+1000 AP (Agenda Points)

Perks

Two perks and items per price tier are discounted 50%. 100 point discounted perks and items are free.

100 - Fraud Tactics

You? Getting into a head-on fight?! Are you crazy, this is 1 HP Rocks we're talking about! You've mastered all the fraudulent tactics to win how only a loser can - sneak attacks on near dead enemies, jumping, hunting exclusively women and slaves. Your fraudulent victories acquired from these tactics are treated as real, giving you the full credit for taking out Rocks even if he was at 1HP and you jumped him.

100 - Bootlicker

Desk Jockey. Lobsterblud. Slave acquirer. You go by many names, but most of all you are a devoted servant. You are a world class servant to any evil force, be it the World Government or someone like Blackbeard they'll welcome you with open arms and embrace you as perhaps their most devoted minion.

100 - Culo Clap

You've unlocked a powerful secret technique - the ability to squeeze enemies by the neck between your massive cheeks. When your booty grips their neck they'll be rendered helpless and defeated. This technique is most effective on enemies weaker than or equal to you in strength.

100 - …

200 - Minority Hunter

Is that a non-white in your presence?! Not on your watch! Whenever you fight a racial minority your power is multiplied several times over. Just the sight of dark skin fills you with an immense rage which massively reinforces your will to defeat the minority in question. You've mastered many techniques such as minority hunt which are metaphysically harmful to all people of a different race or species to yourself.

200 - Rat

You're a traitor, a snitch, a rat! Your prowess as a snitch is second to none as you happen to overhear all sorts of info that would be useful to your masters and you can get it to them without anyone knowing. Your masters will, in turn, help you. You've become such a rat you can literally shapeshift into a tiny rat, a humanoid rat form and a giant powerful rat (who makes all the rules).

200 - Lend Me Some Haki!

When someone needs Haki, who will they turn to? You, obviously. You've mastered the art of lending others your Haki to let them defeat powerful enemies like base Lucci. You can do this both remotely and by giving them Haki knots filled with your Conqueror's Haki they can use to make it look like they aren't frauds with no CoC.

200 - Big Business

Life is like a sandwich - no matter how you eat it the bread comes first. Doing your job and getting that paper is always the top priority. Moral qualms can be set aside even if you have to kill your best friend. The pursuit of that paycheck gives you a "cash money amp" that makes you more powerful the more desperate and hungry you are for that moolah.

400 - Nepo Piece

Who needs to work for things when you can inherit all you need? You've got very powerful friends and family members like the pirate king, Rocks and Harald. You've not only inherited the power of your direct relative, but the other people you know will work themselves to the bone ensuring you don't end up a fraud and will help you through life. You'll have similar connections in future worlds, ensuring you never have to do anything yourself!

400 - Fist of Oppression

The slaves will never be free! Who will bring the celestial dragons their lobster?! You can't allow any sort of freedom to these slaves! The power of oppression burns within you! The more powerful your desire to keep others oppressed, the more powerful you become. Your attacks, in turn, have an effect of shattering the hope of those they hit with every strike! Oppression impact!

400 - Beating the Allegations

They called you a fraud. A bum. Washed up. Mid. They even had the gall to compare you to Eustass Kidd! Well you're gonna show them all! The more people root against your success and believe you're a fraud, the more powerful your will to prove them wrong. This strength of will allows you to reach levels of peak never thought possible and overcome your fraudulence. You'll silence all the haters when you low-diff your opponent!

400 - Let Us Postpone This Match

That would seem most advantageous for both of us! Whenever you battle an opponent you're somehow always strong enough that your enemy will likely decide the fight is too much effort to be worth their time. That's not to say you would necessarily win, but they would have to put in some elbow grease to beat you and they've got other stuff going on.

600 - Jumper Upscale

Is that a SWORD I see?! Looks like yet another upscale! You have a title such as the “world’s strongest swordsman” which means that, obviously, anyone who is a swordsman is weaker than you. In fact, anyone who was ever a swordsman is weaker than you. Anyone who ever held a sword is weaker than you! This is how your title works - its objective truth retroactively rewrites reality to make it so that you were always stronger than any person that even vaguely meets the condition, amplifying your strength above theirs. This title can't be more encompassing than something like “World’s strongest swordsman” though.

600 - Haki Man

How can a swordsman beat the world's strongest swordsman? It's simple, you're a Haki man. The Haki you possess is on par with Rat fur Shanks, greater than anyone else in the world! You've mastered the art of summoning a Haki Susanoo and can even fire Haki lasers with your CoC. This nature of Haki man allows you to completely dodge logical reasons why someone else should be stronger than you and handwave them into nonexistence. Fastest man alive? Is he the Haki-est man alive? King of the pirates? Is he king of the Haki? This ability unfortunately only works if the target hasn't displayed any feats that put them above you.

