Gensoukyou Futanari Chinpo Wrestling Jump
By Orz

A new sport has arrived in Gensoukyou! One that's even started to rival Danmaku in popularity! The identity of this new pastime? Why, Futanari Dick Wrestling of course! Everyone, from the lowliest youkai and fairy to the highest of gods and spirits has taken an interest in it as GFCW/GFDW tournaments both big and small have sprung up all across the land. Everyone's ready to battle it out for futa-dick supremacy and I'm sure you're no exception, Jumper! Now get out there and show them what you're made of! And be sure to have fun~!

What? Why does everyone have futanari dicks in the first place?…Don't worry about it!

You have 1000 Choice Points.

Origins

Considering the nature of this sport and how varied the contestants are, there are no Origins for you to choose from, instead choose one perks and one item from each price tier to gain a discount for, with 100 CP perks and items becoming free as per usual.

Perks

Porn Logic (Free!): The supernatural nature of the various contestants makes sure that certain problems never come up and the nature of the setting itself does the rest. Holes can stretch to the point where you can see the bulge on the girl's stomach without any harm, pregnancies aren't an issue if someone gets vigorously creampied in the ring and everyone's butts are clean and smell of flowers, perfect for taking whatever phallic object gets shoved inside them that day.

Futanari Form (Free!): You'll need the right equipment if you want to participate! You've been blessed with the feminine body of an attractive futanari, the specifics of which are up to you. You have a pair of breasts, a pussy and a futanari dick complete with balls, but the size of your various attributes are up to you, whether you want to be svelte and tomboyish, lush and voluptuous or have something amusing like a tiny dick with a pair of giant balls.

Bedroom Wrestling (100 CP): This sport can be quite daunting as it requires the contestants to combine physical skill with sexual technique. Thankfully, you have a solid foundation in both of these important components, able to pull off all the basic wrestling moves and sex positions. Naturally, this won't help you much against the cream of the crop of the GFCW roster but like I said it's a solid foundation. Train hard and you might make it to the top someday!

Dick Growth Technique (100 CP): This secret special move invented by a certain inchling allows the user to temporarily increase the size of a target's cock, up to some really silly extremes, whether it's another person or the user's own, all with a cry of 'Foul Play: Grow Bigger!'. As it is indeed a technique and not an ability, it can be taught to others and can be legally used in the ring, and it might even be able to outright give someone a dick if they don't happen to have one…but where are you going to find a weirdo like that!?

Clever Fingers (200 CP): H-hey, keep those wiggling digits away from me! Whether you're playing with your opponent's body and driving them to a cum-spurting loss directly or making subtle use of the illegal tools you've hidden on your person, the movements of your hands and fingers are incredibly fast while still remaining precise and dexterous as if you moved normally.

Inhuman Pleasures (200 CP): Monsters and youkai might have the advantage over humans in a traditional fight but in this sort of sport their bodies give them some inherent weaknesses. Those pointed ears might just be sensitive, fluffy tails might cause moans with a bit of touching and even monstrously large dicks and balls just provide more flesh to be pleasured and stroked. Whatever the specifics of your opponent's body, you're great at taking advantage of it.

Innovative Mind (400 CP): Out of the box thinking? You've never seen the box in your life! You have a talent for making use of clever tactics and shocking moves to secure the win. Even when things seem impossible as long as you remain cognizant enough to think on your feet then you'll have a chance, even if you have to use your tails as hands because somebody has trapped all four of your limbs inside of gaps.

Rules Lawyering (400 CP): Against the rules? You shouldn't need to care about that! You're a villain, after all! That's the sort of logic that you bandy about in order to get your way and shockingly enough it has a habit of working more often than not. Not necessarily for long but you don't always need a long time to completely overcome the obstacles in your way.

Championship Challenger (600 CP): You have the looks, you have the moxie and you have the talent to take you all the way to the top! Your stamina, sexual or otherwise, runs like a deep well, your athleticism is awe-inspiring to behold and your technique is enough to drive your lucky opponents to the strongest orgasms of their life. If everything goes as it should and the rules of the sport are followed, it'll be no surprise if you climb the ranks to become the champion! If.

