Emergence

Written By Rosie

Introduction

Pretty similar to where you came from, huh? The world of Earth, 2013. Cities are bustling, people are living, business is booming and the world is slowly dying. Not really any different, really. This world, when you look beneath the surface, seems to be darker and really rather grim. People rarely meet happy fates, relationships don't end well, good people don't get to lead good lives. But for the nasty guys that take advantage of others, this place might as well be a dirty little heaven all for them

For the next ten years, this will be your world of residence. You have 1000 Choice Points (CP) to spend on fun things for yourself.

Location

Whatever origin you pick, you'll be starting in Tokyo, capital of Japan. It's an enormous place where you can find just about anything you want if you look hard enough. It also happens to have a sizeable underground community of criminals. You'll start in an area of Tokyo close to where Saki lives

Origins

Pick one of the following origins. Your age is free choice, same with gender. You can choose a background but take the history of another background if you just want the discounts.

Innocent

The young and the pure, you've not yet seen the cruel reality of this world. Just another student, finishing up school. You've probably got a few friends, a reasonably happy family and maybe even a nice boyfriend of your own. But you also have a bad habit of finding yourself in lewd situations, such as people attempting to trick you into screwing them or drugging you now and then.

Thug

You're no innocent, that's for sure. You're more like one of those nasty guys that takes advantage of cute young guys and girls that don't know any better. You might be in high school yourself as a student or have already graduated to the world of grown ups. Either way, you'll find you often make reckless choices that get you into minor debts with less savoury types, though it's usually pretty easy to pay most of these guys off, especially if you're willing to take a criminal path yourself.

Street Girl

Perhaps you weren't born on the streets but you've grown quite accustomed to them even still. You're one of the many young people selling their bodies in the darker side of this world. From a whore scraping by on the streets to a more lucrative escort or soapland girl or even the personal pet of some big-shot criminal, you've long since sold the majority of your dignity and certainly every last bit of purity. Not that you mind much, as you'll find the work to be quite enjoyable and even lightly addictive should you begin it through here.

Grown Up
You look like you're above all these silly young people screwing each other and getting high but really, you're just the one profiting off of it the most. You're a real adult, not just some young guy high off his mind abusing his girl, and you know how to really twist this world to help you out. You've got an apartment and reasonable job of your own, though you do notice that much younger people keep tempting you to indulge in your darkest fantasies, even if they do it completely unaware of what they're actually doing.

Perks
All 100CP perks are free for their origins and other perks are discounted for associated origins.

Innocent
Princess- 100
Stunning, my dear. People look at you and can't help but stare. You're just naturally that adorably cute and pretty. Like a princess out of a manga. It's not all natural of course, though a great deal of your cuteness in look and action is, but your skills with makeup are good enough that it's almost as easy as if it was natural anyway. You have a brilliant and extensive knowledge of how to do makeup and beauty treatments to both yourself and others, to get you looking your very best. And somehow, you can get that makeup to last looking good even through very vigorous physical exertion and not run because of tears or drool.

The Value of Innocence- 200
It's not something that can be measured yet holds a value beyond almost anything else. Your innocent is a very desirable thing and now it appears that everyone around you can detect it, subconsciously or not, and react appropriately.The more innocent you look and feel, the more other people seem to believe you matter. Just looking ordinary won't change anything but looking like a pure and refined young lady will see people tripping over themselves to give you small favours and help you out for the sake of helping someone so clearly nice. Of course, it also means people really value seeing you fall too, if you ever happen to be in the need for an immediate and hefty favour or resource.

