Introduction
This story mainly takes place in a world of Pokemon, though our hero is not of this world a genetic experiment stumbling through a glass full of nanobots and running through a familiar looking portal starts her journey and is promptly attacked by a wild pokemon. She is then rescued by a Lugia who then proceeds to have his way with her too, then something strange happens when they kiss the nanites activate and change her body, now no longer a feline/human mix, she transformed into a human/Lugia mix. They then get together and have many adventures. For more info scroll to the bottom of the document. To start you out here's (+1000cp)

Starting location/time:
Depends on your origin. Humans and Pokemon can start in any region in the pokemon world. Hybrids start out in Silver's home and you just hatched. If you're a G.U.R.E. then you just stumbled out of a portal and are near Lugia.

Origins:
Any origin can be a drop in.

Trainer (-free) What can I say, almost every human here is one in some capacity, though you could be a scientist or a member of one of the team's.

Pokemon (-200cp/400cp/600cp) You can be any regular pokemon in the first tier and any legendary pokemon below Arceus, if you want to be Arceus then pay full price. Pokemon will have abilities and levels like the game and will learn them as they level up.

Hybrid (-200cp) Your one of Silver's children, you have a full pokemon form and a human/pokemon mix form why is this so cheap? First off there are only 2 pokemon to choose from either Lugia or yveltal unless you take the dream-timeline drawback then you have charmander, or gible. Second, your form is somewhat linked to silver, when she absorbs a lot of electricity it can force her to the default form and make you match her. However you can take one discount from either the human or pokemon perkline. Also take the no lewds for you mandatory drawback for (0cp).

G.U.R.E. (-600cp) stands for genetic uncategorized research experiment - you're a feline-like human looking creature with a fluffy tail twice the length of your body. Your ears can hear things far away and have night vision. You also have a long prehensile tongue You produce pheromones that entice almost everything to see you as the perfect mate. If you take the capstone with this origin you can take the base form to fuse with your body mod and switch to your other alt-forms the same way as silver does.

Age:
Depends on the origin: pokemon and humans must pick a reasonable age that's possible. Hybrids are just born but will rapidly age up to 9 + 1d6 years old in appearance. G.U.R.E. are about 18 + 1d4 in years old.

Gender:
Any origin can be male, female, or futanari for (-free)

Perks:
All perks are discounted to their origin with the 100cp perk being free instead.

General

Porn physics (-free) your body can take all sorts of large insertions and all it will do is stretch your pussy or ass out a bit then it will snap back into place you could swallow enough semen to look nine months pregnant then a second later look normal. Or if you have a dick then your partners benefit instead.

Stamina (-free/100cp) you have enough stamina to last a couple hours and can train yourself to last longer for free, if you pay 100cp you can start able to last for 8 hours and can train till you only need to stop for your partners.

Unnaturally natural (-200cp/free in jump for all) you come from another world and are overlooked by those that should hunt you down, as long as you're not trying to cause problems to disrupt the balance you can a pass from creatures like Zygarde or Necrozma from auto hunting you down.

Water absorb (-400cp) this is a strange ability Silver has after absorbing Lugia dna. It heals her when she dips into water it also absorbs other liquids such as saliva and cum inside or outside of her body. Now you have it too and this works no matter what your form is and means you can never drown in water. This rapidly regenerates your health while under water.

Pokemon stats (-free/conditional) your pokemon forms have the basic stats that you can train up and a level that you can increase by fighting, if you have multiple pokeforms then each get this however each forms stats and levels are separated and each form starts at level 1, your max is lv 100. You must have either a Pokemon form from before this jump or gain one before the jump end to get this perk. The stats are Attack, Special Attack, Defense, Special Defence, Health Points, Speed, Accuracy, and Evasion. The last two being hidden if scanned with the pokedex.

Trainer

Nice appearance (-100cp) you have a decent appearance let's say 8/10 you can choose a feature to emphasize like your boobs or your face if you want to be a trap. This also makes wild animals like pokemon more likely to help you in a pinch in exchange for fucking you.

Team member (-200cp/400cp) you're part of a gang whether it's a local gang or one out of region is your choice, this gives you a small salary and access to any general data and equipment your gang has, in future world lets you join a local gang if there are any to reap the benefits. If you pay double you can instead be an admin instead of a grunt this comes with an increase in pay and more private data and equipment the gang has.

