

Victim Girls

By Veronica

Introduction

This isn't Kansas anymore. Oh, we are very, very far from those traditional southern morals now. All those with squeamish stomachs and delicate dispositions...look further in, you might find something you like that you didn't know about. Everyone's got a bit of an animal waiting inside of them and where better to find out whether that animal is a bitch or a bastard than here.

The world's of Asanagi are open for business to the Jumpchain now. Ready, welcoming and waiting for you to thrust yourself in with great force. It might not be like your normal destinations but believe me, there's still plenty fun to be had. These worlds are dark, violent and terribly lewd. The heroes usually die or falsely think they win, whilst the heroines suffer fates far worse than simple death at the hands of hungry monsters and perverted villains. Whatever sick thing you might fancy, there's surely plenty on offer to satisfy you. And if you somehow can't find it, just force someone to do it for you. You'll be fitting right in then.

It'll be a bumpy ride and you might be coming out with quite the bruises, so take 1000 Choice Points to pay for your own perversions here. You'll have ten years to enjoy it all before you're off once more.

Locations

There are three choices to make now. Where to go? Where to spend your time doing horrible things to yourself, to others or to both?

Darkest Earth

The first choice is a rather mundane world based almost exactly on our own modern world. There are no secret supernatural creatures, no hidden societies, no magical mysteries. It's just a world that has a much larger and much more ever-present dark side than the one we're used to. Human trafficking becomes common, assault and theft on the streets is a common sight and the good side of it all, like the authorities or people trying to do good themselves, is almost always ineffectual, just makes things worse or is outright corrupt themselves. Even Japan is filled with nasty criminals now, so just imagine what the more crime filled cesspools of the world are like.

This is otherwise known as the setting for Asanagi's works that do not focus on a particular existing canon. If you desire, you could have this be your original world instead, if you were the kind of awful person to subject everyone to such a change.

Succubi Fantasy

A specific kind of fantasy world, one all too familiar. A fantasy world where ordinary Japanese people get summoned as heroes, level up in a game like system and then get butchered by a demon king. Huh. It's got all the markings of your usual Isekai fare, except for the abnormal number of masochistic sluts that keep being born or summoned. The most powerful women fall easily to pathetic goblins. The world itself is dyed in the colours of extreme sadomasochism, an entire setting that exists solely to effectively perpetuate the most illogical and impossible depths of sexual cruelty humans can imagine.

This used to be a normal fantasy world before a great war between the elves and orcs. The orcs won and broke into heaven, defiling and corrupting the creator goddess. Taking their place as the new gods, they silently twist the world into violent fetishbait for themselves and those like them. Or perhaps the goddess remains but herself has come to love this sort of story. Who knows what really happened. Pick this place and you'll either be a native or a summoned hero, like all your favourite cliches.

Doujin Worlds

On the other hand, you could choose to go to one of the many settings that Asanagi covers in the Victim Girls and Gareki series. Countless anime, manga, video games and more were luridly detailed and depicted by the artist, all of which are open to visiting through here.

All of them will also be as to their original incarnations as the modern world above is to our own one. That is to say, they are far darker, far crueler and far more lewd, all at once. You'll inevitably encounter some of these changed aspects, though you may only be an observer if you are so determined to exclude yourself. That isn't to say that everything will always be dark and slutty. Some worlds might be as you'd known them for ninety percent of the time, hiding their vile underbellies just out of sight.

Synapse

The final choice is a specific setting Asanagi was involved with. The world of Synapse. Initially appearing as the same dark Earth described above, there are supernatural elements here hidden from the public eye. Supernatural abilities and beings have long existed, known of and studied by governments and terrorist organisations. Experiments on such abilities by Imperial Japan during the Great War caused proliferation of abilities among it's people, primarily female citizens. These powers were greater than most that had been seen before, powered soldiers and criminals from outside of Japan being little match. Under the Shijouji Zaibatsu, the Supernatural Investigation Organisation was formed to care and direct these girls. This is the Supernatural Anti-Criminal Special Forces 'Synapse'. But it's not long before 'Synapse' comes under threat, overseas experiments catching up and Synapse girls turning traitor.

Predators are most likely part of various criminal organisations, while Victims almost certainly join Synapse as either powered agents or non-powered support staff. The women of Synapse are powerful but cruel, arrogant and often idiots that rely wholly on their powers. An unfortunate weakness for any predator to take advantage of.

Origins

Either origin that follows may be treated as a Drop In origin, with no memories or history in each world.

Victim

Welcome to the show! One of our new heroines, one of so very many. We go through them so quickly you see. You've chosen to be a Victim and that means you're in for a world of pain and pleasure. The Victims are the cute girls, and more rarely boys, that get to be the subject of all the nasty desires and lewd dreams of our Predator characters here. Humiliation, rape, torture, battery, murder and all sorts of lovely little things await you down this path.

Protection? Now where would the fun be there? How can we all get a blush on our faces if there's no danger in it for you? Not that there necessarily need be danger of the most extreme sort, mind. While you may have chosen to be a Victim and indeed, you'll find yourself in situations where you get the opportunity to fling yourself into the pleasures of being one, you won't be forced. Not as long as you try to escape.

You'll need to take a few extra things later on if you want to be forced honey. Without anything else, you'll likely be just a normal, innocent civilian in your world of choice. The sort of person that's never gotten into trouble before but with plenty of chances to do so coming up soon.

Predator

And in the other corner, we have our fine leading protagonist. A brand new predator, hot off the presses, and ready to see some blood. Plus a few other ooey gooey bodily fluids that we all just love to watch spurt out. It's the predators role to carry out the abuse and sex in our little stories, one we're all happy to see you take up. It's a whole world full of fun waiting for you, though you might find that there are still plenty fish too big for you to catch just yet. You don't need to be a guy to be this origin, though it does help.

But what if I don't want to be a horrible, awful, monstrous monster we hear you say? Terribly boring choice of life goals I'd say but we can't all be entertaining, can we? You don't need to be nasty to be a Predator. In fact, all taking this really does right now is ensure that more often than not, you find cute girls being put in vulnerable positions you can take advantage of. Perhaps you might even try and make this a light hearted adventure? Perhaps you'll see why these worlds are a little renown for being dark in the end. Barring any future choices you make, you'll be a mostly ordinary young or old trouble maker in your world. You've had a few criminal run ins and probably done a few rather untoward things in the past you wouldn't want public but there's no danger right now.

Your sex is the same as it was before, though Victims may become female for free and Predators may be male for free. Your age roll for Victims is $17+1d8$ while Predators may choose from either $17+1d8$ or $30+4d8$.

Perks

Two 100CP perks are free for each origin and other perks are discounted for associated origins.

Inhuman- Free/100/200/+200

If the world you're in for this jump isn't just made of humans and humans only, this perk will allow you to change your race to one of the other sapient species found in the world you've picked. For anything equal to a normal human, such as an ordinary elf or dwarf, the change does not cost anything.

Properly powerful races, such as those with significant advantages over a human, such as a massive demon or an innately powerful magical being that could kill scores of humans, will cost 200 points to take instead. Something more powerful than these examples, like species beyond what a modern military force of a few hundred men could handle, cannot be purchased unless you also gain the Unfair Advantages perk to represent that power. Victims can instead purchase this for 100CP.

Alternatively, you could become a goblin. Weak, snivelling little creatures. You'll get +200 points and be locked in this form if you take it. 100cm tall and weak enough for a human child to beat, they're also voracious meat-eaters and eat up to a hundred human adults worth of meat every year. You'll survive long enough to last the ten years at least, given goblins ordinarily only live for three. A goblin's cock is perhaps their only positive. A thick, weighty, veiny dick that easily outmatches anything short of a horse in size. The heavy sack that hangs beneath is shrouded in a powerful musk, enough to leave any female in heat weak at the knees. It's highly addictive too, ensuring that those who fall to it once, usually remain enslaved. With how quickly they breed, a single goblin can spawn dozens more in short order.

Fatalpulse Experience- Free

While you're here, it's only fitting that you work the same as anyone else here. As ever, pornography rarely sticks to the laws of biology. Bodies that take far more inside of them than should be possible and certainly more than should be pleasurable, yet it almost breaks minds it feels so good. Bodies big enough, even only in specific areas, that people should barely move, much less perform acrobatic feats. For free, you and the rest of the worlds you go to will be able to work on the physical rules of a hentai comic like what Asanagi writes, at least when you want to.

