Ankoman Doujin JumpChain

V1.1

By ExtrAd (u/Extra-Ad-130)

Welcome to a world that is particularly deranged, Jumper. As you can see from the image above, this is a world that is depicted in the works of Ankoman, a hentai artist that focuses on writing netorare, gangbang, rape, shotacon, and several other fetishes.

While the artist themselves primarily writes doujins set in the world of Nasuverse, there are many other worlds set in the "Ankoman-verse"—including Ghost in the Shell, Taimaninverse, Re:Zero, KonoSuba, SSSS.Gridman, Goddess of Victory: Nikke, and even original settings such as the high school martial arts world of Moudokusei Martial Arts and Hendokusei Martial Arts or the fantasy world of Immoral Drop. This Jump allows you to, well, jump into any setting that is covered by Ankoman. Take these 1000 CP and have fun.

Discount Rules

As usual, all Perks and Items under your Origin are discounted by 50%, while those that cost 100 CP become free.

Age & Sex

You may freely choose your sex, and can choose your age to be anywhere between a child and an adult.

Origin

(Note: All Origins can be taken as Drop-In.)

1. Netorare Antagonist (Free)
   The most common origin in the works of Ankoman, the Netorare Antagonist is the type of person who only cares about sexual pleasure and conquest, and nothing more. Hell, many Netorare Antagonists have explicitly said that they would never take any responsibility for impregnating someone else. If all you want is lots and lots of consequence-free sex, then this is the origin for you.
2. Vanilla Protagonist (Free)
   The vanilla protagonist is usually the type of person who ends up being cuckolded or corrupted in Ankoman's works, but that is not always the case. As Yuta from SSSS.Gridman has shown, a vanilla protagonist can absolutely be successful in their journey to be with their love. Be a caring and loving person to others, and you may melt the hearts of those who have only known pleasure for their whole life.
3. Inhuman (-200 CP)
   Many characters in Ankoman's works are not exactly human, and you are now one of them. Your true nature depends on what kind of setting you enter, so you may be a Servant or a Phantasmal Beast if you enter Nasuverse, a demon or a Taimanin if you enter the Taimanin world, or a Nikke if you enter the world of Nikke. By default, you are a species or race that is significantly stronger than humans, but not enough to be considered anywhere near the strongest of the setting.
   This Origin can be taken with one of the other two above Origins.

Starting World

Rather than choosing a specific starting location, you can instead choose a specific setting to jump into, so long as it has been covered by Ankoman's works. Do note that most of these settings are not only far more sexualized than their canonical counterpart, but also has the genre of a netorare hentai, rape hentai, or even both at once. This may also cause the plot to move towards an entirely different direction due to all the porn logics. If the plot is even present, that is.

Perks - General

[Free] Ankomanverse:

Ankoman's works, just like any hentai works, are known to depict everyone and everything in a far more sexualized light. Women are incredibly beautiful, voluptuous, and clad in very tight and skimpy clothes as if drawn by a skilled hentai artist, men have a cock so big that can reach a foot long or more—though some are not as fortunate, and both are often far more lustful than any normal people. The world also runs on just about any porn logic that you can think of. Ejaculating lots and lots of semen? That's normal for a well-endowed man. Taking a huge cock up your ass, mouth, pussy, or all at the same time? All women can do that. Having sex all night long without tiring yourself out while pregnant? Easy. Naturally, this also comes with other benefits to remove potential problems during sex, such as fertility toggle and cleanliness toggle for everyone.

This even applies to you, giving you all these benefits depending on your sex. Do note, however, that unless you take certain other Perks, you are going to be "average" in terms of sexual endowment and sexual prowess—at least, within this world's standards. You can give yourself a cock that is as long as your abdomen, or a pair of boobs that are as big as your head, but you will not be much better than others who also have these traits. At least this prevents you from having a micropenis like some unfortunate folks in this world.

