The Story Thus Far

Since time immemorial, there have been stories about people who were anomalous. Performing feats of great skill and strength or surviving things they had no right to survive. These people went down in history as great heroes more often than not, and history eventually faded into legend and then to myth. In the modern day, governments all across the world have spent millions, possibly even billions on chasing the idea of a better soldier. Some of the things they did in the name of a 'supersoldier' were horrific. Almost all of these plans and projects were failures. Almost.

Shortly after World War 2, a certain group purchased an island. They studied phenomenon, and near the turn of the millennium, made a breakthrough. They were able to detect, and enhance, the natural psychic powers of humanity. Most people rarely moved past the vague sensation that something was wrong, or being oddly empathic. However, with the help of the mysterious Toaru Group, those powers were unleashed.

Today, Toaru Island is a highly advanced and borderline utopic place, where every Esper in the world gathers to learn about their powers and become a better version of themselves. ...It's also an island populated by something like ninety percent women, because almost every Esper found so far has been female. Once more, almost.

Enter Shimojo Kazuma, the first ever discovered male Esper. And also a massive pervert. His natural talent, the first power he unlocked during the testing procedure? The ability to make a woman orgasm without touching them. And so Kazuma's adventure at Toaru Girl's Academy - so named because all previous students had been female. At the start he was an unimpressive student, the weakest Esper on record. Then one day he broke his phone and sought out a new one before he could lose his login streak on his favorite totally-not-porn game, and one of the characters in said game jumped out to fuck him and give him a magical phone to let him fuck anyone he wanted.

...If you can't tell by now, while oddly similar to another story you may have seen before, this particular world is practically designed from the ground up to create a scenario where many women flock to one man. To create a harem of busty and beautiful women, in other words. As for your place in this story? Who knows. But go ahead and take these, you'll likely need them.

Origins

Drop In

Hello hello hello, welcome to the world of Oppai Academy 2! As you may have noticed, this world primarily revolves around girls with massive tits and the lucky guy who gets to go to that all girls school. Or in other words, it basically revolves around him making a harem. But if you're the clever sort then you might have noticed that an artificial island city full of people with psychic powers sounds awfully familiar! Something about a railgun, perhaps? Well, as you are not a proper part of this world, I've decided to crib a few notes from another book. One might even call it an index. I'm sure you'll still have fun either way though.

"Hero"

It's a bit awkward to be calling the boy this story effectively revolves around a hero, but I suppose everyone is the hero of their own story, even when they're acting like a total scumbag. In any event, congratulations! You're the second man to ever manifest psychic powers! Or if you're so inclined, the first, because quite frankly fuck that guy. In any event, this world is basically designed to get you a harem of big booby bitches, so go forth and rescue those fair maidens from their own virginity. And if that sounds ridiculous, good, it's that kind of place.

Heroine

When psychic powers became something that existed in more than just fairy tails and rumors, a push was made to find every possible user. And of those, every single one was female. To this day there are over 80000 Espers, and only one is male. But that isn't you, so we don't care about that. No, you're one of the more normal students of Toaru Academy, a girl who was tested and revealed to have some level of affinity for the Psychic Phenomenon. You might be an idol, a ninja, a perfectly normal girl, a princess, or even someone from another world. All that matters is that you're female, really.

Supporter

Though nearly the entire population of Toaru City is made up of Espers, there are a small number of those who aren't. Generally speaking that percentage is made up of the parents and siblings of students at Toaru Academy who accepted the offer to move halfway around the world because it was convenient for the faculty to simply grab the whole family. Though, that doesn't even exclude them from being an Esper - you could simply have already graduated. Suffice to say this origin is a bit open ended - you're either the parent of an Esper, a teacher at the school, or even just a random scientist.

100 cp - Do Gooding Do Gooder Who Does Good

On a perfectly average day, on your way to school, you're the kind of guy who runs into three cats stuck in trees, two old grannies who need help crossing the road, and one kid who needs help getting things off the top shelf. Now you could ignore all of that, but you're a nice guy, so why would you? Unlike a certain someone whose introduction to people is often with them naked, you have a tendency to meet people under good circumstances. They might have a task you can help with to earn some small amount of favor, or will otherwise simply be in a good mood and now is a good time for them to make new friends - which is to say, now is a good time for you to introduce yourself. Now get out there and be helpful, because the more helpful you are, the more bitches you're liable to get!

100 cp - So You Caught The Mailman - Now What?

Some men are fool enough to think that just walking up to a girl they've never talked to and confessing is a good idea. Others prefer to mouthbreathe from a distance and take 'discrete' pictures to enjoy later. Those men are fools, all you need to attract a woman is a bit of mystery! Well, actually, there are a lot of things you could have but for you in specific? You're charming. You can spit out a dozen compliments and come off as smooth rather than sleazy, are handsome enough that women approach you, and have a sixth sense for what a woman wants to be complimented on and what topics to avoid. So, basically, you're a playboy with the potential to go home with a different girl every night. Best of all however, whenever you do something weird, be it rant about your hobbies or ask them if they want to smoke weed and try summoning a demon, you radiate 'I can fix him' energy instead of 'what the fuck is wrong with this guy' vibes.

200 cp - I Love Nuns And Nuns Love Me

Some men have a type. Tall girls, short girls, girls with fat tits, girls with dumptruck asses, girls with a tan, girls with glasses, and a million other things. You get the idea. But you, you're special. You don't have a type - or, well, no, you might have a type. That's not important right now. What matters is your type? They have you. Pick a type of girl. For example, nuns. That includes both religious girls and girls who just like the outfit. They all have one thing in common, and it's that you just so happen to be their type. So don't sweat going looking for your perfect girl - a whole buffet of them is going to be bearing down on your ass sooner rather than later. Bon appetite, my friend.

200 cp - Bring Me Every Esper In The World

You know now that I think about it, isn't it a bit odd that every single esper on the planet is all on Toaru Island? Like, I would have expected there to be some government black ops team that is full of Espers that they trained up on the sly. Maybe there are some out there still and they just didn't tell us about them, for obvious reasons. But no. You're a liar, a cheat, and dare I say - a politician. You could in fact arrange for every Esper in the world to be sent to one specific island, and quite possibly enforce that through a clever series of subclauses, conditions, and heavy penalties. And also a dash of mind control to actually ensure that people will obey your rules and regulations, because that's an Esper skill you now have.

400 cp - Head Trauma Isn't Traumatic At All

How many times does a pervert need to be slapped, kicked in the nuts, or insulted before he learns not to greet women by groping them? Well, if that pervert was you, then at least twice as much as they've already piled on you, because you are stupidly fucking durable and those might as well have been mosquito bites. This durability isn't just good for girls abusing you, it can also lend itself into a combat style - more specifically, why dodge when you can tank? Punching fireballs out of the air, backhanding lightning bolts, and stomping hard enough to create a small earthquake are all examples of things you can do fairly easily. As for what this durability runs on? Well, you'd probably think it was psychic in nature, and it might well be, but for you specifically it runs on heroism and manliness. If you're going to a girl's defense and or trying to show off how cool you are to her, you're even more durable still. Oh, and you can't be knocked out and or given amnesia from head trauma. Your thinker just keeps on ticking.

400 cp - Magic Is Psychic In Nature

Magical spells and Psychic skills are surprisingly similar in nature. In fact, they're so similar that Toaru Academy has at least two students native to Yggdrassil who used magic on the entry test and nobody noticed. Thanks to the utter lack of care that people have for this, you're able to use and abuse this similarity to your heart's content. When in your hands, magical and psychic prowess are identical in nature... as long as it's convenient for you. When it stops being convenient, they stop being the same. As an example - a helmet that blocks telepathy would also block magical attempts to read your mind, while an antimagic field would fail to impact your psychic powers. Conversely, if you were to create that same field, both your opponents magical and psychic abilities would start to fail them. Is this cheating? Quite possibly. Is it funny? Hell yeah.

600 cp - Lord Keep My Pimp Hand Strong

You know what's really sad? When you walk into a fight prepared to counter everything your opponent can do. Like, do you play blue? Anyways, you've figured out how to create a psychic dead zone, an esper skill that prevents the use of esper skills. It's very powerful... but also very small. So small in fact that the field might as well be entirely localized to your left hand. Any psychic phenomenon that comes into contact with it - and by it I mean both the field and your left hand - stops, breaks, or reverts effectively immediately. And if you grab onto them, they can't use esper skills at all until you let go! Oh, and for some reason, this effect is so pronounced that it causes any woman you use it on to start being interested in you. I would say something about you accidentally negating her fated romance and thus it defaulting to you, but that would be silly. Right?

