyman start the jump in Chaldea, while Minions can choose between the Luluhawa, Vegas, and Shinjuku Singularities. Experts may start anywhere.

Perks

Master

100 cp - Falling From Hello

Ritsuka Fujimaru was an absolute nobody, no special traits, no special powers, not even a large number of magic circuits or of high quality. But he did have something going for him, for he knew the great secret that the real treasure was the friends you made along the way. And also how to make a good first impression, something you share with him. Be polite, be respectful, be unafraid, and your first impression will imprint on them as if they've known you for months, and you having been the same way all that time. Sure, you might actually be quaking at your boots for having just summoned King Arthur's evil twin or something, but so long as you can smile at all, they'll treat it as an honest one - with all the respect you're due for having the courage to not be shaking in your knees. And who knows, if you really weren't afraid, that would be even better.

200 cp - A Chance Meeting

You might just be wandering around aimlessly or in a rush to go somewhere in specific, but in the moments between the exciting parts of your life you'll find yourself noticing things. A friend of yours walking into a shop, your servant looking longingly at someone eating a specific piece of food, or maybe one of the more promiscuous ones chatting up (or being chatted up by) some faceless goon. As you might imagine, these flashes of insight, of light quite literally passing you by will grant you a great deal of insight into the minds of your friends, allies, and servants, something to help you become even better friends. They'll also warn when you're in danger of losing them.

400 cp - Diamond In The Rough

Taking a completely normal kid with absolutely no special traits and tossing them into the highest risk job in the history of history would normally be something I'd called doomed to failure. You however, you make it work. Maybe it's a talent honed on dozens of video games, or one spurred on by your desire to not die, but when it comes to the battlefield you're actually surprisingly competent. Calling you a tactical mastermind would probably be an overstatement, but you somehow manage to utilize your limited resources in amazing ways, and can set traps driven by your understanding of your enemies personality - as well as dodge out of theirs for you. This also applies to matters of love, letting you plan dates and dodge crazy yanderes.

600 cp - Ascension Material

One of Scathach's tactics to get other female servants to join her 'club' was to tell them that the men they would be sleeping with could 'level them up' or 'ascend' them. This is obviously complete nonsense that, sadly, far too many servants have fallen for. That said, while it might be complete nonsense, you can actually pull something similar off. You see, when transferring mana to your Servants you can actually get far more bang for your buck if you're close to them instead of just being Master and Servant. And no, that's not actually a metaphor for tantric mana transfer rituals, I mean emotionally close, becoming friends with them.. Being lovers with them would qualify, but you need something beyond fuck buddies. The closer you get, the more efficient your mana becomes for them. Get close enough and you could find that you could support two or three powerful servants on a mana capacity that theoretically can barely handle one.

Minion

100 cp - How About Some Sunscreen?

Let's be honest, you're a thug. Hell, if you're in Shinjuku then you might actually be a professional leg breaker and arm twister, a (low ranking) member of the Yakuza. Befitting someone as crass as you, you've developed an... Unusual method of flirting. To be honest, most of it is one step short of utterly shameless, more of it is innuendo than not, and any woman with any self respect would probably slap you for speaking to her. Despite that your flirting is, for lack of a better phrase, super effective against women. Just listening to you promise to show them a good time starts to turn them on, no matter how against such a thing they would normally be. A few minutes of their attention is all you need to keep their attention and hopefully get laid, though a good wingman (or wingwoman) would never go amiss.

200 cp - From America

As it turns out, most of the men on Luluhawa aren't native to the island. No, they're on vacation, and are from America, possibly just like you. You know what that means, right? They make things bigger in America, which means that your dick is now enormous, your stamina is legendary (if mortal), and the amount of cum you put out could fill a bathtub. Against a normal woman, you would basically turn them into a mewling pile of mush with ease. Sadly you're up against Servants, which means that this is barely enough to keep you going. No, the real power here is the fact that you can share this with the entire nation - one American can barely keep up with a servant, but two? Three? A dozen? With every American citizen having a bitch breaking dick or the body of a pornstar, you'd be able to throw one hell of a party.

400 cp - Strength In Numbers

A normal person, even if they are top notch and of the highest quality, could never hope to satisfy a Heroic Spirit in bed, let alone beat one in battle. The good news is, you don't really have to. See, your prowess in both gets multiplied by how many people you have backing you up - and by that I mean mooks, a dozen faceless old men, a squad of yakuza flunkies, a handful of shadow servants, so on and so forth. If you, as part of the crowds, can land any blow at all, then suddenly all of you can - and will have - land that blow. Or in other words, you're a boss mook who gets stronger the more backup you have. Similarly, your sexual prowess is also multiplied this way, effectively turning you into a one man gangbang. Still, just because you can fuck them senseless by yourself is no reason not to actually gangbang them - you need to reward you men for their assistance, right?

