The Works of Aomizuan Jump

Jump by Dragonjek
Version 1.0

The doujin circle “Aomizuan” has a particular style to their writing and art—a style you’re going to become very familiar with, as you’ll be spending the next ten years in the world of Aomizuan’s hentai. No great plots exist in this world, no hidden dangers that threaten the survival of the human race. No, this is simply a world where ordinary people live ordinary lives, while the debauchery of this world lies hidden where those ordinary people can’t see it. Luckily, you aren’t normal, and so will have access to the depravity that goes on behind the scenes. You receive +1000 CP to spend on this jump.

Locations

You may freely choose your location, or gain +50 CP by rolling 1d8 to decide where you end up. Your location will also give you a loose idea of what your position is in this world (if you choose not to be a drop-in, at least).

1 – A World Where You Can Fuck Anyone (Alternative Earth):
Welcome to a world where sex is no different from saying hello. A world that came about due to one man’s dream, this is a world that doesn’t favor anyone in particular; sex is sex, and everyone is open to it, no matter who it is who propositions them or where they are. Family, friends, strangers, teachers, students… none of that matters at all, just sex. In such a wide world, you can have any sort of background you desire.

2 – Lewd Company (Earth):
How does this place get anything done? I’m sure you’ll wonder that question many times as you work here, because you’re a new employee at this lewd company. You see, they don’t hire based on the talents of those they’re interviewing; instead, they do careful background checks, and hire women based on how slutty they are, and their willingness to spread their legs for just about anyone. Nominally, it's to give women whose only talent and interest is sex an opportunity for a job. They also hire a handful of discreet men, whose duty is primarily to attend to the sexual needs of all the female employees without letting the public know what's going on inside. Fucking in the middle of the hall is completely normal here, and the very idea of fidelity is laughable. Apparently the business model is pretty widely used across the globe because of how lewd women are, they just keep it quiet.

3 – National Caesarean Academy for Girls (Earth):
This is a super prestigious college preparatory high school, isolated from the rest of the world by its vast campus. In its isolation, it's developed some strange practices, namely involving who it reaches out to invite to attend. Exclusively two types of students attend this school; those who are irredeemable sluts, and those who are harboring the inherent nature of a slut and who just haven't been inducted into depravity yet. On the first class, teachers start molesting their students, and because of the type of person the students are, no one raises any serious fuss or calls for help. Even when they start fucking the students, no one ever considers leaving or fighting back, because every student attending this place is inherently lewd and open to sex. That's some pretty impressive background checks… or the world of Aomizuan is just that lewd. You may be a teacher or student here; if a male student, then you are the first boy to be admitted, and are there in part because there's too many girls and not enough teachers to keep up with fucking them all.

4 – Nyotaijima (Earth):
First established generations ago by rich Japanese business leaders, this island isn't found on any map and is removed from satellite imaging, because it is an exclusive resort for the rich and powerful. The inhabitants of this island have been subjected to an extensive breeding program, resulting in a beautiful populace consisting of women who are inherently submissive and slutty, and of men who are all tiny-dicked and premature ejaculators. What's more, the islanders' sense of sexual morality and common sense is completely skewed, and nobody sees anything wrong with incest or casual sex with strangers, or even fucking in public. As such, they have no concept of rape, because nobody ever says no. The women's sense of pleasure has been greatly ramped up, to the point that the pathetic dicks of the natives is enough to easily please them, but the comparatively-massive cocks of the visiting guests can drive them crazy. What the natives don't know is that if they submit completely to one of the visitors, they will be given to that visitor when it's time to leave as a "gift" of sorts. You may be a visitor to the island, or a native.

5 – Other Island (Earth):
This unnamed island is like a twin to Nyotaijima. Its men are all tiny-dicked, its women are all gorgeous, with bodies and minds specifically bred for fucking. There is one major difference though; this resort island consists of people who still have the common sense expected of the Japanese. In their lives with their islander partners, this doesn't matter much, but once a foreigner appears and exposes them to mind-blasting levels of pleasure? They're forced to balance their newly unlocked sluttiness with their sense of morality, and so deeply ingrained is the breeding program on this island that morality always loses. Even if a group of students were suddenly raped by a stranger in public, their lust would prevent them from running away, their desire would keep them from fighting back, and their need for pleasure would result in them begging for more. Like with Nyotaijima, you can be either a native or a villager.

6 – Slave Market Mansion (Fantasy World):
This is the mansion of the monstrous man who is considered a king among slavers. He is constantly sexually pleasured, even while asleep. Those he fucks keep becoming loose, so no matter how good someone is he discards them as soon as he's done fucking them, to be given away to please animals or male slaves. In the morning, rows of slaves given drugs to make them lactate are laid out for him, and he walks on their breasts to soak his feet in their milk. This man only eats food that has been in the mouth or pussy of a slave, sits on "chairs" that are actually contorting slaves, and not a single moment of his life is not in some way, shape, or form, a sexual experience. He's an awful man, but a very wealthy one, and this is his home. You may freely decide your history in this world, and why you're standing outside the mansion. Maybe you're a slave, or a prospective buyer?

