Version 1.2

If you're looking for danger and adventure, you'd best look elsewhere, because all you have to find in this world is outrageously lewd schoolgirls and perhaps the most powerful dicks known to mankind.

When Imada Sadamichi got a job at Kurosugi Girls High School, he was expecting... well, just about anything except what he got, which was an entire classroom full of heavily-tanned gyaru girls. Who are just so thirsty, I mean, damn. How is this only an ecchi manga is beyond me, I've seen hentai that's less lewd than this.

It's a school where the board chairwoman actively encourages the teachers to fuck their students, on the premise that by enjoying the freedom they have while young, they'll mature into more responsible adults because they won't have repressed desires struggling to break free... or something like that. This school somehow has an extremely low rate of failures and drop-outs, and manages to produce graduates that go on to be actually contributing members of society, much to the shock of Imada when he finds out about it.

Maybe you'll be able to figure out how it works over the course of the next ten years? Here's +1000 Choice Points to help prepare you for your time in this world.

Location

You start off at Kurosugi Girls High School. This story doesn't exactly have a wide variety of locales it visits.

Background

Who are you in this world? If you'd rather not experience the memories of your life in this setting, you may instead be a drop-in, arriving without any preexisting connections or memories. If you decide to have a local history, your past will have been as "yourself", just without the memory of jumpchain, and the transition between who you were before the jump begins and after the jump starts will be no more a form of personality death or character replacement than remembering a long-forgotten memory would be.

Gyaru Gal:

'Sup, Jumper! You're, like, totes a member of the gyaru subculture! You're pretty damn lit, is what I'm saying. You know all the slang, know your way around fashion, and have a deep, sexy tan. Your hair is probably bleached blonde, but that isn't strictly necessary. But, like, it's super hard to carry the gyaru aesthetic if you aren't rocking the bleached hair, amirite?

If you're attending Kurosagi, then you're definitely a girl... at least, you have the female sex. But since this background can also cover being a teacher, you could be a guy who follows the gyaru lifestyle, known as "gyaruo". Or maybe you don't want to be confined by the gender binary?

Decent Teacher:

You're a responsible adult, come to Kurosagi Girls High to provide your students with the best education you can manage! You... weren't exactly expecting the sort of students and coworkers you wound up with, but you're adaptable! Even in this lewd environment, you're focused on doing your best by your students.

You may be of any sex or gender.

Perks

Any perks found under an origin are discounted to members of that origin by 50%, except for the 50 CP perks; those are free to their origin.

Gyaru Gal Perks

What Dress Code? (-50 CP):

For one reason or another, people just don't really care how you're dressed; as far as they're concerned, anything you wear is appropriate to the situation. Show up to a funeral in a wedding dress, or attend class wearing band-aids in place of panties and bras; no one will care. As long as you're wearing something, it's still considered suitable.

But wouldn't it be a shame to show up to tease your teacher, only for him to ignore the fact that you're only wearing conveniently-placed ribbons? You may selectively exempt people from the effects of this perk, or re-establish it whenever you desire.

Easy Tanning (-100 CP):

Are you trying to be a kuro-gyaru with skin like that? Lololol, try again, fam. This perk's got you covered; from now on, you'll be able to easily tan your skin to whatever shade of darkness you prefer, regardless of if you're sunning outside or using a tanning bed. Even your covered skin can tan if you want it to, so you won't have tan lines unless you actively want them. Also, tanning is perfectly safe for you, and poses no health dangers or risks of skin cancer or sunburn. Finally, your tan will stick around for as long as you want it without fading; this also means that if you want to go pale again, it will only take a week or so for the tan to fade away.

Self-Control (-200 CP):

Not something gyaru are known for, huh? But it's true. You have excellent control over your expressions and your emotions, and unless you let it, nothing you feel will ever cross your face or color your voice. Why, you could easily go through an entire day with anal beads shoved up your ass, and unless they happened to see them no one would ever realize anything was up with you.

No Repercussions (-400 CP):

Teasing your new teach is so funny, 'specially when he freaks out over you just showing your tits. It's a good thing you go to Kurosagi, 'cause that could have gotten you kicked out of most of the schools in the country. But for you, there just don't seem to be social or legal consequences to inappropriate lewd actions you take, or sexual harassment that you engage in. Telling someone you want to fuck them within seconds of meeting them won't permanently ruin their perception of you, stripping in class won't get you in trouble, and walking outside with a bandaid in place of underwear won't end with you getting the cops called on you, even if someone sees it.

