DxD Universe

By: ShineOnDio

Introduction:

Welcome to the land of titties, in this world there is constant struggle to obtain power, most caused by the supernatural factions that control the world while hiding in the shadows.

That said the normal world isn't the only thing you can find here, there are various other locations from hell to heaven.

These factions aren't buddies with each other too, they are just waiting for a spark to go to war, a war which may well be the extinction of many races.

But there still hope to be found in this world, the leaders of the factions now being tired with war would like it very much if it didn't happen. In the original story a breasts obsessed teen would bring peace to these factions, but now with you here, who knows what could happen?

Well here's 1000CP, make sure to have fun! (And get laid)

Locations:

The place where you will start, feel free to pick the one you find to be the best.

Kuoh Town

A town in Japan in which very important devils reside, those being the sisters of two Satan's, which means if something were to happen to them… Well let's just say that Sirzechs Lucifer is terrifying and leave at that. This is also the birthplace of the protagonist and current Red Dragon Emperor, who of course has no idea of the Longinus in his soul.

Kyoto

One of the most important cities in Japan and also the place of residence of the current leader of the Youkai Faction Yasaka and her daughter Kunou, if you aren't a youkai be careful because other youkai are known to be very distrustful of other races.

London

The most important place for magicians in the entire world, this is the city where most magic associations call home, a good place for any mage who dreams of one day being the best.

Underworld

The world where devils, fallen angel's and gods of hell live, this place can be very dangerous for other species in certain places, especially in god's territory, that said the devils and the fallen are used to other races by this point and won't bat an eye if they see a human, dragon, vampire etc…

Heaven

Specifically the biblical one where Angel's live, this place is divided in seven parts, with the first being fairly accessible and the rest being more restricted as they go on, but unless you're an angel you will annoy a lot of people by being on the first, and if you're on the seventh? Well you better be good at running.

Dimensional Gap

The place were the being believed to be the most powerful in existence lives, known as the Great Red. This place has other troubles as well, most concerning being the one where it kills you if you're not strong enough, so if you can't blast cities away be sure to stay away from this place.

Time:

Pick the time where you will start, this Jump uses the DxD one as the default for descriptions, so be careful when picking others.

DxD

The factions find themselves in a period of peace, but this peace is fragile and will soon break if nothing is done, you find yourself a few days before Issei Hyoudou is killed and reincarnated by Rias Gremory

Slash/Dog

You start in the prequel to DxD, where the protagonist Tobio Ikuse is about to have most of his friends kidnapped in a luxury trip which he'll miss for being sick, you find yourself a few days before this trip.

Shin DxD

Wow you really are gonna skip the beginning of DxD? Well whatever, you will start at its sequel, Trihexa may be defeated but alien robots from another dimension are about to invade! No, I'm not kidding, but anyways, you find yourself at the beginning of the first volume of Shin DxD.

EX

Welp I guess you really like aliens huh? Well you better because you're starting in a timeline where they already invaded, Issei is now an adult and spends most of his time combating this threat, the protagonist spot being now given to his son Ex, but old enemies insist in being dicks and Loki is about to escape from his prison and cause a bunch of trouble, you find yourself a few days before Loki's escape.

Belial

I'm guessing you have good taste? Because if you're picking this option you're starting before the execution of Cleria Belial, the devil who used to run Kuoh, she got executed for humping priests (and also knowing information that could completely destroy the balance in the Underworld), who knows maybe you can take that priest's place, or maybe you're going after him? You find yourself a few days before Cleria Belial meets Masaomi Yaegaki.

Civil War

The devil one to be more specific, this war happened centuries before canon, the old satan's faction against the new one, this will be were Sirzechs, a simple teacher at this time will discover the horrors of war and come to despise it, also Grayfia is currently single wink-wink.

Blibical Showdown

With this option you will be starting thousands of years before canon, in the great war. this war will be pretty much the most messy in history, with gods, fallens, devils and dragons fighting, hell even Trihexa is doing something, well until God seals him that is.

Origins:

This is where you will pick your background and any of them can be chosen as drop-ins, you can also feel free to pick your age and gender, as long as it makes sense of course, no billion year old humans, you can also choose any factions that pleases you as long as it makes sense, fanwank responsibly.

Obsessed Dreamer:

You have a dream, a dream which you will achieve no matter what! Be it to become harem king or just be the strongest In the universe, but you tend to be a little extreme in trying to achieve this dream, be it either by picking fights with people way beyond your level or just by peeping on naked girls, this of course depends on what is your dream, but now that you have learned about the supernatural world your dream may be actually achievable.

Chaotic Dreamer:

You are a monster, there is no other to put this, you're getting to the top and you don't care about who gets crushed along the way, you are not like the obsessed dreamer, you are different from the simple innocence of trying to get something and not realizing the consequences, you actively enjoy the pain you will cause by walking this path.

Born For Greatness:

You were always a prodigy since birth, you are not like the rest, every person who looks at you knows that the simple truth is that you were born better than the rest. But if you wanna keep being the best, better start training, you aren't the only freaky prodigy around.

Designed For Greatness:

You are not of normal birth, your very existence was manufactured to be superior, be it by putting a bunch of souls from other kids in you or by making you a clone from a hero who has long since passed away, but after much struggle you are finally free, what you do from now on is your choice.

