Milk Hunters

Version 1.1
By Selias

Welcome to the world of Pretty Cure! Well, kind of. This is actually the world of Kuroyuki's Milk Hunters series, which has just a few small changes. See, Cure Black and Cure White are being affected by a dark energy that's draining their power, and the only way to recharge it is through drinking cum. Specifically, the cum of a fat, greasy creep who's known only as "Senpai." Yeah, this is one of those worlds. You will appear on the morning that the Pretty Cures discover that their power is being drained, and what they need to do to recharge it.

Anyway, here's 1000 CP for your next ten years.

Oh, one last thing before you go. Regardless of your background, you'll be immune to the Power of Darkness for the duration of your stay, here, so you won't get sent into unconsciousness when a Zakenna attacks. You will not be immune to the dark energy that's draining the Pretty Cures of their powers, though, unless you have a perk to help with that.

Backgrounds

Innocent Bystander
You're just an ordinary person from around town. Maybe you're friends with one of the Pretty Cures, or maybe you're just some random office worker. Maybe you'll be able to help out your resident heroes? Or maybe you'd rather just avoid the whole mess? I'm not going to tell you what to do, Jumper.

You can choose both your age and gender, with an age range of 13-25.

Pretty Cure
Up until recently, you were just an ordinary young woman, but that all changed when you were chosen to stop the forces of darkness from invading your world. Now, you have the ability to transform into a Pretty Cure, a Magical Girl! Though… things have recently taken a turn for the worse, for you and your friends, as you read in the intro.

Your gender is automatically set to female, and you can choose any age from 13-15.

Senpai
Much like the Pretty Cure option, you were just an ordinary young man, up until recently. Rather than being chosen to fight against the forces of darkness, however, your life changed when two young women came up, revealed that they were magical girls, and said that they needed your sperm to recharge their powers. Naturally, you were more than happy to accept. It would be easy to take advantage of this situation, but I'm sure you wouldn't do something like that. Right, Jumper?

You can be either male or a futanari, and you can choose any age from 16-18.

All perks and items are discounted for their respective backgrounds, with the 100 CP options being free.
Any background can serve as a Drop-In.

Innocent Bystander Perks

Warm and Fuzzy (100 CP)
There's just something about you, Jumper, that makes your presence comforting. Just being around you will make someone happier, more relaxed, and less bothered by any worries that they have. If you're actively attempting to help someone, though? You'll not only have a good idea of what to do and say, but it will be incredibly effective. A fun weekend would be enough to help someone get over months of trauma.

Protection (100 CP)
With Senpai going around and raping anyone who catches his eye during monster attacks, it might be a good idea to have a bit of "protection." Protection against STDs and unwanted pregnancies, that is. From now on, you can choose whether or not you will get pregnant or impregnate someone during sex, and you're not only immune to STDs, but you'll cure any that your partners have. Unless you don't want to, for some reason.

Prince Charming (200 CP)
You're charming, Jumper. Incredibly charming. You won't be having any trouble making friends, so long as the person you're trying to befriend doesn't have a genuine reason to dislike you (and even then, it'll probably just take a bit of time and effort), and pretty much everyone finds you attractive. In addition, you gain a bonus when those that you're attempting to seduce would be happier being in a relationship with you than with their current significant other. Whether you use this to "rescue" girls (or boys) from abusive relationships or for less noble reasons is up to you.

Bed Frame Breaking (200 CP)
Now that you've got a way of getting them (assuming that you bought Prince Charming), you'll need a way to keep them satisfied. Fortunately, you're now amazing in bed, being capable of keeping pretty much anyone satisfied, even if you have to split your attention between several people. That's not the true lure of this perk, however. The pleasure that you and your partner(/s) share during sex is enhanced by the love that you share, with no limit. Even if said love is one-sided.

