Perks

Perks cost half for their origin, 100 CP perks are free instead.

Drop-in

Thick Eyebrows [100 CP]

Your eyebrows are a defining feature of your identity, boasting a luxurious thickness and impeccable styling. Anyone who catches a glimpse of them is captivated by the charisma and presence they exude, adding an undeniable allure to your overall look.

Better Then That [200 CP]

With countless words and subtle nuances in English and other languages, even native speakers sometimes trip over pronunciation, definitions, or usage. But not you—you've mastered any language you know to perfection. No grammar enthusiast can catch you slipping!

Foyle's Philavery [200 CP]

Your upbringing has been nothing short of illustrious, granting you a truly global vocabulary. Like Moira Rose, you no longer need to rely on simple or common words to convey your thoughts—instead, you wield a repertoire of rare and fascinating expressions, each word chosen with artful precision. This rich lexicon allows you to communicate in a way that captivates listeners and leaves an impression, no matter how obscure your choice of words might be.

Social Butterfly [200 CP]

Building relationships in new places or across cultures can take time, but you skip right past that with your magnetic social charm. People are naturally drawn to you, finding comfort and intrigue in your presence, and you feel equally at ease with them. Making friends has never been so effortless!

Disgruntled Pelican [200 CP]

You possess an extraordinary level of control over your facial expressions, making every nuance visible and intentional. Whether subtle or exaggerated, you can communicate exactly what you feel—or what you want others to think you feel—with striking clarity. This expressive ability ensures that your emotions are always readable, or unreadable if you prefer otherwise, lending a certain transparency or drama to your interactions as needed.

Fold The Cheese [200 CP]

Teaching beginners can be challenging, especially when they're unfamiliar with the jargon. Luckily, you have a gift for instruction—being able to effortlessly convey ideas and concepts in a way that makes sense to them, even when they're hearing the terminology for the first time.

Fashionista [200 CP]

You have a keen eye for quality fabrics, from high-thread-count cotton to vulcanised rubber and handcrafted details. With your expertise, you can effortlessly assemble outfits and hairstyles that are not only stylish and attention-grabbing but also uniquely expressive of your personality. Those who do not have a sense for fashion may call them funky, but who cares about them.

I Raised A Thief [300 CP]

Some things just naturally go together—like a match with a cigarette or a candle on a cake, and it's such a shame when you don't receive them together. When you need a small item, you can discreetly swipe it from a nearby counter without anyone noticing. This trick works only for minor, easy-to-miss items, so no clearing the place out!

It's My Yogurt! [300 CP]

It's frustrating when people assume ownership of your belongings just because they're in a shared space. Fortunately, you won't have to deal with that anymore! Anyone who encounters your things will instinctively respect your ownership, knowing they don't belong to them. Seriously, how barbaric does one have to be to eat somebody else's yogurt?!

Slap Me! [300 CP]

Once a renowned actor on a popular television show, your character became iconic for delivering perfectly-timed, dramatic slaps that viewers couldn't get enough of. Fans even began roleplaying scenarios where they'd be on the receiving end of one. Now, you carry that same knack for persuasion into real life—sometimes all it takes is a few well-placed slaps to get people to see things your way or nudge them right to the tipping point.

It's My Turn To Take A Selfish [300 CP]

"You scratch my back, I'll scratch yours"—the timeless principle of mutual exchange. Now, you can request reasonable favours from others by subtly reminding them of an imaginary favour you once did for them. Be careful not to overuse this perk with the same person, though; people will keep track and expect you to repay their favour in turn.

Traveler's Luck [400 CP]

Winding up in sticky situations abroad might be risky for most, but for you, luck is on your side. Like Alexis Rose who repeatedly got into an accident or kidnapped abroad, you have a near-miraculous knack for returning home unscathed, no matter how wild or perilous your travels become. This uncanny, fate-bending luck ensures that there is a way back for you, even if you have to get down dirty, no matter the odds.

Clean Campaign [400 CP]

In any campaign or popularity vote, direct attacks on opponents are both frowned upon and often illegal. Instead, you excel at creating subtle intrigue—a self-victimising scenario that invites voters and masses to draw their own conclusions. These conclusions will be biased in your favour, and they will arise naturally, keeping your campaign clean while stirring public sympathy.

In An “Afternoon Delight” [500 CP]

Living with others has its perks—you’re always surrounded by loved ones—but privacy can be hard to come by, especially during more...intimate moments. With this perk, however, whenever you're involved in a private matter, your space will exude a “do not disturb” aura, keeping interruptions and potential embarrassments at bay.

The Crowening [600 CP]

Embodying the essence of crows, you have a natural affinity with these intelligent birds, enabling you to communicate with and command them effortlessly. Additionally, you can partially transform, adopting certain crow-like traits at will.