7 – Ushihijima (Earth):
This island isn't the result of an intentional selective breeding program, but a self-inflicted one. The people of this island believed that men should only breed with the "best" females, so entire groups of men would all sleep with the same handful of attractive and pleasing women, whose genes then propagated. And then from them, only the most attractive and pleasing were chosen, and so on for centuries, until they had managed to create the most beautiful and sexually pleasing women in the world. Unfortunately, by the modern age everyone is so closely related that they can't interbreed without violating their cultural taboo against incest, so all the young men have moved out of the island. Leaving the sexually submissive, needy, and inherently lewd women without an outlet. You may be a native, or an outsider who has freshly arrived, as you desire.

8 – Free Choice:
You may freely choose any location in any of the worlds listed in (Parentheses).

True Nature

What are you like on the inside? The outside doesn't really matter, so you can be any age or sex that you like.

Submissive Slut:
Your purpose in life is to be fucked, railed until your mind melts in pleasure and your hips quiver from endless orgasms. You bend knee to those more dominant than you, and you're meant to please their cocks and bear their children. It is your highest calling in life.

Dominant Master:
The world is filled with bitches just waiting for someone to make them spread their legs, and you're just the person to do that. You take what you want, when you want it, and damn the consequences… not that you'd find many consequences in a world like this.

Dude, WTF?:
Can we take a moment to look at this again? Be a submissive doormat who'll fuck anyone at the drop of a hat, or be a rapist asshole? Are those really the only options? What if you have, I don't know, standards? Or maybe you're a switch, or just neutral in regards to dominance and submission? And what's with those perks, anyways? Aren't they all just different ways of saying that all women are just living onaholes to be used by men? It's not like you go to a hentai jump expecting sexual equality, but really. What the fuck?

Perks

Perks are discounted for the True Nature they're associated with. However, if your True Nature is Dude, WTF?, then you instead receive 2 discounts for each price tier of 100, 200, 400, and 600 CP, which you may choose freely from any of the below perks. Discounts are 50% off, except for the 100 CP perks; those are instead free when discounted.

General Perks

A Skeleton? What's That? (Free for this jump, -50 CP to keep):
You might have noticed that people in this world seem to be a bit… bendy. They bend in ways that should snap their spines, their necks twist bizarrely (and are insanely long), or they have hips so thin that their organs should be squished. Hell, it's even possible to be fucked by a dick so huge it makes even your back bulge, with no indication of a spine getting in the way. While you're in this world, biology will no longer hinder your sexual exploits. If a position would be impossible to assume, such as due to ribs or the spine interfering, they just… don't. If something would be too large to fit in a pussy or mouth, it somehow fits anyway. If organs would be crushed from the size of penetration, they somehow survive. Hell, you could penetrate someone's pussy and your massive dick could go so far up their torso that they could give your bulge a titjob, and they'd still be perfectly fine. Want to nut in someone's pussy so hard that cum pours out of their mouth? That's now perfectly biologically feasible. Also, breasts act like water balloons for some reason.

If you would rather someone's anatomy behave normally, you can toggle this effect off.

Sexual Demographics (Free for this jump, -100 CP to keep):
Aomizuan's works are very clearly based on a certain portrayal of men and women, but that's not compatible with every jumper. Perhaps you want a world of dominant women who fuck their way through legions of man-whores. Maybe you want a world of only women, where alpha women cuck beta girls by lezzing their wives in front of them. Maybe you're fine with everyone existing as-is, but just want this jump to focus more on an island of submissive femboys for you to molest.

This perk allows you to alter the sex, sexuality, and gender demographics of a world. You can alter individuals, or you could change whole populations, or even apply changes broadscale to the entire jump setting. Don't worry about how people exist and reproduce if you turn the whole world into a gay sausage party; it just works out thanks to jumpchain fiat. And if you decide to turn the whole world into straight women with yourself as the only male… well, that somehow works too, and even if they've never seen a man in their life, they'll still be attracted to you. Or at least as attracted to you as any woman in a normal world would be. You won't even be considered to be a weird-looking woman, they'll just somehow know that you're a man and will be fine with that. So don't worry about people freaking out over your appearance or being "disappeared" to be studied in a lab somewhere.

This can also be used to switch which sexes qualify for certain social roles (for instance, in D&D there are several sex-specific prestige classes; this would allow you to switch who qualifies for such a class). It can likewise be used to allow for male pregnancies or alter a setting to operate by an Alpha/Beta/Omega sexual dynamic. This can also be used to introduce futanari to any world, and allows you to choose your own sex for free at the beginning of the jump.

Staying Myself (Free for this jump, -100 CP to keep):
This is the sort of world where people can have their entire worldviews twisted around by pleasure, and experience sensations so intense they'd abandon their livelihoods just to follow them. Maybe you want that, but in case you don't this will provide you with some degree of assurance in case you go through mind-blowing pleasure. Nothing you experience, be it extremes of pain or pleasure, is capable of warping your perspective on the world in ways that you, in your right mind, would not be accepting of. No amount of addiction can change your heart and interests, and you could experience extremes of sensation so absolute that your mind shatters, and still come out the other side as the same fundamental person.

