

Hentai Jumpchain

Welcome, Jumper, to a land of debauchery, smut, love, lewdness, and stonkin' big tits. You shall spend the next 10 years in the modern world with one singular goal: sex. It's to be expected, really. The world is filled with it, so why should you not partake? Of course, this world runs on sex. It lives it, it breaths it, it exists solely for it in the most literal sense. Or not, it's your decision. This world will be a normal and almost completely mundane current year world barring any alterations you would like to make. If you really want to, you may instead choose a specific hentai world to go to and do as you wish, however the perks found here may not be enough to help you in some cases. Regardless, here are 1000 Copulation Points (CP) in order to spend as you will, enhancing all variety of your sexual abilities. As a slight extra, and so you'll love me or at least like me a bit more, you may reuse this jump over and over again, going to many different worlds, either preexisting hentai worlds or those of your own creation, however you may only make the one build. Once you've spent your CP there will be no returns or exchanges, so shop carefully.

Situations:

Oh, I'm sorry. I almost forgot. There's a catch. What, did you think you could just come to some world, fuck whoever and whenever, and go on willy nilly? Well, you can still do that, actually, these are all optional, and in truth the world you go to is completely free form so long as it is a relatively modern world. You can have minor magic and super tech, but all of it must sex related. Everything is completely up to you, heck you could even take one of the situations below and change it a little if you want. They're just suggestions, after all. Age, location, sex, and situation are all freeform as well. Be the 18 year old millionaire futa if you want, it's your story, not mine.

Harem World:

The world at large is for the most part unchanged, with one exception: there are half as many people of your non-preferred sex than in your home world, meaning you'll either be a hot commodity or will have much easier access to your gender of choice as there aren't all that many options. If bisexual, you will instead be of a high class, making you very desired by others.

Breeder:

Due to declining birth rates, and your virile own breeding ability, you now have a license to have sex with any unmarried individual who has had less than 2 children of their own, to which they must legally obey. You aren't required to actually get them pregnant or even have children of your own at any point, though, due to a loophole in your contract. Those that you choose to breed with must do so when and where you want to, even if it means doing it in the street, so long as it does not pose any immediate danger to them.

Pro(fessional) Sex Maker:

This world is a bit unusual in that it treats sex like a product. You buy it, you sell it, and in many cases, can even use it as currency. Scratch that, it is currency. The currency of this world is known as Sex Points, or SP, which are obtained by performing sexual acts. The more you perform, and the better you get your partner off, the more you earn and the more you can buy. If you want to be the richest man/woman, though, just be aware: the richest people here have billions of SP, when normal mediocre sex tends to only give about 50-200 SP and having even a few thousand generally places you in the top 10%.

Perks:

Choose 1 of 100, 200, 400, and 600. They are discounted by 50% except the 100 option, which is free.

STD Free, Free For All: Congrats! You no longer have any STDs if you had any before, and now you'll be unable to gain any ever again and will never be a carrier. As an extra plus, all of your companions, even those not imported, will gain this for free. You may decline this option, both for yourself and your companions, if you wish. Weirdo.

Insatiable, 100cp: Sex. It's on your mind all the time, and your body has changed to compensate. You could go once, twice, three times, hell, you could probably go over ten times in a row and would find that not only are you not tired out, but that in fact your stamina has somehow increased and given you a renewed vigor. Also prevents chaffing and other issues that actual, hours long love making sessions would cause.

Get a Load From this Guy, 100cp: Have you ever been dissatisfied with your, ahem, ejaculate? Well, you won't be after this. You see, you can now at will choose just how much you have, being able to literally cum buckets if you wish or even none at all, and you'll never need to worry about "running out" as you'll always have some when you want some. Heck, your fluids are as tasty or disgusting as you want it to be, being able to change at will from one load to the next. What's more, you may at will choose how fertile you are, being able to either turn off your ability to impregnate/become pregnant or even turning fertility to max, guaranteeing impregnation even when one party would normally be incapable of children. You may also apply the effects of this perk to other people at will, changing their fluids and fertility as you wish.

