

Four Fates Of Sex Jump

Version 1.1

Original CYOAs & Concept By: Troyx Jump Document By: LJGV/SinGod

Welcome to the Troyverse! In this fantastical, and at times hilariously mundane setting, very different things have conceptual champions and spirits that embody themselves. Sometimes even the act of doing something for the first time skyrockets someone to immortality and conceptual power.

In this visit to the Troyverse, you are the lucky recipient of the attention of four sultry, immortal women. These women are powerful archetypical champions of four different sex acts. Anala is the queen of anal sex, Blowjobra is the mistress of blowjobs, Boobra is the baroness of titfucks, and Breedra is the boss of vaginal sex. The four women have decided to collaborate and seek out one champion, a never-lonely Lord of Sex, and that my dear jumper is you!

You now have 1000 Sex Points. Use them wisely.

This is an NSFW Troyverse Adventure Jump based on fusing two NSFW CYOAs. Have a link to the sources.

Author's Note: This is based on two separate CYOAs, in a rare move for me. I am fusing the Anal: Lord of Fucking Glorious Ass & Three Fates of Sex CYOAs into one jump and thus changing SOME lore to make it possible so this isn't as focused on lore accuracy as my Troyverse jumps tend to be, most of the time. This is a NSFW jump that lacks the raw power of the Grand Adonis or Anael jumps, but is still surprisingly powerful in its own goofy way. It's kind of a joke jump, but there's some fun to be had here and the hope is that if you like the base CYOAs you come here and add the powers to your chain in a way that is enjoyable. Also please note that gender and sex here are up to player discretion. The source material IS written a certain way, in keeping with the gender and sex of the characters in the source material but you can absolutely reconfigure sex and gender to better suit your preferences without any sort of drawbacks or perks.

Origin:

All origins can be taken as drop-ins. You can decide your age and gender for free in this jump. Choosing an origin indicates a preference for a given sex act, and doesn't preclude you from enjoying other sex acts, it just hints at a preference. All origins also give you the power to do things that are convenient for the sort of sex you've chosen. People who select Anal can ensure that their favorite holes are always clean. People who select Oral can give people the power to always have fresh breath and perfect teeth. People who select Tits can induce lactation in others, which will always feel good and be healthy for them. People who select Vaginal can cause people with vaginas to never have periods again.

Anal (Free): You are the ambassador of anal sex, the big bad of butt stuff. Anala is a huge fan of yours.

Oral (Free): You are the overboss of oral sex, the majestic master of mouths, and Blowjobra is eager to have fun with you.

Tits (Free): Being the tyrant of tits is fun! Boobra is delighted by your affinity with the sexual acts she champions.

Vaginal (Free): The sovereign of slits. Breedra is ecstatic that you are here, my friend.

Starting Location:

1. Anywhere In The Main Multiverse

You can set your starting location anywhere in the main multiverse Troy's CYOAs take place in. You can begin on Veiled Earth, in the Empire of Etherscape, at the End of Time, or even in places like the prime overhell if you want. Though a sensible starting place may well be Veiled Earth. Long ago the actions and politics of an ancient group of alien exiles originally from far away in both space and time resulted in the Solar System containing Earth, Mars, and other local planets, getting shrouded in a Hyperion Veil which protects the worlds from overly ambitious outside influence and power.

This specific veil operates somewhat differently than other veils do (allowing outsiders to set foot on Earth and other veiled worlds, though only on the "Supernatural" side of the Veil, as opposed to most Hyperion Veils which wholly keep out outsiders), and it shrouds and protects (most) humans from even learning of the truth of the supernatural. You have lived a life where you have begun, unless you are a drop-in. If you are not a drop-in then you have a local history that you can configure pretty freely, such as being royalty, a demi-god, or anything that is not integrally tied to some other Troyverse jump (unless you've been to that jump already).

You begin this jump the instant after you have been approached by a quartet of beautiful women. They introduce themselves to you in alphabetical order, and are all delighted to meet you. They say that they would like you to become the Lord of Sex, something which you get to be by fucking them. They explain that they are a quartet of the most powerful sex spirits in existence, and that their combined power will elevate you into a new kind of immortal being. A one of a kind immortal being*. They give you a lusty look and step closer, on the prowl and quite eager for you to make ecstatic, life-altering love to them. And so begins your adventure as a Lord of Sex.

*Unless you have companions you imported into this jump. In that case modify this bit as needed.

Perks:

General Perks:

Lord Of Sex (Free & Mandatory for this jump): For free, by default, as a Lord of Sex you have a few central, overwhelming traits.

The first trait you have is immortality. The four sexy women want their lord to be around for a long time, having hot, steamy sex with as many people as possible for as long as possible so they have combined their powers and infused you with mighty, perfected immortality (eternal youth, immunity to mundane diseases and poisons).

The second trait you have is a bit more interesting. You can share your immortality with others! When you have sex with someone in ways that align with your chosen origin you can opt to share your immortality with them which will give them the same sort of perfected immortality you have, as well as de-aging them to their prime if they were past it.

