

Meddlesome Kitsune Senko-san

Welcome to the wonderful world of Sewayaki Kitsune no Senko-san. On the surface it seems like a completely normal world, but behind the scenes in this world the kitsune clans aim to fight the darkness in humanity's heart. They try to do this by spoiling those anxious humans to their heart's content. The central plot of this story follows the tale of one Senko-san, a strong kitsune, and Kuroto Nakano, a particularly unlucky salary man whom Senko aims to pamper. What we will only learn later is that Senko is a tail that split from a great nine tailed kitsune bent on bringing catastrophe to the world. Nakano on the other hand is the descendent of a man who sealed within himself the grudges of that nine tailed beast, saving Senko but condemning his and his lineage to misfortune until one day the grudges can be exorcised safely.
You have entered into this fluff filled world. It's a potentially wonderful place for a jumper to kick back and relax for a while, after having adventures across the multiverse. Get ready for potentially ten years of pampering and being pampered.
Have 1000CP to spend in this jump.

Origins: You can choose to enter in any of these origins as a drop in, without any background or memories when you start. Choose your age and gender now.

Salaryman
You will enter into this world as just one of those average humans, living their lives one day at a time. With this comes all the stress and toils that work brings with it. You will start off with a stable, if not well off, job. Just a really ordinary person.

Student
You are still in the prime of your life, full of youth and vigour! You have just recently entered university, ready to start learning all the key skills you will need for your dream job. As a young student you have not had a chance to accrue as much negativity in your heart as those who have been working for years.

Divine Servant [300]
While the kitsune are the primary focus of this world, they are far from the only type of supernatural being to exist in this world. You will be entering into this world as one of the various species of yokai or divine servants that wander the lands. This may be the titular Kitsune, seeking to pamper humanity and remove their darkness. You could also start as a lone Tanuki, raccoon like creature who disguise as humans using the leaf on their head. You may even choose to start as a Komainu, a divine guardian who oversees an area to keep it safe. Whatever the case, you can expect to have some kind of spiritual power, a startlingly long lifespan, and a lot of fun to have

Location:

Land of Fox
You will start in a great white void, surrounded by grey platforms and giant red gateways. Dotted around this blank landscape are various Kitsune who call this place home. Occasionally you may see a spirit or creature of a different nature pass through, but this is primary the place of foxes.

Earth
Instead of the white void, you will start in the normal land of Earth. A mundane world inhabited by the humans. Where exactly you start in this world is up to you. You could start in Japan where the main story is set. Alternatively, you could start somewhere completely different such as India or Brazil.

Perks: Perks are discounted to half price for their origin. 100CP perks that are discounted are free.

Salaryman

Magic Hands [100]
You really do have magic hands, at least that is what people tell you. From massages to petting, your hands are great at making other people feel great. They will practically melt at the touch of your fingertips. Not only that, like with most skills you'll only get better with time and practise.

Touch Fluffy Tail [100]
Animals and other furry creatures are much more amiable to letting you touch and stroke their fur. Where before a cat may bite you for stroking its tail, now it will sit docile as you do. This even extends over to the more humanoid creatures. They would be more willing to allow you to pet their head or run your hands through their hair. Getting close to animals just got that much easier.

The One People Depend On [200]
Leadership skills are a valuable quality that many employers will be looking for. You have them in spades. You are a natural talent at organising people and making sure they stay on track. People will be inclined to look to you when in trouble and in need of help. Maybe they can sense your dependability?

All Things End [200]
All things end. That is just a fact of the world. This is no cause for despair though. All things must end, even happiness, but that does not mean they can't be made again, for an ending just leaves room for a new beginning. No matter how drab or bad things may seem, you will always be able to see the light at the end of the tunnel. You can remain a pillar of positivity even in the worst of situations, your overwhelming optimism persevering no matter what.

Working Will [400]
Willpower. One of the most fundamental driving forces of human nature. It is the engine of mental power, the thing that makes people try. It is determination, discipline, resolve, and more. You have more of it than most. You have the willpower to work for years towards a specific goal. The willpower necessary to overcome all kinds of hurdles. You have the willpower to stop petting that wonderfully fluffy tail.