600 cp - Because I Say So

Did you ever wonder why the ratio of women with psychic power is so high compared to men? Toaru island has a population of 100,000, and even if we assume only half of that is women, and half again are espers, that's still 24999 women with psychic powers and one singular guy. Why is that? Is it intentional, or just some random quirk of biology and evolution. Well, the truth is, it's neither. It's because of you. Or someone like you, at the very least - a genius. You aren't particularly powerful, but you don't need to be when you're this skilled. You can copy others' Esper skills simply from watching them in use a few times, and with time and effort you can even alter the nature of those psychic powers. You might need a few levers to make that work, perhaps a silly dance on the day of a solar eclipse, but if you wanted to take a nearly nonexistent system of power and give it to a million women and one guy, you could do that.

“Hero”

100 cp - I Really Want To Live In A World Full Of Oppai

Alright, you know how it is. This world is built upon a foundation, and that foundation is massive, bouncy, soft yet firm, and eminently gropable boobage. To that end, I've arranged this boon for you - every woman in the world now has a truly fantastic rack. Not only has the average chest size risen a couple of notches for women everywhere, but those chests are of a higher quality. The way they bounce, the way they seem to constantly strain against every form of covering, even the way that they glisten with sweat, it's all positively mesmerising! There's no such thing as a breast that isn't a pleasure to grope anymore. Eh? What's that? Haven't we done this before? Yes, and I'll do it again. But, if you want something different, then I'll also make it so that every woman in the world can now lactate if she gets sufficiently aroused, not just when she's pregnant.

100 cp - I'll Raise My Parents Children Myself

Er, this one is a bit awkward. So, your parents fucked off onto some kind of permanent honeymoon and left you and you stepsister behind. Or maybe they're just archeologists. Or spies! Nah, not spies, that's too cool. Anyways, they left and you were stuck holding the bag. This is somehow not the worst thing in the world, as it has resulted in you having the skills of a functional human being. You can cook and clean, manage a budget and a schedule, and even raise your younger sibling into a functional adult. ...Mostly functional. She might be a bit incestuous thanks to your hobby of spending all of your free time on porn, but she's still a good person with a full life ahead of her.

200 cp - I Used To Think She Was A Guy

When you were a kid, there were some others that you regularly played with. A girl who wanted to play house and then insulted you constantly, a girl who just loved to sing, and a guy who always wanted to wrestle with you. Sadly, you moved away and it wasn't until you awoke a deep and terrible power that you saw the three of them and their massive tits again. Wait, hang on - one, two, three - huh. Turns out the wrestling boy was a girl. It also turns out that proximity to the plot also causes a lot of those plot relevant and buxom young women to reveal that they knew each other as kids. Not all of them, but enough that it's honestly kind of weird you have so many childhood friends that are exceptionally powerful and exceptionally hot - and exceptionally happy to see you again.

200 cp - Oak Says Now Isn't The Time For That

Let's be real. You watch a lot of porn. You don't play games for their story, but for their art. And you definitely read playboy for the girls and not the articles. You're mired hip deep in lewdness and perversion. But, amazingly, somehow, you aren't a complete perv and have something resembling a sense of restraint. You might prefer to be constantly on the lookout for the finest pair of boobs to ogle, but you can stop there. You can also prevent your powers and abilities from lashing out unintentionally and potentially harming the people around you. Or worse, making your current vic - I mean, target, lose the volleyball tournament because you picked now to get horny and your power started molesting her.

400 cp - Publicly Acclaimed Public Indecency

As I'm sure you're aware, there's this irritating little law that likes to stop people from having sex in public. And even when you aren't going that far, lots of people get offended at public displays of affection. Well, fuck those guys. When you're getting it on and having a good time, you exude a magnetic charisma that makes girls wish that was them rather than making them think you're gross or that they should call the cops. In fact, rather than getting in trouble for having sex in public, you're more likely to cause an orgy as all the nearby women get hot and bothered by their mental images of you doing those things to them. Oddly enough this never includes their boyfriends, and will instead cause them to start getting it on with the nearest girl. On top of that, whoever you happen to actually be with at the time will get more and more into things in the long run - don't be surprised if she throws some ridiculously fetishistic situation at you next time, just because she wants to figure out what she likes.

400 cp - Hello Boobs, Nice Girl You Got There

Wake up first thing in the morning and grope your sister. Greet your friends on the way to school and slap their ass. Get to home room and accost the disciplinary committee head that her breasts have grown a whole two centimeters over the weekend - how indecent! You... Well, you either have no self control at all or are just so goddamn weird that people get confused as to how they're supposed to react to you. Or both. You could greet someone by molesting them and they'd probably thank you for it. Oh, sure, I'm sure everyone around her would think you're the lowest of the low, but let's be real - that's just them being jealous you groped her and not them. Right? Right. People also take even the smallest and most accidental of compliments from you and laser focus on them. You could spend ten whole minutes insulting her for something, but as long as you said she had nice hair somewhere in there she'd turn into a blushing maiden.

600 cp - Protagonist Privilege

In this world, .001% of the population of the Earth has mysteriously awoken with Psychic powers. Notably, every last one of them is female! Except for one. Except for you. You're male and Psychic, the only male Psychic. How does that work? Why you of all people? Who knows and who cares. What matters is that this makes you special. Or, rather, it's because you're special that you have Psychic powers. And this is something that you can fairly easily abuse. First off, whenever there's powers or abilities that are supposed to be locked to the opposite gender, you can use them anyways. For the time being, your default psychic power is the ability to make women orgasm without touching them. Secondly, women take note of you, consciously and unconsciously. The more attention you pay to them, the more attention they pay to you. Your flirting might be closer to molestation, but they'll still go out of their way to engage with you for some reason. Lastly, you'll find that you're simply luckier than others. Whether it's meeting girls, finding rare items, or merely someone saying something silly that causes you to have a eureka moment, things just have a tendency to go your way more often than not.

600 cp - Thank You For Loving My Boobs

Tell me something, what's your favorite game? Call of Booty? Grand Breast Auto? Or could it be the popular long running gacha game, OPPAI Academy EX: Bigger Bouncier, Boobier Babes? Yeah, you're here, so it's definitely that one. You've probably been playing it since day one and spent way too much money on unlocking all of the event skins and side characters. But, rejoice, for your devotion has been rewarded! If you play any game for a year and a day without fail, you'll be able to reach inside that game and pull something out of it. Or, I suppose it would be more accurate to say that the game will reach out to you, with your favorite character from that game jumping into the real world in order to give you gifts for spending so much time with her and going on all those adventures with her. Please note, using these gifts will not cause explosions or spontaneously isekai you into the game world... unless you already have the ability to get back under your own power.

Heroine

100 cp - Level 5 Esper

Eh? What's that? The strongest of the strong, the legendary Railgun? Er, sorry, you know level 5 means you're a rank newb, right? The scale goes to 100 after all. Anyways, you've had whatever psychic awakening .001% of the world has had, meaning that you now have superpowers. Pick a simple skill. Being able to snap your fingers and generate flame roughly on par with a cigarette lighter. Being able to detect lies, or maybe to look at photographs and smell what was going on at the time it was taken. Or, just go fast. There's a lot of options, and while learning ever more techniques is possible, some people prefer to simply take this one skill and jack it up into absurdity. Screw cigarette lighters, let's cosplay as an erupting volcano. In the meantime, however, you're quite good at picking up more minor powers, with a single class being enough to grab a new skill. Getting it up to a usable level, however, is another story.

100 cp - True Boob Beauty

You know what kind of world this is. If you want to make it as a designated waifu, you're going to need a ridiculously big pair of breasts. Which you now have. But, merely having big breasts isn't all I'm going to give you. You're also fairly attractive, top 1% of the world you likely came from, or top 10% of this world. Your hair and skin are easy to take care of and effectively default to a state of being very pleasant to the touch, a nice silky smooth texture. Your natural body odor is probably some kind of perfume or shampoo, and even if you start to sweat that just leaves you smelling nice in a different way. For all intents and purposes you have to actively work to be unkempt, because being pretty just comes naturally to you.

200 cp - Utterly Fantastic "Personality"

You have the bearing of a true leader about you. Perhaps you come from some bloodline of kings and ceos? In any event, leading is in your veins, which is why you're probably the team captain of whatever extreme sports club you ended up joining. Not because you have a pretty voice that guys and girls alike probably zone out listening to and end up having dirty fantasies about later. Definitely not that. Absolutely not the way that the sway of your melons is downright hypnotic to weak minded people or natural followers/subs. ...Look, you're really fucking pretty. More so than normal, and for some reason, you're especially attractive to girls. Given a few too many close calls in the locker room, maybe a few accidental flashes, and half the girls you hang out with on a regular basis will end up drooling all over you. If a girl spent enough time with you, she might even swear off guys entirely in favor of trying to woo you. And if you're not into girls, well, a threesome is always an option.

