Jujutsu Larpsien, Fucking The Curses Out of You

Why are you here?

No, really. Why? I don't have anything to offer you that others haven't, so why are you here? Oh? You want my perks specifically? How flattering.

I'll indulge you then.

Welcome to Japan, one that's been infested by malevolent spirits known as Cursed Spirits. Humans who are able to manipulate cursed energy, Sorcerers, are the enemy of these spirits, and their job is to excise all of these creatures.

Except…something's off? A lewd tint has covered the world. Cursed Spirits, born from the negative emotions of humanity, are now made from the horny, erotic, and downbad thoughts and emotions of humanity.

Cursed Spirits have taken a sexual turn, and instead of killing humanity, commits debauched acts upon them. These spirits, while still malevolent in nature cannot kill anymore, as it goes against their nature.

Sorcerers have also been affected by this shift, and instead of killing the cursed spirits with swords or such, instead use sex to defeat Cursed Spirits.

Reality is a sex den, and everyone is participating. Here's 1000CP(Cock Points) to get started.

World Modifiers

Cursed Energy, Spirits and Aliens are cool and all, but where's everything else? Here it is! This section lets you modify the world on a cosmic scale, allowing you to change things to better suit your tastes. Depending on what you pick, some combos might cause unbalanced play, so tread carefully, and goon on!

Spreading The Love - Free
Don't you want to know what sorcerers would look like if they were from America, or maybe even Britain? This lets you lower the Tengen's barriers, letting cursed energy permeate across the world. Cursed energy is everywhere now, with sorcerers cropping up across the world. This also means that cursed spirits are being born everywhere as well, with a lot of them being themed after folklore and cryptids.

Kink of The World - Free/100CP
For free, you can add in as many of your kinks and fetishes as you want, and the world will adhere to these to the best of its ability. For Free, these can be the more vanilla stuff most people would be into but still freaky, such as Incest, watersports, feet, or even heinous things like non-con. If you pay 100CP however, then you can truly go crazy. The world will alter itself to make sure that all your fetishes are safe to practice, and unless you want it to, won't ever hurt. You can truly go crazy now, as things like vore is just extra kinky foreplay, getting digested is just a pleasurable experience, getting shat out, unbirthing is uncommon but not unheard of, or maybe snuff is all the rage now, the person who died coming back from death after a few seconds with barely any trauma or injuries.

Pedophilia's NOT A Fetish - Free
Indeed it is not! This modifier lets you ban fetishes from ever appearing in the world. Nobody will ever think of trying this, and if someone did, they'd become disgusted with themselves for even thinking about it and forget about it. This can be anything you don't find arousing.

Humans Are Kind of Lame - 50CP, 100CP
It was wild that it was revealed that ALIENS of all things were able to use Jujutsu, or at least something similar to it. I thought, why not add more? So with a purchase of this, you can! For 50CP, you may add the most basic demi-humans that you could find in most western fantasy. Elves, Dwarves, Gnomes and Halflings are all part of this world now, and all have the capability of being sorcerers.

For 100CP however, you may pick as many races as you want to be apart of this setting now. Dragonkin, Kitsune, Lamias, and so much more are at your disposal. More than that however, all of these races interact with Cursed Energy differently. A dwarf would be more adept at reinforcement and making cursed tools is more common among their kind, while an Elf or Gnome would be able to invent new techniques with scary proficiency. Each of the races are different, but still count as Human for the Race section, as their the norm, while Half-Curses are still rare.

Umapyoing The World - 100CP, 50Cp for Each Subsequent Purchase
Horses don't exist in Umamusume. Did you know that? I for sure didn't, and it's a pretty funny quirk of that setting. Wouldn't it be funny if you did that here, but with different animals? For 100CP you may pick a species of animal, that creature is now a demi-human with the traits of that animal. Picking this means that it's only them, and no animalistic version of them exists. So if you were to choose dogs, then all of them would be humans with dog traits depending on their breed, and would still largely fill the same roles they did before.

Something I must iterate is that while they look, act, and seem Human, they aren't. They're Animals, and as such will still act like their more feral counterparts. Orcas would still be assholes in the ocean, wolves forming packs and hunting in the wild, and so on. That isn't to say some of them prefer living amongst humanity, just that even though they're Human-Like, they aren't Human.

Despite all that, they're still sentient, thinking people who can pass a harkness test and consent. They have culture, traditions, and even their own language depending on the animal you choose. They just, unless you have a perk that says otherwise, don't qualify for being a sorcerer.

Expansion of Jujutsu - 100CP
Jujutsu itself is a fascinating concept, and while it has a somewhat proper mythos and logic behind it, something that's always bothered me is how the negativity of Humanity affects it. What's the threshold for a curse to be born, how many humans does it take for something like a disaster curse to be made? Questions that won't, or ever will be answered. This option is here to expand on Jujutsu and Cursed Energy as a whole, and opening new spectrums of how it's interpreted.

Cursed Spirits are still made from the negative emotions of humanity. But now there's a few more roaming around. These spirits are made from the collective consciousness of humanity, and while they are made from cursed energy, aren't usually tainted by the lustful aspect of said energy. The first of these spirits are the Tulpa's, a thoughtform.

Tulpa's are spirits that revolve around the idea of a person, item or concept. These spirits are, on a case by case basis, harmless to most normies that come across from them. A Tulpa of a Toothbrush isn't much of a threat, and will at most violate your mouth and leave it throbbing from the vigorous brushing.

A Tulpa can be anything, but must reach a threshold in humanity for it to be actually conjured into existence. Sorcerers don't put much effort into exorcising these spirits due to them being mostly harmless. I say mostly, because there have been cases before of Tulpa's causing real damage.

It's rare, but a Tulpa of a character from a Horror movie or any other type of character that's dangerous can come into existence. Tulpa's like these are extremely dangerous, as they can actually kill people. These spirits are hunted down immediately, and are killed at the earliest convenience so no one gets hurt. While unlikely, a Cursed Spirits might help a sorcerer to take down a Tulpa, as their no kill rule only applies to humans.

The next on the list are Imaginary Gods. These spirits are the manifestation of a revered figure, like the Christian God, Greek Pantheon, or an aspect of reality that most humans know to be real, such as time, space, or nature. Imaginary Gods are rare, powerful, and don't interact with Humanity all that much. It doesn't matter to them that we manifested them in the first place, they don't want you, so they're ignoring you.

What constitutes an Imaginary God varies wildly, and the examples I gave you were just the most obvious ones I could give. It's entirely possible that anything can become an Imaginary God if enough people hold something in reverie. Because of that, a lot of Imaginary Gods are being born, and it's getting kind of ridiculous.

How powerful an Imaginary God is can vary, but most of their "power" comes in the form of Blessings they can imbue onto a Sorcerer they choose. Should an Imaginary God actually show interest in you, they'd give you a boon of some sort that encompasses them as a being. Thor would change the texture of your cursed energy to Lightning, or Kyogre would gift you a cursed technique around the manipulation and manifestation of water.

If you take this option, there's a pretty good chance that Idols and Vtubers will have Imaginary Gods that are wandering around the world. Those fans worship the ground those girls walk on, so it wouldn't surprise me if there's a couple already around.

That being said, there can be multiple versions of the same "Person". There could be eight different versions of a Tulpa Gardevoir roaming around the world, some having barely any difference, while another being a bimbo version. Imaginary Gods rarely have different versions walking around, as it already takes a lot to even manifest one, but a situation like the Greek and Roman pantheons can happen, so watch out for that.

Origins

Drop-In
You're new to this world, having arrived either as a foreigner from the States, or you just appeared out of nothing. Regardless, you don't have a history here, and as such are completely weirded out by how sex happy things are here. The norms are different, people are fucking in the street, and you look like a delicious hunk of meat others want to sink their teeth into.

Civilian
You've lived your entire life in this sex world, and life couldn't be better! Sure, there's rumors of people going missing, but who cares about any of that? You're living the dream, fucking the landlords wife and daughter, getting into sex sports at school, or getting a promotion cause your boss was wowed by your performance in bed.

Erotic Sorcery
You've been in the Jujutsu scene for a while now. Education involved a lot of hands-on experience, and you were regarded as an above average sorcerer. The fogey's that run society are sexists, curses are getting harder to put down, and your sex skills could use some improvement. Aside from all that, you're a good lay, and those you've slept with give you a solid 6 out of 10.

Bastard
You're not a good person, Jumper. You enjoy causing chaos and ruining lives. Rape, NTR, Mind Control, amputation, and so much more. You like this stuff, and no matter the reason why you do it, you do it with a smile. Curses are easier to work with, and there's probably a few kill orders on you already.

Born To Fuck - 200CP
You were born to be a beast at sex, reaching the status of a special grade early on in your career. A prodigy in sex and sorcery, you were born to be something greater, and you're a smug asshole about it. With a wave of your hand you could have anyone, all your partners reluctantly agree you're amazing in bed, and cursed spirits can barely keep up with your insatiable libido. Go, fuck your way through this world.

The Outlier - 400CP
In this sex fueled world, most sorcerers are incapable of actually killing anything, only being able to end something in a sexual way. You're a long way from home, Jumper, as you're not one of these Sorcerers, but a normal one, one from the main continuity.

There are many benefits of being a regular sorcerer, one of them being that your cursed energy isn't fueled by sexual thoughts and such. Using cursed energy, making barriers, and even your cursed technique is unstained by the sexual tilt of this world, making you an outlier among outliers.

This world isn’t ready for a sorcerer such as you, and doesn’t that just excite you?

Race

Human - Free
You're human, the cookie cutter default option! The humans in this world a horny bastards, their libido having skyrocketed to eleven. No matter your status as a sorcerer or not, you have the stamina to go for hours, no refractory period, and can cum again and again regardless of gender.

The sexual dimorphism between the genders is also very skewed, the characteristics falling into an archetype you'd see in a hentai, but enhanced to an absurd degree.

Half-Curse - 100CP
Halfa's are born between the union of a cursed spirit and a human. It doesn't matter who gave birth to the child, as it'll be humanoid regardless, with the characteristics of whatever curse it was. As a halfa, your body has the power of a curse, and the solidity of a human. Reversed Cursed Technique can be used on you with no harm, you can drain the sexual energy from humans and cursed spirits, and your body can heal from the sexual energy.

Half-Curses are a minority in this world, and while not as rare anymore than they used to be, are still heavily sought after by both Curses and Humans. Each has their own goals for getting their hands on such a being, whether for pleasure or to use for their own gain.

Cursed Spirit - 200CP
You're a native cursed spirit, a creature born from the sexual energy/emotions of humanity. As a spirit you feed off humanity's emotions, often trapping, kidnapping, or hypnotising humans to fuck them into a stupor. The malevolent lustful energy you're made out of gives you the power to regenerate from any wounds dealt to you. You can also siphon the cursed energy from sorcerers if you fuck them, making sorcerers play a dangerous game of edging and denial.

As a cursed spirit, killing your victims would be counter productive, and instead you keep them around, feeding off of them for long periods of time.

General Perks

Perks in this section do not have discounts.

The World Is A Porno - Free/100/200

The obligatory porn logic option. Taking this perk will make it to where STD's don't exist, sex will always feel pleasurable and sticking a foot long cock won't cause internal bleeding. Now, this has two modes. For Free this is just the standard, but there is an upper limit to how big things can get. For 100CP though you can kick it up a notch, sizing things up to hyper levels. Cocks the size of a person, tits and asses as big as a beanbag, things are so large that you're surprised anyone can even function properly. For an extra 100CP for 200CP Total you can keep this post-jump, making any setting you go to have hyper proportions.

Jujutsu - Free, 100, 200

No matter the universe, a sorcerer is usually measured by the amount of cursed energy they have. For free, you get an average amount of cursed energy. Cursed energy has a multitude of uses, such as reinforcing your body, making barriers, or even setting up a veil that obscures what happens inside. The manipulation of cursed energy is a process that is taught, and many sorcerers have found way to use this energy in useful ways. In this world specifically, these techniques most people can learn are more sexual. Things like using Cursed energy to lube your penis or orifice, make yourself ejaculate more semen, or even reinforcing your pelvis so it's not crushed or just some ways most people use it. For 100CP, I can increase the amount of reserves you have, having the same amount as Gojo Satoru, a truly absurd amount that dwarfs almost all sorcerers. For 200CP however, I can give you a truly ridiculous amount, rivaling the King of Curses in sheer quantity.

Body So Good It's Like A Painting - Free

Woah there, Jumper, looking good! This is a pretty simple redesign perk, allowing you to change your body to better enjoy the things this world offers you. Certain archetypes have differing biologies, and certain body types like femboys and MILF's are actual categories the people of this world acknowledge as a sort of pseudo-body type a person can be born with.

It's Like a Pringles Can - 100

Woah, is that a can of chips or are you happy to see me? In a lot of pornography the male lead is always depicted as a hung sex god, and so are you! What this perk does is that if you want, your penis becomes the absolute maximum size for whatever species you are. Granted you have to have a penis or something similar to begin with, but as long as you have this you will always be well endowed.

This doesn't just apply to your penis size either. Anything else that's associated with the male gender is also enhanced like this, always taking on a pleasing yet masculine shape/form that fits your taste. Maybe you like slickback horns, or maybe your wings are the most colorful.