Supernatural Magnet [400]
Out of the billions and billions of people in the world, the supernatural creatures choose to visit you. There is something about you that leads you to encounter supernatural beings. They almost seem to be drawn to you, like a moth is to light. And once a few supernatural beings are around you, others will likely be much less hesitant to approach you, seeing that you are acquainted with the mystical side.

Eyes That See All [600]
Your eyes are somewhat special. You can see the supernatural side of the world even when it seeks to hide itself from you. Fluffy tails and tanuki ears are plainly visible to your eyes where others would see nothing at all, even if hidden by clothes. This will also let you see the weird black clouds floating around people. This is the manifestation of the darkness in their heart. Those who are very stressed or anxious will have large dark clouds around them, while those who are happy and content will have small, faint clouds. With the ability to see these clouds also comes the ability to get rid of them. Once you observe someone's dark clouds you will have a good idea of how to rid the person of them.

Student

Comfy Knees [100]
A pillow isn't the only thing that is extremely comfortable to cuddle, and sleep on. There are some parts of the body that are just slightly too bony or hard to be truly comfortable. This effect makes it so that your whole body is like a giant huggable pillow. People would as happily fall asleep on your knees as they would in your arms, no more endless shifting to get more comfortable.

Multitasking [100]
Isn't it a hassle all the time having to work on multiple projects at the same time to meet those turn in dates, while also having to work part time jobs to bring in that small flow of cash? It would make things so much easier if you were simply able to concentrate on multiple projects at the same time.

Money Manager [200]
Being a student is almost synonymous with being poor. It is a common story for someone to be working at least two different part time jobs in order to get the money they need to live and learn. You have been given a detailed crash course in all things finance and accounting. With this you will know when to spend and on what, and more importantly when not to spend. You will make the most of the money you have.

Proper Education [200]
A solid education and good grades can set you up nicely for finding the job you desire. Unfortunately getting those can be rather hard, especially if you are distracted with other tasks like part time jobs, looking after family, or petting mystical kitsune who have settled into your home. With this you will not have to worry about studying. You already have the full knowledge of a subject of your choosing, all the way up to university level. A simple bit of revision should be all you need to pass your exams with flying colours.

Ageless [400]
Are you some kind of immortal being? You don't really age. Not visibly at least. Once you have reached the age you want, from that point onwards you can essentially freeze your body's clock. You will still grow older and may still die of old age, but you could stay looking 22 until the day you were on your deathbed barring a few wrinkles and salt and pepper hair.

Knowledge Retention [400]
Some would say that you learn faster than most people. This isn't entirely true. You learn better. Your ability to learn new things is not negatively affected by external factors. Getting only two hours of sleep the night before will still have you taking in information as well as if you had slept eight. Not even being severely inebriated would affect how well you take in information. You would only need to read a text once or twice for the text to become embedded in your memory.

Exorcist [600]
While the spiritual half of the world is where the various supernatural beings have the home field advantage, humanity is not without their own users of spiritual power. You are from a long line of famous exorcists, and as such are not only skilled in the making of seals and exorcism of yokai, but also reasonably powerful in your own right. You know how to recognise the signs of yokai presence or evil spirits, and are able to quickly construct ofuda that can be used to ward off the more harmful kinds. You might even be able to seal the great grudge of the Nine Tailed Fox, even if only temporarily.

Divine Servant

Fluffier Is Better [100]
Stroking a fluffy tail is a great way of reducing the darkness in man's heart. You know what would be better though? A fluffier tail! The fluffiness of your tail now scales with your personal power. As you grow in strength and age, so too shall your fluffy appendages become bushier, softer, and all around nicer to the touch. This doesn't however mean you can neglect looking after it. A proper fluffy tail requires equally proper maintenance!