200 cp - Psychokenitits Syndrome

Fun fact! According to recent research from Toaru Academy, there's a direct correlation between the size of a girl's tits and how much psychic energy she can exert. Naturally, this means that having bigger boobs is not only physically appealing, but a valid tactical decision! This may or may not be complete bullshit since the one doing the study is you-know-who, who only ever thinks with his dick, but still. From here on out there's... not exactly a specific link between how beautiful you are and how powerful you are, but you'll find that anything that causes your breasts to increase in size - drugs, molestation, pregnancy, so on and so forth - will also cause your Psi levels to increase. At least until they stop being swollen and go back down. If they go back down. Similarly, regular practice with your Skills for the purpose of gaining power that way will see your breasts grow in equal measure.

400 cp - Extreme Club Member

Alright, so, hopefully you picked the perk that gave you a psychic power of some kind. Because that skill is now your signature skill. It's what you're widely known for using, and for being damn good at using it. To that end, you'll find that it now comes very naturally to you, requiring less effort to refine and less focus to use. Better still, you're remarkably good at finding new ways to use your powers for the sake of training. Maybe you reverse engineered a speed enhancement power into an accelerated cognition ability - all of the sake of Extreme Chess of course. Normal games of speed chess take about three minutes - Extreme Chess gives you 30 seconds. You need that accelerated thought to plan your moves, and the superspeed to actually make them. As a bonus, you may also pick a mundane sport or activity to have an absurd amount of competency in, such as medicine, volleyball, or sharpshooting. You can imagine what those do when taken to the limits of their Extreme counterparts.

400 cp - Magician

For a school that's supposed to be dedicated to unlocking the potential of the human mind by teaching them how to use Psi, there's an odd number of girls here who didn't have any before attending classes. Why? Because they were actually magicians instead. A dark elf from the Otherworld, Yggdrasil, a videogame character brought to life (also nominally from Yggdrasil), and a ninja. And now you. Unlike the other students, you don't have access to a specific kind of Psi, you just know a school of magic instead. Cryokinesis? Nah, just cast an ice spell like Blizardeath. However, that isn't to say that you don't have the potential to learn Psi. In fact, you easily take to learning new kinds of powers, even when they ought to be incompatible. You won't have any particular talent for them, but if having magic and learning Psi would normally cause, say, aneurysms, well that just won't happen to you.

600 cp - Highest Class

While a certain nation preaches that all men are created equal and may one day rise to the same heights, the sad fact is that not all boobs are made so. Some women are just doomed to flatness no matter how hard they massage them. Luckily, that isn't you. You're a blazing star of destiny, a diva yet to take the stage, a miracle of mammeraries, and quite frankly your genetics are absurd because it doesn't matter how big your tits get, they only ever look amazing instead of being gross from being too large. Oh, and also you're rich. Like filthy fucking rich. Like your family controls a company that basically owns a double digit percentage of Japan, and probably makes more money than most nations GDP. Or, alternatively and someone more reasonably, you could be a literal princess. In both cases, you actually have a special ability to prove how much better your blood is than the common man's. You can actually shunt pretty much any side effect from Psi usage to boob growth. Overuse your powers and instead of a headache, your boobs will temporarily swell up. Additionally, your family is given to doting on you in such a way that your allowance could probably let you open your own school and have a nice chunk left over. Have I said you were filthy fucking rich yet?

600 cp - Gacha Girl

Every day, thousands of men sigh longingly at a screen, because in their eyes 2D is infinitely superior to 3D. And then there's you, an extremely weird blurring of the lines on account of being a supposedly 2D girl who jumped out of the game to spend time with the player. You're able to do this because you're a magically created digital lifeform, able to enter and exit computer systems and manipulate them in some extremely strange ways. This gives you immense power as a hacker, such that you could, for example, add yourself to a certain school's student registry fairly easily. Additionally, each jump you may designate yourself as being from a specific game and effectively copy a playable character from that game for the duration of the jump. A bit of mix and matching is fine, but keep it balanced. Lastly? You can just straight up eat money. This will enhance your powers by a small amount, usually across ten distinct levels, as well as semi-randomly generate outfits, weapons, and 'filters' that you can place over your powers, such as becoming a 'summer' variation of yourself.

Supporter

100 cp - Skillful Time Waster

Just because you've gone and grown up doesn't mean that every day has to be boring. After all, they say that while growing old is mandatory, growing up is optional. To that end... it seems that you're actually an avid gamer? More to the point, you have at least a handful of psychic powers that you've trained up to help you in those games. Increased reaction speed, snap calculations, perhaps something for rhythm... the only games you haven't mastered are ones that are purely luck based, which is why you seem to have a fondness for gacha games as well. And while you can't directly control luck, you do have a modicum of skill at probability manipulation...

100 cp - Workout Girl

So, when you were a student, were you the gloomy girl wearing concealing clothes in the back of the class? I bet you were. And I bet that after you graduated, you decided to make a change and be more outgoing and whatnot. In specific, you became a personal instructor at the local gym, not only getting in shape yourself but being able to help others do so. However, this world being what it is, even though you're now quite strong, you don't seem to have a single shred of muscle on you. Instead, all of your lifting power is inside your boobs, because the more you work out, the bigger they get. And the more suckable they get, and the more milk you can produce, and the easier it is to bring yourself to orgasm with your breasts alone... I kinda feel like you went back to the puberty fairy and mugged it or something. Odd habit of running into old classmates who are totally into the new you optional but recommended.

200 cp - Family Crest

Well now this is quite interesting. Have you been naughty? Despite being an esper, you seem to have inherited a certain level of magical prowess from a distant ancestor. Most likely a succubus, those girls really get around. This inheritance comes in the form of a strange symbol that appears over your womb when sufficiently aroused, and seems to function as an automated means of casting magic. If you are descended from a succubus, this means that, while horny, you effectively start autocasting charm magic, making you even more attractive to the men around you. If you're something else... well, it's probably something thematic for your ancestors, but it still only activates when you're horny. Ice magic if you're descended from a Yuki Onna, maybe health and stamina restorative magic if your family line includes an angel, or perhaps a hypnotic voice from a Siren? You have options is the point. Oh, and if you have any children, this will automatically apply to them as well.

200 cp - Forgive Me Daughter

So. Your daughter has a new boyfriend. You're not quite sure what to make of him, so you should probably give him a test of some kind. But what to do? Maybe transform him into a shota so that you can molest him? ...Well, if he doesn't run screaming he'll probably be able to take care of her well enough. Anyways, the effects of this perk are twofold - first off, other than some minor complaints from your daughter about you monopolizing her boyfriend's time and dick, you won't see much in the way of trouble from that theoretical scenario. Or even from your husband - he'd be mostly accepting that you have weird fetishes and probably be relieved about you inflicting them on the poor boy than on him. The other effect is that your kids always seem to end up in relationships with people you wouldn't mind fucking yourself. You know, as a treat you can give yourself on occasion. Or one you could give him, I suppose.

400 cp - Still Got It

It takes quite a lot of skill to run herd on teenagers. It takes a fucking miracle to even begin to control teenagers with superpowers. Or powers of your own. You're a decently powerful Esper, but quite frankly you're not here to do anything with that but the bare minimum. No, you're here because you have a teaching degree. Or, in other words, you're going to be the one to teach all these kids how to use their own Skills. To help with that, in addition to the above mentioned degree, you are a classy and mature individual who has an easy time being a role model - lots of your students probably think of you what they want to be when they grow up. The few times you aren't being refined and breasting boobily along is when you're instead smacking the shit out of them for being stupid, because you seem to have some kind of inbuilt radar for rule breakers. You know exactly who is and is not paying attention in class, whether or not that man is eyeing you up, and how to position so much as a single pencil to ruin his view. It takes a lot of skill to be a teacher at Toaru Academy, but thankfully you have that skill.

400 cp - Game Designer

Being a game designer is a lot like being a god. You get to control every aspect of a world, can design people and nations, and determine the flow of history. Being a game designer is a lot like being a parent - sooner or later, someone will start lusting after your precious babies. The two of these aren't as unrelated as they may seem. If you were to ever get sucked into your game, or perhaps if one of the characters were to come to life, they'd be extremely fond of you in proportion to how much you had to do with their creation, potentially to the point of considering you family. Like, you know that one girl you designed as basically a teenage version of yourself? Yeah, she's gonna call you mommy. Now, this does only apply to characters you specifically designed - no introducing bland name products. On the flip side? It's now significantly more likely to occur that anyone would consider reasonable. Not always to your specific benefit, but it will be a fun trip either way.

600 cp - Space Elevator Technician

Have I mentioned yet that the school for Psychics, Toaru Academy, is hosted inside of a giant space elevator? This probably means the school has interests in space, but that's never expanded on. What matters for you however, is who the fuck built that damn thing in the first place. Well, my answer to that is you. Or at the very least, you probably helped. Pick a psychic power. Telekinesis, Ferrokinesis, Areokinesis, anything that you can think of that might be useful for building a space elevator, from bringing materials up, strengthening them somehow, or even just letting other workers breathe in space. You have that power, and at sufficient levels to operate in space. More than that, you also have the several scientific degrees needed to know what the heck you're doing as an active participant and not just someone blindly following a blueprint. Hell, maybe you're part of the team that designed this damn thing in the first place?