All pleasure you give is enhanced, but the pleasure derived from your chosen origin's form of sex (this also includes activities that involve stimulating the area involved with your chosen origin, such as massaging someone's breasts if you have the Tits origin) is especially enhanced, becoming stunningly potent.

You draw power from sex. All sex that corresponds to your origin, not just sex that happens to be related to your origin that you're having. You can sense sex of your origin's type whenever it happens, and draw fragments of power from it. This power can be turned into small motes of permanent strength, or temporary energy you consume doing things like utilizing abilities that normally require some sort of energy like spells that require magicka or jutsu that require chakra. You can also share this empowerment with others if you want. Sex also heals you, with you healing at a tremendously enhanced rate, replenishing every source of energy and supernatural resources every second you spend having it (with the rate of healing being much faster when you have sex that corresponds to your origin).

You also gain Troyversian Physiology for free; This grants you absolute control over your fertility, your attractiveness is boosted enough to at least make you a 10/10, you are perpetually clean, and you gain an ability to learn languages spoken by others through physical touch. More intense kinds of physical touch can grant you a greater knowledge of languages, but we're applying a very loose definition to the phrase "more intense". If you are giving someone a massage that is considered "more intense", as is engaging in an unarmed brawl, and, of course, dancing and other fun activities can also be considered "more intense". The other person doesn't sense anything supernatural when this occurs.

You can also have hybrid children with others that inherit the best possible traits from both parents (normally, in most jumps with this perk, this effect tapers off and loses potency when it comes to traits like Omega Sparks and Ascensions, and effects and statuses of such power are not guaranteed. This iteration of this perk does not taper off and lose potency. If you have offspring with someone, they are guaranteed to inherit any possibly inheritable positive trait, unless you or your partner wish otherwise.). You cause pregnancies whenever you wish, so long as the type of sex you have corresponds to your origin (so if your origin is that of oral sex then you can impregnate people when you have oral sex). Both people and the law will also be far less judgmental of your relationships so long as everything is age-appropriate and consensual.

No one can control your gender or sex but you. When relevant, you can ignore any gendered and/or sex-ed language and expectations with this. Your career types also won't be limited based on your gender and/or sex, letting you do stuff like being a male priest of Lolth.

The Power Of Convenience (200 SP): You can use all of the free powers in this jump document but at much lower levels and without permanence (other than your actual freebie). Still, with this you'll always be able to have sex the way you like it, without any concerns regarding things like hygiene, cleanliness, and comfort.

Empowerment (200 SP): You have a very strange, and incredibly handy, ability. Whenever you have sex you can choose to empower your partner(s). How much you empower them depends on a few factors, namely what sort of sex you're having and how pleasurable it is to your partner. When you have the sex type that corresponds to your origin how much your partner is empowered is dramatically increased. Beyond that the amount of pleasure they experience also corresponds portionally to how much they are empowered. And obviously if they have an incredible experience AND the two of you connect in a way that corresponds to your origin the effects are dramatically enhanced. This enhancement is comprehensive and holistic, and can allow people to overcome any limit given enough sex and time.

Enlightenment (400 SP): Somehow sleeping with you always seems to be a wise and thought provoking decision. Sleeping with you is an excellent decision for those who seek enlightenment, and those who sleep with you awaken from their romp much wiser and several steps closer to enlightenment. You can lead them to wisdom and make them drink of its waters, by coming to you and cumming with you. If someone is enlightened by sex with you they become far wiser, gain inner peace, and become supremely knowledgeable in an area determined by their personality. You can continue to enhance someone's wisdom by having more and more sex with them even after they become enlightened.

Anal Perks:

Everclean (100 SP): As the ambassador of anal sex it wouldn't do if you weren't prepared for anal sex would it? With this perk people's appropriate equipment will always be clean and sanitary, prepared for comfortable sex, as well as smell and taste delightful. This includes your appropriate equipment. You can also share a permanent version of this with others around you, if you wish, that will linger and be a part of them long after you leave their presence. This also permanently rids you of your need to expel waste, which is also shared with others.

Experimenter (200 SP): Not everyone will have experience with this particular sex act, and many might even have outright refused to consider doing it. With this, you gain skill in persuading people to try new things, particularly things they deem taboo. If someone has been persuaded to do something by you and they enjoy it they can easily get addicted to it.

Taboo Tyrant (400 SP): You have a very peculiar reputation. You are known as the tyrant of the taboo, the whisperer of the warped. You are adept at talking people into doing taboo acts and the more someone enjoys the taboo the more easy it is for them to fall for you and to fall under your influence. Also the more taboo acts someone indulges in with you the better they become at all sorts of taboo acts. People who fall under your influence like this gain great skill with taboo supernatural skills, such as necromancy and mind control, though it's up to them to hone such talents.

