What Fresh Hell is This?

We're going to skip all that introduction business and cut straight to the point. You haven't been keeping up in your training and your exploits are less entertaining as of late. You need to learn to listen to others, and we can think of no funnier way to do this than to force you to spend the next ten years as a housepet.

Without further ado, welcome to the world of

Winter dogs +cats

This is really happening.

It is not a joke.

This jump literally takes place in a world revolving around the care and training of adorable pets that stay young forever.

You're going to be one of those pets.

If you end up in the pound, you lose.

Budget

We use a special currency for buying attributes in this world, derived from pets that didn't perform up to expectations. If you don't want to meet the same fate spend these wisely. You can choose your own breed, learn exciting new tricks, or even get some dog toys to help you excel.

Concentrated Puppies

Origins

Where puppies come from is a mystery, and where you came from most of all. Sadly, not all puppies are created equal. Whatever you are, you'll start off in a kennel surrounded by others. Fear not, you'll soon be taken to a new home where you can enjoy all there is to being somebody's pet. Alternate forms are not locked to you, but a discovery that makes someone expel you from the household will result in a failure.

Mutt

+ You get to live the dog life
+ Low expectations

Mutts don't get a benefit of selecting a breed, but they also don't have to live up to the lofty expectations of an ancestral pedigree. All you have to worry about is enjoying life to the fullest as you're reborn into your new puppy form. Being a mutt isn't all that glamourous, but no one is going to judge you for rolling around in the garbage or begging for a treat at the dinner table. You also get the peace of mind of not having to worry about the unfortunate genetic conditions present in inbred purebred dogs.

Free

Half-Breed

+ You can blend with all kinds of dogs
+ More options for breed abilities

Not every dog can have a spotless pedigree. And who wants to have such a clean history anyway? Isn't half the fun of being a canine the supposed to be freedom to roll around in mud without being judged? Or the freedom to roll in the grass right after a bath? There's no need to settle for just one noble lineage when you can have two anyway. As luck would have it, you get all the best traits of your parent species. For an extra 100CP, you may choose extra breeds beyond the first two.

100CP

Pedigree

+You get to feel like royalty among dogs
+ You still get to goof around like other pups

You come from a long line of purebreds are not afraid to boast. You've got all the papers that prove you're a cut above the common rabble you've seen in town. It's difficult to balance the exuberance and energy of being a puppy with the haughtiness and snobbery than come with your pure heritage, but somehow you manage it. With all the other dogs you interact with also being puppies, these 'cultural barriers' quickly dissolve into playtime. Looking back though, you may chastise yourself for behaving uncouthly.

100CP

Feline

+ You're an independant proud creature
+ You can still get head rubs when you want

A deadly predator, you stalk your prey through the unparalleled danger of the wilderness that is the living room. You'll have much more lenience in bad behaviour than a dog, since cats aren't often expected to play nice. You possess razor fangs and vicious claws that make short work of any rodents that dare intrude on your domain. Your favourite activities are lounging in the sun and chasing bugs, but you will also accept playtime and affection when it suits your mood. You're going to be calling the shots once you're adopted.

100CP

Human

+ You get to remain your humanity
+ You also maintain the use of thumbs

Trying to get out of playing by the rules huh? Well you're still going to have to live in a world where pets are all that matter. In fact, you get three canine companions for free (who can be imported). With the intense focus on animal well-being in the area, you'll be expected to treat them exceptionally. If any end up in the pound it will be treated as a failure condition. Additional imports will not be subject to such scrutiny. If you want to be that crazy cat/dog lady at the end of the lane, all the power to you.

200CP

Experiment

+ You're a cool, horrible monster
+ Instant bond with loving child

The kennel isn't sure what you are, but you seemed dog-like enough to be kept here. This option is only available if you have a vaguely dog-like alternate form provided from a previous jump. You may enter this world as a youthful version of that animal. Your owner will see you as a unique and precious puppy at first, even if you do really weird stuff. Most other people might still fear you as a monster though. You have a strange urge to cause mayhem and vague memories of a laboratory and Elvis Songs.

300CP

Age

You are puppy aged, or possibly kitten aged.

If for some twisted reason you decided not to be an animal, roll 1d8 + 18.

50CP

Since you're being forced to spend the next ten years as a young animal (unless you took the coward's way and remained human) it seems only fair to let you pick out the people you'll call family. The household is up to you, but the house itself isn't. Roll 1d8 to reveal what kind of home you're moving into. If you want to choose you're own interior decoration, you can do so for 100CP.

You're being taken care of by a young man or woman. They spend a lot of the day away from the house, busy with work. Here you'll be cared for man and woman have been together fifty years and are living off their retirement.