600 cp - Return To The Throne

So funny story, Servants are absolutely not supposed to remember anything about past summonings... and every single one of them has at least vague memories of those summonings, allies certain they've met before, enemies instinctively disliking each other. In theory, this is just a fun fact that doesn't matter much. For you however, it means that once you've fucked someone over into being a complete and total slut, that even when you eventually let them fade away and return to the throne, the next version of them will stay whore-ified. On its own, that isn't that actually all that great, so I've decided to give it a tiny bit of an upgrade to also apply to other versions of your slutty Servant. There are so many versions of King Arthur in this world, at least three Jeanne D'Arcs, nine Tamamo No Mae... And that's only here in this jump, who knows what other versions you'd find in other worlds?

Innocent

100 cp - Surveillance Mission

What's a good kouhai to do when something goes wrong but try to keep her Senpai out of trouble? Of course, in order to do that you need to know when Senpai might be about to get into trouble, and for that you need to know the areas they frequent, the people they talk to, their likes and dislikes... No you're not stalking them, you're a dependable kouhai, not a yandere. Anyways, you're decent at sneaking around. Not an Assassin, obviously, but it's enough to follow your senpai around to ensure he doesn't go on a date - I mean, get into trouble, or so that you can spy on one of the other Servants. Just don't get caught and pulled into their nonsense, alright? Of course, if you do decide to do something or someone other than senpai, this would help you get away with it.

200 cp - Mana Conversion

Normally, Tantric rituals are complicated. You have to do this, they have to do that, and you have to do it at the same time. Obviously your failures are enjoyable, but getting something useful out of it is practically a chore. Luckily, you can now skip all of that nonsense and just directly use the sperm pumped into you as magical energy. This is arguably even better twice over for not costing any of their own energy. I'm sure there's a lucky guy out there who would be more than happy to get another bond level with you... and dozens of men who would like to fire and forget, and would give you way more energy through sheer force of numbers. Oh, and it doesn't actually matter where you take it, once it's inside of you the energy is yours.

400 cp - No Kissing, Okay?

It's just so much more efficient to have multiple partners when you can power up from sex, isn't it? But, sleeping with somebody who isn't senpai... Maybe you should do something like only give blowjobs, or only let them fuck your ass? As long as it ends up inside you it's good enough, so something like that ought to be an acceptable compromise - and hey, you can save your first kiss for your senpai! So now you can do just that, putting limits on the things you consider acceptable during your time 'recharging'. Now, they'll take ruthless advantage of whatever you give them, so if your ass is up for grabs expect them to do their best to leave you unable to sit down for a week. Also, do be aware that the more you let them do, the less effective this becomes. By the point they've done everything but take your kiss, this wouldn't stop them anymore.

600 cp - Purer Than Actual Saints

Or, and hear me out here, you could not cheat on your boyfriend. Now, getting dragged in by Scathach isn't really something you can control, and I do wish you luck in getting out of such a thing, but if you take this then she probably wouldn't even bother with you. See, you're just too adorable. The senpai/kouhai dynamics, your innocent smile, the awkward but honest flirting between the two of you... Watching the two of you being adorably domestic actively makes others want you less for fear of ruining such an adorable couple. It might even work to calm their own rampaging lusts for a brief period of time as they try to set you up with each other to help you 'gain bond levels' faster. ...With that said, if even after all of that you were still inclined to go along with the witch's plans, then your boyfriend would be exceptionally understanding about how you were 'meant' to be with that other guy. Or guys, depending.

Journeyman

100 cp – Rosy-Cheeked Adonis

As a child, were you perhaps mistaken for an angel once or twice? With such a beautiful body and an air of innocence about you I cannot imagine that something similar didn't happen at least once, but in truth you're more an incubus than anything else. You have a nameless charm that fascinates women, drawing them into spending more time with you than is wise and allowing you to take certain liberties with their friendship without arousing their suspicions until it's far too late for them. This effect can also take hold of men, making them assume that you're simply a child, pure of mind and heart, so much so that they'd overlook obvious warning signs of your true nature, like the smell of sex and the shaking legs of the wife you'd just finished impregnating. If they had a lust to match yours perhaps they could sense your true nature, but otherwise? Innocent is all you are.

200 cp - The Beauty of Youth

Who would have guessed that the ones best suited to conquering Scathach and her posse were the Lily-type servants? Like Alex and Gil-kun you possess the body of a child, and while for now this is simply the way you are, in future jumps you may enter this form freely, overriding your age roll. As a child you're able to greatly reduce your strength or even seal off some abilities entirely, and the more limits that you place on yourself the faster those abilities will grow, allowing you to reach new heights of power and skill once you regain your adult body. This form also isn't without its own strengths: it exudes an aura of boyish charm (or girlish, if you'd rather resemble Astolfo) which older women are very weak against. So strong are these immoral charms that with the right temptation you could lure even devout wives and holy saints into breaking their vows.