Down The Rabbit Hole- 400
So easy to fall. So easy to be corrupted. The world abounds with chances to sell your body or soul out for earthly pleasures, though few get quite so many chances and offerings as you do. When you want something or need something, you'll find that you get chances and opportunities to gain it pretty easily and even in an enjoyable way. You won't be able to obtain truly absurd things for your situation like a Japanese high-schooler becoming the President of America but getting more cash, a nice car, screwing over your rival hard and maybe a few more major favours are all possible. But these chances don't come for free. In return for the prizes you can obtain, you need to let yourself be corrupted. A night of compensated dating, selling your body to the school principal, turning tricks for a crime boss, marking your skin or selling out a friend. The acts that ruin your body, mind and soul will now bring you many rewards in exchange, tempting you always further along.

Good End- 600
This is not a pleasant world. It is a world that might seem dark and fated for only bad ends but maybe around you, it needn't be so. You have a good fortune in you that gently guides you down the good paths of life, off the bad paths and even influences those around you. People are kinder to you, bad men realise they just can't keep hurting you, people seek you out to apologise and make up for bad things and you have a general good fortune. Perhaps the lowest of the low see you and think back to the few people they once cared for, before their lives became devoted to handing out suffering. Even if you've been trapped in a truly awful situation, a hero will appear to drag you out of the dark. All you need to do for a good end is keep hoping.

Thug

Handsome Devil- 100

Something wild about you boy, any girl could see that. There's a roguish charm you have to go along with your really quite handsome looks, something that makes you look bad enough that people want to rebel by going out with you and find you attractive yet not bad enough to give anyone suspicious feelings. In fact, you just don't feel threatening or suspicious at all unless you try too. It makes it a lot easier to get people to trust you, even if they don't fall for your modern good looks.

Circle of Friends- 200

A lot of people talk the talk but when it comes down to doing something nasty, they can't do it on their own. When they're with a group though? It gets so much easier to forget how evil you are acting. You excel to a superb degree at getting people to follow this herd mentality, making things that would normally be abhorrent seem justifiable and normal so long as the group is big enough and the victim is small enough in comparison. You and your friends can go wild all night long on poor, isolated homeless people and not even feel any guilt. They're just society's trash right? Your new friends won't even blab to people outside the group if you can get them to go along with the act, even if they regret it later.

Do It For Me- 400

Like a fox in a den of chickens, you find that there really is just no end to all the prey in sight. People are far too trusting and you are far too good at taking advantage of that trust. When it comes to charming, seducing and tricking others, you can easily entrap people into all sorts of schemes, from sending them into gambling debts to hooking them on drugs to just getting them vulnerable and suggestible for a night of some lewd fun. You're especially good at noticing the insecurities and weak points a person has and taking advantage of them. People are generally like putty in your hands, especially if you use some chemicals to make this even more effective. Notably for you, the more innocent, naive and young your target, the more effective you become at this to them.

Filthy Lucre- 600

Money money money, where oh where can we get some money? There's a honey there, she looks like she can really rake in the cash. Why not take a try for her? It's not like you ever have bad luck when it comes to getting money, so long as you use dirty methods to get it. You're blessed by some sort of sadistic god of wealth, to the point that you'd end up quite wealthy indeed should you try to make a fortune by preying on other people. Tricking your girlfriend into selling her body? That's some good cash to live on. Stealing the savings of some poor homeless woman saving money to get a better life for her and her growing child, determined to change her life after years of suffering? Like winning a small lottery, babe. It'll keep you living large for at least a couple weeks.

Street Girl

Sensual Form- 100

What a nasty body. You were made to tempt the gaze of men away from nice girls, weren't you? Curvy and thick in the right places, yet slim enough to remain attractive and athletic. The sort of body that guys can bounce around all night and yet still has the stamina to keep going. You're alluring and enticing in not just how you look but how you speak and move. Plus, the more you fuck up your body, the more attractive you'll find other people think of you, even if that's just in terms of how hard you make them instead of how much they want to treat you nicely. Get yourself a tan, pierce that skin, a few obvious tattoos and you'll have men lining up round the corner to be with you.