Happily Ever After (400 CP)
As I've previously mentioned, Senpai has been going around and raping anyone who catches his eye, when they're rendered unconscious by the energy that appears during monster attacks. With that in mind, in addition to said monster attacks, something to help keep your loved ones safe seems like a good idea. This perk will give your friends and lovers a form of plot armor. It won't be as powerful as Bystander Effect, but it should still be more than enough. Someone, or some*thing,* that's out looking for victims will overlook those that you care about, in favor of others. If they're still targeted, for some reason --if the one targeting them was specifically after them, or there was nobody else around for them to target, for example--, they will have supernatural luck in escaping relatively unharmed; their attacker will trip, people who can help will stumble across them, they'll instinctually choose the best escape routes, and so on. On top of all of this, you will also be able to feel when those that you care about are in danger, and how badly they need your help. Of course, you can turn this sense off, if you want, but why would you?

Love Overcomes All (400 CP)
Assuming that you decide to steal/"rescue" the Pretty Cures from Senpai, having a harem of several girls might raise a few eyebrows. Especially if you're dating fourteen-year-olds while you're in your mid-twenties. Fortunately, you won't have to worry about that. From now on, nobody outside of your relationship will judge you or your lover(/s) for anything related to said relationship; the number of people involved, the ages of those involved, the genders of those involved, and so on. This will also work on overprotective family members and jealous exes.

The Power of Love (600 CP)
Much like Senpai, you're capable of recharging supernatural powers. Unlike him, however, you use Love, instead of cum. The more potent the emotions between yourself and the one that you're recharging, the more energy you can recover, though this also scales with the act that you're performing. A pair of virtual strangers having sex would generate as much power as a happily married husband and wife sharing a kiss, which would be enough to completely refill a Pretty Cure's "tanks." In addition, if you "overfill," the extra energy can be used for a one-time power-up. Something to keep in mind, if you think that they might need the boost in a coming fight.

Bystander Effect (600 CP)
Monster fights involve a lot of explosions and magic spells getting fired off all over the place so it should be dangerous to be anywhere near them, yet somehow innocent bystanders never die or get seriously injured. You have the same form of plot armor: as long as an attack isn't deliberately aimed at you, you'll take non-fatal damage from it, if any at all. Giant explosions will just pick you up and throw you with the shockwave, and magic spells will never land a direct hit. In addition, you're now immune to friendly fire, and people looking for victims (*cough*Senpai*cough*) will ignore you. Of course, all of this goes out the window, as soon as you willingly get involved in events, and it will take at least a few days for you to regain your immunity.

Pretty Cure Perks

Beautiful (100 CP)
All of the Pretty Cures are attractive young women, and you're no exception to the trend. Silky hair, smooth skin, attractive features, and so on. Of course, this may be more of a drawback, in this particular jump. As a bonus, you're now much more resistant to illness, and you only need about half as much sleep. The life of a magical girl isn't an easy one, after all, especially if you're also serving as some guy's sex-slave.

Gifted (100 CP)
Nagisa is the star player of the lacrosse team, and Honoka is a bonafide genius. Now, you too have an incredible talent at a mundane skill. Maybe you're an idol-grade singer, or you're working on a best-selling novel, for example?

Doing My Duty (200 CP)
Sometimes, we have to do things that we don't enjoy. Like serving as a sex-toy for some fugly creep, so you can absorb energy from him to fight monsters with. Well, now you can turn off any emotional connection you have to any task you're performing. Sucking someone off would be no different than brushing your teeth of having a glass of water. You can selectively activate this, such as having it on for kissing someone you hate, but not when you kiss someone you love.

Always On Call (200 CP)
The forces of darkness can strike at any moment, and at any location. Well, in theory, anyway. In practice, monsters always seem to attack when and where you can easily reach them, unless the specific time and place is important for their plan. Even then, you'll have a hunch that you should head somewhere in that area, around the time that it will happen.

This doesn't change the frequency of attacks, just when and where they happen, and despite the name, you can turn this perk off, if you want to take a break.