Oral Perks:

Everfresh (100 SP): You're the overlord of oral sex. You can give people permanent fresh breath and perfect teeth, as well as control the taste of your own fluids. You can also control how much fluids you produce, and you give life-changing oral pleasure when you go down on someone.

Charismatic (200 SP): As the Oral Ouroboros you are stunningly charismatic. You have a skilled sense for what is the best thing to say in virtually any situation to achieve your goals. You are incredibly persuasive when it comes to getting people to suck you off, or to letting you give them oral sex.

Spellcasting Sovereign (400 SP): The overlord of oral sex is gifted in an unusual way. You have a strange supremacy when it comes to one component of spellcasting; the utterance of mystical words and phrases. Something about your oral power has transformed your tongue and made you a supernatural sage when it comes to uttering the expressions and phrases linked to arcane power. This dramatically enhances magic and other powers that require vocal expressions and allows you to give powers and magic vocal components just so you can enhance the effectiveness of it. You can share this talent with others when you have oral sex with them. You also have a beautiful singing voice, and can share that with others as well.

Tits Perks:

Titanic Talent (100 SP): You have a few minor QOL abilities related to breasts. You can make them weightless (thus freeing those who have them of pain and discomfort), and you can induce or stop lactation at will.

Alchemical (200 SP): You have a curious level of talent when it comes to alchemy. You are especially good at using biological fluids in your alchemy and creating things that share or enhance abilities derived from biology (such as a dragon's fire breath or a Kryptonian's solar power). Your keen alchemical instincts translate to other fields of magi-science and you can pull off a lot with alchemy, time, and access to resources.

Colossus of Chests (400 SP): You can, with a touch, change the size of someone's tits. When you change the size of someone's tits you give them a rush of power or speed. They grow in power if you increase the size of their tits, with how much they grow in power being determined by how much larger you make their tits. They grow in speed if you make their tits smaller, with how much they grow in speed being determined by the extent of the decrease you inflict on them. You can also undo the change at will. Additionally when you increase the size of someone's tits you can give them magical energy, turning their tits into mana tanks which they can use themselves for magic they know or they can use their mana at someone else's behest by having sex with them while they do their magic or holding their hand while they are spellcasting.

Vaginal Perks:

That Time Of The Month (100 SP): You can freely stop someone with the required anatomy from experiencing a period (if they get pregnant they'll know instantly and accurately) with zero negative health effects. You can also induce them, if you want.

Baron of Biology (200 SP): You have a keen understanding of biology on a scientific level. You naturally understand genetics and the science behind reproduction, and with even a cursory examination of someone you can understand how fertile they are and diagnose any issues they have when it comes to reproduction. You can also use magic to overcome those issues, allowing them to reproduce or to stop reproducing as they please. You can also visualize what sort of kids someone would have with anyone else.

Peak Prince (400 SP): You have a curious ability. Your perfected control over your fertility has evolved and given you greater power over reproduction. You can bless people such that they become peak members of their species (and such that their kids also become peak members of their species), and your own children will always be beyond peak members of their race, taking traits of the other parent you had them with to truly intense extremes. Your children also grow to adulthood as fast as you please, including not at all if that's what you want or instantly if that's what you want. You can also bless the fertility and virility of others, such that if they want to always get pregnant from sex they do.

Items:

Anal Items:

Perfected Lube (100 SP): This bottle is filled with the most divine lube in the omniverse. This remarkable stuff is perfect for any and all sexual encounters and makes them perfectly clean, pleasant, and as slick as both parties want them to be.

Resort Planet (200 SP): This gorgeous planet, once the afterlife of a cult of a goddess whose religion died out, has been left vacant for a long time, but it is filled with beautiful buildings and stunning locales. The empty buildings can easily be staffed and this place could be turned into a profitable location with stunningly little effort.

Jade Monks (400 SP): In an empty space station a number of life-sized statues of gorgeous women await an owner. If you take these relics for yourself and insert something precious into a hole near the bottom of the statues you'll feel something change within them, and sense them… relax as they come to life for half a day. These jade statues will have morphed into living, breathing warriors, talented, protective ones empowered by your own sexual skills and ready to fight on your behalf.

Oral Items:

Mythic Sap (100 SP): This clear sap has a curious effect on those who imbibe it. People who drink it, something that will always be messier than it should be, find their stamina vanishing and their minds empowered to a surprising degree. You have a bottle of this and can replenish it with ease, by pouring your essence into it, a process which feels… remarkably pleasant.

Adventurer's Brothel (200 SP): This traveling brothel is situated abroad a decently large space ship, one meant for housing small towns worth of people. The brothel's staff includes the leaders of the ship and they are eager to go on adventures. All of their women are well-trained battlemages with lipples (lips, tongue and all, on their nipples). The brothel is yours now, and you are free to make use of its staff as well as take a cut of the income and decide where the ship goes.