Your Place In Life- 200

Few girls find themselves as naturally gifted for carnal acts as you. Every twitch of your fingers bring men to bursting, a few seconds with your tongue can make any girl squeal and a night with you brings customers back again and again. You're a true natural for fucking, no matter what style it is, and can easily please any partner and instinctively learn new methods to do so as well. To complete the act, you can effortlessly fake pleasure, interest and enjoyment no matter what kind of disgusting thing you're doing. Though sometimes you might find it hard to tell the difference between fake and real yourself.

Bred Tough- 400

The life you lead is far from easy, especially these days. More than a few times, you've been thrown out with the trash in a back alley once your client has finished with you. Sometimes, you've needed to rough it out in the streets for a few nights. That's not even getting into what some of the parties you've been hired for have made you do. But your body, somehow, keeps holding out. That body of yours can take an absurd amount of stress and harm, all the while remaining healthy, fit and wonderfully tight. Constant whoring yourself out, taking hard drugs every day, even letting client's do particularly rough stuff with you, it just doesn't appear to truly hurt you. Even getting addicted to something isn't that big a deal, since you deal with withdrawal so easily. You can stand sleeping out in the cold without any worries, find even normally painfully uncomfortable seats or beds to be fine and just don't get infected with diseases, even if you might be sucking the source of them down your throat.

A Darker Path- 600

You wanna drench yourself in sin huh? Drown in filth and bathe in misery. It's not just the fucking anymore, not even the drugs. You love the misery of it all, the pain and humiliation and loss. But going too far is dangerous, isn't it? Some things you can only do once. Yet, you're lucky. You can keep falling and throwing yourself away…and it'll keep coming back to you so you can enjoy it all over again. Even if you defile every inch of your body, abandon friends and family in the pursuit of pleasure, even bring yourself to the brink of death for fun, you'll find yourself making your way back to how you once were. Purified in body, your loved ones reconnecting or finding new ones, even finding a new home and life. Not that it'll last for long. We both know you won't resist going back to that black hole of self-hate again and again and again.

Grown Up

Fine Old Man- 100

Didn't expect to see such a handsome older guy coming in here. You're no fat old fucker this time. You're actually quite attractive, even in your older age, and surely have no shortage of suitors if you aren't already married. And maybe have some even then! Not only do you have a handsome, reliable countenance but you also give off a parental feeling towards younger people. Girls might see you as the father they never had, the sort of guy they want to rely on when they see their own parent as so useless. Perhaps guys might look up to you as a motherly figure, if you're a girl yourself, and treat every word of praise you give as a precious thing, never thinking you might have ill intentions. Other adults just think you're a fine, upstanding member of society, even if they maybe shouldn't.

Pressure Cooking- 200

It's amazing how little stress some people can take. Push them just a little too far and they fold completely. For someone used to being in authority and power, you find it all too easy to make use of such things against others. The more status, obvious wealth and power you have, the more the people around you that have less are cowed into submission. You find it easier and easier to pressure them into doing things for you, especially if you start making threats, bribes or just messing with them. How can some poor school kid hope to say no to you when you offer so much money and keep pushing her down? Even if they don't want to now, they'll go along with it. They'll say they were scared but really, they did want it after all.

In The Blood- 400

A family man with a great family plan. Any person that is part of your direct family seems to lead quite fortunate lives. They grow up to be beautiful, talented and happy. They don't encounter unfortunate situations or bad people often at all and you rarely need to worry about their safety no matter where you live. They also happen to have a huge blind spot when it comes to you, thinking that there's no way you don't love and care for them as a person in your role should. Your wife will just wave away any belief she might have that you're raping your daughter in the next room, even if she can hear it. Just playful wrestling. And your daughter? She might be miserable at first but in time, she'll come to love you in a different way.