Poke trainer (-400cp) you can train Pokemon to do contests or battle for badges, this also lets you set parameters for what kind of pokemon you can encounter till you have a full party. You can choose gender, element, if it's shiny or whether it's one of the more humanoid or beastlike. However keep in mind the more categories you pick the longer it takes to find, you can't pick if it's legendary as a category, and it must be possible to find, i.e. can't find a trekko in a volcano or a charmander in the ocean.

Researcher (-600cp) what are you a researcher of? Pick a subject the narrower the topic the less time it takes to develop data, though when you have finally figured out all there is to know about the subject then you can start on related subjects at a far reduced rate. You can pick something like sex toys and be able to start up a booming business in a couple years or something more broad like pokemon and spend a decade to develop better pokeballs or how to recreate fossil pokemon. If taken with the team member perk then you have a head start on your field of study and more access to private data, if you're an admin then you have full access to all data the gang has. You can purchase this multiple times with only the first two discounted.

Pokemon

Sexy beast (-100cp) you're not only able to have sex with humans your actually pretty good at it even if your some sort of snake, bird or dog shape you can always figure out the best possible positions for you and your partners and how not to harm them even if your normally toxic to touch or 5000 degrees. You can also learn to use your moves for sex activity. Also if you want you can make your dicks shape be similar to what animal your form is like, snakes get twin dicks, canines get a knot, equines get a horse cock, etc. You could also make it be glowing or have an odd color. You can have your dicks hidden when not in use, if you are female or futanari you can choose to have breasts or not. If taken by another origin and your male or futanari, you can decide what type of dick you want- canine, horse, pig, snake, etc. If you bought as a female in another origin then pick one of the previous dick types and that type will feel 10x times better.

Environmental adaptation (-200cp) if you spend a few months in a new environment like a desert or the arctic you will shift into a regional variant of yourself, however you can't shift to your normal form till you leave the area, after you have adapted you will shift to whatever form is most suitable that you have, this only affects your body being affected by the area your typing is the same unless there is an actual regional variant of you species.

Experimented on (-400cp/800cp) due to one of the gangs performing an experiment on you, you have an odd advantage you could be an odd typing like a fire gardevoir or just straight up become a shadow pokemon. This gives a small boost in power for the first and a medium boost for the second. You can buy both for a type shift and a large boost in power for your species/level.

Super form (-600cp) you have a temporary powerful form you can either mega evolve, gigantomax or a primal form. If you mega evolve you don't need a stone or a trainer. Your super form uses a good portion of your energy to start and as you use it more you'll be able to hold it longer and take less energy to sustain.

Hybrid

Best of both worlds (-100cp) you can understand pokemon language, use pokemon moves and because your part human is immune to pokeballs, basically you have none of the negatives of being a hybrid. You count as either when you need to. If bought by another origin lets you understand pokemon, if G.U.R.E. lets you understand in base form.

Elemental shiny (-200cp) you were born with a secondary color that is your main type red is fire, blue is water, etc. Pick your color now that responds to your main type, and for the duration of the jump your name.

Cuteness factor (-400cp) you have the power to calm down your friends and family from rage, or dark forms by crying and calling their name the more aware they are the less effort it will take, if the more berserk they are the more it will take.

Revive wing (-600cp) due to the odd effects of your conception you can use the opposite of your main nature, if you're the embodiment of death you can reverse that energy to make life energy instead. In future worlds you can learn to use things that are opposite like light and dark, holy and infernal, etc.

G.U.R.E.

Fluffy tail and ears (-100cp) you have soft fur and in other forms with feathers or fur retain this softness or in the case of scales a smooth sheen, this also affects your hair. You can apply this to all forms you have and retain a color scheme in each form. Your tail can also act as a prehensile limb.

Sexy defense (-200cp/free in jump for G.U.R.E) you produce pheromones that tell others you're the perfect mate and when in danger you overcharge them as a defense and if what ever is scaring decides to fuck you. While they are fucking you, your body will produce a chemical that puts them to sleep.

