
OPPAI Academy
Big, Bouncy, Booby Babes!
- OPPAI Academy: Big, Bouncy, Booby Babes! -

Moto! Haramase! Honoo no Oppai Isekai Ero Mahou Gakuen!

EroMahou, Hmaho, More! Knock Me Up! An Ero-Magic Academy in the Parallel World of Fiery Boobs!

There exists another world beside our own, entangled and yet separated, easily traveled to and yet infinitely far away. This place is the world of Yggdrasil, also known as the Otherworld, the reverse side of the world, and in times past has been mistaken for the many heavens and hells of mythology. These days, it is an almost paradisiacal place wherein magic and technology have been used to iron out the flaws that Earth suffers from to create ever greater feats of magic, engineering, technology, society, and so forth. And within that world there is a part of it that soars above even the best of the world of Yggdrasil, a place where the opulence of the ancient kings of Earth looks poor by comparison. That is where our story takes place.

Or if you want a TLDR - you will be arriving one week prior to a certain dimensional traveler's crash landing into the girls bathing area of a certain school, an event that will be setting the tone for the rest of the jump.

Or if you prefer a musical accompaniment-

Now this is a story all about how
Takumi's life got flipped-turned upside down
And I'd like to take a minute
Just sit right there
I'll tell you how his ero-magic got him laid

In Yggdrasil Academy, isekai'ed and enrolled
With a death grip in his dick is how he spends his days
Chillin' out, maxin', realaxin', gettin' all good
Skipping on class to use some magic on them boobs

When his ero-magic activates
It takes away everyone's clothes
Then drags him to fuck a girl's ass
At least it's not a man's!

Now jumper's getting ready to enroll
Take on the world like a storm
He just needs some dough
So, have these 1000cp and fuck off

Origins

Drop In
Instead of forging a new identity, you have chosen the harsher path of being yourself. I know I wouldn't be you if given the chance, so at least have some praise for the courage and lack of shame. Hope you're prepared for the ride cause this isn't Kansas anymore. You'll be starting with nothing but the clothes on your back, a bum bag with basic stuff plus enough money to survive for a month, and a letter of introduction that will let you enroll in Yggdrasil as a student or teacher depending on your age.

Isekaijin
You used to be some random schmuck living his life incorrectly when Truck-kun came around and slapped your fly girl's dump truck ass. Naturally, you rolled your sleeves and prepared to teach it a lesson in pain. After being humiliated in front of everyone, robbed blind, and losing your girl to a machine, you were sent to another world to add salt to the injury. However, this proved to be nothing more than an opportunity, as now you can spend your days in Yggdrasil messing with magic while surrounded by hot babes with giant tiddies.

Proper Student
Born with talent, grace, and a good bloodline. Ever since you have memory you have been surrounded by the love of your family and the expectations from those that saw your potential, which has led you to enroll into Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academygic Academy in order to pursue higher peaks. Unlike the other two previous options, you don't start as a bum, but as a prodigious pupil, with a decent practical and theoretical grasp over your preferred magic purview and the backing of your family, which gives you access to funds, connections and even secret spells.

Educator
Arguably the most experienced, mature and competent one in the room, the teacher of the class. As part of the staff for Yggdrasil, your credentials and teaching skills must be way above average, not only because of the school's reputation, but because this place is filled with headstrong and proud girls filled to the brim with dangerous magic and very little forethought or care for consequences. As an actual independent sorcerer, you're a master of your particular style, have the connections and reputation to match. Your savings are quite good as well, a testament of your life work so far.

Age and Gender

Drop in and Isekaijin may swap to male for free.
Proper Student and Educator may swap to female for free.
Otherwise, you may keep your current gender or pay 50 cp to choose freely.
Your age may be chosen freely as long as it makes sense for your origin.

Discount Rules

100 cp perks and items are free to their respective origins.
All others half off as appropriate.

Drop In Perks

100cp – Realistic Aspirations
Seems like all those years stuck inside your room didn't exactly leave you a paragon of social grace, but at least you didn't just wank and watch anime while hidden in that unlit room. You have managed to at least find a small niche you're pretty talented at and have managed to learn most of it by yourself (thanks to the internet). Anything niche talent counts, from writing smut (and only smut), to pixel art, or even brewing mead. As long as it's around those specific levels, you can choose anything. It's not enough to classify as a revolutionary genius, but it does make you good enough to make a job out of it easily.

100cp – Hating the French Gives Me Power
You're a bit different from the other guy, in the sense that you at least seem theoretically capable of caring for others beyond just using them to get your dick wet. Which shouldn't mean as much as it does, but I'll take what I can get. This gift makes you incredibly good at pampering others. Just a general, but very distinctive, gut feeling of what makes others feel content and happy. At the most basic you can tell how they're feeling at the time and quickly realize whenever they aren't being honest about their feelings. With some practice you can tune it for more practical purposes, like holding someone and forcing them to feel incredible pleasure against their will. Once fully mastered your mere company will make others feel cozy, protected and appreciated. Technically speaking you could use this to be a walking NTR factory, or even weaponize it for battle, but I'm trusting you won't misuse this.

200cp – Sin of Attraction
Look mate, I can see that you aren't exactly eroge protagonist material just yet. Your eyes aren't obscured and don't have a dong that can keep shooting for days on end without rest. That's a big demerit here. Let's fix that right now with this, you get a nifty boost on your lower sword, enough to make most incubi and sex gods feel inadequate, it comes with the appropriate lack of refractory period and testicles that easily produce enough to fill several buckets or even a jacuzzi. You could enter a competition with Zeus, Freyr, Eros or other shabosky gods just to utterly humiliate the poor saps. As a side effect your sex drive has been utterly supercharged. You aren't obsessed with sex or anything, but when something gets your motor running, you could easily cum at least half a dozen times before feeling satisfied. And yes, you can obscure your eyes like a generic hentai character, people will notice but most of them will think it's kinda hot. Don't be surprised if your friends don't let their wives near you.

200cp – Protagonist Correction
Jesus Christ! How horrifying! Stop, we can't have you walking around like the absolute mess you are. Just look at yourself in the mirror, it's making hobos look good in comparison. There! Now you're handsome and suave, objectively a 9/10 at least. 9/10 cock too, oddly pleasant for women to look at, nice smell even when you haven't showered in a while. Call it manly musk, not a stink. To top it off, you have a natural charisma that makes your nonsense come off as rather funny or oddly charming instead of annoying, and your stupidity is more of a bonus or an endearing quirk rather than a complete turn off. Bear in mind this is just the results of superior looks and charisma, it won't mess with their brains, only adjust your own body language and micro expressions to subtly make you look better in their eyes.

400cp – Lovely & Terrible
For some, sex and love are two different things that may overlap but are never equaled, but when you're in the picture, this gets flipped on. Whenever you have sex with someone, they will find themselves falling in love with you, with the increase being directly proportional to the quantity and quality of the shagging. Even a bit of teasing can start a mild crush, even a one-night stand can cause some good emotional attachment, and with enough fucking the bonds they develop with you will be unbreakable. This can stack if you want to, so don't be discouraged if you don't make the most of it at first try. Also, this doesn't make you into some kind of sex god or anything like that, it's just focused on feelings of love, so you might need to get something else for the rest.

400cp – The Main Character Is Me
Time to make something clear between us. You're a visitor, some kind of interdimensional tourist jumping from one place to another thanks to some sponsorship. But you don't have to be a mere third party intruding into a play, you can be more, you can steal the lead role for yourself. This gift will make it so circumstances and scenarios are always flexible enough to allow you to take a shot at protagonism. Prophesy about saving the world? It's now about you and not that redhead kid. Super special magic or item that only the chosen one may wield? Yours for the taking. Some poor sap got isekai'ed right into a magic school for girls with big boobs? Nope, it was you all along, he overheated and had a stroke. Childhood friend marriage promise? You guessed it, it was with you. This can be controlled, letting you be anything from a side character to taking center stage. Mind you,if the hero having a specific skill is super important, you might want to consider bowing out if you don't have it.

600cp – Predatory Lover
Remember what I said about you being a paragon of pure love and courtly romance? Seems like I got confused, because you're a snake, a being of subtle manipulation and ruthless dominance. Your sheer presence has the effect of making others around feel more submissive towards you, brands them to feel more welcoming and accepting of you and your words. This is no small deviation, but a strong inner compulsion which inclines them into finding that obeying you is correct and expected. Those that dislike you or are naturally disagreeable feel compelled to at least hear you out and will accept basically anything as long as there's a reasonable-sounding explanation. While those that are neutral will do stuff you order automatically before realizing. The less said about those that already like you, the better. This stacks over time and more interaction. Eventually anyone will find it euphoric to submit, like it was always meant to be that way, the most natural and rewarding feeling. This makes your praise and disapproval go a long way, enough to make Pavlov blush.

600cp – Anti Ero-Magic Field
You know, if you stop and think about it, that one kid with the Ero-Magic is a serious asshole with a dubious understanding of consent. Like, I get some of the girls, they used to be friends, or they think they owe him a favor or whatever, or they were literally born to be his assistant, but the rest of them? The only reason he has any chance with them is because of reality warping, mind control, and a good dose of emotional and actual blackmail on occasion. Which, uh, I don't know about you but those things aren't exactly the best foundation for a relationship. And if you're so inclined, we can just sort of... turn those things off. When you're around, those kinds of things rapidly degrade. Man blackmails a woman to mail him for political reasons? The blackmail disappears and the political concerns are solved. Evil wizard mind controls the local queen to help him summon an evil god? The mind control fails and so does the summoning. Passing reality warper installs himself as king of an amazon island? Reality warps back and they probably kick his ass. Interestingly, while the assholes in these scenarios are completely incapable of fingering you as the cause of this, the people you save seem to be instinctively aware that it was you who saved them. The only time this ability doesn't work is when you're the one doing the deed, but you don't have that power. Right? And if you did have that kind of power, others would find it nearly impossible to counter you in the same way.

