

The Amazing Toga Himiko Adventure

By zellat451

Version 1.1

What? Why? How? Who knows!?

I do! It's a Toga, it's a Himiko!

Welcome to your Hero Academia story! Or any derivative thereof, really. Is this story written somewhere? Drawn? Animated? Who cares! This is a super cute Toga Himiko-centric story, and that's all that matters.

Wait, what? Your story, or a Toga story? Ehehehehe~! Both! Neither! Be ready Jumper, because you get to be the Toga Himiko for the next three years!

...Well yes, three. Staying a decade somewhere that doesn't warrant so much time is so uncute and lame, you know!? At least you won't get bored around here. Now take your +1000 Himi-Points and be on your way!

Age, Sex, Gender, Time, Location, Eye Color, Hair Length, And Other Totally Cute Things In Life

When? Where? What? Who knows?!

You do! You get to choose the details of your character, so make yourself the adorablest and cutest 'Miko you can be!

If that helps, the Himiko you know of is fifteen alongside the main cast when UA starts for them. Do you wanna join up with your future crushes in a Plus Ultra cute hero story? That's a possibility!

Build A 'Miko

Gotta choose what kind of Himiko you are! That's important, at least at the start. Character growth is a thing, y'know? Anyway, time to build your 'Miko! You can take up to three archetypes, or even none at all, and then be on your way.

❖ Happy-miko

Wow! This Himiko is so happy she could die! ...But not just yet, okay!? That would make for a really short story!

Are you a baby-miko before her Quirk came in? Perhaps a stabby-miko at the tail end of a japan-wide war just after a certain conversation? Regardless, a happy Toga Himiko has a smile that could brighten anyone's day! Better keep it that way.

Or else.

❖ Sorry-miko

Oh no! Something really terrible must have happened to land you in that state. A honest mistake? A sudden gain of conscience? There are only a few moments in life when Himiko sees herself as totally uncute and cries in sadness, you know! Maybe try to talk to a friend...

You... you have some of those, right?

Right?!

BOO! Hah, gotcha! This 'Miko is all about the thrill, both feeling it and making others feel it. Pranks, jumpscares, intimidation... It's like stabbing someone, but in their mind! What's not to love, really!?

...Would be cuter with more red, though.

❖ Friendly-miko

Beware, for she knows no personal space, no physical boundaries, no ethical limits and no moral lines whatsoever when she bites you with the power of FRIENDSHIP! After all, with so many super cute people around, who in their right mind wouldn't want to make some friends!? Not this 'Miko, that's for sure!

❖ Bloody-miko

...Well, to be honest, there's something inherently scary about a certified blood-loving yandere even when she's in a happy mood—but this? This is another level entirely.

Are we sure there's even a Himiko left in there? Or is it just the Quirk: Transform puppeteering a body to gorge itself on blood? Regardless, this Himiko feels very much less human than the others.

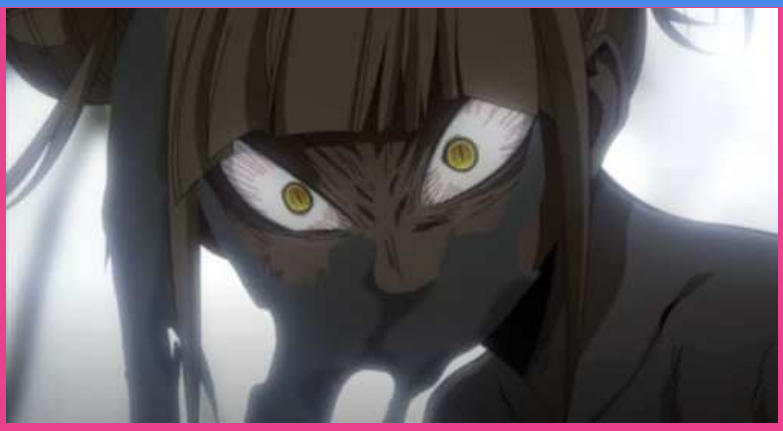

...She can still be cute, you know? All covered in red, watching you from a dark alley, smiling...