Better than a Ditto (-400cp free in jump for G.U.R.E.) at breeding anyway when you are in heat you can breed with anything even legendary pokemon, post jump you can turn on your heat wherever you choose. If female you lay eggs instead of normal birth and lay them within a day of insemination or if your male you can impregnate at will when in heat, if futanari you can do both Nanite infused (-600cp) you were infused with nanobots when escaping the lab this gives you an extraordinary ability to absorb the dna of sentient creatures to become a hybridization of it and human, this gives you a lot of potential however it has some downsides for example you can't switch forms immediately after you get a new one as you gain more forms you will take less time before you can switch as the nanites can embed it into your base dna.This also limits your aging. If you have different forms like pokemon you will have to level them up separately and can't use moves that it can't learn from other forms. This also lets you talk and understand these species. In future jumps this only works on beings that fit these three categories: has to have dna, has to have sentience and/or sapience, and must give you it's dna of its own free will (you can trick them). You get an average base form of the species not a shiny, shadow, or mega form. If they have their tongue down your throat or cum inside you while raping you counts as freely given. This also gives you a slight healing factor as silver was able to get up right after being shot twice with non lethal damage and stumbled through the hoopa portal. This isn't wolverine levels of healing but even in your base form heals non lethal wounds by rapidly repairing them. Cannot be taken by other origins.

Items:
All items are discounted for origin, Hybrids can discount one of each tier of either pokemon or trainer.

General

Basic clothes (-100cp) a basic set of clothes for whatever form you have if lost or destroyed you'll either find new ones or people will give you some.

Megastone and ring/z ring (-200cp) gives you both a mega stone and ring suited to either a pokemon you own or your self if a pokemon, if neither you or any of your pokemon can mega evolve then this instead becomes a zring and such.

Elementals plates (-400cp) one stone tablet of every one of the pokemon elements there is even a shadow one. Normally a pokemon can hold one to boost the elemental attacks of the same type, but perhaps if you gave them to someone who you use them more, or maybe you can use them yourself?

G.U.R.E. complete research data (-600cp) gives all the data and samples you need to more creatures exactly like Silver. You still need the resources first to recreate silver.

Human

Training set (-100cp) gives basic stuff 5 pokeballs, a pokedex, 5 potions, a tent and a bag.

XTransceiver (-200cp) a mix of pocket watch with smart phone with holographic tech to call your friends.

Hideout (-400cp) a hidden base where you can chill out at, if you're part of a gang then this is your gang's hideout if you are researcher then it has a lab inside.

Big business (-600cp) you have a business of your choice of products, you don't need to do anything to make money but if you tie it to your research perk you can expand it to make even more money.

Pokemon

Berry supply (-100cp) you have a source of your favorite pokemon berry, whether it's your trainer buying it for you or just a tree you found if a wild pokemon.

Elemental booster item (-200cp) this is an item that boosts your main element's attacks by about 10%.

Special habitat (-400cp) an environment suited to whatever form you have to live in, if multiple forms will be suited to the current one, becomes a warehouse attachment.

Max revive (-600cp) fully restores the health and awakens knocked out pokemon, also restores stamina, you receive a new once a week so you can stock up if you want to for that week long orgy with your partners.

G.U.R.E.

Gardevoir beam (-100cp) is something that a team rocket makes; it's mostly useless unless you can strap someone down in it first and shoot a beam full of gardevoir dna (it was given willingly) perhaps you could find a use.

Home (-200cp/400cp) for first tier a small home built out of nearby materials, or a cave. For the second tier a luxury house with many bedrooms and an indoor pool.

Nanite sample (-400cp) a copy of the nanites in the container that you stumbled through it won't affect you but perhaps you can give it to someone else, reverse engineer them.

Zekrom spunk in a jar (-600cp) not necessarily zekrom's, it contains a sample of a legendary of your choice at the start of every jump or every ten year whichever comes first (it counts as given). If you somehow already have DNA from every legendary then this will just contain a mix of all instead. I'm sure you could find it very useful.

Companions:
If you replace a character you obviously can't take them with you.