Never My Fault- 600

You find it quite ridiculously easy to get away with crimes and awful things, the evidence always just seems to get missed or ignored, maybe you get chances to pay people off, the witness might get too scared of you or people just don't care to investigate, even as the victim suffers and cries out for justice. Even when you are caught, often people will explain it away and let you off with a slap of the wrist. Mitigating circumstances may arise or the cops might mess up the evidence and get you off scot-free by accident.Sometimes they 'll even blame the victim. How could you be expected to not take your slut of a girl that way when she dresses like that? You'll never find your reputation, relationships or name marred by the accusations, even if they're true, so long as you weren't actually proven guilty of anything or it doesn't become public knowledge. Leaving you to keep enjoying the brat that thought they could stop you having what you wanted.

Items

All 100CP items are free for their origins and other items are discounted for associated origins.

Everyone gets a 200CP item stipend.

Innocent

MONMON Mag- 100

The latest issue of your absolute fave fashion magazine that just came out this morning. It's filled with designs that are just the cutest thing on you, every article looking almost like it was designed to fit you perfectly. Better yet, the magazine offers super cheap orders for all the clothing you see in here and they arrive in just a days' time too! A new issue will arrive at your door each week in case you didn't find anything interesting.

Pay Dates- 200

A special little phone app that almost seems out of this world. In case you don't have a phone already (What kind of student are you?), we'll give you one too. This app is the premier in compensated dating, a site that lets you get in contact with all sorts of guys that'll pay good money to take you out on a date. Unlike normal, the app you have lets you customise what sort of guys you want to meet and almost always meet them, as long as you're not asking for a specific person or something unnatural. A cute 20 year old that only wants to treat a nice girl to a meal and chat for an hour before parting, while paying you a few hundred dollars for the service? Count me the fuck in.

Well Off- 400

Rare it seems in these times to have a happy family but none can deny how loving your parents are to you. You hail from a very well off family, one that's got a hefty amount of finances and easy enough jobs that you always had Dad and Mom there to spend time with you together. Happy, loving and very protective of you, yet not so much that you'll ever feel restricted. If you happen to get in trouble, they'll make sure to send some people to keep you safe. Perhaps they're a bit more wealthy than you realised.

Thug

Home Away From Home- 100

Every one needs a place to crash at the end of the day, especially if your parents just kicked you out for being a lazy bum. This squat little apartment block should serve nicely, especially since the old landlord made sure to make all the rooms soundproof. It's not a great place really but the neighbours aren't violent and no one really comes around to check if people are selling drugs out of the place. And hey, apparently you don't even need to pay the rent to be here. Guess you did a favour for the old man running the place once.

Sex Friend- 200

She's as cute as a puppy and a lot more fun to play with. This young, beautiful lady thinks she's your girlfriend and truly believes that you adore her in turn and only want the best for her. Not that you likely do but she's dumb enough that she can't tell you're whoring her out, even if you force herto constantly earn you money and smack her around when she fails to deliver. She's good at the earning too, given how amazingly talented she is at her work. If you ever feel bad about what you do to her, I'm sure she'd be ecstatic for you to treat her nicely too. On the other hand, if you happen to break her permanently or lose her, you'll find yourself very quickly meeting a new girl in the same situation, falling head over heels in love with you.

Black Bar- 400

An older friend bit the bucket and surprise surprise, he left you his business in his will. At least that's what you got told, you didn't think the guy was much for wills. This bar is a pretty nice joint, a little dive that does fair business among thugs and lower end criminals. Enough to float the boat. The real cash comes from the small but steady drug trade you have going on through the business, complete with both buyers and sellers of reliable natures. The authorities largely overlook your business, helped by a couple of them dipping their fingers in, and every now and then you'll find a young adult or a teen comes in through your doors to serve as a new customer. Not that they know it yet. Put in some work and this smallish drug operation could start growing a lot bigger.

Street Girl

Happy Pills- 100

Heeey, you got the good stuff? Why don't you share it around, especially if you have so much. It's practically spilling out of your pockets! A seemingly limitless supply of little pink tablets with hearts of them that greatly enhance the pleasure and pain sensitivities of anyone that eats a tablet. They're not even addictive, though the pleasure they give might be. Reach into a pocket and you'll find some in your hands. Now and then, you might also find a little baggie of white powder, the real hard stuff, for if you want to get really crazy. But that's pretty rare.

