The Story Thus Far

You may know of a story known as Bleach. You may know of a town called Karakura. It's a surprisingly lively place, for all that this one town is more haunted than the rest of japan. Souls that stayed on earth for too long and mutated, known as hollows. Those who help souls pass on and slay them if need be, known as shinigami.

If you don't know the story behind the name, then let me set the stage for you. A young man is attacked by a Hollow, and is given powers by a Shinigami when they are wounded. They work together for a time, him doing her job as she recovers. Eventually, her bosses notice her absence, and attempt to have her executed for giving power and knowledge of the afterlife to a human.

This story diverges not too much farther down the line. With the help of a shady scientist, the human and his allies break into the afterlife in a daring rescue mission. In that world, a renegade Shinigami would guide him past the defenses and to more allies. In this world, she decides that he can't focus properly if he's distracted by her boobs, and sleeps with him.

This is apparently so effective that the main plot is never mentioned again, presumably on account of a 'focused' Ichigo utterly annihilating it. Regardless, after that incident this story mostly focuses on the renegade - Yoruichi - and one of the still loyal Shinigami - Rangiku - as they have sexy shenanigans galore. I guess Yoruichi accidentally taught the afterlife that sex is a powerful tool for good? Well, anyways I'm sure it will help you out if nothing else.

With that in mind, take these, and have a nice ten years here in the world of Bleach.

Origin

Strictly speaking, the themes of this work leave the origins as genders, but you still need to pick one of these. For a 50 cp surcharge, you can be male with the Female origin or vice versa.

Female

If you need an explanation as to what a female is, you need serious psychiatric help. Or possibly a dictionary. Either way, you are a woman and likely a beautiful one. The 'plot', such as it is, will likely try to drag you into it, but that isn't mandatory.

Male

A woman, minus boobs and plus a dick. Well, there are other differences but those are likely the important ones. You are now a guy, and presumably at least somewhat good looking. There is at least part of a case of faceless male syndrome, but bar one hairbrained plan there aren't any fat old men.

Age

The age of a Shinigami is usually somewhere between 10 to 20 times that which they look like. That said, your 'visual' age is now anywhere between fifteen and thirty. Or for a 50 cp surcharge, anything above ten and below one hundred.

Discount Rules

The 100 cp perks and items are free to the matching origin, and the remainder are half off as appropriate.

Stress & Relief
(and discounts)

Each perk and item in the jump exists in two variations - a version that will aid you in getting laid as per the purpose of the jump, the Relief variation, and one that will see you grow in power per a more normal version of the world, the Stress variation. Purchasing both versions of the perk or item in question costs half again the cost - thus, the first half of a discounted capstone perk or item will cost 300 cp, with the second half costing 150 cp, for a total of 450 cp. For a non-discounted capstone perk or item, it would be 600 cp for the first half and 300 cp for the second half, costing a total of 900 cp. The second instance of a discounted 100 cp or a 50 cp purchase is free, while the second half of an undiscounted 100 cp option would be 50 cp

Perks

Female

100 cp - Beautiful Breasts // Beautiful Brawn

It takes an incredibly brave woman to walk out in public with nothing but a string bikini, but you've got a body that deserves to be flaunted. Perhaps you've got some amazing breasts hanging off of your chest, or a truly fantastic rear end. If you so desire, it could be a little bit of everything, or even your hair that was the defining feature that makes you stand out from the crowd. Even outside your most notable trait, you're not a slouch in any other department either - make no mistake, you're beautiful. It just so happens that one aspect of you is absurdly beautiful.

//

While looking good is always nice, there are other things in life and death that you should be focusing on - interpersonal issues aside, being a Shinigami is a combat position. You'd think that just being plain old strong would help you out in becoming one, but apparently the Gotei 13 only want the best of the best. Luckily, you've at least one foot in that door because your body is a work of art. Flexing muscles, balanced proportions, perhaps a thin and lithe runner's build - it's clear just from looking at you that your body is perfectly built to become strong. Of course, you'll need to train to realize that potential, but even with just this you'd probably make for one hell of an athlete in the living world.

100 cp - After Hours // Office Hours

When the cat's away, the mice do play - and when you've clocked out for the day and are ready to relax, you know how to throw one hell of a party. Whether you're dragging your friends out on a shopping trip, to a bar, or back to your place, you're amazing at sweet talking them into joining you. Hell, you're good enough you could grab them halfway through the day and not just when working hours are over or school's out. While you can convince them to go without you if you need to, this works significantly better if you're dragging them along in your wake rather than pushing from behind.

//

Skiving off your duties to recharge your batteries is all well and good, but it's also liable to get you in trouble. Wouldn't it be better if you left early because you were done for the day? Luckily for you, when it comes to paperwork, schoolwork, or whatever job you have, spinning things around to be more efficient is a trivial task for you. Maybe some light music helps you focus, or trading assignments with someone else means you don't have to do something you hate and both of them get done sooner. Heck, it could be that a light buzz helps you think just a bit faster - though, in all honesty, even if that were true, I'd avoid letting anyone catch you doing that.