Cute As A Button [100]
A fluffy tail is important but looking good is important too! You are the cutest thing around, such that people would almost rather pat your head then pet your tail. In fact, you might be able to reduce the darkness in someone's heart just by looking at them with wide eyes and asking them to take good care of you. Or, if that's not your thing, you can instead gain a motherly figure and bearing, able to effortlessly get people to forget their cares and relax. Not only will you positively radiate warmth and motherliness, but a hug from you will do wonders at removing the darkness from someone's heart. Whichever you choose, you may rest assured that playing the role of adorable fluff or warm hearted caretaker will be as easy as breathing for you.

Maid Butler [200]
You have all the skills to make you the perfect housewife. You are able to cook, clean, and take care of the house as if you were a professionally trained maid or butler. If only you had the proper uniform and you would be picture perfect. You can work quickly and with ease, finishing your jobs early to give yourself plenty of free time, past when others would still be working.

Therapy Session [200]
One of your jobs as a divine servant is to remove the darkness from humanity's heart. To do this, you need to be able to make other people happy and remove their stress. Happily for all involved, this is something you are very good at. As part of this, you've gone through a crash course in psychology in order to better understand, and then help, the other person. Once you are proficient enough, your expression alone, maybe accompanied with headpats, could lift a heavy heart. Not all resentful spirits need to be defeated in a fight. Sometimes a comforting moment is all that is required

Pure Blood Genius [400]
You are not just a regular divine being, you are royalty! And not just in the figurative sense. The blood of the royal family of your kind flows through your veins. For Kitsune this would manifest in the form of fur which is as pure as snow. But the real benefit you gain from this is an incredible aptitude for learning. Like Shiro, anything you apply yourself to you will quickly become proficient in. It wouldn't be long before you're beating pro gamers at Smash, or ping pong enthusiasts at ping pong.

Don't Question It [400]
A Jumper is something that does not belong in the mundane world. Just like magic and myth, they don't fit into the definition of normal for the modern day. You would generally expect a rather large reaction to magic being discovered, but now people seem to be extremely accepting of these impossible sights. Unless you wish otherwise, people are perfectly willing to sit down and have a chat and tea with a mystical Kitsune, dismissing the ears and tail as just cosplay.

Splitting The Tail [600]
Twice the power of the nine tailed fox escaped its seal, and twice this power manifested in the form of a small kitsune child with a desire to be pampered. As they say, third time's the charm. Like this legendary being, you are capable of splitting off a part of your own power and having it manifest in the form of a small child, maybe even a baby. They will slowly grow over time like any other living being, becoming their own person no lesser in power than you yourself. By default they will view you as a parental figure, for you are indeed their parent in a certain way. Regaining the power you lost forming them is a slow process, but certainly doable. For multi-tailed beings like the Kitsune, this split is usually accompanied by the loss of one of their tails.

Items: Items are discounted to half price to their origin. Discounted 100CP items are free. Fitting options can be imported into these items if you wish.

Fox Plushie [Free]
For when you can't afford actual fluff; Plush Fluff™. It's a small, soft fox plushie. Tap it on its nose to turn it into a Kitsune, and then again to turn it back. Nice and huggable, and easily transportable. This plushie is almost uncannily similar to a real fox, though made of a surprisingly resilient fabric.

Manga Copy [50]
When entering this jump you will gain a complete collection of the Meddlesome Kitsune Senko San manga in a small cardboard box easy to hide from prying eyes. This could make for some pleasant reading, or potential bullying material for certain fox spirits. No-one likes a spoiler though, so be considerate in what you share.

Rebranding [50]
It is undeniable that most of the items and branding in this world has a certain common theme. If it has branding of some kind, you can give a safe bet that that branding is likely going to be something to do with fluff. Maybe you want to join in on that fun. By taking this, all of your pre-existing and even future items will be given a foxy remodel. Optionally this could give them a different spin, if foxes aren't your thing.

Salaryman

Futon [100]
A wonderfully dried and soft futon. The kind of bed a fox spirit could sleep in for 300 years at a time. Easily transportable for ease of use, it can make any rest stop extremely comfortable. Automatically cleans itself each morning.

Portable Barbeque Feast [200]
You know what is nice to get out occasionally? A hot barbeque for a warm summer day, or trip down to the seaside. Buying this will get you a small barbeque, which comes complete with an array of seafood to cook atop it. Enough food will be provided to feed a family of four. Easily transportable, easy to start. Food is replenished each week.

