V 1.00 By DeverosSphere

In this world martial arts battles and magic are commonplace, four young Xiaolin warriors in training battling the Heylin forces of evil to prevent them from using the Shen Gong Wu for evil.

Typical events revolve around Dojo the dragon, Omi, Raimundo, Kimiko, and Clay racing to find a specific Shen Gong Wu and preventing the Jack Spicer, Wuya, and/or Chase Young from using the magical objects for evil.

This often results in a magical duel called a Xiaolin Showdown for possession of the artifact.

When Omi, Kimiko, Raimundo and Clay reach the rank of Shoku Warrior they must uphold their duties while training a new Xiaolin Apprentice and seeking a new Xiaolin Temple.

General Perks:

It is a Xiaolin Showdown - Free
Whenever the ownership of an object is contested you can challenge the other claimant to a mystical battle over the object.For the challenge to be confirmed each participant must bet something of relevant value with the winner gaining both the object and what was bet in the battle.
To start a showdown, at least two combatants are needed, and they both/all must touch the object they are fighting for at the same time and you must state that you challenge them to a Xiaolin Showdown.
Once the challenge has been verbally issued, both participants must state their wager and only the items waged in the Xiaolin Showdown may be used during the showdown.
The one who issued the challenge must set the goal for winning a Xiaolin Showdown can be anything including racing to reach a target or fighting to be the last one remaining in the arena, it is often, but not always, inspired by the environment in which the showdown is fought.
If a showdown challenge is denied, then a short negotiation can be entered to come to an agreement but if the challenged individual still refuses to participate they will be warned that should they continue to refuse it will count as a loss for them.
Once the participants have agreed to the showdown they will be pulled into a Mirror dimension reflecting the area they were in but it will be altered to suit the challenge.
This transformation often enhances whatever environmental hazards are present and makes the location more arena-like, even to the extent of providing a suitably-distanced platform for spectators.
After the showdown, the participants return from the mirror dimension and the winning warrior(s) get to keep the Object they were fighting over, and the Items that were wagered as well. The loser must accept the outcome without objection.

Xiaolin Trainee -100 CP
You have gained knowledge of Shaolin Kung Fu, the martial arts from the Shaolin Monastery temples in China, and one of the oldest, largest, and most famous styles of kung fu.
You also gain a variation of techniques and movements relating to any Xiaolin Elements you have unlocked.
Your body now also contains Chi, a form of spiritual energy that can flow through your physical body to enhance it. Overusing your Chi will make you feel tired but it will be restored over time.
For reference in this document Chi is the internal life energy and the use of life energy internally, Aura is the use of life energy on the outside of your body, Ki is the use of life energy externally and Qi is the use of life energy on others.
From channeling this amount of Chi through your body you should be strong enough and durable enough that you can cut through steel with your bare hands.
Each of the upgrades to this perk increases the amount of Chi your body holds.

Xiaolin Apprentice -100 CP [Requires “Xiaolin Trainee”]
You can now use your Chi as Ki in order to summon your Xiaolin Elements. This also allows you to combine your Chi with any Items you have in order to enhance the item's abilities.

Wudai Warrior -200 CP [Requires “Xiaolin Apprentice”]
You can now use your Chi as Aura in order to form your Xiaolin Elements around your body like Armor or an extension of your body. This also allows you to combine your Chi with any Powers you have in order to enhance their abilities.

Shoku Warrior -200 CP [Requires “Wudai Warrior”]
You can fully use Chi as Chi, Ki and Aura simultaneously in order to transform your body into and out of your selected Xiaolin Elements. This also allows you to combine your Chi with any Perks you have in order to enhance their abilities.

Xiaolin Dragon -200 CP [Requires “Shoku Warrior”]
You can fully use Chi as Ki and Qi allowing you to externally manipulate your selected Xiaolin Elements through your motions and movement. You are able to combine your Qi with others to strengthen them and implant it within objects in order to create new Shen Gong Wu. This also allows you to apply any selected Xiaolin Elements in other systems of power you gain in other Jumps such as giving you access to a corresponding elemental path of spells based within a magic system.