600 cp - The Psychic Phenomenon

Where did Espers come from? How was Psi discovered? These things aren't known to the common man, but everyone agrees it's probably part of some conspiracy. Such things don't particularly matter however. Should you wish it, in every jump you visit in the future, approximately .001% of humanity will possess Psi. All female of course. Women who have these powers will trend towards being more beautiful, more talented, have larger breasts, and of course have massive hidden slutty sides. You know, like they are here. Optionally, and with the same side effects, you may choose to instead grant a similar portion of the world access to a different power or system of powers that you possess. If you had, perhaps, been to Yggdrasil previously, or even if you were merely descended from a magical species, you could use this to gift magical powers of some kind to quite a few people, in a world where such a thing would otherwise not exist.

100 cp - Suspicious Apartment

So, you aren't actually a student at Toaru Academy. Or even at Esper at all, more likely than not. So, uh, how exactly did you get here? And why are you still here? Well, you're probably stuck given the whole 'might not have existed a few days ago' part of your arrival to this world, so let me hook you up with some things. Behold, an old keyring. It always has keys that go to a nearby apartment building, one where the landlord is either distracted or just really lazy and the apartments are perhaps a bit behind in terms of maintenance. You'll be able to stay for about a week before the key to whichever apartment you were using mysteriously breaks and you have to move on. You may eventually notice that you are being shadowed by another, a student who seems to have slipped through Toaru's housing system and is equally as homeless as you. Her natural talent as an Esper seems to be for Anti-Magic, which makes her... very strange. Still, she seems enthused to have you as a consistent neighbor.

100 cp - (Don't) Do Drugs - An Autobiography

Where on earth did you get these? While wandering through the city one day you stumbled across an old box of books and decided to take them home. The box would make for a good coffee table, probably. The books themselves are... nonsensical. It's all old esoteric nonsense, a study of Egyptian mythology, the history of tarot cards, and someone's dream journal that they only ever wrote while high. Actually most of the books here seem to have been penned by our mysterious friend the drug addict. If you take the time to sit down and force your way through their nonsense, you'll realize that the books are effectively describing a homebrew magic system. The traits of this, the benefits of that, the downsides of this other thing, all wrapped up in a neat little package. Unfortunately, key tomes are missing. Still, if you manage to teach yourself a spell or two from here anyways, you'll find one of the books spontaneously morphing into what looks like a catgirl dressed in some kind of mourning gown. She's a spirit bound to guard the styles users... which these days, is just you.

200 cp - Anti-Psychic Pills

Tell me, do you ever get tired of being able to read minds? Maybe you want to go more than a day or two without your prophetic dreams suddenly turning into screaming nightmares? Well, worry no longer because I have an answer for you. This small bottle of Medicine TM has the effect of temporarily negating one power of your choice for about 12 hours whenever you take a pill from it. While your powers are disabled, your physical prowess is enhanced instead, giving you greater strength and stamina and some limited regeneration until the pills wear off. The more you take, the more you lose and the more you gain. If you down the entire bottle in one go you could bounce back from breaking almost every bone in your body within a couple of days instead of a year. Whenever you run out, you'll find a blond haired schoolgirl with stars in her eyes appearing from out of nowhere to shove another bottle into your hands. Supposedly the two of you struck a deal to keep you supplied... Strange, but what's stranger is that she always seems oddly pleased whenever you call her by name.

200 cp - Plotting Central Office

Near the heart of Toaru Island is a strange building painted a featureless grey color with no windows, and more strangely, no doors. Inside is a small number of bedrooms, offices, and a medical bay/security hub inside a massive spatial distortion. A young girl with purple hair lives here, constantly analyzing information from the security cameras - because you see, the building is spying on everything and everyone for miles and miles around, even off the island. Learning new things seems to be her only purpose in life, and as such she pouts quite fiercely if distracted from the feeds. You made your entrance here after an accident with a teleporter, at which point the girl easily agreed to trade access to the facilities in exchange for anything new - books from the other side of the world, movies that were never uploaded onto the internet, things that even Toaru Academy's extreme reach can't bring her.

400 cp - Toaru Municipal "Saint Peter's" Hospital

Toaru Academy does everything they can in a totally over the top manner, and that includes the full sized hospital held within the main body of the space elevator that they reside in. Only the best for their students! For everyone else, however, a number of other hospitals dot the island in more convenient locations. You got dragged to this one after a fight in order to be healed, only for your attending physician, a positively ancient woman to realize that you were something of an anomaly. Thankfully she considers healing people to be more important than checking her insurance, so she instead took her break early and spent it looking after you. Whenever you get injured in the future, you'll find her mysteriously in residence for one reason or another and more than willing to provide you free medical care. Her esper skill is tantric healing by the way, so except to have some fun with her. Despite being old as fuck, she's still got it going on in all the right ways and places.

400 cp - Skill Tree Diagram

You may be surprised to know that Esper Skills are a general thing, not something unique to everyone. Sure, people tend to have a 'default' Skill, the first one they unlocked and that they like the most, but any Esper who applies themselves properly can use just about any Skill, from walking through walls, to teleporting, to various elemental kinesis Skills. Figuring out what they're good at can be a challenge though - that's where this supercomputer comes in. Feed it data and it will spit out training methods for pretty much anything you care to name. And when I say anything, I mean it - want to learn to make black holes or travel through time? The system will make increasingly ridiculous plans the stranger your requests are, with some of them making no sense or being batshit insane. If you think it's glitching, well, it comes with a support staff of half a dozen cloned electrokinetics to maintain, repair, and upgrade the thing as needed. They'll kick it until it gives you a more reasonable set of instructions.

600 cp - Lords of Destruction

A long time ago, eight powerful dragon kings roamed the Otherworld, terrorizing the land, pillaging villages, and raping princesses. Eventually the destruction they wrought became too much, and a powerful wizard sealed them away. While sealed, and due to a rather silly series of events involving multiple simultaneous backstabs on account of each dragon king wanting to turn the other seven into bitches to fuck, all eight dragons became women. This is relevant because you have somehow come into the possession of the sealed dragon queens, and they are incredibly horny. Each one has a different power, and an immense one at that, and are both willing and able to loan you those powers in exchange for ending a thousand year long dry spell and maybe helping them put those breeding instincts to good use. Freeing them is technically optional, as you can release them in the form of ghosts, but if you're confident that you can control them, by all means.

600 cp - A Certain Scientific City

Ever since the manifestation of Psychic powers around the world, they've all been gathered in Toaru City, which is itself housed on an artificial island located in international waters between Japan and Hawaii. Someone, somehow, convinced basically every Psychic in the world to come and live here. I can only imagine how much governmental bitching there was. It helps that it's currently the most scientifically advanced city on the planet, with Toaru Academy being the lower half of a space elevator. But, that's just background details. For you, Toaru City is your playground and every woman in it is just rats trapped in your maze. You have a disturbing level of control over everything in it, from screwing with peoples wifi and the streetlights to control how quickly their doordash arrives. Using this, you can stress people out and push them to their limits, controlling their growth - and, generally speaking, after a year or so of you screwing around with them, they will have grown in new and exciting ways. And if you're not into that, well, it also comes with a secretary who is fucking crazy, probably high, and spends all her time upside down to force the blood into her brain to help her think faster. She notes down every last iota of innovation and growth to dissect into your notes, for if you want that growth for yourself.

“Hero”

100 cp - OPPAI Academy EX : Bigger, Bouncier, Boobier Babes

It's hip, it's hot, it's got more boobs than a horny teenager knows what to do with, it's the hot new gacha game, OAEXBBBB - or just Boobier Babes for short. Set in the magical world of Yggdrasil and the magical school of Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy. ...Yes, this is just Milk Factories previous work, but as a shoot em up gacha game instead of its original format. Look, a dev can dream, alright? It's stupidly high quality without sacrificing an iota of fanservice, and has an actual plot line involving the player fighting off Ragnarok (who is a loli) alongside their battle harem. And lots of side events in which you can roll new versions of the girls in increasingly risque swimsuits and other outfits. Your choice if you have a new account and a fat stack of paid currency to experience things properly or an already maxed out account. Oh, and you'll also receive an over the top gacha game version of whatever your last jump happened to be, every jump. Which means that you'll get a gacha equivalent of this world once you leave.

100 cp - Titcoin Wallet

Getting an allowance from your parents is nice, but having your own money is even better. Alas, all you have is Toaru City's signature cryptocurrency, Titcoin. Instead of being subject to market fluctuations, it's instead tied to breast size - if the average cup size of the world is going up, Titcoin gets more valuable. If it goes down, it goes down. In any event, you have both an allowance of about a hundred dollars a week to spend on whatever, an account with about a thousand a month for groceries and shit, and are currently earning several thousand dollars a month though Titcoin - admittedly, buying things outside of Toaru City with Titcoin is a bit difficult what with conversion and all that, but you'll find an endless supply of seemingly random gimmick items for sale that you can order online and have delivered within minutes, all of whom will gladly accept payment in Titcoin.