Isekaijin Perks

100cp – I Want To Live In A World Full Of Oppai!
Reboobify! This magic spell of mine you shall behold! Allow a world full of gigantic oppai to unfold! …Man, Ero Magic is weird sometimes. And yet, with this incantation, you now live in a world full of wonderfully hefty chests. The new average and minimum breast size of the human female - and anything that vaguely looks like a human for that matter, such as vampires, elves, mermaids, and dragons - are now several sizes higher. Not only that, but the sheer quality of your average breast is higher as well, being softer and squishier, as well as more gropeable, suckable, lickable, and fuckable. In summary? Everything that's good about boobs is now better - girls will even wear more form fitting and revealing clothing thanks to this newfound heft.

100cp – Eroge Protagonists Don't Use Name Tags
Unlock the hidden facets of human interaction with this revolutionary perk and experience a reality overlay that reveals detailed information about individuals at a glance. Names, hobbies, interests, strengths, dislikes, and even sex history populate your field of vision, allowing you to tailor conversations and interactions to suit your needs and wants. Of course, these details don't include what they're currently thinking or what they're planning to do, but you will get a decent amount of information on them, it also serves as a sort of mental notepad to keep track of what you know of them as it updates itself with the correct information that you learn. It can be turned on and off at will.

200cp – I Would Absolutely Waste My Spell Slots On Embooben
Alright, alright, I get it. You want to use some magic but you also want to be a fucking pervert. Alright you needy slut. Here's the deal, this gift will grant you knowledge and skill for basic magic of any world you visit, nothing grand, but more than enough to pass for an initiate in whatever magical society there's around (if there's any). Of course, having the minimum basic requirements to use magic are included. Don't worry, you get to keep that magic working even in other worlds, although some details might change depending on the metaphysics involved. As a bonus, just for being you, this also comes with 'lewder' versions of most spells, such as physical enchantments that make boobs bigger permanently or waterball becoming a curse that makes the victim lactate.

200cp – Your Boobs Are Wonderful, Please Don't Hurt Me
As amazing as the boobs are in this world, there's one very important thing the ladies they're attached to would like you to have – a sense of shame. Fuck that. No shame to be found here. Instead, people seem to take your perversions, molestations, and other shameless flirting attempts in what amounts to the best way possible. Oh sure, a woman you've never met before would probably be mad if you slapped her ass, but in secret this would also make her proud of herself for having such a slappable ass in the first place. This can result in some pretty weird friendships if you go all in on physical affection, so be sure to constantly compliment how big her boobs are.

400cp – Hidden Behind the Boobs
No matter how much of a perverted layabout you may be, everyone has something they're good at. No, being a pervert doesn't count as a skill, that's a lifestyle. Anyways, as it turns out when you're not being distracted by your "homework folder", you can actually show enough talent and skill to get things done. You aren't a super genius nor an eminence on the subject, but you are talented enough that you might easily become an acclaimed artist, or a novel writer. Probably an adult light novel, but that doesn't detract from the capacity needed to create something that stands out. Or maybe you'd prefer to become a national tier chess player? Well, feel free to pick a couple areas where your talent blooms enough that you can easily make a standing career out of it.

400cp – Let Me Tell You A Story About Tits
Sometimes, the world just likes to throw surprises at you. Things like being transported to another world after your heater goes haywire, finding out that your childhood friend is a witch attending magic school, or realizing you now have a cheat power that's only useful for getting you laid… Yup, life can be like that sometimes. Thankfully, not only are you quite adept at rolling with the punches and the fireballs, but these strange turns of events somehow almost always turn out for the better for you. You might wake up one day to realize that you've been cursed to be so unlucky as to trip while walking across a flat floor, but you'd probably faceplant right into someone's boobs. From now on your life will be filled with these kinds of events on the regular, and you will be happier for it.

600cp – And Then the Onahole Heater Mysteriously Exploded
Magic is a great and wondrous thing, but sometimes it's also just as ridiculous as it is powerful. Who'd have thought that a guy could open up a portal between worlds entirely by accident? And yet, here we are, with a guy that has done just that. And now you have that power as well. Once per jump in the event of your impending demise, you'll find yourself casting a spell you don't actually know entirely through panicked flailing and babbling random words, and will be transported to another world as a result. Of course, just going there instead of dying isn't the only bit – this place is guaranteed to be chock full of women you could get it off to in a heartbeat, and you'll quickly find yourself stumbling across a decently powerful artifact of some kind to help you get it off in those women rather than to them.

600cp – Ero Magic, Show Me Da Wey
Oh my, this is quite the gift. Ero Magic, the semi-sentient branch of magic that can basically do anything but it's also weirdly focused on lewd and sexual paths. Wanna make that female knight accept a lewd duel of making each other orgasm first? Can be done and no one will find it strange. Feel like having an orgy with MILFs? Sure, this will make up a whole tournament about you doing just that, with all the equipment necessary, coverage, and even summoning spectators; no questions asked, and the husbands are either ok with it or suddenly out of the picture. Wanna have a girl sit on you? This can make you shapeshift into a massage chair and put you in the girl's locker room, able to have your way with them when they sit. As you can see, it's a very versatile school of magic. Usually the Ero Magic itself would choose when to manifest itself, only giving the choice of whether to activate it or not to the user, and barely taking mild input by sheer desire instead of conscious thought. In your case, however, it fully follows you like any magic school would, merely acting like some sort of automatic guide, happy to let you see its whole arsenal and take decisions by yourself while it takes a backseat as an assistant whenever needed.

Proper Student Perks

100cp – Unwritten Record of Apocalypse
Ladies don't need to make plans, that's for the gentlemen and peasantry to worry about, it would be inconceivable for a high class lady such as yourself to fret about such nonsense. Of course, as expected of someone of your lineage, the events themselves pile for your enjoyment. An ordinary trip to the bakery for a sweet treat and you end up meeting the new pastry chef, who designs a new tart for your exclusive taste. Or maybe you decide to enroll in some academy, just to find yourself part of the golden generation, filled with geniuses more than willing to mingle with you. Situations always go a bit better than they should, as if everything was somewhat aligned with your desires and much like the protagonist of a shallow play, situations going your way more often than not.

100cp – Divine Visage From Beyond Heaven
There are many stories about beauties that could topple countries, women with such feminine wiles that no man could ever hope to escape their ensnarement. Some of those historic characters' beauty is mere exaggeration, of course. Yet it takes a single look at you for anyone to realize that those stories weren't all lies. A charm that makes Cleopatra seem like a dumb pig, beauty that surpasses Helen of Troy by a wide mile, and a chest that would inspire the most uncreative of basement dwellers into a genius artist. To put it in the terms of commoners, you're a "12 out of 10" in looks alone and your natural demeanor only makes you even more alluring. This is helped, but not entirely caused by you having breasts nearly as big as your head. Like, J cup minimum, unless you want to claim you were malnourished as a child or something. Because while some idiots might say that beauty is only skin-deep, you know that the first thing people notice in others isn't how nice their feelings are or any stupid shit like that.

200cp – Overlord of Mavericks
Maybe it's your cutting wit, maybe it's your impressive reputation, most likely it's just because of your huge tits. Either way, it seems that people have a tendency to ask you for advice and fully believe what you tell them too. This isn't exactly some sort of hardcore mental manipulation; it rather goes to push others into considering you and your judgement and advice as the most likely correct over others, even their own judgement depending on their personality. To put it another way, people that know you or know of you will be very inclined to ask for your advice and take it as something close to gospel. If it works, it's because of you, if it didn't work it was because they failed to properly use your advice. You can get people to pay for your words or have them do very silly things with this, although those that are very logical or self-assured won't follow your wackier advice, even if they consider it somewhat valid.

200cp – Blank Baptism of Glory
Prodigies are born as such, but still need their inherent capacity to be polished before it shines. You're a perfect example of it, for your talent is there and just waiting to be properly nurtured. Talent for what you may ask? For everything, from magic to cooking, from alchemy to advanced rocket science, from architecture to literature. Your genius is undeniable, and your potential seems endless. There's only one caveat to this all-encompassing path, it's not one that thrives on loneliness, your genius must be guided by a more experienced hand to properly flourish. If given a few tomes of magic initiation you may decipher them faster than most, but nothing incredible. Instead, the true path is to be taught by others, an archmage with a hundred years of proficiency will see all their mastery over the arcane arts not only fully passed down to you but also improved and refined in the span of a few months.

400cp – Golden Boundaries Between Eras
As they say, a Lady's strength starts on her image, and damn you know how to manipulate it, to such a degree you can basically alter the way people perceive you at will. When you want to look the part, it can give the impression of a being so vulnerable, so innocent, so naïve and pure that taking advantage of you in any level would be sin well deserving of death by torture at the very least. And when the time calls for you to be frightening? The devil herself would shit her skirt in fear. Success is all but guaranteed should you enter the battlefield as a commander, become a leader of any group, or even try your hand in politics. Those with extraordinary willpower or very peculiar mindsets might be able to resist this presented image of yourself, but they won't ever be fully immune to it.

