POWER PLAY
THAT'S RIGHT-- THE KID'S WITH ME!!
18+
ADULTS ONLY

Welcome to a version of the DC multiverse that's a little different from what you may be accustomed to. The most obvious difference is that things are relatively stable: There's no super dramatic plot lines going on or crisis events happening every few years that fundamentally change reality. Sure, there'll be the odd threat to Earth and plenty of cape shenanigans, but they are generally dealt with quickly and cleanly. It's the kind of cape realm you could live a comfortable civilian life in uninterrupted.

The less obvious difference is that the setting is lewder than baseline. This means people tend to be more attractive and open to sex, as you would expect for a porn setting, but young boys are also rather precocious here and tend to have much better odds of scoring with adult women - usually with the woman's consent, but not always.

You'll start your time here around the first time that a boy by the name of Bobby Fisher manages to persuade Power Girl into sexual favors with some blackmail.

But enough of that, here's +1000cp to furnish yourself for the coming decade.

Location

Given that Earth is literally the center of the DC universe, that is where you'll start your time here. You may start anywhere on Earth that's reasonably accessible by a civilian or that would be appropriate given your abilities and equipment - like starting in orbit aboard a ship you bring in, a summoning circle if you're able to be summoned, and so on.

Origins

You may choose your demographics and local history within reason, including deciding to drop-in if desired. But keep in mind that a superhuman species will require either perks to that effect from previous jumps in your chain or a purchase of the Metahuman perk below.

Perks

You receive 1 discount per price tier.
Discounted 50cp perks are free.

Convenience [Free]: STDs and unwanted pregnancies simply aren't a factor when you're involved, to the point that they don't even cross your partner's mind as something to be concerned about. Your partners are guaranteed to be clean and groomed to your preferences, and both you and them benefit from porn physics that also align with your preferences.

Precocious Youth [-50cp]: For as young and unconcerned about his partner's pleasure as he is, Bobby is quite capable of bringing Power Girl to her knees with his clumsy ministrations and lack of physical development. You share in his capabilities.

Size doesn't matter for you, nor does skill. Not only do you have an incredible innate talent for other areas of sex, but your dick is incredibly pleasing no matter its size, your skills, nor the fact that you aren't even trying to pleasure your partner. As a bonus, you may benefit from huge loads regardless of your sexual development and a nigh-instant refractory period, allowing you to keep going and going.

If you want, you may apply this to any other sort of genitals you have, as well as apply the benefits of this perk to your sexual partners for the duration of any sexual encounters.

Super Physique [-50cp]: Heroes or villains, supers are almost always incredibly fit and attractive. Tall, athletic, well-proportioned and well endowed. At least, that's the standard.

You may customize your appearance as you like within what's possible for your species. Maybe go for that superhero physique. Maybe just trim yourself down to something attractive, but more achievable for regular folk. Maybe redefine yourself to fit an archetype from porn. Or maybe you just want to be young again and so decide to become a shota or loli.

Whatever your choice, you don't have to put in any effort to maintain it. Your lifestyle has no negative impact on your appearance or build so long as you aren't deprived, you don't need more than a quick rinse every once in a while to look your best, and you can even ignore the outward signs of aging if you want to remain young forever.

Unaccompanied Minor [-50cp]: Fisher's parents are rather absent from his life, to the point that he can have regular sexual escapades with a superhero without anyone noticing. This could just be a matter of timing, but that's an excuse for someone else.

You are able to live an independent life as a minor without people questioning your situation or trying to get involved when you wouldn't want them to. Alternatively, any parents or guardians you may have are simply "off-camera", never showing up or interfering in your life except when explicitly necessary.

Making Time [-100cp]: Somehow, Power Girl and Bobby's dalliances don't interfere with her superhero work…at least presumably. This could just be a matter of plot convenience, but so is this perk.

No matter how busy your life gets, you can always find time to sit down and enjoy the things you love. Or get railed by a young boy. Or both. Almost all of your time could be occupied saving the world and you'll still be able to keep up with the latest game releases AND get up to all kinds of sexual hijinks without wearing yourself down, being late, or getting distracted.