Successfully completing the jump with this perk will give you an extra benefit to take along to future worlds as well. This allows you to alter the future worlds that you travel to to share the same visual styling and/or narrative conventions as the worlds created or written about by Asanagi here. Fill each world with extreme exaggerations of femininity and masculinity, perhaps even turning existing characters into ultra busty short stacks or ultra built bulls. If you want, this can go further than just visual changes, enabling much darker and more perverted takes on these future worlds, where the stories will much more often end in a grim, lurid way.

Yummy- 50

Not every guy's gonna look at you as a useless bit of fuckmeat. Sometimes they really do just want to bite down and tear a chunk off you. It's not your place to get in the way of their desire, the least you can do is make it all the more pleasant. Every part of you is delicious. A lick of your skin might be a sweet sugar or a lovely cinnamon, your soft meat juicy and tender to the taste. Even if your partner isn't out for dinner, you'll always smell welcoming and be all the more fun to kiss. And if they are, you'll find that the process of being prepared and devoured is a pleasure like nothing else.

Overtly Lewd- 50

The world is so much more forgiving of your lewd nature. People might be scared of being the next to be reported for assaulting you or maybe they just make excuses that all the groping is some foreigner custom. Risque and almost pornographic actions are allowed with little comment, despite everyone feeling as embarrassed about it as normal. From skimpy attire to sloppily making out with your latest girlfriend, you can enjoy their jealous gazes without worry. But even a lot of physical contact is now permissible. A harsh slap to a mouthy rival is treated as a verbal disagreement, even if the woman is burning with shame as she nurses her cheek. Outright violence is unacceptable but all sorts of minor abuses are easy to get away with, even women on their own accepting the treatment as ordinary social interactions.

Work Hard- 100

Despite seemingly spending all your time on it, your perverted exploits hardly interfere with your actual work. Twelve hour sessions of masturbating to your best friends' abusive porno will somehow not slow down your dressmaking or study efforts. Screwing around all day won't degrade your fitness, even though you barely pay attention to the health regime anymore. You still need to put a little work in but now, wandering thoughts and hands won't interfere nearly as much.

Stacking the Odds- 100

Everyone knows that the larger an elf's breasts, the lewder they are. What they don't know is that pretty much everyone follows this biological law now. The larger a woman's chest, the lewder and more submissive she really is on the inside. They'll still project their normal personality but the moment they're in a perverted situation, their true colours come out. Women without much to speak of will be every bit as brash and bratty as they appear to be while heaving chests that can barely be held become a sign of weak wills. Particularly stacked individuals are practically begging for a master, though oddly no one seems to notice until you've met them once.

Universal Heart- 300

A gift from a goddess. The quality to understand the hearts of all living things. Plants, animals and even monsters. Without a word, you can communicate with others, completely understand their perspectives and work out how to easily bring harmony between targets. In more desperate situations, a heroine might be forced to use this understanding to easily brainwash those with less than heroic wills. Unfortunately, this same understanding is highly vulnerable to varying levels of madness. Seeing things from their perspective can infect you and even force you to change into what they believe is right. Don't go looking inside a goblin's head unless you want to spend the rest of your life as a servile breeder-cow.

Esper Science- 300

The Esper is a human with biological mutations that grant incredible powers, like psychic abilities from fictional stories. The study of such beings became of global interest in the world of Synapse. Of all the researchers involved, only Saikawa Amano equals your mind and skill with the subjects. Your understanding of Espers has taught you how they function, how to counter them and even how to transfer Esper abilities between people. It'd be an easy task to apply this knowledge to any kind of ability with a biological basis, with a bit of work, given the academic intelligence you now possess. Sadly, you don't have the skill to create Espers on your own but it's really not that hard to get ahold of a few subjects for...data extraction purposes.

Synaptic Power- 200/400

You're actually an Esper yourself, a superior kind of lifeform to all these human peasants around you. It awakened as you went through puberty and now you've fully developed your own psychic ability. What exactly you can do depends on the price you're willing to pay.

For 200CP, you gain a lower end Esper ability. Your body might have unique nerve networks that let you emit and control electricity, enough to burn a dozen men to a crisp in seconds. You might instead create a ESP link with any living being whose body you have tasted before or be able to maintain small telepathic networks with people you've touched. Turn dust particles in the air into deadly sharp blades you control with your mind.

For 400CP instead, you're a heavy hitter. The ability to stop time or to create a 'save state' that you return to when desired. Powerful telekinesis that can reduce a tank platoon to dust in a few moments. Your body could instead have a regenerative healing factor that restores bullet wounds in seconds and can even replace lost brain matter over time, rendering you almost immortal and certainly unaging.

These prices can be discounted to 100/200 if your power comes with a significant weakness instead. Your electrical abilities might be concentrated in overly-sensitive feet, that ESP eating might expose you to every sensation your target is feeling. Your Save State might only work if you die first and your time stop require you to preset how long it lasts. Weaknesses that bring both significant danger as well as a risk of them being turned against you by clever men.

Victim

Vivacious Victim- 100

There's no way you're going to fit in looking like that girl. You're not yet at the type or quality we're going to need you to be if you want to feel like you belong. So what we're going to do is make you just about the cutest, sexiest thing you can think of. You'll be pretty and pleasant to be with, especially in the bedroom. As long as it's feminine in some way, you can probably go for any sort of out there body type, from a statuesque amazon to some lithe ballerina, but the option here is definitely going to give you the best results if you go short and stacked. People will find you cute and want to look out for you, whatever you pick, but this won't always be for your benefit.

Painful Pleasure- 100

Being a victim doesn't need to be a bad thing. Pain, loss, humiliation, that ever sweet despair. They can all be so good if you just open your heart to them. But it can be so scary to take that step, so we can open the door for you. All these awful things still feel bad to you but now they feel far more intoxicating to experience. The pain of a beating still registers but just as it makes you moan in agony, it'll make you moan for other reasons too. The despair of watching your race enslaved and exterminated might tear at your soul but all the while, it'll leave you dripping wet in excitement. Misery is not turned to pleasure, it simply accompanies it. If you like, you can even transfer this to your captors. The more pain you feel, the more pleasure they'll get from tormenting you.

Submissive and Ruinable- 100

They act nice sometimes but you know what they're all wanting from you. Men are all brutes, savage beasts salivating at the thought of tearing you to pieces. The right look, the right smug little smile from you and you can start to tease it out of anyone. You're able to slowly bring out a more dominant and, eventually, more violent side to anyone you spend enough time with. The more depraved you want them to be, the harder it'll get, and they'll need a real push to start hurting people other than you. Sometimes the nice guy really can be fixed, into the nasty monsters you love to have slapping you around.

Woman's Intuition- 100

Rarely do people have kind intentions when it comes to cute girls like you. You're so vulnerable, who could help taking advantage of you? Especially when so many of your peers are just so naive and foolish, they'd walk into a bear trap if it asked them nicely. But not you! No, you're most excellent at figuring out the true intentions people have for you and just what they want out of you, right now or long term. It does make it even more embarrassing when you inevitably give up and surrender despite knowing exactly what is about to happen to you but at least you'll be making an informed decision! Thankfully, when you do inevitably lose to a man, your intuition also gives you a great idea of what will get him off the hardest.

Queen Bee- 100

All these harpies are drawn to you like honey. Like long lost sisters, women with similar body types and slutty interests as you are lured to your presence. Your workplace starts hiring an abnormal number of athletic tomboys like you who share a petplay interests or your favoured adventuring guild is bursting with masochistic shortstacks similar to yourself. If you happened to be some goblin tribes' current breeder, you'd be responsible for luring plenty of ultra-fertile goblin-lovers to their hunting grounds without even meaning to. It has a smaller effect on girls that you already know, slowly encouraging their bodies and minds to twist more towards your particular brand of lewdness. By choice, you can have this instead work on the preferences of your current partner slash owner.

