Cosplay Fetish Academy

Jump by 9anon

At some point in the early 2000s, Ryouji and his twin cousins - Shana and Yuuki - were struck by lightning while having an argument in front of a shrine. Rather than dying horribly, they found themselves transported to a world much like their own, but with one major difference - normal women's fashion was now quite revealing, and in contrast their own relatively covering clothing was now considered lewd and scandalous.

So similar were these worlds that these three could more or less continue their original lives, though they did need to adapt to the much more scant fashion standards. The boy had to get used to being surrounded by beautiful, scantily-clad women, and even seeing his close family wearing very stimulating outfits. The girls had to get used to wearing said stimulating outfits. Beyond that, they enjoyed regular romcom shenanigans as they went from reeling about the local fashion to tackling their school festival.

Barring drawbacks, this jump will find you inserting into that same world. It's basically just a normal, mundane variant of modern Earth circa the early 2000s, but the standards for women's clothing are largely reversed. In short, the more skin revealed the better, at least as long as the nipples and crotch are covered. Amusingly, outfits that would be 'normal' in your original world are considered as scandalous and lewd as walking around with nothing but adhesive medical strips on your jibbly bits. Conversely, men's fashion is unaffected, so don't go walking around in a speedo expecting people to treat you normally.

Here's +1000cp to help start your decade in this world.

=Location=

While the game takes place in some urban part of Japan, you can insert into any reasonable location on Earth that you like. Anywhere someone could feasibly live.

=History=

You may freely choose your demographics within reason.

You may drop-in or have a local history, as well as the details of your history within reason.

=Perks=

You receive discounts on 3 perks per price tier.
Discounted 100cp perks are free.
If you purchase a perk multiple times, you may apply one of your discounts to each purchase.

Cosplay Fetish World [Free]: If you want, you can bring the stand out feature of this world with you, selectively applying it to future settings as you arrive.

At the start of each jump, you may apply the skimpy standards of dress from this world to the setting you are about to enter. To describe - the skimpier the better, as long as the genitals and nipples are covered. Housewives wear nothing but their aprons, school uniforms can be as little as pasties and high-leg panties, and teachers wearing bunny suits is nothing unusual. Oddly, regular outfits are considered lewd and scandalous - enough for people to be concerned about your weird hobbies and to have authorities stop you in the streets over it. And even as revealing as the local fashion is, women still get flustered as normal if their nipples or genitals get exposed.

You can also make small adjustments as you like, like choosing how certain uniforms end up, making high heels a standard part of female footwear, or even limiting how extreme the affected outfits can be. Also, altered outfits are about as functionally as their unaltered forms - clothing is as warm, heels as stable, and so on.

Eroge Protag [Free]: What good is visiting a porn setting if you aren't gonna have sex, and what fun is sex if you don't know what the hell you're doing. To this end, you find that you have an innate skill for sex. Even as a complete virgin, you find that you can satisfy pretty much any partner, instinctively handling both foreplay and the actual act as though you had years of experience. What also helps is that you're an easy 10.

Also, you find that STDs and unwanted pregnancies simply never come up - even as concerns, you can toggle your fertility at will, your partners aren't concerned about a lack of contraceptives, and they're groomed to your preferences.

Born Athlete [-100cp]: Like Yuuki, you are a talented athlete - physically fit, with decent physical attributes to go along with it. Enough that you can survive a 2-story drop, assuming you intended to make the drop. You also find that athletic activities help to calm your nerves, although be careful about who you do them around because hopping out a second story window will likely worry people.

Enduring for Fashion [-100cp]: The women of this world endure much in the name of fashion. Even in winter, they don't cover up much more skin, though they do start wearing outfits that feature fur linings. Like them you are able to endure cold temperatures while wearing far less than you ought to.

Fast Metabolism [-100cp]: Shana is a naturally slim girl who rather enjoys showing off her body, and this is in spite of her rather large appetite. While you don't need to be slim, like her you are able to maintain your preferred figure without much effort…if any. Just living your life will bring you to your preferred appearance, and you can adjust the target at the start of each jump.

Practical Skills [-100cp]: It seems like every character in this visual novel has some manner of practical skill. Even the air-headed Shana is a natural model. You may purchase this perk multiple times, each purchase giving you a professional level of skill in a particular area of focus. You could be a dab hand at sewing and tailoring, know how to run the floor at a tea shop efficiently, cook and create recipes, teach a particular subject and generally be a good teacher, or something else. Whatever your choice(s), you are also good at passing on your knowledge to others, able to get them to a functional level of skill with minimal tutoring.