Races:

Which species you will be, just keep in mind that this will be pretty much what decides your faction, can't be an angel and work for hell after all.

Human: +200

The punching bag of the supernatural factions, humans tend to be pretty weak, but they are the only one who can get Sacred Gears so you can get a discount in one SG of your choice, you also get +200CP to use with whatever you want, that said only pure humans get those points.

Devil:

Through the weird cloning hobbies of Lilith and the original Lucifer your race was born, you specifically are a devil of middle-class though later purchases can change that, but if you're looking for what advantages you have, then be happy to know that not only are you stronger at night, but your mana is also very easily mastered to the point where you can create new spells with imagination alone. You still have weakness whoever, those being that holy mana is poison to you, and any holy mentions such as saying God's name will hurt you, but as you get stronger the effects of this will gradually decrease, until they are nothing but an annoyance.

Angel:

You are an angel, a being created by God (You most likely being a descendant of an old angel, since God has been dead for a while) your might is immense, such that you could blow up a big part of a park at beginning levels. You can manipulate holy energy and have no weakness, that said if you commit to many sins, such as being lustful you will fall from grace and become a fallen angel.

Fallen Angel:

Well I hope getting laid was worth it because you're now a fallen angel, which pretty much guarantees that you now have bad relations with your previous comrades, your strengths stay the same as before you fell, but now you have the same weakness of devils to a lesser extent, but hey at least now you can fuck, good for you. You can also choose to be the child of an angel who had already fallen, which would mean you were born this way.

Monster:

You are a monster, which means a lot of things, you can choose to be pretty much anything that can be considered one, be it youkai, vampire, werewolf etc… Your raw power is in the same level as the devils, angel's and fallen, and your weakness really depends on what you choose to be, this can be chosen twice with the hybrid option if you want to be two different monsters, the discounts won't stack however.

Dragon: -300CP
The strongest race known, your raw power already begins monstrous, easily dwarfing the other options, your mana is also very easy to manipulate, though not as easy as a devil, you also pick an element, and this element will be much easier to control. You do have a big weakness however, that being dragon slaying equipment, which can put you down fairly easy, but much like with the devils these effects will get weaker as you get stronger.

Perks:

You get 100CP perks of your origin and race for free, the rest having a 50% discount as usual.

General Perks:

Hybrid: -200CP

Mommy and daddy were very different huh? With this perk you get too choose a second race, you must also pay the cost of that race if it has one, (and no, you don't get the extra CP if you're mixing human with something) not only do you get all the benefits of that race, but some weakness become weaker as well, a half devil half angel having no light weakness for example, but you also get 2, and only 2 discounts for that race's perks, which you can use it as you wish, this discount can't be used for the 800CP Perks. (Yes you can get the SG discount by mixing with another race, but it will use one of your discounts if being human is your secondary race.)

Three Sizes: -50CP

You can now know a girl's three sizes just by looking at her… That's it.

Junk Size: -50CP

You can know the size of a guy's dick just by looking at him… Really what's the Boosted Gear compared to this.

Boobs: Free/-100CP/-200CP

Hawt. That's you now, with different hotness depending on which level you pay for, you also can use this to incredibly enhance your boobs, or butt, or dick, whatever you want really.

For free you are now above average, nothing crazy, about a 7/10, nothing too weird in this world.

For -100CP you have now reached the levels of people like Rias or Vali, just 10/10 really, not only that but you can also choose an archetype, this archetype will start appearing on people's minds when they think of you and will also affect your mannerisms. (This can be turned off at any moment.) If you pick the Ojou-Sama archetype for example you quickly become known as the hottest Ojou-Sama around by the public, and you will start acting more befittingly for royalty, you can also change your archetype at any point you want.

For -200CP you now are in the same level as Gabriel, you break right pass the limits of beauty, being a 15/10, not only that but the previous effect of being an archetype get even stronger, at this point angel's would start to fall just by thinking about you, congrats you now got half of the population wanting to bang you.

Mage: Free/-200CP/-400CP/-600CP
You are a mage, which means you already know something or another about using magic.
For free you get basic knowledge of a system of your choice, to the level where you can throw a fireball but not much else.
For 200CP you are starting to actually be good at magic, now being at a moderate level in three magic systems.
For 400CP you can now challenge Rossweisse and Le Fay to magic duels and actually be their equal, especially since you now have mastery over dozens of systems, one of which you have specially dominated.
For 600CP you now have no equals, the only being on your level being the long deceased God of the bible, that said you only have his magic knowledge, not his raw power or knowledge of creating items such as Sacred Gears or Holy Swords.

The Power Type: -200CP/-300CP/-500CP
You have been around for a while, either that or you're a prodigy.
For 200CP you get High-Class levels of power and if you are a devil gain the benefits of the societal part of this as well, now having Evil Pieces to use as you please, this does not grant any other abilities such as the Power of Destruction however.
For 300CP you now have reached the level of those called Ultimates, you can now throw down with Kokabiel and actually win, that said you are very much in the low class of the Ultimates.
For 500CP you now are a full fledged Ultimate level being, at this point your raw power is at such a high level that you could destroy the entirety of Japan and throw down with beings such as Serafall Leviathan, If this is picked as an angel you now are considered a arch-angel and will receive your Brave Saints whenever those are made.