Too Fucking Funny LOLLOLOLOL (-600 CP):

So get this, these two sluts were hilariously head-over-heels in love with their teach, and started stripping down in the hallway as they rushed him, only for the guy to get a boner so strong it launched them across the hallway. It's funny shit, but not nearly as funny as the way this stuff happens around you all the time. It's like your life has become an ecchi comedy, and lewd, hilarious shit is par for the course.

But not to say you just get used to it. Naw, fam, that wouldn't be cool at all. No, you never get completely used to good things. You might get a little used to it, but the same jokes will still be funny even after you've heard it the tenth time, and seeing someone get launched across the room by the force of a raging erection will still crack you up even after seeing it happen for days in a row. This additionally applies to non-humorous things, such as still enjoying sex even if you've done it for ages, or still liking the same food even after you've had it thousands of times in a row.

Also, you'll never hurt yourself from laughing too hard. You might get a little pleasantly sore from it, but you'll never reach the point where you're begging for the laughter to stop from it hurting so much.

Decent Teacher Perks

The Will to Resist (-50 CP):

You have incredible strength of will. Not the type of willpower to fight off mental invasions, but to keep struggling in the face of adversity... or, more specific to this setting, the willpower to avoid fucking the nubile bodies that keep flinging themselves at you.

Invincible Clothing (-100 CP):

Imada's—or rather, Imacchi's—erections have such incredible power that they can knock people into the air, but somehow his clothing never fails to keep it covered. It's impossible for your clothing to be damaged by anything short of a deliberate attempt to harm you (or your clothing). What's more, your clothing will always stretch painlessly around any protrusions you may have—such allowing your erection to effortlessly rise to full mast despite being constrained by your pants and regardless of size. If you'd rather not proudly present yourself, however, you will be able to toggle this effect off.

This invincibility of your clothing grants them a feature that Imacchi would no doubt appreciate; your clothing cannot be stained or soiled. Any substances or fluids that touch them will harmlessly drip off, leaving you untouched.

Keeping Up With the Kids (-200 CP):

What is up with the slang kids are using these days? Listening to a conversation between teenagers is like listening to another language, and that's before you get into the sort of lingo you'd hear from a gyaru, what with all the abbreviations they love using. But you're good at keeping in touch with the pulse of modern youth, and will always understand the slang and abbreviations that others use, and can easily parse out the meaning of even the most subculture-specific dialogue.

Actually Good at Teaching (-400 CP):

You're actually pretty good at this "teaching" thing. Who knew? Just by getting up there and teaching, and having even a minimum of interaction with your students, you will get a good understanding of their interests, personalities, and personal styles of learning, allowing you to customize your lessons to best suit your audience. Furthermore, you're good at establishing bonds of affection and trust with your students, quickly building a rapport with them. Honestly, you're such a good teacher that even your delinquent students would want to keep coming to your class. You're good at making educational content interesting and engaging, and know just how to make even the duller subjects attention-grabbing.

On top of all of this, your students will benefit from enhanced subject comprehension and recall when it comes to information you teach them. You could turn a genius student into a superstar of science, or you could help a failing thug to graduate with flying colors.

The Beast (-600 CP):

Your dick is a monster of incredible power, rivaled only by Imacchi's own. The force of your erection standing on end is powerful enough to flip multiple teenagers through the air, launching them down a hallway with air pressure alone.

If you were lying on your stomach and got hard, you'd be standing on your feet again. Your dick is also completely invulnerable to damage, allowing you to safely wield the full force of your penile might. It's pretty big, too.

Somehow, people are never actually injured by your dong. The impact of it against their bodies is instead somehow pleasurable, and were you to actually fuck someone, the force of its twitches against their sensitive internal tissues would only inspire deep wells of pleasure, rather than the pure agony that would surely occur without this perk.

Also, you have incredible sexual stamina; this doesn't actually help you hold out on coming any longer, but you can just keep going for load after load with virtually no refractory period. Furthermore, you have absolutely giant cumloads. Somehow, your erection only gets larger and more powerful the more you orgasm.

Huh? What if you're a girl? Well, I guess you could have the effects apply to your nipples getting hard... but if you want, you could just grow a mega-dong of your own.

General Perks

Plan B (Free this jump, -50 CP to keep):

B as in 'birth control'. Because something has to be keeping this school from being full of underage single mothers. So you may now rest assured that you will never become pregnant/make any girls pregnant unless both you and your partner are deliberately trying to. They won't even ask about or think about protection, they'll just somehow subconsciously rest assured that it's all being taken care of.