400cp – Forbidden Paradise Illusion
There are tiers to how good of a lay someone is, and you're damn excel in the sack as much as you excel in your everyday life. Your sultry glances induce arousal that could even shake up unfeeling robots, your body feels oh so extremely nice to the touch that angels would feel envy, you know how to fill your mannerisms with erotic innuendos and sexual subtexts that provoke even the most indifferent, and your control over your crotch is on par with a music prodigy using their favored instrument with over 50 years of experience, an attunement and fine control over it that could go beyond mere will. Anyone that gets it on with you will easily end up ruined for everyone else, cursed to never experience the sheer amount of raw ecstasy only you can provide.

600cp – Eternal Keeper of Holy Spirits
Sometimes, being the best isn't about being better than anyone else around, but making sure that everyone else is just worse than you. This nifty power is something I had prepared just in case of emergency, but you can have it now to test how it fares. This is pretty simple in theory, you can focus on someone and choose one power or skill they have, this will simply seal it away. At first it will take several minutes to seal a minor skill such as being vaguely good at balancing a pencil, but with enough practice you will be able to seal great signature powers within a few seconds, such as the ero magic. There's a limit to the amount of powers you can keep sealed at once, but the number will increase with practice, also there's no limit to how long it can be sealed; in theory at some point you could seal as many powers as you want instantly and keep them sealed forever, but I'm not sure how much time will take to master this power to that extent. Sealed powers can only be released with your approval and are effectively lost for the user until then.

600cp – Poster Girl
Some women seem deemed for greatness, and it would seem that you're one of them. Though rather than greatness, it's more like you have an overwhelming aura of 'this one is the main characters' surrounding you. A certain je ne sais quoi that is born from several factors, ranging from your extreme talent and creativity in basically every subject to the simple perfection of your appearance. You might not have the largest breasts in the world, but somehow you have the best ones. Heft, squeeze, color, so on and so forth. Of course, other things like the luster of your hair and the smoothness of your skin are also exceptional. You're also very charismatic, able to leverage your other natural advantages into having your way more often than not and occasionally stealing the stage entirely by accident. In short? In a world practically designed to enable large harems of women with large breasts, you're the main girl, something that other women seem to instinctively recognize and thus treat you accordingly.

Educator Perks

100cp – This Isn't A Picture Of Heaven, It's A Picture Of My Ass
It's been said that youth is wasted on the young, and while there's truth to that it's also not the whole story. Mostly because you never seem to have stopped being youthful. Despite potentially being old enough to have a kid that old enough to be graduating from Yggdrasil soon. See, your body just doesn't quit and there's good odds that you'd be mistaken for the elder sister of your own children rather than their mother. Actually, between just a smidge of magic, some of the best genetics around, and a dab of healthy living, I'm not sure there's much of anything you can do to your body that can make it worse, and if it can somehow make you more beautiful, it probably will. Pregnancy? Your body snaps back to perfect health with the exception of your breasts, which are larger than ever and still putting out milk years later. Deciding you want that seventh slice of cheesecake? Go right ahead, it's going entirely to your tits and ass. Oh, and you can lactate even if you haven't had kids, and your milk is both utterly delicious and so healthy a guy could live entirely off it. Don't ask me how that works, it just does thanks to this world's obsession with boobs.

100 cp - Two Reasons To Pay Attention In Class
Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy is the best school in the world, which means that everyone who is anyone wants their children to attend in order to get ahead in life. This included both the kids who are kind and nice and talented, and the absolute hellions. Suffice to say, being a teacher at that school requires being one of the best teachers around... and a large amount of patience. Luckily, you're an adult and as such you have something no teenager does - the ability to look deeply within yourself, figure out why you feel the way you do about certain things, and then act on them in a reasonable and responsible manner. Oh, and you can also shut down some pretty severe antics with only a glare and a mild reproach. They can have their teenage drama after class, not during it.

200 cp - Lions And Tigers And Bitches Oh My
Now then, let's talk about racial traits for a moment. Sure, humans have a tendency to be the ultimate all-rounder, but some people enjoy specializing. So if you'd like, you can be something else. Elf, Vampire, Dragon, Yuki-Onna, Lamia, Oni, Mermaid, whatever you want to be, I've got you covered. And there are various benefits to each of them, such as Elves having a bonus to their dexterity score, darkvision, being immune to magical sleep, and - wait, that's dungeons and dragons? Eh, close enough. In any event, there is one special power you can pick up here. No matter what race you are, you'll have the power to transform into a perfectly normal human shape - for example, if a mermaid wants to go on dry land, she can just suck her tail up and suddenly she'll have legs. Gotta be fuckable, you know? Oh, and, go ahead and ignore any kind of 'racial weakness' you might have. Those things don't hurt you, they just slowly send you into heat. Vampires are aroused by garlic, don't you know?

200 cp - Sorry Daddy I've Been Naughty
Did you know it's quite illegal for teachers to have relations with their students in most parts of the world? Thankfully it isn't a problem for students to have relations with teachers. No, wait, aren't those the same thing? In any event, you'll find that you have a truly fantastic ability to wiggle your way out of trouble. Did you have sex with a student? Did you cheat on your husband? Well, you were being mind controlled, so it didn't count. You'll be totally and absolutely forgiven no matter what situation you end up in as long as it isn't actually your fault. And no 'those massive breasts obviously wanted to be fucked' doesn't qualify as your fault, that kid just has brainrot. You husband won't want a divorce, your job won't fire you, your daughter... might still be upset that you fucked her boyfriend, but that won't last long since it's not your fault. This also makes you largely immune to ordinary blackmail as a result, since trying to force you to do things doesn't work when you can shift all the blame back onto them anyways.

400cp – My Hips Are Moving On Their Own!!
You know how to get things hot and steamy without requiring some cheat code like ero magic or assets that need a new set of physics just to work. Nothing but pure skill honed out by hundreds of thousands of encounters across your years. A single look is usually enough for your veteran eyes to determine their exact strengths and weaknesses alongside several ways to subdue them… sexually of course. Such mastery over the arts of love makes the unprepared have their bodies already surrendering to your intent and latching onto your feet regardless of what their owners think of it at the start. From just the right way to trash talk an elf to have her drop her panties a few minutes after meeting to using just your pinky to mind break an elder succubus. Even the most renowned of goddesses wouldn't be able to get a clear win against your bedroom skills.

400cp – I'd Ice Cream Her Sunday
As a truly boobacious milf, you deserve the opportunity to be worshipped for your greatness. Naturally one should hope that you have a husband who can not only keep up with you but who actually does so, but just in case you somehow got married to a Japanese herbivore man I've got you covered. If you're ever looking to get some action on or just really want to get laid, you'll find men and women alike practically lining up for the chance to have you step on them. It's not like the world is suddenly a buffet of chances for you to cheat, but well, if you were going to do that anyways… By default this also makes it so that any children you have are, if not entirely okay with you sleeping with their lovers, surprisingly chill with the idea, treating you as a potential sister-wife and romantic rival rather than simply being horrifically embarrassed that their mom is into their boyfriend.

600cp – Grand Alchemist Jumper Sensei
The modern – and magical – counterpart to da vinci and newton. You're a genius of the biggest caliber backed up by years of study, training and experience. What other masters or archwizards consider divine miracles beyond human comprehension are nothing but afternoon projects for you. Of course, you have a particular field you excel in and from all your masterpieces come from, as an alchemist you could make homunculi, see the future, as a magic engineer you could create magitech hundreds of years beyond the current development, space magic would have you teleport anywhere in the world with little issue and even create portals to other dimensions, and so on. Whatever your specialization is, be sure you're the absolute pinnacle of it in this world. Better still? When it comes to your speciality, you're also the best teacher in the world, able to pass on any knowledge you possess with a startling level of efficiency, even able to design custom lesson plans on a student by student basis in order to guarantee maximum retention of actual skills and not just the regurgitation of random trivia and facts.

600cp – The One Piece Swimsuit Is Real
So. How exactly does magic work? Who on Earth, if anyone, has the right idea as to how magic works, what the multiverse looks like, which gods are real, which afterlives are real, so on and so forth? Well, seemingly, the answer is all of them, as long as you're willing to put in the effort. If you want to use Vancian Magic, you can. If you want to use Color Magic, you can. Hell, if you're willing to delve into demonology, you can even use Magnetite Magic. Go ahead and pick something along those lines, you're now a high level character with a wide variety of magical skills under your belt. Better still? You can do more than teach those skills, you can bestow access. You have a rudimentary system, one that allows you to direct your growth somewhat as you dive into battle and complete quests. Perhaps you'll put points into your luck if you want help finding treasure? People you teach can gain access to this system, allowing them the same benefits and making them a level one character. I'm sure they won't stay there for long, not with you looking out for them.

General Perks

Free - Big Boobs Boast Badass Backs
Did you know that there's a good chunk of actual game logic running in the background of this world? It never gets explored because our 'hero' cares more about tits than magic, but it's there. One girl even invests points into luck in an attempt to not get partnered up with him in class anymore. Sadly, she's a masochist, so they get partnered up more instead. But that's besides the point - do you think that because they all have superhuman physique, they can hold up their own tits without getting tired? Because those are some very large tits. Well, now so can you! Actually, you're now largely immune to a number of minor aches and pains, from sore jaws and knees from too many blowjobs, to having your back ache from having to hold up your first and second largest sources of pride.