200 cp - New Best Friends // More Than Friends

When you've got that itch that needs scratching, Rangiku would probably tell you to head to the nearest bar and let someone order you a drink. That's what she does more often than not, after all. Like her, when you're in the mood for a partner for tonight only, you put out a faint aura of "please fuck me" that draws in all sorts of guys like flies to honey. At the same time, when morning comes, if you never want to see them again then that same aura will cause you to sort of slip past each other when you would otherwise cross paths again.

//

Never seeing him again is one thing when you were so drunk you can't even remember his name, but it's entirely another when you've been crushing on him for years now. Instead of setting up a one night stand, you're now oddly good at long term partnerships. Whether you somehow turn yourself into the perfect assistant for him, the ideal sparring partner, or train your body until it's everything he's ever wanted, the longer you stick with a given relationship the more compatible you become. You aren't limited to one at a time either - you could be the perfect secretary for your boss and utterly beautiful to your lover, though the one you care about more will take precedence and grow quicker.

200 cp - Singular Technique // Singular Style
Everybody has a favorite position when it comes to fooling around in the bedroom. Some women are sensitive enough that playing with their breasts can make them come, while a real masochist might get off on choking herself on a dick. As for you? Well, there's no telling what you like, but after more than a few rounds of going at it with pushy drunks you've started to develop a special technique. Maybe you've got the best blowjob this side of the afterlife, or your fingers are silky smooth and your handjobs are exquisite. Pick a body part, and amp things up a bit - your mouth would include blowjobs, but you'd also have some truly ridiculous oral dexterity. Who knows, it could come in handy - maybe that oral skill means you can cast Kido faster or something?
//
Combat is largely divided into four categories - stabbing, dodging, magic, and not dying. And, just like favorite sex positions, everyone has one of those that they find is easier to use than the others. Given that you're… probably a Shinigami, that likely means using your Zanpakuto, Shunpo, Kido, and just being good at fighting. As you might expect, you can now pick one of those things to specialize in. Picking Kido would make you a healer, while Shunpo would see you getting along fine in the 2nd Division. The last of those… Well, ever wanted to join the 11th?

400 cp - Dead Man's Wish / Dead Man's Duty
In the aftermath of Ichigo's sex powered rampage, the Gotei 13 got with the program and started coming up with more than a few of what would otherwise be harebrained schemes. One of them was using female officers as bait for Demi-Hollows. You'd be amazed at how many of those are made from angry virgins who never got laid… In any event, you'll find that sleeping with someone gives you a slight advantage over them. Healing is easier, fighting them goes smoother, and in this specific case the angry spirit can't resist exorcism half as well once its balls have been drained.
//
The new duties of a pleasure relief officer are strange and varied, but the necessity of your old ones have not faded away. If anything, they're more important now that a good number of the female officers are being used for other purposes. People haven't stopped dying in the meantime, after all. Because of that, I've got a crash course on the living world for you. You could be dropped into pretty much any city on the planet and be able to find a place to stay, a way to make money, and some cheap food by the end of the day. Not only that, but following rumors of strange sightings or other unusual things is second nature to you, allowing you to hunt down and purify Hollows with ease.

400 cp - Pleasure Officer // Seated Officer
Welcome to the Gotei 13's newest initiative, born from an attempt at replicating Ichigo's absurd and explosive jump in power after fucking Yoruichi utterly senseless. Now, I'm not going to call you a whore or a prostitute, or even a loose woman… but you have a lot of skill at sex. Like, hundreds of years of sleeping around. So much sex that there's a non-zero chance that you can warp your shikai into something lewd through sheer horniness - assuming you have your shikai, at least. As you might imagine, any man lucky enough to spend a day with you is going to end up blissed out afterwards - and for a few days afterwards, or until his stress and arousal builds back up, the quality of his work and any training he does will be noticeably higher.
//
On the flip side, just because you've been assigned to the men of your division, doesn't mean you've suddenly gotten weaker. You're a seated officer of the Gotei 13, meaning that in terms of combat prowess, you're not a mook. You know some Kido, have a decent grasp on Shunpo, and have unlocked your Shikai. And, I know I've been assuming you were one already, but now that you're definitely one, you're also a ghost, something that has its own ups and downs. Not aging or aging very slowly is one of them, but you're going to need a special body to interact with the world of the living.

600 cp - Lewd New World // Same Old You

This all started because Yoruichi was utterly irreverent in the face of Ichigo's request for privacy, something that led her to believe he needed to get laid. Which she then did. Which he then did back. Things snowballed from there, and this place doesn't really resemble canon anymore. While you can't pull that exact scenario off - that's a different perk - you can at least get the ball rolling in the general direction. Simply put, you are a walking apocalypse to the prude. Showing off your fetish and convincing people to share it is trivial at best, and with a bit of luck and maybe a blowjob, repealing a few inconvenient laws is entirely possible. Simply put, the same massive societal change we saw from the Gotei 13 is now something you can pull off with maybe a few days of hard work. Please keep in mind that the Gotei 13 is stupidly simple in comparison to the living world, so you might need a bit more effort for that.

