

Hakueki Shobou

White Liquid Bookstore

Jump by /u/DraggingFish, v1.5

Content Warning: This is an erotic jump that features scat and watersports fetishes.

Hakueki Shobou is a doujin circle around the artist A-Teru Haito, whose works share a consistent themes of exposure, exhbitionism, shame, humiliation, and last but not least, scat.

While some of their works have a non-consensual element to them, especially the earlier ones, for the most part the girls in these worlds either are or very quickly become willing participants in everything that happens. Even pure girls like Misaka Mikoto or Tsumugi Kotobuki have their own fetishes, after all, which their 'boyfriends' would be happy to indulge in with them, while people like Ami Mizuno or Momo Kawashima were massive perverts before anybody else even got their hands on them.

You get +1000 CP.

Origins

Pick one origin for free. Your origin gives you a discount on any perk or item from its section, making 100CP options free and everything else 50% cheaper (specific exceptions noted). You may choose to be a drop-in with any origin.

Pervert
You are a catalyst for change in those around you; degrading and corrupting others, fighting through resistance to destroy their pure facades and free the happier sluts inside.
Your age is 20+2d10, or just 25. You can freely change your sex to male, or remain the same as your last jump.

Princess
You may have been a pure soul once, but once you learned the addicting taste of breaking taboos, you dove headfirst into the muck of degeneracy.
Your age is 16+2d8, or you can pick your choice below 21. You can freely change your sex to female, or remain the same as your last jump.

Location

You can change the setting where this jump takes place in it to any of the settings portrayed in Hakueki Shobou works, and set your starting location freely. Some options are A Certain Scientific Railgun, K-On, Slayers, or Girls Und Panzer, but there are countless more. Even something with only a single one-shot, like Fate/Stay Night, can qualify.

If the setting you choose has an existing jump document, you can use this jump as a supplement for that; see the Supplement Mode toggle under Drawbacks.

Perks

General

100CP - Pee While Standing
You gain the skills necessary to pee while standing, regardless of your genitals. Since that's not particularly impressive for roughly half of the population, you also gain the ability to piss and shit on command, in unlimited quantities, independent of your body's actual capacity. You will never have to take breaks when engaged in this particular brand of fetish play, and never need to prepare in advance (for example, by drinking a lot of beer).

200CP - Anachropisstic
When you think toilet, you're probably thinking about the iconic porcelain seat, or maybe even a squatting toilet. But these are relatively recent inventions, and may not exist at all in some of the times and places you go to. Yet somehow, whenever you step into a bathroom it's like you never left home. From now on, the technology level around bathrooms (including things like showers and bidets) will be exactly as you desire in every world you visit. The world will take the path of least resistance to include these changes; plumbing systems and bidets might be operated by magic, if the world has such a thing, or they might be technology left behind by an ancient race, or etc, so that the overall tech and culture are minimally impacted.

400CP - Cock Particles
Every cock gives off invisible 'cock particles' passively, the amount proportional to the penis's size, stench, and amount of recent sexual activity and/or urination. They carry the producer's unique signature, and have a subtle effect on people attracted to penises, causing them to grow more aroused with proximity. The particles might take an hour to disperse after a standard bathroom break; a gangbang might produce cock particles that linger for days.
Magic, other supernatural powers, sufficiently advanced technology, or extreme perverts can detect these cock particles and interact with them. Potential uses might be to track a particular penis, take advantage of their arousal-causing function, use them to solve entropy, or simply soak in their presence.

600CP - Human Graduation
You possess the ability to graduate a willing someone, including yourself, from humanity. From that point on, in that world (meaning the effect resets between jumps), everyone who sees them will instantly know that their number one priority in life is sex, and will know instinctively that they already have consent for whatever sexual acts they like. They will, however, avoid any acts that leave permanent damage or marks, unless the graduate condones them.
The second effect of this is that the graduate gains the benefits of every perk of 400CP base value or lower that you have purchased from this jump. They retain these perks, even after the base effect ends.
Finally, this perk also serves as a capstone booster for each origin's 600CP perks. If you don't want or need the other benefits of this perk, you can instead pay 200CP to gain only the capstone booster.