400 cp - Child of the Gods

No ordinary boy could become a hero while still a child, but there's nothing ordinary about a demigod no matter his age. The blood of the gods flows in your veins, granting you strength and potential far beyond any ordinary mortal and even many servants. You're a near-endless dynamo of both physical and magical power and your stamina recovers very quickly when you exhaust yourself, making you an inhuman terror to anyone foolish enough to think they could dominate you in the bedroom. This is assuming they aren't slain outright by the mighty sword tucked away in your pants, a monster-sized cock of such girth that the mere sight of it makes women wet with anticipation. A beast like this one could slay monsters and horny MILFS alike, and your seed is so potent that even servants can be impregnated with your divine heirs.

600 cp - Please Take Care of Me

Scathach has spent multiple singularities turning her fellow servants into simple whores but in you she's finally met her match, a man capable of not only satisfying but of utterly conquering her. Like an ancient king of conquerors you've mastered the art of sexual dominance and can turn your conquests into eager slaves addicted to the pleasure you give them. Anyone who falls for your charms can quickly be reduced to putty in your hands by spending a night in your bed, their resolve turned to mush by the pleasure you grant them. Faithful wives could easily be persuaded to betray their lovers and become a harem of your personal concubines after getting a taste of you, while an experienced whore could become so addicted to your cock that she can no longer be satisfied by other men. And satisfy them you will, because you've also become a lover of mythic skill, equal to the likes of Astolfo and Gilgamesh. Even legendary feats like fucking 100 women in a single night or cuckolding every man in your kingdom are within your power.

Expert

100 cp - Club Activities

One of the problems with being a figure of legend is that you have no damn clue what a cell phone is or how to use one. The Holy Grail is supposed to dump information into your head, but it rarely if ever gives more than the bare basics. Luckily for you, you're an expert at modernizing both yourself and others. Picking up modern tech skills, fashion, sex positions... All of these are trivially easy for you, and teaching them to others isn't much harder. Why, you could be a woman born before the invention of gas lights, be dropped into a modern city with all their horseless carriages and bright lights, and track down the nearest whorehouse inside of half an hour. And that's after having extorted the money for your lunch out of a bunch of Yakuza wannabees.

200 cp - Legendary Desires

I do believe I mentioned this, but Heroic Spirits have... Eh, I'm not quite sure this is accurate, but heroic desires. Legendary stamina, and the need for a dozen men or women (or both, some of them are like that) in order to have their lusts sated. And you are now one such individual, able to defeat an army by having more stamina than they do. To be honest, your only real competition in this area would be Medb and the lust crazed Scathach - both Irish, interestingly enough. If you were a male I would suggest maybe hooking up with the latter in an effort to rein her in, but I can't see that going well - the bedroom is just another battlefield, and Scathach does so hate to lose.

400 cp - Relationship Lifehacks

The Master of Chaldea is a nice guy, great even, but his absolutely stunning personality doesn't help him one bit in bed. Something that Scathach noted and quickly abandoned him over. Why stick around with someone incompetent when there are entire Singularities filled with men who are big, strong, and who will eventually be retroactively erased? Of course even with that it would probably feel like a punch to the gut to see the look on his face when he finds out what you've done in secret - it's not like you ever really hated him after all. To that end, you're either from the Moon Cell or have taken notes from someone who is and have learned to 'edit' people's memory, erasing inconvenient memories wholesale and inserting simple false ones in their place. That phone call where you were getting railed by someone with a decently sized dick was just some stretches, no need to worry about anything.

600 cp - Wisdom of the Whorish Grounds

To be perfectly honest, it's not really clear why exactly Scathach is so obsessed with making whores out of the other female Servants. The source of her own lusts are obvious enough, but not her desire for others. What is clear however is that she's fucking amazing at bringing about the fall of others. Commoners, nobles, royalty, even a goddess or two, all brought down to their knees as they suck cock and on their backs as they spread their legs. While I can't in good conscience call you her equal in combat, I certainly can make you so in the bedroom. Beyond becoming the master of every form of sex that exists, your ability to sweet talk people is second to none. Honeyed words, false promises and half truths, the absolute assurance that they both need to and will enjoy debasing themselves in the same way you have... Your words are a poison to their restraint and purity. If you gave a heartfelt speech, you might just entirely corrupt them from that alone, let alone the pleasure actually doing the deed would bring.

General

50 cp - Summer Fashion

While a not insignificant portion of Scathach's efforts take place in Shinjuku, the city of Yakuza, a larger portion takes place in Luluhawa and Vegas, two of the four summer Singularities. It should come as no surprise then that this allowed Scathach to dress both herself and others in even more risque clothing than they would normally wear. In other words, swimsuits. And boy, were they swimming in men and sperm right quick. The way this perk affects that is that it takes that otherwise weak piece of fabric and grants it the Servant class durability it will need to not get utterly destroyed, be it from swords and lances or over eager men trying to rip it off. Lingerie and other naughty things are also effected, but not actual clothes. It also prevents them from staining due to all the fluids.