Of course, just because Soul Society is being upended by this amazing new source of power doesn't mean that it's to everyone's tastes. Some women are just prudes or are too prideful to ever bend a knee to a man they don't like, especially to give the man their body. While Yoruichi has kicked off a sexual revolution, some people - yourself included I assume - would rather sit things out. And that's… not allowed, sorry. Well, mostly. During your time here if you're simply not into those sorts of things you'll find yourself shunted into other directions after being given a slap on the wrist. Maybe you'll end up forced to help test out a tentacle plant that's nominally for the ladies' relaxation, but once that is over with the men will more or less leave you alone. Regardless, even if a particular rule or law is supposed to be mandatory, you'll find a way to wiggle out of it if you really really don't want to participate.

Male

100 cp - Beauty on the Beach // Beauty in the Barracks

While it's nice to know that the men upstairs have started looking out for the little guy and their constant torment of being surrounded by beauties they can't hope to touch, there's also something to be said for earning their attention instead of being given it. Still, because of that torment you've probably spent more than a few evenings in a bar somewhere trying to get lucky with more ordinary women. Whether you succeeded or failed, you're now something of a womanizer, able to intuitively figure out the kind of guy she'd prefer to fuck with only a few sentences exchanged - and enough of a flirt to actually get her to open up long enough for this to kick in.

//

While most men would probably prefer that the women they get lucky with actually remember them in the morning, there's something to be said for being forgettable. Amongst other things, it means that if you screw up your introduction and she blows you off, then you can come back the next day and make a brand new first impression. Or maybe during one of those hand out events you were a bit too rough on her ass, and she promised to take it out on yours during training? In any event, you now have a limited ability to be completely and utterly forgettable - and ironically enough, the more boastful you are the more this kicks in.

100 cp - Size Equals Eagerness // Size Equals Impotence

If you're lucky enough to be born blessed with a large throbbing cock, it can be hard to hide the damn thing when it decides to salute one of the drop dead sexy officers who probably outranks you. Or, if you're lucky enough to be one of the ones chosen to spend the day with her, you probably don't want to hide your eagerness. More important that just being large however, is being eager - the longer you fuck a specific woman, the more your cock will start to mould itself to her liking. If she's a size queen, you'll find that every cumshot and creampie makes you swell up to new heights. If that's not her thing, maybe you'll end up a bit longer or curvier to hit all the right places until you change dance partners.

//

For a Shinigami an exceptionally large sword isn't anything to be proud of, it's just a sign of poor control over their energy. Luckily for you, you've got something pretty fundamental to getting anywhere in life - er, the afterlife - be you a Hollow, a Shinigami, or even a Quincy. Good control over your Reiatsu. More specifically, you've got a knack for making small changes to things in order to have more precise control. Perhaps you want your Shunpo to move you exactly thirteen paces, or for your sword to be precisely four and a half spans long, when they're at twelve and five respectively. Luckily for you, making such a minor modification is trivial… assuming you're capable of doing it at all in the first place.

200 cp - Stress Relief // Stress Inducers

When I was introducing you to the world at large and the specific inconsistencies with the normal version, I believe I mentioned Yoruichi's crazy plan and how it actually seems to have worked. Whether you're lucky enough to have gone to town on her sweet tits, you also benefit from something similar - after getting laid and having a few orgasms, you'll find the issues you face in daily life to be somewhat streamlined for the next day or so. A specific sword stance just feels wrong, allowing you to do it correctly in minutes and not hours, and paperwork fellows more easily. Sadly 'excess' sex doesn't make this last longer, though there's nothing stopping you from going back for more later.

//

No matter how much getting laid might help you out, only a fool relies on a temporary boost to see them through each and every day. Instead, it's better to simply be diligent and persevere. Through a similar technique that you might use to speak to your zanpakuto spirit, you can suppress any lusts that would distract you and simply settle down and buckle in for the grind. This isn't nearly as effective as the above, but you don't need a partner for it and the meditative nature of the technique is actually something that a Shinigami who hopes to achieve Shikai will find invaluable sooner or later.

200 cp - Whore's Teachings // Academy's Teachings
While it may be a little rude of me to say, a lot of the students who are fresh out of the academy and ready to join the Gotei 13 have no idea what to do with a woman who's half the woman Rangiku is. Luckily for you, in the case of women like her, the more you show off your relative inexperience, the more a mature woman will want to devour your virgin self. For most of the girls on relief duty, that means you'll probably end up fucking them outside of said duty, especially if you let them train you to please them back. Of course, this isn't limited to just them - there's a good chance you could wander into the 4th division and end up getting lessons on from an only slightly amorous Unohana.
//
Special lessons from a beautiful woman are great and all, but the foundation of your relationship being the fact that you're less than competent in a given area is a bit of a blow to the ego. Instead, wouldn't it be better to base your relationship on the fact that you're an up and coming talent in their favorite area? Go ahead and pick one of the four basic areas of combat to have a level of talent with - Zanjutsu, Shunpo, Kido, or Hakuda. While you aren't currently an expert in their use, you'll find that you learn them far faster than normal, and that you get along with those who also specialize in that field or who hold a special interest in it.