Living Toy- 200

If you truly were born only for pouring seed into, it just makes sense that your body can stand up to proper use. A body that is as soft and plush as ever but when it occurs during some sort of sexual act, your body becomes unnaturally tough. A blow that could knock you out in combat could be slammed into your face or stomach over and over and you'd remain awake, if groggy, to give your tormentors the reactions they desire. Even choking to unconsciousness over and over won't see permanent damage being done. A determined enough partner could still harm or kill you, especially if they stop doing it just to get off but a lot of people would need a weapon or tool to manage it.

Female Domination- 200

So sure, supposedly all us women are meant to be just sex toys and whores here, right? Don't be stupid. People are what they want to be here, all you get is what you really want, deep down. So if you want to stop being a victim and have a little fun on top yourself? Go out there and get it. After all, you've now become much better at controlling men simply because you're a female or at least feminine. Or maybe not even that. You're unnaturally skilled at dominating other men, particularly those weaker than you or who are naturally submissive, making it easy to control, bully and humiliate them, even if they might normally be able to easily beat you in a fight. You just need the right opportunities. Enough time and practice and you could mould these idiotic males into properly loyal pets, desperate to please and be pleased by you. Perhaps you could even start keeping your own kennel!

Traditional Waifu- 200

These young ladies that ambitiously strive for power and prestige, it just feels so wrong to you. They've not yet realised that their rightful place isn't to be something, it's to be someone's. Someone's maid, someone's slave, maybe even someone's wife... It's only natural that proper women like us excel at housework, cooking, raising children and serving others. Even without experience, you'd capably support any household needed, and do a fine job with any offspring placed in your care. You're not just of use to your man either, you can look good doing it, swinging your hips as you dust to catch his eye or proudly thrusting your chest out. All the better to keep his eyes from wandering to street hussies that offer nothing but a wet cunt. A real woman like yourself is more than capable of keeping the attention and affections of your partner, no matter how brutish the hunk may be.

I'm Reusable- 200

Boys are so rough with their toys. They'll throw them around, slam them up and down, chew them up and spit them out. Then they'll forget all about the toys once they break and someone gives a new one. But you keep bringing the boys back to play with you, even after you're completely broken. No matter how badly you're beaten or bashed, you don't seem to go down for good. Your mind, your heart, your spirit, those can all be dirtied and destroyed for good. But that tight, young flesh of yours always finds a way to come back from anything. A magical spell that transfers you to a new body, amazing resilience and recuperation once you get to a hospital, even just the luck to have a passing healer look you over. You'll always find your way back to looking pretty and playful after a short while. Only once you're really broken though.

Ideal 'Slave'- 400

The aura of being prey around you is stronger than ever and draws only the largest, strongest and most suitable mates to you, wishing to capture you or otherwise take you for their own. Unlike most however, they appear to value you for your role as stock and will protect and care for you, so long as you let them think they're your partner. Nothing says you couldn't trick many men into it at once. Especially since you've gotten very good at tricking and manipulating those with more power than you or those who directly hold power over you, such as your supposed masters. Just because you're a slave on the surface, doesn't mean you need to remain one in reality. Not when you're master would do anything to make you happy.

Another Bad End- 400

It's easy to forget, when you've spent the last hours flicking your little nub, that all this can get rather final. Even if your new owner doesn't have a violent end in mind for you, you can only fall into lustful madness once. At least, it's that way for the other unlucky bitches. Given time, you crawl your way back to sanity. You've a strong tendency to be rescued from any lewd defeats and bad ends you seek out. Or just 'happen' to put yourself at risk of. A few days or weeks of enjoying mindless pleasure and you'll start regaining clarity. You'll even forget most of the pleasure involved, aside from a few shudderingly good fragments, letting you enjoy it all as if new the next time you get broken. This won't help with physical injuries, aside from corruption, but it'll clear your mind or spirit up in time. Don't expect to be saved from anything non-sexual though. If you're kicking the bucket without the decency to get someone off doing it, you can stay dead.

SSR Rank Breeder- 400

A woman who was born solely to breed. Anything birthed by your body is a superior lifeform. The reasons from this are many. The superior quality of your reproductive abilities lead to far superior spawn, easily outmatching other members of the same species. None of the weakness of your female form will bleed into your children, taking only the better traits from you and the father. Unique genes in your ova give a high chance of developing Esper powers, which can range from control over elements to the ability to stop time. It takes only a few minutes to fully come to term as well, though your offspring grow as normal otherwise. One might very well say that the most, and only, valuable part of you is now your womb.

A Fine Woman- 400

The only joy for a woman is to be of use to a man. The day he loses interest is the day she ceases to have value. But in your eagerness to please, you find yourself ever so valuable. However incompetent you likely were before, being given an order by an acknowledged master propels you to greater heights. You act with greater skill and power solely because you were told your task, instead of making any choices yourself. The more deeply you've submitted to your superior, the more effective this becomes. A simple work superior makes little difference. Swearing yourself to a man, such that you start dripping when he pats your head, would let him turn you into a fearsome warrior from nothing with a command. And selling your body and soul to your master, being willing to die for their fleeting pleasure, would help you accomplish the absurd if he desired. All it took for you to find your worth was the firm hand of a man.

Miss Monster- 600

Way beyond all these ordinary predators are the proper monsters, the sort that don't just seek to use soft, plushy girls for fun but eat and slaughter humans outright. Proper hunting beasts, malevolent demons and brutal horrors from beneath the sea, yet they one and all seem rather taken with you. Instead of being used as prey or sport for these creatures, you'll often find that they care much more about capturing and keeping you alive, safe and even somewhat happy. Sometimes this might be to breed more of their kind with you, as you somehow have the capability to safely, quickly and effectively mate with any species now, and sometimes it's to make you one of them, changing your body and more to become more monstrous, without losing those charming humanoid body parts or much of your mind. Either way, you'll find yourself protected by monsters when you'd normally be hunted by them, though you could still be harmed in the crossfire of two competing beasts striving for your loyalty.

Snake in the Bush- 600

If it really does take ten of your kind to equal one of theirs, why not bring along a thousand? Those of the same gender as you find themselves seeing you as the Great Leader they never knew they wished they had. You possess vast charisma and powers of intuition when interacting with those of the same gender as you, allowing you to effortlessly convince them of your beliefs being true, even when they are quite extremist or would normally be considered serious criminal acts. Your rhetoric will spread rapidly should you get some sort of platform to reach many at once, perhaps even letting you infect entire countries with your bigotry, fetishes, beliefs or some other twisted opinion you have. It'll take quite a bit of work to get that far and not visibly following what you preach yourself makes you a lot less effective.

Unfair Advantages- 600

You're the heroine of this story. The unlucky victim in waiting, who is blessed with incredible powers, benefits, resources, allies or treasures, only to make it all the sweeter to watch you being broken and beaten. To take this, you'll find yourself near the top of any world you're in once you arrive. The legendary first generation hero leading an enormous adventuring guild, the obscenely wealthy heiress to a massive corporation, one of the rare few pilots with the incredible skills and resources to own and pilot your own mechanised superweapon. The benefits are vast and you'll continue to benefit as you travel further.

But as a consequence, you'll find yourself at the centre of a constant stream of submissive fantasies. You're destined for power, for sure, but mostly so that you can be a more pleasant plaything for the men who'll beat you down. While sometimes you'll just be a witness to depraved undertakings, often you'll end up the target yourself. Many times, it'll be lesser men who couldn't hope to take you in a fight. All too easy to underestimate and ignore such types. Sometimes it'll be those of great power in their own right, out to teach you your place or use your power for their own ends. Practice caution and common sense, especially around men, and you'll be much more assured of safety.

You can opt to not gain the benefits at the beginning of each world if desired. Doing this will dampen down the lewd misfortune you encounter. You'll certainly be exposed to some of it still but almost entirely as an observer, as if you were a rare side character that got away unharmed.

Predator

Weasel of a Man- 100

There wouldn't be as many victims as there are if they didn't keep following along with you at the slightest provocation. It might be more on you than you realise, since you're so good at tricking and luring other people, especially cute girls, into following you around and doing what you want without realising your true intentions. You can't talk a nice lady into becoming a slave directly but you could definitely get most people to follow you into a dark alley without issue. You know how to make yourself look nice and approachable at any time, even after you've just done something awful, which is sure to mess with heads.