While these benefits may apply to you depending on your sex, the real deal is that you can bring these effects to future worlds for Free. You can even toggle the intensity of this Perk during the beginning of future Jumps, so if you want some hentai action without turning the entire setting into a world full of hedonistic degenerates, you can do that.

[Free] Character Toggle:

In Ankoman's works, Jack the Ripper is an adult woman through some weird circumstances, and Caenis and Mordred are perfectly willing to fuck someone despite supposedly being a man. Before entering a Jump, you can toggle the age, sex, and sexuality of its characters. Turn that homosexual person straight or vice versa, age up the minors so they become legal, turn the man into a woman or vice versa. Hell, you can even decide who gets to have a big dick and who gets to be a small-dicked cuck. However, you cannot use this Perk to make someone weaker or stronger than they should be. Everyone is as strong as they are in canon.

[Free] Sexual "Skills":

Any abilities, powers, and skills that you have can be repurposed for sexual activities. Your Charm Skill can be used to make someone horny for you, your pressure point techniques can be used to cause intense pleasure, and your skill in weaponry can be applied to your body parts to wield your cock as skillfully as wielding a sword or a polearm.

[-100 CP] Important Character:

Ankoman's works feature many faceless, generic-looking people (often men) whose only important trait is having a large cock. If you don't want to be just another faceless character, this Perk is for you.

For starters, you are incredibly good-looking, even by a hentai setting's standards. Whether you are a voluptuous goddess of a woman or a muscular, virile man, everything about your physical features is incredibly attractive—such that a love deity may want to snatch you for themselves or weep in envy at how gorgeous you are. The specifics are up to you, but your presence alone guarantees that people who are attracted to your sex will be attracted to you. Just be careful not to get raped in an alley, such things tend to happen in this world.

[-200 CP] Multitasking:
In a world like this, it is likely that you will be having sex or spending time with multiple people at once—and despite what Ankoman's works show, such things are not as easy as they look. Now, though, you don't need to worry about that at all. You are incredibly good at multitasking when it comes to romantic and sexual activities, being able to perform, focus on, and keep track of many tasks at once without a decrease in proficiency. Fucking one woman while fingering two others? Easy. Bringing those three women to a romantic date that they will never forget, while keeping track of their preferences? Also easy. Naturally, this also makes you incredibly great at managing multiple partners while preventing any internal conflicts due to jealousy.

[-400 CP] Porn Before Plot:
What good would having sex be if you still have to worry about defeating a world-ending monster the next day? This Perk removes that. You are now able to put a halt to the plot until you finish whatever it is that you want to do now, allowing you to have longer prep time or even ignore it altogether until after you've fucked everyone in town. Just remember: it only halts the plot, but does not remove it altogether.

[-600 CP] God of Hentai (Capstone Booster):
This is it. The Perk that allows you to conquer even cosmic beings using nothing but your sexual prowess. This Perk simply makes you better in terms of physical and sexual endowment and prowess compared to everyone else, and not even the likes of Gilgamesh can compare to you. Your sexual features and skills are such that even your presence alone can turn even the most detached being into a flustered virgin—even if they have millennia of sexual experience. When you strip naked, everyone that is attracted to you or your sex will immediately drop to their knees and find themselves paralyzed with lust. A few seconds of foreplay can turn even the strongest cosmic beings into a convulsing, whimpering mess. And when you actually fuck them? Let's just say that they are forever ruined for other potential lovers. And you can fuck them, with your stamina allowing you to outlast even gods and goddesses in bed.
"What about my physical prowess," you ask? Well, you are capable of temporarily pinning down a mythical demigod(dess) and putting them in the mating press position. You are even capable of breaking a legendary weapon with your bare hands alone, as if it were a flimsy stick. Similarly, any magical, spiritual, and other wells of energy that you have is heightened in both reserve and potency. You can even transfer these energies to all of your partners through sexual activities without worry of running out. This Perk is a Capstone Booster, and will boost the 600 CP Perks of each Origin.