Eye of the Beholder (-100 CP):
Maybe ugly people exist in this world, but you sure aren't one of them. You're gorgeous, pretty, cute, or handsome—whichever form of attractiveness you desire, you've got it.

But you're more than a pretty face, you've got a rockin' bod, too. You can freely determine how muscular you are so long as it's within the human limit, and your sexual attributes are amazing. As a woman, you have an outstanding ass and the tits you would best describe as "perfect", while a man will have a big dick (exactly how big is up to you, but A Skeleton? What's That? allows for a lot of leeway in how much penetration your partners can accept). You have incredible sexual stamina, enough to keep going for hours at a time.

Additionally, you produce a lot of sexual fluids. As a woman, you'll squirt a lot when you cum, and as a man you'll produce copious quantities of semen (even ridiculous quantities, if you want that much).

Finally, you may, at your discretion, apply parts or all of this perk to an entire setting when you jump into it, if you'd like to have a population that looks as amazing as you do. You can even apply it to only part of the population, such as making everyone of your preferred sex incredibly hot while those you aren't attracted to look completely normal.

Eternal Humiliation (-100 CP):
Humiliation can be an exciting fetish. Some love to be humiliated, and some people love to humiliate others. But there's only so many times you can be called a cow-brained meat toilet meant to guzzle cum before it gets tiring, instead of exciting. Now, you can ensure that the humiliation and embarrassment never gets old. You can freely render yourself or other people incapable of acclimating to sexual embarrassment, ensuring that even the hundredth time you fuck someone's wife in front of them, that they'll still feel just as ashamed and inferior and aroused as they did the first time.

Men Are Men, Women Are Women (-100 CP):
As such, it only makes sense that women would seek to be with the best men, and a man would want to be with all of the best women. People just don't find it strange or upsetting if you sleep around with many people or establish long-term relationships with entire groups of people at once. Jealousy just doesn't seem to apply to you when it comes to sexual or romantic relationships.

The Gift That Keeps on Giving (-300 CP):

Perhaps you're a dom, and see some very subby perks that you love seeing on your companions, but wish you could spread to others. Maybe you're a sub, and gave some nice domination perks to your companions, but wish you could enable a stranger to have the courage to walk up to you and fuck you in the middle of the subway. If that's the case, then this is the perk for you.

You are able to temporarily gift lewd perks and powers that your companions possess to people within line-of-sight; for instance, if you had a companion with Pervert Detection, you could give it to that nice hunk of man-meat you saw in the office, and he'd know how much you wish he'd jump over the desk and fuck you silly. Or perhaps you could just lend everyone you have sex with the benefits of Perfect Body. This doesn't take the perk from your companion, just gives them a duplicate. You may also opt to only gift an ability in part, so they only benefit from a specific portion of it. You cannot use this to give perks to yourself.

Submissive Slut Perks

Let's Do It (-100 CP):
You are always ready to have sex. You can't get tired or bored of sex; although you can intellectually decide to do something different, you will never reach the point of losing interest in erotic activities, no matter how frequently you do it. You can get hard or wet in an instant, if you so desire.

The Nose Knows (-100 CP):
You can sense how sexually compatible others are with you through scent. The better someone's genetics, and the more superior a child they would be able to give you if you reproduced with them, the better that individual smells. "Normal" or "inferior" people won't smell bad, but people whose genetics would combine with yours the best will smell very, very good. It might well be intoxicating, if they were a good enough match. You can disable this perk if you'd rather keep your senses about you, such as if a cunning enemy happens to have exceptionally compatible genes.

Natural Lubricant (-100 CP):
The women of Ushihijima are something else, aren't they? You have a peculiar trait of theirs, giving your saliva the consistency of lubrication gel. This not only makes oral sex vastly more pleasurable, but also allows for your saliva to be used as a proper lubricant, letting you have anal sex without worrying about keeping track of normal lube.

Aftershocks (-200 CP):
Whenever you have an orgasm, it will be followed up by a number of smaller "mini-orgasms" that come afterwards. The more full-fledged orgasms you have, the longer these mini-orgasms will continue. After a good sex session, you could be kept in a blissed-out state for a long time as the pleasure continues, even after the actual coupling is over.

The Hungry Womb (-200 CP):
Your womb knows what it wants, and what it wants is cum. Not only is it perfectly safe for a partner to penetrate your womb, but it is actually extremely pleasurable. What's more, you gain a bizarre level of control over your womb… well, subconscious control. Your womb will reach out to envelop cocks that grow close to it, and can suckle sweetly on dicks after they've entered it, and when they come your womb will devotedly milk the cock of any cum that may be left over, and will suck up any jizz that might have escaped into the rest of the pussy.

Hm? You don't have a womb? Don't worry, this perk will also affect the wombs of those you have sex with. What's that? Neither you nor your partner have wombs? That's no problem at all—this perk will also allow the deep inside of the rectum to be similarly animate, and even allows for safe penetration of the large intestine, should you have a partner with a sufficiently large cock.