Look of the Hawk- 100

Not to say you can't be a handsome man here but...well, it's hardly required to be a male lead in this story. Still, if you're not satisfied with your looks going in, this will definitely help you fit the predator ideal. Whether it's real handsomeness or outright ugliness, you can make yourself a high degree of either and give yourself an entirely new body shape and appearance with this perk, ranging from some heroic, chiselled look to a towering, beefy behemoth of a man. Whatever you pick, you'll be able to look terribly intimidating when you want, enough to make even a hardened warrior pause and some innocent little thing not used to danger might just wet themselves.

Manly Musk- 100

They're blushing just walking by you. Press a slut's face up against your crotch and she'll be left shivering in pleasure. Something about your body's smell is hopelessly arousing to those you find attractive. It's a little addictive over time and it rubs off easily when you're in the act, making sure everyone knows whose been using that particular set of holes. The more 'alpha' that you get, the more potent this will all be. Get strong enough and you won't need a word to have girls falling to their knees.

Drug Farmer- 100

No shame in needing a bit of extra assistance when it comes to love making. All guys need it eventually. How can you be expected to enjoy yourself when your partner struggles this much? The wonders of the homegrown pharmacy are yours to pursue now. You're an expert at making all sorts of drugs and chemicals that can affect living beings, ones to alter the mind or body, to addict the user, give pleasure or pain and just about anything you'd normally see on the market too. You'll find that the stuff you make can affect people even when they should be more resistant or immune to these drugs, like many supernatural beings.

Internalised Sexism- 100

Even as your current victim struggles and squirms on you, onlookers won't be able to help themselves thinking positively of you. "There's a real man." "What a lucky girl." "So cool..." Your current victim might hate it but those around you find indecent thoughts creeping in. Your aggressive actions become attractive and cute. Slapping your partner around slowly takes on romantic connotations. Even a violent rape starts to become idolised over time. People exposed to you acting lewdly for long enough, even if the acts are minor still, will make up excuses for you as you act out more. It takes a lot longer to work on those close to your victims but eventually, even friends and family would rather finger themselves to the thought of you than step in to help their sister or lover. It becomes easier over time to get away with things and makes new targets all the more vulnerable.

The Boys- 200

There's no shame in ganging up on a strong woman. It's not any different than using a public urinal, really. It makes it all the easier to achieve your goals, when you have like minded men around you. The more such fellows in your company who share your goals, the more powerful any effect relating to domination and sex becomes for you. One mate as brutish as yourself could leave a girl feeling twice as sensitive to pain and pleasure, whilst a whole gang of perverts turns your abilities up to eleven. Even if they're usually a bit weaker at the knees themselves, your presence will let your friends share some of your own raw maleness, becoming all the more confident and dominant because of it.

Nice Guy- 200

Not everything has to be all hateful and cruel and misogynistic when you're a guy. Especially not when cute girls appear genuinely attracted to you, physically and as a person. I guess they realise that having a strong guy can be pretty cool. Sure, sometimes these girls that crush on you express it with some shitty or stupid ways but teaching them a lesson, instead of the usual broken slaves you got used to ending up with, just makes them realise they really do love you. Might be a strange relationship but if you return those feelings, true love will turn out to blossom from anywhere.

Great Tempter- 200

Sin's hardly something to get so worked up about. Everyone's sinning all the time. You and your boys? Well, you're just more open about it. And you're rather good about getting others to be open about it too. Something about you tempts everyone around you into bad ideas and lowered inhibitions. In front of you, people consider terrible things that would normally disgust them and find that the apparent downsides of what you offer become far less noticeable, with the upsides being far more pronounced. The act of cheating on their spouse suddenly seems far less egregious in their minds, especially compared to the pleasure they know they'd feel with you. Taking one more loan from you only has them thinking of the extra hit they could buy and not the long term consequences.

Cuckoo Bird- 200

Sisters? They're just hiding their venom for each other. True love? Just settling for less. You're an expert in twisting people against each other, sabotaging sincere relationships built on intimacy and love just so you can swoop in for another toy. Turning sisters against each other, lovers growing to hate one another and even families despising their relations. Through manipulative words and actions, you can break down these bonds and leave an empty spot to insert yourself. The stronger their bonds, the easier a time you have with it all, each mistake and misstep hitting that much harder. Strong bonds broken make your victims all the more desperate for a replacement too.

Slaver- 400

Is it not the proper place of a woman to be beneath their men? In your line of work, you know this sort of thing is nonsense. A slave is a slave, be they male or female, and you excel at making either into such things. A veteran, some may even say legendary, slave trainer and trader are you, being exceptionally skilled at breaking people down into unthinking weapons, mindless pets or obedient toys, training them to do their assigned purpose to exceptional levels and burning out any will or desires to resist, even putting them against their former friends and loved ones with enough time and effort. The worse you act, the faster it will go too as harming slaves will break them faster as your abuse gives people addictive pleasure, one they can't help wishing to please you to continue receiving. Just try not to actually break them before the time comes to sell them.

Perverted Science- 400

Taking things and twisting them is what you're here for, after all. Most didn't expect you to apply that to the scientific field but how else will you come up with new tortures and torments? Provided your intentions are explicitly those of great sadism and misery, developing and modifying technology becomes far easier than it should be. For the sake of cruel sexual pleasures, you could easily modify a virtual reality game's code to put female players in humiliating situations. Or take decent gene modification devices and upgrade them to modify a sapient species into cute, harmless, domestic house-pets. Your inventions, upgrades and modifications to technology will perform poorly when not used to worsen the lives of others. But what else were you planning to do here?

Prime Meat- 400

An exemplar of the power of your sex. Towering above your peers, you embody the peak physical and sexual strength of your species, whatever sex you claim for yourself. With physical power to easily humble the ordinary peaks of your species, and the sexual might to leave the most gifted men and women cringing in shame. Such savage strength only becomes greater in sexual situations, growing to much greater extents once you begin to violate another. The more sadistic you act, the more powerful you'll be. Even victims normally superior to you by far might find themselves helpless if you get started. Over time, such strength might not even fade once you finish up, if you keep indulging enough.

Gender Supremacy- 400

What predator can stand being inferior to their prey? A man should never allow that should he wish to call himself such. But these girls, in so many of these worlds do they have unnatural advantages. In born talents of unsurpassed nature, magical gifts from the gods themselves. An equaliser of your own is in store, as you find yourself unnaturally blessed whenever you compete against those of the female gender. Your training to do such rewards you with far greater results in far less time and your actual competitions against your prey see you supernaturally fortunate, as your opponents continually make mistakes and get hit with bad fortune, as you find lucky shortcuts and sudden bursts of ingenuity. You just need to be in the same ballpark and winning is no longer so hard to imagine.

Alpha- 600

What hope does a little girl have against a proper man? Your very presence makes women shiver and convulse in fear and anticipated pleasure, the sight of you robbing the strength from their bodies and your actual touch leaving them as weak as children. It's a simple matter to bring any partner to mind shattering releases and even maintain entire harems of loyal, idiotic women at once, both through your sexual skill, your natural charisma and the sheer aura of domination you exert on all those around you. Even other men are aware that you're a beast unlike most and know not to cross you without an extremely strong reason. Those you've already forced into submission are practically powerless against you henceforward, far more powerful warriors finding their abilities useless against their new master.

Parasitical Love-600

Just conquering your foes isn't enough. You need to defile them, to take everything from them as you sate your lusts. Whether you're stretching someone's holes wide or riding them into the dirt, sexual domination becomes a devouring act. Each time you make your partner orgasm, you can steal away their power, absorbed directly or ejected through their sexual fluids. Levels, skills, talents, raw strength and more. Their rape will hollow out their very being, until they're as weak as the mewling kittens you leave them looking like. Every orgasm will drain an appreciable fraction of whatever you're taking and if you've no use for it yourself, others can benefit by licking up the fluids you leave behind.

Asanagi Battles- 600

The greater their reasons to resist, the weaker they seem to become. Girls with loving boyfriends or husbands, warrior women fighting against your empire with their sisters of battle, those who've struggled against your factions brutal oppression for years. Despite all the reasons they'd have to be the hardest to break, their resistance feels like paper against your efforts. The more reasons they have to defy you when it comes to you breaking them to heel, in a fight or otherwise, the less they'll inwardly feel that when they come up against you directly. Sure, they'll put up a fight on the outside but when everyone thought on the inside is about how hot you make their body feel, they won't have nearly the strength they usually would. Even the greatest warrior goddess might turn into an ineffectual kitten if you can plan the encounter right.