The Technique Type: -200CP/-400CP
Power isn't everything you know? It would be pretty embarrassing to be able to blow up mountains only to get bitch slapped by a guy who knows how to swing a stick very well, which is why you can buy this, pick one fighting style, it can be anything really, boxing, swordsmanship, gun-fu, the list goes on, you can only pick one style however.

For 200CP you are incredibly talented, at the same level of Yuuto Kiba at the beginning of canon, being able to punch a little above your power level with skill alone.
For 400CP you are now equal to Siegfried and his swordsmanship at the beginning of canon with your chosen style, you aren't at the top yet, but you're getting there.

Reincarnated: -100CP/-200CP
You are a reincarnated being, which means you get a little bit of the strengths and weaknesses of the being you reincarnated after, that said you do not get discounts like hybrids do, you also cannot buy these if you pick a time where Evil Pieces or Brave Saints don't exist.
For 100CP you have been reincarnated by a devil, a canon one if you choose, you can pick any piece you want, but be aware that if you pick a piece you will replace a character, for example choosing to pick being Rias Gremory's queen means no more Akeno, what happens to the people you replace is up for you to fanwank, you also cannot be reincarnated by any being on the ultimate class and above, such as Sairorg or Serafall.
For 200CP you get to be reincarnated as an angel, feel free to pick who reincarnated you, but remember that only Arch-Angels have Brave Saints, this means for devils that the Ultimate restriction has been lifted, feel free to be reincarnated by Sirzechs or something.

Hero's Like You Are Poison: -200CP (Humans, or Hybrid Humans Only)
You are a poison of the past, okay that's a mean way to put it, but in short you are a descendant of a hero, you can pick pretty much anyone, a few examples being Cao Cao or Siegfried, this grants you a moderate raw power boost and talent boost in whatever your ancestor was good at.

Harem Protagonist: -300CP
You know the drill, you are now very good at actually making a harem, but unless you put a lot of effort most of this harem will be nobodies in the supernatural community, the stronger you grow the more you attract potential waifs or husbands, so if you're aiming to bang Ophis or something you better start training.

Dragon Flesh: -800CP
You died. But thankfully you were brought back, by Ophis to be more specific who was reconstructed your body using the flesh of Great Red, this gives you a massive raw power increase, enough to put a worthless boy incapable of casting a teleportation spell to the level of a high-class being.

Origin Perks:

Obsessed Dreamer Perks:

Salary Man: -100CP

Would suck to get a harem only to lose all your time in a normal job, but now you don't have to worry about that, because you will now always find a little bit of time to walk towards your dream, be it just to spend time with waifus, or to train to become stronger, this time won't be much, but at least now you won't stagnate completely and lose all your time as a salary man or something.

I Love You: -100CP

Yikes people can be cruel, Issei Hyoudou was manipulated and murdered in his first date, you are different however, now everytime someone confesses to you a alarm will go on your head, this alarm will be louder depending on how shitty that person's intentions towards you are, a girl who just likes you wouldn't even activate the alarm, while somebody wanting to kill you will be loud as shit.

Boob "Magic": -200CP

Obsession can be a good thing, maybe, kinda, not really… but for you it is, it turns out that everytime you create something which follows your obsession, that thing just get better, you could with this literally create boob magic, and for a freebie this will also give Issei Hyoudou abilities to destroy the clothing or armor of any women and the ability to talk with titties, yes this is a real canonical thing.

Just Ignore All The Porn Mags: -200CP

It would be pretty embarrassing if Rias took one look at Issei's room and never talked with him again, but now you have plot armor, the plot armor of having people ignore your weird shit, that's actually a bit wrong, they won't ignore it, they will straight up like it, now being known as that weird guy will actually increase your standing amongst people, well as long you're not committing any crimes, this won't let you get away with murder for example.

Ladies Savior: -400CP

Wow you saved the girl and now she's in love with you… Again. You now are a magnet for this sorts of situations, you will just casually stumble in scenarios where if you just put a little bit of effort you can rescue a girl (Or guy, your choice) from whatever is afflicting her, this will pretty much guarantee that she's now in love with you, these girls also tend to be very beneficial for you in the long run, they can have rare sacred gears, know some long lost magic system, the list goes on, so be sure to be a nice hero and save them, okay? For your convenience this can also be turned on and off.

I Was Just Passing By: -400CP
You have some pretty good luck in having powerful people save you, these people also tend to take you in and treat you like family, these guys tend to be powerful and influential, but not truly at the top of the setting, a good example would be Azazel, he is strong and has a faction, but he is no Great Red. This perk works best the younger you are, if you are a kid it is basically impossible to kill you without somebody coming to the rescue, but if you're an adult this becomes a rarity that should not be relied upon.

Living Miracle: -600CP
You're just super lucky in getting power ups, it's pretty ridiculous, you could be a guy that was half devil of the Satan bloodline and half human, and still be lucky enough to get a Longinus, with this random power ups will happen all the time with you, so be sure to surprise that asshole guy when you suddenly pull a new transformation out of your ass, this also gives an incredible charisma boost, you could without much effort create a team of Ultimate level beings, but in the end it makes sense, who wouldn't want to follow a living miracle after all?