As a side effect of this, your womb (or the womb of people you fuck) can now tell whether or not you want to have children, and will become fertile or infertile in accordance to your desire for kids.

Fucking Salary (-200 CP):
From now on, it isn't the skills that you bring to the table that determine whether or not you get hired, but how willing you are to be bent over that table and fucked. Although you don't actually need to fuck the interviewer, it is now your willingness to have sex that is the most important and determining feature that decides whether or not you get a job, not who you know or what you can do. If you'd rather be hired for your talents, however, you can turn this effect off.

Taking Advantage (-400 CP):
People just have a way of telling when you want to be fucked. When you leave yourself open and vulnerable, or otherwise are unwilling to fight back against sex, people who would be interested in fucking you can tell. And they'll take you, right then and there. Somehow, your partners never get in trouble for this, even if they fucked you in front of an entire crowd full of people.

But what if that's a bit too extreme, and you just want someone to feel you up? Or you don't mind the sex, but don't want them to make it so open that everyone sees it? Well, your molesters will never take this further than you're willing to go. You can also use this on a very low level to simply indicate to people that you're open and willing to establish a sexual relationship, and just waiting for someone else to make the first move.

Losing Consciousness (-400 CP):
The fact that you were just fucked so hard that you fell unconscious is no excuse for stopping sex. Falling unconscious no longer stops your body from acting. Although you can't carry out complex actions while you lack consciousness, you can still carry out basic, instinctive actions, such as fucking, fighting, or running, as may be situationally appropriate. You're guaranteed that your unconscious body won't do anything that you would regret when you wake up. Additionally, suddenly losing consciousness (be it due to a sudden influx of pleasure or due to being hit in the head) will never cause you health problems.

Rapid Pregnancies (-400 CP):
Like the women of Ushihijima, your pregnancies (and the pregnancies of those you impregnate) are insanely fast, taking only two weeks to reach completion. Well, two weeks normally. If the impregnator and the impregnated both love each other, then the pregnancy will be instead be completed in but two days.

All such rushed pregnancies are completely safe, cause no extra physical trauma, don't require extra food, and are so easy to recover from that you could walk home immediately after giving birth. Nobody will ever consider such quick gestation times to be in any way abnormal, and nurses will never insist a mother stay in the hospital when they try to leave right after giving birth.

Sexual Negotiation (-600 CP):

You are able to substitute sex for any form of dealmaking, monetary exchange, or negotiations. By fucking, you could seal a business deal. Give the cashier a blowjob, and you could get a meal for "free". Throw an orgy, and you could win over an ambassador. This does require it to be good sex, though. The less pleasure you give, the less effective your "negotiating power" is.

The Perfect Body (-600 CP):
Your body is brought to the absolute peak of sexual appeal. It's like you've been selectively bred to be as beautiful as it's possible to be, and your mouth, hands, and sexual organs are all perfectly suited to bringing sexual pleasure. Just looking at you is enough to rouse the interest of even someone who isn't interested in your sex; you are eroticism made manifest, with a universal appeal and subconscious allure that turns your every action into something people could quite happily jack off to seeing. And to actually lay with you is an impossible, sublime experience, and anyone fucking you would be ruined for other people after experiencing a taste of what you have to offer. But what they feel? That isn't even an inkling of the pure, absolute pleasure that seeps into your every pore at the mere moment of penetration, which is in turn nothing in comparison to the overwhelming sensations of actually fucking.

If you care to, you could dial the pleasure you feel down, but why would you want that?

Dominant Master Perks

Anytime and Anywhere (-100 CP):
If someone has, at any point in the past, been willing to have sex with you, then they'll also be willing to have sex with you in any circumstance. It doesn't matter where they are, what they're doing, who they're with, who's watching, or whether or not they've actually given their consent this time, they'll always be ready to go, and it won't take much to get your partner hard or wet for you.

Pervert Detection (-100 CP):
This world is filled with degenerates who long for sex, any kind of sex, from anyone. You have a preternatural ability to locate such people. You can immediately tell from looking if someone would be opposed to you molesting them or if they'd just take it, whether they'd be fine with you doing everything up to penetration before objecting, or whether they'd accept absolutely anything you did to them. Excellent for picking out targets who won't raise a fuss over you fucking them.

A Pleasure to Please (-100 CP):
People enjoy it when you enjoy yourself. In general, this makes people a little bit happier when they make you happy, but this is much more noticeable when it comes to sexually pleasing you, particularly when it comes to oral sex. The taste, the texture, the scent, of your genitals are all top-notch, to the point that people will genuinely enjoy going down on you just for the sensations alone. And that's before the act of servicing orally sends jolts of electric pleasure down their spine, and if they do a good enough job blowing you, they might well cum from the sensation of that alone.

Exhibitionism (-200 CP):
Why should the fact that you're in public keep you from having fun? Nobody will ever put up any serious objections to you fucking them in public, and it's more likely that they'll get off to the stares of other people than find it embarrassing—or rather, what embarrassment they may feel only enhances the experience. You also somehow never get in trouble for having doing lewd things out in the open, even if you do it on a crowded train full of people.