Pervert

100CP - Dickmocracy
When you have sex, regardless of what weird fetishes you indulge in, your partners will physically enjoy it. They may hate what is happening, but their body will beg to differ. Not only that, but your sex and every fetish you involve become mildly addictive; the strength of this effect growing more powerful over time based on just how much time, effort and skill you put into training them. The downside, if you'll consider it that, is that the addiction becomes to those acts in general, not necessarily with you.

100CP - Pocket Money
When people are dealing with you, they find their vices taking priority over any ideals of purity or decency. You can coax a happy ending out of a service worker by playing at their greed with a tip, or get a strong head start on seducing a single woman by drawing on her jealousy. With enough money and/or influence, you could probably make a whore out of anybody you met.

100CP - Wandering Eyes
Your gaze is a sexual organ. Staring at somebody causes them pleasure just the same as if you had been caressing their body tenderly, but they can still only get angry at you for staring, since the pleasure that they're deriving from it is all in their head… which would make them the real pervert, here, and that's what they'll likely end up believing if you keep using this ability over a long enough period of time.

200CP - Taking Responsibility
Better to ask forgiveness than permission, but even better is to have them forget they wanted your apology in the first place. When you do something that offends, injures or otherwise harms somebody in the short-term, but works out to be something they eventually appreciate, they will completely overlook the path you took to get there.
This works on the short-term, too: make somebody really enjoy their rape, and they're more likely to ask you to become their boyfriend than they are to call the cops.

200CP - Serves Them Right
When you corrupt somebody and make them betray their allies or their ideals, nobody will blame you for what they go on to do. This also applies even if you use mind control or reality-altering effects.
If their girlfriend is sleeping with you? It's her fault, not yours, even if she was quite committed before your perks got involved.
If she throws her life away to indulge in sex, graduates from humanity? That's just the person she is, and she coincidentally realised it around the same time you showed up.

200CP - Body Writing
With a single touch, you can cover someone's body in lewd markings; words and drawings designed to degrade and humiliate, and/or attract others. The markings you create with this perk will fill in automatically based on your vague desire, or you can specify parts or all of what you want to be drawn, up to the level of your own artistic skill. All markings fade after a day, or earlier if you will them to disappear.

400CP - Let's Hang Out
People find it really hard to report your crimes against themselves. If you were to rape a girl and her sisters, you could continue using their family home as a hangout spot for you and your gangster friends for weeks, and they wouldn't once be able to bring themselves to call the cops unless somebody else noticed what was going on. It may be fear, pride, shame, or even Stockholm Syndrome; whatever emotions that they have to prevent them from calling for help are not only amplified, but also hold a much stronger grasp on their mind.

400CP - Dogeza
When somebody promises you that they'll do 'anything'; they mean it. Despite shame, reluctance, or disgust, people will hold themselves to their word. Not only that, but you are far more likely to find people making this promise than otherwise; whether they're begging for their life, want your forgiveness, or just really need a favour. Of course, if you go back on your word, they will no longer be held to their own; but if you train them well enough, they may no longer care.

400CP - Love and Piss
When somebody has a romantic and/or sexual relation with you, whether long-term or a one-night-stand, they become far more tolerant when you start to involve your fetishes in that relationship. While they may not be excited, and can definitely be surprised, the chances of them reacting with disgust are almost zero, unless they have a particularly above-average aversion to the fetish.

600CP - Tadaima!
When you put the effort into corrupting somebody, you'll find that effort being propagated throughout their social groups. Friends and family will, without even realizing it, begin to show an inclination towards the same acts you are ingraining into their loved one, and when the time comes that the corruption is revealed, they'll likely find themselves reacting with arousal rather than any negative emotions.

Free with Tadaima! and Human Graduation - Paradise Declaration
When your corruption spreads from one person to another, the effect isn't just a subtle twist; it's actively stronger than it was before. The first girl in a family, or group of friends, might take some time to seduce, but by putting her under your thumb, her social circle falls like dominos. You've already gone through the setup once, after all, now you can skip to the action.