Really Good [-100cp]: Bobby really seemed to enjoy eating Power Girl out, and Power Girl herself seemed to enjoy Bobby's cum.

You just taste and smell really good to those that you are attracted to. Both your body and fluids are not simply pleasant to the senses, but intensely enticing to those you're interested in. It certainly means they'll be really motivated when it comes to oral sex.

You may share the benefits of this perk with your sexual partners, ensuring that they smell and taste just as good.

Secret Identity [-100cp]: It seems like it would be hard to maintain a secret identity, given how public a lot of heroes tend to be. Faces plastered everywhere, and nobody in their civilian life thinks to connect the tall, blonde beauty down the hall with the scantily-clad super they see on the news every now and then.

You have a very easy time maintaining a secret identity. Part of this is toning down how attractive you are, which you can do at will and to a degree that you can control. Another part is a simple change of clothing, with the perceived gap in presence between you in costume and in normal clothing being much wider when you want it to be. This also just helps you disguise yourself in general.

Kryptonian Pussy [-200cp]: Power Girl evidently has immense self-control. Both to not pulp the little shit blackmailing her for sex, but also to not hurt him in the throes of pleasure he eventually puts her in.

You have immense control over both your body and powers. You never apply more force than necessary or desired in any way, even when you aren't fully in control - like not crushing your partner's dick when you cum and only leaving bruises rather than reducing a criminal to pulp in anger. You may also share these benefits with your sexual partners during encounters, so you don't get your dick crushed or get drained to death by a girl who normally can't control her powers.

This perk also works on all your other perks and powers, allowing you to toggle and/or dial down their effects individually and at will.

She Likes It [-200cp]: While it's certainly not an ideal situation for Power Girl, she does actually seem to be into what's going on with Bobby. She's certainly got the power and connections to clean things up with a pretty bow on top, but she doesn't.

When you want, you will regularly encounter opportunities to live out sexual scenarios that align with your tastes. Maybe you find the perfect blackmail needed to extort sexual favors from your favorite superheroine, or you'll get "blackmailed" for sexual favors by a precocious youth. These opportunities never involve individuals or activities you wouldn't be interested in.

This perk also eliminates unwanted sexual encounters entirely. Circumstances will always conspire to leave you untouched by such unpleasantness, and you simply won't have any encounters when you aren't in the mood.

Under The Radar [-200cp]: Somehow, Fisher and PG's relationship doesn't become known until Bobby goes out of his way to get others involved. Hell, she actually needs to show up with him to a public place before his friends believe him. They're also able to have public sex a few times without anyone noticing.

In much the same way, you are consistently able to get away with public sex if you even put in the smallest effort to hide it, and you can easily keep your relationships secret until you go out of your way to reveal them. You could frequently hang out with one of the most public heroes in the world for hours at a time and nobody would notice.

Metahuman [-400cp]: While the term technically applies to humans who develop powers, 'Metahuman' is generally used as a catch-all term for any superpowered individual. Superman is as much as metahuman as the Flash is, in spite of one being an alien and the other having gained powers through a science experiment gone wrong.

You are a metahuman of some variety, equipped with a powerset of your choice…within reason. This powerset alone isn't enough to put you in the big leagues, but it's more than enough to become a respected or feared figure in your local area. Your powerset is also rather limited - either being a single particularly flexible power, a classic set like being a flying brick, or requiring prep-time and resources like if you're a gadgeteer or sorcerer.

The nature of these powers is up to you as well: they could be the result of random mutation, the classic science experiment gone wrong, magic, or they are simply the abilities inherent to your species. Alternatively, you may go the Batman approach and have them be the result of intense training and dedication, although at the cost of being limited to just doing human things better.

For an extra undiscounted -200cp on top of whatever you paid for this perk, your powers are enough to bring you on par with the Justice League. You could be a fully realized Kryptonian, have a ridiculous spread of powers like Martian Manhunter, or be an even more badass normal who also has ridiculous plot armor like a certain Bat.