Like Mother, Like Daughter (-200 CP):
If you loved fucking the mother, wouldn't someone descended from her and you just be an even better match? Your children will always be of a sex and gender you are attracted to, and when they grow up, they will start to feel sexually attracted to you. You and those you have sex with will never experience any problems from incest; there will be no social stigma against you for it, there will be no genetic abnormalities, and the subjects of the incestuous relationship will never experience any trauma over the perversion of their family bonds.

The Natural Response (-200 CP):
When people you are attracted to see you naked, they have a single response; desire. This doesn't mean they'll act on it, but no one will ever be repulsed by suddenly finding you standing around naked, regardless of your appearance. People who see your genitals instinctively want to please them. And remarkably, they all tend to be very good at it; even a complete virgin would have sex with you with skill reminiscent of an accomplished whore, simply by operating off of their instincts.

“No!” Becomes “Yes!” (-400 CP):
A very common trait in Aomizuan’s work is someone initially objecting to sex, only for them to wholeheartedly embrace it once they experience its pleasures. This is now something that you can reproduce. When you give someone sexual pleasure, they will always desire more. Even if you raped them or forced them to experience that pleasure, it will still ignite the yearning to experience more of your touch. And the more pleasure you give them, the more they will want more of it, until whatever part of them was opposed to fucking you is completely overwhelmed by their desire for you. You could rape a complete stranger, and as long as you keep it up for a while, they might very well follow you home afterwards in hopes that you’ll do it again. At the very least, this guarantees that no one will ever hold a grudge against you for raping them, as they’re more likely to be outright grateful to you.

What’s more, this has a curious effect on others. The more you give someone pleasure, the more the people around them will also want to feel pleasure from you. So if you raped someone amidst a group of their friends, the friend group would stick around to watch, and that would turn into them actively helping you or trying to get you to fuck them next.

May the Better Man Win (-400 CP):
Isn’t it annoying when you see a beautiful woman, only for it to turn out she’s already in a relationship? Fortunately, you don’t have to worry about that anymore. You become very convincing and know exactly the right sort of argument to make to get your way; this effect is only increased when it comes to convincing someone to cheat on a partner or spouse.

Furthermore, if you have sex with someone who is loyal to or loves someone else, you will be able to realign their loyalty and love to point towards you the more pleasure you give them. Blow their mind with enough orgasms, and a formerly-devoted fiancée would cheerfully dump their former beau in favor of you. What’s more, those who’ve been cucked in this manner will never retaliate against you; alternatively, they might attempt to do so, but such attempts will always be rebuffed by the very person you’ve stolen from them.

Spread the Love (-400 CP):
If they loved having sex with you, then isn't it only fair and just that they try to spread what they enjoyed with everyone they care about? When you have a sexual relationship with someone, they'll want to share the experience with whatever friends and family they have that you would be attracted to. They'll work to seduce them into fucking you, and when doing so can serve as a channel for whatever charisma or seduction perks you have, allowing them to more easily convince others into fucking you. If their friends or family refuse, or they just aren't able to convince them, then they'll also help you have your way with them against their will, if you so desire.

Cum for Me (-600 CP):
You are good at sex. Ridiculously, amazingly good. As soon as penetration happens, orgasm is inevitable. Actually continuing to thrust will introduce your partner to heights of passion and pleasure that would give a good reason to pause, and you know how to drive even the most resilient of partners into a paroxysms of pleasure intense enough to force anyone into ahegao'd unconsciousness. Of course, you don't have to go full-tilt from the start, and have enough skill to keep your partner from ever orgasming, keep them in a state of continuous orgasm, or even force them to stay awake, conscious, and sane as you make them experience pleasure beyond what their minds were ever meant to feel.

Commanding Presence (-600 CP):
You are a man amongst men, and women exist to be your fuckholes and your breeding sows. People can instinctively feel this; lesser men will be willing to do almost anything you want in order to appease you, and women, feeling an instinctive need to submit, will carry out your orders as though they were your loyal followers. This won't necessarily make them do something out of character, though, so if you want to turn legions of women into your harem of devoted slaves, you're going to need some other perks.

Of course, what if you aren't a man? Then of course the inverse happens, and men and less dominant women will do almost anything you want.

Items

Items are discounted by 50% to the associated True Nature. Those with the Dude, WTF? nature can instead take 1 item of the 100, 200, 400, and 600 CP price tiers at a discount. Discounted 100 CP items are instead free for all True Natures. You may also import similar items into any of these at no additional cost, or merge together sufficiently similar options (such as a Company that has an Excellent Day Care in it to take care of all the babies the staff is having). All consumable items will replenish after a week unless stated otherwise. Any items that are lost, stolen, or destroyed will reappear in your Warehouse after a week's time.

General Items

Excellent Day Care (-200 CP):
If you're anything like the men of this world, you're going to rack up quite a lot of lovers over the course of your stay here, without much attention paid to protection—hell, plenty of people here fetishize having more children. This daycare, which you may place anywhere in the world or access via your Warehouse, serves as your own personal place to store your children. It is staffed by "NPCs", which are capable of providing for all the physical and emotional needs of children placed in this daycare. It is capable of providing for any number of children without ever seeming to expand in (external) size, and is able to provide 24/7 care for any children given to them. You are able to dictate to the staff how the children are meant to be raised, and can freely alter any of the details of their education or treatment.