600CP - Black Time
Once per jump, one character of your choice from the source material will fall in love with you at first sight. The sort of love where they decide, before anything else, that they love you, and retroactively justify everything you do as a reason to love you.
Anything you do, they will decide to love. They'd even let you get away with murder, regardless of their old moral code. You can treat them however you like, and they'll decide they want to be treated that way. While they may initially be tentative (at worst), it will be very easy for you to push them towards more and more extreme acts until they willingly give up on everything else in their life just to be with you.
When the jump is over, you also get to keep them with you as a companion for free.

Free with Black Time and Human Graduation - Globalization
It could be your race, nationality, class, or something more specific like the faction you belong to, but people of your preferred gender(s) find that specific demographic unreasonably attractive; whether their fantasies have any correlation to real life has no effect on how much they enjoy indulging in this now extremely common fetish. The effect on them is similar to Black Time, but weakened slightly so that it won't be obvious until you, or somebody else, gives them a push. You can change the chosen demographic once per jump. If you really want to, you can also choose a demographic you don't belong to.

Princess

100CP - Stray Princess
It will take a long time before people notice the kind of person you've become; you are an expert at, and have especially good luck with, hiding secrets about your sex life. For example, if you're going out for a date, whatever lie you tell your friends about where you're going will be much more believable than otherwise, or if you skip the lie entirely, they'll be far less concerned than they would be otherwise. If you are hiding something like tattoos and piercings under your clothes, circumstances will conspire that nobody sees them, provided such a thing would still be possible.

100CP - Make it Shine
You're extremely skilled at using your tongue… for cleaning. You are both capable of and know the best way, just by licking and scraping with your tongue, to get anything shining like brand new; at the 'downside' of all that filth going into your mouth. This applies both to inanimate objects, like a freshly-used urinal, or to something like a lover's penis.

100CP - Got Used to It
You can now simply decide to enjoy any physical sensation, and suppress whatever instinctual reactions your body has. Gag reflexes and vomiting are a thing of the past; you can now get whatever kicks you get from being stepped on or licking toilets clean without worrying about the pain or disgust a normal person would feel. This doesn't stop the health risks of any actions you take, however; you'll have to deal with that on your own.

200CP - Conquered Shame
Similar to Got Used to It, but for your emotional reactions. Shame and embarrassment that you feel can be, at will, converted to pleasure instead. Push yourself further and further, and only get rewarded for it, provided you stay out of trouble. This perk will also assist with that, making sure that no amount of pleasure you're feeling can impact your ability to logically weigh the risks of an action. Finally, anybody who you convince to try exhibitionism will gain a copy of this perk for themselves.

200CP - Do Not Swallow
You never go further than you want to for your depraved pleasures. You can set a hard limit on what you're willing to do and, no matter how addled your mind is in the moment, you'll be able to stop yourself just before hitting that point. You can get as close to that line as is even possible, and know that you'll be kept safe. This only affects your own actions, but can bend luck to save you from whatever undesired fate as long as it's still physically possible by the time you activate the perk, even if it wasn't done in advance.

200CP - Please Don't Mind Us
People who are attracted to you will let you bend the rules if it benefits them. For example, if you entered the men's public bath as a woman, men who enjoy the sight of your body, or who you offer that body to, will ignore any lawful inclinations they might have and let your rulebreaking slide. Whenever you're breaking any rule, the same thing applies; but if they would suffer consequences for overlooking your actions, what you offer them needs to be proportionally valuable to them.

400CP - Written on your Face
People can tell what you want even without being told. When you're the submissive in sex, your dom will be able to take suggestions on what to do next without either of you having to break the illusion that he's in complete control; safe words are a thing of the past, because he can know just from looking at you (this doesn't guarantee he respects that safe word, but if this perk wouldn't, an actual safe word wouldn't have worked either). This perk also works outside of sex; you can transmit fairly complex desires via body language, and there will be no confusion or misinterpretation on the end of anyone looking.

