

Ninja to Koroshiya no Futarigurashi

By Faucheusestar

A ninja named Satoko Kusagakure is convinced by her leader Kuro to escape her village with other deserters, but without any money or friends in the outside world, Satoko nearly starves until she is saved by another girl named Konoha Koga, who happens to be an assassin. The two girls quickly form a partnership together: Konoha will rise in the rankings to become a top assassin and defend Satoko from other ninjas seeking to hunt down the deserters from the village, and in turn, Satoko will use her ninja magic to help hide the evidence of Konoha's handiwork and clean up Konoha's apartment.

You are a "special" doctor, when you kick a body lying on the ground and not yet decomposed or a dying person in the stomach, the latter momentarily gets up healthy. You will still need to address their health issues by feeding them or treating their injuries, but that kick will never make the situation worse. This also works if you simply take them by the hand to help them up instead of hitting them...

200 CP Discounted Assassin

Airhead [+100 CP]

Are you sure you're a ninja/assassin? Because you're really airheaded, the kind who posts pictures of where you live while being chased by ninjas... At least it makes you adorable, that's something!

Rogue [+200 CP]

You betrayed the ninja and fled, perhaps it was a misunderstanding it wouldn't be the first time! In any case, from time to time (one week approximately), you will see ninja attempting to kill you, good luck.

RoboJumper [+200 CP]

But surely you realize it's not Jumper! He's solid and cold, and his head opens up to dispense melon-pan! Yes, all those stories about the great replacement by robots are proving true because here you are, thrown out and replaced by this machine that does everything better than you, or almost. It remains a machine full of gadgets, but it does neither magic nor ninjutsu. Don't worry, Jumpchan isn't going to replace you, you're not losing your chain, but prepare to be annoyed for at least several months.

Poltergeist [+200 CP]

You're being haunted, Jumper... Knives fly, books fall, and doorknobs jiggle. It would be downright dangerous or at least it "could" be if the ghost weren't so absolutely idiotic, pathetic but really cute. You're far more likely to feel sorry for her than to get hurt. Because her aim is catastrophic, so she'll never actually hit you or damage anything beyond repair. That said, this ghost is completely immune to any kind of exorcism technique. But who knows? Maybe she'll end up giving up or becoming your friend or roommate.