Dragon's Hoard (400 SP): You are not only the Oralboros, already something that'd appeal to dragon girls, but now you are the owner of an impressive hoard. This strange collection of treasures and goodies includes a curious number of dragon girl portraits complete with the multiversal equivalent of phone numbers written on them…

Tits Items:

Magic Milk (100 SP): This is a keg of refined and purified magic milk. Magic milk is an incredibly restorative substance extracted from the finest mage bribes in all the lands, and is both restorative to your mana stores as well as something that helps them grow in depth and amplifies spells you cast and rituals you perform for a short while after drinking a glass of the substance. This keg is self-restoring, meaning you'll have an infinite amount of the stuff, though when it's (temporarily) empty it'll take a few minutes before you gain some more.

Cowgirl Ranch (200 SP): This abandoned ranch is portable and filled with handy machines for making ranching nearly autonomous. If you purchase this item and actually settle in the portable ranch you'll be surprised to discover that when the ranch is occupied it attracts cowgirls who are thankfully easy to get along with and eager to be milked.

Advanced Robotics Company (400 SP): Synths, Cyborgs, and all sorts of other robotic and augmented lifeforms inhabit the multiverse. Some companies either realized the economic potential of this fact early on and went hard on it or got into the game late but hit the floor running. This company is made up of people who got into the robotics game late, but smartly realized how much money there was to be made. These people, now loyal followers of yours, are especially intrigued by the idea of sexbots. It seems that many of them are especially into the idea of sexbots with big breasts. When you look at the facts and figures behind this you'll see that in terms of raw economics it's hard to argue with them, at least if their figures last quarter are anything to go by… They are also eager to have you test prototypes of some of their braver designs.

Vaginal Items:

Hookup Finder (100 SP): Breedra has this device, something which vaguely resembles a cellphone. It's more or less a cellphone, actually. It is filled with people looking to hook up. These folks may or may not have more going on, and many but not all of them just want sex, usually without much if any bells and/or whistles. This is a classic hookup app but fitted for multiversal sexual shenanigans.

Primal Weapons (200 SP): This strange set of weapons is fantastically powerful but they have a strange function in exchange for their power. Those who wield them are urged to replace the lives they take by fathering or mothering new life. These incredibly powerful weapons of all sorts inflict a breeding kink on those who use them.

Super Science Serum (400 SP): This curious serum is only usable once a jump but it makes whoever it is injected into or drunk by a peak member of their species. That said, once it's been used the only way to make new super soldiers is the fun way. And nothing else works. The person whose been given the serum cannot be cloned, they cannot use powers to pass on their status, heck they can't even use supernatural means to do so, which they will invariably discover to their annoyance. Thankfully this serum makes pregnancy feel amazing, even if they are the ones knocking others up for some reason instead of being knocked up. If they are the pregnant ones pregnancy feels heavenly and is almost addictive to them.

Companions & Followers

Import/Create (50 SP): You can import a companion and they gain all the freebies, discounts, and get to pick an origin themselves, as well as 600 SP to spend themselves on perks, and items. Alternatively you can create a new companion, and they'll follow the same rules. Companions cannot take drawbacks.

Narratively… the fates have decided to spread their love around a little, realizing you'd have more fun with friends, so they make more people their champions, in exchange for each individual champion being a little weaker.

New Friends (50 SP): This option is for companioning other Troyverse beings. Normally this section would have a spiel about power and about how power matters for determining the cost of your ability to companion new folks you meet here. Not so for this jump. This jump features enough people of various levels of strength that if you can convince someone to accompany you here, they all cost the same.

Harem (First purchase free, subsequent purchases 50 SP): You can get a group of eight of the people from the two CYOAs (this counts multiple people slotted into one entry in the CYOAs as one person) for free to follow you as followers in future jumps. The individuals in question cannot be the actual fates of sex (you need to complete scenarios to unlock them as followers), but all of the other characters are fair game. You can also pay more installments of 50 SP to gain more groups of 8 people from the two CYOAs to become followers. Please note that scenarios afford you the opportunity to get specific people from the CYOAs to become followers, so keep track of that when determining who you want to follow you just in case to keep you from overspending. Additionally, these characters are just themselves sans resources, excited to have the chance to explore the omniverse. This does not have the same effect on each character, as plenty are normal people while others are near-ascendant in power, but for characters with resources such as a queen, robotics genius, or super scientist, their resources can be significant.

Supplement Mode:

You can use this as a supplement. If that is what you wish to do, import another jump of your choice and fill out both jumpdocs. Remember to keep the point totals separate. This setting and that setting will then fuse, though you can select the extent to which that occurs, such that if you want only the tracest elements of the Troyverse will affect the other setting, or vice-versa.

Scenarios:

Failure in these scenarios simply means you have failed the scenario in question. Though death would logically cause a scenario to fail, a scenario fail does not mean death it simply means you don't get the rewards for the scenario unless otherwise stated. All scenarios also award 200 SP, in addition to any stated rewards.