600 - Offscreen Haki

They say “When the fight is offscreen, always bet on Jumper”. You've mastered the most secret Haki of all - offscreen Haki. With this Haki, whenever you have a fight offscreen you'll be guaranteed to win regardless of the strength of your opponent. What determines you being offscreen is a bit nebulous, but in desperate times you have the ability to drag the fight offscreen manually and if your opponent can't stop you before you manage to do so then you'll surely win.

600 - The GOAT

The strongest. Top 1. Future main villain. There are many accolades people ascribe to you, but one thing is for sure - you are the strongest. Why? Vague narrative implications, SBS statements, magma and receiving more glaze than the donuts you turn other people into. Once enough people believe you're the strongest, it becomes a self fulfilling prophecy and you really do become it as if by consensus reality. Admirals? Yonkos? Gorosei? They're all fodder compared to you and everyone knows it. Consequently, though, should the faith in you waver, you'll lose your power and be demoted to nothing but a desk jockey who fetches lobster for celestial dragons.

Items

100 - Black Paint
Cans of special ACoC black paint supplied by Ms. Goldenweek herself. There's practically an ocean or the stuff with how many cans you've stocked up. The paint is so similar in resemblance to the natural color of a black blade that you could paint your blade with it and nobody would be any the wiser.

100 - Cheese
Delicious cheese, the favorite treat of any rat, including the king of the snitches himself. Shanks might even sell out Luffy or any of his other friends to you if you offer him some. You could also lay a trap for any rats you wanna get rid of. It doesn't matter how smart they are, this cheese is too good for them to pass up.

100 - Lobster
The finest of dining fit for a celestial dragon. Not only is the lobster prepared by the finest of chefs in Mary Geoise, but it's gathered and delivered by your own fleet Admiral servant, though he refuses to do anything except fetch you the lobster when ordered.

100 - Paycheck
The only thing that matters. This is the check you get every month from the world government. You'll still get this even if you do absolutely nothing for the world government. You'll even get it if you work against them. Alternatively, by doing particularly excellent service for the world government you'll get a big bonus. All you gotta do is kill a homie or two. Easy, right?

200 - Ice
You've got a massive iceberg, as big as a range of mountains. What is the point of owning a giant iceberg? It will give you your only feat! This iceberg is particularly easy to cut, making a swordsman look vastly stronger than they actually are. Cutting it is an incredibly effective training method for a swordsman.

200 - Kizaru Doordash
Have you ever delivered a McChicken at the speed of light? Well Kizaru has! As if by magic, whenever you're hungry Kizaru will deliver you the exact food you're hungry for so quickly you don't even notice him show up or leave. He can show up literally anywhere, even in the most private or sealed dimension, all to give you your order. What a hero.

200 - Bandanna
“Jumper has yet to go all out. After all, he hasn't even put on his bandanna yet.” This bandanna has a special effect on you. When you wear it on your head it increases your power and massively improves your focus. You become fully “locked in” or “in the zone”, as it were. You ascend beyond your full potential, however the bandanna has to “build” power and so you can't use it all the time. It may take days or even weeks to recharge its power depending on how heavily you rely on it.

200 - Propaganda Machine
Agendas do not merely exist. Rather, they must be pushed, and now you've acquired the means to push whatever agenda you want. You have a whole army of hilarious meme-making propagandists at your disposal, all armed with computers and MS Paint. They can flood any space with whatever physical or digital propaganda you want and it's so funny that massive swathes of the population will believe the memes. Now YOU control the agenda.

400 - Shakky's Underwear
The seas are filled with simps. These men (and women) would do anything for even a crumb from the legendary Shakuyaku, even murder a man trying to save his family from being killed. Now, a fragment of that power is in your hands because you have Shakky's used panties. Imbued with her fragrance, these panties can control any person with a simp-ish bone in their body whether they know who Shakky is or not. You can get them to do almost anything in exchange for these panties and once you give them away you get another pair.

400 - Office
As long as you keep your ass in this office… you won't be finished! Somehow, this office is completely impenetrable to enemies. Nobody gets in without you letting them in and it's entirely indestructible. It's near impossible for you to be hurt while you're in here. Unfortunately, if you stay in the office too long you will be required to do paperwork.

400 - Snitch Snail
This is your communicator for all your snitching activities. It's completely impossible for outside forces to monitor communications that go through this snail, making your snitching perfectly safe. Those you're snitching to will accrue a "debt" with you the more you snitch to them and by using this debt you can call in specific backup. Do enough snitching for the World Government and even Imu will come down to help you. In this world it's the World Government this links to, but you can choose any organization in future worlds to snitch to.

400 - Twerking For Jumper
It's dancing naked time! You have some sort of leverage over a specific, very powerful and important person such as a Yonko or the Fleet Admiral of the Marines. This leverage is so great they'll do anything you tell them to, even dance naked in the streets every day for years. You'll have leverage on a similarly important figure in each future world you visit.

600 - Black Blade
No paint here, folks! This is a genuine black blade forged out of your own Haki. This makes the blade in a vague but measurable way metaphysically superior to every blade that isn't a black blade and thus it can defeat any non-black blade. It also symbolizes your superiority over every other swordsman, who have to acknowledge their fraudulence if they lack a black blade.