400CP - Piece of Meat
Nothing you do, or that is done to you, can lower your physical attractiveness in other people's eyes; you will always have the same, or increasing, value as a piece of meat. Functionally, this means that you'll never be considered 'used goods' no matter what you put your body through, and even body modifications like piercings, tattoos or more extreme won't detract from your attractiveness even amongst people who dislike those things. If you were to sell your body, you would be able to compete directly against girls marketing their purity, even if you had the look of a two-dollar whore.
This also applies to the way you act; if a person is attracted to you, but your personalities don't mesh or you refuse a romantic relationship, their physical attraction and any sexual relationship you might have had won't suffer from that.

400CP - Golden Eggs
Anything produced by your body is immensely valuable. Whether it's your piss, shit, cum or even something slightly less sexual like your saliva, hair, flesh or blood, you can choose for anything taken from or out of your body to have others who see it immediately recognise that it's value is the same as its volume in gold. This only works in exactly the ways you want it to and only affects your desired people or demographics, so you won't have people trying to kidnap or mutilate you to take advantage of this perk, unless you actually want to.

600CP - Kusoge
Have you ever seen a drawback in a jump which you would have enjoyed taking, if it weren't for the fiat-backed condition that you wouldn't? In this and future jumps, by taking a drawback or by paying 50CP to purchase it, you can gain a perk version of that drawback, and remove any number of undesireable conditions from the effect; you can now enjoy that torture you're subjected to, make friends with your obsessive stalker, etc, and you can carry the effects with you from world to world.
This does not work with toggles, or drawbacks which already have a 'positive' effect, such as granting you a reward of some kind, unless you give up that reward along with the other conditions. This perk also counts as part of your Body Mod, so it is usable during gauntlets, although the perks created through this perk are not.
If you have Human Graduation, these 'drawback perks' can also be added to the 'benefits' a target of that perk gains.

600CP - Watch Out for Perverts
People might tell you to watch out for the perverts seen in the area, but the chances of them realising you are that pervert have been lowered dramatically, almost to the point of ridiculousness. You have incredible luck when it comes to hiding your activities, evading the authorities, and having people fail to recognize you, to the point where you almost can't be caught unless you want to be. This perk applies to any sexual and/or criminal activities you wish it to.

Free with Watch Out for Perverts and Human Graduation - Stealth-Jumper's Slutty Exhibition Diaries
Your presence is so thin that people can't notice you even if you were a half-naked girl sitting right in front of them in a male bathroom. You're not invisible (you can be seen on video), but people without an extremely strong will to find you will just completely ignore you, as if you weren't there. The effect ends when you are taking hostile action against them; shitting on their food for an exhibitionist thrill is just about the upper limit.

Items

You receive a +400CP stipend to spend on this section, but your origin doesn't give you any discounts. Companions don't receive this stipend.

50CP - Your Own Shit
This is your own shit. It is any size you would be hypothetically capable of producing, stored in a plastic bag. The empty bag replenishes itself whenever you'd like, even if you haven't 'used' one you've already taken.

50CP - Sex Toys
You have an unlimited supply of sex toys and supplies; vibrators, dildos, rope and condoms, amongst other things. Additionally, you or somebody who you make aware of this property can 'equip' any of these items that they're touching onto themselves with merely a thought, instantly having them set up in the proper (or improper way) to be used.

100CP - Cock Notebook
This automatically-updating notebook or smartphone app (your choice) records a description of the size, shape and appearance of the penises of anybody you see. You don't have to actually see the penis, just the person it's attached to. If you do get the chance to inspect it, any and all details you observe about the penis will also be added to the notebook's description. Your specific tastes, interests and organisational style will be taken into account, as if you were the one writing the entries yourself.
Optionally, if you really must, you can choose to have the notebook focus on female genitalia instead. If you purchase this item twice, you can have them merge together and list both.
For an extra 50CP, this perk becomes a mental database, in addition to or replacing its physical form. The information that would be written down now becomes direct knowledge you learn upon observing someone.

100CP - Cheap Beer
This unlimited supply of beer may taste cheap, but it gets those who drink it drunk extraordinarily quickly and, no matter what kind they usually are, they'll end up being a horny drunk. This may or may not go well with the beer's second, toggleable effect of acting as a much-stronger-than-usual diuretic.