Sex On Legs - 100

You just exude a sex appeal that no other can match. Whatever form you take regardless of gender (But primarily focuses on the female form) your body becomes sin incarnate. Much like how the omnitrix turns the wielder into the prime version of that species, this also does that but focuses on the sexual aspects. While this could still work if you were a male or some other third thing, the effects are more pronounced on females.

Confused Arousal. Scarousal? - 100
A lot of people can mistake a femboy for a girl and when they figure out they're a guy they always freak out at the fact their attracted to a dude. This perk amplifies that confused arousal, momentarily stunning them. Everytime you reveal your gender to someone that isn't the one you identify as, they will have a bout of gay panic, momentarily losing focus. Now this doesn't only apply to femboys but also tomboys too and even very muscular women!
Guess Mines Bigger~! 100
As much as the Alpha Males dominate in sex and penis size, you seem to be a step above them. No matter what world you're in, the size of your penis is 69% bigger than whatever species you consider "Big". If humans think 8inches is big, then you'd be roughly 14-16inches.

This doesn't apply to just your junk. Your tits and ass are also larger than what most would consider big, and borders and straight gigantic while still being pleasing.

Mr. Clean - 100
With this, your holes will always be squeaky clean. Unless you're into it, your partner's holes will also be clean, lubed up, and ready for some freaky time.

Beauty is in the eye - 100
The obligatory beauty perk. While the people of this world are already beautiful, and sorcerers are downright divinely beautiful, you transcend both. Your beauty is unmatched, easily making you one of, if not the most beautiful person in the world.

PLAP PLAP PLAP GET PREGNANT!!! 200CP

Woah Jumper, that's pretty aggressive! A lot of hentai that's out there have futas as domminering, and now so are you. You have a mean domme streak, being able to cow anyone sexually with just the barest effort. Get rough, choke someone out while mating press them, they'll love it and cum their brains out.

More than that though, any person you dominate this way becomes addicted to you, craving the way you abuse them and wanting more.

The Prostate Is The Feel Good Button - 200

You now have the power to ramp up the pleasure felt when you stimulate someone's (or your own) most sensitive spot. The prostate, clitoris, and sometimes even the nipples or tip of your penis are spots you can increase the pleasure of.

Not only is their pleasure increased that they can barely think a coherent thought, but whoever you do this to will have a minor increase in power. It won't be much, maybe a 20% increase at most after a very intense session.

Pheromone Control - 200CP
Did you know that our taste is mostly just us smelling the scent of that food? It's why you could smell something like lemon cleaner and taste it in something like lemon yuzu. With this you gain control over the scent you emit. Now while this can't increase the amount of pheromones you emit, you can change the chemical composition allowing you to change what you smell like.

Take for example making yourself smell like beef. Beef is something we associate with food and so having that smell emit around you could potentially make those around you crave it. Or you could change it to where you smell like cum. Out of jump you might get looked at like you're some slut, but here in this sex filled world some might like that fueling their desire to have sex with you.

What do you mean I've got rizz? - 200

Let's be real. A lot of hentai/porn protagonists shouldn't have pulled the girl they featured with. I mean, how the fuck does an actual otaku pull and absolutley demolish a gyaru that hates their guts? With this perk people you deem attractive seem to flock towards you like fruit flies. It doesn't necessarily have to be positive, but there's just something about that seems to keep bringing them back.

Flavorful Cum - 200
Your sexual fluids are downright delicious. You can at will change the flavor of your sexual fluids. Make your cum taste like chocolate, breast milk like bananas, or your piss like strawberries.

A Hole is a hole - 200
Doesn't matter what hole it is, if it fits, you just can't resist, huh? This perk makes it so that as long as it's sexual, you can fit anything in a hole no matter the size. Sticking your penis in their ear, fucking their nose, doesn't matter what it is. A hole is a hole is the goal.

My Energy Smells Like Cum - 200/300/400
Something that's glossed over a lot is that a Sorcerer's energy can develop a texture to it; their energy changes to match whatever that thing may be. With Kashimo it was lightning, but you can pick a single concept, kink, fetish, or anything else that's related to sex. Your Energy is now like that, able to inflict whatever you choose on the person you touch it with. For an extra 100CP, you can choose a second option, merging the two into a new form. For another 100CP, for 400CP, you may change your EE to whatever you want as many times as you want. You must, however, conduct a ritual to change the texture of your energy. This ritual takes three minutes to cast.

Retroactive Gender Morph - 300
You ever look at a piece of media and wish that guy was a hot girl, or that woman a muscled chad? Well, this is for you! At the start of every jump, you can choose as many people as you want to change the gender of. This could have massive consequences for the narrative of the setting or not change anything at all.

Talk Dirty To Me Baby! - 400

You just know what you're doing huh? Now this isn't exactly a cuck perk, but it may as well be one. Any time you're having sex the person you're doing it with seems to just…let things slip. They're not necessarily big secrets that could damn them, but that doesn't apply to anyone else. So long as what you're asking for is perceived as dirty talk or any other form that's sexual, they'll answer back truthfully. I must note that there are layers to this depending on how much it affects them. Something they overheard at work would just moan out, but giving you information on where their very murderous bosses' location would probably snap them out of whatever sexual haze they're in.

She's A Gluttonous FailGirl! - 400
Woah ma'am, watch where you swing those things! You have an extra-dimensional stomach that holds basically as much food as you want and slowly digests it into usable energy. Jujutsu wise this means you have an extra battery to use in battle. Something that you should note that if you do eat past your limits your breasts, thighs and ass will inflate the more energy you store. Theoretically you could eat eight times your weight and go into a fight later on with the extra energy.

One thing I should note is that any food that goes to this extra stomach doesn't count towards your daily needs. You'll need to actively think about which stomach you want to fill, and if your normal stomach is at capacity and ready to burst any excess food will go to said dimensional stomach.

Fuck That Twink! - 400
Wow, they really want that boi booty. Your ass is PHAT. Like, phatter than the women here, which is saying something! More than that though your ass has a supernatural lure to those who have a dick. They want that ass, and they are gonna get it. Getting fucked in the ass is already enough of a reward, but we can take this further and make you a sort of pseudo-incubus.

Every time your partner ejaculates in your ass, you can take a portion of their power. Not a big amount! Maybe you can siphon around a half percent or maybe 5% of their power if the ejaculation is big enough. The main draw is that depending on who you fuck, that power you stole could be bigger than some random person. This applies to anyone that has a secondary power source, stuff like chi, nen, mana are all viable energies you can siphon to add to your own cursed energy.

There's also a very low possibility that you could gain a weakened version of whatever innate technique they have.

Futas Are Pretty Rad 400

That they are, perk name. That they are. Okay, real talk, this perk is pretty simple. You can turn anyone into a futanari with just a touch, turning them into a beautiful woman with an absolutely massive dick. The change happens over the course of three days, and the victim doesn't seem to notice the change until it's too late. More than that though, you actually have some say in what kind of futa they become. Turn them into a muscled seven foot goddess, or give them a dicklet that spews out watery fluid near constantly.

As long as it's futa anything is possible.

Quit Horsin' Around! - 400
You into some freaky stuff, huh? So am I, don't worry. With this, you can change the shape of your genitalia into your preferred shape. Knots, barbed, flared, all that and more are some shapes your penis can take. To add onto this, with a ten-minute ritual, you can change the shape to whatever you desire.

Tonal Shift - 400
This world is already perverted as is, but with all of Jujutsu society and the curses that plague humanity, things can still get dark as fuck. With this you can change both the genre and tone of the world. Maybe you want it to be more peaceful and slice of life, or maybe you want to further dig this world deeper into depravity. Once per jump or ten years, you can change the genre and tone of the setting.

Greatest Futa of Today 600

Stand proud Jumper, for you are strong. Your body has been remade into the perfect form, Having two pairs of breasts and four dicks. No, I'm not joking. Much like sukuna you were meant to be a twin (albeit one with two dicks but let's ignore that) but you defied that fate and ate your sister in the womb. Four eyes, four arms, four breasts and four dicks…I'm fine, I swear.

For real though, in this world of debauchery this is actually a good thing. With extra appendages this gives you more to work with. It's especially great when you're getting gang banged, the extra tools at your disposal giving you an edge.

Femboyification - 600

The ultimate power for boi lovers. Have you ever looked around and thought, why aren't there enough femboys? Well, with this you can change that! Now, you can't instantly change someone into a femboy. It's a process, usually taking around two to three weeks for the effects to fully take effect. While this obviously applies to men, you can use this on women for the opposite effect, turning them into Tomgirls.

Now this has two parts. The first one, obviously, is the transformation, but the second part of this perk is that you can steal the masculinity or femininity of whoever you use this on. That stuff has to go somewhere and now that you can store it, this lets you do a few things.

First, you can use this to circumvent the finality of having a small penis. It takes a lot of masculinity to even gain an inch but it is possible to have made it bigger. The second is that the femininity you steal from women can be used to increase the sensitivity of men's chest and make them lactate. The milk will always taste delicious.

Finally, you can use the imities you steal to empower your sexual abilities. If you had a power that could alter the sensitivity up to 100x then with this you could push it further, probably going up to 300x the sensitivity.

Broodmother - 600

You're like Tiamat, the mother of all monsters. Whenever you get pregnant the gestation period is greatly reduced, taking only three weeks before your spawn is born. All children that you birth will be healthy with a slim to none chance of having any defects.

The main draw of this perk however is when you're impregnated by something that isn't your race/species. Much like Tiamat is the mother of monsters, you're able to birth children that have enhanced physicality, increased reserves to whatever system they use and the instincts to handle themselves in a fight. If you were to birth a Half-Curse that a grotesque tentacle curse put in you they'd mostly look human save for their lower half being octopus-like. Any and all children you birth will be pleasing to the eye when matured.

Another thing to note is that your children also age rapidly so that they can protect themselves, but depending on whatever their sire is they might lag behind in the mental department. On average it takes about a year and a half before they fully mature.

Ape Together Strong! - 600

Ape together strong, ape must communicate! God, kill me now that was cringe. Anywho! Ignoring what I tried doing there, this perk is what every wannabe harem protagonist needs. The power to…manage a harem!

On the surface this might not seem like much and not worth the price, but with this you gain a supernatural skill at managing the relationships between the people in your harem. Let's be honest. A lot of the characters people are attracted to have something going on with them. Whether that be angst, psychosis, or they're just a straight up evil/bad person. This lets you smooth things out between harem members, or even straight up change someone's moral alignment.

Sex Eyes - 800
A (somewhat) mythical pair of eyes that shows up every now and then. At most you'll see about two or three people with these eyes in a single era, and you could go about a century without seeing a Sorcerer with them.

These purple eyes allow you to manipulate your cursed energy with absolute efficiency, turning the cost of a technique to an eighth of the cost and reducing the strain of some cost-heavy techniques. Like the six eyes, you can see more than the basic color spectrum, able to see things like thermal and ultraviolet. More than that, though, you can see the way CursedEnergy flows. Even with a glance, you could deduce how much reserves a person has and maybe their technique if you know.

The main draw you're probably here for is that you can see someone's most sensitive spots. They glow a soft pink, and with some focus you could even determine the kinks and fetishes they have from the shape of their energy/soul. Also, like the Six Eyes, using them regularly can cause strain.

In a sexualized world like this one, these eyes are coveted pretty religiously, so expect people to form alliances/hunt you.

Drop-In

The Hot New Thing - 100CP
You're new around these parts, Jumper, and the locals can't get enough of you. Anytime you head to a new area, the inhabitants are more welcoming to you. They'll offer things they might not normally, treat you well, and might offer to show you a good time when night comes.

Exotic Arts - 100CP
The locals of Japan are pretty repressed when it comes to sex, and even in this sex filled world the most they've ever done is missionary and simple foreplay. This perk allows you to bring in new ideas, and the locals will take to these like a fish in water. Even the most vanilla of people can be turned into sex freaks with just a little coaching, causing a snowball effect when others hear the moans of ecstasy three houses over.

Foreigners Are Just Better - 200CP
You have a way with people, able to make them cum their brains out and want more. That house-wife you fucked? She brought her friends to prove how good it felt. That office worker? Quit her job to be your live-in sex pet, pleasuring you whenever you want. Just a taste can have people tripping over themselves, just to get another taste.

Ideas Make The Person - 200CP
You're new to Jujutsu Society, and as such you're not poisoned by the teachings that these ancient hags and fogey's have been forcing people to participate in. Something about your foreign nature has caused a wave of innovation, causing those you sleep with to be more creative with their abilities. This works for you as well, each partner you have increasing your ingenuity.

Catnip For The Locals - 400CP
You're quite literally walking catnip for Sorcerers. Just being in your presence is enough to cause some people to cum their brains out, having a violent orgasm without you doing anything. Sorcerers want you bad, to the point they'll do almost anything to get in bed with you? And when you do fuck them? It'll be nirvana given form, their mind buckling under the onslaught of pleasure. Any Sorcerers you haven't met yet that you find attractive will gravitate toward you. This doesn't just work on sorcerers either, as anyone you find attractive will react to you this way.

You Fuck Cursed Spirits? - 400CP
They do, Jumper. Get with the times! Most Sorcerers don't have a problem with fucking these creatures, but as a newcomer it's taken time to get used to such a practice. Something is odd however, as cursed spirits seem to like you?

It seems that you being not from Japan has enticed the Cursed Spirits in Japan, your essence and energy being wholly unique from other Sorcerers. As such, it's easier for you to set the tempo of your encounters with them, the spirits being too enamored by your essence.

