Introduction:

Welcome, Jumper, to a world where the echoes of a demon war still linger, though the tides of battle have shifted dramatically. The mighty demon lord of the previous era has been vanquished by the legendary hero, and the demons' ambitions of conquest have been quelled—at least for now. In the aftermath of this victory, a new Demon Lord has risen to power. She is not like her predecessor, for her goal is not war but survival. To save the demon race from extinction—or perhaps to secure her own position of power—this Demon Lord has made a rather unconventional decision: to unite the two warring races by taking a human consort. Yes, you heard that right. The Demon Lord is a woman, and her chosen consort must also be a woman. This union is intended to be a symbol of peace, though it promises to be anything but simple.

The candidates vying for this position are as varied as they are intriguing. First, there is the princess of the human kingdom, whose political acumen and noble grace make her an ideal representative of humanity. Next the two heroes of the current generation: one a traditional warrior, fearless and skilled, embodying humanity's physical strength and determination; the other a priestess, whose divine magic and unwavering faith inspire hope and reverence in her people. . Then we have a mysterious witch, whose knowledge of ancient magics and enigmatic motives make her both a valuable ally and a potential threat. Finally, there is a humble human maid, whose unassuming nature belies a deep well of loyalty and hidden talents. Each woman brings her own strengths, weaknesses, and secrets to the table, and the Demon Lord's choice will shape the fate of both humans and demons alike.

You will arrive in this world at the pivotal moment when the five candidates are summoned to the Demon Lord’s imposing castle. As the story unfolds, you’ll have 1000 CP to spend shaping your journey in this realm of intrigue, magic, and romance. Will you support the Demon Lord’s efforts to foster peace, or will you pursue your own agenda amidst the brewing tensions? With the stakes as high as the passions that will ignite, this world of yuri promises adventure, drama, and the possibility of forging a bond that transcends ancient hatreds.

Starting Location:

Choose from one location below.

1.Demon Castle

Despite its foreboding reputation, the Demon Castle is surprisingly similar to a grand human fortress, albeit with darker aesthetics and an air of magic permeating its walls. Towering spires and intricate carvings depict tales of demon heritage, while grand halls echo with footsteps and hushed whispers of courtiers and nobles. Lavishly decorated chambers, vibrant gardens, and bustling kitchens showcase the balance of beauty and practicality within its design. Starting here means diving straight into the heart of politics and power struggles, where the Demon Lord reigns, and the fate of the realm is debated daily. Though it may look like a human castle, every shadow seems deeper, and every corridor holds secrets waiting to be uncovered.

2.Demon Village

Nestled in a quiet valley far from the political turmoil of the castle, the Demon Village is a place of rustic charm and communal harmony. Here, demons live simple lives, farming, crafting, and raising their families in peace. Starting here offers you a glimpse into the everyday lives of the demon race, providing a chance to build bonds with the common folk and learn about their struggles and hopes. It's also the perfect place to gather resources, gain allies, or even discover hidden talents among the villagers who rarely see outsiders.

3.Human Town

Bustling with life and activity, the Human Town is a hub of trade, culture, and innovation. Cobblestone streets wind through markets filled with merchants peddling wares, children playing, and adventurers sharing tales of their exploits. Starting here immerses you in the heart of human society, where you can connect with the hero and priestess candidates, uncover rumors about the Demon Lord, or explore the tensions brewing among the townsfolk. It's a lively, unpredictable environment where opportunities and dangers are abundant.

4.Beach

A serene stretch of coastline where the azure waves kiss the golden sands, the Beach is a tranquil escape from the chaos of the world. Starting here offers a rare moment of peace, allowing you to reflect, plan your next moves, or simply enjoy the natural beauty. Yet, even in this idyllic setting, secrets may lie buried beneath the sand or hidden in the coves. The beach provides a unique beginning, blending calm with the potential for unexpected encounters or treasures washed ashore.

Race:

Here you will see choices for what race you will be. Your age is 18+1d6. You can also change your gender to female for free, but changing to male costs 100 CP.

Human [Free]

As a human, you are part of the dominant race in the mortal realm, known for your adaptability and resilience. Though you lack the innate magic or physical prowess of other races, humans are versatile and quick learners, capable of mastering a wide range of skills. Your position as a human allows you to navigate both demon and human societies with relative ease, making you a natural diplomat and mediator. Whether you choose to rise as a hero, a strategist, or even an unexpected ally to the Demon Lord, your potential is bound only by your choices and determination

Demon [Varies]

As a demon, you are a native of the demon realm, imbued with a deep connection to its magic and traditions. Demons come in many shapes and sizes, from humanoid forms to monstrous appearances, with abilities and traits that vary widely.