Star Student [-100cp]: Like Yuuki, you find that keeping up with classes is a non-issue. You just need to pay attention after all. And it is just that easy for you - you find that you have no issue absorbing new information and accessing it later. Your capacity for memories is functionally endless, your ability to recall information is practically flawless, and you can very quickly comprehend any new information that you encounter.

Unaccustomed [-100cp]: A world like the one depicted in this visual novel is incredibly stimulating for anyone who hasn't grown up in it. Attractive women waltzing about in outfits that would make an exhibitionist from a normal world blush. You find that you never lose this sense of erotic wonderment unless you want to, though you also don't become overwhelmed by it. You can also extend this effect to others, selectively preventing them from becoming desensitized to lewdness and/or becoming overwhelmed by it.

Caring Teacher [-200cp]: Maika spotted the shift in her student's behavior almost immediately, though she wasn't sure what was going on until she confronted them and got the whole plot laid out for her. The reason she could do this is because Maika is a very diligent teacher, keeping extensive notes on her students. Like her, you have a keen eye for the behavior of others, and you can keep track of dozens of people at a time.

Ecchi Shenanigans [-200cp]: As technically normal as this world is, it's still the world of an eroge, which means plenty of abnormal happenings of the lewd variety. Taking this perk, you find that you tend to regularly encounter such happenings, and they always align with your preferences. This can take many forms, and may also provide you opportunities to get close with others and just to meet new people.

Improved Flavor [-200cp]: What fun is visiting this world if you're surrounded by men and you can't see all the ways that women's fashion has changed. This isn't an issue for you, as you find that you tend to almost exclusively encounter those of your preferred sex. This applies to both the foreground and background of your life, ensuring that you're surrounded by feminine beauty, or whatever your preference is.

Lovable Playboy [-200cp]: Our dear Ryouji can eventually stumble his way into a harem ending, assuming you play his cards right. Like him, you find that you are able to build a harem without the harem getting in the way. Potential partners don't consider your existing relationships to be a downside if you don't want them to, and those already in your harem are fine sharing you with each other, as well as with you bringing more people into the fold.

No Reason to Lie [-200cp]: At a certain point, Ryouji's teacher confronts him, having noticed the shift in behavior that occurred in him and his cousins when the transfer happened. They'd kept the secret of their isekai up until then for obvious reasons, but told the truth when confronted. Similar to that, people are far more likely to take you at your word when you are telling the truth, having a sense that you are being honest with them. This becomes a guarantee when you are telling the complete truth and laying everything out.

Route Marcher [-200cp]: While Ryouji isn't totally hopeless, he certainly didn't have the best luck with women, having been broken up with just prior to the events of the game for misreading some signals. But like him after coming under the guidance of the player, you find that you have an excellent instinct for romance - you know what to say at key junctures to build a person's interest in you, and you can sense whether someone would be interested in you or if they are a dead end. Your sense for dialogue is fitting to your character and intentions, so you won't inadvertently give someone false impressions.

Benefit of the Doubt [-400cp]: Like the main trio, you find that you have a lot of leeway before people start asking questions. You could have whole conversations about being from a different world within earshot of others, and people won't raise concerns about your sanity unless you start ranting at them directly. Meanwhile, people will largely overlook any slip ups that make you seem odd, either not noticing or simply ignoring it for the sake of social stability.

Gag Reel no Jutsu [-400cp]: Who knows where Shana got that banana peel, but it was incredibly effective at disabling the cop who spotted the main trio shortly after they transferred into the parallel world, allowing them to get away and avoid a very awkward and confused stop at the police station.

You also have this amazing ability to pull something out of your ass (potentially literally) and trigger a scene straight out of a cartoon. This isn't a reliable ability, but it can help you out in a pinch.

Nice View [-400cp]: A world of scantily-clad women is no fun if those women aren't attractive. To that end, you can globally improve the appearance of the local population whenever you first arrive in a world. This sets the local range of attractiveness to 6/10-to-10/10, squeezing the usual bell curve into the smaller range. Even the ugliest are just homely, while the average person is decently attractive, and supermodel-tier folks are notably more common.

You may apply this selectively, in case you only want a particular sex to benefit or to apply this to your fiat-backed entourage.