Spreading The Love - 600CP
Don't you find it odd how there's barely any foreign Sorcerers? Don't you just wish you could fix that? Well, with this perk you can. Now, at the start of any jump, you may introduce this lust infused cursed energy to the entire world. Cursed energy will cover the entire world, cursed spirits and sorcerers cropping all over.

More than this, depending on where a person originates from, you might have special traits that were bred into them. Maybe Sorcerers from England use cursed energy like a wizard does, or America utilizes cursed tools instead of martial arts. Post-Jump, this can be done with any energy source you have.

Civilian

Blissful Ignorance - 100CP
One of the perks of being a civilian is not caring about the bigger stuff! You're able to ignore just about most things, living your day to day life in delusional bliss. This has some effect on others as well, and sometimes certain actions you take won't be noticed, even if it's right in front of them.

Living Life, One Fuck At A Time - 100CP
One thing about this world is the fact that nearly everyone is addicted to sex. There's always someone sucking someone on the train, a teacher getting railed in the middle of a lecture, and so much more. This perk makes sex a normal everyday fact of your life. So long as it's sexual in nature, people don't care about what you're doing, going along with their lives or even asking to join you.

Jujutsu Failure - 200CP
Yes, the title is misleading. No matter whether you were a sorcerer or not, it seems you have just enough cursed energy that you can use the simplest of basic techniques an average sorcerer could do. Lubing yourself up, making your partner lactate, or increasing sensitivity are some of the most basic things a sorcerer can do. You can also do these things, but to a much smaller degree.

Talented In The Mundane - 200CP
As a civilian you've pursued many thing to find yourself, to figure out what you're good at. By taking this perk, you may pick one subject or activity to be the theoretical best in. This doesn't make you supernaturally good at it, but does bring you to the peak of what can be accomplished as a regular human. This can be taken multiple times at a discount, paying 100CP for each subject you choose.

Sorcerer Catnip, But Different - 400CP
It really is different. Sorcerers as a whole are nutjobs to some degree, and most if not all of them have ideas and views of how to treat the unknowing populace. Something about your dumb looks, that doe eyed stare does something to sorcerers. It's as if you're a calming balm to their stress and worries, as if being near you, a clueless normie, lets them feel normal for a change. Sorcerers will legitimately seek you out specifically because of this calming aura, even going to lengths such as offering sexual favors to keep you around. Just be careful, as some aren't willing to share.

Lucky Misfortune - 400CP
Destiny seems to be conspiring against you Jumper, cause it wants you miserable. Fret not, however! As Lady Luck herself is on your side. Misfortune seems to follow you, and while not dangerous enough to kill you, meeting someone like Kenjaku while on a stroll is entirely possible now. Oh, there she is again, but now with a patchwork girl? Now they're offering a threesome with you? Well, you were always adventurous, so why not?

No matter how bad your luck gets, things always seem to end up in your favor, often leading into rough fucking if it's a person you find attractive. It's still bad luck, but turned into your favor.

Dumb Village Hick - 600CP
You've been surrounded by a lot of weird people, always talking about something from Dnd or some shit. If you're being honest? It gets annoying sometimes everytime they try to show you some "sorcery", which just ends with you bending them over and plowing them just to shut them up. Hearing them moan is better than them being surprised their "cursed technique" didn't work.

If you haven't already guessed, this perk acts as a normality aura. Everything within a 100 foot radius that isn't considered "Normal" by the general populace stops working. Something like Jujutsu would fizzle out the moment it gets close to you. Cursed Spirits avoid you like the plague for fear of annihilation, and aliens? Pshh, just a costume with prosthetic horns! Any powers you have aren't affected by this aura.

Erotic Sorcery

The Basics…Suck Ass - 100CP
Jujutsu Society, much like in canon, is way behind the modern times. Back then it was more about getting off as fast as possible to orgasm, releasing your cursed energy in your opponent to weaken them. That's still the same now, and most sorcerers are two pump chuds who barely feel any of the pleasure! It sucks, but that's what you were taught, and don't know any better.

You know the basics of sex, like the basics. It's not good by any means, but not bad either. You also know some nifty techniques that nearly everyone knows. Forcing yourself to get an erection, making yourself aroused, stimulating the prostate or clitoris, and a unique technique that makes any surface you're on softer for comfort. If I were to grade your performance, you'd definitely be a high 2nd Grade to low 1st Grade Sorcerer.

Good Reputation All Around - 100CP
People know you, Jumper. They know you cause they've fucked you, and decided that you weren't a half bad lover. Every time you enter a Jump, you can give yourself a reputation as a lover at your discretion. Want people to believe you're bad at sex so they don't flirt with you? Possible, but why do that? Or maybe you want people to believe you're an absolute beast in bed with an insatiable lust? Now we're talking!

Actually Competent - 200CP
Sorcerers…are really dumb. They don't die due to Cursed Spirits not killing, but the amount that goes missing is really high, and is getting higher every year. You're not like them, being one of the few people who actually know how to plan around a situation and come out on top. Even if the spirit is smart you still have a decent chance at coming out unscathed.

To top it all off, people you find attractive find that competence hot. They'll want to work with you more often, their breath hitching every time you bark out an order, shoulders shuddering when you pull them out of the way of an attack.

Empathy Goes A Long Way - 200CP
I think it goes to show how ass Jujutsu Society as a whole is when a teen loses whatever innocence they have like a week in. Let me be clear, being a Sorcerer sucks. Nobody walks out of this profession alive, and those who fall victim to a curse are a mind broken mess of pleasure filled moans and endless cum.

You have something that people rarely see in this line of work: Working Empathy. You're able to read people really well, able to tell their mood near instantly, and know how to help them somewhat. Giving a helping hand is near unheard of in Jujutsu Society, and many people will fall head over heels in love with you just for the simplest gesture of good will.

Domain of The Lover - 400

Love is something you barely see here, as most of what's taught and said is about the carnal release and act of sex than the emotional side. Someone decided "Fuck that" and opened up a school dedicated to the manipulation of cursed energy and emotions. This is one of their techniques, Love Domain. A sorcerer using this Domain enacts a barrier that is imbued with their emotions, which is often love, lust, and passion. Using this domain negates whatever sure hit effect someone has on the user, often helping them fight against a Domain Expansion.

While this Domain can help in a sex encounter with a cursed user or spirit, most people who learn this technique use it to bathe their partner in their emotions, often amplifying whatever their feeling a hundred fold.

Sex Tool Maker - 400CP
Very few people are capable of making cursed objects, so much that there have been fewer than ten recorded people that were capable of such. This has risen by one now, as you've gained the ability to make cursed objects.

How exactly you imbue the tool with cursed energy is up to you, but one thing you must do is have clear intent for what the object's purpose is. If you don't have a clear purpose for making a tool, the cursed energy will fizzle out. You can get creative with this, like making a saw that cuts people's limbs off with no pain or blood, or a collar that severs someone's head but keeps it connected to the body so they won't die. Or maybe a dildo that causes someone to orgasm the moment it enters them.

Status Quo Has Been Met, Leave Me Alone Now. - 600CP
Jujutsu life is a struggle, and the politics that surround it is exhausting. Why can't you just leave it all behind, go back to living a normal life? Now, wherever you want, you can take up a deal that allows you to leave whatever predicament you're in. The specifics of the deal are up to you, but it has to be something worthy of leaving behind an entire way of life.

This abandonment of Sorcerery will have an effect on those you're close with. Oftentimes, they'll want to follow you, not willing to give you up, while others might bribe you with sex or submission to keep you around. Whatever the case, the moment you finish your side of the deal, you'll be let go, and no one from that society will ever bother you again.

Bastard

You Suck - 100CP
I'm not joking either. You really suck, and everyone can tell. You give off a creepy vibe to everyone around you, making them uncomfortable just being near you. This aura might deter most people, but there are people out there who are crazy or naive enough to look past it and shoot their shots. It would be a shame if something happened.

Bad Boys Are Hot - 100CP
This is actually a real thing, and it irks me that so many people think so. People think you're sexy, Jumper, regardless of what you did or will do. Someone can show their friend your mugshot, and the first thing they think of is "Damn, I can totally fix them. Unh! What a fine piece of ass!" This works on anyone and everyone regardless of their moral alignment. None can deny your bad boy looks no longer.

Slap That Bitch! - 200CP
Sometimes you just have so much aggression and you need to let it out, so why not on those around you? Now every time you abuse someone in a sexual way no one will call you out on it and undermine the actual severity of it. It has to be sexual in nature, or, if you wanna be sexist, to someone you consider inferior. Something like slapping them in the face, or giving them a wedgie are completely above board. Even punching someone in the face is seen as a light punishment if you frame it the right way.

Being Evil Is Actually Cool - 200CP

Debatable, but true to some degree. There's something about you Jumper, something that makes those who side with good can't resist. Maybe it's the bad boy looks, or maybe it's some hidden desire to be treated like a cheap whore, but those who lean good will find themselves drawn to you. The more they interact with you, the more these inner desires start showing up, so much to the point where they unknowingly masturbate to these thoughts.

If NTR Is Trash, Then I'm A Raccoon - 400CP
To cuck or not cuck, that is the question. And the answer? Obviously it's yes! You have the inexplicable ability to completely cuck someone out of a relationship, corrupting whoever you want and turning the would-be partner into a cuck. How you do it is up to you. Fuck them in a stupor, mind control them to forget all about them! This works on anyone with an existing relationship to someone.

Finally, for the final piece of this perk, you can steal something away from the cuck. Steal their cursed energy, their cursed technique, or even their gender! Whatever is stolen from them can't be given back, and the partner who cheated will see them as lesser for the rest of their lives.

You're a bad person, but it feels good being one, doesn't it?

Cattle Farmer - 400CP
The people of this world are a bunch of sex fiends, nymphomaniacs, and all around degenerates. It disgusts you as much as it fascinates you. That desire for pleasure, their ability to get what they want to their own detriment. It's sickening to watch, yet you're one of them. But where they see another load of cum, you see cattle for the taking.

People you find attractive will come to you for their next fix, begging to be filled or fill you. You'll oblige of course, but not without a fee. Everytime you make someone climax, they get just a bit dumber, a bit more submissive. Soon, all they'll think about is sex, sex and more sex. Soon enough you'll have dozens, maybe hundreds of people crawling about, too dumb to do anything but eat, drink, breathe and fuck.

The best part? You gain a piece of their power. Not a lot, maybe around 1-6% of their overall potential power at first. They're yours to do with however, so why not farm them until they're dried up? Toss them aside and find a new cow to harvest from?

Instant Loss - 600CP
Watching someone break is the best part. To watch the light leave their eyes as they succumb to the corruptive pleasure they're feeling. Wouldn't it be fantastic to see that moment, over and over again, across hundreds, maybe thousands of people?

From now on, for the first sexual encounter you have with someone, they'll experience a total and utter defeat. Nothing can be done against this, no technique, domain, or heavenly restriction will help them. One thrust is all it takes to break them, the pleasure all consuming that their brain can't keep up.

Depending on the person, a number of things can happen. If they're weak willed, they might break completely, becoming a shell of a person. Someone who can handle the pleasure somewhat will become nothing more than a sex pet, having lost their humanity and acting more like an animal than human. Only someone like a special grade could resist you, but even then, they'll never experience the pleasure you gave them, seeking out that feeling before succumbing to their lusts.

Born To Fuck

Smug Prick - 100CP
You're special, Jumper, and you like rubbing that in everyone's face. Demeaning people is a valid way of flirting for you now, as people see your narcissism and arrogance pretty hot. It'd take a truly awful comment for someone to be revolted by you, so try not to talk about their trauma?

I'm Better Than You - 100CP
You are, and you can prove it. Your boasts aren't just false air anymore, as now you can actually back it up. No, this doesn't actually give you any boost in power, but rather makes you brag better. No one can call you out on them either, as they know you can back up those words.

Passion of Jujutsu - 200CP
Something that's not really looked at is that most sorcerers don't really like being a sorcerer. A lot of people see it more as a burden than anything. To be honest? Chuds, all of them. Who gives a shit about responsibility and all that, when I could be fucking curses and getting my back blown out?

You love Jujutsu. So much that it's actually surprising that you haven't tried to fuck a cursed technique yet. Anywho, this perk makes actually learning anything Jujutsu related significantly easier, only taking about a third of the time needed.

Modern Sorcerer - 200CP
Step aside boomer! It's our time now, and we're her for fucking, drugs, and a good time! You actually know how to please someone, making them feel an ecstasy that is like no other. You're so good, actually, that even just one encounter with you is enough to make them enamored. Every person you fuck will talk non-stop about it, talking as if they went to heaven and still haven't left.

Gossip will cause more and more people to flock to you, wanting to get a taste or test to see if it's as good as they say.

Wetting The Tip of Balance - 400CP
People like you are born for a greater purpose, always in response to the balance of the world tipping one side than the other. You, my friend, are the culmination of the worlds desire to FUCK that when you were born, reality buckled.

You could call this a heavenly blessing, as you've been gifted the instincts and potential to be a walking sex god. Everything sexual is easier for you, bringing pleasure to your partners is mind-buckling pleasurable, and the manipulation of your cursed energy is so great that it alone puts you at a special grade. Go, you degenerate, fuck the world into a stupor.