Human-Like [Free]

As a human-like demon, you resemble a human in appearance, with only subtle features—such as horns, unusual eyes, or faintly glowing markings—betraying your demonic heritage. This form grants you the best of both worlds: you are able to move comfortably in human society while retaining access to the magical energy inherent to demons. A perfect balance for those who seek diplomacy and adaptability without sacrificing power.

Beastman [Free]

As a beastman, you possess the traits of an animal blended with a humanoid form, such as fur, claws, tails, or ears. Beastmen are known for their physical strength, agility, and heightened senses, making them exceptional warriors, scouts, or hunters. Despite often being seen as outliers in both demon and human societies, your primal instincts and loyalty make you a formidable ally—or opponent—in any conflict.

Dark Elf [200 CP]
As a Dark Elf, you are a being of elegance and mystery, with ebony skin, striking eyes, and a natural affinity for magic, particularly in shadow and nature. Dark Elves are often seen as outcasts, neither fully accepted by humans nor demons, yet their skill in sorcery, archery, and stealth is unparalleled. Starting as a Dark Elf places you in a position to weave between societies, using your cunning and charisma to shape alliances or achieve your goals.

Ogre [200 CP]
As an ogre, you are a towering, powerful figure with incredible strength and durability. Known for their ferocity in battle, ogres are often underestimated as brutes, though their strategic minds and deep loyalty to their kin prove otherwise. Your imposing presence can intimidate enemies or command respect, but your raw, unpolished nature might make it challenging to gain acceptance in more refined settings.

Vampire [400 CP]
As a vampire, you are a creature of elegance and immortality, driven by a thirst for blood. Vampires possess enhanced strength, speed, and regenerative abilities, along with a mastery of dark magic. While feared and respected by both demons and humans, your predatory nature often places you at odds with others. Starting as a vampire means walking a fine line between your primal instincts and the alliances you wish to build.

Succubus [400 CP]
As a succubus, you are the embodiment of charm and seduction, with the ability to influence emotions and drain life force through touch. Your beauty and charisma make you a natural manipulator, able to turn enemies into allies—or pawns. While your talents lie in subterfuge and persuasion rather than raw strength, your connection to demonic magic ensures you’re far from defenseless.

Lich [600 CP]

As a lich, you are an immortal spellcaster who has transcended the bounds of life and death. Your skeletal or decayed form marks you as an ancient and formidable presence, feared even among demons. With mastery over necromancy and other dark magics, you can command legions of the dead and bend the forces of death to your will. However, your undead nature makes you a target of suspicion and fear, and your path is one of isolation and power.

Origins:

Here, you will decide your origins in this world, shaping your starting point and the skills, connections, and challenges that come with it. Any origin can also be chosen as "Drop-In," allowing you to start without prior ties to this world's history or factions.

Maid

As a maid, you are a loyal servant skilled in the art of caretaking and maintaining order. Your work often goes unnoticed, yet your unassuming position allows you to gather secrets and move freely among the powerful. You possess a sharp eye for detail, adaptability, and resourcefulness, making you invaluable in times of crisis. Though overlooked by many, your skills and dedication may be the key to influencing events in subtle yet profound ways.

Spellcaster

As a spellcaster, you are a practitioner of magic, wielding powers that shape the elements, bend reality, or delve into arcane mysteries. Whether you are a scholar, an apprentice, or a self-taught prodigy, your abilities make you a formidable force in this world. Your talent for magic opens doors to knowledge, alliances, and danger, as both demons and humans seek to harness—or suppress—your potential.

High Nobility

Born into privilege, you are a member of the elite class, accustomed to the trappings of wealth and influence. Your upbringing has granted you access to education, resources, and the ability to sway the opinions of others through charisma or authority. However, as a noble, you may also find yourself ensnared in the web of politics and intrigue, where alliances are fleeting, and betrayal is a constant threat. Your title is both a blessing and a burden, offering opportunities that few can claim while demanding careful navigation of a world where power rules above all.

Drawbacks:
You are limited to +800 Cp from drawbacks.

18+ [+0]:
Really? Alright. The setting just became a lot more lewder, if that is even possible, than it already was, as the bands of light used to conveniently hide the private parts of the human body are now removed and you have a full view of said bodies, and other such fun stuff is no longer prohibited.
Hope you have fun with this.