Origin Perks:

Judolette Flip -100 CP [Free for Dragon of Fire]
You have an incredible instinctive sense of balance than even a highly trained Olympic gymnast could accomplish, allowing you to perfectly balance yourself on any object, no matter how small, narrow or unstable it may be. This could be used to walk on tight-ropes effortlessly, do handstands on the edge of deep cliffs without any form of vertigo or fear and can even be used to walk across a constantly shifting landscape while keeping a perfect equilibrium as though it were a leisurely walk down a flat road.

Xiaolin Trainee Boost:
You have access to the Xiaolin Element of Fire and you gain the Xiaolin Colour Red.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
Your inner balance is now perfect allowing you to control all the energies within your body with precision even those that would otherwise be unstable or dangerous. This allows your mind, spirit, body, and all other facets of yourself to converge at a central point leaving you synchronized and harmonized in every aspect of your being allowing you to reach your truest self. This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on fire like the Hanabi Star or on balance such as the Mantis Flip Coin.

You won't be needing this -200 CP [Discount for Dragon of Fire]
Whenever you have the advantage over your opponent you will be able to tell what tools they can use against you in order to escape or turn the situation to their advantage.

Xiaolin Apprentice Boost:
You can imbue any tools or items that you intend to use against your enemies with your Chi in order to hide them from your opponent until you use it.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
Any item or object that does not contain its own life energy can be imbued with your life energy allowing you to manipulate it at any distance and perceive its surroundings as though you were the object. This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on other objects such as the Glove of Jisaku.

Wudai Warrior Boost:
You are now able to combine any items with your perks and powers allowing them to gain a copy of that perk or power for whoever uses it.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are now able to combine as many items as you like into a singular object with each component object becoming an Alt-Form for the item.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on combining multiple parts such as the Ohwah Tegu Saim.

No you can’t make me -600 CP [Discount for Dragon of Wind]
Whenever someone or something attempts to alter your mind either through manipulating your thoughts or controlling your mind you will be able to push back against it knocking the point of origin and resisting its effect.

Shoku Warrior Boost:
You are completely isolated and protected from all forms of manipulation regardless of if it is mental, physical, spiritual or another type. When the person who is attempting to alter you they will instead interact with a fake that has no effect on you.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now enter the dreamscape, mindscape, soulscape and other equivalents of yourself and others in order to interact with the person either to help repair their mind or harm it.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on someone's Identity such as the Indigo Pyramid.

Seismic Kick -100 CP [Free for Dragon of Earth]
Your body and mind are now more capable of enduring physical stress than they otherwise would be able to. Your body tissues are now six times denser with you gaining the amount of strength required for it to not affect your movements. Your mental capacities allow you to tolerate far more hunger, thirst, extortion and physical pain without consequences.

Xiaolin Trainee Boost:
You have access to the Xiaolin Element of Earth and you gain the Xiaolin Colour Orange.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are now able to channel your Chi into your body in order to replace your bodily needs allowing you to completely replace your need for food and water. Additionally focusing your Chi into a wound you have, you can completely heal yourself going so far as to even regrow a limb. Got a rope of two up his sleeve -200 CP [Discount for Dragon of Earth]
You are able to summon ropes at will and have complete control over their movements. This allows you to use them as lasso's or as tendril-like appendages.

Xiaolin Apprentice Boost:
You are now able to create these ropes from your Chi in order for them to be made of your Xiaolin Elements and enhance their capabilities.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
Any of the ropes you create can now function as an extension of your body increasing their durability and allowing them to benefit from all of the perks and abilities you have.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on rope such as the Lasso Boa Boa.

So long as I get the dog -400 CP [Discount for Dragon of Earth]
Whenever you are looking for something you can activate this perk in order to show you the shortest path to what you are after. When activated this will show a glowing path that only you can see that would guide you towards what you are looking for.

Wudai Warrior Boost:
Whenever you attempt to find something that is in a more complex location rather than just getting a glowing line you also gain a mental step by step guide with the required timing for each step allowing you to go so far as to even get the required steps to create your own philosopher's stone if you can follow them.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
This perk is no longer limited to only finding items and can now be used on any goals. By designating a goal and activating this perk you will get a step by step guide as above with the supplemental information needed to accomplish it.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on finding things such as the Falcon's Eye.