The Fisher Method [-400cp]: Bobby gets away with a lot in his relationship with Power Girl, especially considering he's dealing with a Kryptonian woman who could easily handle the situation without having to give in. Despite that, he's able to hold some vaguely defined blackmail over her head and actually end up with her as a sex friend over time.

Like him, blackmail is something that just works for you even when it really shouldn't. Even those who should just be able to almost instantly find and destroy any compromising materials or information you have on them will wind up giving in to your demands, and they never seek vengeance after the fact. And you can just keep doing it as long as you technically keep your word to destroy it or hand it over, while using footage of whatever you had them do as fresh blackmail. However, this perk is much less effective when you aren't blackmailing people for sexual ends.

Further, you find that you can rather easily build a relationship with your victim out of this. The more time they spend with you, the more you grow on them and the more they grow to like you even in spite of any lack of consideration on your part or that whole blackmail thing. This doesn't work if you're actively cruel or abusive, though you can get away with a lot. After a while you won't even need to blackmail them to keep them around.

Items

You receive 1 discount per price tier.
Discounted 50cp items are free.
Items respawn, resupply, and repair each week unless noted otherwise.
You may combine fiat-backed items with any items you purchase here.

Cake [-50cp]: A delicious and moist cake in any flavor you want. Pre-sliced, this cake is also always ready for consumption, like it's cooled just enough after being pulled out of this oven. You receive a new cake whenever your last one is finished or rendered inedible.

Cosplay [-50cp]: A box that always contains whatever cosplay you're in the mood for, though particularly lewd cosplay. The costumes you pull out of here always fit as intended - whether you want a perfect fit or your new superheroine sex friend to wear something that's a little too tight.

Entertainment [-50cp]: A load of entertainment media and devices for them. Comics, books, movies, video games, you name - you have it and the necessary stuff to watch or play it. There's always something interesting, as well as plenty of porn.

Memorabilia [-50cp]: All kinds of superhero merchandise. Posters, models, graphic t-shirts, and other stuff. This defaults to a mix of stuff for superheroes and villains you're interested in, but you can choose what you get for who. Likely includes plenty of enticing stuff as well.

Allowance [-100cp]: Enough money to comfortably live off of, delivered on a regular schedule in a convenient format. This income is not taxed, and nobody ever questions it. Whether as cover or just something to do, this income can come with an incredibly convenient job.

Civilian Wardrobe [-100cp]: A wardrobe containing all sorts of mundane clothing and accessories appropriate to your circumstances. Perfect for blending in with normal folks. This stuff always fits perfectly and doesn't necessarily need to be for you.

Home [-100cp]: A comfortable home. It doesn't cost anything to keep, retains modern utilities no matter what, and is decorated and furnished to your standards. The neighbors also don't notice or care about any odd activities you get up to here unless you want them to.

Toys [-100cp]: A whole collection of everything you need to spice up your sex life, even if you're going it alone. Of note is a supply of lube and other consumables, as well as an assortment of dildos and onaholes based on various supers…and other prominent figures in future jumps.

Supersuit [-200cp]: A standard piece of equipment for almost any super, hero or villain, you have your own supersuit. It fits you perfectly, is self-cleaning and comfortable to wear for incredibly long periods of heavy action, and it holds up as long as you do against any damage that's not specifically meant for it - allowing you to retain your modesty so long as you are still in the fight. It also really shows off your body.

Hoverpack [-200cp]: A back-mounted device that allows you to hover in the air indefinitely. It technically allows free flight, but it can't pick up a lot of speed so it isn't useful for situations where you really need to get the lead out. It's really good for getting around an indoor space like a lab or something. Or getting the perfect height to paizuri the superheroine whose body you have frozen.