Serious Savings- 200

Here's your special funds for rainy days and total disasters, a secure and secret locker filled to the brim with cash. Anywhere from 50 to 500 thousand American Dollars worth. Not bad for a whore, doubt anyone would expect you to gather so much on the street at least. It's' enough to change someone's life or at least make an attempt. Best of all, you'll find that these lockers appear near you whenever you're broke out of cash or in desperate need of funds, though never more than once a month. People tend to not come near the locker too, especially when you're opening it.

Clientele List- 400

A very important list for anyone of your occupation, you've got a little black book and a contact list on your phone filled with the contact details, general information and preferences of dozens of wealthy clients, the sort that are not only just obsessed with you and/or the various fetishes you might fulfill already but are also quite free spending with all that wealth they have. It's about as easy a life as you can expect in this line of work. The contact lists also detail some handy places and their contact details/addresses, ranging from clothes shops that suit your general aesthetic to an underground clinic that quickly, safely and cheaply takes care of any unwanted nuisances you find inside your womb.

Grown Up

Family Home- 100

A pleasant little home in the suburbs, what every family man dreams of one day having. It's a medium sized house you have, well furnished and decorated. Pleasant to live in but what makes it actually enjoyable is the gorgeous wife and daughter that live here with you. Wife and daughter? That's right, you can choose to be a married father with this. They're easy to live with, mostly support themselves but can be a real pleasure to be with, whether you're being a good parent or just using them for their bodies.

Heart Heart Hotel- 200

A sizeable building in your possession this is. It used to be a mid sized hotel, able to house a couple dozen people without much issue. The last owner converted it into a good-sized love hotel however, one with a reputation for good service, good rooms and good secrecy. Hard to argue with that when the profits went up so much. The staff here take care of business without much interference from you needed and you can easily rent out a room whenever you like. Some users of the business can get quite rowdy though, so rooms might need repairing now and then.

Real Power- 400
Instead of concerning yourself with stupid things like a daily grind in an office job, you aimed from childhood for the real good stuff in life. Through a combination of a well connected family, well connected school friends and various illegal means, you've situated yourself in a cushy position high up in the government or a large company. It pays very well, even ignoring the many kickbacks, bribes, special treatments and other dubiously legal or outright illegal benefits you gain from that status. You barely even have to work too, leaving you with plenty of time to enjoy all that money.

Companions
Import- 50
There's no need to fall alone, why not bring all your friends down with you? For every 50CP you spend here, you can import one of your old companions into this jump or create an entirely new person, customised to your whims. Either path lets the companion take one origin for free, with all the associated freebies and discounts, plus 800CP to spend on perks and items for themselves

Canon Friends (Freebie)
If you can convince them to come with you, you can make them a companion. Making someone believe you're a world traveller and they can come with you is going to be pretty hard ithout any magic

Drawbacks
You can take as many drawbacks as you want

Naive Girl- +100
Oh, dear girl. No one really has good in their hearts. They're all selfish, just being nice so long as it suits their purposes. But you're so determined to see the good in people that you just keep missing the bad until it's too late. You're like a innocent little child that never got out and saw the real world. It's not a state you'll grow out of while you're in this world, so hopefully others can look out for you.

Big M- +100
Every little cut, every smack, every shove, it just makes you get redder and redder. Pain, physical or not, awakens a dirty thing deep inside of you and just makes you lose control of yourself totally. You love it and you just can't get enough. Maybe that might be controllable but people around you keep finding out about this. You might be terrible at hiding how someone hurting you makes you cum like crazy or you might just keep ending up in really terrible situations but most people you spend time with quickly become aware of your fetish. Sadly, a lot of those people might seek to use it against you.