Struck Twice [-400cp]: The main trio found themselves thrown into another world when a freak storm formed and they were struck by lightning. Ryouji took the brunt of it and came out the other end stunned rather than dead. You share in his resistance to lightning strikes. Unless you get hit many times in close succession with exceptionally heavy bolts, you'll generally just be stunned by whatever electrical damage you take, and lesser damage doesn't even faze you.

The Best Part [-400cp]: Cosplay Fetish Academy features multiple relationships that wouldn't really fly in real life. One of the girls is your teacher, two of them are your cousins, and one of them is your brother's girlfriend for most of the game.

For whatever reason, people don't take issue with your choice of partner, even your partners themselves. Age gaps, professional barriers, power differentials, family, all of this falls to the side in the face of love…or just lust. This even eliminates issues that might arise from incest or taking someone's girlfiend - like recessive defects or that person becoming upset with you.

Your Fetish World [-400cp]: If simply having women be blithely scantily-clad isn't your deal or simply isn't enough for you, taking this perk will allow you to alter worlds to center around some other fetish of yours. You can apply this to each setting you visit upon your first arrival, twisting the world to cater to a single fetish or fantasy you have in mind.

This can be a different one each time, and you can go into a great deal of detail if you want, but this has its limits. Mainly, the reconfiguration of the world cannot significantly impact the actual day-to-day of the world or character of the setting. Like the Cosplay Fetish world depicted, it's still basically a normal version of Earth, just with women's fashion significantly altered. You also can't pick something asinine like 'being the strongest in the world'.

You may purchase this perk multiple times if you want to mix and match more of your fetishes and fantasies at a time.

=Items=

You receive discounts on 1 item per price tier
Discounted 100cp items are free.
Items purchased here repair, resupply, and respawn each week.
You may combine items purchased here with similar-enough items you bring in from elsewhere.
You can insert properties into a location of your choice whenever you import them into a new setting.

Cosplay Fetish Academy [Free]: Your own copy of the source material, plus an ordinary laptop to play it on and a guide to the game in the form of a .txt file. You also receive records of your lewd adventures in the form of a playable novel which updates as your adventures continue.

Not Cosplay [Free]: A comfortable outfit of your choice, though it must be something that fits the standards of this world. Whatever your choice, this outfit always fits you perfectly, is self-cleaning and self-repairing, and is always seen as being appropriate for whatever situations you find yourself in. Also, it never threatens to fall off, no matter how skimpy it may be.

Notebook [-100cp]: A notebook with endless pages that always opens to the one you are looking for, though they all start off blank. Comes with a pen that never runs out of ink, and you can always retrieve both of them by reaching for them on your person.

Black Tape Project [-100cp]: A box full of rolls of tape perfect for pushing the altered standards of this world, coming in all kinds of textures, colors, and opacities. Also included are scissors, for cutting the tape cleanly, and a supply of adhesive medical strips if those are more your speed.

Cafe Foods [-100cp]: A selection of food and drink you'd expect from a cafe, including all sorts of sweet baked treats and savory teas. This can come as a pile of recipes and ingredients, freshly prepared examples that you can set out on any table, or both.

Employment [-200cp]: A job that provides you with a large enough wage to live comfortably, while also not taking up so much time that you can't enjoy the fruits of your labor. You can always find a job that fits this description whenever you first arrive in an area or decide to change jobs.

Fetish Wardrobe [-200cp]: A large collection of clothing and accessories from this world. The exact contents of the wardrobe vary depending on the situation, but it is always stuff that would be normal to wear in the Cosplay Fetish world. This stuff isn't treated any different from how it would normally be, so be mindful in worlds with normal standards.

If you also take Your Fetish World, this item updates to include apparel fitting to your chosen fetish or fantasy whenever you use that perk.

Home [-200cp]: A "modest" 10-bedroom home. The place automatically repairs, cleans, and organizes itself when no one is looking, and no one finds anything odd about that. It also has endless utilities, pantries that restock regularly, and you don't need to pay to keep the place - whether taxes, utilities, or tribute to the local warlord.

Business [-400cp]: A small business with your choice of specialty - like a shrine, cafe, or something else. It's guaranteed to make at least a small profit, and it can run itself just fine without your oversight, but that profit will be noticeably larger if you directly involve yourself in it.

