Generic React Fic Jump Supplement by Sundarapandiyan1

Welcome jumper.
This supplement is for react fics.
(For those who don't know what react fics are, these are fanfiction where the characters from a setting watch different series or alternate versions of themselves)

By using this supplement you get access to a movie theatre or a big room that can seat all your friends, companions, enemies, etc;
Don't worry, fighting is prohibited in the room by your benefactor. Time is stopped as long as you are in the theatre, so no worry about wasting time. Anytime in a jump, you can choose all the people you want to enter the theatre with you and they'll magically appear in the entrance of the room. After watching the show, you can teleport them back to their location.

Normally, you'd be given points, but since this supplement is just for you to relax with your friends, there is no CP, you can take whatever you want.

Popcorn and other junkfood:
A staple when watching movies, the occupants can wish for anything and it'd magically appear and keep on getting replenished.

Movie collection: A collection of all the movies, anime, documentaries, YouTube videos, etc; any video media is available for you to choose and watch, the collection gets updated with every jump and adds new material from the jumps, even video versions of dramas, operas, etc; if the setting isn't advanced technologically.

Jumper productions: A collection of all your adventures from the first jump to the current one, showcasing you as the protagonist in the movie, features different versions of each jump movie, like an animated version, an anime series, black and white movie, silent film, a Hollywood movie, Bollywood movie complete with dance routines, etc; (Basically, if there's a type of movie or entertainment show, it'd be there). The movie can be as realistic or as fictionalized as you want. You also get a VS battles sheet that updates every jump and shows all your current abilities and powers. Based on your preference, anyone you know or meet in a jump will also get a VS battles sheet that's as accurate as possible.

Fanfiction: Now, your collection of videos also includes fanfiction, think about any fanfic and the video will appear on screen.

When they cry: For those of you who cry when watching movies, this item provides you with unlimited tissues and stuffed animals, the stuffed animals are enchanted to mitigate your sadness when you hug them and make you feel better.

Gaming room: when you get bored after watching the videos, you can go to this room and play different games on arcade and videogames, etc; it also includes a table for running an RPG session or card games,etc; The game room has all kinds of games created and gets updated with new games each jump.

Fitness room: This includes all kinds of gym equipment, fighting ring, etc; for those of you who like to relax by exerting yourselves. All pains and injuries acquired in the fitness room will vanish after you leave the room.

Museum: A museum showing all your spoils of war, nostalgic equipment, memorabilia and photos of your historic moments are showcased in the museum. No one apart from you can remove items from the museum, you can give your approval for someone to remove a specific item. Also, all the moments you think were nice or cool, basically anything you think should be in a photo, would be added to the museum every jump.

Bedrooms: If you or your company don't want to leave the theatre for some reason, they can rest in these rooms, these rooms are guaranteed to give even the most restless person a relaxing sleep.

Friends and family from beyond: If you or your friends want some of your loved ones who have passed away to spend some time with you, they'll appear in the theatre and watch the programme and enjoy with you. They go back to the afterlife after you leave the theatre, but you are guaranteed to find closure or move towards it after spending time with them.

Memories: All the wonderful moments you spent with your companions in the theatre are immortalized in moving photos(like those from Harry Potter) and you'll also get bobbleheads and anime style figures of all of the people who entered the theatre with you, showcased in a room.

Fanfic mode : You can show various fanfic versions of a setting to the residents of that setting. You can decide if the viewers know that it's an alternate universe or believe that it's the future of their world. You can toggle this perk or set it so that it affects only those you select.

Asshole chan: You can toggle whether your benefactor decides to drag you and others into the theatre and if the jump chan shows embarrassing events from your chain/life or those of your friends and viewers. The benefactor may even show heartwarming stuff but it depends on their mood.

Self reflection : The viewers would watch the show with an open mind and try to self reflect and change for the better. It isn't guaranteed to happen but the villains would have doubts about their agenda and they might stop their activities, unless they're really set in their ways. If the viewers are good or neutral, they'd gain a burst of inspiration to do better and become the best version of themselves.