400 cp - Lucky Lottery // Unlucky Landing
While it can reasonably be assumed that any female shinigami of note is currently being dragged into the sexual relief initiative, it's a bit random as to which of the men are being given that relief. Well, I take that back - some of the male captains have assigned themselves specific girls, but for the rank and file, who gets to go first is entirely up to luck. Thankfully when it comes to your bosses deciding who to be nice to by pulling names out of a hat, you're the kind of guy whose name might accidentally end up in the drawings three times. In other words, if anyone is going to get singled out for special privileges, it's probably going to be you
But, let this be a lesson for you - one should never rely on luck and luck alone when it comes to finding good things in life. See, instead of being chosen for what amounts to a vacation, you've instead been assigned to the real work, something that will happen more often than not. The good news is that your assignment is perfect - for any purpose other than getting laid, at least. While it may or may not be a challenge beyond your level, you'll find that it's intensely educational. If you were hoping to brush up on your swordsmanship, you might just find yourself assigned to a city with a dozen dojos teaching just that all in close proximity to one another. If you wanted to learn healing Kido, the hollows you fight might leave numerous irritating but otherwise inconsequential wounds on you, perfect for practicing.

400 cp - Hollow Heart // Hollow Hole
Earth bound spirits… Strictly speaking, they're vastly weaker than a Shinigami, so I apologize for misleading you into thinking you were one. Instead, you're just a spirit of some kind, likely one who refused to move on because you never got to fuck whatever woman you were lusting over in life. On the plus side, you're invisible and selectively intangible. As you might imagine, this is a perfect set of powers to go on a rampage and rape whoever catches your eyes. While not a permanent state of affairs, you'll find that you have a remarkably easy time turning a given power or ability towards perverse ends. Hell, if you do manage to turn into a hollow proper, you'd probably have tentacles.
//
Screw being weak, let's skip forwards a stage or two. Your chain of fate has entirely eroded, leaving you a hollow. The lowest of actual hollows, but a hollow nonetheless. This offers you the relatively unique ability to consume souls for power, though I'll understand if that's something you find mildly perturbing. In addition to that, you have a much stronger sense of self, to help you resist the urge to do just that, alongside a theme that ties into how you died. If you drowned to death, you might find water powers or fishy mutations coming naturally to you, or maybe a nice strong Hierro if a car did you in.

600 cp - Flipping The Script // Flipping Your Positions

And now we reach the crown jewel of ridiculousness for this place. You can now replicate Ichigo's feat of somehow getting a massive shonen powerup from getting laid. The more sex you have, the better your relationship, and the kinkier it is, the larger the boost you'll find yourself receiving. Even a short session will see your power increasing by a percentage of your partners, but a day-long marathon fuckfest where you run her to exhaustion might give you everything she has several times over. Sadly, this is only a temporary boost lasting a week at most, but that's still plenty of time to run rampant over those who would stand in your way. And before you ask, no - you're not draining any power from your partner, so I have no idea how this works.

//

Gaining power is well and good, but… I'm sorry, I feel like I've done this weird contradicting myself thing before. Well, let's move on - you're strong. Very strong. If you're a Shinigami I wouldn't be surprised to find out that you already have your Bankai unlocked, and if you were a Hollow I'd have no doubt you were a Vasto Lorde or a very tricky Adjuchas. If you're neither of those things, then you're almost certainly a Fullbringer of significant might. You may or may not qualify for the rank of Captain depending on your choices, but to be honest there are a lot of characters who prefer to hide their power levels until explicitly necessary - something else you're now highly competent at.

General

50 cp - Out Of Character // A Real Character

While I have no doubt that Yoruichi is having a good laugh at the changes that have come to soul society, I'd like to point out that she's a several hundred year old professional assassin… and that she's acting as a call girl. By all accounts, this ought to be beneath her, but apparently she can't be bothered to complain, or maybe even find it fun. Following on this, when you place someone in a specific role, you'll find them taking on minor traits that would aid them in fulfilling that role. A woman in the role of a whore might find her dignity to be less important, and that playing with inexperienced virgins is more fun than she gave it credit for.

//

On the flipside to that, when you place yourself into a given role, you'll find that you can pick up minor tricks or traits that will help you out in doing what you've set out to. If you're going to be spending the jump sleeping around, then you'd probably spontaneously realize that you can give a great blowjob, while trying to play the hero might up your pain tolerance a bit or give you an odd talent for monologuing about your secret techniques. You can switch between various roles if you wish, but it takes a couple of days to shift over.