❖ Angry-miko

Oopsie! Get outta the way, this one is lashing out! Whoever made Toga Himiko angry is sure to end up with a body full of knives... or perhaps not. The knives are to make people cuter, you know? They're how you say "I love you" to someone—so you can't rightly stab someone you just want gone. That's just wrong! Really, would you want to see your hated enemy all adorable and bleeding out!?

...Actually, that would normally be a big 'yes'. Wow, whoever that was must have really screwed up.

❖ Sexy-miko

Wha!? Um. Ah. Errrrr... WHAT IN THE WORLD IS HAPPENING HERE!? SO UNCUTE!

Go away! stab GO AWAAAAY!! stab stab

Perks Himi-Powers

And now, you get to choose your super Himi-powers! ...Well, yes, OF COURSE I know they're called Perks—but that's just dumb! Himi-Points are to spend on Himi-Powers*, it's logical AND much cuter that way. Anyway, you get 50% discounts for your archetypes, and discounted 100HP purchases are free~!*

What? You didn't take all three archetypes? Well, let's just say that you get a single set of floating discounts, for every Himi-Power Tier, for every archetype you did not take. It's the same amount of discounts that way.

Hmm? What was the point of the previous section then? How would I know that?? It's your story, you know!?

General

★ Toga-Tastic (Free / 200) (Mandatory)

Wowie! Now you're a really real Toga Himiko! You've got the flexible body, the quick feet, the super cute fangs and cat-like eyes—and you can even have your hair instantly make itself up into a pair of pretty and messy buns. What's not to love!

But for an additional 200HP*, you can get the most important part! The most super duper power, your Quirk! You get that for free during the Jump, but you must pay to keep it after! With* Transform*, you can safely ingest blood, keeping it in reserve, and even shapeshift* into other people by consuming it! This is only a change in appearance, but it also copies clothing for some reason.

...Just a warning, normal clothes kinda get destroyed in the process. Fighting in the nude is the epitome of not cute, okay? So be careful!

★ Awakening (300)

Eeeeeh~! That's really rare, you know? You must be really lucky! Or maybe it's just the super Toga cuteness genes at work! Anyway, there's something in your body that makes all of your biological powers SO much stronger.

Though it's not, like, 'pure power' you know? It's more that it's brought to its natural conclusion? More variety in an expected and logical way? Sometimes it will translate into pure power, yes—but for something like Transform, it would end up like... copying others SO HARD that you also copy their powers and blood type!

Happy

★ The Cutest Smile (100)

The cutest girl in the world said we had it, and so we do! It's a super cute smile, you know? Big, wide, straining the cheeks to their limit while showing off all of our teeth and pretty fangs!

Yep, it's a really cute smile that makes hearts go 'nyaaaawww!'—and everybody knows it!

★ In The Whole World (200)

And that's the other part of it! She thought it was the cutest smile because we can put it on despite everything and anything and... Well, why wouldn't we?

Who cares about the pain, the rejection, or our life burning down around us? What matters is, Toga Himiko is here! (pfehehehee~) And because we're here, things are going to be all nice and cute eventually! We just have to make them be like that.

★ Every Day Is Himi-Day! (400)

It takes a lot of hard work to make a 'Miko truly happy, you know? And also a lot of luck. Thankfully, we get some help with that!

So now, there's this really cute aura-thingie around you that's just pure luck. Luck in meeting nice people who understand you and want to stick around, luck in the little things in life going juuuust right, luck in finding new things to be happy about...

Well, if it's to make life even cuter, you can expect things to just work out! Isn't that neat?

Sorry

★ Truly Touching Toga Tears (100)

I'd say it's not often that we cry, but we do cry in joy pretty often, huh?

Crying in regret and sadness though? Not so much. That's why it's important to make it clear that, when this Himiko regrets something, she's super duper serious about it!

And so, you can just 'project' whatever emotions you feel in their FULL intensity, to anyone watching!

It's like everybody has an empathy Quirk and super cold-reading skills when it comes to us. Normally you don't want the heroes to know what the supervillain in the room is thinking or feeling, which is why this is toggleable.

But sometimes, showing off your true and vulnerable self is the cutest thing you can do.