200CP - Porno Mag
This series of porno mags, released weekly and found circulating throughout this and future worlds in the normal places you'd find something like it (as well as a free copy in your warehouse), features photos and testimonials from real people who have submitted them to the magazine. You don't need to even go to that effort, though, as submissions are automatically made on your behalf, photos magically taken and articles written whenever you think to yourself that something you've just done would be worth it, appearing in the next issue.
You and your acquaintances will never be recognized by these photos, except by people who personally know you; they will, however, find themselves curious rather than shocked, and will put effort into discovering the what and why of the photos they've seen, even if that involves trying those acts out themselves.

200CP/300CP - Body Studio
For 200CP, you gain one of the following two items; for 300CP, you gain both.
The first is an unlimited supply of body piercings of various shapes, sizes and colours, and a piercing gun which can be used to painlessly pierce any part of the body, skipping the normal aftercare processes and guaranteeing the piercing will never get infected. This includes even especially sensitive areas of the body.
The second is a tattoo needle with unlimited ink. It can be used as normal, or you can choose a design, and the needle will automatically guide your hand (or the hand of the one using it) to tattoo that design onto whoever it is used on. You can even use this to tattoo yourself without worrying about the normal logistics.

400CP - Men's Bathroom
This bathroom follows you between worlds, and/or its effects apply to the bathrooms of any properties you already own. This men's bathroom has an incredible allure to all women, fanning their feelings of curiosity. Those of especially weak will, or those who are given a push, will find themselves all too eager to find out how using a urinal feels, or whatever else she might want to know about this usually forbidden space.
Additionally, the sexual inhibitions of anybody who willingly enters the bathroom are drastically lowered while they're inside. Once a woman has entered of her own will, it's extremely easy for her to begin to indulge in every other sort of fantasy she, or the men who might catch her, have.

400CP - School Club
A club is formed at a school or organization near wherever you start this or future jumps; the subject and activities of the club can be absolutely anything you'd like, even if it would normally be wildly inappropriate. The Female Sumo Club, the Pig Club, or even the Outdoor Shitting Club. Not only will its acts always be condoned whenever they only directly involve club members, but anybody who is asked to join will give honest consideration to the idea, ignoring any preconceived notions or societal taboos, and if they join, will slowly develop an obsession bordering on fanatical with the club's subject, becoming eager and happy to mold their lifestyle around it.

400CP - The House of Golden Arches
This fast-food restaurant, besides being a branch of the world's largest restaurant chain that follows you between worlds, is a hotspot for exhibitionists. Non-exhibitionists who enter the restaurant will be far less likely to notice, and less likely again to report, any sexual acts others are performing in the restaurant. And even if news does get out, the restaurant will never be shut down, nor will it even lose popularity. If you're looking to meet other exhibitionists, this is also a great spot; in a day of waiting, you'll frequently find couples flashing each other, fucking in the booths, or worse if they're able to get away with it.

600CP - AV Company
You are the owner of a small adult video company, able to take care of every step of the process; writing, acting, filming, editing, selling, all done with the best equipment and resources that money can buy; either limited to the technology level of the world you're in (magic counting as technology in this case), or to the highest level you've ever seen in your chain.
They produce their own videos without your supervision, but it is also trivially easy to call the crew to film a video with particular 'actors' you've found, or with a concept you really want to tell.
The profits they make first go into a 'void' that pays for the equipment they started off with, then towards maintaining that, with any extra beyond that ending up in your hands; but it isn't really about the money, is it? The films the AV Company produces have the same effect as the articles and photos from the Porno Mag item, above. They also have free shipping to anywhere in the world.