Never Give Up, Never Surrender (400 CP)
Spending months, if not years, as some creepy loser's sex slave while also fighting off an invasion of monsters isn't exactly an easy thing to endure, but endure it you shall. Your will is stronger than steel, and doing the above wouldn't be enough to leave a mark on it. On top of that, if something does manage to overcome your will? The speed at which you'll recover from it will be greatly enhanced, and you'll have a greater resistance to whatever it was.

Waifu (400 CP)
People who hold power over you tend to develop soft spots for you. Not necessarily enough for a slave owner to set you free, for example, but said slave owner would give you the easier jobs, and be a bit more lenient with their punishments. Or, to use an example a bit closer to home, Senpai would have fairly vanilla sex with you, rather than making you give him rimjobs, drink his piss, and "punishing" you for your friends saying that he's gross by fucking you as hard as he can. He would also be a lot more likely to take you talking about how disgusting he is as "being tsundere," rather than thinking that you're genuine.

Obviously, this can only be pushed so far. If you try to murder the one who has power over you, or if you make repeated attempts to escape their grasp in a short amount of time, their good will towards you will quickly run out, though acting subservient for a while will help to restore it. Likewise, if the one with power over you is literally incapable of developing a soft spot for you, such as a complete sociopath, or if they can't go easy on you for some reason, this perk won't help much.

Emissary of Light (Free for Pretty Cure for the jump, 600 CP to keep)
Pretty Cures are those empowered by the Queen of the Garden of Light to fight against the forces of the Dotsuku Zone. This gives them the ability to transform into Pretty Cures. This transformation grants the girls greater physical abilities, the ability to shoot energy attacks, and a cute outfit. If you've ever watched a magical girl anime, I'm sure that you're familiar with the concept. Unlike Nagisa and Honoka, however, your power is completely internal, so you won't need to use a Card Commune and the Queen Card to transform. You also don't need a partner to transform, being able to do so on your own.

Teamwork Makes the Dream Work (600 CP)
As previously mentioned, Cure Black and Cure White need to be together to transform into their Pretty Cure forms. On top of that, they can combine their attacks to make them more powerful than what they could accomplish on their own, and their strength is related to the strength of their bond to each other. Now, you too can harness the power of friendship! When you combine your powers with those of a friend or lover the result is vastly stronger than what either of you could have accomplished alone, and this boost continues to grow as you get closer, without any limit aside from the strength of your bond. On the other hand, if your relationship deteriorates, your powers will wither, as well, potentially losing the entire bonus.

Since this is a hentai universe, your sexual “power” is boosted, as well, allowing you and your partners to grow in sexual stamina, skill, and so on.

Senpai Perks

Bottomless Well (100 CP)
It's your job to help the Pretty Cures recharge their power by pumping them full of cum. So, it's a good thing that you can cum all day and have still have some left over. In addition to this, the size of your loads has increased by a good amount, being enough to completely fill up a tight, young pussy. If you wish, you can apply this power to other bodily fluids, such as saliva, blood, or breast milk.

Guilt Free (100 CP)
You came here to have fun taking advantage of pretty young girls, and you aren't about to let your conscience talk you out of it. From now on, you can silence that pesky voice in your head, keeping it from telling you that what you're doing is "wrong." The tears in that young girl's eyes won't tug at your heartstrings, just make you harder. You can selectively activate this, such as silencing your conscience when it comes to blackmail and rape, but not murder or torture.

Overfilled (200 CP)
When you pour excess power into someone, said power can cause slight changes to their body. Increased breast size, increased ass size, smoother skin, silkier hair, fuller lips, lactation, increased sensitivity, increased libido, and so on. It works fairly slowly, though, and it’s not capable of causing anything that’s not physically possible. A few months of using the Fill’er Up perk would be enough to increase your partner’s breasts by a few cup sizes and cause lactation, for example. This is mostly to be used with the Fill’er Up perk, but it would work with other, similar perks.