Drop In Items

100 cp - Loose Change And Looser Panties
During your first few hours in the world, you managed to get your hands on some spare change. Perhaps you picked them up off the side of the road, or maybe someone mistook you for a beggar. That isn't important. What matters is that you put them down at one point, and a spark of magic jumped from you to them and when you looked at the coins again, they had gathered into a tiny blocky person. Having a little money golem as a pet was a bit inconvenient, but as you fed it more and more money, it started to take on a more humanoid appearance. If you keep feeding it, it will eventually take on the shape of a cute girl. Of course, that might be money you don't have. Which is why she's incredibly thankful to you for feeding her... and if you play around with her, you'll find she leaks coins and small bills when aroused. And larger bills when she's cumming her brains out. She isn't a money sink, she's an investment!

100 cp - Honoo No Haramase - Oppai Jumper Academy!
Well this is interesting. It's... you. Or something based on you, at least. A mysterious world traveler with phenomenal power at a magical school with lots of hot women! There's a blond happy go lucky ninja, a dark skinned catgirl, an archeologist with a tragic past... all of your favorite waifus, plus a few more you either don't have or don't have yet. The game also has more than can be accounted for, so it picks a handful at random each save file to increase replayability. As for what's in the game? ...Guess. Lots and lots of sex. Oh, and because some people may not like random nerds getting their hands on porn of their girls, you can choose to have this be an actual game that publicly exists (and that you get paid for) or just a singular game that you have a copy of. In either case, enjoy.

200 cp - Pet Bird
One day as you were walking along the road, you stumbled across an injured bird and decided to do a good deed and nurse it back to health! Or maybe you just adopted it from the local center. Or maybe it was a dog? Bah, details! In any event this pet of yours has been a constant and loving companion of yours for years now, which is why they've suddenly gained the ability to turn into a cute girl so that they can show you how much they love you. They may or may not be amazing at sex and know exactly what you like depending on how much you masturbated in front of them over the years. Optionally, they may also be an idol. Because reasons. Oh, and if you really want one and promise to take care of them, you may have a new pet each jump, though they'll take a little longer to turn into human. About a year, as long as you're attentive to them and actually care for them.

200 cp - Engage X-Ray Mode
Well this is weird. You seem to have access to the world's worst gamer system for some reason. It doesn't count your skills or measure your stats, it just controls the voice options. You can selectively mute or lower people's voices and background noise, turn on subtitles, automatically translate any Japanese into English and vice versa, change how quickly people talk, and listen to the ost. What ost? The sound track of whatever world you happen to be in at the time. It's a bit weird, but honestly there's a lot of utility there. Oh, and you can also enable X-Ray mode, which places a filter over your vision that causes select individuals to appear as though they were naked. They're still clothed of course, but to your eyes they might as well not be. Have fun with that!

400 cp - Philosophers Bone
Magic has many schools of thought and even more attempts at categorizing the various spells that exist. 'White Magic' is largely synonymous with healing magic, but also includes blasts of holy power and the ability to magically choke a bitch to prevent them from casting their own spells. That same ability has also been classified as Black Magic, Green Magic, and Time Magic throughout the eras. In short, shits wack. More relevant to you however is this alchemical catalyst known as the Philosophers Bone, a strange crystal with two knoby protrusions on one end. It can be used in just about any kind of alchemical procedure to vastly enhance the result. More importantly however, if at any point in the jump you were to cum on the Bone, it would flash grow a homunculus that looked very similar to another you might be familiar with, except with pale hair, strange red vein like markings on her body, and the ability to transform you into a unusual lance-like weapon. She would also be rabidly loyal to you. Possibly too loyal. Bit of a yandere, really.

400 cp - The Sword Of Truth And Other Lies
You know, here in the fantasy world, going on an adventure or a quest for loot, glory, and wealth isn't just common, it's part of the school system. If you're learning magic, you should probably also learn to fight with it after all. You... Well, I'm going to assume you aren't great at magic. To that end, I have an offer for you - a small supply of enchanted armor and weapons, alongside a few accessories. A sword that glows black when the person its pointed at lies and that deals massive damage against them, armor that has naked women engraved on it and that will grow extra arms as the naked women help you fight, charms and baubles that either can be used as the casting focus for simple spells or otherwise grant you a resistance to various things. None of this is top of the line, but there's enough of it that even an incompetent could be a force to be reckoned with.

600 cp - The Internet Is For Porn
What, do you not have enough of the stuff? I could have sworn overly focusing on this stuff was what got you in trouble in the first place... or was that some other guy? Eh, doesn't matter. In any event, first off, congratulations, you have an internet connection. Doesn't matter if you're in another world or back in time in the dark ages, you've got mail. Secondly? You have all the porn. I'm not kidding, you have every piece of porn ever made. Image, video, game, deepfake, ai gen, even the secret supply from Disney's porn vaults. And to manage all of this porn, you have a virtual assistant. She's quite fond of using an image of whoever you fapped to last as her avatar, and considers helping you get off to be her purpose in life. If you were to go to a certain website with a similar name to a very large number, don't be surprised if the 'oo' in the name has been replaced by her tits.

600 cp - Jumpers Jumper's Jumper Academy
Hang on, what's going on here? That name is... uh, it's a bit awkward. Still, it seems we're stuck with it, so let's move on. You now own a school. Or possibly attend a school. Or both. This school may or may not be a subsidiary of Yggdrasil and is suitably over the top as a result. The pool is an entire water park, the teachers are experts in their field, they have their own contained dungeon for students to practice in, so on and so forth. As for what this school teaches? Well, it seemingly teaches your own perks and abilities. Each class the school offers revolves around a single perk you possess, and after four years of study the students here will receive the corresponding perks for any classes they passed. Which one should hope is all of them, but could always be fewer in the case of bad grades. Weaker perks represent introductory courses or even half-length workshops, while more major perks are probably the equivalent of an entire college education. Thankfully this school is capable of putting that out - it's just a matter of if the students can keep up. And, in the interest of helping with that, getting accepted into this school automatically bestows a singular learning perk upon its students... and three or four beauty perks as well.

Isekaijin Items

100 cp - Works To SQUEEZ One Out
Now, let me guess. You have a favorite genre of porn, and it's all of them as long as the girls have some humongous titties, right? Well, look no farther, because I have a collection of works by a certain company that all happen to focus on girls with massive tits. My personal favorite is Honoo No Haramase Oppai * Ero Appli Gakuen, in which a guy suddenly receives a cell phone app that lets him play with all the girls' massive tits in a variety of situations. What's that? Sounds a lot like Ero-Magic? Eh, I'm sure it's just a coincidence. Oh, and, as a slight bonus to you buying this with points rather than with money, all of the games here are upgraded slightly, as though they'd been made a decade or two into the future. Or perhaps they're simply remastered versions, with higher quality images, more animation, and a few extra stories? Sadly the company went bankrupt before they could make anything like that, but that doesn't stop me from giving them to you.

100 cp – In The Splash Zone
After a long hard day of perving on girls and jerking it off to them, is there anything better than taking a nice hot bath... in the girls side of the pool, so that you can stare at their tits even more? Strictly speaking that shouldn't be allowed, but Yggdrasil is a school for girls and as such doesn't exactly have a men's bathing area. So you get to use the womens. However, that's only while at the school, so let's address more permanent things. First off, any pool, bath, hot springs, or other water feature that you could conceivably spend any time in now becomes arbitrarily large. How large? Large enough for you and at least nine other girls to spread out without being cramped. Additionally, any such thing you get into magically connects to the nearest girls bath, so in a school like Yggdrasil you can expect a bunch of beautiful ladies to show up before too long if there weren't any already. They might be a bit put out to have to share with you, but you won't get kicked out or in any sort of trouble.

200 cp - Crystal Ball Of Peeping
Mirror Mirror on the wall, show me the bustiest of them all! ...Well, this particular item is neither a mirror nor hanging on the wall, but it can be used for remote viewing. Specifically, by focusing on your mental image of a person, this crystal ball can be used to spy on them from afar. In class, at lunch, while showering, you get the idea. However, there is a secret function that you can make use of. By gripping the orb firmly in your hands, you can grip her orbs firmly in your hands if you know what I mean. In short, it's a bit like astral projection - you can send your hands though the orb and interact with the person you're spying on if you so desire. There is a bit of skill to use it properly, but with time, effort, or by cheating with Ero-Magic you can send more things through, such as your cock or your entire body.

200 cp - Tits Are The Softest Pillow
Tell me if you've heard this one before - once upon a time, while a girl was showering, you used a crystal ball to magically project your hands and molested her as she showered. Oh, you did that just yesterday? Well, do you want to do it again? Ignore the fact that she broke the crystal ball after you finished molesting her, because that doesn't matter. You now have an extremely comfortable pillow, which, yes, feels like resting your head on a pair of tits. While sleeping using this pillow you're able to lucidly dream about past sexual encounters, such as molesting that girl in the shower. More importantly, you're able to alter the dream in various ways, such as using different positions, different techniques, or in extreme cases outright choosing to molest a different girl. When possible, you'll find your dreams synced up with the girl in question, to make her reactions as real as possible. There's never any indication that you're doing this on purpose, so unless you tell her about this she'll simply think she's a very naughty girl for dreaming of you doing those things to her.