600CP - Dating Site
You have access to a 'dating site' that allows you, or anybody else who you give access to, to always find a partner of their preferred age, race, and gender willing to indulge in any combination of fetishes. Any 'date' arranged through the app will find a booking in the nearest love hotel conveniently arranged and paid for, or the closest equivalent in settings where such a thing isn't easily accessible.
The site also has another section which functions the same, but for partners who are willing to pay, in case you want to sell your own body. Your own desires won't be taken into account in determining compatibility, but you'll be able to see exactly what they want to do with you, and they won't go any further than that, so you'll know what to expect and how much it will be worth.
The site still functions even without the Internet; the partners found on the site may not have registered themselves, but they will nonetheless act the same as someone who did, even if their explanation is that some god is granting their prayers or that it's all a sheer coincidence.

Companions

50CP/200CP - Import
You may import a companion (or recruit a new character) with an Origin and 600CP to spend on Perks and Items for 50CP, or up to eight in the same way for only 200CP.

400CP - Mass Import
You may import absolutely all of your companions at the same time, with the same benefits as Import above.

100CP - Canon Character
You can recruit any character you can convince to join you from your chosen setting for 100CP each. In addition, they get all the perks of one origin of your choice from this jump.

100CP - New Best Friend
You can either purchase this option to create and recruit an OC companion, or you can purchase and apply it as a modifier to an imported or recruited companion, using your own CP or theirs. You can only get one purchase in total, however.
This person is a perfect match for you; for every single perk, power, or skill you have, they have an equivalent. The exact equivalence can vary from case to case; sometimes an esper power for an esper power, sometimes an electricity manipulation power for an electricity manipulation power, but the end result is that they have the same rough power level as you. They also have almost every fetish you have, and those that they don't, they can very quickly develop a taste for as soon as you introduce them to it. In activities where you need a partner, they'll eagerly take the opposite role to you, while if you want somebody to share the experience with, they'll happily enjoy it alongside you.

Scenario(s)

The Flood of Hakueki

You must spread your degeneracy across the entire world; there shouldn't be a woman left who isn't excited beyond reason to become a human toilet, and be used as a public cum dump. The men should then have no shame about freely making use of their bodies, letting every woman feel loved and appreciated by the soothing warmth of piss, shit, and cum. There is flexibility with the gender roles, if you wanted an inversion or equal mix of those roles, or even no separation at all, with everybody playing switch to anybody else's fantasies.

It isn't necessary to strike a balance between perversion and responsibility, although you can if you'd like; creating a world like the one described in the White Rainbow drawback below would still succeed the scenario as equally as creating a fetish-themed utopia.

You have as long as you need; the jump ends when the usual jump length expires, or when you finish the scenario, whichever takes longer.

As your reward, you get to bring the entire world along with you. The world will exist on its own within a pocket dimension attached to your warehouse, time only moving when you enter, or you can import it into a setting, either combining with the existing world as separate landmasses, or as its own planet, or any other option that doesn't replace, only add to the existing setting.
More importantly, you can repeat this scenario in any future world and, should you succeed, bring that world along too, in the same or a new pocket dimension with the same import rules. Over time, you can build an entire universe of perversion, a cosmos drowned in white fluid.

Drawbacks

You can gain up to +1000CP from drawbacks.

0CP - Supplement Mode
You may use this jump as a supplement to another jump, if it belongs to the same setting as you chose in the Location section. This also comes with a special, additional rule: CP that you gain from drawbacks in that jump also provide the same CP to this jump, although still capped at the 1000CP limit.

0CP - Crossover
Why stop at just one setting, though? With this toggle, you can merge as many of the different settings available together into one, and use all of their jump documents at the same time, each keeping their own CP but all contributing their drawbacks to this jump. The exact details of the crossover are up to you; the girls of Sakuragaoka High might be Espers, Sailor Moon's powers might come from her Kamui, and the Uchiha clan might secretly exist in modern-day Tokyo.

100CP - Longer Stay
Your stay here lasts for 10 years longer. This can be taken multiple times.

200CP - Paparazzi
There is an organisation, suitable to your background and level of notoriety, that has decided to discredit you by releasing images and videos of you in compromising situations. Their members are ready to snap a picture or record an audio snippet whenever they can. If they release these images, you'll find people losing respect for you before you have an opportunity to convince them how great your fetishes actually are.