The cactus all look like kin to me -600 CP [Discount for Dragon of Earth]
You are able to comfortably survive in desert conditions increasing your body’s adaptability to hot and cold environments by 10 times so that a normal person is able to hold fire and ice with little discomfort.

Shoku Warrior Boost:
You are now able to use your Chi to create a barrier around yourself allowing you to protect yourself from any environment including deep sea pressure and zero atmosphere environments.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are now able to actively adapt to any environment you are in, allowing your body to gain features and abilities that benefit you and strengthen you going forward.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on environmental protection such as the Black Beetle.

Praying mantis slapping mosquito -100 CP [Free for Dragon of Wood]
Your physical movement speeds are all sextupled allowing you to move at six times your normal speeds without increasing the level of difficulty. This means that you would have the same level of excursion and control over your movements and muscles running at 120 MPH with the perk as you would at 20 MPH without it. This perk does not increase your reaction time so you will be required to focus more on your action and where you are going to prevent accidents.

Xiaolin Trainee Boost:
You have access to the Xiaolin Element of Wood and you gain the Xiaolin Colour Green.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
Rather than simply increasing your speed you can now increase how quickly your body recharges its various energies by six times and decrease any cooldowns that any abilities or powers you have to one sixth of its charge time.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on plants like the Moonstone Locust or on speed such as the Fancy Feet.

I would like to pick all of your brains -200 CP [Discount for Dragon of Wood]
Whenever you face an opponent you gain the collective information learned about them by everyone who has faced them in battle.

Xiaolin Apprentice Boost:
Through your Chi you can create a mental bond between yourself and a target allowing you to share knowledge and information between the two of you instantly.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
Whenever you wish to gain advice from an ally or ask them questions you can mentally do so no matter where they are, even if they are not in the same jump setting as you.
This also aids you when creating magical items to gain knowledge such as the Fountain of Hui.

With nine of me i can finish all of the chores -400 CP [Discount for Dragon of Wood]
Whenever you have a specific task you must complete you will be able to create a near mindless baseline clone of yourself whose only purpose is to complete that task and will cease to exist once it has been completed. This clone will have no access to any of your perks or abilities beyond what you are capable of without your bodymod.

Wudai Warrior Boost:
You can imbue your copies with your Chi giving them access to any of your Chi Powers and can grant them more sentience by giving them a fragment of your personality such as imbuing them with your good, evil, snark, cowades, anger or other aspects while keeping them subservient to you.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now create true copies of yourself and when a clone is destroyed you gain access to all of the growth, knowledge and experience that they gained while separated from you.
This also aids you when creating magical items based on self duplication such as the Ninja Sash.

I have boundless energy -600 CP [Discount for Dragon of Wood]
You are able to produce a purifying energy that allows you to heal the land removing corruption and restoring natural life energy.

Shoku Warrior Boost:
You can now use your Chi to revitalize life energy allowing you to heal others and grant them boosts in their natural energy. From this you can restore someone from near death and even make them stronger than they had ever been.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
Your power over purifying energy allows you to restore life energy to its optimal state thereby allowing you to bring back the dead and restore them back to the prime of their life.
With enough Chi, time and practice you could use this to restore all life that has been wiped out on the planet, reviving dead plants and even animals.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on combining energy such as the Sun Chi Lantern.

Did you sense that -100 CP [Free for Temple Dragon]
You have an innate connection to magic allowing you to feel Shen Gong Wu when they are first activated you can feel their exact location but the longer they have been active the harder it is to sense them. This can also be used to detect other magical items when they are activated and you haven't felt them before.

Xiaolin Trainee Boost:
You have access to the Xiaolin Element of Light and you gain the Xiaolin Colour Yellow.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
Your magical sense now persists more than just the activation of magical objects and now allows you to feel all forms of energy allowing you to see the type of energy allowing you to easily determine what type of magic or energy is active or stored within each person or object. This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on light like the Culver Crystal or on sensing such as the Taho Snout.