400 cp - Moon Doria
The best restaurant in the world is obviously a maid cafe, with the only possible exception being a catgirl maid cafe. Luckily, you now have one of those. ...Sort of. You don't exactly own it, but it's very close to where you live, will constantly give you heavy discounts, and always seems to have a seat for you even when it's busy. More important than all of that, however, is that it also seems to be the preferred location for part time jobs for all of the women you're interested in. Every time you show up, you can be assured at least one of them is going to end up serving you a meal in a too short skirt - or a just right skirt, depending - and possibly giving you something from the 'secret menu' that totally exists, such as a handjob under the table as you eat your meal, or perhaps outright blowing you off. Does this menu actually exist, or are they just being tsundere and pretending that they're only sleeping with you because they're being forced to? Who knows - but you certainly didn't pay for that 'secret menu' option, so who knows.

400 cp - Moment of Ero Magic
Ero-Magic is a strange and wondrous thing. It can bend gods to your whims, rewrite portions of reality or even the laws of magic, and accomplish things nine out of ten times that were supposed to have a million to one odds. But, right now I'm not offering you Ero-Magic. Instead, pick one of the potential uses for it. Do you want to possess the furniture and molest any girl who sits down upon you? Do you want a teleportation spell that always seems to take you to the nearest bathroom right as a girl pulls her panties down? Or perhaps you'd like every sports tournament you attend to be done as close to naked as possible? Or the ability to point at any trap you might run across and have it transform into a lewd trap? This thin crystal shard contains within it the echo of Ero-Magic, and can endlessly replicate any one 'event' of your choice. Choose wisely... or don't. It might be more fun if you didn't, actually.

600 cp - The Writers Barely Disguised Fetish
So. You were taking a bath. Been in there a while, on the verge of using all the hot water on account of you being in the middle of jerking one off. So they tried to get you out by messing with the heater, which then exploded. Well, it's no truck but it seems to have done the trick. See, you now have another such heater. And, by masturbating in the bath while using it, you can have it explode. Debatably again. Doing so will cause you to be isekai'd into another world that seems to have your favorite fetish as a huge part of its worldbuilding. If you're a boobs man, you can expect each and every girl in this new world to have some truly enormous tits and for you to get to spend quite a bit of time enjoying them. Or maybe you prefer girls with muscles? No doubt there will be a connection between physical fitness and magical capacity in the world you end up in. You can imagine the many ways this could go, right?

600 cp - Yggdrasil Jumper's Magical Academy
Much like our less than beloved hero, you've found your way into [school] and by some miracle, have been accepted into said school. Yes, even if you're a guy, despite it nominally being a girls academy. It just works. In any event, the school itself is a work of art, being one of if not outright the best schools of magic in the entire world. From the dungeon, to the vast array of clubs, to the many skilled teachers and alumni, if you want a magical education then by god you will get a magical education. But, uh. You don't care about any of that, do you? No. What matters is that every single student at the school is 9/10 at a minimum, and very likely to be within your preferred strike zone. There are, in fact, a minimum of eight girls here per jump who are going to end up falling directly onto your dick as though you'd had ero magic. If you don't, then presumably they're genuinely into you. Of course, it doesn't end with them - the entire school is at least mildly horny for you. The first year girls want an experience with a reliable senpai, the teachers dream of a forbidden student/teacher relationship, and even the parents of the students are looking for something new to put some excitement back into their life. If you've any game at all, you'll drown in pussy.

Proper Student Items

100 cp - Lay Your Weary Head

Welcome, student, to Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy. As one of the best schools in the world, we take great pride in ensuring that not only are our teachers and lessons top notch, but also the accommodations that we offer our students. Things like maid services, a variety of after school clubs, or even just the food in the cafeteria - every meal is custom made for you by a master chef, for example. Right now however, let's talk about your sleeping arrangements. We've taken the liberty of pulling together a bedroom for you that is uniquely suited to your tastes, be it a result of some fetish you have or a more general racial preference. Want your room to be a garden, your bed a particularly soft patch of grass, and your bathroom a waterfall? That can be arranged, and we'd be pleased to make it so. You'll find a similar room in any school you reside in as well, which will mark you as special but won't come across as exceptionally odd even if it is blatantly magic. Sadly, this only applies to schools. We aren't responsible for the sleeping arrangements of students who commute after all.

100 cp - Crick, Crack, Feeling Great

After finishing your day, isn't it nice to just kick back and relax? Perhaps you're a bit sore after gym class, or maybe you went a bit too hard at the Magical Volleyball club. Luckily for you, we have options to pamper you, and right now I'd like to offer you this massage chair. It's fully automated and uses a combination of rollers built into it and flexible hands to provide maximum pressure and relief. All you need to do is push a bit of mana into it, and away you go into the wonderful world of having an expert masseuse work out every kink and sore muscle in your body until you're in a world of bliss. Guaranteed to leave you feeling great in only ten minutes. And, unlike a certain off brand ero-magic model of chair, this one will only molest you if you use a secret passphrase. Otherwise it's a much more tame experience.

200 cp - The After School Jumper Club

Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy is quite proud of its collection of clubs and sports teams, and while your presence here is potentially a challenge, it's one they plan to rise to. So go ahead, pick a club, any club. Tennis? Magical Volleyball? Bowling? Adventuring? Archeology? Yuri? Any club you want and the school will scrape together enough other students interested in the topic for you to have an actual club. And, because this is Yggdrasil, it will be quite over the top. The Magical Volleyball club is probably blatant cheating by the standards of the Volleyball club, but it's quite educational. The Archeology club has their own excavation site nearby. The adventuring club fights a powerful Lich every year! And the Yuri club is responsible for a solid 12% of all the girl on girl porn created in the otherworld. You get the idea, right? As with your bedroom, any school you attend is now guaranteed to have this club on offer as well, though it likely won't have nearly the same level of quality. Normal schools can only manage normal clubs.

200 cp - Questing Outfit

The school uniform at Yggdrasil isn't anything to sneeze at, it's both stylish and fashionable, and has just a hint of a military cut to it while also showing off just enough of the girl's body to let her be proud of her assets. However, it is the school uniform, and so it can come across as boring or restrictive at times. That's why you have your own personal uniform as well. Strictly speaking it's your battle outfit that you can be expected to go out into the field with, but you can wear it for other reasons as well. And, as it's an outfit that you're going to get into fights while wearing, this particular set of clothing isn't just flattering to you, but perfectly suited towards your 'class' and fighting style. At first glance it may look a bit too revealing, but it's heavily enchanted with defensive properties that make it well worth it. It's also supremely comfortable, will automatically clean itself after a few hours of you getting any mess on it, and can be summoned in an instant.

400 cp - Panties of Virginity
Yggdrasil's Equestrian club is just as over the top as the rest of the school, which is why they don't only ride horses, but also unicorns and other horse-type creatures. Now, there are some limits - unicorns will only allow virgins to ride them, which means none of the girls in the club can have a boyfriend. Or do anything with them if they had one. This has resulted in the club president becoming an anal freak because she needed an outlet and it would be too embarrassing if she broke her hymen masturbating and got kicked off her ride. So up the ass it was for her! Mind you, a certain male student fixed that - or ruined, depending on your perspective, I liked her being anal only - for her by providing her with these. As long as a woman is wearing them, she spiritually and magically qualifies as a pure and chaste virgin. As a side effect, wearing these also attracts men, perverts, and lewd scenarios that you specifically enjoy. Want a ghost to fuck you up the ass? That can happen.

400 cp - Ninja Academy
Well this is awkward. Could it be that you are, in fact, NOT a student of Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy? And are instead a student at the nearby Ninja Village Academy? That would be quite a shame, Yggdrasil is the best and most prestigious school in the otherworld, but if you don't want to attend then far be it from me to stop you. Instead, you can use this option to choose your own school. Said school will be entirely focused around a 'class' or 'job' of your choice, such as the given example of a school dedicated to the training of ninjas. However, pirates, knights, a specific kind of magic such as summoners, or even the perfect bridal training school are all options. Each of them will be somewhat over the top in a manner similar to Yggdrasil itself, though not to the same extent. As such, this school will teach not only things native to this world, but anything you have access to or have gathered that falls under the same umbrella as the theme of the school. The Ninja school will teach every kind of ninjutsu you have access to for example, while the White Mage school could potentially teach every healing technique you have access to - including medical ninjutsu, potentially.

600 cp - Otherworld Visa
Oh my, so you're from Earth? And you moved here as a child thanks to your mother getting a new job? How exciting! Unlike a certain perverted monkey who needed to get exploded in order to subconsciously activate his magic and head to the Otherworld, you have something much more valuable. A dual citizenship. You're a resident of both the Earth and the Otherworld where Yggdrasil Academy resides, and own houses in both dimensions. Moving freely between the two worlds is possible thanks to your magical passport, so if you want to visit a friend after 'moving away', there really isn't anything to stop you. In future jumps, this passport can be used to visit a single nearby or connected dimension, where you will find that you also have these same benefits - legal citizenship, a modest house, and if you so desire it a very attractive, very successful, and very loving mother who lives in the Otherworld. Or, if you already have a family, they can simply share the boons of this item.

600 cp - Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy
Much like our beloved heroines, you're now a student at the world famous [school]. Why? Because there's no better place to learn than here. Even the nightlife is decent enough. The teachers are skilled, the grounds are cutting edge for both technology and magic, the coursework is tailored specifically to each student's skill level - unless whatever it is you're trying to learn straight up doesn't exist, this place can teach it to you. And even then, they might be able to jury rig something together by calling upon the resources of the parents of their students, most of whom are alumni and thus prone to throwing ridiculous amounts of money or strange favors at the school. It makes for some very fun field trips. A week at the most expensive resort in the world is great, arriving there via a dragon picking up most of the school and moving it closer is just silly. Better still, everything from the small businesses nearby to the city it's hosted in, shares part of this excellence. Wherever this school ends up, it will all but physically drag the nearby locale into being just as over the top as it is. Nearby cafes will end up being all but world class, and probably maid cafes or cat cafes to boot. Normal is overrated.