Items

All 100CP items are free for their origins and other items are discounted for associated origins. You'll receive a 400CP stipend to spend solely on items here. Companions do not receive a stipend.

Black Bag- 50

Bad girls and bad boys alike can't resist taking an extra hit now and then. Why stick to boring old reality when you can spice things up and fuck yourself up at the same time? This pouch at your side now has about a dozen doses of a variety of drugs intended to greatly enhance sensitivity, cause hallucinations and heightened senses or even increase fertility. Often all of the above, in addition to being quite addictive. The pouch refills each day, letting you constantly feed your own addictions or keep a few pets happy, as you please.

Hara-Pan Agency- 50

An email address that promises to help even the most powerful would-be victims live out their foulest dreams. Write your location and the masochistic injuries you want to suffer, then wait a few minutes. You'll get a nearby address that'll lead you to a dark door. Inside are the men from the agency, sterling examples of filthy and violent masculinity. They're only human and only have access to real world resources but, something about the room will let them harm you. It won't matter what powers or defences you claim to have, they'll be able to treat and hurt you as if you were some skinny idol from Japan. They'll follow your instructions to the letter and improvise on your expressed desires, so buyer beware. You'll get exactly what you asked for.

Cup Collection- 100

A hidden warehouse with a bounty of flesh. Over two hundred de-limbed women await your attentions eagerly within, each carefully broken with a cocktail of drugs and torture by the masked staff present here. Comfortably appointed rooms exist to give you a place to enjoy their attentions. The girls are all attractive, with busts of over 100cm, and aged between eighteen and twenty. Those that age past this limit are replaced, to keep your personal playpen fresh. There's barely any thought left in the brains of these sluts, the few that do still think tend to heap adoration on you. Those that age past twenty are taken out back, where an automatic slaughterhouse can be found. The same tool that severed their limbs safely can prepare all kinds of other meat cuts too.

Desert Island, Filled with Desserts- 100

You found this place after a shipwreck, luckily washing up on these golden shores. As the bright blue sea softly lapped at your feet, you woke up to a bevy of dark-skinned honeys standing over you. This hidden ocean island is a bounty of nature, so lush and fertile that even primitive humans can survive with ease. The weather is always perfect, the food easy to find and delicious to eat, you find yourself getting fitter just living your life here. More curiously, a tribe of all-female humans can be found here, having never met the outside world until you arrived. They're quite convinced that you're some sort of deity, eager to serve you. They cover every kind of appealing body type you could wish for, along with an inhuman level of physical fitness. There's no telling what kinds of lewd secrets might await further into the jungle here, especially in the old temples that these amazonian women avoid.

Tentacle Pit- 100

A room filled with strange plants, bulbous and veiny in that particular way. Attached to a property you own or nearby cave, every inch of this room is a different living thing, all creatures evolved to assault and torment every inch of a woman's body. Dozens of different tentacles, feelers, drug-filled needles, suckers and more creep out to any sources of warmth that enter the room. From caressing the body to a tight bondage, they'll hold anyone stupid enough to come in place. At the same time as the plants begin to brutishly mate with their captive, needles will slither through every opening to start altering the brain and body within. Anyone in this room will be subjected to unimaginable pleasure, altered solely to make them more sensitive and addicted, while bearing ever more plant monsters. The ones bred will be specifically suited to defiling the mother even more.

Sheer Beauty- 300

The masterwork of a magical weaver. This vulgar set of lingerie has a powerful enchantment linked to you. Anyone that wears it will be forced to fall deeply in love with you. Deep enough that they'll accept any abuse from you as if it were tender kisses. That they'd even marry a pig if you told them to. Coincidentally, that was the fate of the woman who made the dress to begin with. The one flaw is that the wearer must put it on themselves and be in your presence for the curse to activate.

Cloning Pinks- 300

An alchemical vat specialised in a certain magical process. It's intended to clone the user, creating a physically and magically identical body while also allowing for modifications to be done mid-process. The tube will attach a special spell that links your soul to these bodies, letting you automatically resurrect into them if your current body were to die. The tool doesn't work quickly, making a new clone every few weeks, but it'll give you a lot more room to make mistakes or play around with different shapes.

Victim

Box of Valuables- 100

What use do you have if you don't look like the most prettily wrapped up present in the world? Not much some would say. These many boxes of cardboard seem to appear whenever you open a closet in a room you stay in, revealing a massive variety of cute and sexy outfits for your current setting, all of which are very easy to remove in a hurry. They'll look good on you regardless of your body's exaggerated shapes or sizes, even if more restrained people might blush at the sight of you. Plus, once you empty a box, you can keep it for other uses. They're pretty sturdy, enough that even a whole person can be carried around in one.

Cameras and Connections- 100

High end recording equipment, like only the best studios can afford. Yet it's easy enough for a dumb 20 something to set up while drunk. All the better to record your risque adventures. Or maybe better in the hands of a partner that hasn't cummed their brains out already. The equipment comes with a few contacts willing to buy good quality recordings from you for a decent price. Just be aware that your home videos will quickly make the rounds online and through local adult stores. And your buyers might let your contact information slip here and there.

Gilded Chains- 200

You just can't get comfortable without something wrapped tightly around your neck, can you? The various devices here were ostensibly designed to help limit and restrain dangerous powers, allowing safe use by the wearer. Chokers to help regulate psychic signals, skin-tight outfits to control temperature levels for pyrokinetics, piercings to keep a frenzy under control. They do work, at least on you, and can make dangerous powers all the safer. The scientist that made them did happen to leave a few openings in their technology though. Anyone clever enough to hack in could not just disable the restraints but even take control of the powers they affect. Wearing them after realising this critical flaw, aren't you just begging for someone to take control?

Club- 200

A small adventuring sky ship, a dojo, a school clubroom or even a private home just for you and your friends to hang out in. You own your own private club area, exclusive to you and your best friends or whoever else you allow in. Luxury furnishings and refreshments, top of the line gear for whatever it's based on and even some private staff to run or pilot or maintain it, as needed. It'll change to be appropriate for each world but always remain just about the comfiest place to be. People not invited don't seem to be that interested to coming around if you don't want though and normally hostile people are a lot more gentle than normal with you if you let them in. Perhaps it might even be fun to let some bad guys in, as long as you don't get in over your head.

Band of Sisters- 400

Who needs men? Why do you need a stupid man to become a top adventuring guild or a major political party or a great mercenary company? You don't and you're proving it right now. You've got a proper organisation, female only, at your beck and call. They could be one of the above examples or something else fitting to your world. It's a pretty powerful group, with at least a few hundred beautiful girls as members, often with talents that range from middle to near the top of what is the normal level in your current world. They're very devoted to you and the organisation but it seems like they're also quite easy to corrupt, especially from within. Keep an eye on your girls or they might stab you in the back. Or get a guy to do it for them.

Wealthy Benefactors- 400

It seems those old men have some taste after all. A bunch of well off businessmen and political figures have sponsored you, in whatever job or task you've focused on. They might be patrons for an adventuring party, political donors or the upper management of your idol company. They've got a lot of pull in your home country and plenty of funds to make things go your way. They might expect a bit of payback here and there but they don't push too hard. If you're unwilling to do the raunchier favours they'd like, they're happy to share a few spiked drinks instead, so they can enjoy you without listening to the whining. Play into their desires and they're all too happy to support you. They might even become grandfatherly.

Ladies Only- 600

The sort of marvel that tips the scales of even this world. You have a super-weapon in your hands, a item that elevates you to the very heights of the world in power when you have it available. A flying mecha suit with enough power to outmatch any modern day military weapon, a unique magical tool that allows the rewinding of time or dominating mana around you, even a mighty starship more advanced than any other. It can only be operated by a woman, as it is now, and while it is immensely potent, it is also separate from you. The item only grants the benefit when you possess the item, leaving it open to be taken from you.

