Drawbacks

Self-Insert [+0]

So you want to be one of the Named characters huh, well if you take the appropriate background, race and skills as closely as possible then you are free to go in as any character you would like.

Supplement [+0 CP]

You can use this Jumpdoc as a supplement

Extended Stay [+100 CP]

For each purchase of this your time here is extended 10 years

The Great Escape [+100 CP]

You must rescue the man in the iron mask from prison. You can choose your method. This drawback can increase to 300 CP if you choose to start the jump in this prison without a Pokémon (the latter is in a storage room with the other inmates' Pokémon outside the prison) and with your powers temporarily weakened to the level of the people of this world (until you have managed to leave the island).

Aiming isn't that easy! [+100 CP]

You don't know how to aim... No, no, I'm not talking about impressive musket shooting, although you would fail even more at that! No, your skills are so bad that you could throw dozens of Poké Balls at a friendly Pokémon two meters away from you and never hit it!

Mute [+100 CP]

You can't talk, which makes you a completely normal protagonist! Strangely enough, the Pokémon still understand you.

Airhead [+100 CP]

You're like Melia! In terms of idiocy, at least. The advantage is that it makes you endearing, but the disadvantage is that you're less attentive, take days to understand plot twists, and have a certain idiotic energy.

Haunted [+100 CP]

Something scary is stalking you wherever you go and will suddenly appear in front of you... Luckily for you, it means you no harm, but you don't know that.

Me, racist? Of course not! [+100 CP]

You're not racist you have a very good friend who loves... Well, maybe you are a little bit racist, since you can only play with Pokémon from Kalos and clichéd French Pokémon like frogs, snails, wine, and baguettes!

Naive [+200 CP]

You're a little too easily persuaded that if someone helps you, they must be the kindest and most trustworthy person in the world. Or maybe you're just honorable. Either way, you're likely to be disillusioned within the next ten years here.

Embargo [+200 CP]

Strangely, you cannot use healing items in battle, except for held items.

My Style [+200 CP]

Perhaps you like arena champions, because you are now forced to follow a single type or Pokémon theme, such as Pokémon that resemble food, for example. (nothing prevents you from capturing others to keep for your next jump, you just can't use them in battle). Deliver with accessories and a matching outfit!

Chivalrous [+200 CP]

You are required to follow the rules of dueling, which means no attacks on trainers with your Pokémon or any other breach of Pokémon battle honor.

Random Mode [+100 CP]

Strangely enough, all species of Pokémon now live in illogical environments. Fortunately, this isn't bad for them, but good luck finding your favorite Pokémon!

Hard Mode [+200 CP]

The jump will be harder, the trainers smarter, and the Pokémon a little more powerful.

Nuzlock [+400 CP]

Why is everyone thirsty for the blood of adorable Pokémon?! In addition to KO's becoming death for your Pokémon, you must abide by the rules of this challenge:

Limited Encounters: The Jumper may only catch the first wild Pokémon encountered in each area, and no others. If the first wild Pokémon encountered faints or flees, there are no second chances.

Running out of Pokémon does not mean you have failed your chain.

Oui, Oui, baguette [+400 CP]

You can only use Pokémon in battle that are shaped like pastries or bread, such as: Sirfetch'd Z (Painarticho), Dachsbun, Alcremie, or equivalent. This drawback cannot be taken with Racist me? Of course not! [+100 CP] or with my style [+200 CP] if you choose food as your style.

Ph'nglui mglw'nafh Cthulhu R'lyeh wgah'nagl fhtagn [+400 CP]

Are you sure? Well, it's up to you! The voices heard by the madmen in the asylum are now as real as the references to the hunters' moon. Here you are in a Bloodborne and Lovecraft crossover, but with a Pokémon flavor.

Partial Lockdown [+400 CP]

You have no warehouse and the only items you own are the ones you're carrying. What's more, your powers are adapted to the level of power in this world

Lockdown [+600]

You have no Out Of Context items, powers, or warehouse.