Anal Ascending

Early on in your time here, Anala will warm to you and quickly become a lot more than just a friend with benefits. The matron of anal sex will begin to tell you about her ancient history, revealing that she is so old that there isn't a number that captures her age. She reveals that she and the "Fates of Sex"; Blowjobra, Breedra, and Boobra all attained immortality at the moment they invented their forms of sex, making all of them positively primordial. She also reveals that she was the first to predict the rise of a lord of a sex type, and that in preparation for the day you arose she took on a disciple; Buttasstailia. Her disciple left her a long time ago, and now that you have arise Anala would like you to meet her, regardless of your chosen origin. She doesn't quite know where Buttasstailia has gone, but she knows that there is a small, relatively speaking, cult devoted to the Ascended Lord of Anal Sex, a being they believe will come and spread happiness and immortality. Anala recalls the devotion Buttasstalia felt towards the one she believed would come and knows that the anal cult sounds like Buttasstailia. Anala asks if you could possibly find her, and points you towards a priestess named Orsenna on a small but paradisiacal world. Orsenna is delighted to meet you, even if you did not choose Anal as your origin and is especially eager to meet you if you did select Anal as your origin. From there she tells you of her encounters with Buttasstailia and lets you know that the last she heard of her teacher, the so-called second prophet of the Anal Lord, she was on her way to converse with a haughty goddess of sex named Tar Va Re.

You depart from her and make your way to Tar Va Re, who is intrigued by you and Anala and wishes to be entertained. You quickly realize that this goddess is no pushover and while you can certainly defeat her if you have sufficient OCP or strong enough allies, you can also diplomacy your way through this by entertaining her. She is most amused by sex, as befits a goddess of her domains. If you put on a good show she tells you that she has Buttasstailia and reveals the immortal prophetess kept in stasis in the middle of a rather intense looking orgasm. She challenges you to a sex battle, and if you win she'll release Buttasstailia. If you lose she'll lock you in stasis as well. Thankfully as haughty as Tar Va Re is, you are the empowered Lord of Sex and your power over sex is on a different level compared to hers. Winning shouldn't be difficult.

Reward:
The reward for winning is the release of Buttasstailia, the gratitude of Anala (and their ability to follow you for free into future jumps as followers), and a few other things as well. By overcoming these challenges you have either become attuned to Anal sex on some level, letting you draw power from it, impregnate people with anal sex if you couldn't before, and turn people into monster girls by having anal sex with them, or your powers over anal sex have deepened as a result of Anala's profound appreciation for and loyalty to you. Beyond that Tar Va Re begs you to either not leave, or to let her go with you, eager to experience more sex like that. You also gain the devotion and profound gratitude of Orsenna, who becomes a follower if you let her.

Muffarch

Sometime after you enter this world Breedra approaches you with a curious request. She tells you that sometime after the four women decided to find and approach a champion to imbue with their powers each of them took on an apprentice, or at least Breedra, Blowjobra, and Boobra did. Anala was already with her apprentice at that time. Each of their apprentices eventually went their own ways, with Breedra's apprentice Cuntwatia having left the most recently. Breedra's apprentice is a talented immortal capable of spontaneously becoming pregnant herself, with zero outside assistance, and is likely exploring uninhabited worlds or working for people who need children, and so Breedra points you to the Breeders of Yinvisoh; triplet elf sisters with supernatural fertility capable of controlling the nature of the children they bear while pregnant with them.

You and your crew travel to Yinvisoh, a small sci-fi planet where people can find all sorts of strange lifeforms with stranger skills. You talk to the Breeders, who in all likelihood ask for a demonstration of your skills (especially if you are attuned to Vaginal sex), before agreeing to help you. When they are satisfied they inform you of other fertility based figures, namely the Fertility Witches, Lapizeh the God-Princess, and the people of the planet of Onglorrad (an all-female world with hyperfertile natives who tend to get hired to help with repopulation efforts and colonization missions) suggesting, and hoping, they know more because the breeders do not know Cuntwatia's fate. You have to explore and interact with each of these factions, which give you cryptic clues hinting at someone having abducted Cuntwatia before the truth reveals itself. You learn that an eldritch abomination known as Xelie has abducted Cuntwatia and is using her perfect vagina to try and make herself even more sexually advanced and to push her nightmarish biology further. Her plane is protected by a group of vampires led by an amazonian undead queen named Xeloise who is intrigued by the eldritch monster's insane anatomy. You have to defeat Xeloise and burst into Xelie's lair to rescue Cuntwatia, who is, perhaps surprisingly given this setting's track record, quite open to conversation when you explain why you've come and who you represent.

Reward:
When Breedra and Cuntwatia reunite their joy fills you with resplendent power (and they become followers for free). This gives you enhanced power over fertility, allowing you to bestow others with enhanced fertility and if you already had such powers (such as by being attuned to vaginal sex) you can give them the power to spontaneously become pregnant at will or to impregnate people without semen (depending on the anatomy of the person you're blessing). You also gain the friendship of Xelie, Cuntwatia as a loyal follower, friend, and lover, and can pick two of the following groups of people to become followers for free; the Breeders of Yinvisoh, the Fertility Witches, Quelraad, Xeloise, Lapizeh, or the Fertility Witches.