Bad End Bitches- 600

You're head of the pack, not some run of the mill fuckmeat anyone can walk over. It's not that you're any more difficult to tame, trap, kill or what have you; it's that you have ever trusting girlfriends you can shove in front of danger. Taking this item ensures that a pack of blandly attractive women gathers in your life at the start of each world. They're loyal, respectful and don't have the smarts to realise you might be using them. In terms of actual abilities, they're decent for whatever field you find yourself in. But these half dozen or so allies are meant to take a bad end for you. Whenever you're in danger of such, from being the target of some would-be alpha rapists or the prophecy-marked heroine the demon king is hunting or just the prey of some big dragon...you can just call on one of these girls and everything goes away. They'll take your place as chewtoy, cock-toy and ritual sacrifice. As long as you don't bother them again, whatever hefty villain was after you will be happy with their new prize. And your girls are never far behind you. Just don't get in deep without any sacrifices left.

Predator

Cooking Kings- 100

A world class kitchen? Complete with utensils, appliances, tools, ingredients and just anything you could possibly need to cook like any 5 star chef? It's a little out of place. Still, what you get is what you get and it's damn easy to learn to cook in this kitchen that attaches itself to either your warehouse or some other property you own. There's no doubt that you and the boys are going to work up an appetite with all the raping and the torturing and the other evil stuff, so why not treat yourselves to a home cooked meal?

Home Tattoo Kit- 100

How else should one leave a mark of ownership? If you're not quite ready to brand it into their soul, this kit and the easy to learn guide that comes with it will teach you how to tattoo others. Better yet, the tattoos made here will reinforce the relationship you have with your subject at the time of tattooing. Breaking your pet in and don't want her to slide back to being a normal girl? Everytime she sees the mark you gave her, she'll be reminded of her place. Makes it that much harder for them to forget your lessons.

Human Industries- 200

The oldest profession in the books and still a fantastic money maker these days. You're the proud owner of a very successful pleasure establishment, from an ordinary brothel to a literal human farm meant to gather milk, meat and workers. It's already bringing in plenty of cash, especially since prime staff/resources always seems drawn to the business when you need replacements or additions, and there's regular opportunities to expand the business even more. Not to mention the personal benefits you get when you want someone to yourself for the night.

Goblin Brands- 200

Comprehensive slave magic bound up in an easily used and always hot brand. The brand itself is of your preferred design but will only mark those who accept the contract. To be marked means giving complete ownership of their mortal body and immortal soul to the marker. Even if they're temporarily broken, get someone to accept a brand from you and they'll remain as such. They're more possession than person at that point, even magic treating them as an object that you own instead of a separate sapient being. They're helpless to resist any command, no matter how brutal. Short of the most powerful magic, the marks on their souls will never be wiped away.

Fortress- 400

A proper fortress, fit for any great ruler. From the great war ships that prowl the skies to towering castles of stone and steel, you have a mighty base fit for the world you find yourself in. While it may lack in the greatest of luxuries, except perhaps for your private rooms, it is almost impossible for most military forces to break through the defences here, especially with the large complement of trained, loyal warriors that staff the fortress. Regardless of what form the base takes on, it will always have an extensive dungeon or prison area, with the most advanced tools for causing pain and misery in the current age.

Anti-Synapse Equipment- 400

The boys in the lab cook up all sorts of useful tools. They've set up a connection for you to custom order all sorts of power canceling equipment, to help even the playing field with all those smug bitches you're hunting down. Suits to dampen electrical blasts, sprays that sear blind the eyes of those with a deadly gaze, sometimes even an remote control override for powerful tech weapons. The more powerful the woman you want to take down, the longer the eggheads will take to whip something up. Most synapse girls, the sort that can take on a army platoon, will take a few weeks. An army annihilating demon queen might take a year or two instead. And be careful. It just helps even things. If you fuck up and step wrong, they could still kill you, especially if you don't catch them one on one.

Alaska Treaty- 600

Even in a world where the victims seem to have taken over, the predators will never be far behind. They gather at the very heights of wealth and influence, seeking any method they can to enforce dominance over those they consider victims. This secret organisation, made of many of the richest and most socially powerful predators in the world, extends an invite to you as an equal. Information and resources beyond imagining are available here, so long as you pursue their goals of world domination, whether it be for men over women, predators over prey or just the one group over all others. The group will be present in future worlds, an invite available always.

Traitorous Whore- 600

She hasn't even met you yet and she's already dripping wet. So eager to throw it all away, just to make you happy. Just for a chance to kneel at your feet. There's a traitor somewhere out there, who has driven themselves to fanatical ecstasy thinking about serving you. A great heroine of a major nation that's convinced herself her destiny is to be your food, a political leader who hides her desperate lust for her one true master, you get the idea. It might be someone that already exists or an unknown factor but they'll always be useful to you. Aside from the usual ways you'd use a meatsleeve, that is. Powerful and well placed to screw over a large number of people to benefit you. You'll meet someone new like this in each world too.

Companions

Import- 50

Why leave all your friends out of the fun? Every time you buy this, you can take one of your companions and import them into this jump, gaining one of the two origins, the freebies and discounts connected to that origin as well as 800CP to spend on perks and items that they want to have. You can also make new companions here, a single new one for each purchase of the option and they follow the same rules as the above, though you can freely decide anything like personality, appearance and connection to you, provided it doesn't conflict with the rest of the jump.

Canon- 50

Hmm. Have your eye on someone specific? Want to take your time with them? I can't even begin to imagine the things you could do to someone with more than a decade to spend with them. Each time you take this, you can take a single canon character from one of the worlds you are in during this jump with you. Events will coincide that they agree to come along with you, though the circumstances may be a surprise.

Slave Harem- 100

It's almost too terrible to think of. What would all these fine pets do without their master here when you leave? Don't worry about it, we'll give you something to make sure that the pets you really like can come along with you. Buying this option ensures that anyone that can be reasonably said to be totally enslaved to your will can come along with you, so long as it's from this world. Break their wills and leash their beings to your own and you'll have a happy new follower along with you.

Korosu-Chan- Free

Isn't she the cutest thing? A tiny young woman, barely up to the chest of most men. She's got these beautiful long blonde twintails, cute elf ears, some lovely heaving tits and just the most adorable schoolgirl outfit. Shame the personality doesn't come close to the quality of the body. She's one of those girls that can't stand lewd things and just hates any sort of 'social injustice'. If you're bad enough to do something she considers wrong, really not all that hard, she'll be screaming at you and telling you to kill yourself. She might even get out a knife! Don't worry about her using it though. These sorts of girls can never actually do something meaningful, they're all talk. She's got 600 points to spend on Victim or General perks and items, which should really tell you all you need to know about this option.

Pigsty Maids- 50 per

A squalid little house or room attachment, filled with moans and cries of pleasure. Two dozen beauties are found here, young women with luscious bodies and total adoration for your person. Just a picture of you is enough to lightly cum, much less your smell or grip. Each one of these ladies is a well trained maid, fully devoted to ensuring your comfort and the cleanliness of whatever you call home. They've no use outside of housework and bedwarming. They themselves believe that whatever brains they once have long since went towards plumping up their tits for your enjoyment. They respond well to any treatment you give them, any attention at all reinforcing their worship of you, and even a broken maid will be replaced after a week.

Veronica Violence- 100

Sisterly love? Pft. Who the fuck are you kidding here? The only thing that matters in life is proving that you're the biggest bad bitch around. If you want to get ahead, you grind other people's faces into the dirt. Veronica's real good at grinding too. Veronica Violence, a name she chose herself, is fully devoted to having fun in the many sick ways she prefers. She's one of those rare girls that fits into the Predator origin in fact and seems to see you as a partner in crime, wanting to drag you into all sorts of crime times with that smug little smirk she has. Unlike most of her kind, she's pretty good at recovering from a big loss, and before long she'll be back on the streets looking for someone to fuck up real bad. She's even managed to nab 1000 points to spend on Predator/General perks or items for herself.

Victoria Violence- 100

Veronica's twin really doesn't live up to her last name. Victoria says she wants to help everyone around her, especially the ones others think are lost causes. Victoria believes the best of people, even the ones that just got done thumping the back of her skull, and she'll do her best to rehabilitate them. She definitely doesn't use this as an excuse to seek out ultra-violent masochistic fantasy situations. Beneath her cover, she's as much a Victim as any girl and she loves it. She'd love to drag you down with her too, if you let her, whether you're a Predator to latch onto or a fellow Victim to corrupt. Victoria herself has 1000 points to spend on Victim/General perks and items for herself.