Silver Tongue (600 CP): Are people really this gullible or are you just that persuasive? You have an incredible talent for tricking others, be it convincing them that 'the courser cock gets the first move', that a special training technique will help them get stronger when it's really just elaborate masturbation or even that you've kidnapped someone dear to them and are holding them hostage when they're actually just buying a candy apple from the food stalls. There's one born every minute, but for you it's more like every second.

Items

Lewd Wrestling Outfit (Free!): Most contestants wear custom outfits specialized for ease of movement and stoking their opponent's libido. Now you have one too! The exact appearance of the outfit is up to you, but I'm sure it'll drive your opponent (and the crowd) utterly wild.

Adult's Toy Box (100 CP): This container is chock full of sex toys of all shapes and sizes, from dildos to vibrators and onaholes. They're all above average in quality but are otherwise nothing special, being completely mundane and unenchanted, although the box does refill itself after a few days or so. That said, quantity tends to have a quality all its own. Maybe you can sneak these in underneath your hat.

Witch's Onahole (100 CP): A custommade onahole with a deliciously textured inside, it's enchanted to ooze special mushroom-based aphrodisiac at all times, as well as clean itself in the blink of an eye! Of course, that aphrodisiac is a double-edged sword here, to say nothing of the many tournaments that declare tools such as this against the rules.

Mysterious Mask (200 CP): Who could this strange doll-using girl be? Anyone who wears this mask will have their identity hidden from anyone that didn't see them take it off or put it on, allowing them to wow others with their alluring mystique…and get past any embarrassment they might have over doing this sort of sport in front of a cheering crowd.

Judge's Collar (200 CP): This strap is worn around a contestant's dick and vibrates violently whenever they try to use an Ability, with a strength enough that they can barely move, much less get up to whatever foul play they had intended. Perfect for training, keeping a match fair or just for fun! You get half a dozen of these straps, each enchanted to always fit no matter the size of the cock.

Demon-Engineer's Devices (400 CP): Behold the peak of Kappa sex engineering, designed after long hours of testing on the inventor's own body. A backpack full of long stretchy mechanical arms ending in bright white 'gloves', the insides of which are equipped with textured surfaces sure to turn mere groping into an experience that sets the body alight with pleasure, to say nothing of actual handjobs or fingering. The palms are even equipped with onaholes!

Cursed Doll (400 CP): This traditional ceramic doll is creepy as all get-out, but more importantly it has a special property that devours curses and blame. You can have it take the fall for a misdeed you've done, and whoever's in charge of the punishment will treat it as if it was you, even a version of you that's being remarkably cooperative. It'll take a day or so for the doll to digest its 'meal' after that, at which point it will be ready to be used again.

Squared Circle (600 CP): This wrestling ring was specially constructed by the Kappa for the purpose of hosting GFCW tournaments and all in a single night! They clearly do good work, too because not only is it durable enough to handle the chaos of the tournaments themselves without suffering a single crack or dent but it has enough seating to fit the entirety of Gensoukyou inside of it! Somehow! Maybe the Kappa cut a deal with Yukari because the rules of space seem to have gone out to lunch here.

Trickster's Camera (600 CP): One might think it a mere toy but in reality it's as powerful as any spell card. Sure, if it can be used as a normal camera (and never runs out of power or film), but more importantly, taking a picture will remove any projectiles as well as sending a shock through anyone caught in the shot as their energies are disrupted. Naturally, this 'shock' is incredibly pleasurable, sending jolts of bliss through any body part affected with enough force that they're sure to be stunned for at least an instant. And if one were sadistic enough to just keep clicking…

Companions

Import (100 CP): You want to invite someone else to join the fun? Sure! The more the merrier! Each companion you import into this setting gets 600 CP to spend and an origin of their choice. Oh, this is so exciting! I'm sure they'll have just as much fun as we'll have with them!

Canon Character (100 CP each):.There's so many cute girls here that it's no wonder that you'd want to bring them with you! Each purchase of this option gets you a slot that you can fill with someone willing to come with you, although you should know that that'll be much harder for some than others. You'll have a hard time convincing Sakuya to leave unless her mistress is going to be coming too, after all. Although considering Remilia's NTR fantasies…

Tentacle Youkai (50 CP each): These masses of lewd tentacles embody specific sex acts from Kissing/Licking to Anal Penetration to even Hypno-Sex! They might not be very strong in the traditional sense, but they're incredibly good at the sex act that has brought them into being, as well as sex in general. That said, they certainly aren't one-dimensional tentacle beasts. No, they each have their own personality, quirks and interests. For example, the Youkai of Kissing And Licking greatly enjoys Tea Ceremony. Each purchase of this Companion will get you one of these Youkai, embodying an act of your choice.