100 cp - Ready To Pop

The members of the mafia and yakuza seem to have a minor obsession with breeding Scathach and the other female Servants. If Scathach is to be believed, then in the year and change that she's been doing this, she's had over 600 kids. Even accounting for the time loop that Luluhawa was in for a while, that's still somewhere between one and two kids per day, every day of the jump. And then you realize that this probably didn't start one day one, something like six months in is more accurate. Due to a couple of different things overlapping on themselves, you (or the women you impregnate) now have a very accelerated pregnancy, a mere month instead of nine. Additionally, said pregnancy lacks a great deal of the drawbacks a normal one would come with. You could even go onto the battlefield while heavily pregnant and the kid would be fine.

200 cp - A World You Cannot Escape

Sometimes, the rules and logic that control a Singularity can be exceedingly unusual. Shinjuku, for example, provides a small power boost to any servant with the 'Evil' alignment. You however have figured out how to put a 'lock' on these Singularities. Somewhere between an entrance fee and toll to be extracted upon exiting. To be honest, at the best of times it's a minor inconvenience, like needing to sleep for at least eight hours inside the Singularity after announcing your intention to exit, or requiring them to make one thousand origami cranes. However, you being you and Scathach being Scathach, you can also declare sex acts as the toll, such as 'you cannot leave the singularity unless you participate in a black gangbang AV'. Of course with Singularities being so rare, you can also apply this to other things - albeit in a reduced manner. For an ordinary house you'd not be able to enforce much more than a hug or a handshake, maybe a kiss on the cheek. Your secret magical underground mountain base in Antarctica would be better, but not as much as a Singularity.

Items

Master

100 cp - Serviket Collection

This item actually comes in two parts. The first is more paper, ink, and oranges than you will ever be able to use and/or eat, respectively. Like seriously, you could feed a dozen people with this number of oranges, and that's just the stuff that got shoved into your room - the warehouse has even more. As for the paper and ink, you're never running out. Never. The other half of this item is actually a collection of Manga. Most of them are of middling quality, and one or two of them might even have been made by you. They all feature the various servants of Chaldea, but in very unusual settings. A secret underground fight tournament, reincarnated as the villain in an otome game, an ancient monster and his young bride, and dozens more. They might not be objectively very good, but they're all a fun read.

200 cp - Hole In The Wall

No, no, no, no. You're too young to be drinking! ...Oh, you're the bartender, not the customer. I'm pretty sure that's also illegal, but at least you aren't in danger of turning into an alcoholic. Anyways, this small and cozy bar has a tendency to simply pop up in places whenever you need it. It has a small apartment with basic supplies, something amazing when you're on the march in a time period that hasn't invented indoor plumbing yet, but it's real value is the bar itself. Even if you aren't drinking, the bar has a relaxing atmosphere that lends itself to helping you and yours unwind and rebuild your mental fortitude. While it's more of a side effect, people who are relaxed and content with their drink are often easy to talk to, allowing you to broach 'hard' topics with less difficulty.

400 cp - 999,999,998 QP

You bloody madman, how long did you spend inside the Chaldea Gate to get this much QP? No wonder all the female servants are seeking out other partners, they must think that you're boring as hell and have no interest in them. Well, at least Scathach and Ishtar can't pull their Hookup Whores Club plan if you have this - what do you mean what is it? It's QP, Quantum Particles. It's some sort of solid energy, and the Servants tend to use it as a form of currency. Sadly even this much QP doesn't pack as much of a punch as even a single piece of Saint Quartz, so you can't even summon with it. On the other hand, for some reason shoving it inside your Servant's soul seems to make them slightly more efficient and letting their skills and Noble Phantasms get more bang for their buck. If you ever manage to actually run out, this will automatically refill itself once per jump.

600 cp - Golden Cup

You know, you have to wonder. Solomon throws these things out like candy, and they have the power to support a half dozen servants and to literally throw history off course. And what does Chaldea do with them once they've been gathered? I'm not quite sure, but I know what Scathach does with them. See, this grail has the ability to alter Servants inside a fairly wide range and remodel them slightly, based on your wish. Not an actual wish, just something small. For example, something like making all the Servants in range perpetually horny, incarnate them so that they can be impregnated like the sows they are, or straight up rewire one to be your loving and loyal slave. Sadly it can only power three such 'wishes' at a time. Still, if you can change the rules on this scale then there is quite a bit of fun to be had.

Minion

100 cp - Social Media

What's even more satisfying than fucking some haughty bitch until she's a total whore? Why, photographic evidence of course. A highlight reel for you to jerk off to later, preferably while she gives you a rim job. That's why you now have a cell phone with infinite storage space for photos and videos, alongside an account on every social media site you could think of to post said pictures on. I'm not sure how you aren't getting banned for it, but don't worry about that - people won't complain, they'll just enjoy the view. As a small bonus, you can choose to hide these images from specific people - like a former significant other - or to have them find out about them immediately.