Educator Items

100 cp - Yggdrasil Alumni
Be you a teacher at the school or merely the parent of one of the current crop of students, it's a fair assumption to make that you're also a graduate from Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy. Assuming you're a woman at least, if you're a guy then you likely attended a different school. In any event, you have a handful of identifications that mark you as a graduate, such as a license, perhaps a plaque in the school somewhere, and of course a degree in your area of speciality. It will automatically fill itself in for your favorite topic or your most well known one. In future jumps, it will carry over in general, if not for Yggdrasil specifically, and mark you as a graduate of one of the best schools in the world. Additionally, it will also allow your children access to said school regardless of the normal rules. Nepotism is wonderful, isn't it?

100 cp - Transparent Carriage
Travel in a world with magic is an interesting prospect. Do you walk places? Ride a horse? If you can fly, do you do that? What does air traffic control look like when it needs to manage a wizard, a dragon carrying an entire school, and a flying pirate ship all at the same time? Suffice to say it's quite complicated. What isn't complicated is this horse drawn carriage. Very simple by comparison. Mind you, it's heavily enchanted and is comfortable to ride in at all times, even if you happen to be driving through a volcano. Additionally, it has one slightly perverse feature to it. It could be that the carriage is constructed from one way glass, allowing near 360 degree vision through its walls but not for people outside to look in - perfect for a exhibitionist to get fucked in without actually showing themselves off. Or maybe it has something akin to a stockade built into it, for people who want to be tied down? You can choose how this manifests, so go ahead and pick something for your tastes.

200 cp - School Store
Well this is interesting. Strictly speaking it really ought to be part of the school, but let's just set it aside for a moment. You now have a small kiosk inside Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy, one that sells school supplies. Pens, pencils, paper, papyrus, inkstones, whatever the students want to do their homework on, you have some of that. And, as this is a magic school, there's also a few other things, like magic wands, bows that shoot arrows made of moonlight, swords that burn the fae and undead alike, and scrolls of fireball. The interesting part here is the payment - you can take money of course, but the students will constantly and consistently try to pay for things with an effectively random supply of magical artifacts. Pens that make you write in cursive, hair ties that turn you into a redhead, shoes that have perfect grip on ice and other such surfaces and terrible grip on what ought to be solid ground, or bras that grow or shrink your breasts to a specific size. In other words, this either serves as extra income if you have time, or a nigh endless supply of gimmicky items you can have fun with.

200 cp - Roll Call Please
As a teacher at Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy, there's a certain expectation for you to be just as over the top and competent as the rest of the school. That may or may not be true in terms of battle prowess, but I can help you with your organizational skills. This sheaf of paperwork is a comprehensive breakdown of any underlings, students, or children you may have. It covers test scores in various areas, their interest in those areas, their more practical abilities as seen through the lens of a few different JRPGs, and even a glimpse into more abstract things like fetishes and their type of man. Simply put it's every possible detail that you might want in order to help them maximize their true potential. Normally students would need to go on an adventure and face death a few times before discovering they have a talent for a certain kind of magic, but thanks to the excellence of Yggdrasil, you'll know exactly what their hidden talents are the first time they sit down for class.

400 cp - Elf Wives Tennis Club
When you're rich enough to not have to work, what exactly are you supposed to do with your time? You can find a cause you can devote yourself to, maybe open up a school designed to cater to your fetish, but not everyone wants to do that kind of thing. Or has fetishes extreme enough that you need to build an institution around it. To that end, I offer you this. Tennis. Well, Magical Tennis, but the difference is academic. Much like Yggdrasil, this sports center is very over the top in just about every way. The ladies locker room could be its own apartment, the sauna is an entire massage parlor, and there's just about every minor convenience you could ask for. More importantly however is that this place is prestigious. Perhaps only Yggdrasil Alumni or those invited by them are allowed to use the facilities, or some other rich rich best of the best kind of school. In any event, that means that there's always great gossip here as the other women who attend are all… perhaps not movers and shakers themselves, but well connected. If you do want to meet one of those movers, or even just someone interesting, send out an invitation to join you here for an afternoon of Magical Tennis - this place is prestigious enough that almost anyone will be honored to be invited.

400 cp - While Away The Days
So, you graduated from one of the best schools in the entire world. And what did you do with yourself after you had graduated? Did you return to the school and become a teacher? Be one of those people who always volunteer to chaperone field trips? Or did you maybe open a business? Well, feel free to pick something. Maybe you want to be the bishop of a major church who also runs an elementary school because you have a shota fetish? Or would you prefer to own your own research lab, the Yggdrasil Magical Research laboratory where you create sextoys - I mean, battle homunculi who assist their masters? Or hell, maybe you'd simply like to own a lingerie shop - the most popular and expensive lingerie shop in the world at that. It's hard to beat a succubus at being lewd, after all. Feel free to pick pretty much anything, this is going to be what you spend most of your days doing, so you might as well try to enjoy it.

600 cp - Fruit Of Your Loins
Congratulations jumper, it's a girl. You aren't just an adult anymore, you're a parent. Be proud of yourself for creating life! And also be terrified of all the things that could potentially go wrong. In any event, as your child, they have copies of all of your perks and some of your items at a reduced level of power, but a massive boost to latent potential. Oh, with the exception of your beauty perks - they have those at full power. That aside, if you were to raise them properly, give them love and care, and an education - from the best school in the world, Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy, for example - and they can easily match or even surpass you. And, uh, as something of a side note, you will find that your child is entirely willing to share their lovers with you if they think you aren't getting any action. They might even insist upon it.

600 cp - The Otherworld
Tell me, do you know what the structure of this world is like? Most people assume it's round, but when you reach the edge, do you fall off, or simply reach the other side? In truth, it's both round and flat - round, because that is the shape of the world, and flat, because the world is a coin. On one side is the Earth. On the other side is the Otherworld, where Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy resides and most of the story takes place. You possess this coin, at least in part. From now on there is always a second world on the other side. In an 'ordinary' world, this will be a fantastical world that some special few make their way towards. In a more exciting world, you'll find the other side to be simpler. Boring, even. In either case, you will find yourself in possession of a school. The best school in the world, a close contender to Yggdrasil and its glorious excessiveness. You may be its principal, a teacher, on its board of education, or any position you please. You'll find this school attracts special individuals who somehow manage to gather the power to cross worlds, and hopefully you can turn that to your advantage. While not quite so perverted as the Ero-Mage, they do tend to make excellent lovers.

General Items

50 cp - Brave Treasure, The Challenger
A carriable wooden box with intricate designs and expensive decorations, sent to you as the supposed inheritance from an granduncle twice separated you never heard about. When you open it there's always a different artifact inside, from health potions to gold coins, from aphrodisiacs to a dagger made to purify the undead. Each one has a label and short instructions on how to use it. The coffer itself is nigh indestructible and seemingly trembles if you touch it around too much. From time to time it will only show a single short note inside, collecting these will show a message. Truth is that inside this wallet lies an ancient apprentice alchemist from the past, when she was studying about dimensional travel magic when she and her peers encountered Nyarlathotep, an entity she managed to fight to standstill thanks to their artifacts and cunning. However, the outer god enticed her comrades into betraying her and then she was sealed into this wallet form. It’s possible to free her with enough magic power or alchemical knowledge, or just following her instructions over time. She’s a very sweet and loyal girl despite all the trauma, if a bit clingy.

50 cp - Desolate Bow, The Fallen
A single rustic recurve bow, with a strange string of silver colour attached to it. The bow has no decorations nor inscriptions, and seems like it was just carved out of some wood and sanded down just enough to be used. When used properly, the bow increases the range of your sight and the arrows shot with it always hit its target, going faster and stronger than they should, flying through the air while avoiding obstacles as if guided. If you are completely alone with it her voice will echo and she'll reveal herself. She's a fallen cupid, a creature of love and hope that used to be part of the heavens. Something that will come as a surprise because of her generally depressed and hopeless attitude. You see, she thought that manipulating the feelings of people was wrong and her fellow cupids mocked and shunned her for it, after enduring harsh bullying, she was cast aside from her flock for the sin of tristitia, for now being happy enough and not spreading such love and happiness unto the world, thus being send sealed as a bow to this land to be used as a tool of war and bloodshed. She herself still wants to believe in good but her past experiences left her jaded and devastated. The fact that you can hear her and allow her to take her cupid form again seems to be a sign of being fated to you, but she considers it only a matter of time before you get tired of her too.

50 cp - Preemptive Nodachi, The Arch Nemesis
A rusted japanese sword that looks more like useless junk. Its curved blade is rusty and chipped off, while the guard, handle and sheath were in terrible state barely recognizable as such. However the sword will return to a pristine state should it taste a bit of your blood, which would 'bond' you to her. That's not all, beyond its sorry state, this one has a few secrets to show. When you use it in a 1v1 duel, you will always strike first, be it by external sources at the moment or your enemy just making a mistake, you're guaranteed to always get the first strike. The second is that the sword has a will of its own and will communicate telepathically with you, considering you her master and partner, and offering advice to the best of her ability, as it turns out the sword was created by a witch with her blacksmith husband by using their own daughter as part of the material. Her last known trick is to use your blood to repair herself, while also being able to 'drink' the blood from fallen enemies to gain strength and even some of their abilities. Secretly, taking enough of your blood (or other liquids from your body) over several sessions, she will be able to manifest her human form once again.