★ Cat's Eye, If It Was A Mutant Cat With An Empathy Quirk (200)

It doesn't seem fair that anyone can read our mind when we can't do the same, right? Which is why we can! You've got super great cold-reading skills when it comes to the emotions of others... Or perhaps it's another Quirk for empathic senses? Who knows!

In any case, if you focus on it you get to know exactly how badly you hurt someone... Or how cute they think you are! And you are cute, and a lot! See?? Your eyes can glow in the dark now, isn't that the cutest thing ever!? YOU CAN EVEN PURR—TELL ME IT'S ADORABLE, DAMN IT!!

★ Sad Girl's Parade (400)

Emotions are hard~! But when a Toga gets them, we get them. It's like, the Transform Quirk mental effect you know? Blood feels so pretty and we feel so much love at once because of it~!

But the point is, we can feel it. Without an upper limit. And now, it's about everything. Love, hate, happiness, sadness, joy, anger... We even feel things we normally wouldn't be able to feel at all—like, alien feelings! We can feel at any intensity without our mind going boom, and we can maintain that intensity for as long as we want. We don't even get overwhelmed or controlled by our feelings anymore!

Is that weird? Probably. But then again, a Toga is never normal. We just get to own it in the cutest way. Wether people understand us or not doesn't matter—because now we can understand literally everyone! All at once!

Spooky

★ Tiny Terror, Except Not Tiny But Still Growing!! (100)

Being scary is an art, you know? It's all about the ambiance, the timing, the context, the situation... Well, it's about a lot of things, and we don't exactly have the head for a bunch of details. But! What we do have is instincts for just that!

So from now on, follow your Himi-Heart—and you'll know just how to make someone else's jump out of their chest!

★ Kitten's Tread, Because Cat Is Not As Cute And Furball Is Just Insulting Despite the Fluffy Undertones (200)

Half of the spooky arts is stealth! Stealth stealth stealth! It's that important so make sure to repeat it as many times as you need to make it stick!

Walking silently, taking the wind into account, hiding your scent, diminishing your tracks, recognizing the best hiding spots and escape routes... We know all of that and more! This also comes with a lot of talent at disguise, you know? That's necessary to be your cutest self!

...And also to have a relatively normal life as a villain, but that's less important.

★ Cutenesshound, It's Like A Bloodhound But For Cuteness Which Is Kinda The Same Thing As Blood And It's All Very Confusing To Me (400)

And the other half is study! Bleh! Who has time for school while we're having fun?? No one cute, that's who—and that means not us!

Still, knowing the weaknesses of whoever you want to spook is really important, otherwise you can't really tailor-make a spooky situation for them, right? Good thing then, that weaknesses are just so easy to notice! Apparently that's not normal, but we don't do normal things, do we? And so, whenever you look at someone, you just know what makes them tick. And the more you know about them, the more new stuff is revealed to us!

Also, this is for more than just mental cracks, you know? It's just so much more fun to break people before stabbing them. That way you can see all of the cuteness they keep hidden inside, right before you get to see the other kind of cuteness hidden inside. It's like cracking an egg with yet another egg in the middle! Eggception! Double the cuteness omelet!

Friendly

★ Toga Himiko And The Unexplainable Wave Of Cute Friends (100)

Wow, who knew that making friends was that easy? Not me! And yet, when the Himiko isn't in a stabby mood, it's like everybody around is in a lovey-dovey mood!

Who gets that close to a known serial killer? Wanting to be friends?? Aren't you supposed to be a hero???

Whatever! no Himiko will refuse more friends, but we can still worry about their lack of survival instincts, you know! In any case, people we aren't attacking just find it really nice to be around us.

...Maybe nice enough to agree to a bite or three? Only one way to find out!

★ Like A Leech, Only It's A Good Thing and Adorably Cute Besides (200)

Making friends is one thing, keeping them is another. We don't have a lot of friends, which is why we try very hard in the latter! Call us besties because this Himiko doesn't have mere 'friends'! Friendship Plus Ultra!!