Perks - Netorare Antagonist

[-100 CP] Bad Boy Charm:

Most Netorare Antagonists are not the most sophisticated people, with many of them being thugs and criminals. What they (and you) do have, however, is the charm of a bad boy/girl. Acting in an improper manner will cause even the most prudish people to be turned on by your act, as they imagine how rough you will be in bed. This applies to any acts that are considered improper, as long as it does not actually cause harm—such as dressing inappropriately in public or hitting on someone using crass words.

[-100 CP] Faceless Goon(er):

Many Netorare Antagonists in Ankoman's works look incredibly generic, so much so that nobody would actually remember who they are. Just like them, you can now blend in with a crowd so well, regardless of your true nature—making you unnoticeable like the rest of the background characters. However, being a 100 CP Perk, this Perk has its limit. People who are observant would be able to see through the Perk's effects, and this Perk does not protect you against magic or supernatural abilities that can see who or what you really are. Make sure to keep those people busy with mindbreaking sex.

[-200 CP] Hidden Sex:

Congratulations, you are an unmatched master of stealth, at least when it comes to sexual activities. Whenever you are fucking someone, reality will bend to ensure that you and the people you are currently fucking are hidden from public—even if you are fucking them just behind their lover. No magic and supernatural ability can discover any of you during this, although your sex partners will not know that, still thinking and worrying about being discovered—which instead turns them on even more.

[-200 CP] Do the Cigarette Thing:

Gentle sex is for small-dicked cuck, and you know that. You are a master of rough sex—being able to do things such as choking someone, biting and pulling someone's tits, or even crushing a poor cuck's dick between your massive, heavy tits—and the only thing they will feel is intense pleasure. Any pain and injury your partners would have had due to your rough treatment is converted into intense sexual pleasure. The only limit this Perk has is things that are straight-up guro or gore, like stabbing someone or cutting off their limbs. Those kinds of activities are too severe for this Perk.

[-400 CP] Devil's Tongue:
You are incredible at convincing people to do what you want them to do. Whether you are ordering someone to do an erotic dance for you, convincing someone to leave their lover, or coaxing someone to make a bad decision, your words will always pierce through their belief. Even a champion of justice and a merciless villain can be convinced to become your sex slave.

[-400 CP] Favorite Employee:
Netorare Antagonists are more likely to engage in a mass orgy, and it can suck to be unable to properly fuck your favorite person because everyone else already ran a train on them. Now, you can say goodbye to all of that. Amongst all your co-workers, you always receive the finest rewards depending on your performance—whether that reward is being first in line to fuck a defeated slut, being the favorite person amongst your hung master's harem, or even getting your own personal whore. This even applies to non-lewd rewards if you so wish to. After all, having a personal onahole may not be enough to put food on the table.

[-600 CP] "Plot" Armor:
Let's be honest, most Netorare Antagonists would have failed immediately upon trying to rape someone much stronger than them. But they don't because they have something akin to plot armor, which you now have. Whenever you set your sights on having sex with a person—whether through flirtation or even conquest—your chance of success is never less than ninety-percent. Planning to snatch someone away to fuck them? Their guard is down and they may be too drunk or horny to fight back. Using a hypnosis magic that has 0.1% chance of success? That chance is now 90% at least. All you need to do is put in the slightest bit of effort to enjoy your success, though more thorough planning may increase this success to a hundred percent.

[Capstone Boosted] Instant Win:
Now, this is just terrifying. Once per day, you may invoke the "instant loss" fetish upon someone you are confronting. This will "skip the time" and cause the target(s) to be instantly defeated, their clothes torn and their body too weak and horny to do anything as you have your way with them. You can apply this to multiple people, as long as you are confronting all of them at once.

