Hello Jumper, welcome to a rather normal world compared to many of your usual adventures, with the exception of one thing. This world plays to the tropes of BL manga, or boys love manga. The protagonist of the story is a university student, who refers to himself as a “Mob Character” and is a straight man trapped in a world filled with BL (or Boys Love) tropes, such as a handsome ghost falling in love with an equally handsome exorcist who couldn’t banish him to the afterlife. To combat the various tropes, he researches the genre as to combat the tropes to protect his anal chastity, usually resulting in other men falling in love via the tropes he avoided instead of himself.

You will start the jump when the manga begins, sometime during Mob’s (referring to the MC) tenure at his local university and remain for 10 years.