Surgeon and Meagan: these two seem to get in a lot of trouble and both have their own issues to deal with they come with their team of pokemon but those pokemon are their companions and you can't import them (-100cp)

Team of six pokemon: the first pokemon is a starter from whatever region you want including pikachu and eevee, whatever gender you prefer, the rest you have to catch on your own, if you have been to another pokemon world you can import a pokemon here instead. Your starter gets 600cp to spend on perks only either way. You can forgo taking a starter if you would rather have that slot for a canon character, you still have to catch them first and they get no cp stipend (-free) (All but pokemon origin)

Trainer: you don't have to have one but it keep you from being captured by any random hoe off the street, guaranteed to be a person with an agreeable personality and gender of your choice (-free) (pokemon only)

Silver: there are many versions of silver you can take any one you want however the main timeline silver will refuse to go with you if you don't take her kids and her harem with her of course if you altered her fate somehow to not have these then you need not worry (-free)

Children: any children you have can be taken as companions (-free)

Canon companion: each purchase lets you take one person from this world with you for not already offered (-50cp each)

A dragon: you can take one of the dragons for the Httyd verse with you (-free if taken with the corresponding drawback otherwise -100cp)

A furry fighter: one of the next generation copies of silver in the Operation S.i.l.v.e.r. verse who sets silver free. (-free if taken with the corresponding drawback, otherwise -100cp)

Scenarios:

All scenarios are incompatible with the plot train drawback, or ones that take you out of the Pokemon world. If you fail a scenario you just lose the rewards you have collected to the point you failed. You can take as many as you qualify for.

Pokemon Master (All but pokemon) you must become a champion of one of the pokemon leagues, to do this you have to beat 8 gym leaders in a single region then beat the Elite Four and the previous Champion all in a row. Reward:
A perk Limit Breaker each badge you earn will break the training limits for a stat for training a pokemon in 1st health points, 2nd defense, 3rd attack, 4th evasion, 5th speed, 6th special attack, 7th special defense, 8th accuracy. When you defeat the Champion you get 9th which lets you start to be able to train your pokemon to be resistant to status moves like thunder wave or toxic. Each region you conquer will do the same with increased benefits (increases how much a pokemon can pick up in a training session) if you beat every region from Kanto to Galagar you get a 10th final ability to train your pokemon to be more resistant to the element types such as a grass type resistant to fire moves, and the title World Champion. You only need to beat one region to pass the scenario however the more you beat the more you get rewarded.

Gotta f'em all (G.U.R.E. only) you have decided to collect as many pokemon/hybrid forms as possible and that's what you will do, here's the deal pick a region and that's where your new starting location will be instead of near Lugia, you will collect poke forms from each region till you have them all or ten years is up. If you finish before ten years you can choose to leave the jump early, you get the reward: A perk Experience Share which lets you accumulate exp for each pokeform besides the one you're currently using, for every 10% of pokemon dna collected in you will be how much exp is earned for your other forms. You don't have to get every evolution in as long as you get the final so a charizard also counts for getting charmander and charmeleon, with some exceptions such as you don't need the uknown, deoxys, all the ultrabeast or regional variants. You need pikachu and raichu forms, you need all the eeveelution forms including eevee, if a line has different end versions like gardevoir and gallade you need both. You only need a single form of each pokemon but you can still get the variants if you want. Remember you have to get the dna somewhat willingly and you can't get shiny, mega, shadow or dynamax versions. If you actually go above and beyond to get every single form possible including all first and second evolutionary forms then instead of being able to leave early you can go to one of the alt timelines. You would also be able to use some moves that a pokeform normally couldn't, like using oblivion wing in a birdlike pokeform or aeroblast as a flying type, which has to make sense, no tail moves without a tail etc. The minimum you need to pass this scenario is 10% of pokemon in the parameters. If you want to leave early you need all 100% of poke forms.

Guardian (pokemon and hybrids only) you must become the new pokemon guardian of the region, you go about this a few ways. First is you need to reach lv 70 for non legendary pokemon and lv 50 for hybrids and legendary pokemon. Second, you need to drive out the local gang(s) in your region. Third, you need to make friends with the local legendary pokemon and to keep them from being captured by random trainers for the rest of your time here. The second and third parts start as soon as you finish the first threshold. For your efforts you get the reward: A perk Guardian Tails you can designate an area by default the area you start in a jump and the longer you stay the more the environment will thrive if in a forest the fruit will grow exceptionally nutritious, a city the gangs will slowly lose power and the ability to recruit, this isn't perfect and you may have to defend your territory from monster attracts or whatever plagues the world in other jumps, however you have the highest authorities in the area defer to you in emergencies or look the other way when you do what needs to be done such as killing a villain like the joker. The size of the area you can claim is expanded depending on how big an effort you took. If you took a small region with one gang like Orre and of the hybrid or legendary pokemon origin then you get a small area about the size of Dallas, if you took a regular pokemon origin and the Hoenn region it jumps up to the size of Delaware. If you pick Arceus you are instead in charge of all the regions and have to drive out every gang for each region and as a reward for how hard this will be your territory will be the size of Texas. This is the only scenario that's pass or fail as a True Guardian does not fail. The only exceptions to the people who are allowed to capture the legendary pokemon are that region's Champion or silver because she typically breeds with them.