Love is a Sword, My Sword that is, 100cp: Odd thing about sex and love: you don't need one to have the other. But it'd be nice to have both, right? That's why it seems like people you have sex with, especially repeatedly, just seem to fall for you harder and harder each time. Even when sex and emotion are distanced from one another, the more you have sex with someone the deeper in love they will fall with you without limit. After all, sex is nice, but it's nicer to be loved. If you want, you may also fall deeper in love with them as well.

That Likeable Charm, 200cp: You're just straight up likeable. For whatever reason, others enjoy your company more than most, feeling a sense of ease or some sort of attraction to you that could easily be mistaken for a crush. To be fair though, it probably is actually a crush. Really, in most cases those of your preferred sex just seem to like you a bit more in the romantic/sexual sense.

Like a Video Game, 200cp: You know people. Specifically, you know how to play people, pushing all of the right buttons to turn them on when you want and as strongly as you want. A couple of minutes of caressing and teasing would leave a man as hard as a flag pole and a woman as wet as a river. Oh, that reminds me. You're an incredible tease, able to bring people straight to the edge and keep them there, giving you almost perfect and, honestly, supernatural control over both theirs and your own orgasms. That last push over the edge will be literally impossible without your say so, regardless of stimulation.

Magic Penis, 200cp: You've got something special in those pants of yours. You see, your penis (or vagina), for whatever reason, seems to just be plain... better than everyone else's. Your cock will be hard as steel when you need it to be, or your pussy as soft as heaven. I mean, sure, you might still be beat out by those who have literal perfect compatibility with another partner, but you seem to be a size fits all, able to easily get people off with your own genitals rather easily. Heck, with the right moves you can even get people off when they perform oral sex on you. As a bonus, if you should ever be displeased with your own assets, whether they be your genitals or your tits, you may change their size over the course of a few seconds to minutes, increasing or decreasing in size as you see fit to within reasonable human limits.

Reciprocation, 400cp: Sex is great. You know what else is great? Sharing. And sharing is caring. Whenever you're having sex with someone, you can link the pleasure of both of you together, meaning that they will feel all of the pleasure that you do while you will feel all of the pleasure that they do, meaning they'll always know just how much you enjoy your time with them and vice versa. And while you will be able to feel this pleasure, and it will in fact add to your own, you will also be able to discern the differences between them, so you'll always know who would normally be feeling better so you can work on technique, whether it be theirs or your own.

In Broad Daylight, 400cp: Exhibitionism. It's what you live, it's what you breathe. You know the ins and outs of it, able to have either yourself or another be pleased in broad daylight, in front as many people as you want, all without them ever being any the wiser. Bondage gear, vibrator, public sex, you name it, if it's in public you know how to do so without attracting much attention, and even when you do as long as you try to hide it even a little bit it'll go unnoticed.

Getting Together, 400cp: You seem to have a real talent for getting people to be alone with you, especially when you want them. A couple of drinks, maybe some small talk, and at the end of the night you two've ended up in your apartment or a hotel, one way or another. And when you two are alone, well, let's just say you're alone together for a reason, and they're come prepared.

Staying Together, 600cp: Once you've formed a relationship, whether romantic or sexual, it tends to stay strong and last long, regardless of what you do. Cheat? Lie? Neither will have any effect, the other party will be willing to forgive you. Heck, even if you start dating a couple of other people behind their backs, in the end all parties will just agree to let bygones be bygones, and in some cases may even start to get together with each other.

Suck it, 600cp: Oh my. A bit of an alpha, are we? You are not only confident, but you also exude it, weakening the wills of others in your wake and turning even some of the strong-willed individuals into submissive playthings. And the more confidence you have, the more others will look up to you as being in the "superior" position, giving in more and more easily to your own desires and changing their own to match. This can still be resisted, however, as those used to "superior" positions, such as doms and sadists will be unlikely to give up their own position for you.