Chaddicus Maximus- 100

His friends call him Chad. It's what he prefers. Thinks it sounds cool, y'know? Chad's a great guy. Bit rough around the edges but he'll always stand up for a brother in need. He's even a gentleman to the ladies, trying his best to use those rusty old manners his pa tried to teach him. As long as they're not doing any of that bitch stuff to him. Then the temper comes out. See, Chad's a big guy. A 7 foot colossus of muscle and proud of it. He does his best to be nice. But when people don't play like he expects, he gets real angry and tries to put them back in line. For all his effortless talent in anything manly, he's also got a talent for hurting people and making cuties scream when they upset him. But maybe he sees you differently? Even if you're a girlie, he seems mighty forgiving of you talking out of place. What a nice guy. So nice he even has 800 points to buy Predator/General perks or items now that he's becoming a companion with you.

Desiree-100

The main man, the star of the show. Desiree's that guy you see in all the doujins. Spiky hair, fantastic cook, violent misogynist. All the good stuff. He's been the leader of a brutal adventuring party, a drug ring boss, a professional chef and probably stranger stuff still. He's not even surprised by all the world hopping you do. He can't stand ladies being out of place and he definitely goes wild when he loses to them but unlike most guys that sad, it just invigorates him to improve himself even more. He reckons that coming along with you on an adventure across the worlds is a good way to make himself the best man he can possibly be. Even if you're a woman, he'll just try and put up with it. He ain't no idiot that can't see the benefits outweigh the costs. He doesn't have points to buy things but considering his wide skill set already, from some basic magic to combat skills to drug making to being one of the best chefs in the world, he doesn't need them.

Justin- 100

Not his real name. He used to be an ordinary student in Japan before an unfortunate encounter with a truck. Gifted a new life in another world, he took up Justin as his name and set out to be a hero. He's got the usual fortune one associates with an isekai hero, particularly the tendency to gather a harem of gorgeous and powerful women around him. Unfortunately, Justin just can't work up the courage to hit it off with any of them. It doesn't help that all the girls he attracts start drooling the moment someone starts pushing them around and making demands. Thankfully for Justin, he met you early in his journeys and has become convinced you're a true companion. He'll excuse or overlook all but the most blatant misdeeds, as he continues to try to be a hero in each world. Justin tends to get some sort of powerful bonus or cheat in each world he goes to and retains the 'luck' with women he has here.

Heroine Hinata- 100

A summoned hero to save the world, especially after the last one got himself offed by horny succubi. Unfortunately, this one didn't die to a truck. She suffocated while fingering herself for nine hours straight in a hot room. The Goddess blessed her deeply, sensing a kindred spirit, and she levels with frightening speed while holding the Universal Heart perk. Hinata met you early on, her sweet and friendly personality morphing the second she was exposed to your particularly flavour of perversion. Now she earnestly believes her duty is to twist the world to your preferences, using Universal Heart to brainwash others to please you. She'll eagerly gather a harem of the most beautiful victims for your enjoyment or start twisting the hearts of all men around both of you so you can enjoy endless abuse. Hinata honestly believes that the two of you were meant to be together. With all the kindness and sincerity she has as a heroine, she now pursues your perverse fantasies.

Boss- 100

They're everything you could want, it feels like. For those who desire an aggressive partner that'll pursue them, take charge and keep them well in hand. But also one who'll protect them, explore their limits consensually and have a relationship of genuine love. Boss is the one for you. A powerful guy or gal that is sincerely into you, while also holding a very strong fetish for dominating their partner. And they've got the right traits, interests and appearance that you may very well be just as into them. If you show interest, they'll go after you holding nothing back. They might be a Predator but they're wanting something other than blood and scream from their prey. They're good enough to leave you helpless and panting if you let them, no matter how dominant or good at sex you think you are. They want all of you for themselves and they'll wield all these normally abusive and cruel abilities to make sure their love is happy. They've got 800CP to spend on Predator/General perks and items.

Saikawa Amano- 100

A brilliant young scientist, the pioneer of Synapse technology, responsible for both Esper creation and the technology to defeat them. But Amano forgot her place. A chesty woman like her should be glad her rivals took all her ideas. When she tried to betray Synapse, she got nabbed and reduced to a pitiful form. What was once a curvaceous short stack is now a brain in a jar. You picked her up before she got sent to an incinerator, making her desperately thankful. Her jar maintains all vital functions and even gives her a digital voice. Even without a body, she's still perhaps the greatest mind in the world and particularly talented when it comes to biology and psionic science. She'll almost certainly get her ego back soon but her brain is hooked to all kinds of needles and tubes, letting you adjust the sensations she feels at a moments notice. Keep Amano hyped up on uppers for good or crank up the pain-emitters before locking her in a cupboard as punishment.

Lisbet Gyz Varyzel- 200

The terrifying demon queen herself. A Lesser Succubus that lucked into draining a demon king of his levels, she's gone wild on an endless orgy-feast in her realm. At LVL 789554, she's an unstoppable monster capable of almost any achievement desired, even by the standards of her fantasy world. She also, unbeknownst to her, has a desperate desire to feel total defeat and submit to a superior being. You can see where this is going. This hyper curvy, hyper horny shortstack is sure to look down on you when you meet but something keeps her from killing you. She'll say you just make an able servant but the wetty she gets from being in your presence alone is proof otherwise. She could destroy a mountain with a finger flick but give her a good smack to the face and she'll make a puddle where she's standing.

Battle Harem- 400

Already finished up with your isekai adventure? Or are these just the spoils of conquest? You've a whole harem gathered around you, made of fantasy girls and monstergirls right out of a light novel. They're unbelievably powerful too, having fed on the power of a Demon Queen. Numbering around thirteen in total, they all draw power from a typical fantasy leveling system. Only they range in levels from several hundred to tens of thousands. Human heroines, holy seraphim, dominating vampire queens, all sorts appear.

They don't have names and their personalities mostly amount to mewling service to you, but it's not hard to dig out what used to be in their heads without removing their adoring loyalty for you if desired. Unless you choose to make them individual companions, death of one of the girls results in a similarly generic fantasy harem heroine appearing in their place a week later.

Drawbacks

There are no limits on how many drawbacks you can take or the points you can get from them.

Victim Chain- +0

Just one world couldn't possibly enough to enjoy everything Asanagi has to offer. Taking this drawback allows you to visit multiple locations that are covered by both the Victim Girls/Gareki series as well as Asanagi's art in general. As if you were going to each of them in this same jump from the start, though you gain no new purchases nor can you alter your build. You'll have an origin in each world unless you choose drop in and must spend at least a year in each world or a maximum of ten years in each world or something in between.

You may also go to worlds that are not covered by Asanagi's art. This requires a 100CP tax for each world chosen in this way and the worlds will remain as affected as the ones above.

Victim Boys- +0

Right now, all this might seem a little unfair for those of a feminine persuasion. It's not wrong to say that Asanagi's works have a bit of a thing against women and not everyone is into that. So instead, why not try out the complete opposite? A world where cruel, amazonian women prey on and abuse all sorts of poor, adorable short men, from forcing themselves on them to all manner of brutal torture. It'll do more than just swap the genders in these worlds, it'll also change the biological sex mentioned in perks, items or companions you can buy here as well!

You can use this to change either or both sex and gender roles of characters in worlds, to whatever degree or style pleases you.

By paying 100CP instead, you may bring this forward as a perk, rather than a drawback. At the beginning of each jump, you may decide how it colours the genders within and gender-specific abilities. This does not affect any restrictions in jump documents.

Everyday Bigotry- +100

Well, at least you're not going to be standing out from any crowds, huh? You've turned into a raging man or woman hater, whatever is the opposite of your current gender or if something else, just one of the two. Making yourself act pleasant to them is basically impossible and even stopping yourself from physical violence will be hard unless they act perfectly fitting to what you think is rightful. It'll be hard to be happy when you despise half of humanity but maybe you can still manage.