Company (-200 CP):
This is a business very similar to the Lewd Company location, but this company is entirely loyal to you, and you can determine the sexes, sexualities, and genders of the people that make up your establishment. It somehow stays afloat despite almost all of its workers fucking constantly, and actually makes a lot of money; in addition to everything needed to keep it in the black and ensure everyone gets paid, you receive the equivalent of 500,000,000 USD as your yearly payout for your ownership of the company. What services or goods the company focuses on providing is up to you.

School (-200 CP):

This is a large, high-quality educational facility. Somehow, all of the students that come to this school are absolutely down to fuck anytime, anywhere, and have no concerns over being molested in the middle of class. You can determine the makeup of the staff and students to fit your desires. Furthermore, this school is capable of teaching very nearly anything, including skills that were available to teach in previous jumps. You are the ultimate arbitrator of what gets taught at this school.

Island (-200 CP):
This is an island of absurdly and inherently lewd people. It's up to you if it is more like Nyotaijima, the Other Island, or Ushihijima, but regardless it is quite large and home to a large population. These islanders are all loyal to you, and you may freely decide what their culture, religion, and demographics are like. Over the course of many generations, the people of this island have been selectively bred to be the perfect sexual partners for you; they all possess the Perfect Body perk, and are mentally, culturally, and biologically conditioned to behave in a fashion best suited to sexually pleasing you. If you have any other properties, you may merge them with the Island, turning all the inhabitants of those properties loyal to you, allowing you to determine the demographics of that property as you desire, and turning all the inhabitants of your properties into the perfect sexual partners for you.

Submissive Slut Items

Island Food (-100 CP):
This is a continuously-refilling supply of delicious, freshly-cooked island food. But the dishes are all mild aphrodisiacs, and consuming them regularly will increase the size of your sexual attributes, your sexual stamina, and how much sexual fluids you release.

Lactation Drug (-200 CP):
This is a drug which induces almost-immediate lactation in anyone who ingests it, regardless of the state of their biology (or lack thereof). Quite a lot of milk is produced, too. The production of milk fades after a couple hours, though.

Oriental Love Drug (-400 CP):
A peculiar substance, this oil-like drug is applied to the genitals (slathered over a cock, or poured into a pussy). It doesn't cause pleasure to the person it's given to;

however, it does increase the pleasure caused by that person, sufficient to induce mind-breaking ahegao with a strong enough dose.

Permanent Marker (-600 CP):
This looks like any other simple black marker, but has a special quality. Anything written by this marker becomes true. It doesn't alter reality or affect inanimate objects, rather having an affect on the mind and on common sense. For instance, you could write down that your are the personal fuckmeat of [insert name here], and everyone would consider this to be the truth, excluding those who you specifically exempt from the effect. It is only capable of making rules regarding sexual matters. The marker comes with an eraser, which is the only substance that can undo the statements made with this marker.

Dominant Master Items

Company Stimulant (-100 CP):
A stimulant provided by a certain lewd company, it provides effectively infinite sexual endurance and nigh-instant sexual recovery time, allowing a few small handfuls of men to satisfy an entire building full of extremely lustful women.

Human Furniture (-200 CP):
Like a certain king of the slave markets, you have a number of people at your beck and call. These are all "mindless" NPCs, incapable of thought or individuality, who only have the purpose of serving as living, human furniture. How precisely this works is up to you. They might outright transform into furniture, have their bodies compressed into the shape of furniture, or groups of them might contort together to form what vaguely resembles furniture. Regardless, they will carry out their duty without ever becoming exhausted, needing care or upkeep, or even talking to you, being perfectly content to serve as furniture. There is enough people for a full household worth of furniture.

Slave Market (-400 CP):
This is a large slave market, specially designed to service your desires. It will have a host of miscellaneous, unimportant, no-name NPC-type characaters from both your current Jump and any past jumps. Furthermore, whenever you kill someone, they will appear in the market's slave catalogue as an option to purchase, and if you buy them will be brought back to life as your slave. All slaves purchased from the market become followers who are bound to loyalty and are incapable of turning against you; however, they also lack any significant powers they may have possessed in life. This Slave Market becomes an attachment to your Warehouse, and doesn't seem to do business with anyone except you and those you permit to purchase from it.

Luck Drug (-600 CP):
This is a marvelous drug. You only receive a small supply of it, and it doesn't replenish; however, its effect is permanent. In short, taking this drug will increase your luck. The more you take, the stronger the effect; take the entire container, and you're going to live a blessed life for the rest of your existence… although this effect is primarily in regards to sexual luck, with only secondary benefits regarding "normal" luck.

Companions

Unless otherwise mentioned, all companions receive a True Nature of your choice as well as 600 CP to spend on perks and items. The sex of the OC companions is assumed, but you may freely change the sex and sexuality of companions upon purchasing them.