Trustworthy? (200 CP)
You might be disgusting, but you can be trusted. At least, that's what the people around you seem to think, even when they should know better. Tell a girl’s mother that you’re a friend of hers who came over to visit when you heard she was sick, and she’ll be more than happy to let you spend several hours alone in her daughter’s room with her, ignoring any strange sounds she hears. Even if you’ve spent the past several months sexually abusing her, said girl will believe that you’re visiting out of genuine concern for her, until you prove otherwise. Nobody will be suspicious about you spending a good amount of time around several beautiful younger girls, even though you look like something that got scraped out of a dumpster. If you prove yourself unworthy of trust, it may take a few weeks to regain it.

Fill'er Up (Free to Senpai for the jump, 400 CP to keep)
The whole reason that Cure Black and Cure White are having sex with you in the first place is to recharge their powers, so it wouldn't make much sense if you couldn't do that. From now on, your sperm is able to recharge a person's powers. For someone around the level of a Pretty Cure, one load could have them go from 0% to 100%, but someone like Unohana would probably take a few rounds. If you wish, you can apply this to other bodily fluids, like saliva, blood, or breast milk, but it will still require the same volume.

Bitch Breaker (400 CP)
You've spent the last several months forcing them to follow your every perverted whim, humiliating them, and even forced yourself on them while they were sick in bed and helpless to resist you. It's only natural for them to hate your guts, right? Wrong. The more you have sex with someone, the more that they'll find themselves wanting it. For someone who finds your appearance and behavior repulsive, it may take a year or so, but if they're ambivalent or attracted towards you? They would find themselves head over heels for you in just a week or two, at most. However, this doesn't work if you're raping them. They have to willingly agree to it, however reluctantly, so you'll need some way to get them to go along with it long enough for this to take effect. This also won't work if you don't want it to, so you don't need to worry about being a sex slave, yourself, and having your "owner" get addicted to having sex with you.

You Need Me (Free to Senpai for the jump, 600 CP to keep)
It's nice to know that you're needed. Especially when you know that you can take advantage of that fact. The more that someone needs you, the less capable they are of turning down your demands. If you're the star player on a sports team, you can get away with treating your teammates like shit, verbally abusing them, and stealing from them. If you're the only thing keeping someone from losing their life and the lives of everyone they know and love? There's literally nothing you can't make them do. Well, as long as it doesn't make them risk their life and the lives of everyone they know and love, of course. Best of all, they won't try to get revenge, or anything like that, when they no longer need you. As a bonus, I'll make it so you'll have a feeling of just how far you can push this, and a talent for getting people under your power.

Happy Ending (600 CP)
Well, a happy ending for you, anyway. As a hypothetical, let's say that in addition to taking advantage of this world's heroines, you've been raping and impregnating your helpless classmates and neighbors, as they're put to sleep by the monster attacks. For some reason, though, not only did they not tell anyone, they didn't even bother trying to find out who did it to them. From now on, fortune will continue favoring you, in this way. It won't have much of an effect on your daily life, but as far as getting away with your misdeeds goes, you're pretty much golden. Rape someone and they'll keep quiet about it, impregnate someone and nobody will think to perform a DNA test or realize how much like you the child looks, shoplift and nobody will be looking your way or notice it on the security camera or while taking inventory. Of course, there's only so far this can take you. Murdering someone in broad daylight in front of dozens of witnesses will still see you locked up, if not worse.

Innocent Bystander Items

Miracle Light (100 CP)
In the movies these little wands transform people's feelings into power for the Precures, generating deus ex machina transformations and new powers and such. This one all by itself can't do that, but it can broadcast your feelings to people you care about, letting them feel the sincerity of your thoughts for themselves.

Therapy Couch (200 CP)
Not literally one of those couches you see in psychiatrist offices, this big comfy piece of furniture is the ideal safe space for someone who's just been through something awful to heal and recuperate on, maybe with two or three friends to help hug it out. Even something really awful like rape can be worked through and recovered from at an accelerated pace; it might take a few hours of vegging out and marathoning some chick flicks or annihilating a carton of ice cream, but by the time they're done everything will be OK again.