300 cp - After The Epilogue // Is Another Prologue

The seventh chapter of Bricola takes place far far in the future - Ichigo (our hero back from the intro) has married a girl named Orihime, and they have a son named Kazui. However, somewhere along the line one of their old acquaintances took umbrage to a no good delinquent marrying such a hot piece of woman. So he raped her, and then blackmailed her. For some reason, this works. Like, both of them can crush mountains. They can sense souls from halfway across a city. How the hell is this guy getting away with it? Anyways, based on how stupid that concept is, your relationships are now functionally immune to such nonsense. Doesn't matter if it's brute force or something more political, breaking you up is damn near impossible. And yes, this goes in both directions so if your lover is about to wander, the two of you will end up having a chat about how to put the oomph back in your sex life.

//

Of course, just because the adventure is over doesn't mean the story has ended. Ichigo and Orihime's kid is no doubt going to have his own adventure with the friends he makes along the way. You may or may not be one of them, but in the end I have no doubt you'd fit right in. For better or for worse, you're hero material. You grow quickly, and even quicker when your friends are in danger. Old mentors who have a use for you or just don't want to watch you get yourself killed will show up to train you and help you out. And yeah, you're more than a bit attractive and could probably get your pick of the girls if and when Soul Society stops throwing them around.

Items

Female
100 cp - Shitty Sixpack // Simple Shuki
Now I know what you're thinking. What makes this booze so special? Well, nothing really. It's the same kind of shitty beer that you could find at a gas station or a corner market. Honestly it probably doesn't even taste that good. What makes it special is that instead of just getting you drunk, it also lowers the inhibitions of anyone nearby. It's a bit of an oversimplification, but you drink the beer and the person and or people sitting next to you also gets drunk. Here's to hoping they're a horny drunk and not a sad one.
//
Of course, maybe you don't think you need the alcohol to help you get laid. Or, maybe you just want something to drink that isn't shitty supermarket booze. To that end, you have a small collection of rather nice sake and a decent quality shuki - a traditional set of sake cups - to go with it. The sake is always cold or warm at your preference, and your collection has a sizable portion of it that is entirely non-alcoholic despite tasting like it ought to be if you just want the flavor and not the hangover.

200 cp - Home In The Living World // Hideaway In The Living World
Shinigami are often assigned to the living world, mostly because they have to be - if the flow of souls slows down, the world could become unbalanced. However, Soul Society doesn't often go out of their way to provide shelter or food for their officers during that time. Luckily for you, you probably bemoaned your lack of place to stay at a bar and ended up with several offers. This small home is not actually your home, but is owned by a young man or woman that you hit it off with. You don't technically have to sleep with them to stay here, they're too nice for that… but nothing says you can't corrupt them to hell and back either. Maybe give the girl some tips on how to get the guy she wants?
//
Food and shelter is nice, but there's something else that you're probably going to need access to during any time in the living world. Equipment. Stuff like a new outfit if a hollow shreds yours, maybe some supplies to take care of your sword, perhaps even hollow bait? Hell, where do you think you got the Gigai to complain at that bar in the first place? Luckily for you, there's a small shop that never seems to be too far away from wherever you end up here on earth that sells those things. Prices are a bit eh depending on what you want, but the owner will give you a lot of freebies so long as you keep fighting hollows and purifying souls. There's also a rather nice hot spring underneath.

400 cp - Assigned To Nothing // Assigned To Nowhere
Some tasks are the kind of thing everyone avoids because they just know it's going to be a pain in the ass. Other tasks are what everyone dreams of being given, because they're well known to be a walk in the park. And you, my lucky friend, have a small stack of paperwork that loosely correlates to six months of 'work' and can be used to assign yourself… basically wherever you want. You could order yourself to the frontline, as terrible an idea as that would be, or you could give yourself one of the many missions that can best be described as time wasters. In truth, they're a vacation in all but name, with maybe one or two hours of work per day on average that will need doing such as the spiritual trap the Gotei 13 has set up to catch the souls of angry virgins.
//
Choosing your own assignments is well and good, but isn't always feasible. Still, you can put in an official request of your preferred kind of assignment. Like, say, guard duty. Or frontline assault. Or special forces. Terrible idea, both of those, but some people - like, say, the eleventh - would find it fun. In any event, this particular set of paperwork is for putting that preference of yours on file. Or more accurately, for determining how close to the hero and his shenanigans you want to be. You'll either end up dragged into the plot, or shoved off to the side and mostly forgotten about.