Personal Meat Toilet or a Master of Your Own (-50 CP):
By purchasing this option, you may either import an existing companion or create a brand new companion from scratch. You may purchase this multiple times, but if you spend 200 CP, then at your discretion you may optionally increase the number of companions imported and/or created to up to 8.

Your Own Personal Onaholes (Free):
If you have sex with anyone in this world and they agree to accompany you, then you may bring them along with you as a companion once the jump is over.

The Perfect Little Victim (-50 CP):
This woman isn't a typical companion that you bring with you on your jumpchain; indeed, if you purchase her then she doesn't count as a companion at all. Instead, at various times over the course of your chain (and at least a few times each jump), you'll find this individual; a woman who is open, vulnerable, and almost unbearably attractive. Everything about her from her speech to her stance to her appearance seems to invite you to take her, and no matter what you do to her, she will never give more than cursory complaint or superficial objections, and they are deeply masochistic and into the kinkiest and nastiest things imaginable. For some reason, you never get in trouble for whatever you do to her, whether that's kidnapping her in public, raping her in front of a police officer, or even more repulsive things. Even if you kill her, she will just reappear later, just as quietly exposed and vulnerable and eager for whatever you want to do as she was before.

Indecent Office Worker (-50 CP):
This office lady is irredeemably lewd. She's slept with every one of her coworkers, married or otherwise, and openly reads porn in public. She keeps her job only because she eats out her boss on a regularly basis, and only puts in a modicum of effort because she wouldn't be able to afford H-games if she doesn't get at least some income. She's fine with being a sub or being molested, but she doesn't have a problem with taking the lead herself, and can dom with the best of them; she doesn't care, she just wants to get fucked. She's also something of a matchmaker, and likes pairing up other people (or tripling up, or quadrupling, or…). Remarkably, she actually has degrees in both accounting and finance, even if she really doesn't look (or act) the part.

Hot for Teacher (-50 CP):
He isn't a teacher at Caesarean, but then again that isn't the only school with a similar teaching paradigm. He focuses on university-level education, where he puts his degree in social sciences to good use… at least, when he isn't fucking his students. Still, even with his openly lewd behavior in class and how he often interrupts class to fuck whichever student caught his attention, he still manages to convey enough information that the majority of his students pass the class—and he even doesn't adjust grades based on sexual favors! Somehow, even on less lewd worlds he still manages to never get in trouble for his behavior.

Troublesome Tomboy (-50 CP):
This suntanned student is the star of the basketball team despite being on the shorter side. Although they really wish they had bigger breasts, a lot of that is just because most women in this world tend to be on the larger side; on a "normal" world, they'd be average in size. In their heart they are overwhelmingly desirous and lewd, and although they didn't make it into Caesarean Academy, it wasn't due to having the wrong temperament. If they just encountered someone who would ignore courtship and public morals and just rape her on the spot, the most she'd ever do is suggest that it wasn't appropriate, while secretly yearning for it to happen again.

Big Dick Boss (-50 CP):
He's aggressive, he's dominant, and he knows what he wants—and what he wants is you. This individual is the type of guy who people instinctively submit to because of the sheer charisma and authority he exudes, but instead of wanting to dip his dick in every willing—or unwilling—cunt he can find, he wants you with the passion of a thousand burning suns. No matter how good you are at sex, he's better, and he wants to bend you over your bed and fuck you until you forget your own name.

Loving Wife (-100 CP):
This woman has the misfortune to have married a small-dicked, premature ejaculator in a hentai world. Although she loves him dearly and consciously avoids thinking about cheating, her body yearns for more. Just the hint of desire or force on your part would have her yielding in moments, and once you fucked, her voice would be filled with apologies to her husband for having fallen in love with your cock. She won't resist further depravities in the least, and in fact might very well be the one to suggest to you that you be the one to take her twin daughters' virginities.

Keep fucking her for a while, and she'll be the one to float the idea of showing off to her husband the pleasure she's receiving, and she'll lovingly inform him that his pathetic cuck-stick doesn't matter anymore next to what you bring to the table, but that she'll always love him as her dear husband, even as she kisses him with cum-stained lips. The husband will never fight back. She, and her spouse and children, will come along with you on your jumpchain in a single companion slot.

Born for You (-100 CP):
This individual was always intended to be your lover. They are the result of millennia of selective breeding to produce someone who is physically, mentally, emotionally, and spiritually matched to you, and have been raised since infancy with the expectation that they'll grow up to be your fucktoy… or, if your interests lean that way, they've been learning domination techniques since as early as they could remember, secure in the knowledge that they were meant to push you up against the wall and have their way with you. Without supernatural powers, it's impossible to find someone who is a better sexual match for you than this individual, and they always have a way to turn any powers they may acquire into something that can make sex with you even more enjoyable than it was before.

You may purchase this companion more than once. At your discretion, you may, instead of creating an entire individual as a companion, instead apply this as a sort of "template" to a different companion, including importing a companion into this option.

Drawbacks

You may take drawbacks for additional points. There is no limit on the number of drawbacks you can take.