Young, Dumb and Full Of Cum- +100
Ahahaha~, doesn't that just feel greaaaat? Those sweaty bodies rutting together, the hot breath clouding your mind, the rush as your body works towards one of many climaxes? Just one chance to savour that delicious situation will never be enough, you'll always need more. You're obsessed with sex, addicted to the act of copulation, and you'll become more and more erratic and wild the longer you go without going a couple rounds with someone. Your standards will start dropping pretty fast too.

Blackmail- +200
Haven't been that careful with where you get off, have you? Some mean guys got a handle on some embarrassing photos of you that'd really ruin your social life and probably any prospects of honest work you can expect here. They might even result in some legal charges if you're not the sort to shrink at the idea of social ostracism. But as long as you keep the pervy guys that got the photos happy, they'll keep it a secret. Of course, they'll always pass it on to some other friend, just in case you try to take care of them or the photos in a sneaky way, and pushing it too far can result in them releasing the blackmail just to see the reactions.

Drugged Up- +200
That little white dust of pleasure are just too damn good. Every hit sends you straight to heaven. Or wonderland. Or wherever the hell else you want to go in your imagination. You took too many though and got a pretty raging strong addiction going. You'll need to keep getting a hit every few days at most or you'll find that your physical and mental health begins to rapidly deteroriate. You can't wean yourself off the pills either and the stuff you like isn't cheap either. At least you'll find no shortage of supply of your particular fix in this city, provided you can pony up the cash.

Lovey Dovey Couple- +200
Is he really the person you want to be with? Even though he clearly doesn't care for you, pushes you around, takes your stuff and straight up hurts you to take out his anger? I guess love is blind after all. You'll find in this world that you have a bad habit of falling in love with abusive jerks, the sort that completely take advantage of you and that you can't help but stay with them or fall in love with another guy like this later on, if you somehow manage to free yourself from this nasty spiral. At the very least, none of these guys seem like the type to hurt you bad enough to kill you. Maybe there are some limits after all.

Bad Debt- +300
Mistakes were made, greedy ones created from your endless, reckless pursuit of immediate pleasure. Now you've got some very nasty criminals wanting you to pay back a very large and ever-increasing sum of money or else face some lethal retribution for it. The significant criminal gang you're in debt too wants you to pay at least a few thousand a week, a lot more if they know you can handle it, and they're very happy to start breaking things if you can't keep up the payments. Or just take you out for good if they think you're done for.

Filthy Hobo- +300
There's no one left to take you in. Through bad luck and bad choices, you've ended up poor and homeless, a situation that won't be fixed for your time here and overrides any home or money you might have. The best you'll ever be able to find is a temporary place for a few weeks in a homeless shanty town and you'll rarely keep more than a hundred or two dollars a week even if you're stealing it. A life of crime could make it easier to live but that'd be so much more dangerous. Can you really make a life living in the houses of clients or victims for a few nights at a time?

Determination- +300

There are some things, some decisions in life, that you need to make a stand for. Things that you know there can only be one answer that is right. Things like the fate of your own child. You've found that you are newly pregnant or that you have a romantic partner who is pregnant with your child. Maybe it's happy news, maybe it's an unwanted burden, but you must now set your will in stone and protect this new life. To continue on from this world, you must ensure that this wonderful thing that has come into being within you is born safely and grows up safely and happily. Their life needn't be perfect but at the end of your time here, the child must be healthy in mind and body and happy with the life that they have actually led. The child must have a truly happy childhood, even if bad things happen, and they must have it with you. Not that it'll be easy, as the child attracts misfortune to you and themselves like flies to a fly-zapper. But with their mother's determination, maybe they could live.

Ending

And the decades comes to the end. Time to choose where you're off to next.
Do you want to Go Home to your original world?
Do you want to Stay Here and spend your life in a world so similar to what you came from?
Do you want to Continue On to a new world?