Lovey Dovey Sexy Time, 600cp: Love is a powerful thing. It enhances so much about life, essentially covering the eyes of those in love with rose tinted glasses. This isn't a bad thing, but what if it were applied a bit more... proactively. You see, when someone loves you, and when you love someone, sex between the two of you will be enhanced. The more that the other person loves you, the better sex with them feels for you. And the more you love them, the better they feel. Now, should you love each other more than any other (in terms of romantic love), well. Let's just say sex between you both would be mind blowing, with the more you love each other the better it feels.

Sexual Superpower, 600cp: While others with super powers may be considered super heroes, or super villains, you seem to a super sexual. For you have gained the literal ability to control the pleasure of others, allowing you to slowly increase or decrease the amount of sexual pleasure they feel. When applied to someone, a few seconds will have normal sex become breathtaking, a few minutes and it will be mind blowing, and with a few hours they might become a literal mind broken mess, although you have the option of doing so safely and bringing them back. May also be applied to yourself, just in case you want some solo action.

God of Sex, 500cp No Discount: This is it. The sexiest perk that ever sexed. You are the literal God of Sex, able to make even Aphrodite orgasm with merely a sexy stare. You can bring others to orgasm so easily its like taking candy from a baby, can please even the most frigid of people, and can do things with your tongue others couldn't even dream of. You look sexy, exude it even, and most everyone can tell from a glance you might very well be the best sex they'll ever have. The real power of this comes from its other effect: in essence, this doubles as a perk booster, multiplying the effects of every other perk from this jump by a factor of about 4 and pushing you well into the realm of Sexual Godhood.

Items:

No discounts

Sex Toys Galore, 100cp: What's a world about sex without some toys? In your possession is a copy of every sex toy, bondage set, and sex apparatus ever created, all stuff inside a rather large shop attached to your warehouse. Each one is properly labeled and on display, and comes with a rather knowledgeable attendant who won't (and can't) leave the store. They are moderately attractive and know everything there is to know about all of the sex toys, and will occasionally give a few hints to help in the bedroom. If you ask nicely, you might even get to try out some of the products and tips on them. At request, the attendant and the store can be changed to more closely fit your desires, however you will be asked to leave the store and close the door for at least 10 seconds while changes take place. Will update with new sex toys from future jumps as you continue your chain.

Pee Stick, 100cp: In to water sports? Like a bit of S&M? Get the pee stick! Taking the shape of either a stick or a paddle (your choice), this item can be used to playfully (or not) smack someone, who will then gain the need and desire to urinate. The more you hit them, the more they need to go. Hit them too many times and they will soon be unable to hold it as they release their bladder all over themselves.

Slutty Glasses, 100cp: Did you think these would make you look slutty? Well, they do, but they have another effect. When wearing these glasses it will highlight people based on two things, their willingness to have sex with you and their overall sluttiness. Those who want to have sex with you will be highlighted in red, increasing in intensity the more they desire you, while sluts will be highlighted in blue, becoming more intense with their sluttiness. If they want and are slutty then they will be dyed purple, shifting between bluer or redder shades depending on which side is stronger and intensifying when both sides are rather high.

Always a Camera, 200cp: Watching porn can be fun sometimes, but it's just as fun to make it. Except for, you know, the setup and all that. Well, no worries. Whenever you partake in a sexual act, either directly or indirectly, it will be recorded from the best possible angles, even though there was probably no actual camera in sight. These will be saved to a computer in your warehouse and will be accessible on all of your devices. By using one of these devices, such as your phone, you may also stream the video live online, which will receive a number of views and may even lead to some donations.

Little Black Book, 200cp: How did this get here? Well, you can have it, even though I think this might count as a breach in privacy. This here is an app called Little Black Book, accessible from all of your devices. It has many features, such as listing every single person as well as their home address, phone number, email, fetishes, when they're available to have sex and where they'll be at that time, all with different sorting options such as distance to you, as well as their willingness to have sex with you. By the way, I may have added a few people in here that are always willing and always available for you, who will be marked with a black star. Another feature of the app is to view a recording of every sex act each person has partaken in, with each persons videos listed in order from the one you'd like to see the most at the top to the one you'd like to see the least at the bottom. Have fun.