Supplement Mode (0 CP):
If you don't want to experience this world, but would like to bring the sexual atmosphere with you somewhere else, you can use this jump as a supplement to a different jump document. Just be sure to keep track of all the points separately, and ignore the Locations section of this jump.

Nature of a Slut (+100 CP):
You have the soul of a slut. You want sex. You need sex. It doesn't matter who, and it doesn't matter what. What's more, you're submissive; you want to be taken, you want to be used, and you don't care about the consequences or social repercussions of that compared to the raw pleasure and degeneracy of fucking. You may optionally not be consciously aware of this, but will still react to things like a super-slut would.

The Daily Grind (+100 CP):
You either have a job that you're required to work at for 8 hours a day, or you have a school you must attend for 8 hours every day. It's impossible for you to avoid this; you are fiat-backed to attend. If you graduate from school, you will immediately be provided with a job opportunity. You are exempt from work/school on Sundays.

The job or school you attend will be an utterly mundane one, and lewdity when you're supposed to be working or studying will not be accepted.

Micro Dick/Tiny Tits (+100 CP):
You've got a miniscule penis or small boobs, in a world where every appreciable character has a heaping helping of size in either of those categories. Whatever perks you may have that help with sexual skill or pleasure are also weakened in potency. Try not to think too hard about how having small boobs makes you worse at sex.

Vengeful Lovers (+100 CP):
Whenever you have sex with someone who is already in a romantic relationship, their lover, girlfriend, husband, fiancé, or what have you will find a way to get revenge on you. This might be petty vengeance, or it might be quite dangerous; it all depends on what the cheated spouse has available to them. They will always consider you to be at fault more than their own spouses.

Constant Sex (+200 CP):
Like a certain slave market king, you need to be doing something sexual at all times of the day. You need to sleep with your dick in a woman, can only eat foods that have been inside of a person (Such as drinking breastmilk, or eating food that was shoved up a pussy before being served to you), and might need to get some straps to attach someone to your body so you can fuck them while you walk around. If you spend more than 5 minutes not performing some sort of sexual act, or if you eat food that has not been sexualized in some fashion, then you will lose access to all of your perks, powers, and items from outside this jump for 24 hours.

Don't Do Rape (+200 CP):
If you have sex with someone against their will, there will be consequences. You might get reported to the police, they might try to kill you themselves, relatives might try to avenge them, or you might even just have to live with yourself as they break down crying, or you're forced to watch them commit suicide from despair and shame. Regardless of the precise details of how it happens, if you rape someone, you will experience the consequences of your actions.

Once, and Only Once (+200 CP):
You can only have sex with any given person a single time. Oh, you can fuck them a lot in that one session, but after that specific sex session is over? It's done forever. They just aren't arousing to you anymore, and your body's physiology acts to prevent you from fucking them again.

From a Woman to a Female (+200 CP):
You wholeheartedly believe in the sort of male/female relationships shown in Aomizuan's works. Women are there to be fucked by men; men are meant to violate and impregnate women, which is what they really want on the inside.

The Common Sense of Nyotaijima (+200 CP):
You think of sex as a perfectly normal, everyday thing… no matter who the sex is with, whether it's public or private, or whether or not your partner has consented. You are incapable of seeing anything wrong with public sex, with rape, or with sex with the underage. There are places in this jump where this won't make you stand out, but do you really want to think like the people in this world?

Slavery (+300 CP):
You are a slave in the fantasy world created by Aomizuan, as seen in the Slave Market Mansion location. Your life is hell, and you can freely be put through tremendous abuses by your master without any regard for your wellbeing. For instance, your master might order you to be fucked by 50 barnyard animals, then lay your cum-bloated body out for him so that he could experience the sensation of cum pouring out of your body as he steps on your bulging stomach. As a small mercy, nothing you're put through will ever be enough to kill you of its own accord. For the first year of your time here, your powers and items will not work (except for the freebies from this jump), and you will be bound to service to a master as violent, pleasure-obsessed, and uncaring of his slaves as the slave market king.

r/BadWomen'sAnatomy (+300 CP):
Jesus *Fucking Hell, is Aomizuan violently opposed the concept of human anatomy or something? Where is the spine? Where are the organs? How does his neck twist like that? What the hell is up with those breasts? Why does cumming in her pussy make it spew out of her mouth? Why the fuck is her back bulging from penetration?

Normally, biology is set aside in this jump, and anatomical impossibilities won't get in the way of your pleasure and enjoyment. But now? Expect to see realistic consequences. Oh, you can keep your massive dick if you like, but now you'll be causing organ damage when you use it. When you bend women into bizarre poses, their spine will snap. Squeezing those water balloon breasts will cause agonizing pain.

Powerless (+300 CP):
In a world like this, there's no real need for those powers you brought in from other jumps, is there? You lose access to all of the perks, items, and powers you obtained from other worlds. If taken with Constant Sex, then going five minutes without sexual interactions, or eating non-sexualized food, will result in you losing access to the perks and items from this jump, instead of out-of-jump features.

Conclusion

And so you have reached the end of yet another jump. All drawbacks end, and regardless of which decision you make here, you can bring everything you've earned in your jumpchain with you to wherever you go next. Do you…