Awakening of Pleasure - 400CP
Becoming a sorcerer is something that you must be born for. It doesn't matter how much you try, if you weren't born from a sorcerer parent, the chances of you being one are so slim it's easier to win the American lottery. There is, however, someone that was able to forcefully awaken someone, making them become a sorcerer of their own right. You can do this now, able to shift and mold someone's brain and soul into that of a sorcerer.

So long as the person you're using this on is humanoid, you can grant them cursed energy just by touching them. The process is seamless, but causes the recipient to repeatedly cum over and over again while their body adjusts to the influx of cursed energy and reshaping of their brain. If used on a non-humanoid it'll cause them to mutate, becoming a sexual parody of whatever creature they were.

This perk is also able to grant someone any power system that you choose, granting them a pool of whatever energy is used and a basic knowledge on how to identify it. You may choose to toggle the mind-breaking pleasure if you want, but where's the fun in that?

Jujutsu Loves You And Wants You To Fuck Her Brains Into Mush - 600CP
Jujutsu, cursed energy, all that jazz is now deeply in love with you.

I'm not joking.

The very concept of Jujutsu is obsessed with you, harboring a deep, deep seated amount of lust and Love for you. It loves you so much that it actively revolts against curses or sorcerers that try to harm you, empowers your techniques to absurd levels, and most importantly, lets you interact with the very essence of cursed energy.

That's right, you can fuck the concept of cursed energy itself, either getting plowed or plowing it, fucking cursed energy come with a few benefits. For starters, if it's an intelligent enough curse spirit or sorcerer, you can steal a portion of their cursed energy and cursed technique. You can fuck cursed techniques to give it a power boost, and making it orgasm will cause it to go critical, letting you use a Maximum Technique while only using the minimum amount required. Anything you want to learn? It'll succeed on the first try.

Jujutsu-Chan loves you Jumper, why not give her some sugar?

The Outlier

Anomaly In The Flow of Destiny - 100CP
You're not from here, Jumper, and reality has taken notice of you. Everyone will notice you're not from here, knowing you're anomalous due to the feel of your cursed energy. Most people will keep away from you now, clearly disturbed by something that doesn't fit, while others will be intensely interested, curious as to why you're not fitting in.

All Sorcerers Are Con-Men - 100CP
You're not an exception either. Your otherworldly nature is bound to bring up a lot of questions, and while people like Gojo Satoru or Ryomen Sukuna could parse things out pretty quickly, others won't. You can lie to a proficient degree when it comes to your powers, being able to come up with false but believable lies.

Blind To The Eyes of Destiny - 200CP
Reality might have noticed your arrival, but Destiny is just as blind as always. Much like the Heavenly Restriction of The Monkey, you're a blindspot in the eyes of destiny, and as such Jujutsu. From now on you're no longer affected by the rules of a Domain Expansion, ignoring any sure hit effect or rules, as well as being able to freely leave or enter any barrier or domain. To add onto that, any cursed techniques native to this planet do not work as well anymore, as your cursed energy gives you a high resistance to the point it's almost full immunity. This resistance also applies to any power that revolves around lewdness.

Forcing Them To Keep Up - 200CP
The way Sorcerers fight cursed spirits is odd to you, and in some cases, might disgust you if you don't really enjoy sexual acts. Most curses and sorcerers are expecting you to get naked and fuck them, and the shock on their face when you just smack the shit out of them is honestly cathartic.

Now, anytime you fight someone who's expecting something else will be forced to follow along with you, actually having to fight instead of something else. To curses, this might be a one and done deal, dealing fatal damage and killing them quickly. Sorcerers though? They'll have to genuinely figure out how to fight, flailing with their dick or tits out while you beat the shit out of them.

The Perfect Vessel - 400CP
You're the culmination of Kenjaku's plan to make a vessel for Sukuna. Not only has your soul been embedded with a finger of Ryomen Sukuna, but you're also a Death Womb Painting, a Half-Curse human. All of your parameters are cranked up, having the strength, agility, and durability as a near awakened heavenly restriction user. You aren't sure how you ended up like this, or how you even got here, but you'll make the most of it.

Being a Vessel of Sukuna comes with many perks, one of which is having his technique, Shrine, along with Blood Manipulation, for free. You also can generate blood from your cursed energy, as your nature as a Death Womb Painting lets you do so. You no longer age past your prime, making you an eternal being.

Finally, you are a perfect vessel, able to cage anything inside your soul now, not just Sukuna. Any being that's trapped in you will slowly be absorbed over the course of three months, being unable to possess you at all unless you want them to, and eventually be absorbed. Should the being have anything akin to a Cursed Technique or something similar, it'll become embedded into your soul and ready for you to use.

Blessed By The Black Sparks - 400CP
You have been blessed, Jumper, by the very thing that so many sorcerers from home have tried to achieve. To land a black flash is to become a part of a different bracket of sorcery, understanding Cursed Energy on a level so much higher than before. To land one is the difference between heaven and earth. You can land a Black Flash nearly at will, your control of Cursed Energy becoming second to none.

Each strike furthers your understanding of Jujutsu, granting you greater and greater control over cursed energy to the point that eventually, you can do it at will. Nothing, and I mean nothing is unreachable to you, and one day you might even surpass The King of Curses in your understanding of Jujutsu. This applies to all energy sources you have, able to land a black flash.

Simurian Understanding - 600CP
This world's Jujutsu is quite…lewd. Much like a certain Simurian, the speed at which you learn things is appalling. You can learn things at near instant speed, understanding the underlying mechanics of a technique or attack with just a glance. You don't even need to know that a technique exists, just the mere concept of such an idea being implanted in your head is enough for you to learn and execute it. Just knowing that something is possible is enough for you, able to do just about anything you can think of.

However, being able to do something is different from actually mastering it, so this perk also lets you master any technique you use on the first try. Anything you try will be elevated to the King of Curses Himself, and is your base for all of your powers. This perk can be used on other power systems, granting you the talent and skill to achieve similar feats.

Go, show them what it means to be a Sorcerer.

Human

Humans Are Horny! - 100CP
That we are. Being human in a sex filled world is a lot different than ours. One of which is that humans are insatiable. You'll find that any partners you have sex with can go for hours at a time, needing the bare minimum of resources to keep going. Some sessions can go for days at a time, only needing a thirty minute break here and there before getting back in the action. You'll also have the stamina required to keep up.

Anywhere, Anytime - 100CP
So, one thing that you're going to learn very early in your time here is that there's sex everywhere. The gym, store, sidewalk, your house? Get out! Anyway, sex is everywhere, and you're gonna find people fucking, sucking and humping in just about any spot you find. How often this happens is dependent on where you are, so in a country like Japan you'd only see about two or three couples doing it in a day, but if you were in America? Woo boy, at least thirty a day, with a few orgies here and there. You can toggle the intensity of the activity, or turn it off entirely, and go your whole day without seeing a single session.

Sensitive - 200CP
Humans in this world have very weird quirks in their biology that make them different from baseline humans, and one of those are their increased sensitivity to pleasure. Taking this perk allows you to decrease the tolerance to pleasure on not only yourself, but to anyone else you deem so before a Jump. All humans in this world are five times more sensitive to pleasure, and you can increase this to absurd levels for yourself and others. Be careful though, as putting it too high could leave you a cumming mess, covered in your own cum.

Diluted Blood - 200CP
So, humans have been getting freaky with just about everything they could find, and while Half-Curses exist, there are humans out there that have an ancestor that fucked one. You kind of inherited some of their power? It's not a lot, not enough to make you a full blown sorcerer, no, but does grant you certain boons. You may choose a mild ability of your choice. It can't be conjuring a fire ball or summoning a shikigami. Having a higher tolerance to heat, or being stronger than average are some good ones, but being able to jump thirty feet is a no-go.

Pink Flash - 400CP
A Pink Flash is a phenomenon that happens when you eject cursed energy into someone the moment you ejaculate. It grants the person a euphoric high of pleasure so profound that they just keep cumming. The main draw of this elusive technique is that it siphons the energy from your partner, extending your orgasm for longer. Some say that the post-nut clarity is so profound that it makes sorcerers reach a new level of sorcery.

You have an easier time landing this technique, being able to land it on a somewhat regular basis. Chaining a Pink flash is unheard of, as not even Gojo Satoru has been able to land one twice in a row. You'd be the first to chain this, and be written down in history.

Predation - 400CP
Humans are animals, and I don't think people put a lot of stock into what that means. Sure, sorcery is cool and all, but why not go back to our animalistic roots and take what we want? You're a predator now, a dangerous creature that's been molded to hunt down anything that catches your fancy. How this manifests is up to what you're hunting. Maybe it's stalking that MILF that caught your fancy, learning everything about her, spending weeks, maybe months before you shoot your shot. Or maybe it's an exotic Half-Curse you want to fuck, and you can see the traces of cursed energy they leave behind when they ran, eventually catching up to them as they exhausted all their cursed energy.

As creepy as I sound it to be, we're persistent predators, and you're gonna get what you want eventually. It's only just a matter of time.

Humanity Number One - 600CP
So you want to fuck a curse but it's gross to look at. It's cool, not a lot of sorcerers want to fuck a cursed spirit either, but they're forced to because they have to if they want to excorcise it. Taking this perk allows you to basically turn anything into a "Human".

Anything you use this perk on will find themselves with human characteristics and match the body type you desired them to be. However, just because they look human doesn't mean they are human. No, they just look like one, and still have all the powers of whatever they were. The logistics of using this on something like an animal or inanimate object are up to you, the Jumper, but I'd err on the side of caution.

That being said, go ham! Humans No. 1 baby!

Half-Curse

Veil of Normalacy - 100CP
No matter the variations of the world, Halfa's are still part cursed spirit, and because of that might be gross to look at. Because of that, I offer you this perk, that ensures that no one will be able to see your more…unique addons. This applies to any and all alien biology you have. A caveat to this perk however, is that sorcerers can view your body like how it really is, and any sufficiently supernatural being can do so as well.

Appealing To The Eye - 100CP
Lot's of Halfa's have mutations and features that aren't natural, and a lot of them actually hate how they look. They still feed on humans cause it's in their nature, but it's more of a thing they have to do rather than something they enjoy. This perk let's you design your body to your specific's, allowing you to be more appealing to yourself, and others. Most Half-Curses will be jealous of you, and might lash out if their body is gross gross.

Alien Cumology - 200CP
Who your cursed parent represents is something that matters a whole bunch. It shapes what you are, and what you're capable of. This perk gives you a bunch of physical mutations that correspond to your curse side. What these mutations manifest as is up to you, the jumper, and can be almost anything. Tentacles, extra arms, another set of breasts, or even another pussy! This basically lets you further design your body to a certain theme, and so long as the addons aren't too powerful there aren't any limits.

Exotic Goods - 200CP
Unlike humans or curses, Half-Curses are the minority in the world as the act of conception between human and curse, while not rare, is still uncommon in today's time. Because of that, sorcerers have started seeing Half-curses not as something to get rid of, but to make theirs. Sorcerers love Halfa's, and treat them more like servants or pets in the most extreme of cases.

From now on, every time your race is considered the minority or is considered rare, people are more willing to be lenient with you, letting you get away with things that other races couldn't. Being something like a mindflayer for instance will be more exotic and sexy than horrifying to those around you.

Cursed Womb Painting - 400CP
The more that things change, the more they stay the same. You are a Cursed Womb Painting, a creature that was tailored made from the magnificent mind of Kenjaku. A being that was bred across multiple wombs of women who had the right mixture of Curse blood and human DNA. Most Half-Curses are an amalgamation of both sides, and are truly never a fifty-fifty split, but you? You're exactly down the middle, a true-hybrid between human and curse.

This grants you some benefits, the beginning of which is that you can produce cum straight from your cursed energy. Just this alone is extremely dangerous for both curses and sorcerers, as that cum is chock full of your essence and cursed energy. This cum is a highly potent aphrodisiac due to your nature of being a Cursed Womb Painting, and merely getting it on their skin will induce heavy effects. Finally, this perk grants you the cursed technique Cum Manipulation, a potent technique from the Kamo clan that was lost to time.

The Cage - 400CP
No, not a chastity cage. It'd be funny, but that's not what this is. Whether or not Kenjaku knows about you, the fact of the matter is that you could qualify as their magnum opus. You are a Cage, your soul having been tampered with and becoming a prison to exactly one person. Who is that person? I don't know, that's up to you. For this jump however, it will be Ryomen Sukuna, one of his fingers being embedded into your soul, making you the perfect prison for his soul.

The being trapped inside of you won't have a way to possess you unless you want it to happen, and cannot interact with the world in any meaningful way unless you allow it. Should you only have a part of their soul and not all of it, you'll act as a sort of homing beacon, intuitively knowing where another part of their soul is. Once you have their entire soul in you the digestion process begins. Depending on the power of the being, it could take a week to the entire ten years you're there. After digestion, should they have a cursed technique or some equivalent, you'll gain that power.

After this jump, you may choose another being to be the perfect cage for. It's limiting, I know, but depending on who you choose it may be worth it.

Power of Friendship Through Fucking. - 600CP
I'm not fucking with you. I wish I was, but this is what it is. You have the literal concept of friendship backing you. It's not a big boost in power, that'd be ridiculously over powered, but you can do the bullshit Naruto could and it's somehow better?

So long as you think they are deserving of redemption, or think that it'd be better for everyone they were good, your cursed energy invades their soul, altering them and showing them the wrongs they committed. This is Domination, pain and simple, but through channeling Friendship you can turn even the worst megalomaniacs to your side. Doing this involves a lot of sex. Like, so much that depending on how "Evil" they are could last days, maybe even weeks of fucking.