600 cp - Blank Accusation // Blank Pardon
…And that's the story of how Aizen was never seen again! There wasn't a story there? Don't be silly, of course there was, you just weren't listening. In any event, what you have here is a fat stack of evidence and legal notices that allow you to perfectly accuse any one individual of… well, everything. Or, everything they've actually done, at the very least. There obviously won't be any evidence of things they haven't done. Still, more than enough to lock them up and throw away the key. However, that's if you dump all of it on one person. You could also spread the dirt out a bit, get all of the ugly bastards of soul society assigned far away from you or otherwise disqualify them from getting some relief from you. Choices, choices.
//
Something of note about the 'reward' for the lower ranking Shinigami is that Yoruichi is on the menu. Why is that odd? Because she's been a renegade, an outlaw, a criminal, and not taking orders from the Gotei 13 for more than 100 years. So why is she now? Well, presumably it's because she was pardoned at some point after the Aizen Incident. In much the same manner, you have a pardon, an absolution of all your crimes. Unlike her, it's got a blank space where the name and date should be, so you can save this for a rainy day or a friend in need of you want. Best of all, this particular pardon isn't so much 'I forgive you' as it is 'those things never happened'.

Male

100 cp - Modified Body // Modified Soul

In order to interact with the human world, a Shinigami needs a physical body to contain their spiritual might. These bodies are known as Gigai, and you are now the possessor of one. However, fair warning, the Gigai you own might not actually be made in the image of your own body. If you were an absolute deviant, perhaps you've 'acquired' a Gigai in the shape of a woman you've been lusting after so as to play with her body but not have to deal with actually earning her approval. Bit of a shameful thing to do, but hey, if you've got the money then the guy at the Urahara Shoten isn't going to complain.

//

If a Gigai can be considered a fake body, then a Gikongan is a fake soul. Often designed with simplistic personalities, they exist to 'take over' your Gigai in the event that you need to continue to pretend to be paying attention to mortal affairs while also going to kill a Hollow. A Mod Soul is a very high class of Gikongan designed with 'superpowers' to help ordinary people fight Hollows. The most well known of them has enhanced leg strength, allowing them to run at beyond olympic levels. Yours can probably do something similar… and if you stick it into a body other than yours, you'll notice that it has the effect of causing certain body parts to swell up. Like the dick.

200 cp - An Essay On Lust // An Essay On Learning

It's incredibly unlikely that future worlds will have plotlines like this one, and even less so that they could mutate beyond canon and into something like that happening here. Still, that's not a reason not to try! This essay - or rather, these essays - are a sound and logical argument for how sex, lust, or even skimpy clothing can supposedly help any situation you'd care to name. Whether it's something big like convincing a company to set up a retreat similar to the Gotei 13s private island where you can sleep with its hottest members, or something simpler like making the dress code a tad bit more lax, if it's possible to make an argument, it's here. That said, I make no guarantees about you even being heard out, let alone keeping your job for such a 'disgusting' proposal. That part I leave up to you.

//

It says something about the general competence of the Gotei 13 that a fifteen year old kid ended up somehow being one of the strongest fighters they had after he broke into their base to bitch at them for being idiots. Unfortunately, he only ended up as a part-timer for the most part, because he had a life to live, and school to attend. But, school is terrible, so let's not do that. What you have here are a number of smaller essays that present the topic school would be teaching you in the manner perfectly suited for you to learn from them. If you're a kinetic learner, this may or may not include a robot beating your ass while shouting historical facts at you. In any event, they're much more efficient than an actual teacher, so sleep through class as much as you want and you'll still get good grades.

400 cp - Sexual Paradise // Paradise Island
I'm genuinely not sure whether this place is in the living world, somewhere in soul society, or is in a pocket dimension that they made, but welcome to your very own private island. It's a picturesque tropical island perfect for summer vacation (or not, if you'd rather something else) that lies smack dab in the middle of the ocean and thus far away from any potential distractions. It's also, for all intents and purposes, a free use island - any woman who comes here abruptly becomes far more willing to do anything with anyone until everyone involved dropped from exhaustion. The only real downside is that much like the rest of soul society, it's two to three hundred years in the past. Hope you like mud huts?
//
Same island, but slightly different set up. It's definitely in the living world now, and as such instead of being more or less abandoned with only a few huts here and there, there's a genuine four star resort on the island. Scuba diving, suntanning, boating, spa treatments, even a damn golf course. While you are of course welcome here as a guest and are able to take full advantage of its attractions, it's also just as possible that you're supposed to be managing it for whichever noble set it up in the first place.

600 cp - 8th Most Popular Man // 8th Division of Thirteen
While it's pretty obvious that the rank and file of soul society are absolutely loving the new changes, that's just them - the rank and file. What about the more important men, like the lieutenants and captains? Well, did you know that the captain of the 8th Division is a bit of a pervert who only accepts pretty women into his division? While you probably don't have that many women, what you do have is command over a decent chunk of them. They can be anything you want - low ranking healers, clerical staff, janitors, the chefs and bartenders from all the nearby restaurants - what matters is, because you matter, they've all been assigned to you and only you to specifically slate your lusts.
//
And here's a more practical thing - you are in fact a high ranking member of some division. Now, while you've probably been promoted a bit more than you actually deserve, that gap between what you can actually do and what is expected of you has left your subordinates very used to you shoving things off onto them. Honestly, there's only a very small portion of the work that is 'yours' that you actually do. Everything else, you'll just abuse your cute subordinates' generosity in order to get things done. And, unlike the above version of the item which explicitly calls out those girls as 'low ranking'... Well, you don't get a position in the Gotei 13 that matters by being weak.