__cough__* In any case, even our best efforts can just not be enough, sometimes. Which is where this super Himi-Power comes in! Not sure how, but our 'good' relationships don't get worse over time—unless we do something really screwy! Like lying, or hurting our besties! Like, TOTALLY uncute things.*

Which is fine, a real Himiko strives to be the very cutest, after all!

★ The Power Of Friendship And Cuteness (400)

A Himiko's love isn't subtle at all, you know? Even if it's not love love, our friends can expect a lotta hugs, intrusions in personal spaces, weird questions, and a few bites if they agree!

And you know what? There's nothing wrong with that.

That's right!! The power of friendship and cuteness stands with us, and that's why our friends don't mind when we ask them for a bite, or when we tell them that we dream about cutting them open and pulling out their guts to play, or when we jump on them every morning for a big glomping hug! They don't even mind finding out that we're on opposite sides—or that this Himiko moonlights as a vampiress in dark alleys!! It's all Himiko, it's all normal, and it's no different than a discussion about the weather!

Of course, they don't have to agree to every friendly request if they don't feel up for it, but it's not like it's anything weird to tell a friend about, you know?

As for the other people who aren't our friends? Nyeh! We don't care about them, why would they care about us?

Bloody

★ Bloody Himi (100)

When we need it, we need it. That's why we've gotten really good at getting it. A Himiko wields knives and daggers like a pro, you know? And whenever we look at our target, we know exactly how to bring all of the cuteness out. The arteries that bleed the most, the cuts that end in sprays of sweet blood... Before long, they will look all pretty and cute and delicious~!

★ Vampire Princess To Be (200)

It would be easy to be mistaken for one, and we really don't mind! ...Sadly, we don't have super cute fog and bat powers, or even hypnosis or pretty claws we could paint at sleepovers! The horror...

Well, we do have a pretty nifty ability.

You see all of this yummy blood right there? Yes, yummy. Because it's really yummy and good for your health now. Anyway, on top of that, our mouth can act as a giant syringe!

Just get your fangs in a body and you'll drain it dry in twenty seconds flat. So cute! It even has some sort of ranged and filtering effect, so we could easily and safely drain the blood splatter on the ground at the same speed just by getting our mouth close enough to it.

Well, technically you could do the same thing with any liquid and drain a jug of alcohol in moments... But why do you even have that?? That's SO not cute! Put it down! Put it down noooow!!

★ Beautiful World Of Kindness (400)

You know what's the really interesting part about seeing the world the way Toga Himiko does? It's not the part about blood being beautiful, wounds being cute, or murder being art. It's the fact that, for her, for us, it's not harmful or dangerous. It's just... Part of the world. A kindness, even.

All of that to say, all of our actions which would normally register as 'dangerous' or 'harmful'... Don't. We can fool a lot of things like that. Be it war veteran instincts, a danger-sense Quirk, even a technological detection system... As far as our actions are concerned, it's nothing dangerous to anyone or anything's perception. So they can detect it, but they can't be wary of it. It's like... Killing intent, you know? It's like we just don't have it. Like everything we do is not done with the purpose of harming anyone, and so it just doesn't register as a threat.

Obviously, this makes ambushes all the more effective, but the more interesting part is that we can turn it on and off at will. And when someone is high on adrenaline and fighting for their life... Suddenly feeling the danger disappear into the void makes the brain do really weird things, like automatically stop processing the presence of what's not a threat anymore. So we just vanish, only to better stab them an instant later. Crazy, right?

Angry

★ Stranger Danger, And This Time It's Not Himi (100)

Woah, everything goes all red when you're angry like that. You could really get lost in that feeling... Good thing then, that we have an anti-tunnel-vision effect in our brain!

...Well, really it's more of a danger sense. Like, we're still going to be berserk until we deal with the problem, but whatever tries to blindside us is going to ping our danger sense in a way we can't ignore just a moment before it happens.

★ The Intent To End Uncute Things And Murder-Death-Kill (200)

Angry 'Miko doesn't appear often. And when we do... We like to make it known.

So, whenever you want, you can let out a blast of pure intent to end someone. The more angry you are at them, and the more you hate them, and the more you- Actually, you know what? The stronger the feelings you feel about them, the more powerful and longer-lasting the effects. Yes, even feelings like love and fear.