Rule 63 [+0]
Well then... looks like we are entering a world where instead of focusing on Yuri, it is instead focus on Yaoi. If you want to see bishonen men ripping each other's clothes off, be my guest.

Supplement [+0]:
Not exactly the most in-depth of places, so you can use this jump as a supplement for other jumps. The CP here can only be used in this jump, and vice versa; this includes extra CP from drawbacks.

Time Extender [+100]:
Want to stay longer for more sexy Warriors? Or just continue your adventure ? Or maybe even fight against Heaven and Hell. No matter the reason, you stay for an extra 10 years each time you choose this. You can stay as long as you like, but are still going to gain a maximum of 800 CP.

Eighth Grade syndrome [+100CP]:
You now have the tendency to speak and act like a chuunibyou, complete with exaggerated poses and long-winded explanations. This often annoys everyone around you, but it also adds a unique flair to your character.

Anxiety[+100CP]:
You have one part of your body that you are ashamed of, whether it's your lips, breasts, or arms. If this part is exposed, it will hinder your movements and thinking processes, as insecurities will attack you, making it difficult to focus.

Memory Lost [+200CP]
You awaken in this world with no memory of your past life, your skills, or even your name. The void in your mind is as much a puzzle as it is a vulnerability, leaving you unsure of your alliances, motivations, or personal history.

Innocent [+200CP]
You possess an almost childlike naivety that makes you easy to manipulate or deceive. Despite your best efforts, you often fail to notice hidden agendas, double meanings, or subtle threats, leaving you at the mercy of others' schemes.

Targeted by Assassins [+200CP]
For reasons unknown—or perhaps tied to your past—you have a price on your head. Professional assassins relentlessly hunt you, their motivations ranging from contracts to personal vendettas. These skilled killers are intelligent and resourceful, forcing you to constantly stay alert and defend yourself against surprise attacks. You never know when or where they'll strike, making trust and safety rare luxuries.

Unloved [+400CP]
In this world, no matter how hard you try, romantic love always seems to elude you. You are forever relegated to the friend zone, no matter how strong your feelings or how much effort you put into deepening relationships. This limitation extends to any companions you bring to this world, leaving you surrounded by camaraderie and respect but devoid of romantic fulfillment. The ache of unrequited affection will be a constant reminder of this drawback.

No Outside Powers [+400CP]
All powers, abilities, or items from other jumps are locked away for the duration of your time here. You must rely solely on the resources, talents, and perks granted within this world to navigate its challenges. Your previous advantages are completely sealed, forcing you to adapt to this world's limitations and making even simple tasks feel far more difficult.

No Downtime [+400CP]
Rest becomes a distant dream as you find yourself perpetually overwhelmed by a never-ending stream of work, requests, and quests. Whether it's your duties, the expectations of others, or the constant demands of this world, you're always busy, leaving you no time for leisure or personal growth. Every moment is a battle against exhaustion as you struggle to meet the relentless expectations placed on you.

Targeted [+600CP]
You've drawn the ire of one of the world's major factions, ensuring your life is a constant struggle for survival. Choose to be hunted by either the humans, who have mistaken you for a Demon Lord and will send elite squads armed with anti-demon weaponry and magic to counter your every move, or the demons, who believe you to be the Third Generation Hero intent on slaying their Demon Lord.

Throughout your stay, these factions will relentlessly pursue you, escalating their tactics and resources with every encounter. At the end of the 10-year period, the leader of your chosen faction will personally confront you, having achieved near-godlike power through their determination to destroy you. This final battle will be a grueling test of your strength, cunning, and endurance, as you face an opponent who has been preparing for your demise for years.

For the truly daring, this drawback can be taken twice, causing both factions to mistake you for their greatest enemy. If you do, your time in this world will become a relentless gauntlet of danger, as humans and demons alike hunt you down with unwavering determination. The CP cap for this jump increases to 1,600 CP if you take on this nearly insurmountable challenge.

Ten Years Later:

Go Home: What, you finished? Here? Well, we won't ask. Whatever it is you gained here, we hope you enjoy it. You return home with all that you have accrued over your chain, and time resumes in all the worlds you visited.

Stay Here: This world does have a certain... allure, hmm? Don't worry, we won't judge. Add 1000CP as a bonus.

Move On: Ah, but of course. The journey never ends, does it? Go forth and have fun. Make some new friends.