Find that Fire within -200 CP [Discount for Temple Dragon]
You can now mimic a classic trait of dragons however instead of breathing fire you can project burning smoke and ash from your mouth. While smoke and ash are often seen as a byproduct of breathing fire they can be an effective weapon if used correctly. You can produce this breath attack either as a singular stream of burning vapor, a projectile blast of condensed ash or even a dense spray of smoke to act as a literal smoke screen.

Xiaolin Apprentice Boost:
You can now infuse your Chi with your breath attack in order to project your Xiaolin Elements from your mouth instead of smoke or ash allowing you to produce a more diverse breath attack.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now further infuse Chi into your breath attack making it a more mystical attack akin to true dragon's fire which bypasses the normal resistances of an element.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on breath such as the Gills of Hamachi.

I know these mountains like the back of my hand -400 CP [Discount for Temple Dragon]
You have a passive knowledge of any locations you have ever visited, allowing you to perfectly remember every inch that you have seen and realize when you revisit that location even when all your senses are blocked. Your memories of a location are so accurate that if you have seen a room for 1 second you would be able to visit it twenty years later while blindfolded and perfectly maneuver around the room without issue. This also allows you to instantly tell whenever something has changed in a location.

Wudai Warrior Boost:
You can now infuse this perk with your Chi allowing you to focus on an area you have visited before and gain a real time view of the location with the perk highlighting any changes.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now call upon an encyclopedic knowledge of every location within the jump allowing you to virtually see any location merely by thinking about it.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on distant locations such as the Golden Tiger Claws.

I too wish to learn how to shapeshift -600 CP [Discount for Temple Dragon]
You gain a customisable dragon Alt-Form similar to that of Dojo which can fly, and dynamically change its height from being as small as 4-inches long to up to 40-foot long. You also gain a form of passive shapeshifting allowing you to take on various forms at will including but not limited to a boat, a train, a piece of paper and even other people's appearance. These forms will only change your shape and not your color meaning that your form changes can be told apart by appearance alone.

Shoku Warrior Boost:
You can use this perk in order to grow additional body parts such as extra limbs and wings with these new parts being fully functional.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now shapeshift the color and material of your body allowing you to better disguise yourself and even change the durability of your body such as turning your skin into titanium.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on shape shifting such as the Moby Morpher.

Why do you build these stupid machines -100 CP [Free for Evil Genius]
You have an enhanced mind which improves your intellect by increasing your memory storage, memory retrieval and information processing capabilities. This allows you to learn skills and knowledge while retaining them in a drastically shorter amount of time. By default this will give you the knowledge to understand the operation of mechanical devices and how to build basic Jack-Bots out of whatever materials are available including scrap metal.

Xiaolin Trainee Boost:
You have access to the Xiaolin Element of Metal and you gain the Xiaolin Colour White.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are now able to channel your Chi into your mind in order to create mental fortifications which do not require further Chi for upkeep but can use Chi to reinforce your fortifications. These fortifications have multiple purposes the stronger they become the more secure and quicker your mind becomes. This gives you a greater sense of tolerance to mental forms of pain such as headaches, emotional, psychological suffering in addition to allowing you to store and run data. This means that not only can you play video games in your mind but you can also incorporate them into your mental fortification.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on metal like the Silver Manta Ray or on the mind such as the Bubble Brains.

A puzzle-box easy -200 CP [Discount for Evil Genius]
You have a powerful mind that allows you to understand the world around you in greater detail. In its simplest form this gives you a greater understanding of spatial and temporal thinking, allowing you to perceive time spans, distances between objects, rotations, shapes, and sizes allowing for the exact measurements of the proportions of an object, making most forms of puzzles easy to understand.

Xiaolin Apprentice Boost:
You can now turn your mind towards anything composed of your Xiaolin Element. This allows you to gain a greater understanding of what it is and how it functions, with the possibility of you even being able to figure out how to replicate it yourself.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now extend your Chi further out from your body allowing you to feel a distance away from your body equivalent to the amount of Chi you put into it. If you envelop something using your Chi you would be able to see inside of it and work out secrets that others would be unable to determine. Through practice you could use this to feel miles away from your body as though you were touching it.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on logical thinking such as the Cube of Haniku.