This power can fail though. You could lie to yourself all you want, it means nothing if you actually don't think they're deserving of redemption.

Cursed Spirit

Lustful Feeding - 100CP (Exclusive To Cursed Spirit & Half-Curse)
It's known in Jujutsu society that curses feed on their victims, but what does that really mean? It means, for lack of better words, on the cum they let out. Most curses you find will have multiple people in a lair of some kind, feeding on them until their eventually sucked dry. You can do this now as well, able to feed on the cursed energy and lust of humans you fuck.

Draining the energy from a human empowers you, granting you greater stamina and cursed energy. The rate at which you can drain someone is dependent on how much willpower they have. Unfortunately, because your food needs to be alive for you to feed from them, you'll need to take the drawback No Kill Rule. There are ways to circumvent this drawback, but why would I tell you?

Physiology of A Curse - 100CP (Exclusive to Cursed Spirit)
One thing about being a curse is that you exist on a different plane so to speak. Non-sorcerers can't perceive you anymore unless you allow it, and anything you do will not be noticed. As a curse, you can also use your cursed energy to regenerate your body and refractory period, letting you go longer during sex. Because you're made entirely of cursed energy, Positive Energy in any form is deadly to you.

You Want Some Candy? - 200CP
As a sentient cursed spirit you need a way to get your prey, as not everyone is just going to wander in dilapidated buildings or linger in an area that's known for disappearances. This perk will make people curious about the places you haunt and actively seek them. This is meant for those who want to seek that adrenaline high, or those who can't tell the difference from a good idea to a bad one.

Drat! He Got Away! - 200CP
Dang, these sorcerers want you gone, jumper. It's a good thing you're a coward, cause no way in hell are they ever finding you. You have the uncanny ability to escape from sorcerers and anyone who pursues you with ill intent. The means of which you lose them is entirely up to you, and it's entirely possible that they could still find you again. This is only here to guarantee that the first time you escape from them they won't be able to find you for some time.

This Soul of Mine - 400CP
You've done something very few Cursed Spirits have done, and even less sorcerers. You've grasped the true shape of your Soul, Jumper, and can mold your soul and others to a degree. WHile this ability may seem like Idle Transfiguration, it's not really. It's…being able to touch something others can't, and being able to change who a person is.

This can be used many ways, but the main thing it can do is alter the shape and cursed energy of those you touch. Change them to be a shorstack with tits the size of a bean bag, change a sorcerer's cursed energy to taste like bubblegum. It's modifications that while big in nature, cannot affect the mind in any way.

You can alter someone's shape all you want, make them cum their brains out with all the extra nerves, but their mind is their own.

Growth In Infamy- 400CP
The people of this world are crazy for sex, but there's only so many people that are willing to go down on a curse. Oftentimes, a person is terrified you even exist, and sorcerers have a weird love hate relationship with your kind. This perk is here to take advantage of those impressions, empowering you to ridiculous levels.

For starters, you become a special grade cursed spirit right off the top, and gain an extra Cursed Token for free. Secondly, your powers have multiplied through the roof. This boost in power is because of the legends that are now about you, your history and deeds becoming a well known myth across not only Japan, but also the rest of the world. You're so popular that even animation studios are making movies about you.

It's gotten to the point that both normies and sorcerers are giving themselves to you if they manage to find you just to get a taste of you. It's genuinely becoming a problem in the local populace of wherever you are that sooner or later the upper boomers in Jujutsu Society and the local government are gonna send people after you. Which in turn will just be feeding you more.

Rising of Curses - 600CP
Welcome to the end times baby, cause you're in the center of it all! The birth of your existence is a herald of the end times, your body and soul becoming what we know as The Cumming. You are, without a doubt, the strongest curse in existence, your reserves and techniques so powerful it could cover an entire continent. A prophecy from ancient times told of your coming, and nowhere in there did it say anything about you losing.

Only someone like Modulo Yuji could ever stand against you, but he'd have to stop spasming from cumming his cursed energy out to actually do anything. You can siphon the cursed energy of your victims, granting you their cursed energy and Innate or Inherited technique, turning them into a completely normal human. Curses will be terrified of you, or if they're smart enough see you as a god.

You're more of a problem that needs to be planned around rather than defeated, cause no one in this world or the next are going to complain about cumming for days on end. Hey, it doesn't matter if they can barely think or not. They enjoy it!

Cursed Techniques

Cursed techniques live in this sort of middle line. Some of them can be recreated by a sorcerer talented enough, while others are so complex that unless you have a special pair of eyes, it is completely useless. This section allows you to start out with your own technique. If you forgo buying a technique from this section then there won't be any way in setting to gain one without rigorous effort.

Techniques are sorted in two sections; In-setting techniques that revolve around lewd and debaucherous acts to help you with sex, and Out of Context. Out of Context techniques are cursed techniques meant for The Outlier, and as such are more suited for the high pace, brutal fighting a regular sorcerer would demonstrate. Any other origin may still buy from this section, but will have to figure out how to integrate them into their style of sex fighting.

All origins gain Two Cursed Tokens(CT), as that's the maximum a sorcerer can handle safely without their brains legitimately liquifying. For 200CP however, you may buy another CT, and your brain will be modified to handle the strain it would incur.

Should you not want any of the techniques I have on offer, however, that's perfectly fine for me, and you may design your own technique for 1CT, or if it's powerful enough, 2CT.

Further more! Should you like what a technique is, but not how it functions, then you may spend 1CT token to change how it functions. It must still remain the same technique, but if you wish to add more to it or change some of the rules, I won't stop you. Innate techniques reflect the user and I want you to have that option.

Lewd Techniques

Lewd Speech - 1CT
Lewd speech is the inherited technique of the Inumaki Clan. Much like it's counter part, it allows the user to empower their words with cursed energy, making those who hear them adhere to whatever was spoken. This technique scales to the person it's being used on, and could cause backlash on their throat if used on someone much stronger than them. Unlike cursed speech however, this technique is limited in what can be used. Whatever is said must be sexual in nature, and if you say something that isn't sexual at all it'll do so in the lewdest way possible. Unlike users in the Inumaki Clan, you can toggle this technique on and off, or have it on another part of your body like your hand to let you freely talk.

Siren's Voice - 1CT
A technique that was lost to time. Originally hailing from the Inumaki Clan, this technique makes the user's voice extremely alluring. Anyone who hears the user's voice enters a state of serenity and calm. Those under this effect are more open to suggestion, willing to do whatever the user wants. Like Lewd Speech, how effective the technique works is dependent on the opponent's strength. This technique is rare in that it has a reversal technique, where when channeling Reversed Cursed Energy instead of an alluring voice, it causes it to become distorted, making those who hear it succumb to mania and dread.

Cum Manipulation - 1CT
Cum manipulation is a technique that originated from the Kamo Clan that was eventually lost to time. Not many in the clan know why such a technique was bred out, only that it was lost, and any records of the technique are sparse as they are in the details of the technique. Cum manipulation is exactly as it sounds, being able to manipulate the ejaculate you produce. This has uses, as being able to control your cum can delay your orgasm, reinforce your genitals, or use said cum to siphon the energy from your partner. The biggest part of this technique besides the manipulation of your cum is that rate at which you can force yourself to make more cum.

Implant - 1CT
This technique revolves around the temporary enhancement of genitals. You can, at will, enhance the body parts of whoever you're touching for a limited amount of time. Give someone a bigger dick, grow their boobs to the size of a beanbag. You get the gist. A pretty simple technique as far as things go.

Blazing Lust - 1CT
A technique from the Zen'In clan. This techniques been around since before they were Zen'In, and is a pretty straightforward one at that. You can fan the flames of passion and lust, whether for yourself or another person. This lust, whil artificial, is still extremely strong, and unless the person has a great amount of will, well, just be sure you take time out of your schedule. You're not going anywhere and you're gonna enjoy yourself.

Milk Maid - 1CT
So this was gonna be something different, but I just had to do this. You lactate now. Doesn't matter whether you're a man or woman or futa, you just do. You also lactate a lot, so much that you need regular milkings a day just to get some relief. The great thing about this technique is that you can alter the flavor of this milk, and each flavor has a corresponding effect that applies to whoever drinks it.

Chocolate will make the user's output increase by 20%, strawberry will make the user's cursed energy take on an aphrodisiac trait, and just being near you will make someone horny. Finally, vanilla will make the user able to cum a larger volume, usually around 75% more than they should. These effects don't last that long, usually lasting 30 minutes. Could become a lucrative business if you started storing your milk and sell it.

Orgasm Blast! - 1CT
A really simple cursed technique. For starters, this cursed technique makes you have one of the best outputs in the verse, allowing for massive effects for very little cost. Second, this technique lets you fire off concentrated blasts of your orgasms. I'm not joking. These blast upon contact will make whoever it hits instantly orgasm violently, regardless of power. This technique is powerful in this kind of world, so use with caution.

IT'S S.E.X. TIME~! - 1CT
This technique, unlike the others you'd often see, is one where you're given your domain expansion at the start. The whole premise of the technique is that you're the host to a raunchy reality sex show, forcing whoever enters your domain in humiliating and sexy games. Everyone who's in this domain are unable to do anything to the host, can't use any technique, and the only types of jujutsu that are allowed is reinforcement. There are built in binding vows in the technique that make this possible.

The first binding vow is the Vow of Neutrality, a vow that makes everyone, the user included, unable to do anything harmful knowingly. This makes sure that no one can hurt anyone and participate in the games. The second, the Vow of Relinquishment, makes everyone unable to use their cursed energy for techniques besides reinforcement. Failure to do either of these will incur a penalty in the games, along with a punishment for the severity of the demerit.

The structures of what the games are is up to the user, but all of it must be actually winnable. Whoever wins is safe from the final binding vow, the Vow of Contest, which makes everyone that loses violently orgasm for ten minutes straight. The host of the show is also affected by this as well, having to also lightly cum for 20 seconds for each demerit they themselves acquired.

Tentacle - 1CT
A simple technique that allows the user to summon a tentacle shikigami. The shikigami is a mass of tentacles of all kinds, from pussies, cocks, regular tentacles, to more exotic ones like brushes or lips. The user can channel this shikigami that grows whatever kind of tentacle they want on their body, or change the shape of their dick to match that of whatever type of tentacle.

Induced Fetish - 1CT
This technique is pretty straight forward. It let's you make whoever you target become aroused by whatever you want, making them a complete degenerate for that object of desire. This can work for anything, from more simple things like blowjobs or rimming, or to more weird stuff like mustard or AC units. This effect varies on how long it can last, depending on how strong the target is.

Cursed Womb/Seed - 1CT
Kenjaku would love you, I'm sure. This technique, regardless of gender, has the unique effect of making the user able to give birth to full fledged cursed spirits. Only one other woman has been discovered to have this technique, making you either a direct descendent, or just a cosmic coincidence. This is an odd technique, as the technique can work with a human partner, and it gives you some control over how the curse will be born.

Amputate - 1CT
A technique that lets you harmlessly remove the limbs of anyone. Yes, this can also work on the head, but unlike the arms or legs or even intestines, will consume cursed energy to keep the person alive. The areas where they were removed are smoothed over, as if they never had the limb in the first place.

Devotion - 1CT
A cursed technique that empowers the user the more people believe in them. This requires hard work for any gainful boost, as it requires actually interacting with the outer populace, and heavily supports you becoming a cult leader if you want to gain more power. This boost in power is more general, and gives a broad boost in your parameters. This can be used with RCE, and will work the opposite, being powered by people who hate you.

Assimilation - 1CT
Probably one of the most sinister techniques in this whole section. This technique can allow the user to assimilate anyone they have sex with and make them become who they are. The assimilated person becomes a perfect replica of you, with all your memories and mannerisms, but none of your perks unless you allow them too. Something that will transfer over however with no setbacks are cursed techniques. This technique is inspired by Fumiko from Chainsaw man, and I'm not ashamed about it.

Out of Context

Ink Manipulation - 1CT
A technique that gives the user a book bound to their soul and the ability to manipulate and conjure Ink. This technique has varied uses, one of which is a perfect memory. The ink made by this technique can be used to form various objects and weapons, but shaping the liquid is hard for beginners. Because of that, users of this technique will use an ink pen to write words into it, which then allows them to make items out of ink. You may also make simple shikigami out of it that will carry out simple commands, such as imprison or cut.

Sacrificial Lamb - 1CT
Tell me, little Lambkin, what would you do for power? On your head is a simple crown with a red eye, a pseudo shikigami that can form itself into various weapons. This technique, while weak at first, will grow in power the more heretical acts you commit. Each heresy grows your strength, letting your change your crown into different weapons with different effects.

However, tread lightly Lambkin, as the more you grow, the louder the whispers will become. It will crescendo, until eventually, it is all that you hear. Only then must you commit the greatest sacralidge one can do to themselves, and kill yourself. Death is not the end however. Upon death you'll enter your domain expansion, which is a cloudy expanse of wool, where you will meet the one who waits, the very personification of sacrilege and heresy, the shikigami that powered your crown. Defeat it, and you'll gain true control over your crown, along with true immortality. Lose however, and lose everything. I believe in you though, little Lamb.

Compass - 1CT
A simple cursed technique that let's the user know where exactly the cardinal directions are. Simple as it is, advanced users are able to track down objects and people with startling accuracy, with masters able to pinpoint the exact location of nearly anything in the world.

