Pandora

Pandora Mode [Free and Restricted to Pandora and Limiter/Pandora Hybrid]- Pandora Mode is an enhanced Anti-Nova form/mode that allows a Pandora to move more freely in a Freezing area without a Limiter. It also grants Pandoras an extra boost in power. Its main strength is to allow a Pandora to move while under a Freezing field. Your Reflexes and overall defense are greatly augmented while in Pandora Mode, however, it can only be maintained for three minutes and once the time limit is over, the Pandora will return to a severely weakened state, which leaves them vulnerable to attacks. {The ended of the time limit will be removed at the end of the jump so you can use Pandora Mode freely}

In the Nova form a Pandora's abilities are greatly increased and possess new skills including the ability to turn their arms into weapons, the quick regeneration of dismembered body parts and the ability to fire a high-powered energy beam from their Nova core, but if you take this perk you are in full control of Nova Form but beware that you don't use it to often if you do it will result in a Nova-type explosion, killing you and delivering devastating results to the environment.

Transcendence provides an incredible increase in speed, defense, and power as it allows one to draw out the maximum power of their Stigmata, increases one's combat abilities and eventually demonstrates unique abilities. Transcendent Pandora possesses much stronger stigmatic material than most Pandora, so their base level strength is much higher. However, they must actively tap into this power by generating wings of light in order to reach their full potential.