Shortstack- +100

You've come to embody the classic Asanagi body type, whether you're a guy or a girl. You've got all the downsides of that body type now too, no keeping enhanced strength or speed when you're this short. And now everyone wants you way, way more. Not in the nice way either. Thankfully they don't want to treat you as a punching bag outright but being considered desirable and attractive by men and women in this world rarely ends well. If you're already some sort of short, cute person, then the effect will only be magnified.

Sleeping Princess- +100

A serious case of narcolepsy, a magical curse or a secret drug regime you didn't know you were on, you often are caused to fall into incredibly deep sleeps throughout the day and are unable to avoid them. You'll always be well rested when you awake but often find yourself sleeping in public spaces, just long enough for others to do things to you as fitting their inclinations. You'll never wake up during it and while you won't die or be put in danger of death, there's nothing preventing less bad things happening. In fact, it's almost certain that your body will be toyed with, abused and bred roughly as you sleep.

Ultra Pride- +100

Talking back to your betters like that will get you nowhere. In fact, being the prideful creature you now are will rarely get you anything but a world of trouble. You've got all the smug, condescending and arrogant nature of the worst of Asanagi's heroines, more than enough to assure you remain eternally confident that you can succeed against all but the most ridiculous odds. Not only will you get in over your head all the time, the pride is quite difficult for others to get around to like you.

Fifteen Minutes- +100

Your sordid past has long since caught up to you. Some raunchy videos of you slutting it up in your younger years have been posted online and become hugely popular. Just about every guy you meet will have seen you squealing and gagging already, a reputation for being masochistic and easy following you. Any further lewd acts you involve yourself in will be far more likely to become widely known too, adding to your humiliating pornstar reputation. Your normal feats and achievements will even get understated and lost under the deluge of porn.

More- +200

One more hit can't hurt? You can handle the payments and your body just needs it so bad. It's burning hot all the time without it, even when it's freezing, and if you go long enough, it feels like your body will just give out. Some nasty guy and his gang got you hooked on a particularly vicious drug, one that affects you regardless of your body, and you've got to keep doing as he wants else face losing the one guy that can make this stuff for you. He rarely accepts money, preferring to make you perform degrading and humiliating acts for his amusement, or perhaps give up other precious things if you refuse that.

Man Eaters- +200

A pack of obsessed ladies are hunting you, desiring to use your body for sex or power until it literally gives out and dies, where they'll move onto the next victim they want. Rich, powerful and merciless, they won't give up unless they're made to by force. Unfortunately, even managing to nullify the threat this gang of girls poses will only save you for so long, as another group of such ladies will latch onto you no more than a few weeks later at the latest.

Girl Power- +200

Whatever you do, you'll always find a girl there that is better at you than it. They won't always be directly competing with you but when they do, they'll totally outmatch you where they're competing with you, often causing you to lose at important tasks or contests. They're not necessarily perfect outside of the area they appeared to beat you in though, in case you aim for revenge or want to stop them from winning against you again. While you can't stop them from appearing, meaning you often lose the initial battle, you can be assured that a lady won't appear to out compete you in the same general area of competence for a few weeks after you manage to take one of them out in that area.

Play By The Rules- +200

They're not sexist, really. They just want to fight you as nature intended. None of those unnatural powers or special gear or strange technology from other worlds. It wouldn't be fair, even if they're a mountain of muscle and you're a chesty twig. So they worked out a deal and all your pretty powers are taken away whenever you are fighting or trying to resist a male individual in this jump. You'll still have your powers at other times but with how aggressive, confrontational and outright war-like guys can be, even to each other, in this place, you'll have to rely on what you get in this world.

Racial Pornography- +200

Ever met a Draph? Natural born sluts, at least the girls are. Bodies good for little but sex, horns that send them into paralytic orgasms with a scratch, a mind that gets dominated by just the stench of a fine man. They're like another species from the male Draph, grand creatures of masculine power and domination. And you find that whatever you are, you've taken the same traits. You're now the female Draph version of your species, a hyper-sexualised variant out of some racist porn fantasy. Extremely sensitive, easily dominated and addicted, simple to fool. You're locked in this state for your time here too.

Public Enemy Number One- +300

Whatever world you did pick, the Synapse organisation of Espers is present too. And if you're in Synapse, there's an entirely new branch. This large and extremely well funded group of sadistic, super-powered bitches has set its' sights on you. You're to be brought in to answer for a whole list of fabricated crimes but it doesn't look like most of the espers care about you coming in alive. They're not very bright, even the ones that claim to be smart, but they are extremely deadly. At least they'll not come back if you find permanent ways to deal with them.

Doggy Style- +300

I bet you regret signing up for that modelling gig now that you know what it actually entailed! Turns out that dog-girl cosplay was way more authentic than you wanted. You've had all four of your limbs amputated just above the elbows and the knees, with some handle connection piercings being put on the stumps. And plenty of others elsewhere. Doesn't look like you can replace or heal the missing limbs in any way either. I guess you better get good at using your mouth to manipulate things but if you're willing to take this sort of thing, you've probably got plenty of experience down on your hands and knees anyway. Sorry, elbows and knees now, isn't it? This may be kept as an alt-form post jump. If you're not entirely broken in yet.

Gaki Invasion- +300

The Gaki are a race of violent monsters, red skinned demons that exist solely to cause misery. They survive by devouring other races, produce more Gaki through the violent rape of those they soon turn to food and act as a plague on the worlds that leaves nothing behind them left alive. Supernaturally strong and regenerating from almost any wound, they have begun an interdimensional invasion on the world or worlds you are currently on. The invasion will never cease and the Gaki, despite their looks, soon come to take advantage of any technology, magic or powers available in the current world. Worst of all, the Gaki race sees you as the most prime of all meat and many hunt you personally.

Pet- +300

You have your own deep, hidden desires to be controlled and owned by a master. You even have the good luck of often meeting these sorts of men and women, that would give you what you want and force you to go deeper and deeper into the darker regions of sin. Unfortunately for you, spending too long indulging might make them use you up completely. If you can't resist...at least you went out having fun. Not that resistance is likely given the near irresistible nature of your desires. You'll also find yourself having quite strong urges to drag other cuties down this path with you, like any close friends you may have. A natural submissive is a very dangerous thing in this world, for themselves.

Hara Pan Model- +300

You've signed into a dizzying variety of contracts, deals and threats to be a star in the most highly adult videos on the net. You get the shit beaten out of you for the entertainment of those watching and you love it too. It's like a drug addiction, all those endorphins and sweet feelings that appear when a fist slams into your gut or someone kicks you in the back of the head. Your co workers are quite professional and try not to seriously hurt you but, shit happens and there's plenty more where you came from. Quitting would be hard enough considering you can't drop your addiction and even managing to despite that, it looks like the guys that run the operation would want to make an example of you trying to leave your contracts and they're pretty powerful guys.

Ending

The end of your jump is now. You have three choices to make from the following options.

Bad End

You're doing this willingly? Not surprised there's one like you here. The sort that wants to get fucked up for the pleasure of some stranger. If you're willing to guarantee yourself a Bad End here, you can have as many bonus points as you like here. At best, you'll end up the loving slave of a very lucky master for the rest of your life. At worst? We can only hope your last moments are as drawn out and agonising as they can be.

Go Home

Bringing the fun back to where it all began. Making this sacrifice will give you a little bonus of 1000CP to pick up more treats before you leave. Even if you want a rest from all the depravity, I'm sure you can appreciate the finer side too.

Stay Here

There's no end to the delights found in these worlds. Why would you ever want to leave? Just like above, you'll have another 1000CP to spice up your life after choosing to stay here. Your cosmic journey might be over but the lewd adventures have just begun.

Continue On

It's only to be expected. There's so much more to see. So many new worlds you can bring to ruin. You won't get any bonuses for this choice, we all know you've got enough rewards doing this as you are.

Notes

How wonderful is my dearest OldBee, the strawberry of my eye. Much safer and simpler than that dangerously handsome NuBee. He's one of those bees that'll charm you away before you even realise where you're going!

Also thanks to Smut, Blade and a bunch of other QQers for suggestions. Helped get the update going it did.

Female Domination perk will let you apply the effects of perks to any sex, without needing to take the drawback to change things up.