Hot Family [-400cp]: Like our boy Ryouji, you tend to have hot family members. Each jump, assuming you have a local family, you may make sure that one or more of them are not only unusually attractive but potentially open to incestuous relations.

You may also insert existing companions and/or followers as members of your family. This simply inserts them into the setting, it doesn't provide any fiat benefits like origins or stipends, which you'll need to pay for normally through whatever import options are available in the jump if you want them.

School [-400cp]: A school under your ownership and administration, though it can run itself perfectly fine without need for your input or oversight. As the administrator, you get to choose how the school is run - including what demographics are allowed to enroll, the various rules for the school, as well as what is taught at the school. Unless you decide otherwise, the school hires and enrolls locals, who are strangely okay with whatever weird decisions you make…within reason. Torture and killing will be reacted to as normal for the local setting, but you can get away with all kinds of lewd rules.

=Companions=

You may take companions you acquire in this section as followers instead if you wish.

Create/Import [-100cp]: Each purchase of this option allows you to create or import up to 8 companions, each receiving a 600cp stipend to spend on perks and items, plus the discounts listed at the top of each section.

In addition to however many times you purchase this option, you may optionally create or import 1 companion for free, with the same benefits as though you'd paid to create or import them. You may leave this slot open if you want to give someone you Export a build on their way out.

Export [Free]: If you can convince anyone to follow along with you and they are alive at the end of your time here, you may bring them along as a companion or follower, chosen on an individual basis.

=Drawbacks=

You may take as many drawbacks as you like.

Supplement Mode [Toggle]: You can use this jump as a supplement for another, allowing you to visit a Cosplay Fetish version of that other setting. Points are kept separate, as usual.

Reserved Roles [Toggle]: Are scantily-clad women not your thing? Then you can use this to turn the tables, making men the ones who have to wear next to nothing.

Recast [Toggle]: Want to experience things from the perspective of one of the characters? Taking this toggle allows you and your entourage to selectively replace whatever established characters are fitting.

Kinda Dim [+100cp]: Whether you tend to be distracted with other things or are just slow, you aren't the brightest bulb in the bin. You'll often get sayings wrong, and you'll have issues with pretty much any cognitively-intensive task. But everything's fine, you don't have the brain cells to worry.

Normal Academy [+100cp]: Who ever heard of a world where women wear very little? You'll be spending your time here in the world where the main trio came from. You may encounter their alternate counterparts, having trouble adjusting to this more modest world, but you won't get to enjoy the Cosplay Fetish part of this setting.

Shout It All Out [+100cp]: Far too often, you just can't keep whatever you're thinking or feeling in, especially when your emotions are running high. You'll just start shouting whatever is on your mind...without regard for those around you.

What Proof Reading? [+100cp]: During your stay here, you tend to run into far more typos and grammatical errors than normal. And you can't just ignore it. Every example is distracting and throws you off. And you encounter it everywhere, from the driest textbooks, to newcasts, to casual conversations.

Amnesia [+200cp]: You have no recall of your life prior to entering this world. If you have a local history, it's as though that has been your only life. If you drop-in, you are basically a total amnesiac.

Epistaxis [+200cp]: Whenever you get too aroused, your nose spontaneously starts gushing blood. This never threatens your life, but is awfully messy and makes people have concerns about your health.

Prideful [+200cp]: You just can't get used to this world, whether or not you'd enjoy being surrounded by scantily-clad women. Either you just have trouble adapting to wearing far less modest clothing than you're accustomed to, or the erotic allure of all those women never loses any intensity.

Twitterpated [+200cp]: For the duration of your stay, you'll find yourself hopelessly in love with someone. As far as you are concerned, they can do no wrong, and their every action only makes you swoon. Your romantic interest will, in reality, be kind of a doofus who doesn't value you much, but they at least aren't abusive. And you can take them with you as a follower or companion at the end of the jump if you want, though you don't make that decision under the influence of this perk.

Unloved [+300cp]: You have absolutely no romantic or sexual luck. Even if you can manage to scrounge up a partner, the relationship won't last long and sex is never on the table.

Power Loss [+300cp]: For the duration of your stay here, you won't have access to any perks or items from before this jump, with the exception of your body mod. You get the chance to combine items at the end of the jump.

=The End=

Stay Here / Return Home / Continue Chain

Whatever your choice, drawbacks are revoked as per usual.

=Notes=

Maika is the best girl.