Modern Kitchen [300]
Attached to your warehouse (and available to move to other owned properties) is a well-stocked kitchen full of cooking equipment, and complete with a stocked-up fridge and freezer. It doesn't contain anything too exotic but has enough that you could cook up a great variety of meals. Restocks once a week.

Sakura Tree Grove [300]
A resplendent golden gate appears inside your warehouse leading to a small grove of blooming Sakura trees, with a clearing of green grass in the middle. The time of day can be set as you enter, ranging from a cloudless starry night, to a mellow sunset, to a rosey midday sun. A lovely place to relax or have a picnic with friends and family. Your own personal Hanami on demand.

FluffyMart [400]
A small, out of the way, shop that is designed and filled with products to take care of pets and fluff. Has various snack foods, hair products, and fluffy pillows. Use or man this store as you wish. A good potential source of income. The back entrance connects to your warehouse, while the front entrance can be put somewhere out in the world.

Torii Gateways [600]
A pair of Torii gateways, which when activated takes you to a realm of white, with endless varied doorways floating spread out around you. By entering through one of these doors, you will exit the corresponding doorway in the outside world. A good way to travel quickly, if you happen to be in a rush ever. It can also be used as a spy glass to peep in on other people. Comes with an updating map to help navigate.

Student

Facial Paints [100]
A box kit to be used for painting on markings onto your face. This comes with several mirrors for self-application, a spectrum of coloured paints that won't stain, and a magical guided brush that can help apply the markings neatly where wanted.

Gaming Consoles [200]
A gaming console that can play just about every kind of console game. Enchanted with ancient kitsune magic, this console will accept any kind of game cartridge. Additionally, it will be able to connect online to any console game store for easy downloads. It comes with a large TV screen for maximum enjoyment and four controllers. Sit back and have fun with friends.

Cookbook [300]
This is a rare magical cookbook used by the kitsune to prepare the best dishes they can for their human. Just think about what kind of dish you wish to make, turn the page, and it will provide you with a detailed guide on how to make it, as quickly and safely as possible. These recipes can be adjusted if you wish to use specific ingredients.

Cosplay Costumes [300]
Nice clothing is good, but some people occasionally want something slightly different. This wardrobe pays tribute to the time-honoured tradition of cosplaying. Surprisingly large on the inside, despite its unassuming size from the outside, this wardrobe is full of cosplay costumes, from maid outfits, to sailor fukus, and many more. It doesn't have any specific costumes, but should such a costume be put in, it will be added to the roster of costumes. If damaged, a fresh costume will reappear a day later.

Ideal Apartment [400]
What it says on the tin really. The ideal apartment for a student to live in. Spacious, complete with a small bedroom, work space, and bathroom. A rudimentary kitchen is set in one of the corners of the room. The aesthetic of the room is up to you, whether it be asian, western, or otherwise. Comes with inbuilt heating, and access to the local internet. There is enough room in this space for two people to cohabit without feeling too cramped.

Student Loans [600]
You know what really sucks for students? Student loans. Having to become thousands of pounds in debt from the get-go in order to afford their education. That's why you should get this loan! Well, calling it a loan isn't quite right, since that implies you would need to pay it back at some point. Within your bank is the exact amount of money needed to pay for your education from start to finish. Any money extra will need to be earned yourself, but for now you don't have to worry about increasing debt from this angle. Each new jump, you will always have the amount of money necessary to pay for the education you intend to take.

Divine Servant

Fried Tofu [100]
Kitsune are omnivores, and could eat everything. However the sheer quantity of Fried Tofu that was offered to them has forced them to perfect the cooking of it, and it has reached a point that they find it calming. Each week you will receive a large box split into multiple compartments. Each part of the box contains a different flavour of fried tofu for you to eat.

Fluff Brush [200]
A small brush that when used will increase the fluffiness and softness of hair and fur. The more spiritual power is poured into the brush while being used, the greater effect it has. Useful for keeping your tail in tip top shape or making it extra fluffy for special occasions.