Schitt's Folk

Annual Turkey Shoot [100 CP]

From a young age, you've participated in the annual turkey hunt, mastering the art of shooting long before you were even old enough to hold a gun. This experience has honed your skills with hunting rifles and made you an expert at tracking and hunting game animals.

Here For The Drama [200 CP]

Living in a quiet rural town has left you hungry for excitement, so when drama starts brewing, you can't resist joining in. With a knack for subtly slipping in just the right words, you know how to fan the flames between everyone involved, skillfully stirring things up to ensure the drama reaches its fullest, most entertaining potential while sipping a great cup of tea by the side.

Master of Annoyance [200 CP]

Sometimes, kindness and politeness just won't cut it. In those moments, you know how to turn up the irritation factor, becoming a master at getting under people's skin. You can invade personal space, push boundaries, and disrupt their composure to the point where they feel a mix of frustration and repulsion, preferring to steer clear of you entirely. But choose your targets wisely—some might not take it kindly and could respond with aggression.

Mr. Handyman [200 CP]

Handymen have a certain charm—appearing often in adult videos for a reason—and a well-toned physique to match. This is all thanks to the hidden workout in every repair job. Now, any maintenance work you tackle around the house, from fixing lights to lifting tools, will shape you up as if you'd just had a gym session. Get ready to fill out those shirts!

Sun Kissed Glow [200 CP]

You have always been eye-catching, but now that you are fresh from an eye-opening trip spent on beaches and in gyms, you have become even more of a sex icon. You now sport a healthy tan radiating warmth and vitality, and your improved physique catches everyone's eye, especially charming those older folks who can't help but drool over your sunny, refreshed look.

I'm Gonna Get The Money [200 CP]

You have a keen awareness of every grant, subsidy, and financial aid opportunity hidden behind layers of red tape and regulations. While most people struggle to even discover these options—let alone navigate the complexities to secure them—you have an instinctive knowledge of all available assistance within and beyond the system. You can effortlessly identify and access the relevant applications to secure any funding or support you qualify for, turning bureaucratic mazes into easy paths to the resources you need.

Sex Sells [200 CP]

Simply put, sex sells—and you know exactly how to use that to your advantage. Whether intentional or not, you have a knack for showing just the right amount of skin and fanservice, drawing attention and sparking interest in whatever you're promoting. Your allure turns heads and gets people intrigued in no time. Just don't get too distracted and get yourself naked on a certain bunny webcam, however—though the audience size would explode through the roof if that were to happen.

The Best, or The Only Real Estate Agent Around [300 CP]

In a world of endless business options, you stand out effortlessly. Whenever someone considers where to take their business, your name or shop is the first that comes to mind—no competition required! Just remember, meeting their basic expectations is key; this perk brings them in, but doesn't guarantee they'll return without a good experience.
This perk is toggleable

Just Need Somebody Sober [300 CP]

People are sensitive creatures, often retreating into themselves when hurt. You have a keen eye for recognizing these signs and a natural talent for gently coaxing them to open up and try again. Your understanding touch helps others feel safe enough to step out of their shell and give things another shot.

I Enjoy My Own Company [300 CP]

Travelling through the omniverse brings endless encounters with others, yet as a Jumper, the journey can often feel solitary—you're a wanderer without a permanent home, moving through vast realms of space and time. Thankfully, you thrive in your own company. You'll never feel the ache of loneliness, nor miss the usual social interactions; your self-sufficiency keeps you perfectly content wherever you go.

Friendship In Unexpected Places [300 CP]

True friendship often blooms where you least expect it, just like David and Stevie, two very different people who became inseparable. You, too, will find connections like these—lasting friendships with people who help you grow, even if it means stepping out of your comfort zone. And, of course, they'll be sure to document all your most embarrassing moments for posterity!

I'm a Hungry, Hungry Hippo [400 CP]

For most, being under anaesthesia, tipsy, or just a bit out of it means risking the chance of blurting out unintended, harsh truths. But not for you! In these states, any unfiltered words that slip out are now harmlessly charming, with only cute or endearing phrases spilling forth—ones that might embarrass you later but are sure to flatter those around you. You might cringe at the memory afterward, but it's a far better outcome than accidentally saying something hurtful!

Jumper is Everybody's Partner, and Nobody's Partner [500 CP]

You're an adult, and so is your partner. Attraction is mutual, and everyone's up for a bit of lighthearted fun. Whenever you engage in consensual intimacy, it's always understood by all parties as a no-strings-attached experience—just pure, enjoyable connection, free from drama, blackmailings or lingering expectations. Besides, you are really good at celebrating others' bodies so everyone comes out very satisfied.

It's A Generational Thing [600 CP]

If a quiet, rural town can be so open-minded and accepting, why not everywhere else? At the start of each Jump, you can introduce this sense of progressiveness to the world, fostering a greater level of acceptance and inclusivity. While it won't erase all prejudice and hatred, it's a significant step forward, creating a more welcoming world for everyone.