Companions

400 cp stipend in this section

50 cp - Companion Import

If you want to bring some of your companions into the jump with you, you can. You may import one of them for each 50 cp you spend on this option. Regardless of how many you import, each companion gains 600 cp to play with and all the same choices you get, with the exclusion of them taking companions of their own or any drawbacks.

50 cp - Companion Export

If you're more interested in making new friends, I can also arrange that. With each purchase of this I'll arrange for you to have a meeting that leaves a good first impression with a character of your choice. Try to choose potential companions on factors such as competence and compatible personality, not just the size of their breasts.

50 cp - Orange Cream Float With French Vanilla

Deep within the haunted forests near Yggdrasil, there is a shrine that is said to have been constructed atop the corpse of a great and powerful demon after it was slain by a powerful hero after an epic battle. That's mostly true, if by great demon you mean a succubus, by epic battle you mean she got fucked senseless, and by slain you mean happily married. As for the shrine itself, well, it seems she just likes the aesthetic. These days the place is mostly a tourist destination run by her descendants. The young heiress of this place has ended up a schoolmate of yours and seems to enjoy teasing you, be it how excited she gets you when she makes an offer, or how embarrassed. As is fitting for a shrine maiden, the girl is a classical Japanese beauty - long black hair, an excellent cook, enjoys tea ceremony, and fills out her shrine maiden outfit sinfully well. Or, she does that about half the time. She also seems to have been a member of an odd jobs club at one point or another, and has moonlighted as a waitress, a masseuse, a fashion model, cultural consultant for a movie studio, and a few other things.

50 cp - Oatmeal Raisin

Somewhere along the story of your life, it seems you stumbled into the Yggdrasil Magical Research facility and spent the day wandering around asking questions of the researchers and making a general nuisance of yourself. Despite getting yourself thrown out by security not too much later, one of the researchers sent you a present a few days later - it seems you inspired them to make a big breakthrough thanks to needing to explain things to an idiot. That present was a Homunculus that they made just for you. Busty, purple haired, and a bit naive but very eager to please, this homunculus was made specifically for you. From you, even - not sure how they got a semen sample, but I'm going to assume that falls under you having been a pain in their ass. Well, technically the design is recycled, but this one in particular is devoted to you to the point that it doesn't count. Just pretend she has a twin sister somewhere. In any event, as your bodyguard she fights through the use of a random assortment of summoned creatures - a few kinds of skeletons and ghosts, but also things like insects with blades for wings, magical chickens, and strange hand-like statues that often sprout from the ground holding whatever she might require.

50 cp - Flavorless Shaved Ice
While perusing your way through Yggdrasil Academy's fairly ridiculous list of extracurricular activities and clubs one day, you stumbled your way into the Miscellaneous Art Club - which is distinct from the Art Club, the Painting Club, the Sculpting Club, and a few other specific styles of art. Why? Because every member of the club quite frankly sucks at making art with the exception of the club president, and she has her own issues. Specifically, she is as dumb as her tits are large, and her tits are very large. Which is quite at odds with her personality, because she's halfway between being a classic Oujo and a used car salesman. Specifically this blue haired bimbo is trying and failing to scam her fellow club members into paying her for personal lessons on the various forms of artistic expression. Trying because she's obsessed with money, failing because most of them are either smarter than she is or just told her they were poor. It both does and doesn't help that she's genuinely talented at just about all of them from watercolors to architecture to poetry seems to be her one talent in life. And also a good dose of holy magic, but to be honest she's kind of failing her combat classes. She'll happily offer to pay you if you help her out with that... not that she has money to pay you with.

50 cp - Every Flavour Beans
Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy is one of, if not the best schools in the entirety of the otherworld. And, suitably, it has one of the largest libraries of any school in the otherworld. And even if it didn't, the Yggdrasil Foundation has its own library which is even better. Enter into this scenario a young witch with an absolute fascination with the written word, a desire to learn every magical spell in existence, and breasts that are larger than her head but smaller than her brain. While she was quite shy at first after you stumbled across her buried under a pile of books in the library, she quickly opened up after a chat about your respective favorite fictional series. Ever since then she's been helping you out, be it in learning new spells or nagging you to get your homework done on time. Thankfully she doesn't have nearly the same shine for following the rules and blind obedience to the teachers she once had after one of them accidentally turned her into a catgirl and flubbed the counter-spell several times in a row and accidentally made things permanent. Thankfully after a couple of compliments from you she decided maybe it wasn't so bad after all.

50 cp - Tiger Cake
The world is filled with strange and unusual things. Yggdrasil is a mighty tree that holds an entire world inside it's branches, but far in the past it was once naught but a sapling without a single leaf to it's name. And in that age, there was a warrior queen with hair the color of freshly spilled blood who conquered lands and defeated monsters, setting the stage for the otherworld as we know it today. The only records of her existence are old legends and a sword that probably didn't belong to her. Or, well, that was what everyone thought right up until a young child visiting the local museum touched the sword and transformed into said warrior queen. She's since been fastracked into Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy as both student and teacher - while technically a bit too young to be a student, she still sucks up new knowledge and skills with aplomb, even if she's more interested in fashion and acting than actual combat. Meanwhile, her distant ancestor is sometimes the gym teacher and advisor to the Barbarian Club, with the two of them switching control of their now shared body as needed, going from a busty shortstack to an even bustier Amazonian queen as needed.

50 cp - Mikan Cream Tart
Seventy years ago a mad scientist who knew nothing of magic breached into the Otherworld, bringing an entire battleship with him. At the time this was disastrous, and as such the ship and its crew were sent back sans the memory of their experiences, convinced their plans had failed. Unfortunately the dimensional breach had the very strange effect of creating a number Tsukumogami around the world, including the ship itself. Which is why some years ago the spirits of those objects began to appear in the otherworld after the destruction of their physical form. Shortly after your own arrival into this world, one of those spirits will follow your path in, all but crash landing breasts first into you. From the outside she looks quite insane, but she's actually the spirit of an aircraft carrier and fully capable of summoning miniature planes and cannons that strike with the full force of her real self. She also has something of an inferiority complex stemming from her lackluster military record, which has caused her to lean hard into being as perfect as possible in other areas, including her seduction. Speaking of which, what's your favorite food? She'll make you as much of it as you want. Eh? You don't want any? Did someone else already make you something? How dare they!

50 cp - Chocolate Moon Cake
During your time in this jump, I expect you to go on adventures, to complete quests, to excel in whatever area you decide to obsess over, be it a style of magic or the seduction of women. And to that end, your reputation has gotten slightly ahead of you. You see, as part of Yggdrasil's space program, there exists a fairly large population on the otherworld's moon. And the nominal ruler of the moon, who is both the president of a fairly large corporation up on the moon and the mayor of the largest settlement, has gotten wind of you and your accomplishments. She runs the moon like her personal fiefdom, and is interested in one day handing over the reigns of all she controls to a child of her in order to turn it into an actual kingdom, not just a random assortment of properties under her thumb. A child she does not currently have, despite having already made agreements for that child's hand in marriage. This is where you come in. She wants you to fuck her. To bend her over and knock her up. To ruin her bedframe and defile every flat surface you can reach with her milk and your semen. She's a bit older than most of the other individuals you're likely to have done it with, but trust me, she still rates as a true beauty. After all, despite being over 100 she doesn't look a day past twenty two.

50 cp - Maracuja Mousse
Tell me, when you think of an idol, what do you picture in your mind? An outfit like a school uniform? A short skirt, a nice shirt, some extraneous buttons, frills, perhaps a belt or two? Some shy girl who only pretends to be outgoing and has never so much as touched a boy, let alone kissed? Okay, now throw that image away, its garbage. Let me introduce you to one of the most popular idols in all of Yggdrasil - she wears short shorts, a thong, and a t-shirt with no bra, has a deep tan, can drink Scots under the table, and is continually disappointed that none of the producers, investors, or other upper management want to try and blackmail her into letting them molest her. Or even something more exciting. For all that she dresses and acts like a slut most of the time, everyone is perfectly polite to her, because none of that stops her from being a virtual genius of song. Which is where you come in. See, she's bored out of her mind and has decided to blackmail you into working with her. Or possibly for her, it's not clear. Either way, you're going to be her P-san for the foreseeable future, and if you don't give her your P there will be a reckoning.

50 cp - Fukuuchi Udon
While taking a lovely stroll through the woods one day, you stumbled across a group of suspicious hunters who were a bit too scruffy to be present within Yggdrasils borders. After thrashing them and revealing them as poachers who were seeking magical animals for reagents, you rescued a small pink fox from their clutches. Unknown to you, said fox followed you home and spent a short period of time watching you, at which point it revealed itself to you as not just any old fox, but a kitsune with five gloriously fluffy tails. Having decided she owed you a favor for your actions and that you were of decent enough character to not abuse said favor, she became intent on serving you for a year and a day. Her primary skill set is that of a shrine maiden, as she used to be the familiar of a very powerful thunder deity, but if you need a maid or perhaps even a chef, she's willing to give that a try as part of her debt to you. That said, if you leave her to her own devices for long enough, you'll find that they actually own a small publishing house that they use to prop up small-time authors. Mostly so that she can laugh at all the terrible drafts for stories she gets sent, but some do manage to get published.