Living Space (400 CP)
You own a nice big house and get a monthly stipend from a trust fund or absent parents or some other source that's enough to live off of comfortably, though not extravagantly. It's a very normal-looking two-story house like any other you might find in upscale suburbs; in fact it's so normal that monsters and criminals and other ne'er do-wells will pass right by it rather than target it unless they're looking specifically for you for some reason. Better still, your neighbors respect your privacy and won't ask questions about any strange goings-on that take place on your property, like strange lights and noises in the backyard or young girls spending the night over a few times a week.

Pretty Cure Items

Stain-Resistant (100 CP)
Unless you have another way to recharge your energy, you're going to be having a lot of sex, over the next few years, and Senpai isn't the type to care about getting your clothes dirty. No need to worry, though, because I've got you covered. This refilling container of laundry detergent can not only remove any stains from your clothing, but it will actually prevent any clothes that it's been used on from getting stained. Juice, mud, and other things *cough*jizz*cough* will slide right off of them without leaving so much as a mark.

Powerthirst (200 CP)
This drink is full of electrolytes. A can of it can also refill about the same amount of energy as drinking a load of Senpai's cum, if you were interested in being a Pretty Cure without having to have sex with him (or using the Vanilla toggle, down in the Drawbacks section, for whatever reason). Of course, this doesn't only work on your Pretty Cure powers. Any pool of energy that you possess can be replenished by this drink, though the amount that's recharged doesn't change. Best of all, this comes in a six-pack, and any used cans are replaced every morning, so you can share it with your friends!

Sparkle Bracelets (400 CP)
This is something that you would normally have to wait a while to get, but if you want to have it from the start, I won't deny you. These bracelets will increase your power by a good amount. How much? No idea! They let Cure Black and Cure White use the "ultimate form" of their Marble Screw attack, though, so it's probably pretty good.

Senpai Items

Toy Chest (100 CP)
Vanilla sex can get a bit boring, after a while. That's why you have this! This chest contains pretty much any mundane sex toys that you can think of, from dildos to handcuffs to gimp suits. It also has all of the standard cosplay outfits, like sexy nurses, sexy cheerleaders, sexy maids, and so on. Best of all, it contains an infinite number of them, and will be able to create copies of any other sex toys and outfits that you put into it.

Blackmail Collection (200 CP)
Maybe you see the class president shoplifting from a convenience store, but don't have your camera on you? Maybe you raped the school idol when she was unconscious due to a Zakenna attack, but your phone was out of batteries, so you couldn't record a video of it? No need to worry, I've got you covered. From now on, any and all potential blackmail that you come across will appear on this external hard drive. It has an infinite amount of storage, perfect indexing, nobody but you can interact with the data on it, and if it's ever stolen, it will return to your warehouse as soon as the thief takes their eyes off of it.

"Love" Shack (400 CP)
Much like with Innocent Bystander, you own a nice house and get a monthly stipend that will allow you to live a comfortable life without needing to work. Once again, your neighbors respect your privacy and won't ask questions about any strange goings-on that take place on your property, like strange lights and noises in the backyard or young girls spending the night over a few times a week. However, rather than keeping your home safe from monsters, criminals, and other such people, this house has a different effect. Anyone that you live under this roof with will be twice as susceptible to being physically and mentally altered by you. As an example, with the perks from the Senpai background, you could change an innocent young girl into your loving maid/"little sister" in a matter of weeks.

Companions

Import/Create (50 CP for one, 200 CP for eight)
Want to be a magical girl but you'd rather have a Companion serve as your "Senpai?" Maybe you're looking for some dubcon-play with a companion of yours, and want them to be "forced" to beg for your cum? This option will let you import a companion with any background (though Senpai can only be taken once), and 600 CP to spend on perks and items.

If you want, you can also use this to create a new Companion. They will, again, have a background of your choice, and 600 CP to spend on perks and items.