I Was Born In The Wrong Time: -600CP
Is what you won't be saying anymore, because now you can at the beginning of a jump choose what the setting revolves around, this also gives a boost to getting better with that, an example would be changing this setting to a cooking series suddenly giving you a massive boost to talent in that area, changing a setting theme can change it in pretty crazy ways, for example making a normal slice of life series into a battle shounen would suddenly turn that world where that always existed, so be careful when the romance protagonist can now control fireballs or something.

Chaotic Dreamer Perks:
He Died In The Civil War: -100CP
But not really, is just that you're great at faking your own death, so good in fact that you could deceive the entire world full of monsters that is DxD.

Follower: -100CP
Is what you are, if you decide to pick a lord, not only are you gonna start getting better with jobs that involve serving him, but you're lord is also gonna start liking you more as time goes on, it doesn't really matter if your lord is a psychopath either, with this you could have even Rizevim Lucifer liking your ugly mug.

Hit It Where It Hurts: -200CP
Pick a target, now not only do you get lucky in finding his weakness, but more chances to exploit that weakness presents themselves to you, with this you could for example kidnap Asia Argento without getting caught by anyone until hours later.

Just Use Gas Or Something: -200CP
Oh no they found out about your horrible experiments that completely ignore human rights, not that it matters to you anymore, because you're now very good at hiding the evidence of that ever happening, be it by hiding evidence or by just turning the people who found your experiments into corpses, everyone is gonna think you are a sweetheart with this, I mean what the eyes don't see, the heart doesn't feel, right?

I Wish Everyone Could Use It: -400CP
Wow now you actually know science! Magic science to be more specific and to be even more specific science that gives you the ability to turn something that very few people have to something available to the common folk! Sure you might have to kill a few kids along the way, but hey now everyone gets a holy sword, or the power of destruction, or holy energy in general, the list goes on.

I Love You, Definitely: -400CP
Are you really gonna do him like this? Cold, I like it! With this perk you are now very and I mean very good at convincing people that you definitely like them, and you are definitely not plotting their deaths, with this you could be a fallen angel confessing your love to a human who has a Longinus in devil territory, and the devil would just shrug and think you must be really in love.

Red: -600CP
That stupid Red Dragon Emperor thinking he is so cool just because he can double his power, well worry no more because you're now equal to Euclid

Lucifuge in the creation of items be them demonic swords or sacred gears, you could with some souls of dead dragons recreate the Boosted Gear for example, the only person who knows how to mess with this stuff better than you is God, but surpassing him may still be in your reach, because this also give a boost to learning how to make things better, it would be a massive flex to make a Boosted Gear that triples your power instead of doubling, and you can do that… Eventually.

Protagonist Canceller: -600CP
You possess the same ability Rizevim Lucifer did, the ability to cancel sacred gears, different from his ability, yours has no limit, it can cancel pretty much any sacred gear, your ability also has another effect, that one being the power to cancel the most useful ability in somebody's skillset, so be sure to laugh at Naruto or Shirou when they can't use Kurama or UBW anymore.

Born For Greatness Perks:
He's Mine: -100CP
Stupid protagonist doesn't know who's best girl… It's you obviously, because now harem situations won't happen around you and by that I mean that if some guy or girl is having to pick between multiple people, as long as you are in that list of people you will always be picked, so be sure to laugh at the childhood friend behind her back, because you already won.

Say My Name: -100CP
A hundred episodes for a confession that fails? Fuck that, because now your romantic intent will always go through people skulls, so feel free to confess because he won't be able to misinterpret that anymore.

The Two Great Whatever-Sama: -200CP
Wow the public really likes you, your popularity skyrockets very quickly among people and maybe even somebody actually important to the plot if you're feeling particularly lucky that day, you can also choose to give the effects of this to somebody else, but only one person.

RATING GAME!!!: -200CP
It's a good thing you're lucky, because every time somebody wants you to do something you don't like, you can challenge them to a rating game and if they lose you don't have to do what they want, the rating game can be pretty much anything as long as both parties actually have a chance of winning, no challenging normal people to a magic duel.

Being Lazy Is Fine: -400CP
A big important fight is coming and you're not prepared? Well worry no more, because now you always seem to get extra time for training, this time is just enough that if you give your all during it you will actually have a chance in the coming fight, this doesn't need to be for fighting only either, be sure to use this if you think you're going to fails in a school exam or something. This does have a limit however, don't think you can use this to go from low-class to high-class for example.

I Just Found Him I Guess: -400CP
Wow what a convenient orphan who needs saving, or look at this clueless kid with a Longinus, it turns out you have incredible luck in finding people who have lots of talent and haven't been recruited to other organizations yet, with this level of luck you could just casually stumble upon a Longinus user who has no knowledge of the supernatural for example.

Princess Of Destruction: -600CP
You don't just get birth powers, you get AMAZING birth powers, any power that can only be obtained by having a certain bloodline, the power of destruction for example just seems to be better with you, it's not that they come already mastered, it's that they come mutated, so don't be weirded out if your Sharingan comes yellow and seems to be better than anybody's else or something.