200 cp - Inhibition Inhibitors

The thing about being a member of organized crime, no matter how low ranking you are, is that you have access to a great deal of hard to find items. Like the kind of drugs that would send a normal woman into a lustful frenzy, or someone intent on turning you down as high as a kite and twice as slutty. There's also slightly classier things, like tainted alcohol, but the real prize here is a very special drug known as ACS3. It's a variant on some truth serum designed to force the imbiber to follow orders - it's not quite as good as ordering them around with a command seal, but it can still drive them even crazier than normal if you use it properly.

400 cp - Casino Penthouse

You know what you need? Minions of your own. Can't be a boss mook without minions. That's why you've now got an establishment of some kind. You've gotten your hands on a house of debt, a gambling facility. Maybe even one of the casinos from Vegas, though that seems a tad bit unlikely. Either way it comes with a few dozen men as 'security' and twice that many as 'unskilled labour'. The bartenders and dealers, perhaps? And of course, it comes with a very nice penthouse or back room with excellent soundproofing so that you can do whatever you want to whoever you want, like making the bitchy former owner into your plaything.

600 cp - Goblin Swarm

Goblins. The weakest of the weak, trash mobs that stop being relevant hours into your adventure, and something that usually lacks the power to be a major threat. You've somehow managed to bind just short of a hundred of these creatures to you, alongside a few similar creatures such as orcs and ogres. As you might imagine, they have a functionally limitless amount of stamina, dicks that their body ought to be unable to support, and a gleeful desire to rape women. Sadly, while actually controlling these creatures is not that easy a task, you usually don't need to do more than point them at your target and wait for these rape machines to get down and dirty. This also comes with an underground coliseum with which you can toss unlucky women and Servants to gladiatorial games with their purity as the prize. While only the more powerful monsters here are much of a match for your average Servant, the weaker ones are excellent at swarm tactics.

Innocent

100 cp - Suntan Lotion

While it might just be bad flirting on the part of the locals, you do actually have suntan lotion. You also have a collection of swimwear, goggles, snorkels, scuba gear, folding chairs, plastic shovels and buckets, and basically everything you would ever need while on vacation. Of course, this extends a bit past just what you would need to spend a day on the beach, hence the inclusion of scuba gear. And a boat. And a small apartment. Honestly this is less like the stuff you would need to go on vacation and more like things you would need to move into said vacation.

200 cp - Command Tattoo

Womb tattoos can be hot, but there's a fine line between stylish and trashy. Luckily for you, these fall into the first category for the most part. As for what they are? Well, they're sort of like a command seal, but a bit weaker and a lot more open ended. Instead of binding you to someone, these allow anyone to use them - and in theory, to use you. That said, with how much weaker they are even someone with E rank magic resistance could mostly nullify them. They can't really be used to force you to do things. Instead, they shine brightest when you agree to the command, and also when that command is sexual in nature. Something like 'Cum a dozen times', or 'Get pregnant!' would be the sorts of commands I expect you to use these with. As per tradition, there are three of these and they refill at a rate of once per day.

400 cp - Spare Saint Graph

Every Servant has a core, a physical representation of their class, skills, phantasms, and the time they have spent on Earth with their master. During the summer, certain Servants of divine origin took to modifying theirs, and in the end created a copy of themselves to be summoned later. As a result, you've been summoned whilst already being here. This comes with a few benefits, such as being able to double or half the pleasure you feel, your chance of pregnancy, and if you feel like delving into game mechanics, gives you two class advantages and disadvantages. You can also use it as an extra life, but that requires you to hide it away somewhere and not use the other benefits.

600 cp - Slutty Swordmaster Competition

Yes, yes, I know. I've spent most of my time encouraging you NOT to fall to Scathach's machinations, and here I am offering you a competition revolving entirely around you being the biggest slut possible. Well, you can have that version with it's army of faceless men eager to fuck you if you want, but I had intended to make some modifications. Instead of a competition about being slutty, this 'item' takes the form of six encounters with individuals who will teach you a life lesson, a new technique, offer advice on a tricky situation, challenge you to a spar, or otherwise provide some level of help to you in your time of need. And sure, you could ask them to teach you how to be the best whore possible, but you could also ask them to for help in gaining the courage needed to confess your love to senpai.

Journeyman

100 cp - Idle Distractions

While the heroes of old are granted some knowledge of the modern era by the grail, this knowledge isn't without its limits. To help patch those gaps in your knowledge, you have been given a pack of games with which to entertain yourself. Packs of cards and the rules to various gambling games, boards and dice for more family-friendly activities, and even video game systems to truly embrace modernity. However you'll find that these games have a secondary effect in your hands. When someone is invited to play with you, it acts as the perfect opportunity to push your boundaries with them. At first you'll simply play, and then perhaps you'll play while sitting in her lap, and then eventually you might play a round of Smash Brothers while also smashing her from behind. The more that you drag your partners into your games, the greater the liberties you can take and the more you can play games with their mind while doing so.