And what are those effects? Paralysis, fight or flight response, fainting... Basically anything that happens when you are faced with death. It's only in short bursts and only works so many times in a row unless you feel really strongly about someone... But it's a really powerful weapon.

★ How To Burn The World Down With Comedy, Cuteness, And A Whole Lot Of Spite, By Toga Himiko (400)

A best-seller if I've ever seen one!

Sometimes our own efforts aren't enough to end uncute people, you know? It takes allies, friends... And most of the time we don't have those. So instead we get the world itself to help out. How? Who cares, it just works!

And so, whenever we feel like ruining someone's day, they get the worst luck in the world. It starts with little things, and then with bigger and bigger things, until they're unlucky enough to trip right into our blade. It won't actually take care of them for us, but it's still a great help. The more we want them gone, the bigger the effect!

Sexy

★ Toga Himiko And Here's Hoping We're Not Underage Because Kami In Heaven I Do Murder But Not THAT! (100)

sigh* So.* Anyway. Maybe it's the cat-like thing we've got going on, maybe it's the whole 'cutest girl in the world' thing—but this Himiko's every move is really... Nice to watch? Like, it does really nice things to the observer. As in, looking at us in action is- GAH! ALRIGHT! WE'RE SEXY AS HELL, GOT IT??*

I don't know how it happened, I swear. It's in every move, every word that comes out of our mouth, every angle we can be observed from... It's just sooooo yummy to experience. I want to say it's the uncutest thing ever, but I have a feeling we'll agree to disagree on that.

At least it can be turned off.

★ Everybody Loves Himiko (200)

...This will just keep going, won't it. Fine. FINE.

You know these things people have? 'Preferences', 'strike zones', or anything else that decides what, or who, they like? We're in all of them. Somewhere. Don't ask me why, I don't know and I don't wanna *know. Baseline is, everyone finds us shudder cute, and they find everything we like cute too... Yes, as in that kind of 'like', and no I won't say it so stop insisting!

Anyway*! This won't make us number one on their 'list', but definitely top twenty under any and every circumstance. Got that? Good. Now leave this section before I have to look at any more of these super uncute things they're saying about me!!!*

★ The Red Means I Love You (400)

inhale

exhale

It's porn physics.

Stop looking at me liKE THAT WHAT MORE DO YOU WANT???
So, so, SO uncute. The uncutest EVER! Bleh!

Fine! I'll read the damn thing, then you move. ON. Got it?

So. Simply put, aside from the... Usual things (And no! I don't read those kinds of manga so stop asking!), this is also about... Pain, and hurt, and wounds- hey, this is actually kinda interesti- Geh! Anyway! If you get hurt during... These moments, or your... Partner... or Partners, do, it doesn't stick. Doesn't matter how much it should hurt or how permanent it should be, if it happens during...

Fine. Alright.

IF DAMAGE HAPPENS DURING SEX, IT'S GONE AFTER A FEW MINUTES! WE'RE A LITERAL IMMORTAL FUCKER!! ARE YOU HAPPY NOW!?

sigh* And also you can do that with anyone with any kind of biology, including hurting them during these moments when it shouldn't be possible, AND accompany pain with pleasure for all participants.*

That's it.

Now Move. ON!

~~Items~~ Himi-Cache Of Wonders

Guess what? Items! No, no, 'Wonders', because it sounds so much cuter that way. Also, you get a discount for every Tier. You already know the rules, so get on with it so we can get started on that story already~!

❖ Knife-kun And Cutter-chan (100)

Knife-kun in the right hand, Cutter-chan in the left hand! With these cuties by our side, we can make the world all cute and pretty!

It sure helps that they don't break, or rust, or bend, or lose their edge... And that we can pull them out of anywhere at any time! Yep, even when naked. Take that, clothes-breaking Quirk! This Himiko is never defenseless!

❖ Blood Candies (100)

This. This is a bag of pure cuteness and heavenly fluff. They taste like the real thing, and they don't run out, ever. Also they don't cause health problems, and they count as blood if you need to feed on it—which makes them super ultra duper cuterissimo. I don't have the words. Take them, take them now!!!