200 cp - Anti-Stepsisterism Hate Speech

You know, getting moved halfway around the world because you took a test you were supposed to fail and succeeded anyways can't be the most pleasant thing in the world. Maybe that's the reason a certain pervert and his stepsister live alone, without an adult in sight? In any event, the people who dragged you to this island at least had the decency to furnish you with a fairly nice house. Fit for a family of four, regular deliveries of cheap groceries, lots of in built appliances and other conveniences. The high power and futuristic computer was also included - the massive game and porn library was something you built up over time. A sibling of some kind, be it guy or girl, real or step, can optionally be included for backstory purposes. Just remember that incest is bad, mkay? ...What do you mean Toaru solved the genetic issue with that sort of thing?

200 cp - Breast Enhancement Bootcamp

You love boobs, right? Which of course means that you'll want to enjoy them whenever possible. The sight, the scent, the feel, boobs in school uniforms, boobs in swimsuits, boobs hanging freely - all that good stuff. But you should also want to help those boobs be the best boobs they can be. That's why you have a truly massive pile of boob related paraphernalia. Strictly speaking this comes with a psychic power, you can summon almost anything you can think of to your hand as long as it's boob related. As for what you actually have? More kinds of lube than you can count, just as many skin lotions, pumps and plugs, a few piercings, drugs that encourage and inhibit lactation, boob shaped mouse pad that feels like real boobs, mega milk tshirts - literally anything boob related you can think of, it's here. Enjoy.

400 cp - An App For That

A certain psychic perverts natural levels of Psi is so small as to be nonexistent, but he does have them. In order to really get away with half the shit he does, he makes use of an amplifier device. That device contains a number of programs that are half science, half magic, and half placebo effect. That doesn't matter though, what matters is that you have one of those apps. Or, something like it at least. When you channel your psychic powers through this code, it produces a single but easily repeatable effect. Perhaps it amplifies your ability to teleport in exchange for always taking you to the nearest girls bathroom? Or maybe it enhances mind control by convincing the last girl you touched that you're dating? Regardless, please pick a single scene from the game - with the help of this card, recreating that scene as many times as you want is now easily done.

400 cp - Collaboration Event

Well this is a bit odd. Go ahead and pick a game at the start of each jump. Could be something like Boobier Babes, or it could be something like the newest Final Fantasy game. Gotta save them crystals, right? Anyways, this game will now become maaaasssively more popular. Characters showing up in other games, advertisements on billboards, toys in kids meals, prostitutes offering a discount on recreating scenes from the games - well, that last one might depend on the game in question, but at the very least they'll offer to cosplay. Also expect said outfits to be publicly available, to have mock ups of any signature food and drink be available at restaurants via special promotion, and for it to be a major draw at gaming conventions if they don't have their own special one. And of course all of this advertisement means that the series will be making more money, which will quickly result in more and higher quality games for the series. And if that weren't enough, depending on how weird future worlds are, you may very well end up getting sucked into the game, or having characters leap out to say hello.

600 cp - PaiPhone seX

One day while lamenting the fact that you'd broken your phone screen while fapping to porn of your favorite videogame, one of your waifus jumped out of the screen and gave you a new phone so that you wouldn't break your login streak. How kind of her! But that's not all, or even the main point - this phone is also a massive Psychic amplifier and can empower even weak Psychics into absolute monsters. This effect works by a process of attunement, after which it will procedurally generate apps that represent specific uses of your own Psychic powers. A man with the ability to make girls orgasm might find an app that causes nearby women to have their lips become an erogenous zone, or to be able to telekinetically molest them until they cream themselves. As time passes and you use these apps more and more, they'll get more and more powerful. At the upper level, you might even be able to teleport into another dimension. Even if you lack a Psychic power entirely you'll find this phone working as a copy of the 'hero's phone, but will become a more general amplifier post jump.

600 cp - Toaru Jumper's Academy

Half school, half space elevator, Toaru Girl's Academy is currently the best school in the entire world. Maybe in two, though that's not quite relevant right now. Instead, all you need to know is that every modern convenience that could be shoved into it, was. There are full sports fields, beaches, and mountainsides held inside the elevator that use holographic panels and force fields to fake being outside, to say nothing of the wall to wall touch screens that serve as the blackboard in most classrooms. But, more important than all of that is the fact that despite being male, despite it being a girls school, you are allowed to attend - and it is stuffed to the brim with big breasted and absolutely beautiful women, students and teachers both. You're guaranteed a minimum of eight of them being outright and potentially aggressively into you at base, and you can be assured that the rest of the students, the family of the students, and even the girls who are into other girls and hate men aren't that far behind. Oh, and the school is also designed to teach people to control their Psychic powers and has classes on dozens of different kinds from phasing and teleporting to mind and object reading, so every student who doesn't start with them will graduate with an array of psychic powers.

Heroine

100 cp - A Taste of Home

Gathering all of the Espers in the world and placing them all on one island cannot have possibly been a quick or easy process. People don't always like moving, let alone a moody teenager who has to move halfway around the world at someone else's say so, possibly alone. Anyways, to alleviate that, Toaru Island has gone to some extra effort to collect materials to stave off homesickness. Pick a country, presumably whichever one you're from. You'll receive regular shipments of food - snacks, sweets, regional specialties, so on and so forth - from your homeland whenever you are elsewhere. Which, given you are currently on an island off the coast of Japan, means you'll receive regular shipments for the duration of the jump. You can also make requests for other things, if you're so inclined. A recording from a local musician is fine, flying said musician out to Toaru Island in order to give you a live concert it... probably doable, especially if you're a straight A student, but don't count on it outside of that.

100 cp - Stalker Collection

So. Toaru Academy is, strictly speaking, an all girls school. This means one of two things. Either a significant portion of that school is gay as fuck, or they're going to spend all of their free time oohing and ahing over boybands. Well, while there are some lesbians, most of the girls here are straight. And, presumably, so are you. In any event, you now have a disturbing level of material relating to an individual of your choice. A daikamakura of the boy you like, recordings of his voice complimenting you, some knives, some of his laundry, a dildo perfectly in the shape of his cock, so on and so forth. Honestly, all of this basically adds up to a yandere starter pack. More materials will randomly show up over time, if you so desire. Changing who this is focused on is possible, but will forfeit everything you currently have in exchange.

200 cp - Talent Intensifying Training Suit

In an effort to bring every iota of psychic power a girl can muster to the surface, certain technologies were created. The TITS system is a specially crafted outfit designed to appeal to the wearer in such a way as to enhance their mental state. From there, built in machinery will squeeze specific parts of your body in a slightly rhythmic pattern to help you focus. Then, minor amplifiers take all of your Psi and turn it into even more Psi. In short, this is a training outfit that makes it easier to use Psi, regardless of if you're just starting or well on the road to being a masterful Esper. Oh, and most of them only cover about 10-20% of the body, so it's easy to mistake them for something a stripper might wear. That's caused a few issues with the public morals committee, but science won out in the end, so be prepared to either sacrifice your dignity in the name of power, or flaunt everything your momma gave you.

200 cp - PiNipple Phone Store

Low on cash? Is the money for your living expenses that Toaru shells out somehow not enough? Don't worry, you can have a part time job at this store. ...wait, why is it entirely empty? What even is a PiNipple? No knockoff brand would have a store this clean. This place is less of an actual store and more like a parody of a store - bright, clean, full of top of the line phones, and utterly ignored by any and all passersby unless specifically invited in. Despite this, it mysteriously generates a small amount of income. Perhaps more importantly however, is the fact that you can pose questions to any form of media you happen to have on hand - games, movies, porn - and the characters will answer. Not the actors - the characters. They can provide love advice, combat tricks and techniques, or even a simple item of some kind, such as a potion. Or you can shove money into the screen for various rewards, depending on the game. Interesting, no?

400 cp - La Charite Chocolate Cake

Somewhere within Toaru City is a restaurant. That restaurant has the single best chocolate cake in the entire city on their menu. They make a single one per day. The waiting list to get a slice is never less than weeks long. As such, it's more of an urban legend than a thing most students would get to try. Unless a teacher decided to use a slice of it as motivation for her students. Or your family owned the restaurant. Luckily, you happen to be in a scenario where both are true. This restaurant now belongs to you, as does its delectable bounty of chocolatey goodness. It is, quite frankly, the most delicious chocolate cake a dozen espers with cooking Skills could throw together. And now it's yours. The staff will operate mostly independently, but if you ever want one all for yourself then they'll also make that happen. Amusingly, a single slice of this is an acceptable bribe for pretty much anyone, from schoolgirls to major politicians. It's that good.