LOOK AT THOSE MUSCLES: -600CP
You are a genius, just not a normal one. It seems the more mocked you are for being weak the faster you get strong, being disowned for your family for not having a power for example could boost you enough to go from somebody in the lower-class to somebody in the middle tiers of Ultimate. This is however just a training boost, so don't think you can be lazy, better start training now.

Designed For Greatness Perks:
Controlled Rage: -100CP
Your chance for revenge is right around the corner but taking that chance would ruin your life? Well don't worry because you have enough of a calm mind to wait, rage will never again control you, not to say you don't feel anger, but this anger will always be controlled.

Almost Unbreakable: -100CP

Your mind is stronger than steel, somebody could literally kill your entire family in front of you and you wouldn't break, not to say it's actually unbreakable but it's certainly close to it.

We Understand: -200CP
That's what friends do. Now instead of getting in your way and start saying shit about how revenge is wrong, your friends will actively help you get that sweet revenge, not only that but it seems your teamwork skyrockets when doing so, and after? Well your bonds will certainly only grow stronger.

The Time Has Come: -200CP
You wait long enough, but at least waiting has paid off, because the longer it takes to get revenge against someone else the faster you grow, with this maybe you could reach the level you need, this doesn't work in any revenge however, it must be something that really makes you mad, the death of a loved one for example.

The Only Survivor: -400CP
Congratulations you now have plot armor, this plot armor only works in making you survive however, and it may put in really fucked situations to survive, a example being that they poisoned your entire family excluding you and now you have to hide in their pile of bodies to survive, this plot armor also isn't invincible if someone really wants to kill you they have a chance at breaking through the plot armor.

I'm Sorry Everyone: -400CP
Hey you may be the only survivor of whatever fucked up project made you, but at least you didn't come out empty handed, because you can now fuse energies that really should not be fused, an example being fusing holy and demonic energy and creating something completely new.

I'll Pay Any Price: -600CP
But you can get a discount, powers or items who have drawbacks always get those drawbacks diminished with you, using something that kills you for example would just really fuck you up, this drawbacks also get smaller the longer you use this power or equipment, eventually even using demonic sword wouldn't affect your lifespan at all.

A Ton Of Swords For A Ton Of Arms: -600CP

You master equipment incredibly fast, if you picked a sword and started training you could even surprise someone like Okita Souji with how fast you grow, not only that but you always seem to discover new functions with your equipment, buying this perks with a sacred gear makes that sacred gear a subspecies.

Race Perks:

Human Perks:

My Parents Are Normal: -100CP
Normal and safe! This grants plot armor to any normies you are family or friends with, this basically means your enemies won't target them, if they do learn about the supernatural this protection goes away.

I Am Normal: -100CP
Are you really? Well fine, what this means is that as long as you don't fuck with the supernatural, the supernatural won't fuck with you, this protection stays if you're just training, but actively interacting with people from the supernatural world takes this protection away and will only come back next jump.

MATH: -200CP
Humanity has shit magic which relies on math, good thing you're a prodigy at it, with this you are pretty much guaranteed to become a decent human mage if you actually put effort into it.

Holy Sword User: -400CP
And also user of a lot of things, because your body just seems compatible with everything, only 1% of the world can use a certain power? Then you are guaranteed to be able to do it too.

Apex Of Humanity: -600CP
Can you even call yourself human with this? Much like Vasco Estrada your body's physical strength knows no limits, you could as a normal human grow strong enough to crack planets in half, not only that but you also grow to that level fast, give it a few months of physical training and you would be punching people like Azazel on the face.

Born With It: -800CP

You know, limits exist for a season, well whatever, much like Tobio Ikuse you are just born with everything unlocked or at least the first stage, for example picking a sacred gear would come with its balance breaker immediately unlocked, this does come with the drawback that if you use this transformation not only does your stamina goes down fast, but you go into a blind rage, that said if you unlock this ability in the normal way the drawbacks disappear and you get the next stage, once you unlock a stage the normal way you will get the next with the drawbacks applied instantly. An example would be if you went Super Saiyan 2 you would immediately unlock Super Saiyan 3, and once you unlock Super Saiyan 3 the normal way you will immediately get Super Saiyan 4.
As a second effect you also tend to arrive to those stages very quickly, you would be considered a unmatched prodigy by pretty much everyone when it comes to unlocking new forms

Devil Perks:

Loaded: -100CP
Money just seems to fall in your hands, this doesn't give you a boost at managing corporations or something, it only makes it that your lucky when it comes to money.

Otaku: -100CP
Pick a culture from anyplace in the world, you now have the knowledge a mega otaku would have, definitely enough to know more than the common public, but not enough to know about ancient rituals or anything like that.

Big Brother: -200CP
It would suck if you didn't get along with your family, but now you don't need to worry because not only are you guaranteed to be liked by them unless you majorly fuck up, you're also guaranteed that one of the member of your family will grow incredibly strong and be very protective of you.

72 Pillars: -400CP
Aren't you lucky, somebody from your family has passed down this to you, a power from one of the 72 Pillars, there are many, from controlling horses to manipulating times, it's your choice. This can be bought multiple times, but can only be discounted once.