Canon Companion (100 CP)
Want to bring your toys with you on your journey? Did Senpai end up growing on you? Do you want to help your fellow victims recover by taking them on an adventure? Maybe you just made a few friends you don't want to lose? This option will let you bring one canon companion along on your chain, as long as you can convince them to join you, and will ensure that you regularly encounter them in positive situations. This can be purchased multiple times.

Drawbacks

Vanilla (+0 CP)
You'd prefer to spend your decade in the original Pretty Cure world? Well, okay. The two worlds are pretty similar, so it's not a huge problem.

Alternate (+0 CP)
Maybe you're more interested in the other Pretty Cure protagonists? If you like, you can have the Milk Hunters plot take place during one of the other seasons of Pretty Cure.

Fugly (+100 CP. Innocent Bystander and Senpai Only)
Senpai weighs at least 400 pounds, has greasy hair and oily skin, has chapped lips, and rarely bathes. Sounds disgusting, right? Well, from now on, that's your description, as well. Except for the "rarely bathes" part. That one's optional, because I like you, Jumper.

Senpai's Interest (+100 CP. Innocent Bystander and Pretty Cure Only)
Unfortunately for you, you've caught Senpai's eye, Jumper. Luckily, he won't just pin you down or put something in your food, but you can bet that he'll be looking for a way to get into your pants.

Guilty Conscience (+100 CP)
You know that little voice in your head that nags at you when you do something bad? Well, you'd better get used to it, because that voice is going to be a lot louder and more insistent for the next ten years. It's not just the big things that will get it nagging at you, either. Jaywalking, lying, pirating movies and video games, and so on. Of course, you'll still be able to ignore it, but it'll be a pain in the ass.

It's a Job, Not A Game (+100 CP. Senpai Only)
The fate of the world is at stake, so it doesn't make sense to force your protectors to serve you whenever you want, rather than only giving them as much as they need, right? Well, from this point on, the only sex that you're getting is purely for the purpose of recharging the energy of the Pretty Cures. Better hope they don't find an alternative way to recharge their energy, or get rid of the dark power that's draining them, or you'll have a bit of a dry spell.

Overly Mercenary Attitude (+200 CP. +400 CP for Pretty Cure)
Much like how Senpai extorts the Pretty Cures for sex, despite them being the only thing standing between Earth and total destruction, you're a bit of a selfish asshole. By that, I mean that you are now unwilling to do anything to help others, unless you get something for it, or you would be in immediate danger if you didn't do so. This ranges from holding the door for someone all the way to… well, giving someone the energy they need to fight off an invasion from an alternate reality.

Prime Target (+200 CP. Innocent Bystander and Senpai Only)
You'd better watch out, Jumper. The forces of darkness know that you're somehow important to the Pretty Cures, and they're after you. Even if you're not actually important to them. That said, this isn't really as bad as it sounds. At one point in the series, Senpai shows up during a monster attack and "helps" them by calling them over, one at a time, to "replenish their power," before losing control of his lust and having a threesome with Honoka and Nagisa, leaving Hikari to fight off the monster on her own.

If taken with Genre Shift, this drawback grants +400 CP.

Genre Shift (+400 CP)
The forces of darkness now individually pose a serious threat in a fight to the entire team of pretty cures, and will take any opportunity to finish off a wounded one. Without your help, the pretty cures will surely fall in battle, leaving the bad guys free to invade the Earth with nobody able to stop them.

Drained (+400 CP)
Much like the Pretty Cures, all of the powers you have, both from this jump and others, have been affected by the dark energy. Unlike them, you won't end up dying if you completely run out of energy, but unless you want to be able to use your various perks and powers, you'll need to find some way to recharge them. As you might imagine, being an attractive woman would make it easier to convince the main source of recharges in this universe to help you out.