It's alive (Trainer only) you must recreate the experiment that made silver. This is somewhat easier if you bought the corresponding items but you will have to find the resources to build the equipment yourself and unless you bought the right research specialty you won't get it right on the first try. If you complete this task and release her you get Silver as companion with whatever gender you gave them completely loyal to you alone, if you gave them the nanobot infusion then they gain the same dna absorption skill, if you go beyond and add pokemon dna before releasing her then whatever dna she will now have a form for, if you have other dna of a sentience species besides pokemon then you can add that too. If instead of releasing them you can instead keep the body in your warehouse storage then instead you will gain a temporary 1up as your Silver Soul is now tied to this body gaining all the benefits that silver would have gained if you are killed. You must decide which you want before the end of the jump. You could recreate the experiment in other jumps if you have the knowledge but only have the 1 spare body a jump. You could still make a copy after releasing one; they just won't be a free companion. If you take silver as a loyal companion then instead those are her spare bodies, you can customize the bodies to look however you want. The bare minimum you need to complete this scenario is to create the base G.U.R.E. form and not add the nanobots or extra dna. If you pick the 1up then once it's used that body will now be added to or incorporate your bodymod.

Drawbacks:

Hybrids can't any drawbacks that are about sex.

Self insert: if you buy the origin and perks to represent a canon character then you can start in their body and replace them, if a different gender then must take the genderswap timeline (+0cp)

Dream-timeline: you end up in one of the dreamworlds of silver's nightmares you chose which one (+0cp)

Genderswap timeline: all the genders of the main cast are reversed is an actual timeline (+0cp)

The clothing destroyer: not on purpose mind you but if you try to wear more than some panties and a wifebeater then circumstances will occur to destroy what you're wearing, could be destroyed in a fight or because you forgot that while you are lava proof your clothes aren't. (+100cp) (female or futa only)

Embarrassing name: maybe silver gave it to you after catching you like snookums the lugia, or just something you are known by like the skynoodle the rayquaza. You can't seem to get anyone to call you something else (+100cp) (pokemon only)o

Denial?: You have some sort of sex thing that your in denial of whether it something like silver's masochism or sergen's being gay you'll be in self denial all jump (+100cp)

Heart shaped ass: doesn't have to be exactly that but you have some distinctive feature that attracts those you'd rather not whether it be shiny hunters, one of the gangs, those of your non preferred gender, pick one you can pick this up to three times to get all three. You don't have to add a feature each time though you can if you want. You can choose after this jump if you want to keep the feature(s) or not (+100cp)

Lust bait: just like silver almost everyone wants a piece of you, this eats away time from other activities and if a G.U.R.E. boosts this to absurd levels you'll barley be able to go ten minutes without something fucking you while out in the wild (+200cp)

Forgotten: people just forget about you whether it's to bring you along on vacation, or leave you to babysit the local kids, to even leaving you in a pokeball for 3 weeks, to if G.U.R.E. you children forgetting you in favor of their new pokemon friend they just met (+200cp)

Impotence: not sexually mind you just like Azzilin you can't use your main element such as a fire type not being able to use fire (pokemon or hybrids only) (+300cp)

Amnesia: you have forgotten everything before this jump, your only memories are of your origin. If you take a scenario you will have a base desire to fulfil it (+200cp) (+300cp if a G.U.R.E.)