The Four: -600CP

You're now a descendant of the original four satan's, pick any you would like, not does this give you a immense raw power boost but it also gives your a special power from your bloodline, the Leviathan's ability to make water dragons. This can be bought multiple times, but discounted only once.

The Truth: -800CP
First: This unlocks your true form if you are a devil. Second: You can now unlock true forms with your powers, this true form will literally turn you into a monster made from that, increasing your raw power and increase the power from that ability, you can only unlock true form of basically anything as long as it is your power, feel free to become the true form of your sharingan or something. If you want to be more specific with the power boost, it's about 5x~10x better.

Angel Perks:
Fuck, Shit, Ass: -100CP
You won't be falling easily with this, from now on minor sins such as cursing or having lewd thoughts are ignored by the heaven system as long as it is you, you can bet that there many Angel's now jealous of you.

I Would Kill For A Look: -100CP
You just have this air of mystery about you, enough to spread some crazy rumors, for example the rumor that seeing your breasts is enough to send a man to heaven, these rumors tend to be fairly positive and can increase your popularity by a fair amount.

Workaholic: -200CP
Work is pain, but it has to be done, you now can completely throw away the concept of procrastination, because you won't be doing it anymore, if you know you have to do something you will do it, makes a nice pick to manage the variety of systems that heaven runs.

Hero Finder: -400CP
You have incredible luck in finding people with hidden talents and making them loyal to your cause, any cause you want really, be careful jumper you could very easily start a cult with this.

Management: -600CP
You now can easily create systems, by this I means you can create things such as the system that make devils feel headaches when near churches, or the system to spread sacred gears, this systems do need somebody to fill them with mana occasionally to keep them working, but that someone doesn't need to be you, you can also mess with existing systems, the angels would definitely be happy if you fixed the myriad of bugs in the current one.

God: -800CP
Are you the reincarnation of the God of the bible or something? Because now you are not a common angel, you are a god, this means a lot of things, first you mana is boosted to incredible levels only dragons being your equals now, second you can now pick domains, even if only one to start, you will grow incredibly fast when it comes to this domains and as you get stronger you can get more domains, who knows maybe someday you can actually reach the level of the God of the bible.

Fallen Angel Perks:
Casual Harems: -100CP
Aren't you happy, you are incredibly good at getting people to be attracted to you, it would be pretty easy to make a harem with this, but this attraction tends to be really shallow so don't expect more than casual sex from this.

The Teach: -100CP
Kinda weird how even if Azazel was a war criminal or something they now just let him hang around the really important kids, but that doesn't matter, what matters is that the same applies to you, as long as the horrible stuff you did has happened long ago people are willing to forgive you completely.

You Had One Job: -200CP
Raynare really was a massive failure, in her attempt to please Azazel she could have restarted the Great War, well no more of that shit, now when you give orders as a leader people will actually follow and if some fake tries to pretend being you to mess with your orders it will fail.

The Teach, But Actually This Time: -400CP
You're a pretty awesome teacher now, being able to quickly make your students grow and unlock new talents that they didn't know they had, you can also unlock the mana from DxD into people who lack that.

Daddy Baraquiel: -600CP
Guess you got lucky, now once per jump you can choose to have a family member be part of a organization of your choice, this family member will be in charge of many of this factions operations, considered to be the right hand of the leader, he will also be very powerful and very protective of you, in this jump you can choose that family member to be Baraquiel if you have the requirements for it such as being a Fallen Angel, and if you do meet these requirements you also get the ability to utilize his famous holy lightning.

War And Other Hobbies: -800CP
A lot of people tend to forget, but the reason why Azazel fell in the first place was by spreading his knowledge of war, but you make him look like a dumb child, you are amazing at anything involving war, from tactics to recruiting, but war isn't everything and just like Azazel you have acquire incredible knowledge about sacred gears, and while you can't make something in the level of a Longinus yet, you can create weaker ones.

Monster Perks:
Deserved Respect: -100CP
A lot of factions can be pretty shitty to other races, but now you don't need to worry about that, you won't suffer discrimination for your race and as long as your prove your loyalty pretty much any faction will accept you, independent of your race.

Escape: -100CP
You are a free bird and by that I mean that you cannot be slaved or controlled by anyone, because if that ever happened to you then you would find plenty of chance to escape and as a bonus people who are close to you won't be affected negatively by your escape, feel free to kill your asshole devil king your sister won't be executed because of it.

The Bloodline: -200CP
Gotta continue the bloodline no matter what, I am right? With this it should be pretty easy because you can now pass any perks you want to your kids, make sure your kids have enough cheats to survive in this world, okay?

The Natural Gifts: -400CP
Senjutsu, Youjutsu and Touki, you now are a master of all three, you can do things such as illusions, boosting your physical strength, barriers… The list is pretty long, this of course also gives you the ability to actually use Senjutsu, Youjutsu and Touki if your race didn't possess the ability.

Valkyrie Training: -600CP

Valkyrie's are kinda like angel's… But not really, what this gives you is enough power to match an experienced Valkyrie, being proficient In various fighting styles, and also equal to Rossweisse in magic, this only gives ability in asgardian magic however, so if you want to know multiple magic systems this is not the place.