This perk applies for free during this jump, but by paying -50 CP you can keep it with you in future worlds.

Student/Teacher Relationships (Free this jump, -100 CP to keep):

You know how most schools have prohibitions against relationships between students and teachers? Yeah, well, Kurosugi has the exact fucking opposite of that. Not only are relationships and even sex between students and teachers permitted, but they're actively encouraged; the nurse, for instance, will happily lez any of the students who're feeling raunchy. The excuse is that being lustful fogs their mind and keeps them from learning, and having sex frees them from that... and this somehow actually works?

Nobody minds when you are involved in a romantic or sexual relationship that's also a student/teacher dynamic. School rules and the law won't get involved, and parents just don't care. This also allows you to ignore age differences; while your partner still needs to be of the age of consent (which is currently 13 in Japan as of 2017 when the jump starts, although that will be raised to 16 as of June 2023), nobody will otherwise bat an eye over age gaps.

Furthermore, when you have sex with someone, both your and their minds become clearer and more open, being more receptive to processing information and learning new things.

This perk applies for free during this jump, but by paying -100 CP you can keep it with you in future worlds.

Handle With Care (-50 CP):

Having long nails can be a real hassle, you know? But not for you. No matter how long your nails are, you'll never have problems typing, handling objects, or otherwise performing fine, delicate activities. Neither will the way you have to hold objects with such long nails prevent you from exerting your full force. Furthermore, unless you're actively choosing to inflict harm, it is impossible for you to accidentally injure yourself or others with your nails. Finally, if you choose to use your nails as weapons, they will always be hard enough to inflict injury, but will never suffer damage in return, protecting you from the force of your blows ripping off your nails.

Suck on Deez (-50 CP):

Well, it turns out that you probably wouldn't mind sucking on deez nutz, because your tongue, mouth, lips, and throat are now erogenous zones. You get real sexual pleasure from using your mouth—even more than you'd get from actual sex. You could be perfectly fine sucking guys off without anyone ever sticking it in your pussy, because your mouth would just feel that much better.

Youth is Libido (-100 CP):

And you have libido in spades. You have a great deal of sexual stamina, and have the ability to avoid orgasm for as long as you need. You have a great deal of control over your arousal, and can keep your desires cool and businesslike, or let them run free and hot, regardless of the situation. This would probably be very useful if you had a dick that's capable of flinging people into the ceiling if you got a hard on.

Family Tradition (-100 CP):

There are some uncomfortably sexual family arrangements in this manga, not the least of which is Emi-sensei and her mother. But now, you find opportunities for such relationships popping up; people who are related to you are more open to the possibility of incestuous relationships, and the problems that ordinarily affect such affairs simply don't occur.

As a side note, massaging a woman's breasts on a regular basis will now prevent them from sagging.

Unembarrassed (-100 CP):

You have cast aside your shame. Well, sort of. You still feel shame and embarrassment, but you are able to cast those feelings aside to behave however you would like to, regardless of how embarrassed or ashamed you start to feel.

Gathering the Gyarū (-100 CP):

Gyarū are fun, so wouldn't it be nice to be able to find them in future worlds? Now you have a toggle that allows you to attract gyarū as a percentage of any organization or group of followers you have. You can define this percentage at any time, and your organization(s) will gradually shift to accommodate for it.

"So like, why not just have an orgy?" (-200 CP):

Polyamory is all too often dismissed as an option in stories, but you know that it's a perfectly acceptable solution to love polygons. People are just more willing to accept a polyamorous or polygamous relationship with you (and honestly, relationships are optional—if someone would be open to having sex with you in the first place, they'd be fine with group sex).

Fidelity? LOL (-200 CP):

When Kuroiwa tried to hook up with Imacchi right in front of her boyfriend, the most he did was make a cursory objection. When Yasuda-sensei gets blown by Kuromitsu, Kuroiwa is more concerned about replacing his pleasure with memories of her own body rather than getting upset over his “indiscretion”. Kuroiso has a boyfriend, but showed no hesitation over being willing to fuck the previous teacher before Imacchi.

People just... don't seem to particularly care if you're disloyal in a relationship. They might object a little, but it's the sort of objection you'd expect to see over someone getting a toy in a Happy Meal that they'd already gotten, not something they're seriously upset over. Furthermore, for some reason or another it just never occurs to them to expect or demand the same freedoms that they give you; they won't be any more or less disloyal themselves than they would have been otherwise.