Not Immune (+400 CP for Attractive Women, +100 CP for Men and Unattractive Women)
When the Zakennas attack, the Power of Darkness that they release puts everyone other than Senpai and the Pretty Cures to sleep. Senpai, of course, is /more/ than happy to take advantage of this, having his way with every attractive girl that he comes across. Unfortunately for you, you have no immunity to the Power of Darkness, and will be completely helpless until the Zakenna has been defeated. If you're an attractive female, odds are that you're going to be raped at least once or twice, unless you make sure that you're nowhere near Senpai when an attack happens. Worst case scenario, he'll decide that you're one of his favorites, like Odajima, and make regular "visits."

If you or a Companion took the place of Senpai, he still exists in the setting. He’s just not the one providing the Pretty Cures with energy.

Dark Energy Source (+400 CP)
Nagisa, Honoka, and Hikari are convinced that you are the source of the dark power that's been draining their energy, and they'll do whatever it takes to stop you, unless you can find and reveal the /true/ source. Any powers you have that would help you do this, such as scrying or sensing energy, will be unable to help you track down the source. Strangely, Honoka and Hikari aren't as upset with you as Nagisa is, though they'll still fight just as hard as her.

Senpai's Slave (+600 CP for Attractive Women, +200 CP for Men and Unattractive Women)
You have to follow all of Senpai's orders, and unfortunately for you, he's well aware of this. He won't force you to do anything that would cause you any serious harm or legal consequences, but if you're an attractive woman, you can bet your ass (and other holes) that he's going to be having sex with you. A lot. You should probably prepare yourself for having a few of his kids, as well. He has also ordered you not to harm him, just in case.

If you're a guy or an unattractive girl, he'll only be having you act as a gofer, making you do things that he doesn't want to, having you give him money, and possibly humiliating you if you're more handsome than he is. Fortunately, he's unaware of any powers or non-mundane items (power armor, spaceships, etc) that you didn't buy in this jump, so you don't need to worry about him having you mind-control women into having sex with him, or making you shapeshift into a woman so he can fuck you. His order not to harm him includes using supernatural powers to make him impotent, mind-control him, and so on, even though he doesn’t know you have the ability to do so.

Ending

Stay
Maybe you found a new home in this world, Jumper, and you don't want to leave? Well, I'm not going to stop you from settling down. Here's another 1000 CP to buy a few more things from here, as a parting gift.

Continue On
Well, it's been ten years, and now it's time to move on, Jumper. What kind of world will you visit after this, I wonder?

Go Home
Tired of jumping, Jumper? Miss your home? Or maybe spending a decade as some greasy creep's slave has dulled the joy of jumping for you? Well, that's okay. Here's another 1000 CP to spend, before you leave.

If this winds up on 4chan, it's just some asshole trying to stir up trouble. This is purely for Questionable Questing and anyone else that wants to make their chains a bit more lewd.

Thanks to everyone who gave ideas for perks and items!

Not Immune gives less CP because being raped in your sleep isn't really as bad as being forced to follow Senpai's orders. At least, in my mind. On top of that, he'll probably only go after you once or twice, since his favorite targets are the Pretty Cures' friends and the school idol.

For Bitch Breaker, while Nagisa still dislikes Senpai, she can also be seen looking forward to having sex with him and getting to drink his cum, and being jealous of Hikari for having sex with him all the time, so I figure it's not too much of a stretch to say that she might end up falling for him in another few months.

For Happy End, Senpai has been raping unconscious girls for months, including the friends of the Pretty Cures, and none of the Pretty Cures had a clue, until he started bragging about it when Odajima showed up heavily pregnant. He even sent a text to Odajima to blackmail her into continuing coming to school, when he heard that she was planning on dropping out, and rather than taking the text to the police, she just went along with his orders.

Trustworthy? and Happy Ending allow for things like groping two girls while having them give you a handjob in a public park, without anyone noticing it.

The sex from Bed Frame Breaking will never reach mind-breaking levels, nor will it become addictive. Well, for you, at least. I'll leave it up to your discretion whether your partner gets mind-broken or addicted to having sex with you.

For Love Overcomes All, jealous exes will still be accepting of your relationship with their former lover even if they weren't aware that they had become an ex. Seducing some guy's wife/girlfriend/whatever, in other words.