No lewds for you: You won't be lewding anything this jump your mother Silver or her harem will make sure of it that no one corrupts her babies this wears off when you hit 18 in appearance (Hybrid only mandatory) (+0cp)

Family problems: you have issues with your family whether it's your brother trying to steal you wife or being your sisters sub or even finding out you have been banging your first trainers children almost all parts of your life will be affected (+100cp)

Breeding factory: you have been put in a daycare and will have to breed with other pokemon for at least a year before you have a chance to escape if you fail you have another chance each year, (male or futa pokemon only) (+200cp)

Pokeslave: you belong to a trainer and you have to obey their every order for (+100cp) you are part of silver's team this comes with the downsides of spending lots of time either fighting legendary pokemon or babysitting her children. For (+200cp) its someone like shamrock's first owner who doesn't know how to use type advantages or leaving you in the daycare to breed to make money (pokemon only)

Insatiable sex drive: just like Meagen or Giratina you have a huge sex drive and the more taboo the sex the better it feels for you so you won't see a problem with banging you sister or your own son's spouse in fact it makes it better this will lead to problems latter down the line (+100cp)

Power loss drawback: the standard losing all your powers/perks from other worlds besides your body mod, you still have access to your warehouse, can't take if this is your first jump (+300cp human) (+100cp everyone else)

Plot train: you will follow the main plot of your timeline and will have a hard time derailing anything (+300cp) (+100cp for G.U.R.E)

Httyd: you end in the How to train your dragon universe or one of the other nonPokemon silver comics like operation silver. (G.U.R.E only) (+300cp)

Final choice:

Stay here and enjoy this world for awhile longer
Go home and relax or dominate the world
Keep going and exploring new worlds

Notes
One origin is the best one but I tried to balance them as much as I could. If you have a pokemon form that can open portals you can only travel to other places on the planet or local subdimensions post jump, in jump you can open to the local silver comics multiverse. Pokemon trainers seem very open to sleeping with their pokemon or wild ones. Pokemon seem to be a little different in this world while most look the same, the humanoid looking ones and most bipedal ones look remarkably anthropomorphic. It is possible for Pokemon to mate with humans as per the 12 vol a futa Zorark got a woman pregnant. This jump is based off of the silver comics by matemi and all the bonus stories and commissions on his web page its silvercomics.online

You can take canon characters as part of your team of six or trainer if a pokemon and not have to pay for their slot. If you get pokemon/human forms as a G.U.R.E your abilities might be different than a normal of that pokemon as a lugia silver has water absorb and as a Yvetal her stat rises sharply. Amnesia's drawback is worth more as a G.U.R.E. because you won't remember to get as many legendary forms as possible before you leave jump even if you take plot train you'll miss a bunch of forms because you didn't think of it, and if you take it with the httyd drawback you'd forget that people are tracking you in the Operation S.i.l.v.e.r. world. The It's alive scenario basically you can either create your perfect waifu/husbando or your own perfect body with the abilities of the G.U.R.E. perkline with it not being able to toggle off. You can take as many scenarios as are eligible for at a time however if you fail any of them you fail them all. The pokemon anime is a show in this universe, and this universe is somewhat based off of the games you see Brendan from ruby/sapphire/emerald a few times.

About stats: Health Points is how long you can stay in a battle if it reaches 0 you faint any damage after that and you die. Attack is physical attack power, basically claw/wings/tail/etc. Special Attack covers all other attacking moves beams/blasts/elemental/etc. Defense reduces damage from attack moves and Special Defense does the same for special attack moves. Speed is how fast you can move overall in the ideal environment for you water types are slower on land, and (bar certain exceptions like Lugia) all others are slower in water, and flying types are usually faster while flying, while digging types are faster underground. Accuracy is how easy it is to aim your attacks at the opponent and how accurate your attacks are (though if you are aiming at the ground and your opponent is in the sky you will still miss even with 100% accuracy attacks you have to try to aim). Evasion is how often you can avoid an attack if you're trying to dodge it, the higher the opponent's Accuracy the less likely you're able to dodge though other things can help or hinder you like the terrain your in affecting your speed or you have some sort of status ailments. The reason the last are hidden stats are because they are marginally affected by your speed stat. Shadow form/gigantomax/mega forms all give a significant boost to all your stat points breaking you over the normal limits once you hit lv100, shadow form boost is say 30 in each stat, while the other temporary forms are 50 each while using, and they do stack on top of the shadow form. The small boost if you take the different element from experiment on gives you 10 points each stat.
If you become Arceus or take her DNA for a form for your G.U.R.E. body and take the Elemental plates item or find them in jump you can absorb them into the Arceus form you have and be immune to whatever pokemon type of plate you absorbed (though if you didn't buy them there is no shadow plate to find so shadow moves can still hurt you) though be warned there are moves that can still defeat you like Destiny bond, stat moves, status ailment moves, and non pokemon attacks (though the last still has to deal with your def or sp def).

To find what I based it on.