Divine Cloth [300]
A set of cute miko clothes. Enchanted by the very best mystical seamstresses of the kitsune realm, this set of clothing will always remain clean and will heal from rips and tears quickly. It will resize itself to best fit the wearer. The fabric is extremely resilient, and velvety to the touch. The specific design and colour of this set of clothes is subject to change on demand, though it will stay centred around the idea of miko clothes. Maybe you like your clothes slightly more risqué? Or maybe you like something easier to move in?

Sacred Sake [300]
You have received a large jug of the coveted Sacred Sake of the Kitsune, which tastes absolutely divine and has a refreshing aftertaste. Rated for godly use, this sake could be used to get even those normally immune to the effects of alcohol at least slightly tipsy. This jug contains enough of the stuff to serve a party of ten comfortably and will refill each week.

Barrier Seals [400]
These are slips of paper that can be set up around a small area to keep people without permission out. People will naturally avoid it, and if they do reach the boundary they will be unable to cross unless they break it through sheer force. Simply apply them in any kind of shape around the area you want and channel some spiritual power into them to activate. The larger the area, the more seals and spiritual power are needed.

Kitsune Secret Onsen [600]
A trip to the onsen is always something one can look forward to, and kitsune are no exception. This onsen is a rather special secret onsen cared for by various Kitsune. The energy from the land constantly flows through these waters in great amounts. Bathing in this water for even a short period will relieve you of most aches and pains. Your skin will become soft and clear. The only drawback, if you can call it that, is that humans cannot bathe in this water for too long lest they lose their humanity and turn into kitsune themselves. At first they may only grow ears and a tail temporarily after being in the water for a few hours, but if bathing for too long, this change may become more permanent.

Companions:

Import [50]
You can choose to import your companions into this setting for 50 CP each. They gain 600 CP to spend how they wish.

Pet Fox [50]
Sometimes you just want a cute pet to stroke instead. Buying this will give you a small foxy pet to call your own. Very well behaved, this fox appears to be rather intelligent and can be taught all kinds of tricks and commands. It also has a lifespan to comfortably last through a standard jump.

Canon Companion [100]
If you can persuade them, you can choose to take one of the canon characters in this jump with you to future settings as a companion.

Kitsune Guide [100] (Free first purchase)
You get your very own kitsune who is here to pamper and help you along your way. They have made it their sole mission to make sure to lift your heavy woes and make sure you are as stress free as possible. Both their personality and appearance are something you should decide now. They will be at a similar level of skill and power as Senko. They get 600 CP to spend in the perk and item section.

Wayward Tanuki [100]
At some point in the past you showed kindness to a little raccoon off to the side of the road. Little did you know that this was in fact a Tanuki. Touched beyond belief by your actions that day, this tanuki has made it their life's mission to get closer to you and make sure that you are happy. Using a leaf shaped spiritual item passed down from their family, they can assume the guise of a human, which they will use to blend it.

Divine Guardians [100]
Overseeing places of import to the gods, you will occasionally find the Komainu. These are a type of Lion-Dog statue spirits who serve the gods in a different capacity from the likes of Kitsune. For some reason you have come to have your own pair who will guard your 'domain'. Despite having stood guard since time immemorial, these twins are still youthful and full of energy. They are able to sense spiritual energy and will quickly react to any disturbances in their land. Despite their supposed ferocity, they are very kind and caring towards children. Each is reasonably strong in their own right.

Drawbacks:

Pinch of Sugar [+100]
A certain mischievous vixen has made it their mission to add heaping's of sugar to everything you eat. It's all for your good though, since sugar works well with everything right? Even cup ramen! Somehow, no matter what measures you put up, she will manage to spike one of your meals with sweetness.

Embarrassing Start [+100]
When introducing yourself to someone new, something will always happen to make you seem a little silly. You will lose any awe value in the face of having your friend fuss and remove rice from the corner of your mouth, or by tripping over as you come in for a handshake.

Greasy Hair [+100]
Your hair, and other furred appendages, have not been well cared for. They are a greasy, sweaty, and dirty tangled mess. Others will feel like they need to wash their hands after running them through it. You can try with great effort to fix them but within hours it will have returned to a mess. This won't be very pleasant to live with, for you or your friends.