[-600 CP] The Boss:
Maybe you don't want to be your boss' favorite employee. Maybe you want to be the boss. Well, now you can do that. Regardless of your Origin, you always enter the Jump as the boss of a local organization that has the territory of a large city. This also comes with all the necessary skills to run, manage, and expand your organization. The nature of this organization as well as the kind of people that exist in this organization is up to you, as long as they don't exceed peak human level in terms of abilities. Want a crime syndicate filled with rough, big-dicked men? Go for it. Want a talent agency filled with sexy naive idols who never tasted a proper cock before? They're all yours to fuck behind the stage.

[Capstone Boosted] The King:
Fuck being a boss, you want to be a king instead. Well, congratulations, you are now a king indeed! Similar to above, regardless of your Origin, you always enter the Jump as someone of similar status to the king of a large nation—whether that is an actual king, the leader of a large, multinational organization, or the president. Your skill in leadership is such that other kings in legends view you as an equal, as you are a master in everything needed to manage, guide, and expand your kingdom. You may even find that some of your subjects possess incredible potential to become someone as legendary as you are with proper guidance.

Perks - Vanilla Protagonist

[-100 CP] True Love:
Netorare Antagonists may be able to get someone in bed with brute force, but you know better. You are capable of truly and equally loving and caring for any partner you have. You will never forget anything about them, and will be able to give a hundred percent of your love and care even if you are in a relationship with dozens of people at once. This even applies to parenting as well, allowing you to be a good parent to all of your children.

[-100 CP] First Kiss:
The first times are often the most precious, and now you can experience that forever. Any romantic, sexual, and recreational activities that you and your partners have will always be as good as the first time you enjoyed it. You can even use this to make you and your partners stay a virgin—so their cock is always as sensitive as a virgin's, and their pussy is always as tight as a virgin's as well.

[-200 CP] Anti-NTR Sense:
Your mind is now fitted with a supernatural sense that warns you when someone or something is trying to destroy your relationship. You will know who or what it is that tries to ruin your relationship, as well as how to prevent it.

[-200 CP] Handholding:
A Netorare Antagonist may be able to make someone cum with their brutish treatment, but you know that is no way to treat a partner. Instead, you are a master when it comes to loving, passionate sex. You know how to treat your partners in such a way that not only do they enjoy the pleasure of sex, but they also feel the warmth of being embraced by a lover. You and your partners can also pour your love into sex to increase the pleasure all of you feel. The more you love them and vice versa, the more pleasure all of you will feel during sex.

[-400 CP] Redemption:
You are capable of redeeming just about anyone, your kindness and persistence slowly melting their cold, ruthless heart. You know how to help people through their issues, and can teach genuine love and kindness towards even the most evil being in the world. This also applies to sexual activities as well, as sex with you will heal any physical, mental, spiritual, and psychological wound within someone.

[-400 CP] Just in Time:
How many stories are there that depict the main character arriving just in time to save their romantic partner? Now, your story will be one such story as well. Whenever your partner is in danger, you will always be able to arrive just in time to save them as long as you put your best effort to reach them. Any obstacle will fail to stop you, and even time itself seems to stretch long enough just to allow you to free your partner from whatever danger they are in.

[-600 CP] Good Ending:
Most romance routes in Ankoman's works end up in disaster as someone being cuckolded away from their lover. Not anymore. Any romantic relationship you pursue is protected against potential ruins such as a Netorare Antagonist trying to steal your lover away. Mind control will fail, potential rivals will be a step too late, and even supernatural abilities of the highest order will fail to break your romantic relationship. No longer do you have to worry about the consequences of being in a netorare setting.

[Capstone Boosted] Fix-It:
Your sheer existence as a Vanilla Protagonist seems to slowly but surely affect the entire world you are in. Hedonistic people will start regretting their actions as they see how warm and happy your partners feel in your presence and care, and they may start leaving that life behind to try and get the same warmth from a loving relationship that you have—they may even try to be with you due to wanting your love as well. Any actions done by a Netorare Antagonist will start to slowly break down as your existence as a Vanilla Protagonist slowly destroys it and changes it into something more wholesome.