200CP - When You Gotta Shit...
....you just gotta shit. Indulging in your fetishes for so long has eroded the toilet training of your youth; now, when you feel the urge to piss or shit, you just go wherever you are, often in extremely humiliating fashion. It's debatable whether you're considered lucky or not if you manage to take your pants off first.

400CP - Contractor
Your powers have been locked behind your ability to fulfil 'contracts'; each day, you'll be given a sexual act you must perform or have performed to you. These slowly ramp up in intensity over time, so they might start with things you can do in the privacy of your own home and by the end of the chain force you into degenerate public orgies. At the very least, however, they'll correspond to your own fetishes; you won't need to get kicked in the balls to replenish your powers unless you're actually into that. Failing to complete your contracts in a day reduces the potency of all of your perks and powers by half, cumulatively; it takes twice as many days of following your contracts to restore their power to normal.

400CP - The Pigs
The things you do have a much higher chance of getting you in trouble with the law than otherwise. Your perks like Taking Responsibility might stop the girls themselves from reporting your crimes, but somehow the cops will find out and they'll be after you; skipping town can avoid them, for a time, but eventually you might be forced to choose between freedom or the victims themselves begging you to take them with you.

600CP (cannot be taken with Flood of Hakueki scenario) - White Rainbow
Everybody is already corrupted. You may think that sounds nice, but society is made up of a lot of moving parts that rely on responsible people doing their jobs to function, and those people are out there on the streets selling themselves as human toilets or worse. Without your intervention, societies will collapse and people will starve but nobody will seem to care, being too busy indulging in their basest fantasies.

Changelog

v1.1

- Fixed a typo on the drawback limit.
- Clarified the settings available for Supplement/Crossover mode; while having infinite crossovers with any setting you like is fun, this wasn't really meant to be a Generic jump but rather a jump for the specific settings the artist has drawn. (Note: by my interpretation of what I wrote, I haven't actually nerfed anything)
- Added a few example settings to the location section, to help people who want to use the jump without checking the source material. I considered a full list, but there were just too many so I picked out the ones that were the biggest inspirations for the perks in the jump. All the settings referenced in the Crossover drawback are also options, by the way.
- Added a Mass Import option.
- Removed the 'instead' wording from Kusoge, to make it clear you can keep a drawback-as-perk while still using the drawback for points in the original jump.

v1.5

- Made Pee While Standing actually give you the skill it implies, alongside its old effects.
- Capstone booster can be purchased separate from Human Graduation perk.
- Human Graduation now lets those affected keep the perks they received permanently.
- Added the Anachropisstic (200CP) and Cock Particles (400CP) general perks.
- Moved Body Writing (200CP) and Love and Piss (400CP) from General perks to Pervert origin.
- Added the Wandering Eyes (100CP) perk for the Pervert origin.
- Buffed unboosted Watch Out for Perverts, or at least emphasised its strength, because it felt a bit underwhelming for 600CP. Also set a scope for its effects.
    - On the flip side, nerfed the boosted version; fiat-backing to your stealth is no longer absolute, which should at least make it more interesting to try and exploit it for non-sexual reasons.
- Updated Kusoge
    - You can receive the perk automatically just by taking the drawback; forcing you to spend 50CP could be a pain with some jumps that don't have 50CP options
    - This also lets you make perks out of drawbacks you were holding in Drawback Keeper from before picking up the perk
    - The base perk is now part of the Body Mod, although perks created through Kusoge are not. Now you can pick up more perks from every gauntlet you go to!

- Added the Make it Shine (100CP), Do Not Swallow (200CP) and Golden Eggs (400CP) perks for the Princess origin.
- Renamed Don't Mind Us to Please Don't Mind Us, so it doesn't overlap with Generic Virgin's perk.
- Made the 'phone app' option for Cock Notebook free.
- Updated Dating Site to let you choose the partner's age and race.
- Added an option to import the Flood of Hakueki reward into future jumps, and clarified some wording.
- Some more typos and corrected wording in the Drawbacks section.
- Updated the wording on the White Rainbow drawback so you have an opportunity to stop bad things from happening without them being fiat-backed.
- Added the When You Gotta Shit… 200CP drawback.