50 cp - Carrot Cheesecake
Let me ask you a question - how would you react if you woke up to a drop-dead bombshell of a woman who was buck ass naked except for a pair of bunny ears atop her head sucking you off, supposedly in the name of science? ...You're going to have to figure that out pretty soon, because someday soon you're going to wake up to that. This particular woman is the mother of a certain brand of magictech armors and a genius besides, but is having slight problems with her tech - they only work for women. Or rather, they only work for women and you. Not sure how that works, but trust me, she's very eager to find out why and more than willing to pay you with her body so that she can lock you out of her system. What, you thought she was trying to make it so that any man could use them? That would be nice, but she's not interested in that. Smart as she may be, she's also a major airhead who has arbitrarily decided only women should get to use her stuff. Well, you can have one since she needs you to fix the glitch, but you're gonna have to discipline her a couple of times if you want to keep yours.

50 cp - Lemon Lime Soda Cake
So, the Yggdrasil Magical Research Laboratory mass producing homunculus waifus isn't enough for you? Well, fine. We can go farther. We can automate waifu production with robots! More specifically, we can turn robots into waifus. This thin and lithe android has white hair and a massive rack and seems to not only be totally dedicated to you, but to be programmed to actively enjoy assisting humans in general and you in specific. Want a maid? She can be a maid. Want a dominatrix? She gets off on the thought of being allowed to touch you. Want to play games by using her breasts as the game controller? She has that feature built in and would love for you to do that. The only weird thing about her is that she doesn't seem to understand clothes as anything other than something to arouse you with, and if you try to get her to dress herself for any purpose other than titillating you, she'll accidentally end up blindfolding herself. It doesn't stop her, but it does get some weird looks.

50 cp - Peanut Butter Sunday
There's a lot that could be said about this particular dog-girl. A lot of things that are quite remarkable, in point of fact, though possibly not quite flattering. She is remarkably short for one-not even cresting four-foot four even with her ears fully extended. Remarkably lustful, utterly obsessed with breasts and tiddies-the bigger the better. Remarkably unathletic, barely able to walk a mile without getting winded. Exceptionally cowardly, fearful of spiders, heights, the dark, and many other things. But for all those remarkable traits, she's also quite gifted in various ways as well. Intelligent, though oftentimes hyper focused on entirely trivial things, and capable of working out most problems placed before her quite quickly. Creatively gifted in most ways EXCEPT for drawing. Skilled with a crossbow and magic. Incredibly cuddling and loving, though she has some difficulty figuring out how to show it at times. If someone could help her focus on a subject without getting distracted, you'd find she's also incredibly talented at just about everything she tries her hand at. A rather remarkable corgi-ah, sorry, she claims she's a catgirl. But she's probably a corgi doggirl.

50 cp - Death By Chocolate
The Otherworld is just more than the Earth. The average citizen is more powerful, more intelligent, more beautiful, so on and so forth. So it stands to reason that an individual who manages to make their way from Earth to the Otherworld is at a disadvantage. And that is exactly the case for this young lady. In a quest for power she's made a few too many bad deals with spirits, dragons, angels, tentacle monsters, so on and so forth. She's quite powerful these days, but her appearance varies in accordance with how many of her contracts she's fulfilling. With only a few, she's plain and quite flat, brown hair and green eyes, 200% a background character. At full power, she has silver hair, one blue eye and one purple eye, powers to rival a god, and a bust that can't be described with only a single letter. Mind you, this is her at full power, which is largely at the whims of her patrons. And most of those deals either revolve around her sexually servicing them in some manner, or getting herself utterly wrecked at their discretion, so it's quite rare for her to be able to use her full power. Luckily all of her patrons are female - perhaps you could help her renegotiate?

Drawbacks

+100 cp - Breastly Blonde
The scourge of the brunettes! Jumper, your hair is now of a natural and beautiful golden color, while your sexual characteristics (such as breasts) are boosted several times, likewise your intelligence takes a nosedive. Your personality and to some extent your wisdom aren't affected, but expect to miss very obvious stuff, fail math and other logic-based subjects, to being an overall more absentminded and easily distracted individual. I'd call you an airhead, but that would be wrong because all the hot air blow clearly comes from your massive tits, not your cavernously empty skull.

+100 cp - The Magic of Horny Cupid
Congrats, jumper! You're now the proud owner of a cupid aura! What's that you mean? Well, you passively make others around you more horny and inclined to get down and dirty... with their respective partners. This never includes you by the way, your girls are either exempt or horny for each other. This won't do much except that every couple and awkward mutual crush will be going at each other mating like animals while you're around. It will be very awkward, even more so if you live with your parents.

+100 cp - Jumpdere The Archetypical
Good news and bad news. Bad news is that now your personality and attitude will be a lot more aligned with one of the '-dere' archetypes. This doesn't change who you are as a person, but it makes you a lot more inclined towards the stereotypical image of your chosen archetype. The good news about this is that it will be fucking hilarious. For me. Hope you choose tsundere or something like that, hahaha!

+100 cp - This Can't Be Heaven, I Recognize it!
The odd sense of deja-vu will be your faithful companion for a decade here, for everyone you meet will feel extremely familiar, not as someone you know, but rather because they're uncomfortably close to the characters from fictional media you like. Their situations and backstories aren't exactly the same but their personality and looks feel like you found a knock off of them with bigger breasts. Will be mildly uncomfortable at best and really uncanny at worst.

+200 cp - Get a Job
Sorry about this jumper, but because bureaucracy stuff you're now completely cut off from your financial assets. If you want money then you better ask your parents for an allowance or get a job to fund your gaming addictions. Moreover, most of the jobs that come your way will be very boring or uncomfortable. Such as helping clean the stables at the unicorn ranch, or digitizing documents by hand, At the very least they will pay decently for what they are. The only ones that aren't painfully boring are going to be the ones that are painfully embarrassing. Ever wanted to work in a maid cafe where loudly proclaiming your love for every single customer - excuse me, I mean 'Master' is mandatory? Yeah, me neither.

+200 cp - You Ampersand Me
Sad to say but you have lost all your powers from previous jumps. They're scattered around inside the breasts of several women. If you want to get them back you will have to conquer the girls first. Sounds a lot easier than it actually is because you only get a very vague gut feeling of who has your powers, so unless you go around seducing the female population of the entire kingdom this will be an issue. The only guiding light you have as to who has what power is that bigger and better powers are held within bigger and better breasts.

+200 cp - Heart of Stone
This was supposed to be a fun trip to a world full of cool magic, cute girls and giant boobs, so how come everything is on fire? Selecting this makes it so you don't enter the 'canon' version of the world, but rather one that's closer to a dark reflection of it. Think more 'dark fantasy' rather than 'ero fantasy'. Yggdrasil Academy is more militarized, racism and classism are rampant, there's supposedly several wars being waged on the borders, the girls are far from naïve or welcoming, people abuse magic and are quite practical about it, etc. Expect things to run quite differently from what you expected. Of course this doesn't affect you directly so you could try to reform the world into what you expected…

+300 cp - Modern Tits are Fine Too
Remember everything I said about the fantasy world and all that shit? Well, it ain't so anymore. This pesky thing will make it so the whole thing gets called off. Not completely of course, you're still going to Yggdrasil Academy, but now is a co-ed private school, magic is no more and while the women still have big breasts they're now within the base human range, not to mention that their thinking is a lot more modern even if a bit sheltered. All your powers and skills are turned into the non-magic human equivalent for the duration of your stay here.

+300 cp - In The Garden of Sinners
You ritard! You stupid fuck! What have you done!? Now there are several other losers that have gotten isekai'ed to different parts of the world, all of them with ero-magic or some equivalent of it. They all know of each other and will enter some sort of sick battle royale with their 'harems' in fucking and NTR to decide who will be the last one left. Losers will see their girls get taken and then get genderbend and added to the victor's harem. They all know of you and all your powers, which have been dampened, and consider you to be prime meat and someone worth taking down as a group. Hope you can survive victorious and not like a used up onahole.

+300 cp - Chad Attacks
Some dude that calls himself "Buriedo" has come around to this town with a mission. To fuck over your time here by stealing everything you love and more. You won't know of him at first, but he will be around, seducing females and finding powers or artifacts in silence without alarming you. Next, you will start seeing his face around, just another figure in the masses at first but soon he will enter your periphery, some of your acquaintances will be won over by him. That sword you were thinking of picking up? He has it now. That cute librarian you thought had in the bag? She's his girl now. Your friends and family? They prefer him. Companions? Hope you weren't too attached to them. He will slowly close in on you, taking away everything until the moment of confrontation. That's when the real danger makes way: he can steal your powers, perks, and skills. Fighting him straight on is a fool's errand. Since he has a low attention span he will get bored and give you back your stuff after a few years. Hope you don't mind them being 'slightly used'. It's possible to just evade him for long enough.

The End

Go Home
Stay Here
Move On

Notes
Q - Who is this jump by
A - Cthulhu Fartagn and Ricrod.

Q - Why are all the companions named after food?
A - Ric was hungry.

Q - Can I use The One Piece Swimsuit Is Real to be a Persona character?
A - You have have a personal summon that has massive tits

Q - Can I have a personal summon without massive tits?
A - Where do you think you are?

Q - How big are the oc companions' tits and ass?
A - BIG. Thin waists tho.

Q - What's up with Big Boobs Boast Badass Backs?
A - My knees hurt

Q - Why is you ntring me a 300 cp drawback
A - Ric had a weird dream