[-600 CP] Retconned Event:
Did you know that all the netorare events in Ankoman's SSSS.Gridman doujins have been retconned to just be hallucinations? That sure seems neat. Now, you can do that as well. Once a month, you can retcon any unwanted event, as long as said event is no bigger in severity than "my entire harem got stolen by a bunch of thugs". Your wife was fucked by an ugly bastard? Well, it turns out that was just a nightmare and the ugly bastard is actually a nice guy! Your boyfriend turns out to be a small-dicked submissive cuck? Well, that was just your negative assumptions, and he actually has a big cock.

[Capstone Boosted] Retconned Bad Ending:
What if the event you experience is far more severe than just a netorare scenario? Then this is for you. Once every ten years—or every Jump if it is shorter than ten years—you can retcon any "bad ending" that you can think of so that they never actually happen in the first place. The entire timeline is doomed because of the main villain? Retcon it away as a mere nightmare. Your partners are all dying? Retcon it away as a hallucination. You experience a chain failure because you die? Yep, retcon it away as well.

Perks - Inhuman

[-100 CP] Inhuman Powers:

Most non-human creatures—even a measly goblin—are still fairly stronger than your average human. With this, you too possess superhuman physical capabilities as well as a few other abilities in your arsenal, alongside the knowledge and control over your own abilities. The nature and strength of these abilities depend on your species. As a Nikke, you are most likely strong enough to be considered an SR Nikke—while as a Servant, you most likely can go toe to toe against Cú Chulainn in his Lancer form. As for the specifics of these abilities, fanwank responsibly.

[-100 CP] Just a Nobody:

How many women in Ankoman's works have lost because they underestimated a goblin, a thug, or a child? The answer is simply "yes", and people whom you fight will be amongst them too. That is because your opponents tend to underestimate you during any confrontation, believing you to either be weak, stupid, or both—which will allow you to land a powerful sneak attack or two. Even if you were to unleash your powers, they would still assume that to be your maximum output, unable to comprehend the possibility that you can go further.

[-200 CP] Gangbang:

Oftentimes, non-human creatures are not lucky enough to be born with overwhelming powers—and thus have to use numbers and teamwork to gain an advantage. And just like them, you possess an incredible skill in teamwork and coordination with your allies or subordinates. Whether you are fighting together against an army, working together to build a successful business, or even gangbang-ing a poor (or lucky, depending on their kink) person, you always seem to be able to coordinate and work in tandem with those on your side. This also gives a boost to your allies or subordinates, making them slightly better at working with each other and you

[-200 CP] Breeding Sow:
What is the point of possessing incredible powers if your descendants are all average? Luckily for you, your biological children always possess the abilities of both their father and their mother—including Perks if you want to. They may not possess the full height of these abilities just yet, but they are sure to get to your level somewhere during adulthood so long as you guide them. You can even decide which abilities will get inherited by them.

[-400 CP] Leader of the Pack:
If The Boss and The King make you the leader of a large territory, this one simply gives you the aura of a leader and the potential to be one. Your presence alone is enough to convince people that you are a leader and make them more willing to work for you, and any group you are in is more likely to choose you as its leader. The smaller the group is, the bigger the chance that you get, so while this may not significantly help your campaign to become a president, it will most likely get you appointed to be the leader of a small army. Both the aura and the potential scale with your actual skill in leadership.

[-400 CP] Thief:
As its name says, this Perk makes you inhumanly good at anything related to stealth—whether that be sneaking around, infiltrating a place, ambushing someone, or anything else you can think of. You are so good, in fact, that a legendary combatant will not notice you sneaking up behind them, allowing you to knock them out with one blow. This also gives a major boost to the result of anything you do with stealth. Infiltrating a place will reward you with either valuable information or a valuable artifact, while a sneak attack is far more effective against your opponents than it should normally be.