200 cp - Potion of Youth

While it's possible for servants to be summoned in multiple classes at different times in their life (usually younger, a 'Lily' servant), it's also possible to make a new servant by drastically changing an existing one. This potion of youth, likely taken from Gilgamesh's treasury, is one such method, though it can't alter the drinker's class the way Scathach's runes can. Upon imbibing this potion the user transforms into a much younger version of themselves, from a teenager to a very young child. In this younger state, equipment that was destroyed long ago can be utilized once more, as if the drinker turned back time for themselves. Skills which have been abandoned or lost can also be used again, such as how Alexander's Rosy Cheeked Adonis is degraded by his use of Zeus's Thunder. Though not terribly useful for yourself, perhaps you'd be interested in using it on someone else?

400 cp - Zeus's Thunder

To have gained such power as this you must be a child of the king of the gods! The power and fury of the mighty Zeus has come to rest in your body, granting you the power to hurl thunderbolts like javelins and empower your body with lightning. A useful trick for battle but also for the bedchambers, where you can use this electric charge to drive your lovers wild, setting their senses alight with pleasure or rocking their world with a cock charged with lightning. You can even empower your entire body at once and 'hulk out' into a powered-up state (and cancelling the effects of The Beauty of Youth if you have that perk), though it becomes impossible to hide your presence or how much of a threat you are while so empowered. You will need to provide your own magical power in order to fully harness your authority over lightning, but as the power you have grows the effects you can create will grow with them.

600 cp - King's Domain

Your quarters here at Chaldea are far more opulent than those of the other servants, much more a royal bedroom fit for a king than what even the Master enjoys. Between the bed large enough to host an orgy, the luxurious bathroom, and every extravagant luxury in between, this royal apartment could even meet Gilgamesh's standards. But far more important than the fittings, this room is your domain, a place where your word is law and visitors must abide by your decree. To others this simply seems like common sense; why wouldn't they strip naked and present themselves for inspection, or offer their holes to anyone who asks them for sexual favors, unless they are your enemies? Moreover you're able to spread your domain far beyond this room via sexual conquest. Gilgamesh once fucked every bride and cucked every husband in Uruk, and if you did the same you could spread your dominance across a whole city or even further.

Expert

100 cp - Alternate Costumes

You know the drill here, you can't exactly go to the beach wearing your work clothes now can you? ...well you could, but you shouldn't. This item comes in the form of a few dozen outfits that may seem familiar to you, the famous dangerous beast, trick or treatment, royal icing, so on and so forth. Of course, that would just be boring, so these outfits also come with a few minor benefits. This outfit makes people want to breed you, that one makes them want a blowjob, maybe royal icing makes them want you coated in their 'icing'. There's also your summer outfits in here, though those all share the same effect of making them want you more in general.

200 cp - BB News

This might explain how the minions were able to post such... revealing photographs to social media without getting banned - you made your own for them to post on. The basis of this item is a small website filled to the brim with videos about Chaldea, what a Heroic Spirit is, and other useful knowledge, but skip over to the comments section and it's nothing but perverse nonsense about how much this guy wants to fuck 'King' Arthur, or how that guy impregnated Jeanne D'Arc seven times. It also contains profiles on each of the girls and how best to seduce them and what their favorite positions are. Well, not that the fallen ones really need seducing any more, they tend to be a tad bit too accepting of affection. Still, if you wanted to bring someone up to speed on the who and what of Chaldea, look no further.

400 cp - Magic Barrier

Amazing smooth talking skills aside, sometimes that just isn't enough. Well, not usually, but maybe your new friends are trying to induct someone into your club without you present to smooth things over. That's where this magical barrier comes in! It's specifically designed to screw over Servants and help you screw Servants. By default it manifests as a very minor effect that lowers the strength and magical powers of Servants and other magical creatures inside of it. The effect is directly proportional to the amount of sex going on inside of it, so when you're just starting to flirt and they want nothing to do with it this won't do much, but when they walk in on everybody going at it then no matter how much they don't want to join, well, they'll end up joining anyways unless you decide not to drag them in. Oh, and it also has the effect of granting a small portion of the restricted strength to any normal humans inside the barrier. That's a double dose of them getting fucked over, once by the barrier and once by the men who flirted with them.