Shrine - 1CT
The cursed technique of the king of curses. A simple technique that was elevated into greatness, this technique is the simple act of cutting. It has two main functions; Dismantle, the base form of the technique that shoots out slashes. These cuts are scaled to your output, and can't be change, which is different from it's sibling, Cleave. Cleave must be used when you touch your target, and scales to the power of whatever you're using it on. This does change depending on your usage of cursed energy, as it requires you to use more in order to compensate for the difference in strength.

Finally, we have Furnace, a flame technique that burns anything it touches. In order for it to be used however, one must have used both Cleave and Dismantle on the object or person for it to be targeted.

Light - 1CT
Light is the technique of manifesting and manipulating light. This technique is somewhat limited in scope on what it can do, but while limited it is still a dangerous technique. Summon beams of light to impale your enemies, summon an aurora borealis to veil your movements and effect the whole area, or imbue yourself with your technique to move at the speed of light. Only a truly talented mind could ever bring out the true potential of a simple technique. This technique also comes with a reversal, letting you conjure and manipulate pure darkness.

Glyph Script - 1CT
A complex technique around the language of glyphs and the ways you can use them. A sorcerer with this technique will be given four glyphs, each one representing the aspects of the world/universe. It could be anything, from fire or plants, or light and ice. What they look like is up to the user, but is usually a symbol inside a circle. Glyph script users can't just use their technique, and need to write them on something physical. Once written, pouring in cursed energy will activate the glyph, creating some type of effect.

The main draw of this technique is the sheer versatility it brings. While you may only have four glyphs, the combinations you can make with them can have drastically different effects and properties. Maybe you can make a golem, or make a series of glyphs that automatically reinforce your body. Nothing is impossible with the right combo. Comes with a reversal of the Glyphs, granting you four new glyphs that represent the opposite of whatever the main four were.

Abra Kadabra! - 1CT
A cursed technique that lets you do showman's magic, but for real. This technique lets you summon a wand and tophat to do your magic tricks with, and so long as the trick you're pulling is something wacky or zany enough it'll go through. A technique like this is heavily expensive on your reserves, but who's to say? Maybe you'll figure out a way to circumvent even that!

Animator - 2CT
A technique that allows the user to bring life to anything they draw. This technique is powerful, and any art that's animated becomes a living, breathing creature. Except, they still look like how you draw them. You can bring things to life, it doesn't mean anything if they're poorly drawn, so something simple like a stick figure could maybe fight, but not much else.

Something else to note is that all of these animated drawings are still drawings and will look like whatever style you drew them in. All of them also seem to have some sort of toon force, able to do things a normal creature couldn't, while also surviving deadly blows with little to no damage. Items you draw however, are different, and while can still be used how they would normally, aren't as good as the real thing.

Judgeman - 1CT
Another cursed technique that gives you a domain expansion at the very beginning. The core premise of the technique lies in you being the Judge, and your domain acts as the sight of your judgement on those who find themselves against you. Everyone who enters the domain is bound under the same laws, and their Karma is automatically Judged by the domain. The inside of your domain looks like a long hallway with pillars, glass windows with beams of light illuminating the hallway. Everyone that enters will feel a sense of foreboding, as if they're coming upon a precipice they can't back out of.

The user of this technique will automatically know the opponents Karmic Value, a number quantifying all of the wrongs they've done in their entire life. This number is then multiplied by the user's secondary effect, Karmic Retribution. Karmic Retribution scales to the opponents karmic value, dealing quantitative damage that acts like a fast acting poison. WHile under the effects of this poison you'll be dealt damage continuously, right up until the amount of damage you'd have taken if it was done in one motion.

Users of Judgeman can use Karmic Retribution outside of their domain, but will need to use their own judgement and observations to glean someone's Karmic Value instead of relying on their domain's automatic info dump.

Chimeric Shadow - 1CT
A technique that's been enhanced beyond what it was supposed to be. Chimeric Shadow is the complete evolution of the 10 Shadows technique. Much like the original it revolves around the making of shikigami's from your shadows. Unlike the original ten however, the user has full control over what shikigami can be made. No longer is the user bound by only ten, and can make an infinite amount.

What can these shikigami be? Well, what do you want? They can be anything, from simple ones like an owl or mammoth, or to complex creatures similar to Mahoraga, having a technique that's absolutely overpowered. Despite its enhanced parameters however, it's still beholden to the same rules. All shikigami must be tamed by a subjugation ritual before being able to be used. After which, you can freely be used.

Totalities are also the same, but unlike the original should a Totality Shikigami be killed the original shikigami's will still be available, but be in a state of rest before they can be used again. Should a shikigami die however, its essence can be used to either enhance one of the other shikigami, or be turned into a dedicated item that the user can use.

Enjoy, I sure hope you like this.

Cursed Spirit Infestation - 1CT
An advanced form of cursed spirit manipulation. Cursed infestation is similar in many ways to CSM, in that when the difference in power is great, or you defeat a cursed spirit, you're able to condense the spirit into a ball of energy. Upon swallowing this technique you're able to summon the cursed spirit. This spirit acts like a shikigami, following your commands and attacking of their own volition if threatened. However, unlike the original, the orbs of cursed spirits aren't disgusting, and taste like whatever you want them to be.

Something interesting you can do is actually make someone become a cursed spirit. Depending on whether or not they're a sorcerer determines what grade they are. Normies can only ever spawn grade three and below, while sorcerers can become Second Grade all the way up to Calamity Grade cursed spirits. In order to make them a cursed spirit, they first must either be recently dead, or on the precipice of death. Spirits who have a cursed technique or something similar can freely be used by the user. Cursed spirits are also able to grown in power once absorbed into you. How it does is up to you.

Finally, this technique doesn't just work on cursed spirits, but just about anything. Dragons, demons, angels, gods, spirits, or even eldritch beings aren't safe from your technique. No one is safe, and the Jujutsu Higher ups are going to hate you, so have fun!

Chimera - 2CT
To understand this technique, you must first understand something.

Humans aren't the first ones to have cursed energy. Hell, aliens have cursed energy and they evolved completely different from us. It stands to reason that cursed energy, both as a concept and a source, predates humanity. It predates humanity so much that the first organism to have cursed energy were single celled organisms. That single celled organism was the first sorcerer, and had a cursed technique that helped in furthering what we know as life.

Chimera is a cursed technique that allows the user to change their biology into that of a different species. At first, this technique was near useless, but as life diversified, more and more potential forms were added. To wield chimera is to understand nature on a fundamental level that no modern person could understand. It is nature in its truest sense. A technique this ancient has been wielded by many creatures, and has evolved much like life has. Theropods, pterosaurs, even insects have had this technique.

You are the direct incarnation of the oldest creature to ever live, that first single celled organism. IT has many names, but most who know of its existence decided to call them Ralabast. As its direct incarnation, you have millions, quite possibly billions of potential life forms to transform into.

However, just because you have this much power within you, doesn't mean you have mastered it. You start out at the beginning, being able to only transform into a single genus of animal. You may decide what genus it is, but it must be something more modern. Eventually, as you grow in power, you'll be able to diversify your abilities, being able to become a swarm of rats or crows, or only partially shift to gain the traits. Maybe, you'll be able to combine the traits of animals given enough time.

Post-jump, every planet you find yourself on will sync with your technique, allowing you to transform into the local fauna, as if you've been there since the beginning of their collective life cycle. This includes magical creatures as well, and if it's part of nature, even spirits to a degree.

Dream Walker - 1CT
This technique allows you to go into the dreams of others. How? Well, the mind is connected to the soul, so everytime someone dreams it's their mind entering the inner folds of their soul, and you can go there now! This only allows you to enter their dreams, and nothing else. You can't hurt them in any way or actually interact with them in any meaningful way if they aren't lucid dreaming, but you can freely shape their dream.

Discord - 2CT
A powerful technique that allows the user to virtually do anything so long as it doesn't follow order. What you can do is vast, and just about anything is on the table. Turn the ground into soap? Sure. Change someone's technique into making bubbles? You betcha. Anyone with this technique is a force to be reckoned with. There is a downside, however.

If you try to do something you already did, you'll find that it'll be less effective, and anything that's associated with order and other things similar to it you'll find it nearly impossible to do. Healing? Nope. But, this can be counter acted if you use RCT, changing your technique to Accord, a technique that lets you do anything related to order.

Springlock - 1CT
You become gifted in making springtrap animatronic and the reanimations of souls. A pretty straight forward technique all things considered. Yes, it's like FNAF, and no I'm not really ashamed of it. So long as you have the materials this technique can manipulate them into perfectly becoming whatever design you have. The problem is finding a compatible soul to inhabit the body.

Should you find someone that's compatible with the animatronic, their soul will be used like a battery and bring that hunk of metal to life, gaining a pseudo sentience and acting like what they would like.

Items

All origins get +400 to buy things in this section.

Drop-In

Straight Mula Baby - 100CP
You got bands Jumper, and everyone's wanting to get a piece. It'd be pretty shitty to head to a place like japan without any money, so here, money! You get 100,000 USD at the start, and get another hundred thousand for each year onwards. Fun, right?

Toy Shop - 200CP
Despite this being a porn world, Japan doesn't have too many sex toy shops to actually get anything. You gotta order the stuff from the states, or god forbid china. From now on, every jump you go to will have a sex toy shop just aorund the corner, having everything you could ever want at a moments notice. Not only that, but if you ask for some more… "exotic" wares, you'll be able to buy some sex toys that've been imbued with cursed energy.

Rolodex of Hoes - 400CP
You get a list of Sorcerers and normies who are down for some freaky, no strings sex and all other kinds of kinky shit. This list can include a lot of people you might know, and for some reason they're very amenable to the things you ask for. Anyone you contact with this list are all willing to do you favors in return for sex, and have a good completion rate.

Porn Industry - 600CP
You own a porn studio now, and a pretty profitable one at that as well. What you're studio actually produces is up to you, and can include anything you're attracted to. Actresses and actors who you might find attractive are drawn to your studio, and are very willing to act out anything you want. Any videos you produce are near guaranteed to succeed.

However, something different about your studio is that it actually produces videos solely for sorcerers, and usually involves cursed spirits of some form. Sorcerers who are willing to make videos with cursed spirits are very eager to fuck them, and many clans and solo sorcerers are willing to pay top dollar to watch someone get fucked by inhuman abominations. Post-Jump, this can apply to any non-human creatures.

Civilian

Just A Phone - 100CP
A regular cellphone that doesn't run out of charge nor does it take damage. Pretty simple.

Crystal's of Porn - 200CP
A cursed item you found that shows you visions of your next sexual encounter. No, you can't use it to tell the future, and no, it can't replay any vision again. It'd be cool if it did, but it doesn't. The visions you see could happen at any time, and it could show something that'll happen tomorrow, or it'll show something at the end of your ten years.

Null Potions - 400CP
Where did you even get these? Well, it's not my problem anymore. What you have is a case of twenty four spray bottles, that when sprayed in the face of a sorcerer, cause them to lose access to their cursed energy. One spritz only lasts up to an hour, and using the whole bottle will increase that time to a week.

A sorcerer who's been sprayed by this will also enter a state of suggestion and arousal, letting you get way with quite a lot of things. If used on a normie however, they'll instantly cum their brains out and become addicted to the feeling it gives them. Repeated usage on sorcerers will strengthen any suggestions you give them while under.

Ritualistic Village - 600CP
What's considered "Normal" is always subjective, as different places have different cultures and traditions. This little village of about a thousand people are under the impression that you, yes you, are the leader of all of them.

Everyone in this village see you as the highest authority, and are willing to do anything you say. If you tell them that on saturdays they need to have sex at exactly 5:45PM? They'll do it, no questions asked. More than that, it seems that anyone over the age of fifty seems to just…dissapear, and is then replaced by someone who's eighteen years old. Post-Jump, each setting you go too will add another thousand, and will grow to accommodate the populace with that world's denizens.

Erotic Sorcerer

Sex Toy - 100CP
A basic sex toy that's been infused with cursed energy. That grade of this object will always be third grade, but can be anything you desire it to be. Should you lose or destroy this toy it'll be replaced by another one within 48 hours.

An Actual History - 200CP
You're a full fledged sorcerer now, Jumper. WIth that status comes paperwork for all of the missions you've already done, and with it comes legitimization. You have a set of papers that says you're qualified for just about anything, having all of your exploits on them to further convince them that you're the right person for the job. This set of papers will guide the person you're talking with to actually consider you for the job, with them usually agreeing.

Archive - 400CP
You've gained access to a sprawling archive of this world's jujutsu society. Depending on world modifiers and such, this can range from just Japan's history of jujutsu, to the entire world. There are thousands of books, each one holding information that the big clans would kill to have. Autobiographies, technical manuals for a technique, or even a retelling of an event that no one remembers except for a few people. This library will grow the more worlds you head to.

Sex Armory? Dungeon? - 600CP
Yeah I don't really know what to call this one. You've got a rather extensive inventory of cursed sex toys, all having a range of effects. There's regular, run of the mill objects that are just imbued with cursed energy, but there are some objects that are imbued with a cursed technique or special ability! Like a cock ring that detaches a dick but the user can still feel it, or a formula that turns someone into a skin that can be worn to be that person!