[-600 CP] Alpha:
You are now an alpha of your species, which means that you stand as one of the strongest within your species. You may not be the strongest yet, but you will easily be within the top 5 amongst your kind in terms of overall power. All your potential and abilities—especially those from the Inhuman Powers Perk—have been heightened to match this level, and any other species that you may be will be heightened to this level as well.

[Capstone Boosted] True Apex:
Why settle for being one of the strongest if you can be the strongest? Now you have become the undisputed strongest amongst any species you are a part of. Your abilities and potential ensure that for the most part, you remain the unreachable standard amongst your kind. Should someone manage to reach your level somehow, you can surpass them with just a bit of training.

[-600 CP] Tripped:
How convenient is it that some people in this world seem to trip over a rock during combat? Now, any opponent you face will suffer from this as well. They may occasionally make clumsy mistakes such as tripping or slipping, and are more prone to making reckless mistakes that will cost them the victory. And once they make this mistake, they will be stunned for a few seconds—which will give you a brief window to punish them for it.

[Capstone Boosted] Misfortune:

Did you manage to turn Lady Fortuna into your personal sex slave or something? Because it seems like any enemies you have constantly suffer from misfortunes, even when they are far away from you. These misfortunes may range from annoying to outright humiliating, but they will never be fatal or permanently debilitating. Of course, by default, these misfortunes are of the lewd kind. Somebody wanting to hunt you down may get lost in a forest of tentacle monsters, while the man who wants to one-up you by drinking a magical potion to make his dick bigger may instead get turned into a woman with big tits.

Items - General

[Free] Social Media:

This is your very own account for most, if not all social media platforms. This account is very secure and everything within this account can never be used against you in any way. This account is immune to inconveniences such as copyright problems, bans, and account deletion. You can even post erotic pictures and videos on this account and all you will see is people commenting to see more.

[Free] Phone:

This is a high-quality phone that has all the normal functions of a phone, as well as one supernatural function: its ability to automatically record and save any sexual activities you and your partners have done, even if you are not actually recording anything. The recording is always in high quality, and will always be as good as professionally-crafted porn movies and photoshoots. The phone has infinite storage for these recordings, so you don't have to worry about running out of space.

[Free] Cosplays:

This Item contains all kinds of mundane clothes, from casual clothes, formal clothes, cosplay outfits, and even fetish outfits—for you and your partners. All of these are comfortable to move, fight, and have sex in.

[Free] Apartment:

This is an apartment that can comfortably house dozens of people at once, such as you and your Companions. This apartment is soundproof so nobody knows what is happening inside, but this is otherwise a mundane apartment.

Items - Netorare Antagonist

[-100 CP] Money:

What you have here is enough money that you can use to live a luxurious life, go to the best club in a foreign country, and buy the service of its best whores. Even if said club is ridiculously expensive and all of its whores are stingy.

[-200 CP] Business:

This Item is a moderate business that constantly generates stable profit and grows even without your help. This may take the form of a gambling den or something else, but what is certain is that any customer that visits this place is guaranteed to make bad decisions that will cause them to be in debt to you. You can designate what kind of customers you get depending on your sexual preferences.

[-400 CP] Sex Club:

Congratulations, you have become the VIP customer of a sex club, which means that you will be given exclusive treatment, cheaper price, and other benefits that other customers can never dream of. Why does this Item cost this much CP, you ask? That is because this club is always filled with the major characters of whatever setting you are currently in, working here as its top-paid sex workers that are more than happy to serve you. Similar to the Business Item before, the characters that work here are the ones that fit your sexual preferences.

Items - Vanilla Protagonist

[-100 CP] Perfect Gift:

This Item takes the form of countless gift boxes that contain the perfect gifts for your partners. This gift is always automatically adjusted to what your partner desires and prefers.