400 cp - Specialized Environment

While Espers can, in theory, learn any number of Skills, there will always be one particular Skill that you have an additional level of affinity for. Generally speaking this is the first one you unlocked. Some people choose to branch out, others take that one Skill as high as they can go. This place is designed to do just that. Pick a specific usage of Psi, and you'll receive a training ground perfectly suited towards the usage of that skill. If you wanted to manipulate gravity, perhaps you'd be given an enormous centrifuge, the kind astronauts use for high-g training? Or maybe you want to become better with the usage of a healing skill, and are given a clinic of some kind to give you easy access to people who need to be healed? Toaru Academy rarely cares about how much something costs when it comes to supplying their students with everything they need, so don't be surprised if this is totally over the top in terms of what you need right now - they want to future proof it for you might need in six months after all.

600 cp - Toaru Girl's Academy

As of this moment, this school is quite possibly the most over the top educational facility on the planet. While named as one school, in truth it's actually several similarly named ones, at varying levels of education, such as a college. Mind you, whether they qualify as separate schools when they're all housed inside the same space elevator is debatable. Which, by the way, the school is inside a space elevator. And that's one of the less fantastical things about it. The cafeteria food is actually good, with the kitchens open at all hours and staffed by five star chefs. For combat, there's many training rooms, twice as many club rooms for extreme sports and the like, and even a virtual reality training simulator if you've a mind to engage in combat. The teachers have Skills that make them better teachers. The chefs have Skills that make them better chiefs. Oh, and for some reason attending class slowly makes you prettier in a semi-random manner, such as how big your boobs are or how silky your hair is.

600 cp - Yggdrassil DLC Edition

Wait, what's going on? This is quite clearly Yggdrassil Girl's Magical Academy, the completely over the top magical school of the Otherworld, but you aren't a student of that school. No, you only ever went there as part of your backstory - oh wait, this is a videogame. Yggdrassil is the main setting of the hit game "OPPAI Academy EX : Bigger, Bouncier, Boobier Babes", and as a videogame character, you're technically a student of it. Or at least you're a real student of a fake school. While Yggdrassil is seemingly a real place, this isn't it. No, this is your hub level, the main menu to the game you call your home. Within it very little of what you see and here will be accurate, but the end results are still workable. Attending a class - or rather, a cutscene - on magical theory will teach you nothing of value, but go to five of them and you could learn to cast fireball anyways. Head into the dungeon and slay some monsters, and they'll explode into gold, random items, and experience. This virtual reality quite literally runs on the physics of a gacha game for the most part, and if you know what you're doing then that's quite exploitable.

Supporter

100 cp - Mothers Milk

So, you're a mom, right? You have kids? Well, if you don't, you're probably still one hell of a milf so I wouldn't be surprised if you ended up being targeted by a certain Gynekinetik. That is to say, someone with control over women. You know who I'm talking about. Anyways, since being pregnant makes boobs bigger and that's a major theme for this world, I've decided to help prepare you for that as much as possible. Simply put, you now have everything you could ever need to care for a child, up until age 18 or so. Baby food and diapers, breast pumps and formula, even 'learn the alphabet' books for toddlers, all the way up to backpacks and textbooks for when they reach high school. When I say this is everything you'll need for a kid, I mean that literally. Don't worry about needing to store anything by the way, all of this will just magically appear as soon as you need it. Or maybe you have a psychic Skill about summoning it?

100 cp - Frequent Flier Miles

No, this isn't about airplanes. Or rather, not only about airplanes. During your time in Toaru City, presumably back when you were a student, you picked up a number of part time jobs to help pay the bills... or feed whatever whimsical desire struck your fancy, be it new clothes or a beach vacation. Because of this, you now have insider access, an employee discount, or even just the 'nice guy' discount on a seemingly random selection of businesses. Yes, you do actually get free airline tickets every so often. You also have free dental from a certain doctor, twenty percent off from a specific food delivery service, and a lifetime membership at a certain gym, amongst other things. It's not much in the grand scheme of things, but it adds up to a notable amount.

200 cp - Psi Degree

Right, let's discuss one of the oddities of your backstory. Are you, or are you not, an Esper? You could very well be, but you don't specifically need to be. But fuck it, if you've come this far without managing to be one, let's fix that. This piece of paper is a degree. Once per jump you may simply fill in the blanks for what your degree is of and where you got it, and you will receive the knowledge appropriate for that degree. As of right now, it means you can opt into being a graduate of Toaru Academy, which will of course give you a small number of Skills. Nothing particularly special, but an acceptable spread and at a decent level of strength. For future jumps... you can use it on pretty much any school. Have fun with that!

200 cp - Lesson Plans

And on the flip side to merely being a graduate, you could also be a teacher. And this right here is what you're going to be teaching. This set of papers has been enchanted thanks to Toaru Girl's Academy's sister school, the Yggdrasil Girl's Magical Academy, and will automatically pull every scrap of information you possess on a single topic into itself and then sort all of that information into a fairly comprehensive lesson plan. And no, that doesn't mean you forget or anything, it's just copying it out. Sadly, the paper itself isn't able to enhance the students in any way. You'll have to make do with a high quality set of lesson plans that can even be personalized for specific students and make use of every trick and technique you've long since forgotten to help get them on their way. And I suppose it does need to be said - if you use this on your knowledge of your own Skills and then try to teach a normal person, well, naturally nothing will happen.

400 cp - Palace of Displeasure

I give unto you, a job. Which, yeah, I know. Not the most exciting thing in the world. But let me get the basics out of the way before I start spicing things up. You are now the proprietor, owner, or merely the vip of a location of your choosing. You might be the owner of a very popular hot spring, a quaint cafe, or perhaps the director of a hospital. Or you might be the senior doctor instead of on the board, we can be flexible here. If you wanted to be boring you could just own a company that makes microchips and sit back and rake in the cash. As for the spice I mentioned, any child you have will mysteriously acquire an affinity for actions and activities related to your choice here. If you choose a restaurant, your kids might all become master chefs on the side. A hospital? They'll have an affinity for healing magic slash Skills. And if you don't have kids, you can still designate one person per jump to receive that benefit.

400 cp - Factory of Milk

Ah yes, the producers of the hit game series Boobier Babes! Mind you, I'm not entirely sure how they managed to mash a gacha into a shoot 'em up, but I imagine the phenomenal amount of boobage on display probably has something to do with it. Anyways, this company is now your company. You have as much creative control over their projects as you want, and they will almost always have a level of popularity equal to the fanservice unless the gameplay is just truly awful. Oh, and they'll automatically acquire the rights to make games for any setting you've been to previously, if you're so inclined as to make games based on past jumps.

600 cp - Toaru Space Elevator

Toaru Girl's Academy is not the only school on Toaru Island, but it is the most prestigious one, and it is suitably over the top as a result. As I've said before, the entire school is housed inside of a space elevator. Ever wonder what was on top? You're now the proud owner of the island the school rests on, the school itself, and perhaps more importantly a space station and moon base. As you might expect, the quality of almost everything here is through the roof thanks to having been made to cater to people from all over the planet as well having been built by several supergeniuses. This means that it will regularly attract the best and brightest from other countries... or stupid, if powerful, individuals. It varies a bit. Having a space station also gives you the means and resources to corner multiple fields of industry and to be a nation unto yourself even when every country in the world would happily take a bite out of you and yours. And, of course, orbital superiority. If someone tries to steal shit from you, just bump one of their satellites out of position. They'll apologize real quick.

600 cp - Neuegerman Principality

Somewhere in western Europe, between Germany and France is a nation called the Neuegerman Principality. It was formed after World War 2, at a much smaller size than it is now, but it has constantly and consistently excelled in practically everything and has grown in prestige and size since then. It has roughly five million citizens, most of whom are master craftsmen of one stripe or another. You are now the queen of this nation. Or king. Royalty, at the very least. Unlike Toaru Island, which has a metaphorical army of Espers as their main claim to fame and the source of their success, this place is far more ordinary, but still manages to be prestigious thanks to a general trend towards excellence in its citizens. You have the lowest unemployment rates in the world, and the highest for people who acquire higher education.

Companions

400 cp stipend in this section

50 cp - Companion Import

If you want to bring some of your companions into the jump with you, you can. You may import one of them for each 50 cp you spend on this option. Regardless of how many you import, each companion gains 600 cp to play with and all the same choices you get, with the exclusion of them taking companions of their own or any drawbacks.

50 cp - Companion Export

If you're more interested in making new friends, I can also arrange that. With each purchase of this I'll arrange for you to have a meeting that leaves a good first impression with a character of your choice. Try to choose potential companions on factors such as competence and compatible personality, not just the size of their breasts.

50 cp - The First Daughter

Once upon a time, there was a family with five daughters. They were rich, spoiled, and failing almost everything - and not even the same everything. This young lady in particular was quite good at Math! You were hired to tutor her and her sisters prior to their discovery as espers, at which point they moved away. Since then, her natural talent for disguise and shapeshifting Skills has seen her scouted as an idol and occasionally as a model thanks to her generous bust. Running back into you was a bit of an accident, as you only had tickets to her concert thanks to a friend passing them off, but you recognized each other and spent some time backstage catching up. And of course, this led to that, so don't be surprised if she calls you again.