Trihexa Junior: -800CP
Trihexa is… Something, nobody really knows when he showed up, he was just kinda there, but now there's two, you being the second, and while you are not as strong as Trihexa, maybe one day you will reach his level, what this perk essentially gives you is massive raw power, even bigger than the God perk and amazing regeneration, people would have to disintegrate you to actually kill you, with all that said raw power is pretty much all you have considering that it pretty much only destroys things and that's it.

Dragon Perks:
Terrifying: -100CP
Is what you are, your reputation tends to blow up in really massive ways, beat enough people up and the factions leaders will begin trembling when they hear your name.

Change: -100CP
You are pretty talented when it comes to changing forms, while for normal dragons it would take it for somebody in the level of the dragon kings to actually change to a human form you were able to do it since you were born, who knows how far you can take this ability.

Grudge: -200CP
Some dude took your stuff and never gave it back? Then they should start running, not that will change anything because you can always find your items and the people who took them from you, not only that but you also get a power boost when fighting those thieves.

Evil Dragon: -400CP
You are not just a normal dragon anymore, now you are an "Evil" dragon, which means that any curse you use gets boosted to ridiculous levels, your mana also gets easier to control, even easier than devils, now maybe you could actually match Vritra in the techniques department.

Curse And Gold: -600CP

With this you gain two abilities, with the first one you are able to turn yourself into a curse who attacks people in their dreams, with the second you can glow with a golden aura, this gold aura can block attacks and greatly enhances healing abilities of yourself and your allies.

Infinity: -800
This gives you infinite mana, but does not give infinite output, which means you could throw thousands of fireballs but unless you increase your fighting strength then these fireballs aren't gonna do much, you can make infinity snakes, if these snakes are given to someone they become much stronger, enough to make someone jump from high-class to ultimate, you cannot use these snakes on yourself however.

Sacred Gears:

This is where you can obtain sacred gears, humans and half-humans get one discount, if you buy a sacred gear from here they cannot be removed without your permission in any way.
If you so choose you can replace the user of the sacred gear, for example making it as if Issei never had the Boosted Gear or you can take a perfect copy.
Most sacred gears have sentience in some way, but you can choose to have one with it or without.
Sacred gears bought from here cannot be manipulated by the heaven system, they are yours and only yours, so don't worry even if somebody fixes the bugs of the heaven system you won't lose your balance breaker.
The history of how you got your sacred gear is up to you, be it just the normal human way? Or maybe the heaven system bugged and gave to a devil, or maybe you just stole from somebody, fanwank responsibly.
You can buy as many sacred gears as you want.

Low-Class Tier Sacred Gears: -100CP
Here you will find very weak sacred gear, most having a gimmick and nothing else, a sacred gear that works like a radar for example. You can choose a canon one or make one yourself.

Middle-Class Tier Sacred Gears: -200
Here you will find sacred gears of moderate strength, they can have a lot of effects and be of average power like Sword Birth, or have amazing power but have that power to be very limited In some way, an example of that being Mirror Alice. You can pick a canonical one or make a new one.

High-Class Tier Sacred Gears: -400CP
Here's where the really powerful sacred gears are, but they just lack in the power department to become a Longinus, some examples are the Balor Eye before it was mutated or the spirit sacred gears from Slash/Dog. You can pick a canonical one or make a new one.

Longinus Tier Sacred Gears: -600CP
Here is where you Find the Longinus like Boosted Gear, you can also pick one of the new ones like Nereid Kyrie, these sacred gears have amazing power and can even make a normal human the same level as a god. You can either pick a canonical one or make yourself a new one, if you do make a new one you can choose if it's considered an old Longinus or a new one. If you pick the old option then your Longinus will be well known across the world because of its past users.

Holy Swords:

Holy swords are exactly what they sound like, normally there are some restrictions in using them, but if you buy here you can use them no matter what even if you are a devil.
You can also choose to give up your sacred gear discount and get a discount here instead.
If you prefer other types of weapons you can just choose them, either by making a custom one or by changing the canonical, if you do turn the Caliburn into a gun for example nobody is gonna bat an eye.
Like the sacred gears you can but as many as you want.

Low-Class Tier Holy Swords: -100CP
Here you will find the generic holy swords the church makes, they are pretty weak, but can be useful occasionally.

Middle-Class Tier Holy Swords: -200CP
This is where the holy sword with the power of the excalibur fragments except ruler are, they can do considerable damage, but still aren't that great. You can pick a canonical one or make your own.

High-Class Tier Holy Swords: -400CP
This is where the good shit is, here you will find stuff like Ascalon, Durandal and the Grass Cutter, stuff that could fuck up even a ultimate devil. You can pick a canonical one or make a new one.

Longinus Tier Holy Swords: -600CP
Here is where the stuff that could hurt even Sirzechs are, stuff like Caliburn, Ex-Durandal or even the original Excalibur. You can pick a canon one or make a new one.

Items:

You get two discounts, use them as you wish.

The Internet But Not Really: -100CP
With this you get enough porn to rival the internet… But in magazine and DVD form, no I don't have any idea where you're gonna put all this stuff.

Outfits: -100CP
A bunch of them, they are all based on the biblical factions and mostly in the erotic variety, yes the outfit for the church trio is included.