❖ The Amazing Adventures Of Toga Himiko (200)

Oooooh~ There's someone writing about us! It's really super cute of them, isn't it? There's a big picture of us on the front page, and then this big title: "Japan's most wanted killer strikes agai-" eh? Awwww... And here I thought it was a manga or something. Bleh, it's just an old newspaper.

...A newspaper dated tomorrow? Oh, that's actually a little interesting. Okay, I see what's happening here. If I get this right, then we'll get a paper or something telling us where the police are searching for us, and why they're searching, a day in advance. Could be useful, could not be.

❖ Anti-Scarring Cream (200)

Who knows where this beauty comes from? Not me! But it's really great! It's kind of like a burn cream—you know, the ones in tiny round boxes?—except that it doesn't run out and it regenerates wounds perfectly, not even leaving a scar behind. It only works on surface wounds, unfortunately, but it's more than enough to deal with bites of all kinds!

❖ Portable Blood Bank (400)

Wow! It's like the fountain of youth, but better! Or would it be vampire cornucopia? In any case, this is a bunch of blood vials from a bunch of different people. They have weird names written on them, which sound like Quirk names a lot... Eh, it's probably not important.

Do you wanna know the important part? They don't run out! Ever! I just drank one to- Geh! I mean I tested one for poison just to make sure, and then it refilled after a few seconds! And- Ooooh~! I just added a new one and it gained the same properties!! Isn't that super cute?

❖ Super Cute Villain 'Costume' (400)

Hey hey hey! What do you mean 'Costume'??? This is totally a real costume for a proud villain okay? I would know, I'm wearing it right now!!

It's a super soft and resizable seifuku, with a beige cardigan, a big black scarf, a belt with a bunch of cute boxes, and the cutest support item ever: a bunch of cylinders with a bunch of vials and syringes that go chuu chuu to get us free blood from ALL the cuties around!

It's indestructible, SUPER comfy, and you can wear it ANYWHERE without raising questions—even if people should really be looking for a supervillain wearing the adorable thing. Isn't that just amazing??

And the blood cherry on top of the velvet cake—it's temperature regulated and self cleaning!

Except for blood. Which is even neater! And if you get bored of being covered up in all the goody cuteness—you can just give it a nice twist like an old rag and it will all disappear!

~~Drawbacks~~ Magi-miko's Book Of Curses

Not enough Himi-points? Let this witch curse you for power! I mean, you get cursed, and you get the power too, it's not for me, which would make more sense because I'm the one- ANYWAY! Curses are not-so-cute and will last until you leave, so make the right choices, okay?

➢ Super Uncute Time Extender (+100 / Variable)

Fiiiine, you can stay 10 years if you want to. That means you'll have to deal with everything else for that much longer, you know?

...What? MORE!? ...Well, if you wanna I guess? 10 more years a pop, but are you sure about that? We aren't actually an immortal vampire, you know? Much as we wish we could be...

➢ Baby Vampire (+200)

Blood tastes great for us, you know? A good thing, since you now NEED human blood on a weekly basis, or you'll fall into starvation-induced insanity, which is super uncute! We need no more than a few milliliters though, a single bite will do. Now to find a donor...

➢ Quirky, Except It's Not A Quirk But A Quirk And Curse You Pascal Case! (+100 / +200 / +300)

You've got a quirk! Not a Quirk, but a quirk, it's an important distinction. Basically, you're weird, like a Himiko ought to be!

You can choose one of three quirks, and even take this curse multiple times:

- No boundaries, which makes you super ignorant of things like personal space! If you're talking to someone, you'll be all up and into them. If you really REALLY like them, you might just hug them tight as you talk!*

  Wowie! Take this curse a second time and you'll be lost in your own little world of relationships—where if you like somebody, CLEARLY they MUST like you just as much, right!? And if you're not piggybacking a bestie all the way back home after class... Well, you probably don't HAVE besties. So go fix that right now!
- Obsessive streak, which is what happens when a Toga falls in love. Whenever you like someone, you just need to know how they're doing at all times, and you get just a tad too overprotective and paranoid when it comes to them.*

  And for a second application of the curse? There's this really empty feeling in your heart when you're not near one of them—like something REALLY bad's gonna happen ANY MOMENT!