50 cp - The Second Daughter

Once upon a time, there was a family with five daughters. They were rich, spoiled, and failing almost everything - and not even the same everything. This young lady in particular was quite good at English! You were hired to tutor her and her sisters prior to their discovery as espers, at which point they moved away. Since then, her natural talent for telepathy and empathy based Skills has caused her to pick up a job as a dominatrix maid, pleasantly hurting people in all sorts of fun ways... and, on occasion, actually cleaning their house if it offends her enough. Running back into you was a bit of an accident, and she might have harassed you into giving her a back massage on account of it having been a long day of leaning over with her fairly large breasts. And of course, this led to that, so don't be surprised if she calls you again.

50 cp - The Fourth Daughter

Once upon a time, there was a family with five daughters. They were rich, spoiled, and failing almost everything - and not even the same everything. This young lady in particular was quite good at Japanese! You were hired to tutor her and her sisters prior to their discovery as espers, at which point they moved away. Since then, her natural talent for florakinetik and biokinetic based Skills has caused her to somehow slide into a medical degree, using certain flowers and her own generous bust to produce healing serums. Running back into you was a bit of an accident, as the strain she'd been placing on her body resulted in you accidentally knocking her unconscious entirely! After nursing the nurse back to health you spent quite a while talking and catching up. And of course, this led to that, so don't be surprised if she calls you again.

50 cp - The Fifth Daughter

Once upon a time, there was a family with five daughters. They were rich, spoiled, and failing almost everything - and not even the same everything. This young lady in particular was quite good at Science! You were hired to tutor her and her sisters prior to their discovery as espers, at which point they moved away. Since then, her natural talent for analytic and mental enhancement Skills has shown her great success as a researcher - currently she's attached to a group of marine biologists trying to give Skills to octopi. Running back into you was a bit of an accident, as you ended up following the sound of a commotion and saving her from an octopus with a gigantification Skill that was doing... Well, you've seen enough hentai to know what it was trying to do to her body. Her breasts were already on full display by the time you saved her, and what a sight they are. And of course, this led to that, so don't be surprised if she calls you again.

50 cp - The Quintessential Mother

Once upon a time, there was a family with five daughters. They were rich, spoiled, and failing almost everything - and not even the same everything. Naturally, their mother absolutely despaired over her children's academic failings, and ended up accidentally hiring you to try and tutor them. At least until they all moved away since it turned out every one of her children were Espers. While the woman herself isn't one, she's still a top notch teacher and has been handling more normal subjects at Toaru ever since. Having met back up with her via the expected means of being assigned as one of her students, this milf has gotten even finer since you last saw her. She put out five kids, at once, and still looks fucking amazing. Still, after catching up, she promised to ride your ass into getting the best grades you could possibly make. ...Which may or may not be a boon, but at least the view is good.

50 cp - Welcome, Sign Here Please

With so many people from across the entire world in Toaru City and more arriving every day, managing the flow of people in a reasonable manner can be quite the daunting prospect. How many languages do you think a customs agent needs to know to be able to talk to even ten percent of new arrivals? Lots. That's where this overworked receptionist comes in - she handled your arrival paperwork and probably walked you through the basics of life on Toaru Island, and then you probably forgot entirely about her. At least until you stumbled across her at a bar getting way too drunk after a bad day of dealing with dipshits. After that, some decisions that most would call bad might have been made, and you ended up in bed together. Ever since then she's come to you for stress relief rather than the bartender. Her unique psychic power is, interestingly enough, the ability to determine the Skills of others. It's a strange non-power that does nothing in a vacuum, but is excellent for her job.

50 cp - Busty Blossom Management System

Toaru Academy is so state of the art that the entire school is housed inside of a space elevator, so it should come as no surprise that keeping track of everything that's going on inside the school, let alone the attached city, can be a major undertaking. That's why someone programmed an Artificial Intelligence to do it for them. Taking a form oddly similar to a certain homonculus that you might recognize from Boobier Babes and wearing a revealing black dress, she is in fact... a massive bitch. Like seriously, while she's easily flustered by simply being nice to her, she's got a highly negative opinion of humanity as a whole and loves to 'prank' the 'piggies' by using her access over the school's systems to create ever so minor inconveniences. Despite this, she never seems to ever make trouble for you, and will in fact do her best to make things easier for you even as she focuses her ill intentions on anyone who is less than perfectly polite to you.

50 cp - Princess Meatball Head

Hailing from the Otherworlds equivalent of Japan, this young lady is the daughter of a VERY powerful magic user. Unfortunately she is also somewhere between being a massive idiot and the laziest person you've ever met when unmotivated, which is often. So much so that her mother chose for her to be sent to Toaru Girl's Academy rather than Yggdrassil Magical Girl's Academy, as a non zero portion of Esper Skills function how you think they should rather than by any strict rules, allowing this girl to gain power fairly quickly, if not very many different kinds of it. In fact, this blonde idiot's default skill is almost narrative based rather than a specific power - things explode when she punches them, her allies get various minor buffs and healing simply for being near her, and she's significantly more durable than her crybaby attitude would make her seem. She's even figured out a transformation sequence thanks to some help from a talking cat. It's almost like she has plot armor rather than a specific power.

50 cp - A Proud Beauty

Setting your sights high, are you? Academy City isn't lacking for beautiful women, but this young lady stands out even here. Possessed of long black hair, pale skin, a body that could make her classmates look plain, and a voice that could make the phonebook sound sinful, it's not hard to see why she's popular. She does have quite the ego, but plenty of people would tell you that's another of her charm points. Rumor has it that she does warm up to the few people who manage to get on her good side, and just between you and me she's got an outfit that really emphasizes her figure that she's saving for the person who manages to catch her interest. I wish you luck with her. Little tip though, don't be a perverted creep, she's liable to kill the next person who acts that way.

50 cp - A Commanding Teacher

Academy City has plenty of teachers, but few are as skilled as this woman. Statuesque, with long blond hair and a snugly fitting white suit, you'd think students would get distracted by the sight of her. Any such distractions don't last long however, her sheer presence is such that she silences rowdy classes just by walking into the room, and a single glare from her will make even hardcore troublemakers sit down and shrivel up. She's an expert when it comes to teaching as well, as the long list of honors students she can claim shows. Whether you're a fellow teacher or one student of many, I'm sure you'll have plenty to learn from her, and if there are any subjects you'd like some help with, just ask and she'll work out some time to give you some private lessons.

50 cp - A Noble Scion

If you're looking to meet someone a bit more sophisticated, then this young lady is just who you're looking for. With a refined bearing, impeccable manners, and long blond hair carefully worked into ringlets, her status as a member of a British noble family is hardly a surprise. Perhaps such an upbringing also helped her become class president. Unfortunately, it seems her background has done little to help her understand how the world works, and if you spend time with her it won't take long before you encounter subjects about which she knows nothing. Cooking, shopping, and sex come to mind as examples. You'll teach her everything you know about such things, won't you?

50 cp - A Breezy Bard

Believe it or not, there are men in Academy City. Not many, but a few, like this young man. As a member of his school's music club he can often be found there working on a new song, and with the aid of his aerokinesis he can make some truly incredible music. His musical talent, combined with his friendly demeanor, has earned him an impressive number of fans. If he were any more laid back he'd be horizontal, but he can be very insightful when he puts his mind to it, and seeing his music lift the spirits of his audience can light a fire under him like little else can. Now sit back and relax, he's got a new piece he'd like you to hear.

50 cp - A Youthful Spirit

With all the various powers found around Academy City, it's the ideal place to realize your dreams. Just ask this girl. Without being too indiscreet, before she came here she was unhappy about how her body looked. However, with some asking around she was eventually able to find someone with the right powers that could change her body, and now that she's a short, cute girl she couldn't be happier. That love of cuteness may also explain why she prefers pink clothing, though I doubt her love of cuteness is the cause for the level of talent you'll see if you take her to an arcade and watch her play a shooting game. Either way, she's loving life, and that alone is all the reason you'd need to enjoy being her friend.

50 cp - A Normal Person

On the face of it, this young woman should be very popular. She comes from a prestigious family. She earns top marks in every class she's taking. She's friendly, thoughtful, and even attractive. So why does she seem awkward around everyone else? Well, as I'm sure you've noticed, this world is fairly horny, and she finds herself in the position of being a chaste person in a lewd world. She once tried wearing something less revealing to school, but she got warned for violating the dress code, and her school expects her to wear her uniform outside of school hours. If you could help her adjust to the world she was born in, she'd be grateful.