Oralboros

More apprentice finding! This time it's Blowjobra and her apprentice is named Psextanyn. She was a talented speaker and a charismatic sort who was last seen adventuring with a gaggle of genies known as the Genie Pacters in a fantasy world. You journey to the fantasy world and Blowjobra suggests you consult someone she blessed a long time ago; the ORALcle. This arguably unlucky figure can see the future but only when she's going down on someone. Blowjobra… is strange.

The two of you head to the figure who after meeting you decides to help you out. She either goes down on you or Blowjobra, and has a vision that reveals the fate of Psextanyn and the Genie Pacters. It turns out that a siren has been corrupted and in her corrupted lust has ensorcelled both Psextanyn and the Pacters! Your mission is simple; track down the corrupted siren and rescue Psextanyn and her friends.

Along the way to the swamp where the siren dwells you encounter a friendly frog girl. This is both fortunate and unfortunate because the frog girl in question, Gluk Tenu, has a mutation that causes her to imprint on the first non-frog person she sees. Which is you. She asks to accompany you on your adventure, and doesn't take no for an answer, determined to protect you. Your group makes their way to the swamp and finds Igva. She detects your radiant power, particularly if you are attuned to oral sex, and challenges you to a singing competition.

You have the stuff to win. If you are not attuned to oral sex or otherwise lack a good singing voice Blowjobra steps up and can outsing even Igva the corrupted siren. The beautiful singing temporarily snaps Igva back to her normal self, and she reveals that she was corrupted by Naamah, a local demon lord who came across her on a bad day. She asks for help and releases Psextanyn and the Genie Pacters. The Pacters reveal they can purify her if you help them with a wish and explain that if you wish for Igva to be fully purified and seal a pact with them they can rid her of her corruption. If you do, or otherwise purify Igva the scenario ends.

Reward:
Psextanyn and Blowjobra delightedly reunite and both become followers of yours. You gain greater power over oral sex, particularly the ability to make your fluids aphrodisiacs and to control the tastes of your fluids and the fluids of other people. You also gain the friendship of Gluk Tenu, Igva, the Genie Pacters, and the ORALcle, and all of them can join you on your chain for free.

Tittan

The final find an apprentice scenario. This time you're helping Boobra find Mammaria. You get told where you need to go quite quickly; you need to find Tittopia; a luxurious palace world where the only women in the omniverse to attain enlightenment through tits can be found. The problem is that the city has long been lost. You do get a valuable clue though when Boobra suggests you go find Lactae, the biggest-titted galaid (nymphs with large breasts who passively lactate ambrosial milk) in the omniverse. She is located in a palace on the galaid homeworld. She is ditzy and horny but she can focus if she's been sufficiently pleasured, and when she focuses up she tells you that if you go to the homeworld of the Rantaris People (cowgirls) you can find a magical fountain that can give you liquid that she can use in a ritual to find Mammaria and Tittopia. By visiting the Rantaris homeworld, getting permission from their princesses to go to the fountain of Laskiria and persuading its catgirl keeper to give you some of the water, you can return to Lactae and she can perform a ritual that allows you to learn the location of Tittopia. It is closeby, relatively speaking, and getting there is easy. You even receive a warm, and pleasurable, welcome when you arrive, greeted by the two queens of this place. They allow Boobra and Mammaria to reunite and explain that Mammaria is only here trying to help other women with large breasts, and who like breasts, receive enlightenment. They all realize that maybe you can help and work zealously to persuade you to help them, but just getting here is enough to complete this scenario.

Reward:
For completing this adventure you gain the friendship of the queens of Tittopia, Lactate, the princesses of the Rantaris, and Laskiria. All of them, as well as Mammaria and Boobra, can join you as followers for free. You also gain greater powers over lactation, able to control how the milk you cause to exist tastes and minorly gaining some degree of power over the alchemical properties of the milk.

Sultan Of Sex (Requires the completion of the other scenarios):

This scenario takes place as you near the end of the jump. During your final year here your friends ask you to accompany them on one more journey. All of the people whose lives you've changed and who you've helped rescue and reunite with their loved ones accompany you as you go on a journey to a special destination; the Astral Axis.

During the journey you have a number of encounters. Firstly you encounter a strange, but friendly, catgirl with multiple rows of breasts. She delightedly joins your crew and tries to seduce you. If it works she is delighted, but when you don't begin to do nothing but delightedly have sex with her she is confused. Nonetheless she accepts this and is eager to have sex with you over and over.

Secondly you encounter Naamah at the edge of the multiverse. She has just ascended and become a minor archdemon of pride and lust, and if you befriend her she can accompany you on your journey.