Direct Line [-400cp]: At the start of each jump, you may receive the private number of a character of your choice, or some other method to privately communicate with them. While not too useful on its own, you also receive sufficient blackmail on the character to get your foot in the door with them and force a meeting, and this blackmail refreshes after use so you can keep pulling them in and getting them to do what you want. Just keep in mind that this alone won't guarantee your safety if you keep abusing it.

Lewd Gadget [-400cp]: A superscience gizmo small enough to be held or worn on your person. This device has some power that can easily be used to lewd ends - like a timestop watch, goggles that let you see through clothing, a remote control that can control the body of a target, and so on. However, these effects are localized and the device itself is rather fragile - being dropped on a hard surface from a few feet is guaranteed to break it and end its effects, so be careful.

Companions

Create/Import [-50cp]: Each purchase of this option allows you to create and/or import up to 4 companions. Each companion receives 600cp to spend on perks and items, as well as the discounts listed at the top of those sections.

You may also create or import 1 companion for free with listed benefits.

Export [Free]: If you've convinced or coerced someone to come along with you and they're still alive at the end of your time here, you may take them along with you as a

For -50cp per character, you may arrange to have many advantageous opportunities to meet and get to know a character of your choice from the DC universe.

Exported Character [-50cp]: If you'd like to recruit an established character from another setting, each purchase of this option ensures that you'll meet a local version of that character. They'll be much the same, save for adjustments to fit this setting as well as any adjustments you'd like to make to their background - including having a pre-existing relationship or other connection with them.

Drawbacks

You may take as many drawbacks as you like.

Character Replacement [Toggle]: You may swap yourself, your companions, and your followers into any of the roles played out in the story. This is mostly so you can replace Bobby and have PG all to yourself.

Continuity [Toggle]: If you've previously been to the DC Universe, you may have your activities there reflected in the setting you visit through this document.

Childish [+100cp]: For the duration of your stay here, you'll find yourself incredibly unambitious. Equipped with the means to bend a Kryptonian to your will, you'll just end up extorting sexual favors from them, or forcing them to hang out with you. Even if you do get the bright idea to whore them out, you'll wind up accepting superhero memorabilia or whatever in exchange.

Long Stay [+100cp]: Rather than the standard decade, you'll be here for two whole decades instead. That's a whole lot more time for circumstances to align with you at the center of some major catastrophe or get caught by some collateral damage.

Virgin [+100cp]: You will have absolutely zero sexual ability when you arrive in this world, not even benefiting from any perks to that end. You can still build up some sexual skills, but it'll take a lot of time and experience to do so.

Amnesia [+200cp]: You have no memory of your chain or life prior to arriving here. If you have a local history, it's like you've always lived in this world. As a drop-in, you'll be a proper amnesiac.

No Sex [+200cp]: For the duration of your stay here, circumstances will bend over backwards to prevent you from having sex. It doesn't matter what perks you have to the contrary, it just won't happen, even if it means a super fight breaking through your apartment to interrupt an appointment with an escort.

Comics Nonsense [+300cp]: Forget the intro, the constant cycle of bullshit that plagues the official DC comics is present here. Interpersonal drama is a constant and nonsensical annoyance, the world is guaranteed to come under threat from some force or another, and the world suffers constant escalation until it reaches a peak and there's some major cosmic shakeup at least once per year.

Power Loss [+300cp]: For the duration of your stay here, you lose access to your perks, items, and companions. This excludes the benefits of your body mod and any companions you paid to import. If you want to combine items, you'll get a chance to do so at the end of your time here.

Real Consequences [+300cp]: Unlike the events of the comic, you won't find your misdeeds protected by perk or plot contrivance here. For example, attempting to blackmail a powerful superhero will at least result in legal consequences, if not worse if they're a less lawful sort.

The End

Stay Here / Return Home / Continue Chain

All drawbacks are revoked.

Notes

Fanwank responsibility.
This jump also includes some stuff from Glassfish's 'PG x Toyman' comic.
Glassfish is kind enough to provide an archive of her public art, including the comics this jump is based on, here.

Power level for Metahuman: This is a porn jump, so assume it's on the lower end.