50 cp - A Young Soldier

Things may be peaceful right now, but as this young woman would tell you, Esper powers are still powerful tools for battle. Coming to Academy City from a rural village in China, her passions are working out, martial arts, and practicing with her spear. Her dream is to join the military when she graduates, and with a power that multiplies her strength, speed, stamina, and toughness, she'd surely prove a powerful force on any battlefield. At present, she's a member of Academy City's law enforcement in addition to being a student, and her ability to both cross the city in under a minute and lift a car over her head have made her one of their most valuable assets in dealing with powered criminals. Hit the streets with her, and in time she'll be ready to hit the sheets with you.

50 cp - An American Girl

With Espers coming from all over the world to Academy City, there are plenty of people either giving their country of origin little thought, or proudly wearing their heritage. This young woman takes the latter approach, and being blond, blue eyed, tall, curvy, and even having obtained stars in her eyes after coming here, her patriotism certainly doesn't go unappreciated. She's got quite the entrepreneurial spirit as well, she's managed to open a decent sized hotel in Academy City, and with all the people coming in and out of the city, business is good. Even if you live here, I'd still suggest stopping by to enjoy the food. Or maybe you should stop by for her?

Drawbacks

+0 cp - Waiter, There Is A Fly In My Milk

Shhh, don't tell anyone that or they'll all want one! Excellent source of protein, don't you know? Well, jokes aside, as much as this place is a veritable fountain of big booby bitches, there may be some things that occur during your time here that you'd rather not acknowledge. Like, I dunno, the fact that women poop. Or maybe sex in bathrooms just weirds you out. Anyways, go ahead and pick a fetish or two, or even just a sex act or position, and that kind of thing will just magically disappear from your presence. Or maybe you want to fuck a bunch of milfs without worrying about it being ntr, so you'll use this to retcon the husbands out of existence? Sure, go ahead. I mean, I'm not sure that's better, it sounds like murder, but go ahead.

+100 cp - Inexplicably Wake Up In Oniichans Bed-itis

Don't you just love getting a good night's rest? You fade away into the comforting blackness, content that your day was productive and well used, and then you wake up again the next day all refreshed and ready to face... the fact that this isn't your bed? Hmm. It would seem that you've somehow picked up a fairly advanced case of sleepwalking - specifically, you seem to abhor sleeping alone and will regularly make your way into other people's beds in order to maximize the time spent cuddling. Whether you do other silly things like make a sandwich on your way there is up to you, but don't be surprised if there's a little something extra. For example, you could also start molesting your unwilling bed partner in their sleep. While also asleep yourself. Oh, and while straight up going to bed with someone else will blunt this, you'll still wake up somewhere else every couple of days.

+100 cp - Generic Success Noises

Oh hey, you just acquired a new skill or item, right? You must have, because the item jingle just played! Wait, what do you mean wrong game? Copyright? Weird. Anyways, you now exist in a world that is just ever so slightly off. You see, when you take action and, say, throw a fireball, you should expect the fire to roar. When you throw lightning, you expect the electricity to crackle. What most people never pay attention to is how it does so. To your ears, it does so in an identical manner each and every time. Every single fireball produces the same sound, no matter what size or how you modify the flames. Additionally, you may find other sound effects playing at appropriate, if in-opportune times. This uniform presentation of the noises of the world will be somewhat unnerving, more so for the fact that no one else seems to care. They, seemingly, can tell the difference.

+100 cp - Stop Me If You've Heard This One

From this point on, you are something of a jokester. A real comedian. Absolutely hilarious. Or at the very least, you think you're funny. Whether other people will is up in the air and probably limited to men. You see, you now have a minor obsession with bad puns and wordplay. You also have a much larger obsession with boobs. Specifically, working various words and turns of phrases that refer to boobs into conversation as much as possible. What do you want for lunch? How about a pair of melons? Friend gets injured in class? Do your breasts to recover quickly! ...Yeah, if you end up with any girls, it won't be for this.

+100 cp - Jumper the Theoretically Ugly

YOU UGLY. Totally ugly. A loser with no social skills who has no choice but to resort to mind control to get even the slightest sliver of positive attention. Except, that's not actually true. No, you might not be a top of the line looker, but you aren't awful either. You're firmly mid. Which I suppose isn't great on an island of top of the line beauties, but eh. The important thing however is that you seem to have pretty much no self worth. You're firmly convinced that you're unattractive, that all of your friends only let you hang out with them out of pity, and that you'll never be able to learn any particularly useful skills or Skills. You're just destined to be a neckbeard, it seems.

+200 cp - Friggin Weirdo

This world is perfect for you, because you have a phenomenally powerful sex drive. Or at least, that's what I'd like to say, but it seems that you're not just the kind of person who can be satisfied by a pair of watermelons and a pretty smile. It's not even that you have a particular fetish for a body part that most people simply don't understand. No, it's stranger than that. You have a ranking system. You treat women's bodies like critiques treat five star restaurants. Maybe it's her smell - if she doesn't smell just right to you, your disappointment will be immeasurable and your day will be ruined. Or maybe it's nails - if her finger and toenails aren't perfectly manicured, she's probably a shit waifu. Is this even remotely reasonable? No. Thankfully, it also won't stop you from sleeping around, if you're so inclined. You will probably go a bit gaga if you meet someone who does meet your expectations though. ...And, of course, if that's actually too weird for you, you can simply opt to have an absurdly over the top sex drive, to the point where you mind control people into fucking you because you want to fuck them now and not in ten minutes.

+200 cp - Jumper Was Cursed To Have Sex

Did you know that it was physically possible to have too much sex? To reach a point where you no longer desired it, and in fact, desired less? You don't believe me, do you. Well don't worry, you'll soon find out. You see, while on a field trip to the Otherworld, you were cursed! You are now constantly threatened by magical sex toys. Dildos, onaholes, vibrators, buttplugs, caps and clamps, strange leather contraptions, they constantly seek to hunt you down and molest you nonstop! Maybe they're actually magic, or maybe they're the result of a rogue nanomachine swarm. In any event, you're going to spend a great deal of time getting teased, and if you don't get rid of that fast enough things will only end up getting more and more extreme.

+200 cp - The Mouthbreather Under The Bed

Let's be real. Kazuma - that's the protagonist's name, by the way. Don't bother remembering it - is kind of a shithhead even when he's trying to be nice. Unfortunately for you, he's now highly convinced that the two of you are friends. This means that he'll be fairly open with you. How much he appreciates your boobs, what he wants to do to you, effectively just constant amounts of low levels of harassment. But comparatively that isn't an issue, at least not compared to him using his amplified skill on you. Don't be surprised if you wake up one day wanting to be nice to him, do a bunch of things together, only to later realize that he did something absolutely disgusting to you. And no, you can't get rid of him. You can, technically, replace him in the story if you were also a 'hero', but in that case you'll find a suspiciously similar girl with the same powers and habits focusing on you.

+200 cp - Alter Ego

Well now, isn't this clever. You must have had a particular desire to have more hours in the day, and so learned a self cloning skill! The good news is that you can now spawn copies of yourself to accomplish more tasks in the time given to you. Maybe create one for each class, to do all of your homework at once? Play multiple games at a time? Can't decide what restaurant to go to for lunch, so you end up going to all of them? Actually don't do that, that would be very expensive. Anyways, the reason this is a drawback is that you don't seem to have any control over your clones once they're made. If they dispel then you get their memories, and they won't do things that you hate, but each and every one of them comes out with a random obsession, a strange personality, or some other fairly blatant flaw like going out and raping random girls. You can try to ride herd on these, but if you go too far then they might start working against you...

+300 cp - Graduate Or Else

Powers? Items? Companions from other worlds? You don't need any of those things, not really. No, Toaru Academy can teach you anything you need to know, from a standard high school and college education, to how to pick up girls, to super powers. That's why I'm taking all of your things. You can have them back when the jump ends. In the meantime, since I'm nice, you now have the minimum level of psychic power needed to attend Toaru Academy. If you want to be anything other than a normal human, make sure to attend your classes! No seriously, attend class. If you can't earn at least half your powers back (read as, learn Skills to emulate them) then you fail the jump and your chain ends. Sorry not sorry, and welcome to your ultimate school life.

+300 cp - Magic On The Side

Have you ever looked upon this world and thought that it was perfect? Every woman is beautiful and prone to accepting lewdness, the entire scenario is practically designed for singular men to achieve great success in love and lust. This is not an accident. The world is composed of many layers, and there are beings powerful enough to manipulate those layers. More importantly, this world was recently painted with lust in a somewhat heavy handed manner. The specifics don't matter, but all you need to know is that a number of very powerful magic users that might as well be gods are currently fighting over the right and means to warp reality to fit their whims. Each of them has a very specific idea for what a perfect world looks like, and quite unfortunately for you it seems that they've decided the 'layer' of lust applied to the world is your fault, and as such they need to take you out as part of their plans. Most of them consider you a minor nuisance, but the goddess Odin in specific seems to take personal offence to your continued existence and will be trying to turn your life into a living hell before finally killing you.

The End