“Why am I so fucking turned on right now?” (-100 CP):

[Requires Fidelity? LOL]

People find the idea of you getting around to be really hot. Your promiscuity just increases your attractiveness to other people... even the perception of promiscuity, or even if they just invented you sleeping around with people in their own head without any basis.

Furthermore, other people won't let their pre-existing relationships get in the way of acting on any attraction they may feel for you—and the people in those relationships don't seem to mind that their own significant other did anything naughty with you. It just never seems to be a particularly important problem.

Items

Items are discounted by 50% to the appropriate origin, while the 100 CP items are free. Lost or destroyed items are returned to the Warehouse after a week.

General Items

Convenient Delinquents (-100 CP):

This is a small gang of good-hearted delinquents. They're sort-of followers, but don't directly follow you from jump to jump like other followers do; rather, they show up in any given jump at some point when you're in trouble and need help, otherwise living their own lives in relative peace in the jump setting. They're willing to lend you help in a pinch, and if you spot them a bit of cash they'll be willing to do almost any favor for you, as long as it doesn't put them in major danger. They're decent fighters, in the low-mid power level for their setting, but are good at working together.

Gyaru School (-300 CP):

Here's a high school or college that, much like Kurosugi, has an especially lax and permissive attitude towards student/teacher relationships. It also attracts an unusually high proportion of gyaru/gyaruo students. You are the headmaster, dean, principal, or what-have you, and have absolute authority over what the school teaches, how students and teachers are permitted to interact, and whether or not any given student may continue to attend the school. For some reason, parents and legal authorities don't care what happens in this school. All facilities, faculty members, and utilities are fully paid for, and all school equipment will be provided for. The school provides you with a decent paycheck each month.

Gyaru Gal Items

Super Slutty Underwear (-100 CP):

'Sup girlfriend! You get a drawer full of various underwear, all of it so lewd that some lingerie stores might refuse to sell them! It's got everything you need to tempt some hot hunk into your bed... and also comes with a packet of band-aids that refills hourly, in case you'd rather just wear those. The breeze feels nice~

For guys, just remember that you can be a slut too! It just typically looks a little different.

C-String (-200 CP):

I'll be honest with you, fam, the c-string is basically half a piece of underwear. A little triangle goes over your privates, and the rest curves under and lies between your ass cheeks. The only way to keep it in place is to clench tight and hold it there physically. By using this c-string, you will build up your ass muscles. But that's a secondary effect, if you're paying primo CP for it, it has to be more than that, amirite? While wearing it, you get a guarantee that you won't experience bad luck. Not to say you'll have more good luck! But at least it won't be bad.

If you're male, then it will be shaped a bit more like a cup in regards to how it covers you, but will still have the basic c-string shape.

Hibachi Hell (-400 CP):

It's a rod with a tip that rapidly oscillates, and it—look, it's a magic wand type vibrator. Every girl's best battery-operated buddy. There's not much else to say to describe it. However, this vibrator is special in that using it on someone will always be considered a valid form of punishment for anything short of criminal wrongdoing.

Decent Teacher Items

Nice Suit... and Replacements (-100 CP):

You get a nice, simple suit appropriate for a school teacher. It's perfectly ordinary, but if it ever gets stained or damaged, you will find an identical replacement piece of clothing appearing in your hand when you reach for it.

Anti-Erection Supplements (-200 CP):

Sure, Imacchi might have just gotten a placebo, but you have the real thing! While using these drugs, it's impossible to be aroused. Not sure why you'd want that, honestly, unless you're intended to avoid sex the whole jump?

V-Card (-400 CP):

You are an officially licensed virgin, complete with v-card. While the card is on your person, you are considered to be a virgin for all intents and purposes, and people who are particularly attracted to virgins can automatically detect your virginity.

Companions

Gal Pals (-50 CP):

Wouldn't it suck to show up to school and have no friends? Fortunately, you can bring your friends with you! Just pay a small fee, and you either import a companion or create a new one; either way, they receive an origin and 600 CP to spend on perks and items. If you want more, that's fine; you can pay for additional Gal Pals, but if you pay -200 CP then you can bring a set of 8 companions with you.

Standing Invitation (Free):

As long as you can convince them to come with, you can bring any local characters with you on your jumpchain as companions.

Vacuum Cleaner (-50 CP):

No, that doesn't refer to her (admittedly amazing) BJ talents, but instead her tendency to clean. She's quite the neat-freak, and always carries around a handful of sanitation wipes. She isn't so bad that she needs to wipe her hands every time she touches someone, but she is a little obsessive about wiping down things she or other people have handled on a regular basis. As a side-effect, she's gotten so good at cleaning that she can completely clean stains from bodily fluids in only a few seconds.