Lonely [+200]
It's very sad being by yourself. Everyone should want to have at least a few friends to brighten their day and allow them to socialise with the rest of the world. Unfortunately no-one is very inclined to be your friend for very long. They may be friendly but you can never quite seem to break that barrier of being acquaintances. Those friends you do somehow gain you will have to work hard to keep. This does not affect existing companions.

Straight Out Of Myth [+200]
Instead of acting to rid man's heart of darkness, now the kitsune of this world will behave more in line with the kitsune of japanese myth. The majority of the race will still be kind, acting as protectors from evil, and husbands and wives to humans. However their mischievous side will be much more prominent, their playful trickster side shining through. Some of the more cruel nogitsune, darker cousins of the kitsune, will go on to terrorise poor farmers, and lowly soldiers. Either way, the world just grew that much more chaotic.

Out Of Time [+200]
How long has it been since you last used modern day technology? It must have been a while, since you seem to barely be able to use any of the more common appliances any more. Things like ovens and microwaves will confuse the heck out of you, and you will need frequent refreshers on how to use them even after you have learnt. You just really can't seem to get the hang of it.

Pessimist [+200]
You are something of a pessimist. Someone could try putting you down and your replied agreement could be so dark that even they would think you were going too far. The miasma of dark feelings surrounds your heart at all times. Even when not clouding it, they will hover near the edges of your being, ready to cloud it at a moments notice.

Those Meddlesome Kids! And Their Damn Fox Too! [+200]
Other people keep popping up to meddle in your affairs for various reasons. Almost every month someone will appear, to check up on you or one of your friends. Once there, they will not be able to help but try and interfere with something. Maybe they feel that your relationship is progressing too slowly, or is too boring, so they help spice it up. Maybe they think that you are wasting your time with your current job, so they trick you into going to some job interviews.

Thrown Your Back [+200]
You may not look it, but you certainly feel like an elderly person. Some might say you finally feel your age, jumper. You have a few aches and pains in your joints, and you always seem to be throwing your back out. At times you may become slightly forgetful, things slipping your mind for a while.

Heavy Workload [+300]
Whichever job you may have has had its workload dialled up to eleven. You will now be working so many hours that some weeks you won't get any free time at all. Expect long days and short nights. Some days you may even be forced to sleep overnight at your desk. For kitsune, this may mean that the darkness in man's heart is standing strong.

Stop Touching My Tail! [+300]
Your tail is certainly very magical. Whenever people see it, they will be filled with a nearly irresistible urge to come over and pet it, stroke it, and generally play with it. Unfortunately for you, you, like most kitsune, are extremely protective of your tail and consider touching it a rather intimate act. If you happen to lack a fluffy tail, you will instead be inexplicably drawn to other fluffy tails to stroke. Without access to fluffy tail, you will quickly start to go into withdrawal, becoming depressed until you can get your next fix. Daily pets are recommended.

Calamity Bloodline [+300]
Nakano was cursed by his bloodline with misfortune born of the grudge of the nine tailed fox. This curse feeds on the ill-thoughts and unluckiness of the cursed and then manifests this in the form of disasters that affect those around them. This forms a cruel cycle where even more darkness is created with each disaster, which then fuels the next disaster which becomes even worse. It would require the dedicated care of multiple people to just keep the edge off this curse, and with time it will still only grow worse.

Ending

Move On: You have had the dark clouds of your heart removed. You have had your fill of pampering. It is time to resume your journey.

Go Home: After a peaceful decade you have decided that you are happy to head home now.

Stay Here: This is a wonderfully comfy world. You have decided to stay here, for whatever reason.

Notes

Regarding Fluffier Is Better: You will also gain the ability to reign in the extent of the fluffiness if need be. Don’t want to break the mind of random innocent passersby because they accidently brushed past now do you?

Changelog:

Updated for end of series. Fluff updated, capstones changed, items added and adjusted.

Jump by Lone Valkyrie, hope you enjoy.