General

50 cp - Sex On The Beach // Fun On The Beach

While the low ranking men that this story all but revolves around are enthusiastic, I can't say that they actually know what they're doing all that much. They have the energy to make up for it, but most of what they do is pretty basic shit. Hopefully you're a little bit more cultured than them, because I've prepared a selection of things for you. From more risque swimwear than just a bikini, to toys that will help you break her in half, to more subtle things that can be hidden in her person so that you can play with her all day long… Well, I hope you enjoy my gift, instruction manual not included.

//

After a long day of burying your cock as deep inside that bitches body as it will go, your balls are drained as dry as they've ever been, and the lines to get back in there are way too long, what do you do? Well, you're on a beach, so how about building a sandcastle? Luckily for you I've also prepared a more basic package of things that would be nice to have for a beach vacation. Swimsuits, a variety of lotions, skin protectors, and sprays, even a vast array of toys and other instruments of beachtime fun. And yes, you have towels. Can't go forgetting that now can we? Unfortunately this really only covers things you can carry - no canoe trips or beach houses to be found here, sadly.

100 cp - Watermelon Seeds // Watermelon Slices

Don't ask me who made this or how - or why for that matter - but let me assure you that you can have some real fun with it. See, these melon seeds were modified to grow quicker, fuller, juicier, presumably to save costs. Instead they ended up mutating into a minor tentacle monster. These seeds, once fully grown and ripe, will start to grow tentacles and will seek to molest any nearby women. Thankfully the quirks in its genetics and the infused reishi only give it a shelf life of about 24 hours once it actually gets going. On the other hand, if you pluck them off the vines early, you might be able to save them for later. A few days to weeks at most, but that's still plenty of time to have some fun with them.

//

Bitchslapping the 12th division for shenanigans aside, for your time on the beach - or anywhere else here for that matter, can I interest you in some nice refreshing watermelon to chow down on? I can slice it up for you to dig into, turn it into a smoothie, or even use it as the base of a fruit pizza if you want. You've got a functionally infinite amount of watermelon here, and I don't mind throwing in a few other ingredients to help you spice things up a bit.

Special

100 cp - Stress Relieved

Each perk in this jump comes in two variations - one useful to getting laid, and one useful for getting into fights. At this point, how many of each you have will become important. If you have more Stress perks, you'll find your time in this world to vaguely resemble the shonen anime that this world is supposed to be, and not the perverse comedy it has become. People who want to fight you will pop up seemingly out of nowhere, and you'll find yourself growing in skill and power at an acceptable clip, though probably lacking compared to a proper protagonist. If you have more Relief perks, you'll find a level of casual sexiness seeping into the world, men and women wearing looser or tighter fitting clothing at your preference, school uniforms universally including scandalously short skirts, a number of women fully willing to sleep around in the name of 'practice' before settling down, and a few other things born from your personal preferences and expectations.

If you possess only Stress or Relief perks instead of a mix of them, this effect will intensify again. Stress and Stress alone would see you drawn into plot after plot, introducing you to new allies, new enemies, and new techniques to master in the name of growing stronger. It wouldn't surprise me at all if there was a dramatic revelation that you were a hybrid of some kind and you had to go on some kind of quest to prove yourself worthy of your new heritage or to gain full control of your new powers. Relief and Relief alone, by comparison, would see the world near you dragged into perverse shenanigans time and time again. The vast majority of the hollows you'd end up fighting would be female and easily seducible, and perhaps Soul Society would assign one of its seated officers to sleep with you as an excuse to spy on you. It would be no exaggeration to say that you'd somehow manage to suck all the seriousness out of the situation and replace it with lust, with the exact manner probably depending on what positions you enjoy the most.

Companions

50 cp / 100 cp - Rockin Hot Bods

Truly, this world has some amazing women. Don't you just want to take one or two of them with you? Well, you can for a simple 50 cp a shot, or 100 cp if they were a captain or lieutenant. However, there is a catch. See, you can only grab characters introduced prior to the end of the Rescue Rukia arc. Sorry, but we don't ever see anyone past that point. Quincy Invasion? Never heard of it, go grab whatever that is somewhere else. Well, there is one exception, but given that it's practically an epilogue and only introduces one character I'm going to ignore it.

50 / 300 cp - Division J

Or if a new friend isn't your style, how about an old one? I'm sure they'd appreciate a chance to have some fun in this world. No, you don't actually get an entire division to yourself, this is just your standard companion import. For a similar price to the above option, a simple 50 cp a shot, you can bring a companion of yours into the jump. Or for 300 cp in total, you can bring eight companions in. They get a total of 600 cp to buy perks and items, and no companions/drawbacks.