[-200 CP] Lover's Rings:

A pair of marriage rings, matching scarves, sweaters, or something else. Whatever form it takes, this Item—when worn by you and your partner(s)—will cause all of you to be telepathically connected to each other. This allows you to sense any emotion they are feeling, the distress and danger they are in, or even where they are located specifically, even if they are stranded in a different dimension. Nothing and no one can destroy or take off this Item against someone's will.

[-400 CP] Protagonist Ticket:

Congratulations, you have become the main protagonist of the setting using this ticket! Whether this retroactively erases the actual protagonist's position so that you can replace them, demote them to the role of a side character, or even make you a second main protagonist alongside them, you are sure to enjoy all the benefits that come with being the main character of whatever setting you are in. This even gives you personal and political powers and skills comparable—if not the exact same ones—as the actual protagonist themselves, although unless you buy them with CP, you will lose them post-Jump.

Items - Inhuman

[-100 CP] Hypnotizer:

This Item can take the shape of anything you can imagine: a club, a phone application, or even a magical spell. However, their use is primarily for hypnotizing any target that it hits so they are more prone to performing lewd acts for you. Do note that this is not a sure-hit effect and can be avoided or countered, and that this cannot be used for anything other than its lewd purpose.

[-200 CP] Jumper's Den:

Congratulations, you have your own gooner cave! This Item takes the form of a small space—whether it be a spacious bedroom or a cave—that seems to always lure targets of your preferences. Anyone who enters this place—barring you, your Companions, partners, and other allies—will have their guard lowered and are more prone to be careless. They also have their powers reduced to a level just below yours, but they will never notice that even after you pin them down and fuck them senseless.

[-400 CP] Territory:

Forget a cave, you have your own territory now! By default, this Item will take the form of something with similar size to a medium-sized private island. That said, having better authority and leadership position may increase the size of this Item. Having the Perk The Boss may give you a large city-sized territory, while The King will give you your own kingdom to rule. This Item will have everything you may need for a luxurious lifestyle and will never run out of things such as food, electricity, water, and such. It is also filled with attractive people of your preferences and will attract such people as well. You may also combine this with the Jumper's Den Item.

Companions

[-50 CP/-200 CP] Old/New Recruits:

For 50 CP each, you can bring an existing Companion into this world or create a new one. Alternatively, you may spend 200 CP to bring in or create up to eight Companions at once. Each Companion receives 800 CP to spend on Perks and Items, and they may take Drawbacks that only affect them. They are not allowed to take Companions.

[Free/-100 CP/-200 CP/-400 CP] Canon Character:

Each time you purchase this, you gain the guaranteed loyalty of one existing character from the setting. For Free, you gain the loyalty of a character equivalent to a regular person. For 100 CP, you gain the loyalty of someone equivalent to a secondary character. For 200 CP, you instead gain the loyalty of a character equivalent to a major character with considerable powers. Finally, for 400 CP, you gain the loyalty of the main character or someone that stands equal to them, or someone equivalent to one of the strongest within the setting's power level.

Followers

(Note: Followers either get resurrected or replaced—whichever you choose—the next day after their death.)

[Free] "Gangbang"-ers:

Congratulations, you are now the leader of a large group of men or women—or both if you want to—that are all well-endowed sexually, and are always happy to fuck you or help you fuck someone in a gangbang. Their physical prowess are unremarkable, but their sexual prowess can make even a legendary hero scream in pleasure.

Drawbacks

[+0 CP] Supplement:
Perhaps the setting you want to enter isn't covered by Ankoman's works? If so, you can use this document to supplement another Jump, either by bringing your purchase to that Jump or merging the two settings. As usual, the CP pools are kept separated.

[+0 CP] Original Setting:
What if the setting you want to enter isn't covered by Ankoman's works and doesn't have its own Jumpdoc? Well, you can use this document to enter those settings, too. Do note that this alone will not give you any powers comparable to the setting's major characters. You can also enter an original setting with this. If you want to enter an original setting of your own desire and imagination, the power level of the setting is capped at a level similar to Fate/Stay Night.