The Homies: -100CP
Friends! You get two guys (or gals) who enjoy your hobbies and while they have no talent for supernatural they are awesome buddies if you just wanna talk about porn, food, games or whatever else.

Church: -200CP
A small church, it looks completely normal but for demonic beings being close to this church will cause severe headaches.

Slime Familiar: -200CP
A weird slimy thing, it's pretty weak, but it's very loyal to you, it also eats right through clothing.

Occult Building: -200CP
A fairly big building considering it's two stores tall, if you stay in this building there are lower chances of being found by people with supernatural powers.

Sprite Dragon: -400CP
You get your own sprite dragon as a familiar, and while it's pretty weak right it could grow incredibly strong with time, it's also very loyal to you.

Phoenix Tears: -400CP
Three of the famous Phoenix Tears, they can heal pretty much anything as long as it hasn't been completely destroyed, it also cannot heal diseases, they replenish each month.

Valkyrie's Academy: -400CP

The academy that trains young girls into incredible war weapons in now yours, the staff and students will be loyal to you but are fairly weak, being better teachers than fighter's and the students tend to be around high-class, though sometimes some of them can reach ultimate class.

Evil Dragon Collection: -600CP
A collection of their souls to be more specific, you have enough souls to equate somebody like Ddraig, what you do with these souls is up to you. They get replenished each month.

The Strongest Demonic Sword: -600CP
You now are in the possession of Gram, this demonic sword is equal to Caliburn in raw power and different from normal it won't leave if it finds a better swordsman, it still steals your life force however.

Dragon King: -600CP
Pick one of the Dragon Kings, it is now your incredibly loyal familiar, this is a being who could fight even faction leaders you know? So be sure to not abuse it. Oh who am I kidding, be sure to abuse it.

Companions:

Harem?: -50CP/-200CP
You know how this goes, bring a companion in this world for 50CP and this companions gets a origin, race and 800CP or pay 200CP and get 8 companions with the same benefits as above.

The Dimensional Gap Is For Dumbasses: -100CP
Jumping is the cool thing now and as long as you manage to convince someone you can bring them along for 100CP

Yeah The Harem: Free
It would be pretty sad to leave your love interests alone, but don't worry with this you can bring as a companion anyone who is genuinely in love with you and that you genuinely love back, no waifu gets left behind.

Drawbacks:

You know how this works, make this harder for you and you get more CP, also no limits in how much CP you can get.
You can't escape drawbacks no matter what, and by this I mean that even if you picked Red Is A Disgusting Color and you choose to start in a timeline where Euclid is death or isn't born yet, somebody with his set of skills will take his place, this goes for every drawback.

No Lewd Activities: +100CP
You can't have sex anymore, or curse, or smoke, you basically have the angel system but instead of punishing your for failing at this you just straight up can't do it.

A Tad Obsessed: +100CP
Oh nooooo… You now have the same level of obsession Issei has, it doesn't need to be boobs, but it has to be embarrassing, you can't just be obsessed with fighting for example.

The Same Magic As A Baby: +100CP
I'm afraid magic is just not possible for you anymore, your reserves are just too small, the only path now available to you is the punching one.

SHE IS EVIL!!!: +200CP
Do you really need these points? Ugh fine… Everyone is now their worst fanon version which means Rias is a bitchy manipulator, Akeno enjoys killing children and Issei is the most useless man on the planet.

Schemes And Shit: +200CP
Most foes in DxD are rather… Direct, for you things are different, now every big foe you face will be some super master mind.

Indra's Attention: +200CP
You have it now, but it's not exactly a good thing however, he will keep throwing tasks that are almost impossible in your direction and if you reject them? Well Indra is even stronger than the God of the bible so be careful.

Red Is A Disgusting Color: +300CP
Euclid Lucifuge somehow got the idea that you are the reason his sister betrayed the old satan faction, he will now go at extreme lengths to make you suffer and then kill you, just to remind you that this is the guy who casually made a copy of the Boosted Gear.

End Of The World: +300CP
We are currently in the middle of a alien invasion, by this I mean that the machine gods have invaded earlier than normal and are now causing chaos, if this is picked in a 0time where they already invaded, then Earth will be invaded by another alien faction as well.

The Protagonist Seat: +400CP
Congratulations you are now the protagonist! Except without the plot armor, this means you will face all canon threats that Issei did without his most important power, so be sure to look after you waifus because if you're not careful a villain may just NTR you.

The Dimensional Gap Is Pretty Cool: +400CP
But jumping is kinda lame, with this drawback you lose everything from other jumps and your cosmic inventory, you will only have your bodymod and what you bought in this jump.

We Are So Tired: +500CP
War is kinda shit you know? Well you better because know you have to bring world peace amongst the factions and if you fail you lose the jump and I don't mean shaky cold war peace, I mean actual peace. Don't worry though if you fail the jump you will only lose what you got in this jump, your chain does not fail.

The End:

You did it! Hope you enjoyed your journey, but now you got a few options.

Stay:
Did you grow attached to this world? Well then feel free to stay.

Keep Jumping:
Onwards to the next world jumper! There are still many titties and/or dicks to be seen!

Go Home:
Got homesick huh? Well I'm not judging you, with this you can go back to your homeworld and you keep everything you got in the course of your jumps.