Did somebody say Time Machine -400 CP [Discount for Evil Genius]
Whenever you start to perform isolated actions you enter into a form of toon physics that allows you to act at an accelerated rate while only feeling like seconds have passed. From this you could read multiple large books, cook a twelve course meal and construct large devices in seconds even if it should take hours or even days to complete. You will gain a passive awareness of your action retaining all the knowledge and experience gained but will feel as though only the real time has passed during the process.

Wudai Warrior Boost:
You can now convert your Chi into materials allowing you to gain resources that you may not otherwise be able to gain. The more complex the materials are the more Chi it will take to create them however materials composed of your Xiaolin Elements will be easier to create. By default it will be hard to shape the created materials but with time and practice you will be able to create more complicated shapes and structures.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now use your Chi in order to instantly create or learn something you can instantly complete the task allowing you to gain the knowledge stored within any form of receptacle or create complex machinery from the designs in your head with a flick of a finger.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on creation such as the Prism of Genesis.

I need you? Actually not so much -600 CP [Discount for Evil Genius]
You can quickly ascertain the underlying principle behind the abilities of others allowing you to determine how they function, what their limitations are and what means you have to reverse or replicate them.

Shoku Warrior Boost:
You are now able to use your Chi to replicate any abilities or powers you understand using your Chi. This would allow you to replicate the process behind a fireball spell or the petrification powers of a gorgon through only your life energy. Just be aware the more complex the ability the more Chi it would take to replicate.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are now able to replicate any abilities or powers you understand through every method of power you have available allowing you to use magic, technology and even chemistry to replicate the abilities of an alien creature so long as you have learned the underlining processes behind it.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on converting one type of energy into another such as the Honey Badger.

I can give you anything your heart desires -100 CP [Free for Heylin Mage]
You are very skilled at Influencing others as you can quickly ascertain a person's emotions, fears, desires and philosophical outlook as well as how best to twist them towards your own goals. You are proficient in utilizing any traits you can perceive of someone in order to best deceive, seduce, bribe, gaslight, intimidate, coerce and otherwise motivate or demotivate them towards your intended goal or to alter how they approach a situation.

Xiaolin Trainee Boost:
You have access to the Xiaolin Element of Poison and you gain the Xiaolin Colour Purple.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are now able to empower your words with your Chi causing them to have a powerful allure which lowers the mental defenses of your target making them far more susceptible to your words.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on poison like the Woozy Shooter or on control such as the Zing Zom-Bone.

Eye Blast -200 CP [Discount for Heylin Mage]
You can now produce dark energy beams from your eyes. These beams are capable of burning trees, breaking stone and causing explosions.

Xiaolin Apprentice Boost:
You can channel your Chi into your eyes both to change the attribute of the blast into you Xiaolin Elements and in order to see through a special vision for each of your Elements

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can use your Chi to attune these blasts in multiple ways. You could for example set them to be harmless to those of a certain alignment, those who you consider ally's and even dependent on other factors such as if they are being honest with you.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on eyes such as the Helmet of Jong.

This mime has magical abilities -400 CP [Discount for Heylin Mage]
You have gained access to Mime Magic, a strange sub-school of Abjuration magic that uses imagination and visualization to create magical barriers in the shape of mimed objects replicating their functions. For example if you imagine and mime a wall a magic barrier will form in the shape of your wall. If you imagine and mime wind a magic barrier will act like a fan to produce winds of that caliber. If you hold your hand like a gun and mimed firing it, then a magic barrier in the shape of a bullet will be produced from your finger and act like a real bullet.

Wudai Warrior Boost:
By mimicking others you are able to copy their powers and abilities such as breathing invisible fire by mimicking a dragon you have seen or replicating the flight of a bird by pretending to be it.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are no longer limited to making invisible barriers and can now materialize the items you mime out by solidifying your Chi.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on invisible barriers such as the Sphere of Yun.