Fetish Shaker 1000, 200cp: No, I don't know where this came from. No, I don't know what it does. And no, I won't get in it and test it for you. Wait, here's a manual. Okay, looks like this thing will change the fetishes of whoever goes inside of it, there's a panel on the side that lets you choose some options. It can do things like reverse their fetishes, so subs become doms, or it can just give them new ones or take old ones away. Ooh, looks like you can even change how much they enjoy each fetish, too. I'd be careful though, says that setting it to maximum can really fuck with them. On the bright side, there's an option to make the changes temporary, and they'll go back to normal in about a day.

House of Mysterious Sex, 400cp: Looks like your uncle was a freak, because he just died and left you some weird mansion. It's relatively secluded and thought by many to be haunted, which, by the way, it is. By sex ghosts. Yes, sex ghosts. They're completely invisible except to the person they're performing on (although you can ask for them to be invisible to you, too) and go around the house giving blowjobs and cunnilingus to everyone, even through their clothes. At least they swallow, so no need to worry about a mess in your pants. They also tend to take control of the mansions statues, stuffed animals, appliances, and even the water to fuck around, literally. Just ask them not to and they'll stop, though. Also, it apparently strengthens everyone's sexual appetite and desire, so people tend to just let it happen.

Omni Sex Bot, 400cp: The highest tech sex bot on the market from 500 years into the future, this thing is great at sex. Better than most humans, it'll learn all your weak spots in just a few minutes and can be used to fulfill even your wildest fetishes. It can even shapeshift at will to anything less than the size of an elephant and bigger than bottlecap and will completely reform if torn to pieces. No actual sentience, though.

Companions:

You may either import up to 8 companions, create up to 8 companions, or take up to 8 people from this world with you after the jump is over, or any variation thereof. Created and imported companions receive any 100, 200, 400, and 600cp perk of your choice for free, however they cannot take any items. They may also take the God of Sex perk, however they must either give up the 200 and 400 perk options or the 600 perk option in order to do so.

Drawbacks:

STD Central, +100cp: You remember how I said you were immune to STDs? Well, not for this jump. You won't start with one, but you and your companions are now very susceptible to STDs of all kinds, and about 60% of this population now has some form of one. Good luck with the gonorrhea.

That's Not My Fetish, +100cp: On the bright side, the world has come together or a very distinct similarity shared by about 70% of the population. On the downside, it's not your fetish. In fact, it's repulsive to you. You won't have to see it, but people like to talk about it. And if they find out it's not your fetish? Prepare to be ostracized a bit.

Too Small, +200cp: Simply put, you've got a small cock. Or tits, as the case may be. And everyone, including your companions, loves to remind you of it and humiliate you, which will always cause you to feel inferior. And by the way, your genitals, both penis and vagina, are too small for actual sex, so I wouldn't bother if I were you.

Too Big, +200cp: While some may be too small, you are too big. Your sexual characteristics, such as genitals or breasts, are now really big. Like, they literally prevent you from doing anything type big. Your breasts will weigh you down to the ground, literally, and cause no end of back problems, your vagina will be so big that normal sized dicks are like hot dogs entering a hallway, or else your dick will be so big that no man or woman can or will even try to take it, and will instead run in terror. If it wasn't already obvious, you won't be able to have normal sex this way.

Anhedonia, +400cp: This is a world filled with pleasure, but I'm afraid you will not be taking part. Not yet, anyways. For your entire stay here you will be unable to experience pleasure of any kind, whether it be emotional or physical. Music, sex, movies, social interaction, all of it will provide the same amount of fun and excitement for you. Zero.

Notes:

Get a Load From this Guy also affects women, but instead of semen it applies to their vaginal secretions and can make them a squirter

God of Sex will improve all perks purchased here, from the 100cp options to the 600cp options. It might make you better at some things or it may broaden the effects of some of the perks, regardless it will be a very noticeable world of difference between the two.