You have a third encounter, this time with a mighty but lost archangel named Naaririel. She is powerful, friendly enough, and upon realizing that she is lost Anala asks her to accompany you all. She agrees and joins your group.

Eventually the lot of you reach The Astral Axis the city at the heart of the omniverse. You are free to explore this place, but are quickly invited to the Archdynasty Palace; the home of Joy, Glory, and the Archdeity of Eternity himself. You answer this invite, and get to meet with the Archdeity and his daughters. The one and only ruler of the omniverse greets you like he would greet an old friend and thanks you for the fun adventures he's gotten to see by watching you and your friends. He also encourages you to keep spreading joy and happiness in future jumps, if you're good, and to keep giving the forces of goodness and light something to fight against in future jumps if you aren't good. You get to spend a full week in the Astral Axis before you and your friends, old and new alike, are teleported back to your home multiverse. During this time you make new friends, with one particular group of friends returning with you.

Reward:
You are, in all likelihood, accompanied by the Temptress, Naaririel, Xalassa the Lazy, and a pair of twin sisters who call themselves Netflix and Chill mostly as a joke but they also don't tell you their actual names. You may also be accompanied by Naamah, if you befriended her. All of these people are free followers you can take with you on your journey after this adventure.

Your main suite of rewards depend on your chosen origin and the relationships you have with the four fates. You get your origin's reward for sure, but only get the other rewards if you're close to the fate of sex linked to the origin in question.

If you are attuned to Anal sex or otherwise develop a close relationship with Anala, she tells you the location of Buttopia a wandering space palace the size of a city, this place is ruled by Telaia a sage who attained enlightenment through the pleasures of anal sex and whose subjects all ponder the divine splendor of buttstuff. They would be overjoyed if you came and lived with them as their king. Among the other residents of Buttopia the city is also where Your Herald, Cirracee, and the Brides of Glorious Ass live, all of whom are buttsluts with various powers and resources, and they are all eager to join you. You become the master of Buttopia and can import it into future locations with ease.

If you are attuned to Oral sex, or otherwise linked to Blowjobra, she tells you of a Divine Church dedicated to the Oralboros. This place is now yours, and is inhabited by priestesses you'd find sexy, some of whom include are deities themselves such as Veryl, and another priestess here is named Nonculie she worships you and several goddesses of different senses. One of the most exceptional people here is a wizard named Oyatoyda, a wizard with multiple mouths who can cast many spells at once thanks to her unique number of mouths.

If you are attuned to tits or otherwise linked to Boobra, she is quick to tell you about a Secret Vineyard owned by a maenad named Vinyra. This vineyard and its inhabitants become property of yours once you meet and persuade Vinyra to become one of your homies. This place is protected by Bim Ni Sair, a renowned heroine with gigantic breasts, and is the home of Tittania; a pixie who is a member of a subrace that is well known for their gigantic breasts. One of its regular customers is a three-breasted dark elf named Morsten, and a goblin spellcaster named Yolantha (an alien from a far off world) casts spells on the produce from here. All of these people can be persuaded to join you for free.

If you are attuned to Vaginal sex or otherwise close to Breedra, she tells you about Purradise, an afterlife for catgirls wherein they get idealized bodies. This place is her gift to you, and it is also home to some unique individuals. It is protected by a wood elf named Jes who is obsessed with finding the perfect mate and having a huge family, and by Diartemisana; an impossibly powerful amazon who dreams of finding a mate who can satisfy her sisters and herself. The oceanic part of the afterlife is the territory of Asorinella, a temporarily insane and insenate mermaid who was driven mad when she saw into the future and saw herself getting pounded by someone so powerfully it caused her to bliss out. If you meet her you can fix her.

Drawbacks:

Extended Stay (Varies): This is a handy drawback for any Troyverse jump as ten years here is not very long. Each purchase you select allows you to stay for another ten years and gives you 100 SP each time. You can take this multiple times, but stop gaining points after the 3rd time you use this to add to the length of your stay here you stop gaining points.

Stereotypes (100 SP): How this perk manifests depends on your personality, dear jumper. Whatever you are like, in terms of your most basic skills, people will assume the opposite. If you are a warrior they will think you are a pacifist, if you are a general they will think of you as a novice soldier. Going further though, people will be opposed to your goals on the basis of these stereotypes and will often need supernatural persuasion to be convinced to be at least neutral towards you.

Arrogance (100 SP): Potential enemies are incredibly likely to be filled with arrogance and think they could take you despite the sheer lack of evidence supporting that view. Expect to have to do something about foes, despite how obviously outclassed they are.

Realism (100 SP): Despite your cosmic power the most common problems you'll face are mundane ones. They may be solved with laughable ease, but that won't stop them from coming.

Remote Reaches (200 SP): Things like teleportation magic just do not work with you. If you're gonna travel the omniverse you have to do it the old-fashioned way.