Drawbacks

+100 cp - Mixed Drinks
After Ichigo rescued the girl who gave him powers, the Gotei 13 sent a handful of people to Karakura Town. Presumably to keep an eye on him. I mean, this guy broke in, suborned at least two lieutenants and beat the crap out of a captain. And that's in canon, and without his sex-induced shonen powerup. Anyways, one of the watchers, Rangiku, 'borrowed' a room from one of his friends, grabbed some beer, and then invited some guys over. On day one. Incredible work ethic. Anyways, after all that she kinda had the beer come back up - don't mix drinks folks. In a similar vein, you can no longer stand any kind of alcohol in your system. Put it in, it's coming right back up. And, in the same line, your system won't stand for any kind of sexual fluids down your throat. Stay away from blowjobs.

+100 cp - Wrinkly Ass Dick
Ladies and gentlemen, I present to you Genryūsai Shigekuni Yamamoto, commanding officer of the entirety of the Gotei 13. Also one of the oldest dudes alive. Like, seriously, guys pushing 2000 years old. Sadly, one of the things that he lost along the way was his libido. His body just can't keep up anymore. Instead of being young and sexy, you're now old and exhausted. Now, it's not impossible for you to get it up and ready, but it's not easy and it's not going to be happening often. You're going to need one hell of a show before you can stick it in.

+100 cp - She Belongs To Me Now
I suppose one of the major problems with sleeping with a woman who's been ordered to sleep around is that if you end up wanting something a bit more special, well, she's been ordered to sleep around. Bit of an issue in starting a relationship if her job is to cheat on you. Well, that may not be exactly what's going on, but it's quite close. Any time you try to settle down with someone, events will conspire to force them to do exactly the opposite. Maybe it's those pesky orders, maybe it's a jealous and jilted ex lover who wants them back, or maybe they just like getting gangbanged. No matter which way it really is, don't expect to start a relationship here.

+200 cp - That's A Stupid Plan
The idea that started all of this off… no longer happened. Or at least, no longer worked. Ichigo didn't roflstomp the next few chapters of the plot and throw canon out the window. Lewdness no longer reigns supreme - or perhaps it would be better to say that no longer will? Regardless, you are basically stuck in canon Bleach. For reasons relating to your probable status as a mook, this is a bad thing. Hell, your probable status as a normal human being only vaguely aware of or related to the supernatural. And given that Bleach is a shonen series… Well, good luck.

+200 cp - Won't Need These
Power? No, surely you didn't come here for that. Lewds! Now that's what's important right now! So with that in mind, you don't need all those powers from other jumps, right? No, not even the ones from the actual Bleach jump, or the german one. All gone. No magic, no tech, even your companions get nerfed if you have any. All you have is bodymod. But, since there are no major threats left to the world, it's fine, right? After all, you won't need those. Not recommended to take alongside 'That's A Stupid Plan'.

+200 cp - Legitimate Authority
For those of you who don't know, the Gotei 13 is a fucking shitty place to live. If you're a Shinigami, then it's one step away from Japan's 'Work work work and never any play' attitude. Higher ranks have it a bit easier. If you're nobility, then you get to order the Shinigami around. If you're neither Shinigami nor nobility? If you take even a single step outside their shining silver city, the court of pure souls? The afterlife is a dump. ...Sorry, I got off track. Those same nobles are mostly the kind that order you to drop dead, and some will kill your entire family for disobeying. With that in mind, you are now completely unable to disobey someone with legitimate authority over you, such as your parents, the police, teachers, your boss, and most government workers. No matter what the order is, or how badly they abuse their authority.

+300 cp / +100 cp - Like It's your Last Night On Earth
While most of the women who got dragged into the relief program decided to roll with it, others didn't. More than one of them was lesbian, for example, including but not limited to our dear little bee, the captain of the 2nd division. So, the good news is, for the first few weeks of the jump you'll be in a state of more or less constant bliss. You've never slept so well, trained so efficiently, or gotten all your work done so quickly. The bad news is, you go into this state by completely and utterly wrecking someone who wanted absolutely nothing to do with you. She insisted that you should use her like it was your last night on earth because, well, she was going to kill you as soon as she could. So, congratulations, I hope it was worth it. You have an angry captain class fighter after your head. It doesn't have to be Soifon, but that's not exactly going to make things any safer for you.

This drawback can be taken up to three additional times for +100 cp each, adding an extra woman each time - ie, the second purchase adds two women, the third purchase adds ten. You're probably drawing from the Hollows at that point, or possibly Zero Division, because I'm not sure the Gotei 13 has that many significant women. In any event? …Have you considered praying?

Ending
Here's to hoping you had a fun ten years.

Next Chapter - Stay Here

Another Story - Move On

Notes

Q - For companions, what about Ichigos gang who don't have ranks?
A - Ichigo qualifies as a captain for sheer power, the others are lower than that (at that point in time, which is what matters).

On Singular Style and Academy's Teachings
As with most of the jump, these are written with the assumption that you're a Shinigami. If you're human or a hollow, please use the basics of those races' abilities instead, such as Sonido, Heiro, or the various kinds of Cero for Hollows instead of Shunpo, Hakuda, or Kido.