Idiot Twins (-50 CP):

These siblings look identical, but Sibling A is a guy and Sibling B is a girl. Sibling B is enrolled in Kurosugi, but often wants to play hooky, so she forces the effeminate, tiny-dicked, and home-schooled Sibling A to dress up in girls' clothes and take her place in school. Although Sibling A is a good actor, there's enough difference between them that rumors have started going around that "Sibling B" has memory issues... or is bipolar... or has Dissociative Identity Disorder. But nobody's figured out that they're actually different people. Not yet, at least. You get both of them as companions, splitting the effect of any perks between them.

P.E. Teacher (-50 CP):

A strict teacher of physical education... is what they look like, at least. This teacher is absolutely shredded, and has a bench press that wouldn't be out of place on an Olympian. Still, they prefer to teach... mostly so they can watch the bodies of their more athletic students as they practice. They're actually pretty easygoing and lighthearted, but if a student does manage to anger them, they'll make them ride "Charlie", a dildo strapped to a mechanical bull.

Drawbacks

You may take as many drawbacks as you want, just make sure you can deal with the consequences. Remember that drawbacks always override perks.

Kurosugi Boys High School (0 CP):

Instead of a story about a guy teaching a class of gyaru girls, this jump is now focused on a woman teaching a class full of gyaru boys. Or perhaps a guy teaching a class of lewd boys, or a woman teaching a class of girls. The basic deal is, you can switch around the sex and gender of whichever characters you want.

Meet the New Teacher (0 CP):

Instead of entering this Jump as an addition to the cast, you can selectively replace a character in the story. For instance, if you wanted to teach the class you could replace Imada.

[Teacher] x [Student] is Wrong! (+100 CP):

For the duration of your stay, you just can't approve of any relationships that would be socially or legally unacceptable. Homosexuality is okay, but you can't approve of a poly relationship, or sex between a student and teacher, or between family members. You will be strictly opposed to all these things.

Just the Dick (+100 CP):

People tend to only care about your genitals. If you're in danger, they'll check that your junk made it through unharmed before giving a crap about the rest of you. If it's been a long time since you've met, they'll give a greeting to your crotch. If they liked you, they'll keep mentioning how amazing your genitalia is, instead of any of your other features.

Looks Like a Virgin (+100 CP):

It is plainly apparent to everyone that you meet that you are, in fact, a virgin. Only actively having sex with you could convince them otherwise... and even then, they might still forget about it.

Ochlophilia (+100 CP):

You've got a peculiar kink! It seems that you are entirely incapable of getting physically aroused by a single person. Oh, you could want them badly, but your body just won't react. The only way to fix this is to have a threesome (or moresome); a single person just can't arouse you anymore.

Quick Shot (+200 CP):

You cum just a bit too quickly! Well, a "bit" might be an understatement. The thing is, you get stimulated way too easily; just sticking your hands on a girl's breast would be enough to make you orgasm. Assuming you were attracted to girls, at least.

Lovelorn on Your Lonesome (+200 CP):

At some point in this jump, you will fall in love with someone. Very hard, and very deeply. And they will never reciprocate your feelings. If you maintain a good friendship with this person despite that, you may be able to convince them to come with you on your chain; after this jump, nothing prevents them from returning your feelings.

Oral Addiction (+300 CP):

You love giving oral sex. In fact, you love it so much that you won't want to have any other form of sexual interaction—if it doesn't involve your mouth, you don't care. You have no interest in any of the features of your partner outside of what their genitals look, feel, and taste like, so if they had a good dick, you might even willingly give a blowjob to a fat, ugly bastard.

Teacher-napped! (+300 CP):

People have a tendency to kidnap you with the goal to rape you. While you could always go along with it to avoid any trouble... they will always be people who repulse you, either because of their appearance or their behavior.

No Sex Ever (+300 CP):

No matter the condition or the situation, all attempts you make to have sexual relations with others will fail. Something will always happen to interfere, usually something bad.

Ending

So, your time in this world draws to a close. Did you enjoy it? Regardless, it's time for your final choice.

You may Stay Here and continue to enjoy the bounties of this world, gaining an additional +1000 CP to spend as you see fit.

You may Go Home to your world of origin to celebrate everything you've achieved and start making a difference in the world you came from. You gain an additional +1000 CP.

Or you may Move On to a new jump, taking everything you've earned with you as you continue to explore new worlds and make new discoveries.