Bastdard

Blackmail - 100CP
You've got a pretty hefty sum of blackmail at your disposal. I mean, you name it. Photos, videos, bank notes, anything you could need to hold something over, you got it. Anyone you present this information to are more willing to do whatever you want in order for it not to get out. Should said person destroy this evidence, a new copy of it will appear near you within 24 hours.

Chains of Servitude - 200CP
It'd sure be awful if your captives and enemies were to escape so easily. Wouldn't you want something to hinder them? Well, with this you can. You gain a set of manacles that can be put on someones arms and legs. Anyone you put this on will lose the ability to use any supernatural power they have. Magic, Cursed Energy, or anything else along that vein will be suppressed. Their bodies will also have an increased sensitivity to anything stimulus, whether that be pleasure or pain.

Corpse Fridge- 400CP
A cabin deep in the woods. This cabin houses the necessary tools to make cursed objects of any kind, sexual or not. It has special metals infused with cursed energy, jars of extremely pure cum chock full of cursed energy and life essence. All of the tools are special made to make cursed items without having the talent to make one. Below the cabin however, in the cellar, is a freezer holding the corpses of multiple sorcerers.

These bodies are fully preserved, and all vary in quality. These bodies are specifically chosen to make cursed sex toys with the most potential possible. You can even find some cursed spirit corpses, with some of them being special grade. All of the sorcerers have some kind of cursed technique.

Cattle Farm - 600CP
A Farm that has ties to the underworld. This place is fucked up, and is a literal meat factory. What's the meat? People, sorcerers specifically, and sometimes curses if they're worth it. Now, this sounds bad, and you'd be right! What, you think a place that handles human meat would be good? Get real!

Now, it doesn't actually sell cuts of human meat, I'm talking more about slaves. So, the inner workings of the farm are up to you, but the general gist is that anyone that's born on the farm will eventually be sold off in slavery. Workers manage and rear the "Cattle", milking those who lactate and forcing them to fuck until they have another baby.

Since this farm deals in sorcerers, the chances of a child having an innate technique are pretty high. Nobody wants children, so a special formula is fed to the mothers that accelerate the aging process of any spawn, and tests are done to determine if they have an innate technique or not while a headset is put on their head to download the information they need to be a perfect slave. As the owner of this establishment you get first pickings of anyone that catches your fancy. Post-Jump, this farm will include any people who have unnatural powers, such as Magic.

Born To Fuck

Cursed Glasses - 100CP
A special set of glasses that makes the person wearing them look 50% cooler. Anything they do while these are on are automatically done in the most visually pleasing way possible.

Food For The Gods - 200CP
A fully stocked kitchen that has the best chefs that money can buy. This kitchen is special in that the cooks are actually sorcerers that have been hand picked because of their innate techniques revolving around some kind of food. Any food that's made by them will grant the person an increase of power and libido for the next eight hours, and can be extended depending on how much food you eat in a single sitting.

Jujutsu Tech - 400CP
You're very own school. You are the owner/principal of the third Jujutsu Tech College, a place where sorcerers can go and learn how to be a sorcerer. This school houses a robust roster of students, and while usually the other two main schools would only have a few dozen, you've got hundreds of sorcerers eagerly waiting to learn the inner workings of Jujutsu.

The demographic of your students are, obviously, those you find attractive, but also vary in age. So you can have a preppy nineteen year old in the same class as a caked up MILF that decided to become one cause she needs something to do now that her Thot daughter left the nest. The teachers vary as well, as not every experienced Sorcerer can teach the mechanics of a Domain expansion or making a veil.

Fourth Great Harem Clan - 600CP
A person as great as you shouldn't need to chase around a next fling when you have a harem waiting for your beck and call! You are the proud leader of the Fourth Great Clan, The Jumper Clan. This group of people doesn't have to be your actual relatives, but rather a group of people who has all of the characteristics of things you find attractive.

These people worship the ground you walk on, always boasting about your status and power and begging to get fucked by you. Since this is a clan of sorcerers, it'd be cool if you had some with Innate techniques huh? For free your clan is known to have whatever technique you chose in the Cursed Technique section as the inherited technique that anyone can be born with, but there's also a chance that many sorcerers in your clan can be born with an Innate Technique. Those who're born with one will also be highly revered and encouraged to train and "experiment" with their technique.

This clan will grow as well the more jumps you take, each one adding in more magical energies into your clan and bloodline.

The Outlier

Special Grade Cursed Tool - 100CP
A cursed object that's classified as a special grade. The parameters of this tool is up to you, and can be anything from a cutlass, gun, or even a a pair of goggles. More than that, you may also design the special effect it has. Maybe that gun uses cursed bullets made from nothing, or that cutlass sends out blades of wind, or maybe those goggles act just like the elusive six eyes and helps manage your cursed energy usage.

Safehouse - 200CP
A secure location of your choice/design that nobody can find. This safehouse acts as a stationary domain, leting you design the inside of it to your specifications and whatever effects you want. Granted these effects mustn't be too powerful, or else a sorcerer might be able to locate it, but something like it being bigger on the inside, or time moving slower than that of the rest of the world are all valid options.

Remains of The Strongest - 400/600CP
I see you've got yourself an assortment of body parts. Oh? Hold up! How'd you even get these?! You seem to have gotten yourself the remains of a strong sorcerer that houses their soul. Uh, I'm not really sure how you managed to get your hands on them but…wait, you have more sorcerer remains?!

Okay, so you've managed to get yourself the remains of anyone you want. What they are has to thematically fit, so for sukuna it's his fingers, Gojo would be his eyes, and Geto would obviously be his tongue. I am gonna have to cut you off at six sorcerers just to keep the illusion of balance, but for 600CP though…we can just throw that out and have as many as you want. What you do with them is up to you. I don't really care…much.

Vault of Gilgamesh - 600CP
Holy shit, I can give you this? Hot damn, now we're talking baby. Being an outsider will have many, many, many problems in the Jujutsu Society of this world. This is going to deepen these problems to a massive degree, and I'm all here for it.

An ornate key will always appear in your pocket, and cannot be taken away from you by any means. Using this key on any lock or flat surface will open up to a domain that's filled to the brim with just a shit ton of stuff. I'm not joking either, if it's anything related to Jujutsu, it's in here.

What's in here? What isn't? Cursed tools, Bodies of sorcerers, Special grade cursed objects housing sorcerers from ancient to modern times, even items from space are here! Oh, and the kicker? A section solely dedicated to condensed cursed spirits, much like how Cursed Spirit Manipulation condenses spirits. Thousands, quite possibly millions of cursed orbs, all different grades at your disposal.

This vault responds to your will and ideas, and will generate anything you want. How long something takes to make is dependent on how complex and powerful it is. Something like an RPG will take about an hour to be made, while something extremely complex like a Jujutsu-Like Omnitrix will take the entirety of your ten years here.

Companions

Your Own Squad - 50 for one, 200 for eight
Standard option for companions you can make or import. All companions get 800CP to make a build and the necessary tokens for the Cursed technique section.

Canon Character - Free
If you can convince someone, they'll join you. The denizens of this world are very different compared to their normal counter parts, and because of that will be different. Some might be raging feminists, or others might be a rapist, it all depends on who they were as a person in the ain continuity.

CT(Companion Tokens) - Free, 25CP After
Companion tokens are a currency only for the Named Companions section. You start out with five tokens. All companions cost one token each, and if you want, you can spend 100CP for an extra 2CT.

Named Companions

These are people who, without you taking them, will not appear in the world, however, should you wish it you can have them naturally be part of the world. Who they are might change the story depending on their roll, so take that with a grain of salt.

Leannah S. Kennedy: A sorcerer with a past that haunts her. Leannah is the victim of a corporation that was experimenting with cursed energy. Naturally, all those experiments were of the sexual kind. Testing her endurance, choking on a tenta-cock, getting speared all the way through by a monstrous humanoid, and being subjected to so many more.

It was when she was getting gang-banged where she awakened as a sorcerer, her cursed technique immediately activating. Her cursed technique allows her to drain the energy from someone, granting her a boost in power for a short time. Having drained all the employees who used her, she escaped. Leannah is hellbent on taking down this corporation, and came across you as a potential ally.

Leannah might put on a brave face, but is deeply affected by her time in their clutches. A lot of her mannerisms are lewd, squatting like a stripper, leaning with her ass out, and unknowingly fondling your crotch should she get close to you. Should you engage with her in sex, she'll at first want something more vanilla, but as time goes on will want more and more extreme acts.

Repressed Student: This woman spent a majority of her life traveling the world with her degenerate Master, and has come to the conclusion that sex is gross and she'd rather pound sand than get fucked. Despite this worldview, she's still incredibly lewd, as being raised by a woman who has no shame about sex and gets regularly railed each night has warped her views on what "Modesty and shame" is.

Despite all these world views, she's still a remarkable sorcerer, her master having taught her the millenia of knowledge she's gathered. The problem, however, is that her "duties" as a sorcerer have led to a weird switch in her mind, where as long as it's Jujutsu related, she'll do just about anything.

Should you take her as a companion she'll be standoffish at first, and will glare at you for thinking degenerate thoughts. Offer her some advice on her Jujutsu though? She'll be putty in your hand, and might even willingly go to you for some "lessons" in improving her technique.

Casual Gilf: This is Frieren, a sorcerer who's been around for nearly a thousand years. Originally from Europe, she's traveled across the world, living life and gathering as much knowledge as she could. All of this is possible thanks to her cursed technique, Elven Physiology, granting her a lifespan to match her gargantuan curves. One of the functions of her cursed technique is that the older she gets, the bigger her curves get, and after a millennium of life, has led to the size she has now.

Most of her life has been spent being underneath someone, getting railed like no tomorrow, and as such has become very desensitized to sex and Jujutsu in general. She still feels all the pleasure, and cums like crazy when she finds an especially hung cock, but has a poker face like none other.

Should you take Frieren as a companion, she'll be open to just about anything. Nothing is off the table for her, and she's tried just about everything, so new things for her would be quite the welcome surprise.

Naive Horse: This is Twilight Sparkle, and much like you is from a different world, one with an entirely different logic and biology. She was originally something called a “Pony” a quadruped creature who, like the name suggests, is an equine species. She arrived in the world after a magical mishap, and both her body and magic has acclimated to the physics and logic of this world.

Her world is, for lack of a better term, Rated PG, and because of that she is mortified by the absurd amount of sex that goes around here. Twilight has, with much reluctance, decided that learning from you is the best course of action if she ever wants to get home.

Should you take Twilight Sparkle as a companion you’ll need to guide and teach her the ways of this world. Twilight is incredibly naive, and will believe anything you say. As long as it doesn’t hurt her or others, there’s very little she won’t do for “research”. Aside from that though, she’s incredibly talented in Jujutsu, and has the makings of a Special Grade sorcerer.

Sloppy Blojob Failure: This is Kobeni, and for her entire life she's been on a downward spiral. Born as a bastard child in a Jujutsu clan, she was abandoned in an orphanage. Life's been a struggle since, and as she grew up has had to rely on more unsavory services to make ends meet. Despite having a bombshell of a body, nearly all men and futas who have a go at her leave extremely disappointed, and will sometimes not even pay for her services.

This is because of her Cursed Technique, Blowjob Devil, which makes her sexual partners feel underwhelmed by anything she does, yet will feel euphoric pleasure should she use her mouth. Kobeni's body has also been molded by this, as nearly all of her sensitivity has migrated to her mouth and throat, her salivary glands upping their production rate. She hasn't cum once while not using her mouth, and has become a natural suck slut to chase that orgasmic pleasure.

Should you take her as a companion, Kobeni will become deeply codependent towards you, and will have withdrawals if she's not around you for a period of time. If you decide to have sex with her she'll become addicted due to the sheer dopamine overload of having someone care for her.

Broodmare: No one in the Kamo clan knows where exactly she came from, only that her role in the family is that of a breeding factory. Her role in the family is one of importance, as her special blood allows for a guarantee of a sorcerer being born. She sired dozens, maybe hundreds of children in the twelve years of her staying in the Kamo compound. All of the inhabitants of the Kamo clan see her as less than human, and more a cheap onahole that pops out babies from time to time.

The reality of the situation however, is actually the opposite. This is Makima, a Curse User who one day decided that the best way to achieve her goal of world peace is to infiltrate one of the great clans. Her cursed technique, Control, allowed her to manipulate the minds of those she saw lesser. It didn't take much effort in manipulating those in power, altering everyone's mind into thinking she was always there.

Makima is a cold, analytical person who intentionally altered her body into what you see now. Taking her as a companion will mean becoming part of her plans, and lots and lots of babymaking. Should you prove yourself, Makima might be willing to take you as a spouse.

Reluctant Cult Leader: This hung stud is an up and coming cult leader. Rising from nothing, he's been on a pilgrimage to find out his true place in the world. He puts up a front to those he doesn't know, and someway or another, he's managed to amass a pretty big following. While the gifts are nice, and the pleasure he gets is mind numbingly great…he's an absolute bottom and would rather get fucked in the ass.

His cursed technique makes his cock grow the more people revere him as a religious figure, and he hates it. He tried a cock ring to slow the growth, and his followers saw that as a sign that they had to break it, which caused a domino effect of more followers, and more growth. He wants to get fucked in the ass, and his followers only want his cock.

Taking him as a companion would mean fucking him up the ass, either with your cock or a strap on, he isn't picky. He'd be immensely grateful if you treated him the way he was always meant to be, and will become a loyal cumdump.