Let me show you what Heylin Magic can do -600 CP [Discount for Heylin Mage]
You gain the talent, natural Magical Energy, knowledge, spiritual and mentally resistance required for you to wield Heylin Magic. This system of magical techniques are considered dark but not necessarily "evil" as they tend to focus on causing destruction either through powerful offensive spells, creating curses and empowering the user though there are more utility features such as magic and golem creation. This perk also protects you from the mental side effects of long term use of this magic which normally cause the user to slowly lose their inhibitions and embrace magical techniques they would otherwise consider taboo in order to fulfill their goals.

Shoku Warrior Boost:
For each Xiaolin Element that you have access to you are “Naturally” gifted with a new school of magic that focuses primarily on that element such as Toxomancy for the Poison element.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now imbue your Ch with your Magical Energy allowing it to replenish your vitality thanks to this your body preventing it from aging and you can use the Magic infused Chi to dissipate foreign energies such as Chi infused attacks.
This also aids you when creating magical items that replicate magic spell effects such as the Wuzzy Bunny.

This monk is clearly possessed -100 CP [Free for Heylin Warrior]
You have a highly attuned sense for when someone is acting differently and how much control they have over themselves. While normally this would determine if they are imposters or under any form of mind control it also allows you to sense if and identify what has caused them to change whether that be they have had unpleasant news they have entered a new relationship or even that they have uncovered a secret that is weighing on their mind.

Xiaolin Trainee Boost:
You have access to the Xiaolin Element of Shadow and you gain the Xiaolin Colour Black.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can intuitively sense the life energy from others allowing you to feel an echo of the emotions and character of another person similar to a combination of empathic sense with surface level telepathy and true heart sense. This allows you to gain a perfect understanding of that person, their perspective, their background and their intentions towards you.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on Darkness like the Shroud of Shadows or on understanding minds such as the Mind Reader Conch.

You see before you my true form -200 CP [Discount for Heylin Warrior]
From this perk you gain a customisable monstrous transformation that can incorporate the boosting abilities of all other transformations your active form has access to while doublinging the combined strength, durability and stamina of your final form.

Xiaolin Apprentice Boost:
You can now imbue your monstrous Alt-Form with your Chi allowing you to grow in size boosting all of your powers, perks and abilities in relation to the amount of Chi you use.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are now able to access every transformation available to every Alt-Form you have, even those that are locked.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on transforming the user such as the Polar Paws.

Now show me something I don't know -400 CP [Discount for Heylin Warrior]
You have a perfect kinetic memory for any styles of movement or combat styles you have perceived. This allows you to learn and replicate those movements almost instantly as well as determine how best to incorporate them into your combat style.

Wudai Warrior Boost:
You can now imbue your Chi into a hominoid facsimile created out of your Xiaolin Element. You can either take direct control over the facsimile or give it simple intelligence that is loyal to you so that it can move on its own and replicate your physical movements.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You can now use your Chi to imbue anything with a facsimile of life allowing statues, clothing, furniture and even flesh allowing it to move under its own power and intelligence. If you attempt to create a facsimile of life from living tissue you can instead choose to use the tissue to create genuine life transforming it into a customisable clone of the originator of the tissue and can choose to rapidly age the clone to the age you would like and bestow it intelligence. The intelligence you can bestow can now be improved beyond the simple minds previously available as you can now sculpt complex personalities and potentially even more intelligent entities who regardless of their intentions will always remain loyal to you.
This also aids you when creating magical items that imitate life such as the Sweet Baby Among Us.

Join the other fallen warriors -600 CP [Discount for Heylin Warrior]
Whenever you have single handedly defeated someone or they willingly submit to you, you can grant them and transform them into a species of animal Alt-Form which follows your commands. They will be able to transform between these forms but you will be able to override their control and lock them into one form or the other.

Shoku Warrior Boost:
You can now use your Chi to sculpt anyone under your command controlling their age and default appearance. In addition you can also grant them additional Alt-Forms allowing them to transform into any species of mundane animal you know of.

Xiaolin Dragon Boost:
You are now able to add the power of each of your subordinates to yourself and if you wish grant them access to your power. You are also no longer limited to granting your subordinates mundane animal Alt-Forms as you can now give them and yourself the Alt-Form of any species of creature you have come into physical contact with.
This also aids you when creating magical items that focus on transforming others such as the Morphing Chopsticks.