600 - Jika Fruit
He has returned… Jika! This is the legendary Jika fruit, a devil fruit which gives unparalleled control over the force of electromagnetism. While these powers are busted, what's truly amazing is that the user will revive from death as the legendary god of magnetism - Jika! In such a state even that rat Shanks wouldn't stand a chance! This fruit will revive you from the dead once per jump or every ten years depending on which comes first.

600 - Haki Knots
Your secret weapon. With these you don't need power. You can be a fraud and still be the strongest. You have accumulated rope knots filled with Conqueror’s Haki from all the strongest figures in history. Roger, Garp, Whitebeard, even Joyboy’s Haki is at your disposal. It can not only knock out or de-transform powerful enemies, but the knots can be used for attacks to make it look like you have advanced Conqueror’s. With your limitless knots you're unstoppable!

Companions

100 - I Still Have My Friends

Wanna make all your friends into frauds? You can import/create two companions per 100 AP spent on this option, giving them each an origin and +600 AP to spend on any options. Alternatively, you can create/import one companion per 100 AP, giving them the same benefits but +1000 AP to spend.

Free - Frauds Who Stare at GOATs

You will meet many insane, evil and retarded characters during your time here. If you'd want to bring any of them with you for whatever reason then all you have to do is invite them to come with you on your chain. If they accept then you'll be able to make them a companion.

200 - OP Squirrel

Dread it… run from it… destiny arrives all the same. This giant squirrel is Ragnir, the strongest creature in the world. God's Knights, Yonkos, fleet Admirals, all are squashed beneath this squirrel/hammer’s fluffy tail easily. Only GODki, the legendary giant, has enough power to stop this creature (or Blackbeard with offscreen Haki). He can switch between being a giant squirrel or a giant hammer at will, or a hybrid state. He's now your loyal pet.

Drawbacks

+100 - Simp

S-I-M-P. You're a simp! You've become a pathetic simp, obsessed with acquiring female attention at any cost. You lose almost all sense of reasonable behavior or loyalty as soon as a woman you wanna simp for is in the picture. You might even try to kill a guy. Pack it up, little bro, she don't want you.

+100 - Slandered

Why does everyone keep calling you a rat, or saying that you paint your sword black? Because of the agenda. You've been widely slandered and called a fraud and now no one believes you're strong even if you actually are. There's no way to fix your PR. You'll always be known as a fraud. The only thing you can do is cope.

+100 - Desk Jockey

Hope you weren't planning on having fun adventures. No, you'll spend most of your time glued to your desk performing your riveting job of filling out paperwork. You get the occasional break to actually go out and do things, but you're not off the leash for very long before you have to go back to the mind numbing, soul crushing grind.

+200 - Friends Like These

You can't rely on anyone in this world. You stick your neck out for these people, join their revolutionary army and they don't even help you rescue the love of your life. The friends you have are useless at best, never helping you when you need it and then gaslighting you as if you're rude for expecting any kind of support. They'll pawn their problems off on you when it's convenient, too. Maybe you should just fly solo for a while.

+200 - I Better Keep My Ass In This Office

Or YOU'RE FINISHED!!! Somewhere in the world is an enemy who has a grudge against you and a special technique that would easily kill you. Suffice to say, if you fought them you would 100% die and not come back, so you're gonna have to avoid them at all costs. The best method would be to keep your head down and do some paperwork, but that might be worse than death.

+200 - Sneak Attack Victim

It seems you just can't find fair fights these days. People are always jumping out of nowhere to attack you when you're most vulnerable. At 1HP and unable to move? You better believe the fraud knights are coming to claim a free win! Your supposed “allies” might just turn traitor and attack you when you're not expecting it and even supposedly “honorable” enemies won't turn down a chance to sneak you. Is everyone a coward?

+300 - Fraud

It wasn't just slander. You really are an incompetent, weak, pathetic fraud, barely strong enough to take on the likes of Don Krieg. Against anyone actually strong you would be sweating bullets and begging for them to not use Haki. More concerning than the fact you’re a complete failure is that you keep running into conflict with incredibly powerful characters who wanna fight you. Good luck!

+300 - Wrath of Akainu

It's over for you. Akainu, the donut generator, has left his office and now he'll stop at nothing to take you out. He's now the strongest in the world, even greater than Imu and Ragnir for some reason, and his magma can melt through you like an ice cube. His only weaknesses are that boy Zoro, as he can cut magma, and his celestial dragon masters calling him back to deliver them lobster. If you even think about fighting him you'll be turned into a victim in an edit.

+300 - Naked Dancer

Bad news - the celestial dragons have your number. The Gorosei either have something you want or have incriminating evidence against you so terrible that you'll do anything they say. Not only will they have you constantly going on incredibly dangerous missions which defy your moral compass, but they love humiliating you so they also make you twerk naked for them in public every single day. This humiliation will not end as long as you’re here.

The End

Nothing was learned or accomplished by coming here. Move on to your next jump. Break next week.