Cucked By The Beach: This is Yuri(Purple) and Natsuki(Pink) , a pair of lesbians who like going to the beach and hunt hung studs for Natsuki to get railed. They've been together for as long as they remember, having known each other since birth, and have done nearly everything together. One point of contention in their relationship however, is that Yuri wants Natsuki to get fucked right in front of her.

It wasn't until recently that Natsuki finally relented, and after one experience got hooked on the taste of cock. Yuri's eating all of it up, masturbating in the corner as she watches the love of her life get her mind broken and back blown out.

Taking them as companions will mean you're their permanent stud. They'll come to you anytime either wants to have a little fun without the other. Yuri is very into humiliation play, and will beg and cry if you deny her any of the videos of you and natsuki, all while squirting like a whore and offering you "favors". Nastuki's just doing this for her wife, and while she enjoys the sex and the pleasure Yuri gets from it, is still staunchly loyal to Yuri, and will stop if she truly wants her to.

Cumdump Teacher: This is “Onahole”, a teacher at Jujutsu Tech. She was born and bred for teaching the logistics, pleasure, and technicality that a female sorcerer would need to know. Her entire life she was taught the ways of a cumdump, and not only enjoys being one, but revels in it.

Onahole’s life is very simple despite being a sorcerer teacher, and mostly spends most of her days getting fucked in multiple positions, multiple hours of the day. Having been bred for sex, her body needs cum in order to live. Now, despite all the debauchery, she still is a teacher, and does teach all the women the basics of Jujutsu. She’ll even teach the men and futas if she needs to, though that mostly involves her just getting gangbanged for hours on end.

Taking her as a companion will mean becoming her “Student”, and she is all too willing to teach you what it means to be a female in Jujutsu Society. You’ll also be in charge of giving her the required cum she needs on a daily basis.

Stud Corrector: This is “Stud”, the twin sibling of Onahole, and also a teacher at Jujutsu tech. Stud’s situation at the school is a bit different. Instead of teaching any students, she’s instead the disciplinary teacher, and corrects anyone who either misbehaves, or fails a mission. Stud is, for lack of a better term, a complete freak whose libido completely controls them.

She fucks. All day. Not a single moment goes by where her cock isn’t in the hole of someone, whether it be man, futa, or woman. She even has someone be her cockwarmer at night, blasting loads in them. She’s what’d we call a deterrent from misbehaving or doing bad. Surprisingly, no one seems to do anything about it, and some even seek her out to feel that pleasure again.

Somehow, you’ve managed to calm her libido to manageable levels, and everyone is ready and willing to dump her off to you just so she can be controlled somewhat. How you did it no one cares, just that you keep on doing it.

Gynoid Cursed Corpse: One day, a sorcerer decided that humans sucked at sex. Thus, the idea of hyper advanced cursed corpse sex dolls emerged, and spent his entire life researching and making one. Decades went by, until finally, she was born. Then he promptly died, as the sheer sexual charm and suction of the blowjob he received was so good he died.

Meet 2B, a sentient cursed corpse whose main goal in life is to bring pleasure to humanity. Cold, calculating, and very direct are just some things to describe her. Yet despite that cold exterior, she harbors a fanaticism towards humanity that borders on uncomfortable. She prowled the roads, offering her services to anyone who wanted it, right until a sorcerer picked her up.

Taking 2B will mean becoming her primary caretaker, and subsequently her main master. This has a few boons, such as a detailed log of her creator and his thought process, while also having the schematics necessary to begin making more sex gynoids.

Aussie Rat Suckslut: Meet…can't believe I'm saying this, The Best Cocksucker Down Under! Her name is Hakos Baelz, or Bae for short, and is heavily addicted to sucking dick that her entire life revolves around it. I'm not joking. Her daily life involves wandering the streets, looking for another cock to suck and get their creamy reward.

This is not a healthy way of living, and after blowing a curse to death, she's on the prowl for curses and their exotic dicks. Her cursed technique, Locate, tells her where the nearest compatible cock is, usually in the form of a twitch in one of her rat ears. It's gotten to the point where curses are actually hiding from her, that's how down bad she is.

Baelz is, if you hadn't already guessed, very narrow minded, and having her as a companion means helping her find the next new dick, letting her suck you off if you have a dick, or trying to get her life together. Good luck on the last one.

Chuuni Trickster God: This is Loki, a woman who, after a traumatic encounter with a curse, has developed a sort of alter ego. Nobody knows her actual name, and goes by Loki because of her deep love for all things magic and illusion. Nobody's ever seen her out of this ego before, always disappearing before she reverts back.

If you hadn't guessed already, no, she's not actually a god. You'd be hard pressed to think that however, seeing as her cursed technique, Aesir, allows her to cast illusion and shapeshift to a crazy degree. Despite all this power however, she uses it only for pranks and the occasional hex.

Taking her as a companion means she pops into your life from time to time. She'll never stay around all that long, teasing you with her body and casting illusions of her getting fucked by you. Maybe she's waiting for something…

Touched Starved Southern Belle: Meet Rouge, a young woman who became a curse user at the ripe old age of nine! You heard that right. Her cursed technique manifested early on in life, and because of the nature of said technique caused the death of five people. She's been on the run since then, bouncing from town to town, avoiding Jujutsu sorcerers.

Rouge's technique is called Absorption, a deadly technique that doesn't follow the norms of this world. Anyone she touches, whether through skin or cloth, is drained of their energy. This technique caused the death of her parents and next door neighbor, and is deeply traumatized because of it.

Taking her as a companion means helping her with the trauma she gained. Should you somehow gain the power to resist her technique, or help her mitigate it somehow, you'll get a sweet girl who's desperate for human touch, and is willing to do anything to get it.

Precocious Cum Thief: Some people say black cats are bad luck, but this kitty is nothing but! This bombshell of a woman is a thief of great renown, having done multiple heists across the world and got away with them. Not that'd you know. Good thieves aren't supposed to be known, you know?

This little cat though seems to have gotten bored with jewels and money however, and has set her targets on a new kind of treasure; the cum of committed men! The thrill of stealing away some chick's man brings her pleasure like no other, and has a collection of condoms filled with semen from the men she seduces.

Her becoming your companion will involve a disproportionate amount of cheating, and hours of her regailing you with her conquests. If you actually decide to have sex with her, you might see a side of her you never knew. Or not, you can never really tell with her.

Time Gooner: What an absolute gooner! Christ, I mean, she's a gooner gooner, and spends quite possibly almost the entire 24 hour day cumming her brains out, barely able to form a thought. Well, 24 hours relative to her at least. Believe it or not, this girl's a sorcerer. Not a good one, just a sorcerer.

Her technique, Time Manipulation, lets her alter the flow of time. She can freeze, slow, rewind, or fast forward across the time stream. She's infuriatingly powerful, and is a special grade sorcerer just from her technique alone. The problem however is that she uses it to only masturbate. She'll rewind time around her cock to feel the orgasm all over again, or freeze her cum in her urethra and start fucking that. Her goonage knows no bounds.

Are you sure you want her as a companion? Taking her with you means nonstop goonage right around the corner, and getting her to do actually anything helpful is a task in itself. She does like you though, and will use automatic masturbators if you really need her help.

Drawbacks

No limits for you my friend. I don't really do drawbacks however, and while some of these seems bad, none of them can't be overcome with some amount of effort on your part.

Unlewding The World - +0
If you want to, I can make the world how it was originally supposed to be, and remove all the lewd stuff. I don't know why'd you want to, but I offer it nonethe less if you want something here and don't want to take any other jumps.

Freak Elsewhere - +0
Oh? You don't want to go here, but just want the perks and what not? Well, who am I to shame you? Taking this will mean this Jump will act a supplement for another Jump. The currency of both Jump are kept separate, but you can transfer CP from this jump to the other at an exchange rate of 2:1.

Bringing The Freak Elsewhere, Electric Boogaloo - +0
This is specifically meant for other Jujutsu Kaisen Jumps. There are a lot of them out there, one of which is mine! So it makes sense that you could combine multiple at once and pool together the points! You can use as many JJK jumps as you want with this toggle, and all of the points are pooled together in one spot, which can be used across however many jumps there are. If one of them is from a different time, then fanwank and explain how it ties in.

After Care Is Important - +300
Taking this drawback will mean your time in this sex world is extended by another ten years. Most people don't seem to think that that's a long time, but it is. I just thought I'd give you a little extra and help you some.

Hard To Please - +100
Uh oh Jumper, guess who didn't satisfy their partner~? You! That's right, from now on, you'll find it difficult to please any partners you have. How this manifests can be anything, from ejaculating to early, to not making them orgasm. All I know is that everyone you bone is not gonna have a fun time.

Quick Shot - +100
Oof, even I don't like doing this jumper, but oh well! You prematurely ejaculate now, and it's a bit of a problem for you. Not only is it embarrassing to most, but it also means your stamina isn't what it should be.

Gross Fetish, Ugh! - +200, Can be taken multiple times.
You may pick a fetish you actually like and everyone in the world will be disgusted by it. This will only make it to where it's gross when you specifically do it, but everyone else is fine with it. This disgust is on the same levels of scat and chunky lasagna puke, so it's going to take a lot of convincing for anyone to actually act it out.

Chud Behavior - +200
You're a chud bro, get it together. I don't actually know what a chud is, but it's a fun insult so you're one of them now. Probably incels, so you're on of them I guess. Good luck getting laid~!

Constantly Cumming- +300, +600
No matter the gender, you're going to be constantly cumming, just a little bit. This is slow, drawn out, and highly pleasurable. The worst part? You can't speed it up. You'll always be in a state of cumming whether you're fucking, playing pool, or even against a curse. For an extra 300CP however, I can pump this up. The cum coming out of you would be whatever viscosity it'd normally be, but now I can crank it higher, making you spew out a congealed cum noodle. Let me tell you, that shit is thick with cursed energy and your essence, so if you plan on fighting anyone, maybe bring back up.

Constantly Cumming, Electric Boogaloo! - +300, +600
This is like the previous one, but in the opposite direction! Instead of your cum slowly oozing out of your body, it'll instead blast out like you were taking a piss. This cum is a thin, watery mess that will cover anything it's being pointed at. Unlike the drawn out pleasure you'd get from the other one, you'll be tapped out in record time! For an extra 300CP however, I can up the pressure and production rate of your cum, making it where it's a solid stream of cum, where your body will constantly reproduce and shoot out. Because of how thin it is, the amount of cursed energy is little to none.

Celibacy - +600
You can't cum. Ever. Pretty simple. How this interacts with other drawbacks is up to you, but I'd caution taking some of them with this.

Big Ragga On The Loose! - +800
Mahoraga's been let loose on earth, and no one can stop him! On a more serious note, this worlds version of Mahoraga has been released from the technique, and is fucking anything and everything. If it's isn't stopped soon, it'll fuck everything to death. Good luck.

Notes

I hope you enjoyed my Jump. I have to say that actually working on something while not being insanely high was a pretty enjoyable experience. The Notes section is here to clarify some things on some of the stuff I have in the Jump, so if you made it this far, this should answer some of your questions.

The Setting: I didn't really have a good image for what an NSFW Jujutsu Kaisen world would look like, only that it'd involve killing cursed spirits with sex. I made sorcerers bad at sex cause a lot of what the original setting was that the history of Jujutsu Society was hindering the next generations and is partly the reason why so many sorcerers were either going missing or dying.

I tried to keep on theme with all the perks, but some of them might not sound like they fit, and I don't have a real way of fixing that without completely re-writing the whole perk line.

Origins:

The Outlier: The cost was something I was debating whether it should of been either 200CP like Born To Fuck or the price it is now, but decided on the latter for a few reasons. The reason why it is like that is because of the idea that being out of context in a world like this is extremely over powered, and not being bound by the laws of having to fuck something to death is a humongous advantage.

That's also why the Perk and Item sections for this origin are so powerful. Being a sorcerer is 80% genetics and 20% talent, and you've been given the best hand you could have gotten in a world that legitimately can't fight back without extreme struggle.

Cursed Techniqes:

A lot of the cursed techniques for the Out of Context section are inspired by some ideas I had that I wanted to see actualized or were based off of something I thought looked cool.

Discord&Dream Walking: These two were both inspired by Princess Luna and Discord from My Little Pony. The Dream walking isn't that powerful cause I'm pretty sure even in the show it was. Discord however is on the same level as something like Comedian, being able to do some bonker shit without much issues, but having some pretty big drawbacks if you ever did encounter them.

Chimeric Shadow&Cursed Spirit Infestation: These were modeled off of two essences I found on the Essence CYOA thread on Questionable Questing that was a similar concept. Simple as that.

Springlock: Bruh, this is FNAF. What else can I say?

Chimera: Okay, this is heavily based on the core concept Idea from a Webtoon Called Urban Animal. It's a pretty cool comic that I like a lot but haven't read in a long time, and I thought adding this could be cool. Chimera's in urban animal are old, and have been around since the beginning of life. You're like the protagonist, Joe Gomez I believe, being the direct reincarnation of Ralabast, the first life form to be made from nature. It's because of his ties to being Ralabast that he can change into so many different creatures.

The planet thing was added cause of places like No Man's Sky, a place with tons of different life forms on each planet.

Companions:

I dialed down the selection of Named companions due to not wanting to over stuff the doc. I INTEND TO MAKE MORE, so don't worry about that. It'll just be published at a later date due to the sheer amount of them I'm making.