[+50 CP] Extended Time:
With each purchase, you can extend the duration of this Jump for an additional 10 years. This can be purchased 10 times at maximum.

[+50 CP] Faceless Goon:
Everything about you is just forgettable, even if you have the beauty, power, and sexual prowess of a divine being. You can have sex with someone for twelve hours long and they will still forget your name unless both of you make an effort to truly know each other.

[+100 CP] "I'm not taking any responsibility!":
You seem to always meet unpleasant people during this Jump, the kinds that will hit on you, fuck you, and then fuck off without even asking for your name or paying for child support. Every now and then, you will even have the displeasure of meeting an actual rapist or creep.

[+100 CP] Average Ankoman Dialogue:
If you've read Ankoman's work, you know what this means. Everyone you have sex with is going to scream and spout sentences that are incredibly corny, even by hentai standards.

Something like, “Your divine sword is piercing my fortified baby room!” or “Your army of semen has invaded my egg!”. Good luck not cringing every time you fuck someone.

[+200 CP] Little Peashooter:
Remember what I said about those unfortunate folks with micropenis? You are now one of them. Your sexual features are so small that a literal child may be more well-endowed than you are. This applies even to your physical prowess and other abilities. You are so weak that a thug wanting to beat you up and steal your lover is a genuine threat to you. This also puts you at great risk of being a victim of netorare.

[+200 CP] Least Horny Hentai Character:
You are so horny, in fact, that not only do you need to have sex with many people at once every day to properly function, everything you think about is always related to sex. Your plan to defeat the main villain involves how to fuck them into submission, your vacation plan involves fucking a bunch of foreigners on the beach, and so on. Any temptation or hypnosis regarding sex is always dozens of times more effective on you.

[+400 CP] Disgusting Fetish:
Everyone, and I mean everyone, is into fetishes that are outright disgusting, if not horrifying for you. Things like shitting into a lover’s mouth or drilling a hole into someone’s skull and then fucking said hole are what you should be expecting. If you refuse to participate, everyone will think you are the weird one.

[+400 CP] Main Plot:
This is still a hentai setting, mind you. However, the main plot is now present and will keep advancing no matter what. Worse still, the plot is nearly immune to being solved in a sexual way. Good luck trying to get in bed with someone when everyone is locked in trying to save or destroy the world.

[+600 CP] Average Hentai Victim:
You can be a man, a woman, a sex god, or even a sexless being. It doesn’t matter, because now the world seems hellbent on turning you into a victim of a hentai scenario. Even the littlest mistake that you make has the chance of spiraling into a hentai scenario where you will be at the mercy of someone else. Only by being incredibly careful every single second and making as few mistakes as possible will you be able to avoid this fate.

[+600 CP] Ankoman’s Target:
Remember what I said about the world being hellbent on turning you into a hentai victim? It turns out that Ankoman themselves have realized your nature as a Jumper and made it their mission to corrupt you like they did to several worlds. They are an eldritch, cosmic parasite that latches on any universe they come across, corrupt and retroactively turn them into a world of debauchery, and feed on the lust produced by these corrupted universes. So strong are they, that even other godlike beings find it hard to even notice, let alone resist their corruption. Should you fail to get rid of this entity within this Jump’s duration, they will continue pursuing you across your Jumps—latching on and corrupting any setting you Jump to—and try their hardest to corrupt you until you manage to kill them.

Ending

Move On:

You've had enough fun in this Jump, but it's time for you to continue your adventures somewhere. Or maybe you just want to spread Ankoman's degeneracy into other worlds, I won't judge.

Stay Here:

Why would you go into another world when you can live out the rest of your life in this hentai paradise? You can choose to stay here if you want to, with all your Perks, Items, and Companions with you.

Go Home:

Either you are satisfied with all of your adventures, or you want to subject your world to Ankoman's influence. You may choose to go home, bringing your Perks, Items, and Companions with you.