600 cp - Club BB / Chaldea Hookup Whores

Technically speaking this is two items, of which you only get one, but the two are very similar so I'll let you pick between them. The first is Club BB, based around the concept of a nightclub and run by BB. The second is the Chaldea Hookup Whores Club, based in a hotel that's actually a whorehouse and run by Ishtar and Sheba. Club BB comes with the effect of drastically lowering the inhibitions and raising the stamina of anyone who steps inside of it, as well as a minor time distortion effect so that you can do the horizontal tango for days before the night ends. Mind you, that comes at the cost of it basically being a free for all orgy. Picking a girl and sticking with her will be a real challenge. Ishtar and Sheba's establishment on the other hand, offers you a list to pick from and 'arranges' for the girl to meet up with you in short order. You'll have her all to yourself all night long, but not every girl is available all the time and this is quite expensive due to the owners money grubbing ways.

General

50 cp - Collection of Mysterious Masks

Most people would think these are basically useless, but there do exist people who want to enjoy things without the potential reputation hit of being known as a slut. You'd think that wearing a mask and letting them run a truck on your body wouldn't work, but for some reason it does. When you wear this mask while having sex, whoever you're sleeping with isn't able to identify you as, well, you. Yes, even if they spent all day learning every curve of your chest and ass, and the taste of your body. As a very small bonus, the masks also have the effect of misleading them into thinking that you're somebody else. After all, that mask right there is the mask Gorgon normally wears... So you're probably a version of Medusa, right?

100 cp - Caval II

Oh dear, it seems that Fou has some competition. This small fluffy dog seems to have taken to following you around, and won't go away no matter how much you tell it that you're not it's master. Still, for a dog you don't own it seems remarkably well trained. Perhaps the dog is simply an excellent judge of character, and deems you worthy of it's loyalty? ...That's actually somewhat true, given the dog's high supernatural ability to detect the evilness of others and it's partial resistance to mind magics and illusions. Oh, and it can also detect lewdness in the hearts of others. You could literally order it to track down bitches for you and it would probably lead you straight to Scathach and whoever her latest target was.

Companions

50 cp / 300 cp - Companion Import

There's strength in numbers, and no one man will be able to solve every problem in the world, let alone the problems of this world. Also, you can't throw a proper gangbang by yourself. To help with that, for every 50 cp you spend here you can bring one companion into the world with you, and for 300 cp you can bring up to eight of them. Each of them gets 500 cp and an origin with which to buy perks and items.

50 cp / 200 cp - Companion Export

Or hey, maybe you don't want to share and believe that not only do you not need help but that you can handle multiple women here. Tad bit unlikely, but by all means. For the low low price of 50 cp you can companion one character seen in the Chaldea Bitch doujins. However, they're going to get nerfed a tad bit. The looks and personality - the things you care about - are still present, but the vast majority of their power and combat capacity will be mysteriously missing. On the other hand, if you wanted to pay 200 cp for them instead of 50 cp, that wouldn't be true.

100 cp - Club President

I'm not entirely sure how you did it, but you've somehow managed to gain Scathach herself as something more than just a fuck buddy. She's at her full power, but it still sadly obsessed with sex and the corruption of others. I would be at least mildly wary of trying to companion her without being able to completely fuck her into oblivion rather than the other way around, but if you are willing to take that risk (or for some reason want her in full lewdness mode) then I shall allow you to take her as a companion. If you do manage to satisfy her she would be a valuable asset to your team, but good luck doing that as she's currently a bigger thot than Medb.

Drawbacks

+100 cp - Lifesaver In Need Of Saving

Congratulations, jumper, you've picked up some form of mental pollution, mental corruption, mad enhancement, or other mind affecting skill that now makes you easy to manipulate. Maybe your version of mad enhancement makes you always view things in a sexual light, or your oblivion continuum makes you constantly horny. Or maybe you have a skill that dulls your sense of pleasure and therefore makes you want to do even more stuff in order to feel it in full? I'll give you a lot of free reign here because there's a lot of options, but do try not to just straight out make something up

+100 cp - Needle and Ink Upon Your Soul

You must have gotten dragged into Scathach's schemes at one point, because you've somehow ended up with a magical tattoo of some kind. It could be a womb tattoo, it could be a tramp stamp, it could be some massive landscape across your back. What matters is that this tattoo changes itself to keep track of how many people you've slept with, how many times you've used each position, or how many times you've impregnated someone/been impregnated yourself. Worse, these updates have an effect on you, ramping up women's lusts the more they do and killing off men's ability to get hard. In short, the more you whore it up, the harder it becomes to stop or the harder it becomes to get it up. Depends on your gender.

+100 cp - The Absence And Excess Of Currency

Now, I don't want to definitively say how things are here, but you seem to have a rather poor track record with money. Maybe you make poor decisions and lose it quickly, maybe you're obsessed with get-rich-quick schemes. It could be that your magic style is very material heavy, and thus expensive. It could possibly even be some combination thereof. Regardless, you'll be spending much of the jump very strapped for cash. If you somehow manage to get yourself into a scenario where actual money has no meaning to you, then this will start to affect other forms of 'currency', potentially including your ability to generate mana.