Real Politics (200 SP): The Troyverse, particularly the Veiled Solar System, tends to have things go right. People tend to be either kind or competent, usually both, and while ambition and cynicism sometimes rear their ugly heads, usually they are overcome. Typically by the power of friendship, love, and this gun* someone found. This drawback darkens that, just a touch. This isn't enough to overcome the overall happiness and peace of this setting, but more people are more grim, politics are more cutthroat, and at pivotal times despair can creep in if you aren't cautious.
*The protagonist of any given CYOA.

Disruptions Abound (200 SP): Somehow you can never just travel from point A to point B with the appropriate ease. An endless cavalcade of small disruptions will conspire to make you late constantly.

Order Of Haters (200 SP): Beings who draw power from sex abound throughout the cosmos. The most well-known examples include archdemons of lust, sanguinarchs of passion, and cosmic gods of lust. There are other, stranger examples, such as the mythical Zenith King, some inhabitants of Etherscape, and even the legendary Grand Adonis. Sometimes groups arise that really loathe these figures. You have drawn the ire of such a group and they'd really like to put the hurt on you or at least humiliate you. For only 200 SP they'd rather embarrass you than kill you, but you can crank up the intensity here and get an additional 200 SP in exchange for them wanting to see you maimed and brought low, or get an additional 400 SP (for a total of 600 SP) in exchange for them being quite powerful and determined to kill you.

Dramatic Bastard (400 SP): Something about you refuses to do things small. You are an immensely annoying showboat, especially when it really matters. This does not affect talent, so a talented performer can get away with this to an extent. It's still really annoying though, and people who are unphased by your acting or musical chops will really hate this. This can be kind of kick ass at the end of big, really cool moments though, but on occasion you'll deeply embarrass yourself, which for a lord of sex can be deeply annoying.

Sly Snake (400 SP): This is the opposite of the drawback just over it. You loathe people and the public eye and are a recluse broadly. You even use your powers to avoid detection, and are a silent, deeply graceful warrior, who goes out of your way to avoid being the center of attention.

Age Of Myth (400 SP (Earthly tier) 600 SP (Exciting tier) or 800 SP (Epic tier)): At the start of your time in this jump you immediately know of strange rumors, from word of an eldritch being stalking the world of Mars, to rumors of activity in an otherwise desolate pocket of the multiverse that has been empty for as long as anyone has recorded. This drawback brings the Troyverse to full, stunning life, and over the course of your time here more and more characters from Troy's CYOAs will slowly awaken.

If you take the Earthly tier of this, that means that characters at around the power level of the Zenith King from A King On Mars begin to appear throughout Veiled Earth and on Mars. This tier causes the Oberon, Zaar, Mulo, Endymion, Grigori, and Incubus to appear at the same time as you, as well as causes Mars to begin to become the center of a lot of mischief.

If you take the Exciting tier of this drawback, this only causes characters from the ascensions and below to awaken and come out of hiding.

If you take the epic tier this full awakens and excites characters from the other, higher tiers. These tiers include the Grand Adonis, the Anael, Joy, Glory, and even, potentially, the Archdeity himself. This does not guarantee you will interact with these figures, but it's entirely possible that you could encounter them.

They Know You (600 SP): This drawback automatically informs any enemies you make about you, complexly, instantly, and thoroughly. This doesn't automatically mean a victory is impossible, but it certainly shores up the challenge. If you know about some of your foes, this means your foes do also, which means team-ups between foes who survive your actions are possible.

Multiversal Overfoe (600 SP): You have made an annoying rival in the form of an egoistical Multiversal Overdeity who deeply dislikes you. This individual will always want to steal your thunder, or disrupt your life in ways that they think would annoy you. By default this is more a one-sided rivalry on their part, but if you want to get an extra 200 SP you can instead make it so that this foe wants to see you defeated, brought low, and then killed (if such a thing is even possible). Perhaps it's scared of the might of your lust? Regardless this potent foe will want to see you brought low and will send agents after you if it can't go after you itself.

Ending:

Return Home:
Return home after your long journey. By selecting this option you take everything you've earned on your chain with you, including what you selected here. Will you be a friendly Lord, or something… more malevolent?

Stay Here:

Take another 500 SP and add any final bits to your build you wish, in exchange for making the Troyverse your new home. This is an infinite omniverse, so while you aren't a Sparked Jumper, you can mimic some of their less suitable for work abilities in many respects and you, as a Lord of Sex, might actually be able to exert some influence in certain spaces. Who knows?

Continue Your Journey:

There are many more places to go and people to see. Go on jumper, show the true omniverse the true might of a Lord of Sex.

Notes & Mini-Changelog

-This is derived from a pair of NSFW CYOA set in the same grand setting as Emperor of Etherscape and the Last of the Omega Lords. The overall name for this setting is the Troyverse, and it is the name the fanbase has given to the collective works of TroyX, a Redditor, and Questionable Quester.

-Version 1.1 of this changed the items, minorly remixed the companions section, and axed the bit about your sex lord form being an alt-form.