Drawbacks

Tutorial Girl (+100): It seems you've been conscripted to explain the rules of the sport before each tournament, perhaps even demonstrating them on occasion. Don't worry if you can't make it to each and every one, they'll be happy to play videos of your lewd activities to help pump up the crowd instead. I'm sure Marisa will be happy with the break you're giving her.

Another Story (+100): Wow! They really love you, huh? After each match, there's a chance for the ring to be swarmed by horny futa spectators, eager to cum on and inside of any contestant too tired to avoid them and make them spurt until they're lying in a puddle of their own semen. Be nice to all of your fans and admirers, you hear?

Green-Haired Girls Love Lewd Things (+100): It's just common sense right? So of course, along with a head of lovely green hair you've also gained an appreciation and interest for all things lewd. You'll probably be lost in fantasies at inconvenient moments and even when you're actively sating your desires in the ring or the bedroom, you can expect your own thoughts to help drive you towards a wonderfully lewd climax if you don't keep a lock on them at all times.

Greed IS Good (+200): Or at least, you certainly think so. No matter how rich or poor you actually happen to be, you're always out to get more. And while that might amp up your motivation if they're offering prize money, it can also drive you to more lurid means of obtaining wealth, or even accept a bribe to take a fall in the ring! Stay strong, Jumper!

Glass Cannon (+200): It looks like that even if you can dish it out you can't actually take it yourself. Whether naturally or the result of some kind of supernatural phenomenon, your body is around half again as sensitive to pleasure as normal, leaving you writhing and moaning.

Who? (+200): It seems a certain satori has taken a liking to you! You can expect her to follow you around and play with your body at random intervals, gleefully making you cum anywhere from your bedroom to a public market to the ring itself. Or rather, you can't expect her because you're probably not going to remember she even exists.

Black And White (+300): Seriously!? Can't we get a different referee then Shiki? Er, ask her to step down…? *Any*way, that goofy judge of the dead always seems to be indisposed whenever your opponent breaks the rules, getting distracted by something in the stands, getting lost in thought or even just getting their eyes covered by something while your opponent acts. Naturally, that doesn't seem to happen any more often than normal when you try it.

Awoo! (+300): It seems that you've been possessed by a wolf spirit and while that might give you an advantage in more traditional combat, here it mostly just gets you into trouble. The possession may have given you a boost to your strength and senses, but it's also made you far more aggressive and confident…or should I say overconfident. To the point where you might end up doing something stupid like challenging a pair of goddesses to a two vs one match. Hey! Look at the bright side! Losing is a very enjoyable experience in this sport!

Notes

The Rules of GFCW/GFDW

While the exact rules can change from tournament to tournament, there are a few ironclad ones that have come together over the course of the sport's lifetime:

1) If a contestant orgasms and can't regain their erection after a count of ten seconds, they lose the match.
2) Excessive violence is forbidden. Committing such violence or other rulebreaking will result in a punishment at the discretion of the referee. Racking up five of these punishments results in a disqualification.
3) And finally, after it happened way too many times, if the match devolves to the point where both contestants are just having normal sex with each other without any regard for the situation or trying to win the match, then they are both disqualified.

Beyond that, the legality of the use of tools, abilities, magic, tag partners, whether creampieing your opponent does anything, whether certain sex acts are required or banned, and other such details varies from tournament to tournament. Rope breaks and ring outs are usually not a thing.

Abilities

Most GFCW tournaments ban the use of abilities, which are defined as inherent supernatural powers that cannot be taught to normal humans. If it can be taught, then that's a 'Technique' and doesn't count. Note that it can still be really hard for someone to learn without the proper affinities. It just has to be possible, even if it takes months or years of hard work.

Chinpo?

Chinpo means dick, so you can really call the sport GFCW or GFDW as you wish. :)