  So obviously, you should stalk them home and live in their walls to keep an eye on them all day! That's the Himi-way!
- Biter, which means that the way you express your acknowledgement of positive relationships is through biting. Biting your friends, biting the people you love... It doesn't have to draw blood, but it feels really good when you do. You don't actually have to act on that want either, but it takes some mental strength to resist the urge to just put your teeth in someone who* makes you feel really happy.

And if you get cursed a second time*... Well, now you've got* 'friend-bites' where you just do it without really thinking. Bestie's here? She's getting a sharp hickey with the morning hug! And a nibble when you start spacing out in class and she waves a hand in front of your eyes! And a cheek-tasting with fangular precision when she pulls you in for a selfie—well, you don't really need much thought or excuses, it just happens on its own ALL THE TIME if you're not focusing, and it's hard to resist if you DO focus!

And then, you have the 'happy-bites', when someone makes you REALLY happy... well, you're gonna bite them. And you're going to draw blood. And you're going to drink it and it will feel SO GOOD that, uh, you might have a little happy accident under yours skirt when you do? Only way to avoid it: bite yourself first—if you can even think that much before you chomp down!

➢ Toga's Bizarre Adventure (+100) (Doubled for Happy-miko)

Careful! Here comes the plot train!!

You're, uh, really bad at dodging, aren't you? It's okay, you're still cute—just in a lot of trouble. Because now that you got hit by the plot train, you'll keep meeting 'important' people bringing the plot to you!

Ah~ Goodbye, relaxing vacation. This Himiko is a main character it would seem.

➢ Himiko Needs A Hug (+100) (Doubled for Sorry-miko)

This sounds like a fanfiction tag... How do I know what that is!? Erm, eh, no reason! No reason at all!!

Anyway, the point is that something bad has happened, which you have very clear memories of and a whole lot of regrets about. I'm sure we can work past it in time, with some help and by making amends.

➢ Prankster-Queen (+100) (Doubled for Spooky-miko)

It's not just a wish, you know? It's a need. You really, really need to make someone jump in fright every few days. Depending on how much fear your last prank has generated, you can last a bit longer before the need comes again. And if you don't satisfy it quickly enough... You just might try to scare someone at any cost before you can think your actions through.

➢ Himiko Wants To Make One-Hundred Friends (+100) (Doubled for Friendly-miko)

Oh, way more than that. You're such a friendly Himiko that you'll actually extend a hand in friendship to absolutely anyone under any circumstances—even in the middle of a fight to the death! If it's the first time you meet someone, anyone at all, you will greet them with a "wanna be friends?" no matter what! You're such a cute person, you know that?

➢ Certified Blood Lover (+100) (Doubled for Bloody-miko)

Blood is just so fascinating, you know? You have a mild attraction to blood, somewhere between romantic and sexual attraction, that just makes it impossible to ignore blood in your presence, and kind of hard to acknowledge other things. Even just seeing someone blushing hard enough would make your thoughts wander—dreaming of biting them and sipping on the cuteness within. It can be ignored with some mental effort.

➢ The Nature Of Pain (+100) (Doubled for Angry-miko)

Aaaand, you're a sadist now. Whenever you're in a situation where you could rightfully (in your view) cause pain to someone, you just feel the need to maximize it. So you won't be attacking random people on the streets, but in a fight? You'll have a hard time stopping yourself from making it last just a bit longer.

➢ Thirst, Playfulness, And Other Words This Himiko Never Wants To See In This Context Again (+100) (Doubled for Sexy-miko)

Wow, you're, uh, REALLY horny. That's okay. There's not really a problem with that, just get some alone time every couple days and you'll be fine, just... Please, please tell me you're at a reasonable age at least? Because the Curses trump logic and everything else, you know!?

Ending

And here comes the end of the story! That was pretty nice, actually. Do you wanna stay? Or move on? Or go back to wherever you came from?

It's your choice! But before you go, just one more thing.

You.

You make for a really cute Toga Himiko, you know? Byeee~!

Notes

Don't ask.