+100 cp - From Africa

So you know those American's who are on vacation on Luluhawa? Turns out most of them are actually African-American, which is why they're apparently even better than normal Americans. Whether you're a normal (read as, inadequate) Japanese citizen or a prime specimen of American culture, it turns out that when it comes to being a lover you're always second best to some other foreigner. Mostly black people, but foreigners in general. This makes it easy for your lovers to cheat on you for someone bigger, stronger, better, as well as a tendency for them to stop being your lovers. Not that they'll completely abandon you, or even stop sleeping with you. They'll just take any excuse to do it with anyone suitably exotic for their new tastes.

+100 cp - Mother, Maiden, Crone

The three faced goddess is something that appears time and time again in more myths than I can count. And while one assumes that you are a 'mother' in this scenario, that is no longer true. Instead, please pick between the maiden and the crone. As a maiden, your age in the jump is dropped dramatically, leaving you a child of perhaps nine or ten years of age. Your powers, whatever they may be, are also reduced, becoming lesser as though all your years of experience and effort to master them simply weren't. Spells backfire, your muscles are weaker, your superb sword skills become that of a fumbling beginner. On the other hand, as a crone, your powers are mostly unaffected. Your age ramps up, leaving your body an aching mess of scars and wrinkled flesh. You are no less powerful, but the usage of your various abilities tires you immensely and the spells and abilities you command are slowed down as well, taking longer to bring to bear.

+200 cp - The Goddess With A Mortals Face

Depending on the specifics of your time in similar worlds in the past, it might even be your face. But truth be told, that doesn't particularly matter. Instead, all you need to concern yourself with is that there is a second version of yourself present in this jump. A Demiservant or Pseudoservant, perhaps. Whatever you are, they're the opposite. If you are an Expert, they are Innocent. If you are a Master, they are a Minion. And worse, they seem to be better than you somehow. They'll be interfering in all of your plans - their innocence dragging an Experts victims back to sanity and out of the lewdness, or stealing all of your servants for themselves if you were a Master. Beyond the troubles they'll be bringing, you also have to best them somehow - corrupt their innocence, tame their experience, so on and so forth.

+200 cp - An Obsession Born From Loss

Look, I'll be blunt. You're a sore loser. So sore in fact, that any competition of any kind you enter and lose will cause you to completely dedicate yourself towards winning a rematch. Not just any win either, it has to be a complete and total victory, the kind of loss that makes them quite the game forever. For the most part, this will translate to combat and a desire to be the strongest. However, should you ever get laid and be 'defeated' by your partner, then you'd become focused on tormenting them to reclaim your high and mighty attitude. If you were raped? You wouldn't stop until you were an even greater whore than Kiara and Kama.

+200 cp - The Crushed Return For Vengeance

One might consider this similar to the above, though it's rather backwards. When you win, when you defeat someone, when you crush them utterly, they become empowered against you. Nothing major, maybe an extra 'point' or two of damage on their attacks. But what really matters is that it applies to groups. Defeat ten werewolves or something and all ten will be empowered against you ten times. Spend a month beating up Yakuza or Mafia thugs, and they might become able to crush you just as utterly as you crushed them. This effect is even stronger if they're trying to rape you instead of just some nebulous victory.

+300 cp - Vice President Of The Sex Club

Well, congratulations. You are now Scathach's vice president to her Hookup club. As you might imagine, this leaves you utterly obsessed with sex - or more accurately, your major obsession is to spread your comparatively minor obsession with sex to other people. As many other people as you can manage. To be perfectly honest, this isn't exactly a complicated drawback. If anything it's almost elegantly simple. And that's about the only elegant thing about it, because you're going to end up devoting your every waking hour to increasing the amount of lewdness in the world.

+300 cp - Quarantined Territory of Malice

Well, congratulations my friend, it seems you've been promoted. Or transfered. Or hired. Or whatever else would make sense for you to have become Chaldea's one and only hope of saving history from the brink of annihilation, fixing the Singularities, and maybe just maybe doing their actual job of guiding humanity into a better and brighter future. In the meantime, you are now responsible for fixing the eight Singularities, the Temple of Time, and the four Pseudo-Singularities. Don't ask me where Ritsuka - or Mashu if you're an Innocent or Expert - got off to, I don't know. And in the meantime, enjoy the benefits that come with your position... Just not too much, or you'll probably be too distracted to save humanity.

The End

Go Home
Move On
Stay Here

Q - What Happens if I Take Needle and Ink, Obsession, and Vice President all at once?

A - I dunno, Medb, Kiara, Kama, and Scathach call you senpai and ask you to train them in thottery?

Q - What exactly does 'From America' do?

A - +1/10 hotness, bigger dick/breasts/ass, more stamina, other minor stuff that applies to all of America.

Q - Is 'From America' locked to America, or can I change it?

A - You can change it, but you can't set it to the jumps main setting - it has to be foreign.
